THIRTY MEET FRIGHTFUL DEATH IN TRAIN WRECK

CHASE AFTER VILLA EXTENDS INTO THE REGION OF EXTINCT VOLCANOES OF GREAT DIVIDE

CAVALRY HARD ON THE TRAIL OF BANDITS

Wastes Almost Unknown to Any But Mexicans and Indians.

Villa and Gang Still Fleeing Rapidly to the Southward.

CARRANZA GRANTS USE OF RAILROADS TO U. S.

Washington, March 29.—Gen. Carranza has agreed to permit the movement of supplies to the punitive expedition in Mexico over the Mexican Northwestern railroad. The supplies will go as commercial freight to concerns in Mexico with which the army has contracts.

El Paso, Tex., March 29.—Somewhere amid the grim and forbidding extinct volcanoes of the great continental divide, Pancho Villa is fleeing southward today. Hard on his trail the cavalrymen of the United States army are straining every nerve to catch up with him before he can reach the wastes, almost unknown to any but Mexicans and Indians, in which he began his career as a bandit years ago.

An American rancher, who is one of the few foreigners familiar with the country through which Villa is retreating, expressed the following view of the situation today:

Knows Villa's Habits.

"I have known Francisco Villa for twenty years," he said. "For many years I was the only white man in the country in which he lived. I know his habits, his processes of mind, and the Tarahumare Indians, among whom he is at present. I have very little hope that the American cavalry can ever catch him now that he has, presumably, fifty or more miles start of them. Villa and his men, mounted on their Mexican ponies, can travel forty miles a day with ease, and fifty miles if pressed.

"All his men need is a little dried beef and some corn meal. With this and a blanket strapped behind their saddles, they can travel indefinitely. Compare this with the equipment of an American trooper, who makes thirty-five miles a day at best.

"The Tarahumare Indians will not give the slightest assistance to the Americans, but they dig up their last grain of corn or wheat for Villa. More than that, they will give him speedier information about his pursuers than the fastest horseman could give."

HURRICANE IN GREAT BRITAIN

Worst Blizzard in Recollection of Present Generation.

London, March 29.—Great Britain during the past forty-eight hours has experienced the worst hurricane and blizzard in the recollection of the present generation.

Details of devastation and disaster are coming into London from various regions, but communication is too disorganized for any complete summary of the damage done by the elements.

Rivers are at flood and railway trains have been held up for hours in the drifted snow; houses have been unroofed and trees and telephone poles blown down.

The greatest fury of the blizzard appears to have been expended in the midlands. London this morning is covered with the worst slush in many years.

Work in the Wales coal fields has been largely suspended and an important meeting of coal miners at Cardiff which was to have decided on the question of whether or not the men should strike, was canceled as the delegates were unable to reach the city.

Field Marshal Viscount French, commander-in-chief of the armies in the United Kingdom, on his way to review the troops at Dorchester, became snowbound and had to stop at a country village for a day.

Liverpool and Birmingham experienced even more severe weather then London. Birmingham was cut off from communication with fifty nearby towns.

The casualties reported thus far have been remarkably small, consisting of only two deaths and about a score of persons seriously injured.

EDWARDS CLEARED OF WHITE SLAVE CHARGE BY ORDER OF COURT

Defendant Testified He Was Seeking Business Information.

Chicago, March 29.—The case against William Rufus Edwards was taken from the jury today. The court directed that a verdict of not guilty be entered against Mr. Edwards, who was charged with violation of the Mann act in transporting Miss Ada M. Cox from Chicago to other cities.

After directing the verdict of not guilty to be returned Judge A. B. Anderson entered an order discharging the defendant.

The court's ruling came quickly after brief questioning of Edwards. The defendant reiterated that his purpose in inviting Miss Cox to St. Paul was to obtain information concerning business dealings with other firms and that he had no thought of immoral actions until he took the young woman for an automobile ride.

Don't Want Story Again.

"We won't have that nasty story told again," said the court. "There is only one possible question here. I say 'possible,' and that is the motive he had before he sent the ticket."

Cross-examination then closed and the defense rested its case.

Miss Cox in rebuttal denied that she had asked Edwards to massage her on the automobile ride.

Disposing of the case Judge Anderson said to the jury:

"I'm going to dispose of this case

ENGLISHMAN TRIED TO MAKE HER ESCAPE

British Horseship Evidently Attempted to Get Away From Submarine.

Washington, March 29.—The British horseship Englishman was first shelled and then torpedoed by a German submarine, according to affidavits made to representatives of the state department at Liverpool by three American survivors.

Following the receipt of this information today, officials said it seemed clear that the Englishman had tried to escape. The submarine was operating within the law in shelling and torpedoing the Englishman, if the vessel was fleeing to escape capture as is inferred by officials here from the dispatches.

The German government has been asked whether any of its submarines was concerned in the sinking of the Englishman or the damaging of the British channel steamer Sussex while that ship was carrying twenty-five American passengers.

While it is indicated that the case of the Englishman may not lead to difficulties between the United States and Germany if it is proved she was escaping, overnight dispatches to the state department from Dover seem, officials said, to bear out previous allegations that the Sussex was torpedoed.

American consular representatives, it was said in the dispatches, had secured from various survivors at Dover affidavits confirming those by survivors in France. The contents of the dispatch were not disclosed here, but it was said the affidavits were being forwarded by the officials who had gathered them.

Steele Kansas City Postmaster.

Washington, March 29.—Bayless Steele was nominated today by President Wilson as postmaster at Kansas City, Mo. The nomination was signed several days ago, but was held up at the request of Postmaster General Burleson, who informed the president today that all objections to Mr. Steele had been overcome.

LAND NEAR ASHLAND FETCHES $100 PER ACRE.

Ashland, Wis., March 29.—Gabe Ullman of Appleton, but formerly of Ashland, sold his forty-acre farm on the Ellis Avenue road, some distance from the Northland college and just across from the old experimental farm, to Fred Wendt for $4,000. The land is all cleared and ready for cultivation.

AUSTRIANS ARE EJECTED

Desperate Fighting Occurs in Vicinity; Italians Take 300 Prisoners.

Rome, March 29, via London.—Italian infantry has ejected the Austrians from positions on the heights northwest of Gorizia which were lost to the Austrians on Sunday, the war office announced today. The Italians captured 302 Austrians, including eleven officers. The announcement follows:

"In the region of the upper But river there was moderate artillery firing by the enemy against positions we recaptured. A column of the enemy which was ascending through Valentina valley toward Val Piccolo was repulsed by our effective gun fire.

Posts Demolished.

"Heavy rains and fog interfered with artillery work again yesterday in the upper Isonzo zone, but we demolished enemy posts at Mrzlivrh and made a direct hit on a trench mortar. Our grenadiers destroyed an entrenchment of the enemy in the Seagora section, compelling the defenders to flee.

"A desperate fight on the heights northwest of Gorizia, which lasted about forty hours ended successfully for us. After intense concentrated gun fire against our entrenchments at Grafenberg, which already had been damaged by storms, the enemy opened an attack with a very important force on Sunday evening. Our troops offered obstinate resistance and held back the masses of the enemy which were operating against our flanks. In the center, after furious hand to hand fighting one of our battalions retired about 400 yards, taking with it about thirty prisoners.

A very lively interchange of gunfire continued throughout the succeeding day. Our infantry began a counter-attack in the evening, and by means of repeated charges, which were supported admirably by the artillery, retook by storm the positions previously lost: We captured 302 prisoners, including eleven officers, two machine guns, a large number of rifles and much ammunition and war material of all descriptions.

"The fourth enemy aeroplane brought down by our rifle fire landed yesterday near Vittorio. Both occupants were captured."

GERMAN AVIATOR WHO BRINGS DOWN HIS TWELFTH AEROPLANE

LIEUT. BOELKE.

Dispatches from Germany say that Lieut. Boelke of the aviation corps of the army has won further renown by bringing down his twelfth enemy aeroplane. He was decorated with the iron cross some time ago for his excellent work.

Aurora Expected at New Zealand.

London, March 29.—The premier of New Zealand has been notified by wireless that the auxiliary ship Aurora of the Shackleton Antarctic expedition expects to arrive off New Zealand on Friday, according to a dispatch from Reuter's correspondent at Wellington, N. Z.

Record Price for Ferro Manganese.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 29.—It became known today that a carload of ferro manganese, a steel alloy, was sold recently to a steel manufacturer of this district for $1,000 a ton, a record price. Before the war manganese sold at $38 a ton.

SUFFRAGISTS PLAN TO CONTINUE FIGHT

Washington, March 29.—Plans for continuing the fight for national woman suffrage were considered by suffrage leaders today despite their defeat in the house judiciary committee yesterday.

Contending that they would have won had their proposal been voted on separately, suffrage leaders now hope to bring the issue to a vote again when the committee meets tomorrow.

French General Killed.

Paris, March 29.—Gen. Largeau, one of the youngest French brigadiers, has been killed in action at Verdun. He distinguished himself in Africa, where he served with the Marchand expedition.

Steamer Aground.

Lewes, Del., March 29.—An unidentified steamer is aground on the Hen and Chickens shoals off the Delaware capes. Three coast guard crews have gone to the assistance of the vessel.

ALLIES END CONFERENCE

Great Meeting of Military and Civil Chiefs at Paris Adjourns.

Resolutions Passed Affirm Solidarity of the Entente Powers.

Paris, March 29.—The conference of the military and civil chiefs of the governments of the Entente allies, at which momentous questions regarding the war were taken up for consideration and decision, ended yesterday.

Never, perhaps, have deliberations so important had so little written about them. Thirty-seven persons took part, yet, the proceedings are understood to have gone forward without the least confusion because the subjects to be considered had been worked out in advance by each of those whose judgment

PARTS OF VICTIMS' BODIES SCATTERED THROUGH WRECKAGE

Second Section of Eastbound Pittsburgh-Baltimore-Buffalo Limited Crashes Into First in Ohio.

Twentieth Century Limited Comes Along Two Minutes Later and Dashes Through Wreckage.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 29.—At least 30 persons were killed—the exact total may not be known until nightfall—and more than forty injured in the wreck early today of three of the New York Central's crack passenger trains a mile west of Amherst. Twenty-five bodies had been taken out at noon and five more were known to be in the debris.

When the total dead and injured is finally ascertained, the wreck will surpass, in its cost of life and limb even the wreck of the Twentieth Century Limited at Mentor in 1904, when the famous train piled into a freight on its second trip on the New York-Chicago 20-hour run.

FOG OBSCURES SIGNAL.

Dense fog obscured the signal set by the first section of the eastbound Pittsburgh-Baltimore-Buffalo Limited, causing another section of that train to crash into it. A short time later, before signalmen could flag it, the fast Twentieth Century Limited, wesbound, crashed into the wreckage which had piled up on the westbound track.

Daylight had not yet appeared when the three trains piled up together. Farmers and villagers rushed to the assistance of the stricken passengers. The work of rescuing those pinioned under the wreckage was hampered by the darkness, which was accentuated by the fog.

Ambulances, automobiles and all kinds of vehicles were rushed from Elyria and other points to the scene of the wreck. The little morgue at Amherst was soon filled with bodies of the dead. Most of the injured were conveyed to hospitals in Elyria.

First Body of Minister.

The first body taken from the wreckage to be identified was that of Rev. Gustav Walyi, pastor of the First Hungarian Evangelical Lutheran church, Detroit. Rev. Walyi lived at 53 Thaddeus street, Detroit.

The second section of the Chicago-Buffalo flyer crashed into the first section in a heavy fog when the first section stopped to take water.

Plows Through Wreckage.

The Twentieth Century, westbound, plowed through the wreckage of train 86, which had been hurled to the westbound track before flagmen could be sent out to stop it.

Train 86 was due at Cleveland at 4:05 a. m.

Some dead were found in the rear coaches of the second section of the flier, which buckled over onto the Twentieth Century's right of way and was splintered by that train.

Most of the dead are said to be foreigners who were traveling in the rear coach of the first section of the Chicago-Buffalo flier.

ANOTHER GAIN MADE BY GERMAN TROOPS

French Positions North of Malancourt Stormed Successfully for More Than a Mile in Width.

London, March 29.—The Germans have made another notable gain in their drive against Verdun, according to today's official announcement from Berlin, storming French positions north of Malancourt to the depth of several lines along a front of 2,000 meters, or more than a mile.

Malancourt lies about 10½ miles northwest of Verdun and some two miles northeast of the southern tip of the Avocourt wood into which the Germans pushed in their recent great drive west of the Meuse. The French lines here formed a broad salient, exposed to attack from either flank and French tenure of the position had not been considered a secure one by many military observers.

Assault on Westerly Side.

Apparently the German assault was on the westerly side of the salient, where Paris, last night reported a heavy attack by the Germans, declaring, however, that it had been repulsed.

This afternoon's Paris statement asserted that the Germans last night made no fresh assault upon the Malancourt front, claiming on the other hand that the French forces had won a success against the Germans in the Avocourt woods, the northeastern corner of which they occupied to a depth of 300 yards besides capturing a strongly fortified redoubt.

Battle Resumed After Lull.

Paris, March 29.—After a six-day lull, the Germans resumed the offensive at Verdun yesterday with redoubled violence. The better to hide their plans they had for a week been shelling the whole Verdun front impartially, but the French staff expected that the attack would come on the west of the river and made all due preparations.

The German effort was confined to a section half a mile in width, between Avocourt and Malancourt. The artillery poured a hail of shells on this line all morning in preparation for the infantry attack, which was launched at 8 o'clock in the afternoon. The attacking masses dashed forward, apparently expecting an easy victory. They reckoned, however, without the French infantry and the French light artillery which had been skilfully sheltered from the bombardment.

The French infantry held off the Goal of $450,000 for Postoffice Year Now Almost Reached.

Receipts at Duluth Office Must Be $5,550 in Three Days.

There has been such a marked gain in postal receipts during the statistical year, which ends March 31, that the Duluth postoffice will undoubtedly pass into another grade, reaching the $450,000 class. So far this month the receipts have been far in excess of those for the same period last year, and with three days yet ahead in this statistical year, but a few thousand dollars are required to reach the desired goal.

The receipts up to yesterday for the statistical year were $444,450.11, leaving but $5,550 still to be taken in. Last year the receipts for the last three days of the month of March were $6,281, which was considerably more than the amount necessary to be raised for the last three days of this month.

Last year the total receipts were $434,549.45.

Postmaster William E. McEwen today received a letter from Daniel C. Roper, third assistant postmaster general, complimenting him on his cooperation in promoting the growth of the Duluth office along the lines of economy and efficiency. The department last year suffered a deficit of $11,000,000, Mr. Roper said, because of the European war. This year all of the postmasters are asked to help swing the balance on the right side of the ledger and insure an even break between receipts and expenditures for the whole service in the United States.

WILL CONFER WITH FIREMEN

City Commissioners Will Discuss Double Platoon System.

City commissioners and a committee of firemen will hold a conference on the proposed double platoon system at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Arrangements for the conference were made this morning by Commissioner Silberstein, head of the safety division, whose resolution, inviting the firemen to appoint a committee to take the matter up with the council was adopted by the commissioners last Monday. The meeting will be held in the reception room of Mayor Prince and Commissioner Silberstein.

Last Friday the firemen filed a petition with the city commissioners, asking for the establishment of a double-platoon system and two-week vacations each year with pay, the measure being signed by every member of the fire department, excepting Chief Randall and the two assistant chiefs. Figures prepared by Chief Randall show that a double platoon system would require the employment of thirty-four additional men at an expense of $30,600 for the first year.

The initiative petition placed in circulation by the firemen several weeks ago and which is already signed by 8,000 persons, will be withdrawn, if an agreement is reached at the conference tomorrow or at a subsequent meeting of the commissioners and the firemen's committee, according to one of the leaders in the campaign.

REMOVING ICE ON SUPERIOR STREET

Crew of Men Put to Work—Flushers Are Kept Busy.

Removal of ice on Superior street began this morning.

A crew of men under the direction of the works division started today to remove the ice from Second avenue east to Sixth avenue west, with the aid of a motor truck and several dump wagons.

The street flushers, which made their first appearance on Monday, are washing off the winter's accumulation of dirt, so that pedestrians will have little trouble from the dust when the spring winds start blowing.

GRAFTON YOUNG MAN IS HELD FOR TRIAL

Grand Forks, N. D., March 29.—Wallace Swenson of Grafton, 19-year-old son of a well-to-do Walsh county farmer, waived preliminary examination before County Justice of the Peace Phil McLoughlin and was bound over to the next term of district court on the charge of unlawful cohabitation.

Young Swenson's bond was fixed at $500 and he was released.

It is alleged that Swenson brought a young woman to this city from Grafton about ten days ago. Swenson is alleged to have returned to Grafton, leaving the girl alone and stranded in this city.

DULUTH LODGE WILL BE HOST

B'nai B'rith District Officials Will Be Here This Spring.

Benjamin J. Samuels and A. B. Seelenfreund, both of Chicago, president and secretary, respectively, of the district grand lodge of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, will come to Duluth for the annual spring ceremonial and banquet of Covenant lodge, to be held the latter part of April, according to Charles D. Oreckovsky, member of the general committee, who returned this morning from a meeting of that body held in Chicago on Monday.

Invitations to both Mr. Samuels and Mr. Seelenfreund were sent by the local lodge early this month, but the two officials of the district grand lodge were unable to decide definitely until the general committee meeting last Monday. This will be the first visit of the grand lodge officers to Duluth in five years.

Arrangements for the banquet and ceremonial will be made at the regular monthly meeting of Covenant lodge to be held at the Temple Emanuel vestry rooms this evening, when a date will be selected for the event. A class of twenty-five candidates will be initiated into the order during the festivities.

At the general committee meeting on Monday, Chisholm was granted a charter, arrangements for a new lodge having been made by Mr. Oreckovsky, and the installation of the new officers will be made by Mr. Samuels and Mr. Seelenfreund after their visit to Duluth. It is probably that the local entertainment will take place on Monday, May 1.

Mr. Samuels is a prominent attorney of Chicago and is vice president of the Leo M. Levy Memorial hospital at Hot Springs, an institution operated under the direction of the B'nai B'rith. Mr. Seelenfreund, in addition to being secretary to the executive committee of the entire B'nai B'rith order, including the district lodges in Europe and Asia. He has held the two offices since 1904.

EPIDEMIC IS ON DECLINE

Health Officer Says Disease Has Held Sway in Many Cities.

There are 272 cases of measles in Duluth today, as compared with 349 a week ago, according to the records of the health department.

This indicates that the epidemic is breaking up, according to Health Director Fahey.

Reports received by Dr. Fahey this morning show that many cities in the East are in the grip of the epidemic, which is widespread. Some of these reports follow:

"Newark, N. J.—Nearly two-thirds of all cases of communicable diseases reported to the health department during February were measles, according to the monthly report of Health Officer Charles V. Craster. There were 1,331 cases of the disease, which is now epidemic in the city.

"Allentown, Pa.—There have been three deaths in connection with the epidemic of measles in Allentown, and in face of the fact that the schools are closed and the town quarantined by order of Dr. Dixon, the state health commissioner, there is little sign of its abatement. There were upwards of 500 cases reported in six weeks, although the number of new cases appears to be decreasing.

"Kutztown, Pa.—The local board of health has closed all the public schools, theaters and five churches until the epidemic of measles is under control. There are seventy cases.

"Northumberland, Pa.—Because of more than 100 cases of measles existing in Point township, Northumberland county, nearby public schools have been closed. They will be reopened after thorough fumigation.

"Cleveland, Ohio.—A severe epidemic of measles among school children is rapidly developing on the East side, according to Dr. E. A. Petersen, city school health director. One hundred and eight cases developed in three days, according to the school reports, and in two weeks 306 cases were reported."

CONDUCTS CLINICS AT COURTHOUSE

Tubercular Patients Are Treated Semi-Weekly By Dr. Laird.

Semi-weekly clinics for tubercular patients are now being held at the courthouse under the direction of Dr. A. T. Laird, superintendent of the Nopeming sanitarium.

The clinics are held regularly from 10 to 12 o'clock on Tuesday and Saturday mornings and were established in the interests of the anti-tuberculosis campaign being conducted by both the city and county authorities. Room 115 in the courthouse is used for these clinics.

Dr. Laird is being assisted by Doctors H. S. Hatch, John Conroy and J. R. Manley, assistant city health director.

ROUNDING UP "HOP" JOINTS

Lay Recent Shooting Affrays to the Use of Drugs.

Convinced that opium, cocaine and morphine are being obtained and used by a number of persons in this city, police have started a vigorous campaign to stamp out any possible violations of the Harrison anti-drug act.

Headed by Police Sergeant John Englert, a squad last night made the rounds of various negro clubs on West Michigan street, and of private dwellings, in their search for "hop joints."

Recent shooting scrapes and fights on South First avenue east, St. Croix avenue, and lower Lake avenue, as well as along West Michigan street, have started, in many cases, from the use of "dope" according to police versions of the affair.

Four men were arrested in the raids, two at a club at 120 West Michigan street, and two at another colored men's club at 23 West Michigan street. They were Otis Hance, 46; Add Blanston, alias Kitchen, 38; Louie Bryant, 23; and Frank Shirley, 40.

After Shirley was arrested, the officers went to Shirley's house. They found a lamp and a pipe bowl, parts of an opium-smoking outfit, in the place, according to their report. Neither the lamp nor the pipe bowl had been used for a long time, however, they said.

Bryant and Shirley forfeited $25 bail when they failed to appear in municipal court to answer to charges of vagrancy. The other two pleaded not guilty and will be tried this afternoon.

WOULD REGULATE PRICE OF GASOLINE

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, March 29.—Congressman Steenerson today introduced a bill to regulate the price of gasoline. In an interview Mr. Steenerson said the Steenerson bill is in the form of an amendment to the Federal trade commission law. It defines petroleum, gasoline, kerosene and fuel oil and classifies dealers in said commodities in larger quantities than 3,000 gallons as "wholesale dealers in petroleum" and requires posting of prices in their places of business and filing of list of such prices with the commission. All prices are required to be just and reasonable, and upon complaint that such prices are unjust and unreasonable the commission is given power to prescribe just and reasonable maximum prices to be maintained in future and to order dealers to cease and desist from charging higher prices than prescribed by the commission.

The United States courts are given jurisdiction upon application of the attorney general at request of the commission, to issue writs of mandamus commanding dealers not to charge in excess of prices prescribed under penalty of $1,000. The theory of this bill is that the power of congress to regulate interstate and foreign commerce is not limited to prescribing conditions and prices of transportation as in the commerce act, and regulating competition, as in the Clayton anti-trust law, but is plenary and extends to regulating commerce itself, being the sale and exchange of goods. The fact that congress has not exercised the power heretofore is no argument against its existence.

N. D. Prohibition Meeting.

Fargo, N. D., March 29.—Prohibition forces of the state represented by the North Dakota Enforcement league, the state W. C. T. U., and the Total Abstinence league, will hold a conference here on April 11, at which time policies with respect to several present day problems in the state will be considered, and will be determined upon.

IS BURNED OUT; SUES FOR DAMAGES

Squatter Loses All and Blames Railroad for It.

Fire swept through the timbered country in the vicinity of Greenwood lake during April of 1915 and left in its wake of destruction the ashes of the home of Daniel E. Hall, squatter at an abandoned lumber camp.

All of which is responsible for Hall being in district court today as plaintiff in a suit to recover $875.50 damages from the Duluth & Northern Minnesota Railway company and the Curry & White company, jointly charged with the responsibility for the blaze.

The lumber company is charged with having left large quantities of slashings in the woods and the railway company is accused of negligently throwing burning waste along its right-of-way on which, it is alleged, there was considerable combustible material.

Hall claims that the fire destroyed all of his household goods and the personal effects of the members of his family. He also claims that he received a bad burn on his arm while fighting the flames.

John Jenswold, Jr., is attorney for the plaintiff, and Harris & Pearson are defending the case.

LURED BY GENTLE SPRING.

Gentle spring, with her warm sunshine and her pleasant zephyrs, wooed James Magwood, lumberjack, yesterday.

Magwood has been doing a "turn in stir" at the county work farm for vagrancy, and had considerable time yet to serve. He was put out with a brush-clearing gang, and all went well until it began to get warm.

When the snow began to melt, however, Magwood became restless. He heard Mother Nature calling, and decided that he wouldn't stay in prison any longer.

Last night Magwood slept in one of th outlying camps, and this morning, when roll was called, no one answered to his name.

Supt. Fred Ward has asked police to help find the runaway. He is described as five feet five inches tall, weighing 144 pounds. He has brown hair and brown eyes, and is 47 years old.

WEATHER BUREAU COMBATS BELIEF IN EFFECT OF SUN SPOTS ON THE WEATHER

The weather bureau, through Chief Marvin, is out just now to combat the popular belief of the effect of so-called sun spots on weather and crop conditions. Chief Marvin declares emphatically that the alleged action is fictitious and that the scientists of the department and other recognized authorities in the scientific and meteorological world, outside of the department, have investigated the matter extensively and are prepared to assert positively that "there's nothing to it."

"Throughout its history the weather bureau has been called upon from time to time to caution the general public against the too credulous belief in alleged new systems for forecasting the weather for weeks or months in advance, or in schemes for the artificial production of rain, the prevention of hail, and other proposals to control or modify atmospheric phenomena or to forecast them a long time in advance. Pretensions of this character meet with a certain credence because there are a number of people who still cling to the ancient belief in the influence of the moon on the growth and development of crops, and to the idea that the weather conditions depend upon planetary and astrological combinations. As a rule the general public is only partly familiar with modern scientific facts and seems overready to accept confidently at face value almost any announcement of alleged new discoveries, especially when their exploitation is clothed in skilful allusions to items of the latest scientific information and is accompanied by clever representations of the benefits that are to result.

Spots on the Sun.

"The latest misrepresentation of this character now being presented to the people of the country in the columns of the daily press is an alleged new system of long-range weather forecasting said to be based on the rifts and spottedness of the sun and its shafts of solar radiation.

"When the disk of the sun is minutely examined with powerful telescopes, or when photographed with the aid of the modern spectrohelograph, the surface presents a characteristic spotted appearance which undergoes slight changes from day to day, and greater changes with longer intervals of time, depending upon the well-known rotation of the sun upon its axis and the periodic recurrence of the sun spot maxima and minima. These and certain well-known related phenomena are represented to be the basis of the so-called discovery.

"During the past several years the weather bureau has received, in the form of letters, circulars, diagrams, and blue prints, full specifications concerning all essential details of this alleged new system of forecasting. The so-called discovery is fully known to the weather bureau and has received fair and impartial study and examination by its scientific staff. Moreover, other scientists of international reputation now connected with the strongest institutions in the world engaged in astronomical research and conducting investigations in solar and terrestrial physics have also passed upon these new theories. These authorities are in accord that the deductions and concusions drawn from the solar conditions on which the new system is based are unwarranted. Solar phenomena of the kind described do not have any direct influence upon the weather at any particular time and place, and therefore can not be made the basis of weather forecasting.

"Specious references to the moon, to the planets, and to the spottedness of the sun and its shafts of radiation alleged to dominate terrestrial weather are but picturesque frameworks upon which to display weather forecasts for sale.

"The United States weather bureau is the authorized agency of the government to collect meteorological observations and to make and issue weather forecasts and warnings, and every important nation of the world has a similar organization. All are using essentially the same methods, all are alert to utilize the real developments of science and to improve and perfect methods and results, and all condemn and disapprove the methods and theories of the long-rangers.

"The weather bureau is endeavoring to render a useful service to the agriculture, commerce, and navigation of the country, and the chief of the bureau is prompted to state openly and emphatically the views of the bureau on the questions presented in the foregoing, because the general public is entitled to know that the government officials pronounce this new scheme fallacious, and place it in the same class with other methods of long-range forecasting based on lunar, planetary, magnetic, and astrological considerations."

CONFIDENT OF HIS CHANCES

Believes Strength of Roosevelt Has Waned in Last Three Weeks.

Former Governor A. O. Eberhart was in the city last night and this morning on a business matter connected with the contracting company of which he is a member, but found it impossible to get away from political discussion in view of the fact that he has just announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator. He was at the Spalding and last evening met some of the leading Republicans of the city, as well as a number of others.

The former governor would not say much as to his candidacy, but seems confident that he has a good chance to win the nomination. Concerning the vote he received in the recent presidential primary, in which he led the list of those running for delegates-at-large to the Republican national convention, he said:

Grateful for Support.

"As I have said in other places, I am more than grateful at the honor done me. St. Louis county paid me the compliment of giving me more votes than it did anybody else, and I thoroughly appreciate it. I have always counted St. Louis county Republicans among my best friends and strongest supporters, and it is pleasing to me to find that I have not been forgotten after my absence from public life."

"As to my candidacy for the senatorship," said Mr. Eberhart, "it is too soon to make predictions. The complete line-up is not known, for Senator Clapp has not yet announced himself. Of course, I believe that I have as good a chance as anybody, or I would not have become a candidate."

Asked as to the report that Senator Clapp is likely to resign because of the insistent call from the Chautauqua platforms, Mr. Eberhart said that he does not believe there is anything to it. Said he:

"I expect to have Senator Clapp as one of my opponents, and I do not believe there is any ground for the report that he even contemplates resigning. A dispatch published in one of the Twin City papers last Sunday quoted the senator as saying that he had not time to discuss such 'rot,' and I think, despite similar reports of his contemplated resignation since then, that his utterance about expresses the situation."

Lindbergh's Future.

Concerning the possibility of Congressman Charles A. Lindbergh of the Sixth district getting into the senatorial race, the former governor declared that he believes it to be highly improbable.

"Congressman Lindbergh will probably file for congress again," said Mr. Eberhart, "and I don't believe that he can be beaten with the present combination of candidates in the field in the district. Mr. Buckman, Mr. Opsahl and Mr. Knutson are all good men, but Congressman Lindbergh is undeniably popular in the Sixth, and with three men against him will win, I believe, without conducting a campaign, merely by announcing himself as a candidate for the nomination."

T. R. Has Lost Ground.

Mr. Eberhart, speaking of the presidential situation, expressed the opinion that Roosevelt has lost ground in the last three weeks. In view of the fact that the former governor is one of the delegates-at-large to the Republican convention, which will choose the standard bearer for the party in the next election, his views may be significant.

"Three weeks ago," said Mr. Eberhart, "Mr. Roosevelt was the man of the hour, and had the convention been held then, there is no doubt that he would have been the nominee. Since that time his strength has waned, and I do not believe that by the time June rolls around and the convention is held he will have anything like his old strength."

He would not venture an opinion as to who would be the nominee, but seems rather inclined to the view that Justice Hughes would be virtually forced into the breach.

CABINET VIEWS ON TARIFF QUESTION

How Both Sides of British Government Regard Subject.

London, March 29.—Two members of the government, Mr. McKenna, chancellor of the exchequer, who directs fiscal policy and frames tariff legislation, and Bonar Law, minister of colonies, have given an idea of the government attitude on the agitation which has been sweeping Manchester, Birmingham and the great industrial centers, for a complete overturning of British policy giving free open markets for foreign goods, and the inauguration of a new policy of tariff restriction.

The two ministers represent the two extremes of sentiment within the government on this fundamental question of British policy, the chancellor of the exchequer belonging to the Cobden element strongly attached to the traditional doctrine of open markets, and Bonar Law representing the later element which took up Joseph Chamberlain's campaign for protection of home industries. Each has made an address recently, showing how both sides of the government approach the same conclusion that the war has changed everything and has opened the way for a new economic policy. The two ministers differ, however, in one respect, Bonar Law holding that in the change to a tariff basis, "we must begin on a new basis and put aside all preconceived ideas," while Mr. McKenna maintains that proposed tariff changes will be the result of common agreement and enlightenment from the war, rather than a surrender of old ideas.

Nicholas, the Christian name of the czar, means victorious; George means farmer; Albert, illustrious; Peter, a rock; William, a defender, and Francis, free.

AWARDED DISTINGUISHED ORDER FOR GALLANT WORK

DUKE OF WESTMINSTER.

London, March 29.—The duke of Westminster has been awarded the distinguished service order for "gallant and distinguished service in the field" in connection with an engagement at Sollum in the operations against the Turks on the western Egyptian frontier March 14-17.

The duke of Westminster is a major in the Cheshire yeomanry, territorials. He was in command of an armored car section which dashed into the Senussi tribesmen's camp, twenty-five miles west of Sollum, shooting down the gun servers, scattering the hostile forces and rescuing ninety shipwrecked sailors who had landed on the Cyrenica coast and had been seized by the tribesmen.

EL PASO IS ARMED CAMP

Better Mexicans Have Faith in United States, Says Duluthian.

El Paso, Tex., is an armed camp, according to Dr. D. D. Murray of this city, who returned from a trip to the Southwest. Dr. Murray declares that Villa had many spies and sympathizers among the lower class of the Mexican population of El Paso, but that soldiers and armed citizens have nullified their efforts. The upper classes of the Mexican population, he says, have faith in the United States and in the Carranzan government.

"Many things occur at El Paso that the newspapers are not permitted to publish and newspaper men from outside are not welcome," he said. "There are a lot of irresponsibles there who send out lurid reports, some of which are greatly exaggerated. Two happenings, a week before I was there, were hushed up, but I was told the facts by one of the secret service men who were engaged in them. One was that some Mexicans employed at the smelter in El Paso were detected secreting dynamite at various parts of the plant and it was found that an extensive conspiracy was on foot to blow it up. A number of arrests were made, but the matter was kept out of the local papers. That same week a Mexican was arrested who had on his person the names of 150 men who were planning a raid on El Paso similar to that at Columbus. Arms and ammunition for them had been hidden at a point just outside the city. The authorities took prompt action by putting the leaders in jail and confiscating the weapons.

Sniping Along Border.

"There is considerable sniping going on along the border above El Paso all the time, but it appears to be the work of irresponsible peons, and the soldiers make short work of anybody they catch doing it. The soldiers and the authorities are working as a unit and they are always on the job. On the surface everything seems to be quiet down there, but there is a fierce undercurrent that cannot be ignored.

"One soldier told me that many of the Villistas who were engaged in the Columbus raid were Mexicans who had gone from this side to join him, and that most of the hats worn by those who were killed or which were lost by others in their 'get-away' bore the brands of dealers in Prescott and other places in Arizona, in Columbus itself and in El Paso. By these means of the dead raiders were identified as Mexicans who had been living in the United States.

"There is much diversity of opinion among civilians in El Paso as to whether the Carranza troops are sincere in aiding the pursuit of Villa, and everyone I talked to spoke of it as 'Another Geronimo chase, liable to last several months.'

"I brought home as souvenirs some of the money that Villa forced upon the people in Northern Mexico. One good American dollar will buy a bale of it now, and if the holders learn that you want to buy it, you will need an infantry regiment to keep them away from you."

TAXI DRIVERS OF DULUTH IN UNION

Charter Has Been Sent for; Fully Sixty Men in Organization.

Duluth taxicab drivers have organized a union, and President E. G. Hall of the Minnesota Federation of Labor yesterday sent to St. Paul for a charter for the local here. Twenty men had already been enrolled and forty more are expected to be in the union by the time the charter has reached Duluth.

The taxi drivers are engaged in one of the few occupations in Duluth where organization has been lacking up to this time, and they appealed to labor leaders as a good field for the state federation to enter.

The new union will aim not only to obtain more protection but also to improve the taxi service here for the benefit of the public. A meeting to perfect the organization will be called as soon as the charter arrives.

MINNESOTA SIXTH REFUGE FOR JEWISH IMMIGRANTS

Minnesota ranked sixth among the states of the union, which received 1,821 Jewish immigrants sent to 241 cities during 1915 by the Industrial Removal office of New York city, according to a report just received by officers of the local B'nai B'rith lodge, which co-operates with the national organization.

Michigan led the states of the union in receiving a total of 278 immigrants, while Ohio, Illinois, California and Missouri follow in the order named, with Minnesota ranking in fifth place. Out of the seventy sent to this state, twenty were brought to Duluth and the surrounding territory.

The statistical report of the distribution follows: Alabama, 28; Arizona, 5; Arkansas, 5; California, 172; Colorado, 28; Florida, 12; Georgia, 13; Illinois, 239; Indiana, 58; Iowa, 33; Kansas, 11; Kentucky, 10; Louisiana, 31; Maine, 1; Maryland, 5; Massachusetts, 7; Michigan, 278; Minnesota, 70; Mississippi, 5; Missouri, 97; Montana, 1; Nebraska, 16; New Jersey, 1; New York 45; North Carolina, 10; North Dakota, 24; Ohio, 272; Oklahoma, 23; Oregon, 16; Pennsylvania, 60; South Carolina, 11; South Dakota, 6; Tennessee, 22; Texas, 56; Utah, 29; Vermont, 4; Virginia, 17; Washington, 27; West Virginia, 3; Wisconsin, 64; Wyoming, 2; Canada, 1; Cuba, 3; total, 1,821.

FINDS BAG OF GOLD.

Sheboygan County, Wis., Farmer Promptly Turns It Over to Bank.

Sheboygan, Wis., March 29.—Richard Lutze, a farmer of Centerville, this (Sheboygan) county, while coming to Sheboygan yesterday, found a large bag of gold on the road to Pigeon Hill, one mile north of Sheboygan.

Fearing the money had been stolen and that he might be accused of taking it, he took the bag to a local bank without opening it. When opened it was found to contain several hundred dollars in gold. No such amount has been secured from the local banks and it is believed the money was hoarded by a farmer, who lost it while coming to the city, or that it had been stolen and was lost by the thief.

Killed at Iron River.

Iron River, Mich., March 29.—William Mattalia, a Finn miner, employed by the Oliver Iron Mining company, was struck by an Iron River-Amasa passenger train and instantly killed Monday afternoon while crossing the bridge over Iron river, two miles east of Iron River. Mattalia leaves a widow and four small children.

MORTALITY APPALLING

Fifty Thousand Men Perish in Four Days' Serbian Retreat.

Horrible Scenes Witnessed By American—Austrians Hang Woman.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Rome, March 10.—Henry Haller, formerly of the Fifth United States cavalry, who was one of the few Americans in the Serbian retreat, declared that during the journey to Podgoritza in Montenegro in a four-day snow storm more than 50,000 men died.

"They died so fast," he said, "that they fell every few yards all along the road. The wagons and carts went right over their bodies. Nobody thought of trying to turn out of the way, but there were so many they could not but drive over them. The roads were full of mudholes. At one place I saw no less than seventeen horses dying in one immense puddle, unable to pull themselves out.

"I saw hundreds and thousands of ragged men, with their feet swollen too much to wear shoes or to walk on them, crawling along for miles on their hands and knees through the blinding snow, finally stopping and dying soon afterwards. They never made any appeals for help. It wouldn't have been any use. Besides, they were too far gone to know what they were about, that they were dying. Their last effort to keep going was merely a mechanical operation. Of course the great mortality all along our route was due to the barren nature of the country we were traversing, with no shelter for but a comparatively few of us. There were even no forests where we might have felled trees and built temporary quarters. Our fires for the most part were small, with barely enough wood to heat water."

Many Perish in Retreat.

Haller, who was on a visit to Budapest when the war began, enlisted in the Austrian army and was serving as a bugler when six months later, he was taken prisoner by the Serbs and then finally was marched with 75,000 other Austrian soldiers across the mountains into Albania and "there turned loose on the shores of the Adriatic to fight for life against cholera, hunger and starvation."

"We were supposed to have started on that retreat," said Haller, "with a Serb army of over 200,000 men and about 75,000 Austrian prisoners. Not many more than 150,000 of the whole lot got over the mountains. It was not because the Austrians or the Bulgarians pursued us, however, with much activity. They died merely because of disease, hunger and exhaustion.

"The worst part of the journey began at the Albanian frontier. The Albanians have in times past been badly treated by te Serbs, and they took this chance to square old scores. They shot, killed, robbed and murdered us at every step of the way. For instance, at Linn, some Serb officers and a company of stragglers on horseback were met in the middle of the road by a few peasants and ordered to give up their horses and their money. It was plain highway robbery, and they refused. The peasants ran away and within a couple of minutes more than a thousand shots were fired out of the bushy hillside, killing most of the Serbs.

Food Problem Terrific.

"The food problem was terrific, even in Albania. A half pound of bread was sold at ten dinars, about $2. As I had a little money at Sturza, I bought five pounds of oka beans. Had I not been able to get these beans, I would today be a dead man. I heard just said to myself: 'I can't go any further,' when I persuaded a peasant woman to sell me the beans I ate beans twice a day, making a sort of soup out of them, putting in a little salt. At that I was far luckier than the fellows who had to boil harness leather for five or six hours in order to make the hot water taste like soup. I saw men act like savages, eating pieces of brown paper.

"There were perhaps not more than 2,000 women among the retreating horde with us and it is a fact worth recording that they were kindly treated and given whatever comforts were available by soldiers, who were otherwise dead to every feeling. I have seen such men, gaunt, staggering along, half naked, with a few pieces of cloth for shoes, unable to speak, with barely strength left to stop near a dying horse and cut a stringy steak from its flank, straighten up for a moment near one of the women's carts and smilingly tender their last mouthful of food to some of the women.

Women Heroically Treated.

"The treatment of the women on this dreadful retreat was to me the most wonderful, the most moving, the most heroic part of the whole retreat. These poor women in their flight from their homes had in many cases been unable to bring enough clothes to cover them. Often they were without stockings or underskirts, or hats or shawls or cloaks. I have seen time and time again some freezing soldier take off his overcoat and force it upon some one of these women, and seem almost ashamed to look upon her shivering body as he made the offer. Then he would search along the road for hours until he was able to strip some dead man of his clothes to replace that which he had so freely given."

What Haller regarded as his most remarkable experience was the sight of a mad soldier dying from starvation. "Clothed only in a ragged undershirt he was running barefoot down a snow-covered Albanian road straight as an arrow, bellowing as he ran," he said. "He ran on and on down that road, seeing nothing yet wonderfully avoiding stumbling over the bodies of other dead and dying soldiers and meat-stripped carcasses of the army horses which blocked the way. Suffering intensely as I myself was, I turned and watched this strange figure. At last a half mile down the road he pitched forward, and as I passed him later I saw he was stone dead.

Serb Mother Hanged.

"Other than that incident there is one that will stick in my memory so long as I live," said Haller. "This was the hanging of a Serb mother by the Austrian troops before I was made a prisoner. We were marching across a rough country near Lochnizter when we stopped near a wayside hut at its spring to get a drink. Col. Heili of our regiment also went to get a drink. As he arose from the spring a shot came from the hut. That shot was fired by a woman. She stood at the door, an old shotgun in one hand, a baby in the other.

"One of the captains ordered her hung. There was nothing else to do but execute her. As a rope was placed about her neck and she was led to the nearest tree all she said was this, in a hard, cold voice: 'My husband is a soldier. I, too, die for Serbia.' She made no appeal. She did not cry out. We left her body hanging there in the wind. The baby was picked up and sent to the nearest prison camp, to be cared for."

Through the efforts of Robert Haverick, representing the United States among the Austrian prisoners, Haller was rescued from starvation at Durazzo, and later Ambassador Page in Rome interested himself in the case. "I am going back home the best American citizen you ever saw," declared Haller. "I wish I had words to express my feeling for the kind of people that are grown in the United States."

DULUTH EXPERTS AT FARM INSTITUTE

A. B. Hostetter, district supervisor of agricultural agents; H. G. Larson, agricultural agent for St. Louis county, and M. J. Thompson, superintendent of the Northeast experiment station, are attending a short course institute today at Floodwood. Tomorrow and Friday they will be in Chisholm and next week will appear at Alborn and Meadowlands. On April 6, Mr. Hostetter will go to Crow Wing county, where he will pass several days looking over the situation there with County Agent Gafke.

Andrew Korhonen, Floodwood farmer, was a visitor at the office of the county agent yesterday afternoon. He announced his intentions of erecting a 40 by 80-foot dairy barn on his place this spring. He expects to begin dairying with twenty good grade cows and is now in the market for them. The lumber for the new barn was sawed on Korhonen's farm.

Bragdon's Trial April 10.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 29.—Joseph W. Bragdon, business man indicted and charged with offenses against three 14-year-old girls, will face trial April 10. Attorneys for Mr. Bragdon Monday asked Judge Leary to continue the case two weeks in order that they might prepare the case for trial. The request was granted, attorneys for the state making no objections.

CLARK WILL HEAD DULUTH AD CLUB

"Get-Together" Dinner for Members Will Be Held in May.

Thomas F. Clark was last evening elected president of the Duluth Ad club for the ensuing year, succeeding Charles H. Mackintosh, presiding officer during the last twelve months.

Other officers named for 1916 follow: R. D. Hillis, first vice president; John C. Neipp, second vice president, and Walter F. Eberhardt, secretary-treasurer.

A "get-together" dinner will be held for the members early in May.

AS WE GROW OLDER

our minds are quite as active as in former years but our strength does not respond when we need it most; perhaps the kidneys are weak, the liver torpid, rheumatic pains or stiffened joints beset us, and we cannot easily throw off the colds that winter brings.

What we need is the rich cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion to renew the blood and carry strength to every organ of the body, while its glycerine soothes the respiratory tract, and its hypophosphites strengthen the excitable nerves.

Scott's Emulsion is a scientific oil-food, of unusual benefit to those past fifty years—particularly during the colder seasons, it imparts warmth and creates strength. One bottle will prove its worth. No alcohol or harmful drugs.

MAKE DULUTH GARDEN SPOT

Time Arrives for Homecrofter to Prepare for Season's Activities.

Some Seeds May Now Be Planted Indoors; Flowers for This Climate.

They're trying to make Duluth a city of gardens and flowers. Homeowners and homecrofters—almost synonomous terms in Duluth—everywhere are beginning to turn their thoughts towards summer flower gardens, green lawns, and the backyard vegetable patches.

True it is that the snow has not all disappeared. The experienced homecrofter and amateur horticulturist knows that nevertheless the time has arrived for active preparations for the coming season. He realizes that now is the time to start things growing, to sow the window boxes and start the bedding plants, such as asters, verbenas, petunias, salvia, the annual larkspurs and many others.

Sow Seeds in House.

So far as the vegetable garden is concerned, the homecrofter will make no mistake if he sows his tomato seeds in the house boxes now. It is perhaps a trifle early for sowing cabbage, or cauliflower, but celery may be sown to advantage at this time. It is also time to look around for a southern exposure for the cold frame which will receive the house-grown plants when they are ready to be transplanted.

In Duluth gardens, hardy perennial plants, which may be set out either in fall or spring in mixed borders or along walks and are allowed to remain permanently in the open ground, are gaining much favor. And as the old fashions become new, so many old fashioned flowers are coming into their own again.

Amateur gardeners of Duluth have just begun to realize fully the value of these hardy perennials, and there will be many gardens this year that will riot in color because they have the hardy flowers—columbines, Canterbury bells, delphiniums, foxgloves, hollyhocks, snapdragons, phlox—which thrive well in this latitude.

Perennial Plants.

Perennial plants possess in a marked degree the interesting feature of ever varying, ever revealing something new of interest all the time, illustrating the universal order of nature. They are not fastidious in their requirements, thriving in any good garden soil.

Of the bright assemblage of perennial plants which might be grown in Duluth and which are as a matter of fact becoming quite popular here several will bear special mention. Aquilegias or columbines attain a height of from two to three feet and have an airy grace peculiarly their own. The flowers are born on stems two feet high and are oddly and elegantly formed with long spurs in every shade and color, which are very effective in any assortment of cut flowers.

The great California Shasta daisy gives the homecrofters large, glistening white flowers on stiff, erect stems, which are excellent for cutting. Coreopsis lanceolata grows about two feet high and is highly prized, producing in profusion large orange yellow flowers on long stems. It is regarded as a good cut flower.

Flowers Popular Here.

Then take the gaillardia (blanket flower). It grows about two feet high and produces a wealth of brilliant yellow and orange red flowers from about June until frost. It is also useful for cutting. The experienced amateur horticulturist knows the value of the gypsophila paniculata (baby's breath) for reinforcing bouquets. It spreads over a wide area and is almost indispensable with its numerous panicles of small, soft, white, fluffy flowers, which will enhance any assortment of cut flowers.

Campanulas or bellflowers are known to many Duluth gardeners as an extensive genus embracing a wide range in color, habit and size. But perhaps the most popular of all in Duluth at the present time are the delphiniums or hardy larkspurs. They grow from three to five feet high and embrace a wide range of color from light lavender to deepest blue. They are always conspicuous whether planted in groups or in single specimens. None of the pampered darlings of the greenhouse or conservatory can rival them in their gorgeous coloring.

Care of Flowers.

Then there are the irises, fleur de lis—the goddess of the rainbow some call it. Mythology says that the ancients considered the iris a sacred flower and associated it with the future state of the blessed. The German irises of yellow and blue are common in Duluth, but a number of other rare varieties of this branch of the family were produced here last year. The Japanese variety is also gaining in popularity here.

All perennials are benefited by a summer as well as winter mulch of well-rotted manure. It protects from dry winds, keeps the soil from baking and aids capillary attraction. Nearly all of the perennials are grown from seed or divisions.

VASA LODGE TO RECEIVE OFFICERS

Entertainment Being Prepared for Meeting Next Tuesday.

Executive officers of the district lodge of the Order of Vasa will be guests of honor at the meeting of Sons of Sweden lodge, No. 170, and Sophia lodge, No. 209, to be held next Tuesday evening at the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street. The executive committee will hold a business meeting at one of the local hotels during the afternoon at which the principal business will be the selection of a place for holding the annual convention of the society in May.

Duluth will be a strong contender for the meeting of the district lodge, and local members are hopeful of securing the meeting. Three of the five members of the executive board are from Duluth and Two Harbors, and they are being prevailed upon to bring the convention here.

The members of the board are C. W. Soderstrom, Minneapolis; C. E. Peterson, Two Harbors; Eric Norton, St. Paul; Andrew Horngren and H. A. Nelson, Duluth.

A special program of music, speaking and other features is being arranged by a committee of the West end lodges. The program will be followed by a reception and refreshments.

St. Peter's Church Activities.

The Young People's Society of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, will be entertained tomorrow evening at the home of William McKenzie, 620 North Twenty-fourth avenue west.

Lenten services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon and evening by Rev. W. E. Harmann. Following the afternoon services, St. Luke's guild will entertain socially with Mrs. Ed. Slocum and Mrs. C. E. Lonegren as hostesses. Rebekah guild will entertain following the Swedish services in the evening. Mrs. Adolph Olson will be hostess.

The woman's auxiliary held its meeting in the church guild rooms yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Thomas Bark and Mrs. Lonegren were hostesses.

SUPERIOR TRACTION MEN WILL BE HOSTS

Nearly 100 Duluth Employes Will Attend Celebration at Tower Hall.

Nearly 100 employes of the Duluth division of the Duluth Street Railway company will leave on special cars this evening for Superior to attend a celebration planned by the employes of the Superior lines to be held at the Tower hall, Thirteenth street and Tower avenue. The program is scheduled to begin at about 8:30 o'clock.

The first car carrying the local party will leave at 8:15 and the second car will leave at 8:45. Free tickets have been provided for all Duluth employes and their families.

Dancing, cards, music and short speeches will feature the program. The musical program will be given by talent composed entirely of street railway employes.

All employes in Duluth who have been able to "book off" for the evening have arranged to go.

YOUNG FOLK TO ENTERTAIN.

Program Will Be Given at Mission Church Thursday Night.

The Young People's Society of the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, will entertain tomorrow evening at a musical and literary program at the church. "APRIL FOOL" PARTY.

Appropriate Menu Will Feature Epworth League Affair Friday.

An "April Fool" party will be given Friday evening by the Epworth League of the First Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street. The invitation announces that the admission is "free," but that may be a jest.

The committee in charge has arranged a special "fools" menu for the luncheon. Among the items on the bill of fare are fool's nectar, clown cake, frozen fools, nutty sandwiches, cracked skulls, fool's delight, gooseberry fool, green horns and fool's draughts.

Games and music are planned for the program. A meeting of the committee to complete the details will be held in the church tomorrow evening.

The ladies' aid society will meet in the church tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. C. Florcen will be hostess.

The string band of the church and the choir will meet in the church for rehearsal tomorrow evening.

ADDRESS ON "HOME" FEATURES MEETING

An address on the subject of "Home Making and Home Breaking" featured the afternoon meeting of the Mothers' club of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, this afternoon. The talk was given by Rev. George Brewer, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. During the social session the Argonaut club, composed of young women of the church, entertained.

West End Briefs.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Drennan returned yesterday from a month's wedding trip and visit with relatives in Portland, Or. Mrs. Drennan was formerly Miss Thyra Peterson. They will reside at 623 Tenth avenue west.

Miss Ida Carlson of Warba, Minn., is a guest at the home of Mrs. John Johnson, 2705 West Second street.

A banquet in honor of the young women of the society will be given Friday evening by the young men of the Baptist Young People's union of the Central Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson, 3927 West Third street, have left for Barnum, where they will make their home.

Rev. J. Emmett Porter, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, will speak this evening at the mid-week services to be held at the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church. The pastor will speak on "The Life Worth Living."

MORE MEMBERS FOR NAVY LEAGUE

An active campaign to increase the membership of the Navy league in this state has been instituted by A. W. Hartman and T. D. Merrill, who were recently assigned to the work by Robert M. Thompson, president of the league.

The "chain letter" plan is being used to interest persons in the work of the league, these being sent along with business correspondence, together with small cards giving an account of the organization and several reasons why a man should become a member.

The Navy league has for its aim the strengthening of the American navy by increasing the number of ships and raising the maximum of men allowed by the government in the service.

DRAINAGE DITCH WORRIES CANADA

International Dispute May Arise Over Minnesota Improvement.

Still further complications regarding international waterways is expected when the great Roseau river drainage project is completed, and the settlers on the swamp lands of the United States side of the line dump water now on about 250,000 acres of Minnesota land onto Canada without asking permission or making provision to prevent any possible damage, but it will be a case of complications with which the international waterways commission will have nothing to do.

Canada is already protesting, although only informally, and while there has been no official investigation, Winnipeg officials have intimated to the Minnesota officials that they do not like the look of things.

The Roseau river rises in Minnesota and crosses the international boundary about thirty-five miles east of the Red river into which it finally flows. Some years ago the state undertook the drainage of the big Roseau swamp and the adjacent meadows and constructed many miles of ditches. To complete the system the deepening, widening and straightening of the river channel was necessary. More than $80,000 was expended last year on this work. A winding stream of twenty-three miles was shortened to fifteen miles, the river bed was lowered six feet at the western end of the section and the channel was made clear and definite. This caused an increase in the fall from three-tenths of a foot per mile to seven-tenths of a foot, which, while not a great increase, will be of material assistance in making the great swamp fit for agriculture.

The state will expend $50,000 this year in completing the work on the river up to the Canadian border.

It is conceded by state officials that work undoubtedly will be necessary in Canada to obtain satisfactory results on the American side and to prevent trouble from flood on the Canadian side. The possibility of danger has been recognized in Minnesota for some years. The issue has been evaded, but soon it will come to a head, officials fear.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS LOOK OVER ASHLAND

Ashland, Wis., March 29.—Vice President R. H. Ashton, General Supt. C. B. Vilas and Assistant Traffic Manager E. B. Birgham of the Northwestern railroad stopped here a few hours yesterday, looked over the docks and other industries, then went on to Ironwood. They said they found business conditions improved and appeared to realize the justness of local claims for another through train to the Twin Cities.

Woman and Baby Drown.

Beach, N. D., March 29.—When his team became mired in the flood waters and mud of Cabin creek, in Montana, near here, William McNannum lost control of the team and the wagon overturned. Mrs. Chris Mercer and baby were thrown into the stream and drowned before McNannum, who was entangled in the harness, could extricate himself and go to their aid.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.—Advertisement.

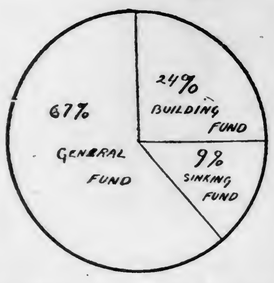
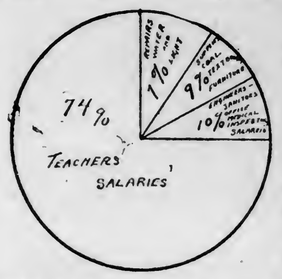
DULUTH'S SCHOOL SYSTEM

Being a Review of Some Facts About the Community's Most Important Business—No. 3 Cost of Running Schools.



Expenditures for 1914-1915 Amounted to $823,515.75, and Were Divided in This Way.



General Fund Expenditures Amounted to $549,088.76, and Were Divided This Way.

It costs the Duluth school district about $34 a year to educate a pupil. In 1914 the cost was estimated at $33.18, and it has increased since that time.

St. Paul educators say the per capita cost in their public schools is $28.30. In Minneapolis it is said to be $44.20. In Gary, Ind., where the work-study-and-play system has been tried out, the cost for each pupil is estimated at $46.44 a year.

"Costs" cannot be compared in this way, however, unless an itemized statement is made, and unless the items on one statement are included on all others. St. Paul children buy their own books. In Duluth they do not.

That is one possible reason for the difference. Supt. R. E. Denfeld says that thirty pupils are enough to have in one class. "Make that the maximum if possible," is his motto. He believes that the greatest teaching efficiency is obtained with a class of that size.

In St. Paul, classes may average forty children. That would mean fewer teachers, comparatively, and less expense for a child. Many educators say that an instructor should be able to handle more than thirty children.

Everything considered, Duluth's educational plant is not an expensive one, and taxpayers are being given a good return on the money they put into the school system.

School Tax Levy.

In 1915 the general fund school tax levy amounted to 5.7 mills. The building fund levy was 2.5 mills, the sinking fund levy was 1.78 mills, and the teachers' retirement fund levy was .1 mill.

In the fiscal year ended July 31, 1915, the school district spent $823,515.75. Of this, the general fund took $549,088.76; the building and maintenance fund took $198,701.51 and the sinking fund took $75,254.48.

Salaries of teachers, engineers, janitors, clerks, school physician and nurses amounted to $460,399.13, or considerably more than half of the aggregate. Janitors and engineers were paid $44,470.53; salaries of office help and of the school physician and nurses amounted to $6,915 and $4,987.50, respectively. Summer school salaries and night school salaries make up the aggregate.

Supplies, coal, text books and repairs are the four other large items in the general fund account. Miscellaneous supplies represent an expenditure of about $18,000, coal bills amounted to $17,500, while repairs and text books cost $14,000 and $10,000, respectively.

The building and maintenance fund, of which practically $200,000 was expended last year, is the second largest of the three funds. Out of the total expenditure, $165,000 was for new buildings and comes under the head of permanent improvements. Real estate, furniture, manual training tools, physical laboratory equipment, domestic science and agricultural equipment also are included in the list.

It may be interesting to know that the school district paid $59,411 in interest and commission and that that item is by far the largest in the sinking fund account. During the last year the board purchased $14,000 worth of bonds for investment.

Shifting Population Problem.

Educators who have studied Duluth say that the financial record of the school district is a good one, considering. They "consider" the fact that the city is not symmetrical, and that it grows a good deal like Topsy did.

The problem presented by Duluth's shifting population is a big one to the street railway company and in the same way it is a big one to the school board.

For instance, the Endion school in the East end is filled to capacity, or nearly so. The Salter school, but a few blocks away, is not crowded, and it is so near the lake that it cannot draw from as large a territory as it should.

The Whittier school on Minnesota point handles that district, but the Webster, on St. Croix avenue, but a few blocks away, will have to be abandoned in a few years. The Webster now is in a manufacturing district, and the school population is moving to the West end, Lakeside, Woodland or West Duluth.

This change in the center of population means that in some schools the classrooms will be overcrowded, and that in others they will be but partially filled. It means that the former buildings probably will have to be enlarged, while in the latter costs will be high, because the building is not used fully.

"Just where is the city going to grow, with a permanent growth?" is the question the school board directors have to answer before they agree to a new building. If they find the right answer, they will keep down the per capita cost, if they don't, costs will be higher. R. D. McC.

WATERFRONT SHOULD BE MADE RAT-PROOF

Owners of property along the lake front should make their buildings, warehouses and structures completely rat-proof in preparation for the opening of the Welland canal, which is due within two years, according to Health Director Fahey.

After the canal is opened ocean-going steamers will make the Duluth port direct, and this city will have considerable trouble from rats, unless all structures are protected against them, the health director believes. In foreign ports the docks are usually infested with the rats, which climb the tow lines onto the boat. On the arrival of a vessel in another port, the rats immediately infest the buildings.

"Seattle, Spokane and other cities along the coast are having considerable trouble with the rats," said Dr. Fahey this morning, "and Duluth owners of dock property would do well to prepare for the future. The expense will be enormous if the owners wait until the canal is open and the boats begin arriving in Duluth.

"This is looking a long way ahead, I know, but now is the time to prepare. New Orleans last year suffered from a bubonic plague caused by the appearance of the dock rats, and now that city is spending several hundred thousand dollars making the shore line completely proof against the rodents."

HEAVY PASSENGER TRAVEL EXPECTED

W. B. Dixon, assistant general passenger agent of the Milwaukee, is in the city today on business. Mr. Dixon declared Western passenger travel is the heaviest in years and that railroad men look for a very heavy Pacific coast travel during the summer. Travel between St. Paul and middle western points is very heavy, he said.

When asked if the Milwaukee was coming into Duluth, Mr. Dixon replied that he had not been advised to that effect. He declared that if a line was to be built into Duluth, as dispatches have stated, that it might transpire that the Milwaukee would take such a line over, but that such a supposition was merely a personal one and not one based on any definite knowledge. Mr. Dixon said that insofar as he had been informed, no definite information had been given out officially in connection with the Milwaukee coming to Duluth.

No Sir! OUR Shoe Prices Have Not Gone up!

It's true that the cost of shoes is rising steadily—and no wonder! Last year (as a result of the war) this country's exports of shoes and leather increased over $75,000,000—and our imports dropped from 11,000,000 calfskins to about 5,000,000. Our import of colt skins and horse hides were 347,407 as against 998,672. Is it strange that the shoe experts are predicting a rise of 20% to 40% during the next four months?

The Best Shoes at Reasonable Prices!

That's our motto, and we're sticking to it in spite of smaller profits! We can still offer Duluth men the famous

A SOCIAL afternoon and evening and an open house will be held next Tuesday at the Duluth free dispensary of the Methodist churches of this district, at 405 East Third street. The dispensary will be open for inspection and an invitation is extended to the public, especially to ministers, social workers and philanthropists of all denominations and nationalities.

The hostesses will be members of the house committee who are Mrs. F. C. Bowman, Mrs. Watson S. Moore, Mrs. M. W. Turner, Mrs. C. A. Congdon and Mrs. John Carson.

The hours for the open house will be from 3 to 5 o'clock and from 7:30 to 9 o'clock. Mrs. J. A. Johnson of Minneapolis will give a short talk in the afternoon and Rev. M. P. Burns will speak at night.

Events of Interest.

Miss Harriet Dwyer of 113 East Fourth street was pleasantly surprised at her home last night by office associates, the occasion being her birthday. Five hundred was played at six tables and favors were won by Miss Eva Kerr, Miss Gertrude Schaeffer, T. Dwyer and L. Benson. The others present were:

Messrs. and Mesdames—
E. H. Wargin, E. B. Ebeling.

Misses—
Nellie Cunnell, Ann Lydon,
Mamie Shannon, Frances Wargin,
Caroline Ensch, Margaret Lydon,
Sylvia Schiesser, Mae Armond.
Mae Cummings,

Messrs.—
I. C. Sylte, R. Ebeling,
E. Pfaff, J. Rowland,
A. Hilderly, E. White,
A. Olson, E. I. McGraw.

Mrs. C. M. Hon of 112 East Winona street was the hostess this afternoon for the meeting of the Priscilla club of Woodland.

Central W. C. T. U.

Central W. C. T. U. will hold a social meeting at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. T. Bredeson, 425 Ninth avenue east.

Meeting at the Bethel.

Rev. W. W. Lawrence, pastor of the Glen Avon Presbyterian church, will be the speaker at the women's meeting which will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Bethel. A social half-hour will conclude the afternoon. Women in all parts of the city are invited.

Johnson-Carlson.

Miss Mamie Victoria Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of 2705½ West Second street, and Walter Carl Carlson of Warba, Minn., were married at 8 o'clock last night at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Swaney Nelson of the First Swedish Baptist church. The ceremony took place in a bower of pink and white carnations and roses arranged in the living room.

The bride wore a gown of flesh colored chiffon over silk trimmed with pink satin. Her veil was caught in cap effect with lilies of the valley, and she carried a shower of Bride roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Ida Carlson of Warba, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid; Arnold W. Johnson, brother of the bride, was the best man, and Kermit Johnson, brother of the bride, carried the ring in an Easter lily. Miss Mildred Johnson, sister of the bride, played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the processional.

Miss Carlson was gowned in orange georgette crepe and lace and carried an arm bouquet of carnations.

At the supper which followed the ceremony, Mrs. George Wallin, Miss Ethel Wallin, Miss Florence Wanberg and Mrs. Anderson assisted in the dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlson will be at home in the West end after May 1.

Operetta Given for Pilgrim Church Fund

"The College Girl and the Milk Maid," an operetta by Alfred Caldicott, was given at the dish towel shower which the Ladies' Union of the Pilgrim Congregational church held this afternoon in the parlors of the Unitarian church for the kitchen of the new Pilgrim church. Mrs. Walter Adams and Mrs. Philip Frost were not only the principal characters, but also the only ones, Mrs. Frost being the college girl and Mrs. Adams the milkmaid. Miss Louella Gleason was at the piano. Mrs. George A. Reifsteck was the coach. The operetta was given two weeks ago at a meeting of the young matrons' circle of the church and was enjoyed so much that the "cast" was asked to repeat it. A tea hour concluded the afternoon.

War Relief Tea.

A tea will be given from 4 to 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Walter Turle, 2216 East Superior street, for the benefit of the Duluth branch of the National Surgical Dressing committee.

This committee, the oldest organization for relief in the field—barring the Red Cross—was organized in October, 1914, in New York, with Miss Anne Morgan as treasurer, to supply small emergency hospitals in Europe with sterilized dressings and articles in a convenient form for immediate use.

In the first six months of its activities more than 2,000,000 surgical dressings were shipped to hospitals in the war zone and 350 sections were organized to make surgical dressings in various localities in the United States. Today practically every state is organized and more than 300 hospitals in France are supplied with dressing materials.

The national chairman in making an appeal for 10,000,000 surgical dressings now, writes: "The heavy fighting in France of the last few weeks has created a condition of suffering that we must bend every energy to relieve."

The Duluth committee is very grateful for the generous donations it has received of old linen and cotton and for new material, such as gauze, absorbent cotton, oakum, and for contributions with which to buy material during the past winter.

New Bathing Suits Are Provided With Pockets

As bathers who go in the water know, even a sopping handkerchief is better than none, therefore the newest bathing suits are well provided with pockets. Every suit that lays the least claim to being chic will have at least one pocket, but two or more will be more fashionable One for the bathhouse key, one for a handkerchief and two for the hands as one promenades up and down the beach will be none too many, and if the designer has been generous the extra pockets may be used for a vanity case, a telescope, or anything that would make the suit more seaworthy. Surely, the costumers are guiltless of the charge Ibsen laid at the door of the grossly negligent ship owner in "Pillars of Society."

Efficient Housekeeping

Amusing the Kiddies

THERE is a dear little child next door who always cries softly when she is hurt, for if she shrieks like a Comanche her mother tells her she cannot see where she is hurt. She has learned patience, for like all little folk and bigger ones, too, she likes sympathy, petting and pity.

There is another child that fascinates me, but in another way. When he is hungry his mother and his nurse each seize a spoon and feed him together, for he screams like a wild cat when his mouth is empty. I can guess what sort of a temper and digestion he will have when he is a bit older. A mother bird and mother cat use more thoughtful care with their young. They feed them, keep them warm and let them develop naturally. The tormenting jiggling young children are made to endure under the name of Amusing the Baby would kill a less elastic creature. Then a year or two later, when amusement is needed, the parents say, "Keep out of my way, children; I have no time to play with you." The truth of the matter is they are tired of their babies. As soon as they are old enough these children are sent to visit the neighbors, or out into the street, and when they reach an age where they should be companionable their parents wonder why they do not love their home. If they had had a part in making it, if their industry had been directed in helping one another, they would find their happiness and pleasure there.

Every child has a natural bent, and it is wonderful how early a child may be taught form and color and shape. One of the readers of this department wrote to the writer this past week telling how she amused her children. I sent the letter on to another unseen friend who had asked us for a solution of this problem of entertainment, so I cannot give the message to you in full; but she told how she bought penny boxes of beads, and a package of dried peas for her boy and girl. The peas she soaked until soft and taught the children to pierce them with tooth-picks and build houses or make animals with them. Her girl had a natural building instinct and shaped wonderful castles, chicken coops and pig pens. But the little laddie liked colors and chose the cardboard, needle and beads for his playthings. Later she bought clay for modeling and colored paper and paste for them and it was the old story, the boy was artistic and had an inborn love for kaleidoscopic effects. The girl created forms with the clay, as she had with the peas and tooth-picks.

This charming letter continued that industry was made a habit with these children. They were taught to make their playthings from material furnished them. They put away their toys, cleaned up the litter they made and were provided with a little hard work daily as a vent for their animal energy.

An ideal family is simply a group of related persons, active, useful and happy, loving one another—not a worn mother, a tired father and idle, noisy children.

If you have some pet idea that you have tried successfully with your youngsters, pass it along through this department and let your neighbors share it. Your name will not be printed, but your experiences will be enjoyed.

Bed Time Tales

Yellow Puff Gets the Better of Tommy

FOR several days after Yellow Puff, the pretty little chick who was entirely too braggy, was scolded by Tommy Tittle-mouse for his pompous ways he kept very still and attended strictly to his own business.

So much so that his mother noticed the change in him and asked if he was sick.

"No, I'm not sick," said Yellow Puff, "but I do want to go outdoors and I don't want to freeze."

"You poor thing!" exclaimed his mother, who, like all mothers the world over, wanted her chick to be happy. "Perhaps you may go out of doors—I'll see."

So she called to Tommy Tittle-mouse, who had become her chief adviser.

"Tommy," she said when he arrived, "Yellow Puff needs some fresh air and I wouldn't mind a bit myself. Do you think we dare venture today?"

"Indeed I don't know," said Tommy, and he twirled his tail thoughtfully. "The last time I was out, the weather was still very cold." He scratched his head a minute, then he added, "I'll go ask Mrs. Tommy, she knows a lot!" and away he ran.

"Do you know if the weather is warm enough for Mrs. Hen and Yellow Puff to go out walking?" he asked Mrs. Tommy as he dashed into their home.

"Indeed I do not," replied Mrs. Tommy. "How should I know? I am busy here with my family all the day long!"

"Then where will I find out?" asked Tommy.

"Ask Mr. Rooster," suggested Mrs. Tommy and went on about her business.

"Oh, Mr. Rooster," cried Tommy as soon as he had found him. "Will you please tell me whether the weather is warm enough for Mrs. Hen and Yellow Puff to take a walk?"

Mr. Rooster shook his head and flourished his tail feathers and said, "What do I know about weather? I have important things to look after! Don't trouble me with foolish questions!"

"Then where will I find out?" asked Tommy, who by now was getting worried.

"Ask the spider in the cellar," retorted the rooster, "but don't bother me!"

"Oh, Mr. Rooster," cried Tommy.

Now Tommy couldn't ask any spider in any cellar. Mr. Rooster knew that very well but he didn't care. That's just the way roosters are!

Tommy didn't know what to do. Here he had been working an hour and he hadn't found out a thing. So he decided to go and tell Mrs. Hen of his bad luck. He found her just coming in from the outside door.

"That's a nice walk we had," she remarked pleasantly.

"A nice walk?" exclaimed Tommy. "Did you go? How did you find out about the weather?"

"Yellow Puff walked out and found it very pleasant so we took a walk," she replied.

"Yes," said Yellow Puff (and now it was his turn to look scornfully at Tommy), "when I want to find out anything I look!" And Tommy just slipped off to his nest without a word.

German Woman Is Called the "Hindenburg of the Kitchen"

There is a woman in Germany they call "the Hindenburg of the kitchen," so thoroughly has she mastered the strategy of forehandedness, of conservation, substitution in the matter of national food supply against England's attempt to starve Germany, says a writer in the Chicago Tribune. Her name is Hedwig Heyl, and this name has been connected for years with all that was philanthropic, all that was constructive and helpful in the civic life of Berlin.

With her belief in women and with the amazing forethought which characterizes the trained German mind, Frau Heyl saw on the first day of war what a place women could and must fill in the war, and that morning presented her petition for the founding of a "Nationaler Frauendien"—"the national service of women"—which should organize all the women of the empire into a co-working, co-sacrificing, co-economizing association. The same afternoon, the first day of the war, permission was granted by the war ministry and notices were sent to every city in the country notifying them of this new organization and bidding them join the central committees after having organized their home branch. Even during the early days of plenty this organization provided and economized against the days to come. There is a woman on each of the four central committees, for the conservation of meat, milk, grain and vegetables.

Frau Heyl has practically turned over the factory which her husband left her to an experimental laboratory for food substitutes. A fish dealer said to her in her tour through the markets: "I don't understand why it is, in spite of two meatless days a week, I have so many of this particular fish left over to throw away." She then found that all fish dealers were in the same trouble and reasoned that because fat was scarce for frying and because the days following the meatless days were fatless, so that the restaurants and hotels could not serve these fish fried, they were being wasted for lack of a palatable sauce made without butter. So away she went to the factory for experimentation and soon she invented a sauce made of potatoes, tomato, chopped herbs and an egg substitute, all of these ingredients dried and sold in little boxes at the same time with the fish and needing only a little boiling water to serve.

One of her largest ventures is the wholesale drying of spinach. "Canned spinach isn't as nutritious as dried spinach," she says, "and is much more work, not to mention the expense of the cans and the difficulty of getting them now.

"We have had for some time an artificial substitute for eggs, and there was never anything so rich in possibilities as the soja bean, which we have been stocking up on since the beginning of the war—or rather since we discovered its uses. It makes a wonderful oil, a meal equally rich in carbohydrates and fats, and from it we also manufacture an artificial milk.

"We issue little tickets good for milk, meat, vegetables, coal and provisions. We have given out nearly 3,000,000 since the beginning of the war."

Frau Heyl has written a number of special cook books since the war began. These consist of several thousand recipes particularly applicable to different sections of the country, all economical and all designed to spare the articles in which Germany is short. These books, issued by the Nationaler Frauendiens, are free to any member of a community reached by a subbranch, and that means practically all of Germany. Over 1,000,000 copies have been distributed.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Where Gratitude Is Due

A class of men deserving our sincerest gratitude and receiving practically no attention from their beneficiaries are the engineers and motormen who control the steam and electricity that makes our wonderfully rapid system of transportation a possibility.

These men take a stupendous amount of responsibility upon themselves when they assume the safe conveyance of hundreds of people daily to and from their destinations in city and town, and it is undoubtedly the knowledge that they are answerable to the community for the lives of thousands that first shatters them and wears them out altogether. But the masses of humanity seldom give them a thought, even though they blindly entrust their lives to them each day.

It may be a little early to speak of the open electric cars, but they will be taken from winter quarters before many weeks have sped, and it is from the vantage point of the front seat of any one of these that anyone desirous of experiencing a few thrills and shivers such as fall to the lot of motormen every day of their lives and every hour in the day may have his desires gratified.

Women and children are renowned for the chances that they take with the street cars, and perhaps by their indecision in crossing the streets add more to the enormity of the strain under which these men labor during their hours of service than any other two things combined for which they have to be on the lookout.

There are many constant worriments to the man at the brakes, in the shape of obstructions on the tracks and trying to run on schedule time. Always the constant fear that something may come upon him from every side street that will result in loss of life or painful injury, and which with all his caution, he is powerless to prevent, and of other ever present and possible contingency—that the mechanism of a car may fail him at a critical moment.

All these things apply to the engineer, who, from his cab holds the lives of hundreds of people in his hands. Only the engineer and the man who shares the little box on the powerful iron horse know how many times this duty is not attended to as it should be, and only those two men can tell how many times a divine providence intercedes and miraculously saves a trainload from what looks like certain disaster.

Renovating Old Hats.

Washington Star: To renovate last year's hat is a necessity that confronts the average woman. There may be new hats in the spring outfit, but there is sure to be some last season's model that is too good to be discarded, and yet not good enough to be worn as it is. Whatever type the hat, the renovating processes are practically the same. Remove all trimmings and lining. Launder the lining with soap, water and warm pressing. Thoroughly clean the hat with a stiff brush. Pull out thread ends and clip off rough straw. Steam the hat thoroughly over boiling water.

Sometimes the crinkles will vanish themselves as the steam passes up through the straw. If not, it may be necessary to gently pat and coax the moistened straw between the fingers until it has regained some of its original shapeliness. Wrap a towel around the hands, as they are more or less exposed to the steam while holding the straw over the boiling water. Do not let the hat come in actual contact with the water. After careful drying, rub the hat well with an old piece of velvet, black for dark hats, and white for light hats. This will remove dust moistened by steaming. For dark or black straws dip velvet in alcohol and carefully wipe off the straw, using a circular motion over the entire surface. This last finishes the cleaning of a hat.

New York Symphony Orchestra Delights Vast Audience With a Program of Exceptional Beauty

There come times when criticism must give way to sheer adulation; when comment resolves itself into fulsome praise.

It was a notable climax to the season of the Matinee Musicale. This organization has showed rare discrimination in the artists it has brought to Duluth. It has carefully avoided both "magnificent wrecks" in the musical world, and experiments or fads, and has brought great artists in their prime.

The New York orchestra is generally conceded by musicians to be one of the great orchestras of the world. It was brought to Duluth intact, and there is but one word that will describe the concert as a whole—perfection.

The arrangements for the comfort and convenience of the audience deserve special mention. Special cars had been provided both before and after the concert; light illuminated the dark corners where mud puddles lurked; and platoons of ushers were in readiness. Aside from three or four minor duplications of seats caused by the more or less temporary seating arrangements at the armory, the big crowd was handled most expeditiously and with the minimum of confusion. Everyone was seated within a few minutes after the time the concert was scheduled to begin, and there was virtually no delay. There were but a few scattered vacant seats, and Duluth has seldom seen a larger or more genuinely enthusiastic audience. Mr. Damrosch and his musicians must have carried away a very vivid impression of their reception here.

Play With Enthusiasm.

The opening strains of the Beethoven symphony carried the promise of an evening of rare enjoyment, and this promise was most bountifully fulfilled. The thirty years that Mr. Damrosch has been conducting orchestras, have not dulled his enthusiasm. There is no "pale cast of thought" o'erspreading his work. It is all vigor, life, and enthusiasm. There is the same quality to the work of his orchestra that has made Percy Grainger such a popular favorite in so short a time. The mechanical perfection is there, of course. The response of the orchestra to the conductor is almost uncanny. It was one huge instrument on which the conductor played. But beyond this perfection was something far more important. It was the personality and the musical feeling of the director. Every number was played as the listener felt it should be played, nor was it a momentary enchantment which spread over its hearers, but an art reminiscent of no other and Mr. Damrosch, an artist equally unique—left an impression which will last for a long long time.

It is difficult to see how any conductor could possibly find more points to bring out in Beethoven's symphony

SIDE TALKS

By RUTH CAMERON

Fault-Finding at Table

IN A remarkable school for girls where the science of homemaking—not housekeeping, mind you, but the bigger, more beautiful science of making a home, with all that word connotes—is taught, the girls are given a chance to practice the theories they learn in school, by living in groups in "home houses" managed by themselves.

Each girl in turn holds the position of homemaker for the little family. There are many rules to be observed by the groups and one of the most interesting is this:

"If there is individual dissatisfaction with meals or any other part of the housekeeping, it must be expressed in private to the homemaker. It must not be the subject of conversation at the table."

Isn't that a fine rule?

Wouldn't it lift a burden off your hearts, homemakers everywhere, if that rule could be put into effect in your homes?

It Takes Mother's Appetite All Away.

To a sensitive woman there is nothing more depressing than to prepare a meal, bring it to the table and then have it subjected to a running fire of criticism.

"Can't you get any tenderer beef than that?" questions the father, irritably.

"This is the second time this week you've had carrots," complains the daughter.

"Why do you always have sour pickles?" growls the son. "You know I like sweet ones."

When one prepares a meal one seldom has as much relish for it as when one comes in from outside and finds it on the table. And whatever relish the house mother would have is taken away by these criticisms.

She Is So Anxious to Please Everyone.

She tries to find a tender piece of beef for the complaining husband. She rummages the pantry for a bottle of sweet pickles, and explains anxiously to her daughter that the greens the vegetable man brought weren't fit to eat and she had to substitute carrots. She hardly tastes her own dinner, doesn't seem to feel much appetite. As if anyone could have an appetite in such an atmosphere of criticism!

To set a table that will satisfy five or six different (and usually pampered) tastes is a mighty strenuous task.

And to do it on a limited income, especially with the prevailing high prices of everything eatable, is enough to tax the resources of a home-making genius. The woman who comes anywhere near succeeding deserves praise, not fault-finding.

It Is Easy to Fall Into the Habit of Fault-Finding.

In many homes the fault-finding is just a habit. There is something about the act of finding fault that relieves the mind. It is pleasant to put someone in the wrong and have him apologizing and explaining to you. And mothers, being the only human beings in the world who will stand patiently for that sort of thing, get ten times their share.

Of course there are occasions when criticisms could justly be made. But if, instead of irritably blurting them out at the table, the critic would wait until he could see the homemaker in private and then make the criticism pleasantly and combine it with constructive suggestions, who would be the loser? Nobody. And everyone would gain.

No. 2, or possibly overlay these points with more color and sparkle than did Mr. Damrosch. He seemed to have exhausted each small possibility and to have combined his research into a very riot of tone and brilliancy.

Splendid precision of ensemble, balance of tone, clearness of detail and accurate observance of nuance were noticeable in the central movements, especially in the scherzo and trio, with its artistically contrasted rhythm. The string section under the leadership of Alexander Saslavsky displayed wonderful tone quality and suavity of expression, the sonority and buoyancy of this part of the orchestra being especially admirable. The brasses, while resilient and full, were always most wonderfully subdued to give a perfect balance of tone and color.

The second number, "L'Apres Midi d'un Faune," by Debussy, an exquisite, haunting, fantastic tone-poem in which the wood winds and strings seemed to fairly stumble on innumerable happy and original devices of harmony and orchestral coloring, won unstinted applause, and Mr. Damrosch responded with a stirringly dignified reading of the Berlioz "March Rakoczy."

The Damrosch Number.

Excerpts from Mr. Damrosch's incidental music to "Iphigenia in Aulis" proved a novelty on the program. This is a work of considerable descriptive power and distinctive melodious charm, the mood and atmosphere of the classical drama having been most appealingly expressed in the idiom of the modern orchestra.

"Melodrama" with its delightful trio for harp, flute and clarinet, was so enthusiastically received that Mr. Damrosch inserted another short excerpt of the same style. "Iphigenia's Farewell;" the final part, with a solo for cello was beautifully played by Jacques Renard. "Death and Transfiguration," a symphonic poem by Strauss, exalted in spirit and passionately sincere in purpose, was magnificently presented, disclosing as it did, with indescribable effect, the wistfulness and uplifting sense of resignation which dominated the close of this dramatic struggle with the unknown.

Mr. Damrosch's conception of Grainger's folk song and dances gave a pleasant contrast to the weightier substance elsewhere in the program, the Irish tune, touchingly beautiful, followed by the jolly "Shepherds' Hour," which brought a wonderful evening to a too early close.

Miss Lutie Stearns Will Take Part in Iowa Suffrage Campaign

Miss Lutie Stearns of Milwaukee, who is known to the club women who attended the state convention held in Duluth last fall as a forceful speaker, will take a prominent part in the Iowa suffrage campaign. "Miss Stearns starts her whirlwind campaign at Winterset, April 4," is the way the Woman's Journal speaks of her.

Schedules are being arranged for the two remaining months of the Iowa campaign. Mrs. Ben Hooper of Wisconsin is spending a few days in Des Moines before beginning her active campaign work. Mrs. L. Riddle, state representative of Colorado, will arrive April 17, speaking on that day at Council Bluffs, whence she will tour Northern Iowa, speaking at principal points. On April 3 Mrs. Millie M. Trumbull of Portland, Or., will start a tour of the state, addressing a meeting at Keokuk first.

Council Bluffs is the point at which Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt will begin a tour of the state on April 13. The coming of the national suffrage president is being eagerly awaited by the suffrage organizations throughout the state.

Gladys Corbitt, an enthusiastic 12-year-old suffragist of Atlanta, Ga., has proved her loyalty to the cause by taking bitter medicine. When she was ill recently she refused to take a large dose of medicine that was prescribed. An offer of $1 for taking it was of no avail, until a suffrage friend mentioned that the suffragists needed money to bring Senator Helen Ring Robinson to the city. Immediately the small suffragist changed her mind. She took the medicine, got the dollar and gave it to the fund which was used to bring Senator Robinson to Atlanta for an address on municipal suffrage.

The ribbon counter in every store is an important place these spring days, for ribbons have come back to favor, along with the old fashions. Floral designs always have their adherents, but solid colors and stripes and metal ribbons have made their way to the front and are offered in an endless variety.

Narrow Roman stripes are sold principally for neck ribbons, to be crossed in front and pinned, after the manner that has prevailed for a long time. Other ribbons sold for this purpose are the ones with stripes of two colors, and those that have blocks of a contrasting color woven in.

Picot edges are in all their glory. Sometimes the picot is of the same shade as the ribbon, sometimes it is of a contrasting color, and more rarely it is of silver or gold.

The metal ribbons with floral designs of one color or showing small bunches of posies in their natural colors, are used for hair bands and for neck ribbons. These come in narrow widths.

Rows and rows of ribbon form flounces on some of the afternoon and evening gowns, and several rows of narrow ribbon are used for the high flaring colors of blouses. Flat bows of ribbon trim some of the most stylish models, and bows and loops are close seconds to flowers on the spring hats.

If the full skirts and skimpy bodices of the middle of last century are copied for mid-summer frocks of organdie, marquisette and other filmy materials, it is safe to predict that sashes will be among the most important items of a woman's wardrobe, and that all the colors of the spectrum will be represented in long loops and long ends, short loops and short ends, and any form that fashion or individuals may devise, and that stripes, flowers, dots and all kinds of geometrical designs will be called upon to furnish variety.

For Red Cross Fund.

AL WILSON IN "AS YEARS ROLL ON"

AL H. WILSON.

Al. H. Wilson, the singing dialect comedian, and company will present Sidney R. Ellis' production of "As Years Roll On," with special music and song numbers, at the Lyceum Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Included in Mr. Wilson's portfolio of new songs this season are "Mother Mine," "As Years Roll On," "Yesterday" and "She Left Me for a Teddy Bear." The play contains a well written story of Herbert Hall Winslow and Charles Horwitz, in which the incidents in the life of John Van Zam are involved. Briefly stated, it shows how Van Zam—a native of Holland—journeys to America where, from a small beginning, he forces recognition from the business world of New York city. The play is in three acts and the action is supposed to coyer a period of twenty-five years. In the portrayal of the character of John Van Zam, the kind and benevolent tradesman whose memory for the wife of his youth and love for his daughter, his only child, is the consuming joy of his life, Mr. Wilson is said to display such a degree of histrionic ability that the character stands forth in bold relief from any of his past portrayals.

Theater Gossip.

The quaint Irish brogue, the incorrigible red hair, the changeable humors, and warm sympathies of "Peg o' My Heart" will be revealed for the last time under the Morosco management at the Lyceum theater next week, commencing with a Sunday matinee, April 2, with usual matinees Wednesday and Saturday. Large houses greeted this clever little play, when it was presented here last season, and the announcement of its farewell engagement will probably be good news to many patrons of the theater. The central character, that of the hoydenish Peg, fits the talents and artistry of Florence Martin admirably, and it was the opinion of the Duluth theater-goers, when Miss Martin played Peg last year, that she was ideal in the role. As the part is the one big thing in the play, it was essential that just the right sort of interpreter should be chosen, and judging from the welcome extended Miss Martin, on the present tour, she is more acceptable in the role than any of her predecessors. The supporting cast is said to be one of unusual cleverness, and consists of Fred L. Tiden, Edmund Dalby, Madeline L'Estrange, Lillian Kemble Cooper, York Erskine and John Pearson.

"PEG" COMING TO LYCEUM FOR THE LAST TIME.

In a telegram to The Herald this morning, Manager Frank N. Phelps of the New Grand theater, announces that he has just booked in Chicago one of the most popular vaudeville acts on the road. This is the Japanese prima donna who recently appeared at the Imperial theater, Tokio, Japan, Sumiko Son, who is assisted by dancing Geisha girls. This act will feature the first half of next week's show, together with the usual number of other vaudeville acts and photoplays.

JAPANESE PRIMA DONNA COMING TO THE GRAND.

The current show will close its engagement here today, giving way to a new bill tomorrow. The Symphonic Sextet headlines the bill, and is making a big hit with the harp, xylophone and other instruments. Miss Adelaide Bothby, a clever miss with an engaging personality and some stylish togs, assisted by Charles Everdeen at the piano, puts over several original stunts and songs. "Bucky at the Movies" in which she does some good impersonation work is one of her best features. Weston's Models, consisting of two young women and a young man, are a big hit in a posing act showing representations of great art groups. Ben Smith is a comedian and singer of no mean ability, and gets a warm welcome in his black-face offering of songs and jokes.

The photoplays have many bright features. Leading is a photodrama, "The Master Smiles," and Sis Hopkins appears in a new photoplay comedy.

Marie Doro is appearing in her first film play since her marriage to Elliott Dexter, which comes to the Lyric today and tomorrow in the Famous Players' production of Charles Frohman's adaptation of Sardou's drama "Diplomacy." In this picture play Miss Doro repeats her former success on the stage in the role of Dora.

MARIE DORO AT THE LYRIC

The story has to do with the thefts of the plans of Gibraltar. Miss Doro's husband, Elliott Dexter, plays with her as Julian, who has just been appointed to a position in the British diplomatic service, through the influence of his brother Henri, who is attached to the legation at Paris.

On and on throughout the play the network of intrigue unfolds with such reality as to hold the attention of the spectator to the very last. Miss Doro, who takes the role of leading woman in the play, formerly was co-star with William Gillette and Blanche Bates in the stage version of "Diplomacy," which appeared last year at the Empire theater, New York.

It goes without saying that every picture and every star offered in motion pictures, cannot please at the same time every individual patron of the theaters. Tastes differ. The master minds of Triangle productions, Griffith, Ince and Sennett, have the happy combination of diversified talents, so that in the month's output of their pictures, the majority are pleased. With each attraction, like Bessie Barriscale at the Rex Beautiful, where Triangle productions are shown, there is one of the Keystone comedies.

BESSIE BARRISCALE IN COURT PLAY AT REX

Bessie Barriscale in "Bullets and Brown Eyes" will be seen today and tomorrow. Miss Barriscale, called the "darling of the stage," has a charm all her own.

In this particular picture, telling a story of court intrigue in a mythical foreign country, the star as Countess Olga is very charming. The staging and costuming are exquisite, and Miss Barriscale gives full rein to her emotional talents in every scene.

A lesson to neglectful landlords is to be learned from the new drama recently screened by the Vitagraph company, "The Writing on the Wall," which will show for three days at the Zelda, commencing today.

LANDLORDS GIVEN LESSON IN FILM AT THE ZELDA

The film portrays the fire panic in a tenement house at which 300 school children are gathered at a birthday party. It shows the wild rush for escape, the crush of human bodies in the narrow stairways, the overloaded, frail fire escapes and work of rescue by a gallant fire department. The scenes are shown with a realism that makes the film a sermon of strength and a scathing argument to tenement house owners who disregard the lives and comfort of their tenants. The film is acted by an all-star cast of Vitagraphers, including Joseph Kilgour, Naomi Childers, Virginia Pearson, Bobby Connelly, Charles Wellesley and others.

The play has a happy climax in a charming love affair.

HENRY B. WALTHAL COMING TO THE ORPHEUM-STRAND

HENRY B. WALTHAL.

Henry B. Walthal, recognized as one of the foremost screen artists of the day, will appear at the Orpheum-Strand theater for four days only commencing Thursday, in the big feature picture "The Birth of a Man."

Walthal, who has been called the "wizard of the screen," will be remembered for his remarkable role of the "Little Colonel" in "The Birth of a Nation."

This love story tells of a young and idle millionaire clubman and his trials and final transfiguration. It is an exceptional story and allows the noted screen star full play for his wonderful talent.

BOY MINSTRELS READY.

Will Stage Show at Washburn School Saturday Night.

After weeks of hard work and practice the boys' minstrel show is ready for the stage Saturday night at the Washburn school. It will be given under the auspices of the Neighborhood club and promises to be one of the best amateur performances ever given in the neighborhood.

J. R. Batchelor will occupy the interlocutor's chair and the end men are John Miller as Bones and Harold Wilson as Sambo. Sam O'Gorman will be Rastus and "Towney" Hoopes will be Shine. A large chorus will be ready. The members of the chorus follow:

COUNTY ODD FELLOWS PLAN ORGANIZATION

Carlton County Three-Linkers Consider Forming County Body.

Cloquet, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cloquet lodge, No. 158, I. O. O. F., members held a rousing get-together meeting in their hall last night, addressed by Senator William A. Campbell of Minneapolis, who spoke at length on co-operation, and declared: "That the future of any lodge, church or institution of any kind depended on the members themselves." He closed by telling humorous stories, which were greatly appreciated.

The subject was again brought up of the forming of a Carlton county picnic association, comprising the lodges of Moose Lake, Barnum, Carlton and Cloquet, and the committees were instructed to prepare preliminary plans for the organization of the association.

Meeting to Decide.

A meeting will be called in the near future of the different lodge committees, possibly at Carlton, for this purpose, when all necessary arrangements will be made. The executive committee is composed of the secretaries of the different lodges: A. H. Dathe of Barnum, Carlton Wall of Carlton and F. V. Shampine of Cloquet.

Arrangements are now being made for celebration of the ninety-seventh anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship in America, in the Odd Fellows temple on Tuesday, April 25. The following committee was appointed to carry out the program: J. R. McLeod, William F. Erickson and F. V. Shampine.

DULUTHIAN WILL SPEAK AT CLOQUET

Cloquet, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Evangelist Stemple White of Duluth will lecture tomorrow night in the Swedish Baptist church on Fourteenth street, on "The Seal of God and the Mark of the Beast." Pastor White has been drawing large crowds to hear his lectures of late, and it is expected many will be present at this meeting as it is announced that this will probably be his last lecture for some time as he is building a new church in Duluth and may not be able to make the trips.

CLOQUET NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Franklin were called to Fort Ripley yesterday by the death of Mr. Franklin's brother.

Mrs. Harry Ruff left yesterday for Little Falls to visit Mr. Ruff's mother, who has been sick for some time.

Rev. F. Edward Olson went to Duluth yesterday to attend the district missionary meeting of the Swedish Lutheran church.

Mrs. Jonas Delyea went to Duluth yesterday to be present during an operation for appendicitis on her daughter, Gladys.

F. J. Reutella returned from the woods Monday where he cooked last winter.

J. McCoy, an architect from Minneapolis, yesterday surveyed the ground, preparatory to drawing plans for the new $16,000 brick Presbyterian church.

Rev. H. H. Parish left yesterday for Hinckley where he expects to meet Mrs. Parish and children and return today.

O. E. Braford, who has been running camp for the Johnson-Wentworth Lumber company at Shields the past winter, returned Monday evening.

William A. Campbell of Minneapolis addressed the local lodge of Odd Fellows at their hall last night.

Charles Grider commenced tearing down his confectionary store on the corner of Twelfth street and Carlton avenue yesterday, and will erect a building for store purposes on the same ground 30x44 with living rooms in the rear.

POLICE "CLEAN-UP" METHODS DEFENDED

Criticism of police department methods of handling vagrants brought a reply from officials of the department today, when they stated that the only way to prevent a crime epidemic in the spring and fall was to clean up the rooming house and cheap hotel district.

"It is a well-known fact that crooks of all kinds assemble along St. Croix avenue, Lake avenue south, West Michigan and West Superior streets in the spring, and again in the fall," said Capt. A. G. Fiskett.

"Many of the men are known to us as old offenders. They are waiting for the lumberjack to come down from the woods with his winter's earnings.

"If we are going to protect him, we must clean up the hotels and rooming houses that he patronizes while he is waiting here to be shipped out on the lakes, or into the Northwest."

Police said that it was a custom, twice a year, to "clean up" before the lumberjacks came to Duluth. Even with that precaution, they said, the spring and fall seasons are rife with cases of larceny, fighting and disorder of various kinds.

A drastic ordinance passed by the old council and designed to aid police in this work, has made it possible to secure convictions on vagrancy charges.

QUITS PLAYGROUND FOR "Y" SERVICE

Robert Kerr, assistant to J. R. Batchelor, recreational director, this morning tendered his resignation to become effective on Saturday, April 1.

Mr. Kerr has been appointed first assistant to Norman D. McLeod, secretary of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., he states in a communication to Director Batchelor, and will assume his new duties next week. A successor to Mr. Kerr has not yet been named, Director Batchelor said this morning.

Mr. Kerr has assisted in the city's recreational department since last summer, having had charge of the grade school football and hockey leagues and several teams on the public playgrounds.

Fire at Leadville.

Leadville, Colo., March 29.—Fire that started in a paint store early today destroyed ten buildings and for a time threatened to sweep the business district. The blaze was brought under control by the use of dynamite. Estimates of the loss varied from $50,000 to $100,000.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Dominion of Canada established, 1867.

In 1791 Canada was divided into "Upper Canada"—almost entirely British—and "Lower Canada"—largely French; the "maritime provinces," New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Cape Breton and Prince Edward Island, being separate. This unsatisfactory state, complicated by racial and class dissensions, continued till "upper" and "lower" were united in 1841, the maritime provinces remaining distinct. Complete union was proposed by a convention in 1864 under the leadership of Sir John Macdonald, and the act of union was passed by the British parliament in March, 1867, becoming effective by royal decree July 1, now celebrated as "Dominion day." Upper and Lower Canada, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick became the Dominion of Canada, British Columbia joining in 1871, Prince Edward Island in 1873, and Newfoundland still holding aloof.

READING (available in Duluth public library)—George Bryce, "Short History of the Canadian People" (comprehensive and well proportioned sketch of Canadian history from the legendary period to 1888); J. G. Bourinot, "Story of Canada" (popular sketch overlaps Canadian history from John Cabot's first voyage to 1891); Francis Parkman, France and England in North America (the definitive story of the French explorations and of the struggle between France and England for the control of the continent, written in rarely interesting style).

REAL PREPAREDNESS.

How shallow, meager and ill-thought the whole agitation for inordinate preparedness in this country is, George W. Alger well sets forth in an article in the April Atlantic on "Preparedness and Democratic Discipline"—the sanest word yet spoken on preparedness.

The average militarist—all, indeed, from Roosevelt down the line—sees in "preparedness" only enormously increased expenditures for army and navy. He sees only vast sums spent in more battleships and new armies—spent, all of it, on the same extravagant and unbusinesslike scale that makes the existing army and navy the most foolishly expensive in the world.

Industrial preparedness, human preparedness, the militarist sees not at all; it is nowhere within the scope of his narrow vision.

A few years ago many professed themselves shocked at the disclosures made by figures showing the percentage of rejections for physical reasons of men offering themselves for enlistment in England. In London, of 20,975 offered, 8,807 were rejected. In Birmingham 1,858 offered and 1,084 were rejected. In Newcastle 1,493 offered and 1,046 were rejected. In Glasgow 1,135 were rejected out of 2,905 offered. It was depressing. "England," people said, "is going down hill. With her wealth and buttressed privilege she is neglecting her humanity, and this is the result."

In 1915 applicants for enlistment in the United States marine corps were 41,168. Of these 3,833—or LESS THAN TEN PER CENT—were found physically fit for service. Out of 11,012 men who applied in New York, only 316 fit men were found—10,696 were rejected. If what we said of England was true, what of us?

Mr. Alger points out, as The Herald pointed out several weeks ago, that "industrial Germany conserves her human resources." Industrial America, though lately it was on the way to the adoption of social legislation that would have conserved HER human resources, has suffered a reaction, and seems inclined to let her human resources go to waste.

The American militarists—even Roosevelt, who four years ago was clamoring for social justice and conservation of human resources, has wholly forgotten such things now, and clamors only for navies and armies—give no thought to the real foundation of German's military strength. That foundation is the program of social justice which Bismarck established and William II continued—a program that conserves human resources.

"The current preparedness doctrines," says Mr. Alger, "however much they may differ on military or naval estimates, agree at least in this: they ignore absolutely every necessity for improving the industrial organization, the economic basis for national unity. Sweatshops, child labor, industrial anarchy held in check by martial law, the exploitation of the worker, lack of an intelligent policy in handling the immigrant, industrial accidents crippling and burdening the worker, industrial diseases unregulated and unprevented, the almost total absence of effective labor legislation on the side of inspection and regulation, the exploited tenant farmer, the stupid chaos of liquor legislation, the whole mass of haphazard, slipshod laws which seem to defy all attempts at co-ordination and economy of administration—all these and a hundred others are true problems of preparedness which are today ignored."

This social and industrial preparedness is absolutely vital. This nation could not conduct a war successfully without it; it cannot endure in peace successfully without it. Yet talk of a preparedness which means only more battleships and more soldiers fills the public forum to the exclusion of all else, while social conditions that undermine human health and strength so that out in New York less than three in a hundred applicants for enlistment are physically fit, are left untouched and even unchallenged!

The colonel's announcement that he discovered this queer new bird is made more interesting by the fact that the people of the islands have known it by name ever since their ancestors introduced it to them.

GOOD MUSIC.

Congratulations are in order, most distinctly in order, on the music heard at the new armory last night. First, to the Matinee Musicale, which brought to Duluth this magnificent orchestra and got out the crowd. Next, to Mr. Damrosch for the consummate skill by which he has welded many individual musicians into a perfect whole that responds as one mind and one man to the leader's baton. Third, to Duluth, for the opportunity it had and for the manner in which it arose to that opportunity.

Such an evening as that means much to music in Duluth. It sets a new and higher standard, and standards cannot be too high. It goes far to prove what it seems needs to be proved, that good music is for everybody and that music, like its sister arts, is democratic and is most worth while when it most enriches the common life.

Having heard this noble demonstration of what an orchestra can be, Duluth should never rest content until it has such an orchestra, even if it takes a generation to build it. There will be interest and pleasure and wider living while it is being built.

Maybe Roosevelt means that while he was away "a little bird" told him something.

THE NOT DISINTERESTED.

The Literary Digest's compilation of newspaper comment on the punitive expedition into Mexico shows opinion almost universally sane and well-balanced. The great majority welcomes the "invasion" as forestalling, not leading to, intervention. Intervention is plainly not wanted, and if this digest of newspaper thought is an accurate reflection, the whole country wants the army to catch Villa and come back, leaving the Mexicans again to their job of achieving self-government as they can.

There are exceptions. The Hearst newspapers advocate not only intervention but conquest and seizure. The Chicago Tribune holds that "intervention is inevitable," and says we'd better be about it at once. These two are typical of what little dissent there is to the majority opinion.

Hearst owns property in Mexico. The Chicago Tribune is so obsessed by a dilettante militarism that it seeks eagerly for any kind of excuse for any kind of war—wishful to see blood spilled that its theories may be justified.

Roosevelt says he discovered a new bird while he was gone. Here's hoping, if he had any conversation with it, that it was a wise old owl.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST PRESS AGENT.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, back from the West Indies, reports the discovery of a queer comedy bird which the paragraphers and cartoonists grasp at eagerly and make the most of it.

What the country discovered long ago is that the Colonel is a bird of a press agent for himself, the greatest in the world. The trip in which he found nothing to serve the needs of paragraphers, cartoonists and reporters—that trip the Colonel has not yet taken.

Canada's ordering of Irish stews in Eau Claire must make Wisconsin feel that after all it's not such a long, long way to Tipperary.

ANY OBJECTION? HEARING NONE, MOTION IS CARRIED.

Majority Leader Kitchin has called a caucus of Democratic representatives to see what can be done to speed up the work of congress.

The object is to get the necessary work done so the session won't drag into late summer or early fall.

One fails to discover any serious objection to that movement. And one way would be for congressmen to turn their eyes from the home districts and their "fences," buckle down to work and cut out the surplus conversation intended for political consumption. That, too, would be the best politics imaginable.

Europe is learning that the dogs of war are great tax-eaters.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Brother Frank A. Day wants somebody to tell him the difference between the Republican and Democratic parties.

He has been a lively member of both, and ought not to have to ask that question. However, we shall try to help him out by putting it in concrete terms, easy to understand.

The difference is the difference between the genesis of a party that owns Hamilton for its original type—Hamilton who wanted a king—and the genesis of a party that owns Jefferson for its original type.

Another difference is that the Democratic party this year is going to nominate its living typical leader, while the Republican party doesn't dare to.

The stock defenses of Roosevelt's change of language anent the failure of Washington to protest against the Belgian outrage, is that "Wilson changed his mind." They might add that T. R. adopted that policy first when he made his wild scramble for that third cup of coffee.

Why It Should Be Roosevelt

Editorial in the New York World (Ind. Dem.)

The Herald makes itself responsible for the charge that administration Democrats are promoting the candidacy of Mr. Roosevelt for the Republican nomination for president "on the ground that he would be an easier man to beat than Justice Hughes."

The accusation is too ridiculous to merit discussion. Wilson Democrats will have about as much influence in the Republican national convention as they have in the national German-American alliance.

Mr. Roosevelt's defeat at the hands of President Wilson might be an easy matter. It might be a difficult matter. It might be impossible. We do not know, and we are sure that nobody else knows. The argument in favor of Mr. Roosevelt's nomination by the Republicans is much broader than any question of party success. He alone of the Republican aspirants for the nomination represents a definite and fundamental issue of government.

Mr. Hughes is a Republican Woodrow Wilson, more conservative than Mr. Wilson and lacking Mr. Wilson's vast experience in the presidency during one of the critical periods in the world's history. There could be no real issue with Mr. Hughes as the Republican candidate. The campaign would represent only an organized drive by the Republicans to recapture certain Federal patronage now in the hands of Democrats. So far as we know what Mr. Hughes thinks and feels, we have no reason to believe that he and the president are very far apart in respect to any of the grave questions that confront the country as a result of war. For campaign purposes Mr. Hughes might pretend to oppose the Wilson policies, but a Hughes administration would differ from a Wilson administration chiefly in name.

What is true of Mr. Hughes is true in a measure of Mr. Root. Whatever Mr. Root may say in his speeches, we know that Mr. Root as an administrator of government would follow the main lines of President Wilson's foreign policies. As a responsible president he would be the first to repudiate all the cheap demagogy and jingoism of his state convention speech.

It is different with Mr. Roosevelt. He is for war with Germany, for militarism in the United States and for a general policy of imperialism. He openly advocates the Prussian theory that the individual is created for the benefit of the state, not the democratic theory that the state is created for the benefit of the individual. Mr. Roosevelt is incapable of profound beliefs, but insofar as he believes in anything except himself, he believes in kaiserism and would remold the republic into that form. He would seek to do in a military and industrial way for the American people what Wilhelm II has done for the German people, and he would regard war merely as incidental to the realization of his plan of national force and national aggrandizement.

With Mr. Roosevelt as the Republican candidate and Mr. Wilson as the Democratic candidate, we should have a decisive conflict of contending principles. We should have a referendum on the question of whether the American people would hold fast to their ancient traditions or whether they would rebuild their institutions, their industries and their society on a foundation of German centralization and German efficiency. The two great principles that are now struggling for supremacy on the battlefields of Europe would grapple in the presidential campaign. The campaign would mean something and the result would mean something. The destiny of the republic would again be decided for the next fifty years.

The fact that Mr. Roosevelt in the event of his election would plunge this country into war with Germany cannot be held against him as evidence of inconsistency in his desire to Prussianize the United States. On the contrary, if we are to become an exponent of the German theory of government, it is highly desirable that Germany first be destroyed. Then only Great Britain would be left to deal with, and that could come later. Mr. Roosevelt's desire for war is as logical as his desire for centralization and for bureaucratic government. They are all parts of a comprehensive whole which the kaiser has failed to inflict upon civilization, but which Mr. Roosevelt thinks the United States might impose if it were alive to its imperialistic opportunities.

Mr. Roosevelt is so inevitably the Republican candidate for president, if there is to be sincere and honest opposition to President Wilson, that Republican opposition to his nomination can be interpreted only as proof of deceit and duplicity.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlus, the Sunshine Man.

"The Lord stood by him and said, Be of good cheer, Paul; for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome."—Acts xxiii, 11.

Are you a witness for the Lord, and are you just now in danger? Then remember that you are immortal till your work is done. If the Lord has more witness for you to bear, you will live to bear it. Who is he that can break the vessel which the Lord intends again to use?

If there is no more work for you to do for your master, it cannot distress you that he is about to take you home, and put you where you will be beyond the reach of adversaries. Your witness-bearing for Jesus is your chief concern, and you cannot be stopped in it till it is finished; therefore be at peace. Cruel slander, wicked misrepresentation, desertion of friends, betrayal by the most trusted one, and whatever else may come, cannot hinder the Lord's purpose concerning you. The Lord stands by you in the night of your sorrow, and he says, "Thou must yet bear witness for me.' Be calm, be filled with joy in the Lord.

If you do not need this promise just now, you may very soon. Treasure it up. Remember it also to pray for missionaries, and all persecuted ones, that the Lord would preserve them even to the completion of their life work.—C. H. Spurgeon.

Rippling Rhymes

Paying Bills.

There's nothing more pleasant than paying your bills, than paying your bills at the time when they're due; it sends through your heart most enjoyable thrills, to know that there's nothing charged up against you. You're making the wheels of your village go round, you're giving the workers the best kind of aid, when you dig from your wallet the shilling and pound, and pay up your bills in the palace of trade. You're filling the soul of the merchant with glee, you're bidding the banker to weep never more, you're hanging new wreaths on your family tree, when you pay up your bills at the dofunny store. That man is a hindrance and hurt to his town, a brake on the wheels of his own neighborhood, who views the collector with withering frown, who doesn't pay up when the paying is good.

A Business Man For President

Editorial in the New York Evening Post.

T. C. du Pont of Delaware has "consented to allow his name to be used in the contest for the Republican nomination." This is more than Judge Gary of the United States Steel corporation has done, though a "boom" for him was suddenly begun—and as suddenly ended—by the Times. Both the men mentioned, and perhaps others like them—Senator Weeks, for one example—are put forward as the "business men's candidate." We doubt if any of these gentlemen seriously expects that a nomination will come his way. Yet their friends are active in their behalf; and the general idea of a business man as president seems to be winning a certain amount of favor. Without taking too much to heart the suggestion of the names of Mr. du Pont and Judge Gary, and certainly without intending any unkindness to either of them, it is worth while asking what is the sentiment behind the proposal that a man of their type should be elected president.

It surely indicates a change in public opinion—or a confident belief that public opinion has changed. Four years ago, or eight, or twelve, nobody could have ventured to argue that a business man would have had a chance of either nomination or election. Earlier that thought might have been entertained. It was by Chauncey Depew in 1888, until he, too, joined in laughing at his business man's candidacy. In the days when Mark Hanna flourished, there was for a time some talk about nominating him, but it would have come to nothing even if it had not been ended by his death. Just why should an idea of that kind be revived just now? The explanation given is partly that the popular hostility to big business and to corporations, in recent years, has now markedly abated. The era of attack or persecution seems to be passed. The country has been so anxious for prosperity that it has left off its jealousies of the men in whom that properity is embodied. Business men are no longer anathema in politics. So why not take one for the presidency? By an agile leap of reasoning like this is it sought to draw, from the fact that men of large affairs are not today targets for abuse, the conclusion that the people are ready to put crowns on their heads.

Passing such merely personal aspects of the question, the taking argument is advanced that the large business of the government logically demands a capable business man to administer it. We are given the enormous figures of government expenditure. The vast army of national employes is pointed to—along with the mass of detail to be mastered in the huge complex of administration. What more natural, it is asked, than to take a man who has shown his caliber at the head of some big corporation and place him in charge of this corporation which we call the nation? To this query no dogmatic answer can be given, either way. It cannot be denied that a good knowledge of business is a great advantage to a man in high office. Gladstone had an excellent head for business. When he once proposed a tax on malt, the brewers discovered that he knew more about their industry than they did themselves. In the same way, as counsel for two investigations in New York, Mr. Hughes displayed a remarkable knowledge of the processes of gas manufacture, and of the life insurance business. Such aptitude for affairs and such stores of practical information are of the highest value to a statesman; but from this it does not follow that every successful business man could be a powerful statesman, if given a chance.

There is a difference between government business and the business of government. And in that difference lies the reason why the United States has never had a business man for president, and is not likely to for some time to come. It is not enough that a president should understand the nature and necessities of manufacture and trade; not enough that he should be skilled in public finance; not enough that he should have knack and energy in executive work. Over and above all this, he has to serve in a representative capacity. He has to be able to appeal to the imagination of the people. He has to know men, and to be able to deal with them, politically. The arts of public persuasion ought to be his; the power to untangle political snarls; the gift of selecting the strategic moment in which to ask for legislation and to strike for reforms; skill as a party leader. Now, it needs no argument that such qualities are not in the possession of the typical man of big business. His experience has not given them to him. If he were thrust into the presidency, he would find himself moving in a world only half realized. He would discover that the office requires talents and a training not to be developed or acquired in the directors' room of a large corporation.

Do They Want War?

Omaha World-Herald: The standpat papers and munition makers of the East continually denounce and cartoon President Wilson for writing notes to foreign nations, but when they got acutely vicious they put the utmost venom into the charge that he did not write one more note and protest against the violation of the neutrality of Belgium. They never get weary denouncing him because he did not write a note, which none of them ever thought of writing until the occasion for it had passed, if there ever was any such an occasion.

No one ever expects fairness in politics, but this denunciation of the president because he has so frequently protested against the violation of international law goes beyond the usual limits. Would they have had the president keep silent? If not what do they propose? There is only one other course that could have been pursued and that was to declare war. If that is what they want, they are all too cowardly to say so. The fact is that the president has followed a course that not only receives the commendation of a vast majority of the people, but one of justice, humanity and true statesmanship.

At the present time the president is giving his attention to domestic matters. He is watching the bills in congress that will enable the people of this country to prepare for any emergency by preserving the public domain and natural resources for the whole people, so that we may produce a race of men able to fight its battles and push its industries in every direction. His policies are so well founded that any direct attack upon them is impossible and the resort is to indirect attacks. If these detractors want war let them have the courage to say so, but they will not do that, for they very well know that the people would make short work in getting rid of them.

The Politician's View.

Washington Star: "Did you ever sanction vote buying?"

"Never," replied Senator Sorghum, with great emphasis. "I always made my workers understand that if I ever heard of their buying votes it would show that they were crude performers who couldn't keep a secret, and I wouldn't have anything more to do with them."

Making Himself at Home.

Boston Globe: The Diner—Say! Of all the vile, nauseous messes ever set before a man to eat—

The Waiter—Sh! You seem to think we're your wife.

His Duties Defined.

Paterson Press-Guardian: Boss—I wanted to speak to you, Mr. Lovum, about your attention to Miss Sweetthynge during office hours. I hired you as billing clerk only—no cooing mentioned. That will be all for the present.

Duluth and The Herald

Bouquets and Brickbats From the Press.

"Be Mejum."

The Mankato Free Press gently criticizes The Herald by saying this paper "is rather mild in its opinion of war, saying it is a nuisance. We had always been led to believe that it was worse than hades—and then some." The Free Press should remember the advice given by our old, old friend, Josiah Allen's Wife.

Come and See It.

It is due to the fact that Duluth still is "wet" that this city secured the national regatta for 1916, according to the Deerwood Times. Say rather it was because Duluth has already made some splash in the rowing world.

Sulphurous Thought!

Quoting The Herald's remark that "at any rate Paris, Tex., probably wasn't set afire by bombs from a Zeppelin," the Fergus Falls Journal adds: "No, but it may have been set afire by matches from a Mexican." Now, isn't that a striking idea?

We Are Corrected.

It isn't always that an amendment can be accepted so willingly and enthusiastically as is the case with the Cass Lake Times' suggestion regarding The Herald's headline "Sell your hammer and buy a horn." The Times says: "Buy your horn, but don't sell your hammer—for some other fellow to use. Bury it, deep, and then plant forget-me-nots."

And Don't Forget It.

Again quoting The Herald, the Cass Lake Times says: "Put yourself in Europe's place, and imagine how much attention you would pay to the demands of the head of a nation who seemed to lack support in his own country." The Times replies: "About as much attention as we would pay to a congress which so belittles itself and its country." But perhaps in a case like that the said congress would be merely demonstrating its need of a little attention from the folks back home.

You Never Can Tell.

"It will now certainly be 'Cool in Duluth,'" says the Tower News. "It is the last place in the world one would think of in connection with artificial ice, yet a plant has been started there, the first in Northern Minnesota. Wonder if they also expect to can their sundogs?" Well, you never can tell. Wonderful things are done in Duluth right along.

"The Herald Is Right."

It never puts one down in the mouth to come across this sort of thing, which in the present instance comes from the East Grand Forks Record: "The Heron Lake News attacks The Duluth Herald for making what they claim is a vicious attack on Senator Clapp and all the congressmen from Minnesota because they favored warning the people of America to keep off of armed boats. They say, 'Can The Herald give one sensible reason why they should not be warned?'

"The Duluth Herald did give a good sensible reason why they should not be warned by the senate and congress of the United States, and they gave it forthwith; did not wait for any public opinion on the matter. They took the stand taken by one lone senator for Minnesota, the Hon. Knute Nelson, Senator Clapp and all the congressmen representing Minnesota in this matter to the contrary notwithstanding, and The Duluth Herald is right, because they believe in upholding international law as it now is written, and if any change is to be made in that law at any time it should be for more liberties for neutral nations in time of war both on land and on sea, and not less. The American people, as one of the great neutral powers at this time, are certainly entitled to all the rights and privileges guaranteed by the laws of nations in time of war."

Michigan Musings

Brief Paragraphs From the Wolverine State Press.

Pugnacious Ladies.

Marquette Chronicle: "Wonder what a daughter of a Mexican revolution looks like?"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"Probably like 'thirty cents Mex.'—and with the peso at its present valuation, which is somewhere in the vicinity of three cents 'American.'"—New York Herald.

Every Mexican-born female must be the daughter of some revolution or other.

Likewise Other Congressmen's Constituents.

Lansing State Journal: The Germans say they are puzzled by the actions of our congress. So, frequently, are congressmen's constituents.

No Ground for Doubt.

Saginaw News: Representative Bailey, says Bryan, did not try to use his influence on Democratic congressmen on the vote to sustain the president. The result shows it.

You Can't Fool All the People All the Time.

Jackson Patriot: Speaking of changed conditions it was not so many years ago that the entire Democratic party in Michigan would have to attend the state convention of the party to provide the 477 delegates now representing Michigan Democracy at such an affair.

And How Much Per Scent Per Auto?

Bay City Times: The Standard Oil Company of Indiana cleared only 53.32 per cent on its stock the past year. Oh, you automobile!

Congress and Preparedness.

Marquette Mining Journal: The point of the unreadiness of the army would be entirely lost, it is clear, were it attributed solely to the Democrats. It is a condition that would have as clearly developed under Taft as under Wilson. For it both the Republicans and the Democrats are to be thanked. It is less a monument to Democratic inefficiency than disconcerting evidence of the failure of congress to function properly in directing the affairs of the nation. Too much energy in congress goes to providing for local interests and the selfish interests of the men who compose the membership. Nor will there be material improvement until the people of the states and the congressional districts begin to demand that their representatives go to Washington with the duty of giving national service first in mind.

The Dawn of Peace.

And beat your brands to dust!
Your hands must learn a surer grasp,
Your hearts a better trust.

O, bend aback the lance's point,
And break the helmet bar;
A noise is in the morning wind,
But not the note of war.

Upon the grassy mountain paths
The glittering hosts increase—
They come! they come! How fair their feet.
They come who publish peace.

And victory, fair victory,
Our enemies are ours!
For all the clouds are clasped in light,
And all the earth with flowers.

Aye, still depressed and dim with dew;
But wait a little while,
And with the radiant deathless rose
The wilderness shall smile.

And every tender, living thing
Shall feed by streams of rest;
Nor lambs shall from the flock be lost
Nor nestlings from the nest.

—John Ruskin.

Talks on Thrift

Issued by the American Bankers' Association.

Throwing Money at Something You Can't Hit.

Thrift is that feeling which comes over you when you know you've been stung. Did you ever notice the man at a summer resort who steps boldly up to the counter, lays down a nickel, picks up three balls and throws them wildly at a negro's head, a row of grinning dolls, or some other contraption devised to lure him away from his nickel, hit nothing and walk away with a dejected look?

Did you ever go on an outing, or on a night's pleasure bent, and be a "good fellow," a "good spender," and go home with that what-did-I-get-out-of-it feeling?

Did you ever attend an auction, lose your head and buy something you didn't need and couldn't use, at a price twice as much as it was worth and have the same sensation?

That was your conscience entering a protest against waste—your thrifty self struggling against your thriftless self, trying to show you that you waste money only to regret it, and, even though you forget it, you won't alter the situation.

Every summer resort is built upon the proposition that most everybody wastes a certain amount of money, gets foolish at times, takes a throw or two at something they know they can't hit, just to see how it feels. Coney Island and the "movie" do not despise the nickels—all they want is enough of them. Did you ever stop to consider that nothing at amusement resorts costs over 10 cents except food? Summer resorts know that human nature is frivolous in summer time, bound to spend a part of the week's wage in being foolish, generating thrills, that even though innocent are costly, and only thrills after all. And if the crop of foolish folk were not a bumper one every year, and if the stings of conscience were heeded, there would be many an empty booth at the beaches this year.

You can spend money foolishly so long that your conscience will not trouble you, just as you can cultivate a bad habit so long that you cease to think it wrong. Even the best of us, with the most careful management, are bound to waste a certain amount of money. Somehow it gets away from us, try as we will to prevent it. But the man who deliberately throws his money at something he can't hit, whether it be a negro's head or a business proposition, must not complain if the ball goes wide of the mark.

If you can't resist this tendency to throw things, either stay away from such places or don't carry much money with you.

You can have a day at the beach for a dollar. Fifty cents for your swim, 10 cents for car fare and 40 cents for lunch. And that will put red blood in your veins and key up your appetite wholesomely. Three balls for a nickel never does that.

The crowd would rather look on while you throw your money away than to throw their own: but what compensation have you? When your money is gone they will buy no shoes for your babies, nor pay your rent when you're sick, nor subscribe to your pension when you're down and out. Many a catastrophe in life is caused by throwing money at something you can't hit, whether in business, in society, or at the beach; but listen to that still, small voice—that sting of conscience, and do what it tells you, for it stings to a profitable purpose. It is waving a red flag of danger to keep you safe. Heed it.

Still Small Voices.

John Burroughs in the Atlantic Monthly: What a noise politics makes in the world, our politics especially; but some silent thinker in his study, or some inventor in his laboratory, is starting currents that will make or unmake politics for generations to come. How noiseless is the light, yet what power dwells in the sunbeams—mechanical power at one end of the spectrum, in the red and infra-red rays, and chemical power at the other or violet and ultra-violet end! It is the mechanical forces—the winds, the rains, the movements of ponderable bodies—that fill the world with noise; the chemical changes that disintegrate the rocks and set the currents of life going are silent. The great loom in which are woven all the living textures that clothe the world with verdure and people it with animated forms makes no sound. Think of the still small voice of radio-activity—so still and small that only molecular science is aware of it, yet physicists believe it to be the mainspring of the universe.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1896.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences is barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writter though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's perusal must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, if their return is desired. Otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Referring to the connecting of the steel plant bridge at New Duluth, many articles have appeared in our newspapers referring to the fact that "Duluth wins" or "Superior wins" in its contention, etc., etc.

Now that it is definitely settled that the bridge is going to be soon completed so that vehicles and foot passengers can use it and without paying toll to Jim Hill (as now) over the present Interstate bridge, it is well that we forget this so-called controversy.

The fact is that both Duluth and Superior have wanted this bridge put in shape so that automobiles, other vehicles and foot passengers could use it, thus affording a free means of communication between the two cities and another artery for the truck farmers to reach our city.

An automobile with occupants now pays nearly $1 toll for the round trip to Superior, but with the new free bridge at New Duluth, our concrete roads to the steel plant and the use of the Billings drive on the Superior side, a very comprehensive idea of both sides of the bay may be obtained, especially by strangers.

Why not forget a lot of this petty rivalry and both Duluth and Superior pull together—where possible—for the Head of the Lakes?

In this bridge controversy the main point at issue as between the two cities was whether the Steel corporation should expend more money on the bridge which they built, and which was a matter for the government to decide (as it has just done) it being an interstate matter. Yours for the Head of the Lakes. A. G. MESSER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The correspondents in "The Open Court" in yesterday's Herald plainly showed that somebody had been roughly slapped on the wrist—nothing seemed right with them or the world. Kindly permit me to pay my respects to "Movie Fan," who Monday night seemed so unmercifully bored with "three minutes" of advertising in a couple of the motion picture houses of Duluth.

Unconsciously "Movie Fan" admits that he dislikes to have his enjoyment of the splendid attractions on the screen interrupted by a short advertising program. He thus pays a compliment, unconsciously, to the picture he goes to see. One could easily see that this was a slip on the part of "Movie Fan," who, from the tenor of his disagreeable and grouchy letter, would not pay a compliment to anything or anybody.

We have these unhappy sort of persons always with us—fortunately, in Duluth, they are few in number. We could only recommend to "Movie Fan" some of the various quack remedies offered in his favorite newspapers and magazines, which readers are forced to see, without choice of their own, from day to day.

It would not be surprising, from certain earmarks of "Movie Fan's" own phraseology, that he has more to do with newspapers and advertising than merely read them, and then why is it, pray, that he would foist upon his own public all the patent medicine advertisements and others that the daily papers carry, without first consulting his readers?

Magazines and newspapers carry these advertisements for the same reason that two of our best motion picture houses carry the attractive, legitimate advertisements of reliable Duluth concerns—because they help pay expenses of the theaters, as newspaper ads help defray the salaries of employes.

Quite amusing, too, is the fact that the boresome ads impressed themselves on "Movie Fan's" mind, for he remembers almost each one and proceeds to quote them, with distorted titles, but sufficiently true to the names of each advertiser and his product to make it conclusive that he has actually read the h-o-r-r-i-b-l-e things.

It pays to advertise.

Trusting that "Movie Fan" will soon recover and that all may be well with him and his bad liver. We beg to say in closing that the three-minute advertising programs he speaks of are all representing legitimate Duluth concerns; the firms are patronized by Duluth's best people, as are our two theaters, if any one should ask you.

STUDENT PROTESTS DROPPING MR. HOLMES

Just a few words about the dropping of one of our English teachers from the Central high school, as viewed by one of the students.

I am in my fourth year at Central, and have had Mr. Holmes for a teacher all last year. He is the best, most likable teacher that I have ever known, and as for teaching English, he is certainly a wonder at it.

He employs the honor system in his teaching. That is, he places the students on their honor not to cheat, and believe me, in all the time I've spent under him I've never seen one person cheat, although Mr. Denfeld has said that he has seen persons cribbing.

Mr. Holmes takes a personal interest in each student. When one is under him, he is glad of this fact, and he will really work for his teacher and take an interest in his work. This he will not do for these "slave-driver" teachers. The student only works for them because he is obliged to do so.

Mr. Young graded Mr. Holmes 35 out of a possible 50 points on ability. Mr. Holmes has several degrees—more, in fact, than are required for first rate grading—and is surely prepared to teach and teach well. Mr. Young also graded Mr. Holmes 10 out of 25 points on personality. Any one who knows Mr. Holmes knows that is either an accidental error or one made because Mr. Holmes was disliked, and not wanted on that account.

Mr. Holmes has the most attractive personality of any teacher in high school, so what besides feelings of jealousy could have caused the above grading?

Mr. Denfeld has made the statement that the actions of the board were none of the public's (that is, the taxpayers') business. If it is not, I'd like to know whose business it is. The taxpayers pay Mr. Denfeld and Mr. Young to look out for their interests. If they are not doing this, whose business is it if not that of the taxpayers?

Taxpayers of Duluth, do you want your children to go to a good, sensible teacher for instruction, or to a mere puppet who moves just which way the wind blows? Respectfully submitted,

ONE OF THE STUDENTS.

FINDS INTERESTING DATA IN "THE SWEDE'S LAMENT"

To the Editor of The Herald:

In the copy of "A Swede's Lament," published March 24 among the "Poems asked for," we find evidence of either a remarkable imagination, a man born twice, a hybrid birthplace or the memory of a bygone spirit who was born in the period when the three Scandinavian countries were united, with the capital at Stockholm, Sweden. He speaks of "being born in Sweden," of "Copenhagen where he was bred and born" and of spending many happy hours at "Christiania's shores." Evidently he refers to some hours spent at the side of the gutters in the city of Christiania, this belief being strengthened by the fact that he later in life committed a murder and was hung. The man who wrote the poem and worked it off on the character of a Swede better try it again, when he might use the name of some city in Sweden for his birthplace, sail on some other ship than "Solidence," have a different captain than "McKenzie," another comrade than "Felix," another girl on "Christiana's shore" than "Alice Valley." Very truly yours, C. C. PETERSON.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 27.

The editor declines to get excited, as he did that while reading copy on the "poem" referred to. He finally cooled off and got reckless enough to say that if anybody wanted that kind of a "poem," he could have it. He will ask, however, that he be exempted from responsibility for either the quality or accuracy of the poems published in response to requests. He tries to doctor them up, sometimes but sometimes finds the task hopeless, as in this case. Mr. Peterson can rest assured that his criticisms have the hearty sympathy of the editor.

PRAISES MR. HOLMES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

There seems to be a great deal of interest throughout the city and adjoining towns concerning the "Holmes affair" at the Duluth Central high school. This is especially the case where parents have children attending the above named school.

I have had both Mr. Holmes and Mr. Rasey for English. The former talks to you like a brother, tells you things that you may benefit from, not only at the present time, but also in years to come. I'll admit that he does not have you learn the whole text book from cover to cover, nor does he make you learn by heart something that happened before there ever was a Ford automobile.

Mr. Rasey's methods are distinctly different from those of Mr. Holmes, both in the classroom and outside of it.

Supt. Denfeld says that Mr. Holmes does not know how to teach, and that he (Roy J. Holmes) is behind the petition himself. Mr. Holmes is not behind the petition.

When the school board meets again it ought to investigate other things besides the case of Mr. Holmes. I would like to see some action from some of the professional and business men of this city. Thanking you for this space in your worthy paper, I remain, yours truly, "JUSTICE."

WOULD HAVE POLICE RAID ALL BURLESQUE HOUSES

To the Editor of The Herald:

In last night's issue there was one letter upholding burlesque, and another that certainly wasn't against it. Now I'm going to tell you what I think of their opinions, and what mine is.

One letter argues that no man is forced to go to burlesque. No, naturally not—but he certainly is invited and lured. No self respecting men will deliberately hunt up filthy, rotten shows that corrupt their morals, and if they didn't have the chance to go, their minds would be that much purer and cleaner. If murder and robbery and a great many other evils were left to men's judgment, this would be a fine country, Mr. Towne. The same thing applies to these shows. The law has to take care of the morals of the people when they cannot do it themselves.

Now this same letter speaks of the dances given by local talent at the Little theater. Where is the connection? The dancing at these home talent affairs has, in all cases, been given to to them, plucked them on examination, and sneaked them through when their papers were a holy fright, because we know they were competent with their hands even if they couldn't remember a lot of impracticable facts of anatomy, pathology and other medical subjects. And we think nurses in this country are overtrained with theoretical matter; that instead of three years, two years or even one year should be the standard course of training. Nursing, when you come right down to every day practice, is not a profession at all, but a vocation, a calling. A nurse is a doctor's helper, his skilled assistant. She is dependent upon his orders. She is not taught to do things on her own initiative—hence nursing is not a profession. One year of practical training in a good hospital, with a course arranged to eliminate a lot of impracticable theory that is now crammed into nurses' heads, should be quite sufficient to make first-class nurses out of intelligent young women.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Technic of Home Nursing

WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

When the doctor, in an emergency, wishes to give the patient a dose of medicine and asks for some water, this is what he wants: One clean, empty glass; one glass full of water; one teaspoon. If he apparently intends to administer the dose himself, hand him a glass not over half full of water. If you've ever tried to drink from a glass full of water without sitting upright in bed you will know why the glass should be only half full.

In the absence of specific directions it is generally better to administer a dose of liquid medicine in, say, one-fourth of a glassful of water. By diluting the dose it is rendered less irritating to the stomach, and if it is bitter medicine the taste is less noticeable. This little point often makes all the difference in the world.

The proper way to administer a dose of medicine to a patient in bed is to hold the glass containing the dose in your right hand while you place the left hand under the pillow—not under the head—and raise the head and shoulders slightly from the bed while the patient drinks. And don't try to hurry the process—the medicine will do just as much good if taken leisurely.

Nothing is so essential as a good nurse in the sickroom. Her services are cheap at any price, as every experienced invalid knows. She makes all the difference between peevish unrest and peaceful ease. By her skill and faithfulness sickness is made endurable. And that is her calling.

We know nurses—we keep a graduate nurse in the family all the time. We have worked with them, lectured

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Deaf-Mute Parents and Normal Children.

How do you account for some deaf-mute parents bearing children with normal hearing and speech?

Answer—The parents' deaf-mutism may have been acquired from infantile illness. Anyhow, there is a normal hereditary strain behind the parents.

Nitroglycerin a Dangerous Drug.

Is nitroglycerin good for palpitation?

Answer—No, it is not.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system.

They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

PRAISES THE SYSTEM OF GRADING TEACHERS

To the Editor of The Herald:

The controversy concerning the failure of the school authorities to reengage one of the high school teachers has a very deep significance. Whatever may be the underlying cause, the people certainly ought to know. One thing is certain: The school system is in sad need of regeneration, for it is entirely undemocratic and is virtually a military organization. The teachers are mere puppets in the hands of the higher officers. As soon as they attempt to use some originality, to exercise some individual judgment, they are considered insubordinate and incapable by the fogies at the head of the school. The poorer teachers, those who consider the text-book a Bible and do nothing but mark recitations and test papers, are rated as excellent teachers. The ability to follow the beaten path (though it may have been started like Broadway, by a wobbling cow) counts about 75 per cent in a teacher's examination. Originality and initiative cause certain failure. No wonder we have so very few good teachers; no wonder so few persons with any initiative take up the teaching profession.

SUGGESTS BOILING MR. HOLMES IN OIL

To the Editor of The Herald:

An uneasy suspicion begins to agitate itself in my mind about the case of the popular and apparently efficient high school teacher who is being dropped. Can it be that he has been guilty of being progressive—that this is the inscrutable reason for his being dropped? If it is, then the punishment seems absurdly inadequate. Can't we have one institution free from the insidious encroachments of progress? If my suspicion has hit upon the true reason, surely boiling in oil would be none too severe a penalty. Mere discharge, which only dogs the man through life with a handicap against future employment, is entirely too mild. SKEPTICUS.

MARRIAGE OF COUSINS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In your "questions and answers" of March 24 you answer Mr. Olson to the effect that marriage of cousins is not prohibited in Minnesota. That formerly was the law, but in the statutes of 1911, section 222, you will find an amendment to the former statutes which forbids the marriages of relatives nearer than second cousins; so the marriage of first cousins is thereby prohibited. IS THIS ARMAGEDDON?

To the Editor of The Herald:

The newspapers have been talking so much about Armageddon, or the great day of God, some people seems to think that this war is the battle of Armageddon, when the supreme, invisible power should best or defeat the present governments. We can notice that both armies and navies are powerless. They are something like sitting in a vise from which they cannot extricate themselves.

But the real question is now, how shall we find out whether this is the Armageddon or not? The answer will be: In November, 1914, there should have appeared a man (who had no power whatsoever except his pen, but he should use that pen to write and dictate to the nations, and tell them what to do to get the war to stop. They have perhaps not paid any attention to him. But they may yet have to send ambassadors to this lone writer before they get out of the vise they are in. When they do that, then we know that this is the battle of Armageddon.

Then the question would be, what should the ambassadors go to him for? The answer would be, that he should read to them a written statement about the future government on the earth.

The administration in Washington might know something about such a man, because they do not seem to care anything about peace conferences. The greatest power we have—the Roman pontiff—has done his best. So have the Ford party, with a hundred other peace parties; but they have all been powerless.

What I am writing here would seem impossible; but when the times comes, then it is not impossible any longer, because we can not deny the truth when we see it in front of our own eyes.

Who the writer is we do not know, but he may possibly be the one that is spoken about in Genesis xlix 10.

WHAT IS "BURLESQUE?"

To the Editor of The Herald:

Some of your contributors to the Open Court have some very peculiar notions regarding modesty. They define the word "burlesque" as if it were a "patent medicine." Women in tights are preferred to classical dancers with bare limbs, and moving pictures showing nude bodies are "burlesque."

I wish to call your attention to the definition of the word "burlesque" in our standard English dictionaries. Kindly compare the definition with shows classified as such, and also compare with the statements of your Open Court assailants.

Apparently there are many of our population that need to be educated in regard to the relation of nudity to morality. We cannot deny that narrow minds and "foggy brains" will always exist, but I don't think that it will be necessary to govern the majority of the people accordingly.

We need more clean minds, clean bodies, and clean surroundings. And less of the attempts to hide our sins behind "silk, satin or rags." Allow me to remain, sincerely yours,

OLE A. HANSEN.

MANY FEATURES ON CONFERENCE PROGRAM

Choir of 125 Voices Will Give Special Song Service.

The Swedish Lutheran conference of the Duluth district is in session at the First Swedish Lutheran church, Sixth avenue east and Third street. The united chor, consisting of 125 voices, tonight will give a special program. Prof. A. F. Lundholm will lead the service.

This afternoon Rev. P. O. Hanson of International Falls gave an address, and C. A. Eckstrom of Bethany church, led the discussion.

Tonight Rev. Erik Floren of Bovey will speak on "Home Missions." The public is invited to attend the afternoon and evening meetings of the conference.

Rev. Carl O. Swan of this city is president of the conference, which comprises about thirty-four churches in this district, represented by thirteen ministers and several laymen. The regular business session of the conference was held this morning at 9 o'clock. The session was devoted mostly to mission work plans for the district. There are about 75,000 Swedish-speaking people in the district, and many are not yet included in organized congregations.

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

"BILLY SUNDAY OF ARCANUM" SPEAKS

Tells Why Young Man Should Join Some Lodge.

Augustin J. Wall of New York, the "Billy Sunday of Arcanum," addressed the members of Duluth council, Royal Arcanum, at the Maccabee hall last evening.

Speaking on "The Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man," Mr. Wall declared that the benefits and privileges offered a young man by a fraternal organization are those of coming into contact with older men, who can teach manhood. It also inculcates a love of home and country, he said.

Other speakers last evening were: G. A. Eklund of St. Paul, grand regent of the order, and George Leigh, grand vice regent.

William Petty, Clinton Brooks and Douglas Moore were selected as delegates to the grand council to be held at Minneapolis on April 25.

GREAT DANGER IN TRACK WALKING

Five Thousand Trespassers on Railroads Met Death in Year.

St. Paul, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Trespassing on railroads during the year ending June 30, 1915, resulted in the deaths of 5,084 persons and the injury of 6,448, according to a report just published by the government. These appalling figures are used by F. M. Metcalfe, head of the Northern Pacific Railway company's bureau of efficiency, as reasons for more care on the part of the public.

As a measure to further its "Safety-First" doctrine, the road's department analyzes the cause of these casualties as follows: Trespassing at stations or in yards of the 1,297 American steam railroads resulted in 287 deaths and 1,071 injuries; getting on or off trains, including children who were flipping cars, killed 627 and injured 2,370; falling off cars, mostly tramps who were stealing rides, killed 475 and injured 671. Of pedestrians walking on tracks 2,598 met their deaths and 1,222 were seriously injured.

Less than one-third of this number of deaths occurred to employes of all these roads, although the number of employes who were aboard trains during the period exceeded 2,000,000. The low percentage of employes' deaths and injuries is attributed to precautionary measures they are taking due to the "safety first" measures the roads have adopted and to new safety appliances. It is pointed out in the circular that the number of deaths to employes was decreased over 50 per cent as compared with the previous year.

In the government report the danger of track walking is brought out. It is declared in a circular now being distributed by the Northern Pacific road that more than half of the total deaths to trespassers resulted from this practice alone, while twice as many met their deaths as were injured.

The United States is the only country in the world that has not a Federal law penalizing railroad trespassers.

WARMEST MORNING, BUT CHILL COMES

Mercury Slipping After Good Start; Day Fairly Warm.

It's getting colder and will continue to get colder, so that it will be quite chilly by tonight or tomorrow morning.

Weather Forecaster Richardson hastens to assure Duluthians, however, that nothing drastic in the way of bad weather is to be expected, but it will be colder than it has been for several days.

Today started off warm. At 7 o'clock this morning the temperature was 41 deg. above zero, which was the warmest this year with the exception of Feb. 17, when the temperature reached 45 deg. But the mark this morning was the highest of the year so far at the hour named.

By 10 o'clock this morning, however, the mercury had dropped to 38 deg. and will drop some more before the day is out.

But, as the weather man expresses it, today will be "fairly warm."

Explains Why Coffee Hurts Many

Dr. W. A. Evans, prominent Chicago physician, who edits the "How to Keep Well' columns of the Chicago Tribune, said in that publication, under date of March 7, 1915:—

"Coffee is a drug. Those who are addicted to its use are drug addicts." "From the standpoint of public hygiene the coffee question is worth while. It is the most widespread form of drug addiction."

Some coffee drinkers go on for years without seeming harm, but with others the telltale effects of the drug, caffeine, in coffee, show in various ills and discomforts, such as headache, biliousness, indigestion, nervousness, sleeplessness and heart disturbance.

When the health of a coffee-drinker begins to suffer it's high time to quit the coffee.

WARM PRAISE FOR PRESIDENT

Delivers Address at State Convention of Maine Democrats.

Bangor, Me., March 29.—The foreign policy of President Wilson and the record of congress under Democratic control were praised by United States Senator Charles F. Johnson in his address as chairman of the state Democratic convention here today.

"The country will understand," said Senator Johnson, "that those who criticize the president's foreign policy do so not so much because they feel that the honor of this nation has been in any way tarnished, but because the president, by his true Americanism and his staunch defense of international law, has brought to his support the patriotic citizens of all parties.

"He inherited from a former administration a most difficult situation in Mexico.

Action Justified.

"Now when marauders have invaded our soil and murdered our citizens, an occasion has arisen which justifies in the eyes of all the sending of an armed force into Mexico to arrest and punish the perpetrators of this crime.

"The president has accomplished without the shedding of a drop of American blood all that we could have hoped to have accomplished by war with either Germany or Austria.

"I am glad that he is using the power of his great office and his great talents as a public speaker in impressing upon the people of this country the necessity for an adequate preparation for the defense of its honor, its liberty, its sovereingty and the homes and lives of its people."

Democrats of Maine met here today to choose delegates to the national convention, nominate presidential electors and adopt a platform of principles.

Discussion of various issues has resulted in the decision of the committee on resolutions to present a platform containing no reference to the liquor question.

mys'f with your assistance. The sections of the law on which this indictment was found declare that the purchase of the ticket must have been with the intent to commit immorality. Before the government can ask you to return a verdict of guilty they must prove that this man had such intentions. This woman has related a number of circumstances which, if you believe her, might warrant you returning a verdict of guilty.

Seeking Information.

"But the defendant has taken the stand and testified that he was seeking information of a concern in which she was employed.

"If you should return a verdict of guilty I wouldn't let it stand; therefore it won't be necessary for you to concern yourselves further with this case. I direct you to return a verdict of not guilty."

Edwards Tells of Trips.

Edwards told yesterday of his trips to St. Paul with Miss Cox. In denial of Miss Cox's testimony that he had suggested he take her to St. Paul, Edwards asserted that she made the suggestion that they make the first trip.

The government closed its case earlier in the day, after completing its examination of Miss Cox and after questioning Mrs. Anna Guth of Minneapolis, owner of the rooming house where Edwards took Miss Cox.

The defense opened its case with an attack on the character of Miss Cox before she became acquainted with Edwards. She had testified that until her acquaintance with Edwards she never had illegal relations with men. In refutation, the defense offered three witnesses who said they had been intimate with her prior to the date of meeting Edwards.

W. S. Mears, an automobile truck salesman, said Miss Cox lived in his apartment in New York for four months. Willard G. Carmichael testified he had gone with her to Madison and Milwaukee in 1908, traveling as man and wife, and L. E. Bacon said he had paid her attention of an intimate character in 1913.

on any military, political or economic question was to be submitted.

The conference separated into groups according to the questions to be determined, this process facilitating the reaching of common understandings.

The decisions of the conference have the force of the decisions of the respective governments, because each, with the exception of Russia, was represented by its principal ministers and generals.

The delegates will leave in the same silent and unobtrusive way that they assembled. Premier Asquith and Field Marshal Earl Kitchener will visit Italy before returning to London.

"The representatives of the allied governments in conference at Paris March 27 and 28, 1916, affirm the complete community of views and solidarity of the allies. The confirm all the measures taken to realize unity of action on unity of front.

"They understand by that, at the same time, unity of military action, assured by the Entente concluded between the general staffs, unity of economic action, organization of which the present conference has regulated, and unity of diplomatic action, which is guaranteed by their unshaken will to continue the struggle to victory for the common cause.

"The allied governments decided to put into practice in the economic domain their solidarity of views and interests. They charge the economic conference, which is to be held shortly at Paris, to propose for them appropriate measures for the realization of this solidarity.

"With a view to strengthen, co-ordinate and unify the diplomatic action to be exercised to prevent the revictualing of the enemy, the conference has decided to establish at Paris a permanent committee, in which all the allies will be represented.

"The conference has decided: First, to continue the organization, already begun at London of an international central bureau of freights; second, to proceed in common and with the briefest delay to seek practical means to apportion equitably between the allied nations the charges for maritime transportation and check the rise in freight rates."

SAYS BODY IS A POISON FACTORY

Urges Everyone to Drink Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomain-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.—Advertisement.

CHASE AFTER VILLA

alry goes relentlessly on, but from the meagerness of the official dispatches from Gen. Pershing's advance base it was impossible to learn today the position of the American troops and how far they were in the rear of the fleeing band. Villa was last heard of heading southward toward the Tarahumare mountain country, his command driving their Mexican ponies at full speed and being closely pressed by the American troopers.

Commanders of the Carranza troops now in the Chihuahua region apparently have lost trace of Villa and his men, for no report has been received by Mexican officials here for some time concerning Villa's whereabouts.

Armed bands of Villa forces are reported in various parts of Chihuahau and in some numbers around Torreon, but they are operating independently of the main Villa command.

Carranza officials in Juarez express their belief that Villa will try to establish a main base at some point after he has thrown the American cavalry off his trail and then recruit his command to one of large proportions from the Villa bands in Southern Chihuahua.

Villa, the Carranza officers think, will then engage in a marauding campaign that would give the American and Carranza forces no end of trouble.

Army officers here do not believe Villa will ever make a stand and fight the American cavalry.

Await Word From Carranza.

Washington, March 29.—The outcome of the state department's efforts to secure from Gen. Carranza permission for immediate use of Mexican railways for transporting supplies to the American forces was awaited with keen interest in official circles today.

It was expected that Special Representative Rodgers at Queretaro, acting under instructions, would present at first chief today for special consideration of the request to use the lines without awaiting the perfecting of the protocol now under negotiation.

sengers on the Twentieth Century limited, though a number of passengers were badly hurt on this train. Two coaches of the Twentieth Century were overturned. The low casualties on the Twentieth Century are attributed to the fact that the palace train was proceeding slowly because of the heavy fog.

The second section of the flyer was going at a high rate of speed when it struck the first section.

Many of the dead probably will go to their graves unidentified. Most of those killed were asleep in the rear day coach of the first section of train 86 at the time of the crash.

The body of many of these scantily clad victims are so horribly torn that identification without the guidance of their clothing will be impossible.

Some of the victims were decapitated. Arms, legs and portions of human bodies were scattered thickly through the wreckage.

Relief parties collected the remains of three bodies—those of a woman and two men—and piled them, indiscriminately, in one basket.

Albert Fritzele, Cleveland, was in the Toledo sleeper of the first section and escaped injury. He helped in the rescue work.

Thrown Across Aisle.

Aaron De Ray, Pittsburgh, said he was catapulted from his berth into one occupied by a woman across the aisle when the crash came, and thus escaped injury.

A. Comensky, Pittsburgh, coming from Chicago, said he saw a woman die in the wreckage before he could extricate her. He also saw a man whose arms had been torn from their sockets.

When the last-named three left, only thirteen of the forty occupants of the day coach were accounted for. They placed the number of dead at between twenty-five and thirty.

According to Fritzele and De Ray the first section stopped five minutes after it left Amherst and was just picking up speed again when the first crash came. Two minutes later, they said, the second collision occurred.

Manager's Story.

D. C. Moon, general manager of the New York Central lines at Cleveland, gives this story of the wreck as it was given him from his subordinates on the road at 9 o'clock:

"Train No. 86, eastbound, was traveling in two sections.

"The second section of No. 86 should have stopped because of the automatic signal or by the signal of a flagman on the first section.

"The second section ran into the end coach of the first section. The wreckage from both sections went over on the west bound high speed track.

"It had forty passengers, four of whom are killed. I don't know how many were injured.

"The next car ahead of the coach was a club Pullman car. There was nobody in this car but a porter and a mail clerk.

"These two men are missing. The cars ahead of the coach and club car were sleepers. Nobody in them was hurt.

Twentieth Century Derailed.

"The Twentieth Century was derailed, but nobody on it was injured.

"I have ordered an investigation at once.

"I don't think any of the crew was hurt, but so far we have not got track of the engineer of the second section."

Some of the members of the crew of the three trains involved in the wreck, escaped with scratches and bruises.

C. C. Robinson, Toledo, engineer of the Twentieth Century, crawled uninjured from under his engine after it had plunged 400 feet along the ties. His fireman, Walter Mann, Toledo, and the conductor, M. V. Burk, Buffalo, also were unhurt.

John Keller, conductor of the second section of No. 86, and Frank Rummel, in charge of the first section, and other uninjured members of the crews, assisted in caring for injured passengers and in clearing away wreckage.

Search was being made for the bodies of two express messengers, expected to be found among express car wreckage piled twenty feet high.

Germans with rifle and machine gun fire while the 75s threw a curtain of shells which prevented reserves from approaching. Again the gray coated waves surged forward, only to be broken against the stout resistance of the defenders.

The object of the Germans was to force the French to evacuate the village of Malancourt, the heights surrounding which the Germans already hold. They failed completely, it is affirmed.

Attack Renewed.

Paris, March 29, 12:15 p. m.—French troops made an attack last night on Avocourt wood, west of the Meuse, where the German assault was made yesterday. The official statement today says the French carried part of the works which the Germans had constructed. The Germans made a fierce counter-attack but were driven back with heavy losses. They made no other effort to recover the lost ground.

The recent German attack upon Malancourt was made with a fresh division which was thrown back with large losses.

Death Ends Long Sleep.

Bismarck, N. D., March 29.—Sleeping nine days from the time he was found in his home, Axel Johnson of Braddock, N. D., whose case aroused much interest among physicians, was aroused just a few minutes before his death occurred in a local hospital. Johnson's death is the fourth in the home in a short while, for his wife and two children were burned to death two years ago.

DEFENSE MAY BE INSANITY

Attorneys Believe Waite Is Preparing to Make Such Plea.

Detectives Looking for Embalmer Employed By the Prisoner.

New York, March 29.—Detectives from the district attorney's office went to Orient Point, L. I., early today in search of Eugene O. Kane, an embalmer, who for the time being is the most important witness in the Peck murder case.

Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, in the latest chapter of his serial confession, told the district attorney that he had given Kane $9,000 to swear, if necessary, that he had used arsenic in embalming the body of John E. Peck for burial.

The use of arsenic in embalming fluid is against the law in New York state and Kane several days ago was quoted as saying that no arsenic was used in embalming Mr. Peck's body. From this feature of Waite's revelations the authorities have concluded that at one time he was preparing for a plea of not guilty in the event of his arrest for the murder. The rest of the young dentist's confession, however, has convinced the district attorney that he is getting ready to defend himself on a plea of insanity.

Dr. Waite last night told representatives of the district attorney's office that he had administered several varieties of disease germs to both Mr. Peck and his wife, Mrs. Anna Maria Peck. When the germs showed no results, Waite said, he followed them in both cases with poisonous drugs. Waite declared that he was under the evil influence of a force which he personified as "the man from Egypt."

Claims Dual Personality.

Statements indicating that he believed he was possessed of a dual personality, the wicked one of which impelled him to murder John E. Peck of Grand Rapids, his wealthy father-in-law, and Mrs. Peck were made by Dr. Arthur Warren Waite to District Attorney Edward Swann and a detective.

Waite, still in bed at Bellevue hospital, where he is under arrest, charged with the murder of Peck, when asked by Mr. Swann if he wished to make any statement, passed one hand over his eyes and answered vaguely:

"Oh, it's all over. He did it. This little bad man whom I haven't been able to get rid of until now—he did it all. Clara (Mrs. Waite) knows how I have tried to get rid of him. I don't know who he was—he told me he came from Egypt."

Roy W. Schindler, a detective who visited Waite just before Swann arrived, declared the young dentist told him about the dual personality, asserting that he sometimes was so obsessed by the "bad man" that he would run around in the park to throw off the inclination to evil.

Administered Bacilli.

According to Schindler, Waite told him he administered live bacilli of various diseases to Mrs. Peck, but they did not act as quickly as he expected. He said also, the detective averred, that he fed germs to Peck, but when the results appeared to be "unsatisfactory" he gave arsenic to his father-in-law. Both Peck and Mrs. Peck died at Waite's apartments here, Mrs. Peck on Jan. 30 and her husband on March 12. Autopsies on the body of Peck disclosed quantities of arsenic. Mrs. Peck's body was cremated.

Mr. Swann amplified what he said Waite had told him in regard to his "other ego," which he called the "older fellow."

"I have never seen him," Waite is said to have declared, "but I have heard of him. He was born in Egypt in the present life, but lived in other ages. All my evil inclinations came from him. Because of him I often told Clara I wanted to be alone. Until now I have always felt the influence of my alter ego. But I feel free now. I feel for the first time that I have cast him off, and my mind is at rest."

Never Heard of "Little Bad Man."

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 29.—Dr. A. W. Wishart, the Peck family physician, declared Mrs. Clara Peck Waite, wife of the New York dentist, never heard of "the little bad man" from Egypt from whom Dr. Waite said he got his evil inclinations.

"You can say for Mrs. Waite, and I have her word for it tonight, that Dr. Waite never said anything to her about any little bad man, a mythical influence, an Egyptian or anything of the sort being the cause of his wrongdoings," said Dr. Wishart. "If he was having any such fight as he describes in his confession, Mrs. Waite knew nothing about it."

FIGHTS TO END HIS OWN LIFE

Frank Gish Drinks Poison—Spectators Interfere in Time.

After drinking two ounces of a carbolic acid solution last night, Frank Gish, Superior shipyards employe, fought with spectators and later with police, who tried to prevent him from drinking two other doses of the same size. He had three vials of the poison in his pocket.

Gish, who had been drinking heavily early in the evening, according to police, walked into the cigar store of Emil Barquist at 107 East Superior street, and in the presence of half a dozen persons, drained the contents of the first bottle.

"I guess I'll end it all, boys, for I can't get well," he said. He then drew out a second bottle, and put it to his lips. Harold Randall, roomer at the Astoria hotel, knocked the bottle from Gish's hand and, aided by several friends, overpowered him.

Chief of Police R. D. McKercher was standing at the entrance to headquarters when he noticed the commotion across the street, and hurried to the aid of the men who were holding Gish.

He brought the man to the police station, and while being questioned in the jailer's room, Gish suddenly jerked out a third bottle and attempted to drink the contents.

As he fought with the chief and tried to drink the acid, he kept shouting: "Let me die, I tell you. Let me die. I don't want to live and suffer."

Gish was arraigned in police court today on a drunkenness charge and, after pleading guilty, was referred to Probation Officer Frank Hicks.

MILLER APPEARS FOR DULUTH BILL

Urges Erection of Federal Building to Cost $1,000,000.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, March 29.—Representative Clarence B. Miller today appeared before the house committee on public buildings and grounds and urged a favorable report on his bill for the erection of a public building at Duluth with a limit of cost of $1,000,000.

Mr. Miller explained at length the situation regarding the government's office at Duluth, which were stated in the treasury department report printed in The Herald last week. He also called attention to the fact that the Federal government has the site for the building, which was purchased some years ago.

The committee took no action, but it is understood that the project will have to go over for at least one year more, as it is unlikely that a public buildings bill will be reported this session.

JURY REFUSES TO SWALLOW STORY

Taking Money "for Safe-Keeping" Is Viewed as Theft.

District court jurors who tried Mike Smith, woodsman, accused of the theft of $205 from his roommate, Mike Zavis, in a Michigan street lodging house on Jan. 21 last, refused to accept Smith's story that he had taken Zavis' money merely for safe keeping, and after less than a half hour's deliberation this morning convicted him of the crime of grand larceny in the second degree.

Sentence was deferred by Judge Ensign. The offense carries with it a punishment of not more than five years in the state penitentiary.

Zavis and Smith came to Duluth from the woods together on Jan. 21. They had been the best of friends, according to the story told by the complaining witness. Zavis had a "roll" of $205 on his person, and that night Smith "eloped" with it. He was arrested the next day in Superior. At first he denied that he had taken the money, but later admitted that he had. He said that he was "just taking care of it" for Zavis.

The jury retired to consider the case at 11:05 o'clock and returned its verdict at 11:30.

HOLD TRAIN WHILE LIQUOR IS LOADED

Crookston, Minn., March 29.—Passenger traffic on the Warroad branch of the Great Northern, especially from this section of the Red River valley, including North Dakota to Red Lake Falls, is exceedingly heavy at present, it being necessary to add additional cars to the train to accommodate the traveling public.

"The crowded condition of the coaches exists from the other direction also," said a railroad official this morning. "At Thief River Falls Monday afternoon nearly 200 people got on the local train and it is safe to say that over one-half of that number bought tickets to Red Lake Falls, many being compelled to spend the night in that place."

Business in the express line has also greatly increased on the same road and it is no uncommon matter for the evening train to be held at Red Lake Falls from 30 to 40 minutes in order to transfer the large amount of liquor that is shipped out of that place daily, consigned to various sections of Minnesota and North Dakota.

New Ashland Concern.

Ashland, Wis., March 29.—The articles of incorporation of the Ashland Farm Land company have been filed with the register of deeds. The capital stock of the new concern has been placed at $10,000 to consist of 400 shares at $25 per share. Michael Nowak, Frank Nowak and Ben Nowak, all of La Crosse are the incorporators. The concern will colonize 50,000 acres of land near Shanagolden.

SCHMAHL TO RUN FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

St. Paul, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Julius H. Schmahl, secretary of state, will again run for re-election on the Republican ticket. He personally made the announcement today.

For the last two months gossip has been endeavoring to connect Mr. Schmahl with the governorship. Even prior to the death of Governor Hammond he was known to have ambitions along that line and if Governor Hammond's death had not interfered he would have undoubtedly entered the race.

"I did have gubernatorial ambitions," said Mr. Schmahl, "and I still think I could have succeeded had I entered the contest. Party harmony, however, is more to me than my ambition and I have decided to again seek my present position."

If nominated and elected, Mr. Schmahl will enter upon his sixth term as secretary of state.

ARMY BELIEVED TO BE USING RAILROADS

Gen. Pershing May Be Acting Under Permission of Local Officials.

Washington, March 29.—While no word had come today from Special Representative Rodger at Queretaro concerning the request for use of Mexican railways to transport supplies to Gen. Pershing's troops, there were indications in official dispatches from Gen. Pershing through Gen. Funston that troops were using railways in the Casas Grandes district probably upon permission from the local Carranza officials.

A dispatch reporting that Saddler George A. Hudnelt of the Tenth cavalry had died from injuries received in a railroad wreck was taken to mean that troops were being transferred by rail southward from Casas Grandes. This was the first official intimation that Pershing's troops were using the railroads.

Secretary Baker took the message from Gen. Funston to the state department and conferred with Secretary Lansing. It was announced there that additions proposed by Gen. Carranza to the projected protocol covering the use of the Mexican railways still were under consideration. Instructions were sent last night to special representative Fodger to urge Gen. Carranza to grant permission for use of Mexican railways as a measure independent of the protocol.

DREADNAUGHTS WIN GREATEST VICTORY

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt Tells House Naval Committee So.

Washington, March 29.—Dreadnaughts have won the greatest victory of the European war without firing a shot, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt of the navy today told the house naval committee. With enough dreadnaughts, he said, the United States would win a "bloodless victory" in a war.

"Today the United States is richer and weaker than ever in its history, in comparison with other powers," Mr. Roosevelt said, explaining that the nation has great potential resources but a "handful of an army" and a navy weaker than several powers for immediate defense.

By keeping the foe's fleet off the seas, Mr. Roosevelt said the British dreadnaughts had attained the reason for which they were built.

War Possibility.

There is a possibility at least for this nation becoming involved in war with a victor in Europe, was asserted by Mr. Roosevelt. He pictured disaster in a war with a fleet twice as strong, expressing belief that the United States fleet would be wiped out, the Panama canal and United States possessions lost and the nation "bottled up" and open to invasion.

In reply to a suggestion that European belligerents will be exhausted at the close of the war and little inclined to continued arming, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"It is entirely problematical. But judging by history the best guess is that they will continue."

Mr. Roosevelt said the department has official knowledge that England had increased her naval tonnage 1,000,000 tons since the war began. He said, however, that England would hesitate long before sending her fleet against Germany's fortified base at Helgoland. "If," he added, "Germany were to meet the English navy alone on the high seas it would be destroyed undoubtedly."

Town Clerks Entitled to Pay.

St. Paul, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorney General Smith ruled today that town clerks throughout the state are entitled to $1 each and 10 cents for the distance traveled in going to their home postoffice for election supplies used at the recent presidential primaries. The ruling effects over 2,000 town clerks scattered over the state.

CONSTRUCTION WORK TO BEGIN AT ONCE

Hugo Factory, Costing $30,000, Will Be of Fireproof Material.

Construction work on the building of a $30,000 factory for the Hugo Manufacturing company, to be situated at Forty-ninth avenue west and Halifax street, will begin at once. The contract for the construction was let yesterday to Jacobson Bros., who were the lowest bidders.

The plant will be fireproof, constructed of brick and concrete. It will have a floor space of 20,000 feet. There will be a main factory building, an office building and a boilerhouse.

The company's plant at present is at 310-12 West Second street. The new location will have connections with the Canadian Northern, Northern Pacific and Soo railroads.

MINSTREL SHOW FRIDAY.

Boys Will Give Entertainment at Denfeld School.

A minstrel show will be given at the Denfeld high school Friday evening by the boys of that school. The free trip to Camp Miller to the boy who sells the most tickets is creating a lot of rivalry, and is developing many salesmen. The boy who sells the most tickets will be known as West Duluth's "greatest hustler." The proceeds of the entertainment will go to the Denfeld High School club. The show Friday evening will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. Part I will include the following:

Overture, Denfeld school orchestra; violin solo, Gustave Jackson; sketch, "An Extra Guest," Stanley Lamb and Laurence Duby; accordion solo, John Centanino.

Part II.

Denfeld club minstrels, directed by Stanley Lamb. End men—Sambo, Leo Deutch; Alexander, Stanley Lamb; Rastus, Frank Martin; Ephrahim, Rollin Clark; interlocutor, Norman D. McLeod.

Opening chorus by the entire company. "Sweetest Girl in Monteray," Clarence Jacobson; "Landing of the Mandy Lee," Reginal La Faivre; "Norway," Leonard Hedman; selected, Walter Yeager; "Shine," Laurence Duby; "America, I Love You," J. R. Batchelor; "Harmony Band," Walmer Fosberg; "Wedding in the Sunshine," Leo Deutch; selected, Frank Martin; "Malinda's Wedding Day," Romeo Deutch; "Back Home in Tennessee," Rollin Clark; "Negro Exhortation," Dwight Heistand; "Old Bill Bailey," Stanley Lamb.

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER RESIGNS HIS POSITION

Leon C. High, instructor in English at the Robert E. Denfeld high school has resigned his position and will leave the service of the school board at the end of April. Mr. High would give no reason for leaving simply stating that he intended to leave school work for good and probably go into business for himself.

Mr. High has been instructor in the high schools of Duluth for a year and a half, beginning his services last fall at the Denfeld school. He is considered one of the best instructors at the school.

No provision has as yet been made for a successor to Mr. High but one will be appointed it is intimated before he leaves.

COST OF DYING IS ALSO HIGHER

"The War" Blamed for Higher Prices for Burial Equipment.

The high cost of living is not the only trouble that confronts the average citizen.

The latest notice is the higher cost of "dying." A local undertaker this morning received notice that from now on he could expect a raise of 15 per cent in the price of caskets and 25 per cent in the cost of casket hardware.

Since the beginning of the war in Europe there has been a gradual rise in the cost of caskets, the hardwood caskets having risen in price about 40 per cent. Steel trimmings have risen 65 per cent, while some of the other necessary equipment has gone up more than 100 per cent.

These are not the only items. There is also the carriage hire. Drivers are asking for more money, horses are more valuable and their feed has gone up. All of this extra cost, say liverymen, must be made up somewhere. A raise in cab service is threatened, according to a report.

WILL RECALL "EARLY DAYS"

Mason M. Forbes Will Speak at Fathers' Banquet at Longfellow.

"Early Days at the Longfellow School" will be the subject of a short talk to be given Friday evening by Mason M. Forbes, assistant county attorney, at the banquet for the fathers to be given by the Mothers' club of the school. Mr. Forbes attended this school in the early nineties and will speak of his personal experiences.

Plans for 100 guests are being made. A program of music and addresses is being arranged by the program committee.

The following committees are in charge:

Entertainment—Miss Elizabeth Berg, Miss Cecil Boyle, Harold G. House, Mrs. T. Brandenhoff, Mrs. W. H. Forman and Mrs. Oettel.

Reception—Harold G. House, Mrs. T. F. Olsen, Mrs. E. G. Kriedler, Mrs. Samuel Gibson, Mrs. Hans Lunding, Mrs. Arthur Lessard, Mrs. Rudolph Anderson, Mrs. B. Nelson and Mrs. Frank Watson.

Decoration—Miss Lulu Stobbs, Miss Genevieve Smith, Mrs. C. D. Peterson, Mrs. C. Hawkins, Mrs. Dunston, Miss Ollie Onsgaard, and Miss Flora Gibson.

Refreshments—Mrs. Frank Watson, Mrs. Marie Rowe, Mrs. Thomas Lee, Mrs. A. E. Oettel, Mrs. J. H. Gray, Mrs. J. T. Otis, Mrs. H. L. Swayzle, Mrs. Arthur Lessard.

Supper—Miss Lillian Meinhart, Miss Duclette, Mrs. Hans Malmrose, Mrs. N. Gordon Brooks, Mrs. A. Pearson, Mrs. M. Ek, Mrs. Louis Christensen, Mrs. C. Johnson, Mrs. Oscar Peterson and Mrs. Mehling.

URGE EXTENSION TO NEW DULUTH

An extension of the Duluth street railway line to New Duluth was the principal subject discussed last evening at the meeting of the New Duluth Commercial club. Following the discussion a large number of the members pledged themselves to attend the meeting of the West Duluth club on Friday evening when this subject will be the principal order of business.

The club elected two directors. Matt Prettner was re-elected to succeed himself for a two-year term, and D. H. Lewis was selected to succeed Noble Sampson.

Receives Mission Workers.

Mrs. John Rockwell, 415 North Fifty-ninth avenue west, was hostess yesterday afternoon for the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Westminster Presbyterian church. The program consisted of an address by Richard Blair, superintendent of Sunday schools for the Duluth presbytery, who spoke on "Missionary Work," and Miss Grace Douglas, whose talk was on "Woman's Work in the Home Field." Miss Douglas gave an interesting talk on the history of home mission work among the various church societies since its organization in 1868.

Bessie Benoit Dies.

Bessie Benoit, aged 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Benoit, 5713 Main street, died yesterday afternoon at St. Mary's hospital following an illness of six months of dropsy. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock from the St. Jean Baptiste French Catholic church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

Paroled for Year.

Peter Lutsky was sentenced to a term of eighty-five days at the St. Louis county work farm this morning when arraigned in police court on a charge of wife-beating. The charge of assault in the third degree was preferred by Mrs. Ludsky. On promise that there would be no repetition of the assault, Judge Lanners allowed Lutsky his freedom on parole for a year.

West Duluth Briefs.

Mrs. Gust Peterson, 105 North Sixty-fourth avenue west, will entertain tomorrow afternoon for the Ladies' Aid Society of the Swedish Mission church.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Elim Swedish Lutheran church, Fifty-sixth avenue and Elinor street, will entertain tomorrow evening at a social in the church parlors. A musical and literary program and auction of aprons have been planned.

Patrick Hughes of Taconite has returned home after spending a few days visiting at the home of Thomas Doyle, 25 North Fifty-third avenue west.

The Hope Young People's Society of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church will entertain at a social in the church parlors this evening.

The Pussy Willows Are Getting Downie and Spring Hats Are Blooming

These warm sunny days give promise of charming spring weather to follow. The snow is going rapidly—the grass shows green on the southern slopes—Dame Nature is already planning her Easter garb. Are you?

Come here tomorrow and enjoy the pretty spring things you will see.

Try them on, see how becoming they are. There never was a season it seems to us when styles were so entirely beautiful and practical, and the charm of it lies in the fact that styles are so varied that there is a model to suit every face and figure.

Many of the styles are youthful. Some of them are a bit daring, others are daintily demure.

Easter is less than a month away—it is time you were planning your spring costume.

Surely you will want to see these new models—in suits—in gowns—in blouses and in coats. Every day you wait cuts down the time and likewise takes off something of the enjoyment of wearing the new styles while they are new.

The New Hats Are Simply Glorious

They are just as beautiful as spring flowers — and some of the most charming are inexpensive as well as beautiful.

Come and see the favored shapes.

Try them on—you will see for yourself how becoming they are.

Some very attractive styles, $8.00 and $10.00.

The more popular range is from $5.00 to $15.00.

TWENTY KILLED IN RAID ON SALONIKI

Two German Aeroplanes Pursued By French and Destroyed.

Paris, March 29.—Twenty persons were killed, between thirty and forty were wounded and two German aeroplanes were destroyed in the aerial raid over Saloniki on Monday, says an official statement issued here this afternoon.

The statement follows:

"A squadron of seven German aeroplanes attempted to make a raid on Saloniki Monday. Their purpose was to reach the war ships anchored in the harbor, but they were obliged to give this up by the fire of the French artillery.

"Pursued by French aviators, two of the German aeroplanes were destroyed.

"Bombs thrown down by the German aviators caused the deaths of twenty persons and brought wounds to thirty or forty others."

GETS DAMAGES FOR FALSE ARREST

John Langinesse Given Verdict Against Duluth Log Company.

For being held a prisoner for twenty-four hours on a charge which his accusers failed to substantiate, John Langinesse will collect $500 from the Duluth Log company. This privilege was accorded him by a district court jury which returned a sealed verdict to Judge Martin Hughes this morning. The verdict was reached by the jury shortly after 6 o'clock last evening.

Langinesse sued for $5,000 damages from the log company for false arrest and imprisonment on Oct. 12 last, when he was held under a warrant charging him with having obtained goods and merchandise under false pretenses. He was released by a justice of the peace twenty-four hours later. Finlayson & Watts appeared for the plaintiff and Baldwin, Baldwin & Holmes defended.

The Duluth Log company is defendant in another action which was brought to trial in Judge Ensign's division of the district court this morning. The suit is one in which the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Railway company is endeavoring to recover $268.80 in freight bills for horses and lumbermen supplies shipped on four different occasions between Eau Claire, Wis., and Hornby, Minn.

WILL DISPOSE OF ARMORY PROBLEM

Disposition of the armory referendum case will be made by the city commissioners at a conference scheduled for tomorrow morning.

Mayor Prince announced this morning that the members of the council, City Attorney Samuelson and Frank Crassweller, special counsel appointed last week to assist the legal department in appealing the armory referendum case in the supreme court, will meet tomorrow morning to decide definitely on the course of action to be taken by the municipality.

In a communication to the council, which was read at the meeting last Monday, Mr. Crassweller declares that an appeal on the present status of the case would avail nothing, in view of the fact that the city attorney filed an answer after the court had overruled the city's demurrer to the complaint filed by the Aad Temple Building association.

City Attorney Samuelson contends that the case can be appealed on its merits, claiming that the city's interests were protected throughout. This attitude is also taken by John Jenswold, Jr., attorney for the Shriners.

MANY MEN WOULD SERVE IN MEXICO

Army, Navy and Marine Offices Have Rush of Applicants.

The Mexican trouble is bringing out great numbers of applicants for the United States army, navy and the marines in Duluth, and each of these offices has made an excellent showing for March. The Duluth marine recruiting office leads all others in the state, according to Capt. W. A. Walker, U. S. M. C., who was here on an inspection trip yesterday.

Owing to the urgent orders from the head office to enlist more men, Sergeant Frank J. Buck will keep his office open two hours more each day now, making office hours from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. The United States army office also keeps late hours and both are open Sundays.

The naval recruiting office at the postoffice building has received almost forty applicants this month, making one of the heaviest months in the history of the office. Owing to various reasons, few of the applicants have been eligible.

TO RAISE BUILDING FUND.

Bethel Congregation Will Replace Structure Destroyed By Fire.

A campaign to raise funds for a new building for the congregation of the Bethel Swedish Lutheran church, which recently was gutted by fire, is progressing rapidly, according to members of the church. It is planned to raise about $5,000, which, with the insurance collected on the building and proceeds from the sale of the lots on which it stood, will be sufficient to erect a modest church.

The building committee has three or four sites in view, and options on the property which may become the future home of the congregation. One site is on Fifty-sixth, another on Fifty-seventh, and a third near the present location of the church.

Since the fire, the congregation has been holding its services at the Elim Swedish Lutheran church, Fifty-sixth avenue and Elinor street. This church will be used for some time in the future by the congregation.

PICTURE IS PRESENTED TO DENFELD SCHOOL

The presentation of a picture chosen by the class of 1915 featured special exercises yesterday at the R. E. Denfeld high school. The picture is a reproduction of the painting of Edwin H. Blashfield, which hangs in the Baltimore courthouse and is entitled "Washington Laying His Commission at the Feet of Columbia."

The senior class last year raised the sum of $50 for this picture. The selection was made by a committee consisting of D. W. Heistand, Gordon Huth, Leo J. Deutsch and Arnold Erickson.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

STILL HUNT IN ASHLAND

Wets and Drys Have Conducted Sort of Gumshoeing Campaign.

Revenue Loss From Holding Up Terminal Dock Law May Have Effect.

Ashland, Wis., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—After a sort of a still hunt campaign during which neither side has indulged in much of the brass band publicity the voters of Ashland will decide next Tuesday whether the saloons must go or the city will continue to license its fifty-six saloons at $650 per annum. The only outside speaker the drys have had so far was Former Governor Frank Hanley of Indiana who spoke Monday evening. Both sides are making claims as to the outcome and the dopesters are not able to reliably predict what the voters will do. It is contended by many the action of the city commission in lopping off thirteen saloons last year and increasing the license fee from $500 to $650 has in a measure placated some of the dry element. Last spring the people voted by a majority of 423 to retain saloons, the vote being 776 dry, 1200 wet. The fact that Bayfield and Washburn the other two cities on this bay are dry is expected to cut a figure in the election having a bearing both ways according to the predilections of the voter.

Loss of Dock Tax Money.

It is conceded that the action of State Treasurer Johnson in holding up the amount due this and other lake cities under the terminal dock tax law will have an effect here next Tuesday as well as it will in Superior where the license issue is also to be decided.

Under this law, lake port cities receive the net taxes on docks and terminals, but Treasurer Johnson claims the law is unconstitutional, and declines to pay over the amounts taxed, until a test suit is carried through the courts. This will deprive Ashland of $16,687.87 this spring, while Superior will be hit much harder, Milwaukee and other Lake Michigan cities will be affected proportionately. Being deprived of this revenue, and not being in any too good shape financially, it is contended will have considerable effect on the voters, who believe the saloon license revenues are necessary to keep the municipality going.

Case of Washburn.

The drys contend that Washburn's experiment in voting dry, has not bankrupted the city, as was predicted, but the wets point to the phenomenal growth of the Dupont powder works at Bardsdale, in helping Washburn out financially. Replying to this the drys say all of the influence of the Dupont officials from Manager Frank T. Beers down, favors keeping Washburn dry, and the increase in the working force at the powder works from 500 to 2,500, has insured prosperity for Washburn in spite of the loss of the saloon revenue. The workmen are taken to Washburn in special trains every night, and it is announced that as long as Ashland remains wet, it will get none of this class of trade. The drys say Washburn now has only one policeman, and few paupers, and it is claimed that while $8,000 was formerly received from saloon licenses, it cost the municipality $70,000 for its police, the courts, and its paupers.

WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

IN BED MOST OF TIME

Her Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Indianapolis, Indiana. — "My health was so poor and my constitution so run down that I could not work. I was thin, pale and weak, weighed but 109 pounds and was in bed most of the time. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and five months later I weighed 133 pounds. I do all the housework and washing for eleven and I can truthfully say Lydia E. POTENTATE JAMES McGUIGAN.

Fargo, N. D., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—James McGuigan, the new potentate of El Zagal temple of the Mystic Shrine of this city, and the members of his divan are making extensive arrangements for a big ceremonial session to be held here on June 9.

On this occasion several of the important officers will be present and the potentates of the northwestern temples have all been invited to the festivities, which will include a banquet and the initiation of a large class of candidates, which will number about 125.

DISTRIBUTION IS DIFFICULT PROBLEM

How to Divide $37,000 Fund Among Over 5,600 Men.

Marquette, Mich., March 29.—The distribution of $37,000 among over 5,600 one time employes of the Pittsburgh & Lake Angeline Mining company, former operators of the Lake Angeline mine, now the property of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, is involved in the case of Thomas Walters vs. the Pittsburgh & Lake Angeline Mining company, listed for trial in circuit court here before Judge Flannigan next September. The case is an unusual one here. The money was paid into the company's accident fund prior to the passage of the state compensation law and as the company has surrendered the mine it turned the fund over to Mining Captain Walters to distribute among the employes estimated at about 5,600 who at various times worked for the company and paid in the $37,000 on hand. Capt. Walters started the friendly suit to have the court make the distribution.

It is said that the company has record of all men who were considerable contributors to the fund, and they can easily be reached. The greater part of the over 5,600 men listed worked for the company but brief periods, and put very little money into the fund.

Other Companies Are Interested.

The proceedings will be followed with interest by other mining companies in the Lake Superior district, as they have similar funds that they will some time be called on to distribute.

A few months ago Capt. Walters became custodian of the fund at the request of the treasurer of the company, who asked that he undertake the present action, to secure its legal distribution. The company has a place among the defendants because it contributed half the money in the fund. It is the purpose of the company to distribute its share of the money, following the adjudication of the matter, among its oldest employes, those who in its opinion are particularly entitled to it.

Marquette, Mich., March 29.—News has been received of the death of Mrs. Fannie Dell Johnson at Fairbanks, Alaska, on March 22. She was formerly Miss Fannie Dell Wyckoff and taught in the Marquette schools about twelve years ago, leaving here to go to Rock River, and soon after moved to Alaska.

HELGESON'S RIVAL OPENS CAMPAIGN

F. T. Cuthbert of Devils Lake Outlines His Platform for Congress.

Devils Lake, N. D., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Declaring against prefixes and hyphens; that he is progressive in that he is ready to solve the problem of government in the interest of humanity; and that he is stalwart in that he believes in standing straight, F. T. Cuthbert of this city fired the first gun here in his campaign for congressman from the First district in opposition to H. T. Helgeson of Milton. Cuthbert went on record in favor of a protective, Republican tariff; for an income tax that will increase the burden of taxation for those able to bear it; for a land loan system, calling attention to the fact government money brings 2½ and 3 per cent and that farm lands furnish the best security on earth; for a "sufficient navy to make our rights respected and our demands complied with and a sufficient army to prevent the landing of an alien force while volunteers are being mobilized."

BRAINERD DEATHS.

Brainerd, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Alva Rosenkranz, 2-year-old child of Charles Rosenkranz, died of convulsions. John Franklin, single, aged 52, died of Bright's disease at the home of his brother, George Franklin, in St. Mathias. Lewellan Boynton, aged 52, died at the home of his son-in-law, O. E. Jones. He was a widower and leaves these children, Mrs. Nettie M. Dull, Portland, Ind.; Mrs. O. E. Jones and Bert Boynton, Brainerd; Mrs. Francis Jones of Pine River. Brothers are Lawney Boynton, Minneapolis, and Albert Boynton, Milaca. Three sisters are Mrs. Royland Thorp, Backus; Mrs. May Gatchell, Little Falls; Mrs. Louisa Peters, Forest City.

BRAINERD NOTES.

Brainerd, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. C. Reilly of Missoula, Mont., formerly with the T. M. Reilly company, will on April 1 open a wholesale house in Brainerd dealing in candy, cigars and tboacco.

C. H. Berhorst of Grinnell, Iowa, is canvassing Brainerd with a view of establishing a business college.

Frank Wolvert, Walter and J. H. Peterson of South Long Lake township have bought a 12-horse power tractor and will use it on their farms. It runs an 18-inch breaking plow. This is the first investment of the kind by Crow Wing county farmers.

Three Children Burned.

Hillsboro, N. D., March 29.—Three children were burned to death in their home in the absence of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Caron, living on the Minnesota side of the Red river just east of Caledonia. Hot coals dumped close to the residence several hours before fired the straw banking on the side of the house.

TO GIVE FORTUNE TO AID CRIPPLED YOUTH

Spokane, Wash., March 29.—Asa V. Bradrick, who has grown rich in the lumber business in the Spokane country, has sold his large timber holdings and will devote his life and means to the care of crippled children. He will lay his plans before the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at Saratoga, N. Y., in May, and will volunteer to finance a campaign nation wide in scope. Mr. Bradrick has supported a crippled children's ward in a Spokane hospital for several years. His efforts will be directed especially in behalf of cripples whose deformities can be overcome by surgery and proper treatment in infancy.

LADYSMITH PRISONER IS ON HUNGER STRIKE

Ladysmith, Wis., March 29.—Earl Larson of Minneapolis tried to "jump" his board bill at a local hotel, and was sentenced to the county jail. Indignant at the sentence imposed on him, Larson said he would partake of food only when it was served to him in a place other than a jail cell. As the officials refused to show any favoritism, Larson is now on his sixth day of a hunger strike, and says he either will die of starvation or eat in a place he likes better.

BORDER CITY NOTES.

International Falls, Minn., March 29.—The will of the late Julius Moss has been admitted to probate. Mrs. Lead of South Dakota is the executrix and also the beneficiary under the will.

S. Remington Anderson of Minneapolis, state agent of the American National Life Insurance company, is here on business.

George F. Howard of St. Paul, state rural school inspector, is visiting the local schools. He spent Saturday at Ericsburg in company with D. B. Jewell, county superintendent of schools.

The sunshine of the last few days has settled the snow considerably and softened the country roads so much that travel over them is almost impossible, as when a horse breaks through the crust he sinks quite a distance before he reaches solid footing.

NYMORE ANNEXATION.

Question of Joining Village to Bemidji to Be Decided Friday.

Bemidji, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—On Friday, Nymore, a suburb of Bemidji, will vote whether the village shall annex itself to this city and with this will come the consolidation of Nymore to the Bemidji school district, which will mean that a new school shall be built in Nymore. The proposition of annexation has been discussed by the members of the Nymore and Bemidji councils, and the matter has been discussed at several meetings of the citizens of Nymore. It is believed that the proposition will carry by a large majority, and if it does it will mean that the population of Bemidji will be boosted more than 1,500 and that Nymore shall be divided into two wards and shall have the school privileges, fire protection and police protection of the city of Bemidji.

HILL CITY'S BONDS SOLD IN OWATONNA

Owatonna, Minn., March 29.—The Kinyon Investment company, a local concern, will take over the $10,000 issue of improvement bonds recently voted by Hill City, Minn. The Owatonna firm's bid was the most satisfactory of several opened by the village council at Hill City last week.

NORMAL GRADUATES ALL GET POSITIONS

Valley City, N. D., March 29.—Eight graduates of the Valley City normal school were given their degrees at the midyear commencement exercises Monday. The graduates were Thomas J. Brudeset of Valley City and Zelda Williams of Chinook, Mont., from the four-year course, and Antonia Bowe, Goodrich; Adelaide Kenna, Danvers, Minn.; Laurette Sheehan, Carrington; Arline Skotland, Willow City; Esther Sisell, Coal Harbor; Helen Sodergren, Austin, Minn., from the elementary course. All members of the class who sought positions have found them.

Loman Mail By Boat.

International Falls, Minn., March 29.—The Loman mail is now being carried as far as Echo Lodge by boat, where an exchange is made with the teamster who handles the mail on the lower end of the line. It is expected that navigation below the mouth of the Little Fork will open in a few days.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Oconomowoc — William Sunderman, aged about 50 years, was found dead in a shed at the Oconomowoc Lumber company's yards on Monday, his neck being broken. It is thought he was climbing into the loft to sleep and fell. Coroner John Schaeffel is seeking relatives.

La Crosse—Relatives on Monday claimed the bodies of William J. Gunther and C. D. Wells, unemployed railroad men, who were found smothered in the ice bunkers of a refrigerator car at the Gund brewery here several days ago.

Milwaukee—Edward G. Clark, formerly with the Wisconsin Central railroad in Milwaukee, and more recently with the Soo line, has been promoted to the position of general freight agent of the Soo line. He takes the place of T. E. Sands, who becomes freight traffic manager.

Grand Rapids — Mrs. William T. Nobles, wife of County Clerk Nobles, died in the Riverview hospital after an illness of a few weeks. She was a graduate of the Lincoln high school in the class of 1912 and had been married about a year and one-half.

Green Bay—Peter Knudson of Newport, Door county, is anxiously awaiting news of the fate of his son, who left Kenosha some time ago for the Mexican border with automobile trucks. It is the opinion of the father that his son has been killed or held a captive by outlaw bands.

Reedsburg—The name of Former Mayor William A. Wyse of the city, is being urged for commander of the Wisconsin G. A. R., at the annual encampment to be held here June 14-16.

Madison—A process has been discovered at the Federal forest products laboratory by which a successful substitute for gasoline can be made from sawdust at a cost of between 13 and 15 cents a gallon.

Neenah—This city must improve its fire department equipment or suffer an increase in insurance rates, the board of underwriters has warned.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Devils Lake, N. D.—The supreme court has reversed the case of Miller Bros. of Penn against J. M. Thompson, local banker, involving about $5,000. The verdict returned by a jury in the district court two years ago is set aside, the case dismissed and the costs taxed to the plaintiffs. The action involved the sale of a stock of goods at Penn.

Fargo, N. D.—Prof. Walter Bachman of Fargo college is advised that the Fargo Sunday school institute has been rated as a first standard school. Mr. Bachman sent an outline plan of the work of the institute to the International Sunday School association at Chicago and made application to be placed on the list of schools entering upon a three years' course of study under the International association, leading to a diploma from that organization.

Dickinson, N. D.—The Dickinson land office is deluged with inquiries about land filings in the Roosevelt forest reserve in the Bad Lands, fifty miles southwest of here, since the passage of a bill providing for the opening of this tract for settlement. At last report the president had not acted upon the law and inasmuch as the local officials have received no instructions they are unable to accept filings.

Jamestown, N. D.—The first community singing meeting was held at the armory and was attended by 1,200 persons. The "sing" was in charge of the Musical club. It is intended to continue community singing during the summer.

Fargo, N. D.—James Britt, aged 38 years, died at a local hospital. Death came as a result of complications. Besides a wide circle of friends, Mr. Britt is survived by a brother at Detroit, Minn., and a sister, Miss Kate Britt of Fargo. The body was taken to Detroit.

Valley City, N. D.—The keeper of the city park discovered Monday morning that Mabel, one of the bears, had died some time during the night. Poisoning is suspected, but nothing has been learned as to who the guilty parties are.

Minot, N. D.—The members of the sixth grade manual training classes here are assisting the Minot park authorities in the effort to attract and protect the native birds.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well. —Advertisement.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Hancock—The Copper Country Odd Fellows' association met here and elected the following officers: President, John Lavers; first vice president, Charles Swain; second vice president, Mrs. Opal; secretary, Angus McLennan; treasurer, Wallace Middlemiss; executive committee, the officers and James Kendall, John N. Mitchell, William Taylor and Mrs. Emily Langdon.

Houghton—The annual town election will be held April 3. From present appearances it looks as though the election will be a tame affair, no opposition having appeared to date against any of the nomination ticket candidates.

Calumet—Special revival services are being held this week at the Boston M. E. church. The meetings are in charge of Rev. J. J. Strike, pastor of the Osceola M. E. church, and commence every evening at 7:30 with the exception of Saturday evening, when there will be no services.

Marquette—Mrs. Phillimine Merault, aged 68, a resident of Marquette for the last thirty-three years and one of the best known of the older residents of the city, died Monday. Her family, consisting of four daughters and one son, was at her bedside when death came: Mrs. William J. Lupton and Mrs. Albert Engler and the Misses Permelia and Exizia Merault, all of this city, and a son, Alexander C. Merault. Her husband died in 1895.

Gwinn—George R. Jackson, who will succeed E. R. Elliott as superintendent of the Negaunee mines of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, was tendered a farewell party in the Gwinn association's clubhouse Saturday evening by 400 Gwinn, Princeton and Austin people. Mr. Jackson was presented with a Waltham watch. Mrs. Jackson was given a pin set with diamonds and pearls.

Ishpeming—A. C. Harrington, general manager of the Marquette County Gas & Electric company for three years, has tendered his resignation, to take effect Thursday. His resignation was accepted when Mr. Harrington was in Chicago last week, where the official headquarters of the company are located, but to date no successor has been appointed.

Newberry—Joseph E. Bayliss, former representative of the state legislature from Chippewa county and now connected with the Michigan public domain commission, has accepted a position with the Dow Chemical company of Midland, Mich., and will shortly leave his present position with the state.

Manistique—The building for the Manistique Delivery Service company, Robert Attwood & Sons, proprietors, was completed last week by Contractor Charles Witter and everything will be in readiness to start operations April 3.

Ewen—George Smith, aged 47 years, died at the family home after an illness of only a few days. Mr. Smith had been a resident of Ewen for the past twenty-four years, during which time he was employed as camp foreman for the different logging concerns.

Newberry—Joseph Emms, one of Newberry's pioneer residents, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Richardson after a very brief illness of blood poisoning, aged 61 years.

Baraga—The following have been declared elected village officers: Albert E. Funke, president; William Mayo, clerk; Frank M. Ennis, treasurer; Hugh Nesbitt, trustee, two years; Thomas Strickland, trustee, two years; Fred Clise, trustee, two years; George E. Ibbotson, assessor.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Grand Marais—Miss Hazel Morterud, who has taught the primary room in our school the past two years, has secured a position to teach in the Duluth schools for the coming year.

Minneapolis—After examination of a dog's brain had shown rabies, six St. Paul persons who had been bitten by the animal were admitted for Pasteur treatment at the pathology department of the university Sunday. Five are children. None of the wounds is deep.

Detroit—Judge John A. Roeser is here conducting a term of court. He will be here for three weeks.

Mankato—Dan Donovan, who created a sensation at the German American State bank, by demanding what he claimed to be his deposit of $50,000, at the point of an empty revolver, was examined in the probate court for his sanity, and was committed by Judge Evan Hughes to the state insane asylum at St. Peter.

Red Wing—Local U. C. T. elected the following officers: Superior counselor, J. L. Hempftling; junior counselor, Arthur L. Gibson; past counselor, I. B. Harrison; secretary and treasurer, Harris G. Nelson; conductor, Carl D. Melander; page, G. E. Mack; sentinel, A. E. Selz; executive committee, H. J. Herder and John C. Back; physician, Dr. J. V. Anderson; delegates to grand council at Minot, N. D., I. B. Harrison and E. J. H. Bredehorst; alternates, H. G. Lillyblad and H. J. Herder.

Bemidji—The United States civil service commission has announced an examination for the county of Beltrami to be held on May 6 here to fill the position of rural carrier at Bemidji and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other postoffices in the county.

Crookston—Chris Heldstab, son of Mrs. Lena Heldstab, had three of his fingers of his left hand severed by a circular saw which he was operating.

Grygla—The Grygla hospital is becoming an important institution in this part of the state as is evidenced by the patronage it has. It started with a small building less than four years ago, has been enlarged and improved in the most perfect sanitary manner possible, and still more room is needed.

Moorhead—John B. Erickson, the proprietor of the Allen hotel, was arrested and taken to the station, as were 100 pints of whisky, one quart of whisky and a cask of beer, all of which were poured into the sewer at the station. Erickson pleaded guilty to the charge of conducting an unlicensed liquor establishment and paid a fine of $100.

Crookston—R. F. Leick, traveling salesman, with headquarters in Crookston, has returned from Duluth, where he was on a week's business trip.

Stillwater — Edward Strom, a resident of this city for thirty-three years, dropped dead on the street Monday. He was 49 years of age, and heart disease was the cause of death. He worked the past winter in a Tozer lumber camp and came home two weeks ago. He ate breakfast at the home of his brother, Martin Tornstrom, and started for a walk when he fell dead.

Rochester—Evered S. Crowell, aged 68, pioneer Rochester photographer, was found dead in bed Monday morning at his home here. A native of Belgrade, Me., he came west when 20, to Eau Claire, Wis., and moved here in 1873. He is survived by his wife, his son, Herbert E., of this city, and two daughters, Mrs. Homer Tyler of Gardina, Cal., and Mrs. W. G. Osborne of Montana.

DID GOTCH SEND FREDDY BEELL TO TRY OUT MYSTERIOUS STECHER?

When Ivan Mamutoff, the Huge Russian Demanded a Match With Gotch, It Was Beell Who Met and Defeated Him—Fred Fulton Is in Brisk Demand—Don't Overlook the New York Americans.

BY BRUCE.

THE general topic of conversation in Duluth sporting circles today is the Stecher-Beell contest. Beell is a household word in Duluth. Here the fans, some of them old men, have seen the wonderful little German perform some of the greatest wrestling feats ever witnessed on a mat. Some of these veterans recall the night in the old Metropolitan, down on the Bowery, when little Beell, fleet as a rabbit, made Frank A. Gotch, a champion in the very prime of his career, look foolish.

Now this little fellow, the miracle-worker, is coming back for a fling at the man who has been making wrestling history. It's small wonder that the fans over the city are talking about the coming contest. It is hardly to be wondered at that interest is running high for there is scarcely a man, woman or child in this town who does not know who little Freddy Beell is.

If it is true that Joe Stecher, who stretched Charley Cutler out on the mat in Omaha last summer—stretched Cutler out so dead to the world that it was necessary to lug the burly fellow from the canvas—has an expert use of but one great hold, the leg scissors around the body to recommend him, then it is figured that Beell, a real thinker, versed in every move of the game, a blocker and counterer like Waino Ketonen, will find a way to break the hold that has excited more speculation and more fear that the strangle hold of old Evan Lewis or the famous toe hold of Frank Gotch.

Is Frank Gotch sending Freddy Beell against Stecher? Who knows? Two years ago there came to the United States one Ivan Mamutoff. He was Russian and weighed 340 pounds. Ivan, a Russian, demanded a meeting with Frank Gotch. He had beaten some of the heavyweights of this country and thirsted for the champion.

Gotch whispered in the cauliflowered ear of little Freddy Beell. "Try this bird out," said Gotch. In Kansas City Beell defeated the huge Russian in two straight falls. Beell, so small, simply tangled the huge Russian up in a maze oi holds, and then flopped him to the floor and pinned his huge shoulders to the canvas. Maybe Gotch has whispered once more: "Go, Freddy, and see for me what this bird Stecher has got."

If any wrestler in the world can ascertain what Stecher has, that person is Fred Beell. After Beell and Stecher wrestle, will Gotch still stick to his determination to meet the Nebraska wonder? You will have to wait until after next Tuesday evening for the answer.

Fred Fulton in Demand.

IT looks as if Mike Collins is going to get some money with his large fighting man, Frederick Lane Fulton. They want to cultivate the acquaintance of Fulton in New York, with Jim Coffey in the role of interlocutor. Milwaukee would not mind seeing the Minnesota giant in action with some first class mitt slinger.

For the sake of Mike Collins, a well liked and clean-cut fellow, there are a great many followers of the boxing game who would like to see Fulton up near the championship. Collins has expended money, time and effort to get Fulton along toward the top. Another decisive victory and the fans oi the country will be forced to admit that the Rochester white hope is entitled to trot along after a match with Willard.

Moran and Jack Dillon. Gibbons and Jack Dillon.

JACK DILLON and Frank Moran are a prospective fight card for New York. Jack Dillon and Mike Gibbons are also a prospective boxing card for New York. As a general utility pugilistic man, Dillon is one of the busiest performers in the world of pugilism.

This is extremely funny, too. Lots of followers of the game are of the opinion that Dillon would defeat Moran; and lots of these same boxing fans are of the belief that Gibbons would defeat Dillon.

Those taking this rather peculiar view of Dillon against two men, argue that the Hoosier submarine can beat any man he can hit. Moran, the simon pure fighter, they believe can be hit and hit often by the man killer. Regarding the fleet and superbly clever Mike Gibbons, there is a lurking belief that Dillon would be made to appear much less formidable.

Some years ago Joe Choynski was playing general utility pugilistic roles. He met Jim Jeffries, Fitzsimmons, Maher and the rest of the heavies and then was toppled down to decisive defeat by Joe Wolcott, a stubby welter.

Dillon is poison to most of the heavyweights. Against a middleweight, and a light one at that, he might be made to look very bad.

The Rejuvenated Yankees.

DON'T overlook the Yankees. Frank Baker, Lee Magee and Slim Caldwell. A trio to cause many deep and envious thoughts on the part of seven American league magnates. Some have tipped it off that Lee Magee is the boy who is going to give Cobb the great chase for general ability honors. Then if Frank Baker gets his war club working in the effective way of old, he is going to provide the punch the Highlanders have lacked in the days of the past. While the followers of the game are glossing over the dope and kissing future pennant contenders on the alabaster brow, please don't overlook the N. Y. Americans.

CHICAGO BOWLERS MAY MAKE SWEEP

Up to Frank Shaw in Singles' Final Competition.

Toledo, Ohio, March 29.—America's greatest bowling tournament came to an end here last night when the last shots in the individual event were rolled without displacing the former leaders. Three of the four championships were won by Chicago, which has a chance to make a free sweep if Frank Shaw of that city can outroll Ben Huesman of Cincinnati and Sam Schliman of Toronto tonight.

"Sikes" Thoma and "Hank" Marino, won the doubles wit hthe mark of 1,279, rolled two weeks ago. Mattie Faetz and Charley Hildebrandt, two of the Colonna leaguers of Chicago, won second place in a tie with Edward Harkenrider, and W. Doehrman of Fort Wayne.

Thoma won the all events with 1,919, a comparatively small score considering the other fifteen meets. Otto Kallusch of Rochester ran second.

The three individual leaders, who are tied with 685 scores, will appear here tonight and roll three games for the national title, the winner of the contest taking the medal, emblematic of the honor, along with first money, while the two losers will divide second and third money.

WILLARD REFUSES TO MEET FULTON

Tom Andrews Offers $30,000 for Ten-Round Go.

New York, March 29.—Tom Jones, manager for Jess Willard said yesterday he had refused an offer of $30,000 for the heavyweight champion to box ten rounds with Fred Fulton in Milwaukee.

The offer, it was said, was made to Jones by Tom Andrews, a Milwaukee promoter, who came here last week to see the Willard-Moran fight. First Andrews offered $25,000 for a match with Fulton April 26, and when this was turned down, he increased the offer.

Jones it was said, told Andrews that Willard's contract with a circus will take effect on April 20 and he would not accept any engagement which would jeopardize it. He said the circus contract was for $150,000.

NED TEN EYCK WILL COACH

Famous Sculler Will Have Full Charge of Duluth Crews.

Preparedness Meeting for Rowing Men; Local Club Faces Big Task.

Ned Ten Eyck will have full and complete charge of the coaching of the Duluth crews during the coming season. Announcement to this effect will be made during the oarsmen's meeting, scheduled for this evening in the assembly room of the Commercial club. Owing to press of business, Jim Ten Eyck will not be able to devote all of his time to the crews. Ned Ten Eyck, one of the greatest oarsmen the game has ever produced, and a coach recognized the length and breadth of the country, will take over the duties so brilliantly fulfilled in the past by young Jim.

Morrison, a member of the crack junior eight of 1913, is out for the crew. Morrison is one of the best constructed oarsmen who ever sat in a Duluth boat. Tall and ideally proportioned, the big fellow is expected to prove one of the best seniors in the squad this season.

H. Burnett also made an appearance yesterday. This kid gives promise of being one of the best men in the boat club list of crew candidates. Burnett is a husky youth with all the qualifications of a crack sweep man and Ned Ten Eyck wore a broad grin over the acquisition of two candidates of the worth of Morrison and Burnett.

Meeting Is Important.

The meeting on tonight's program is very important. Every oarsman or would-be in the city is asked to attend. It is a "show down" meeting, speaking in a poker sense, and after the gathering is over it is expected that the rowing officials of the club will know precisely where they are at. The meeting is called to arrive at a definite understanding. There is a big task ahead of the crew coaches and a big task ahead of every man trying for a position in the various crews. The magnitude of this task and some plans and details of its accomplishment will be taken up in tonight's meeting.

Every man trying for the crew, every man who expects to become a crew candidate, old oarsmen and every one having some helpful suggestions to make, is requested to be present.

The meeting is set for 8 o'clock and is a direct appeal to every rowing man in the city. Duluth, in a rowing . . is facing the greatest task in the history of the club. Preparedness is the issue of the day. The Duluth Boat club is not, as yet, fully prepared to successfully resist the invasion of foreign rowing clubs. Tonight's meeting is along the line of preparedness. Strenuous measures must be taken.

FULTON RECEIVES BIG OFFER FOR THREE BOUTS.

Sam Howard, a manager of boxers who was here last winter, wired the sport department of The Herald today that Mike Collins, manager of Fred Fulton, has been offered $50,000 for three fights in New York. According to Howard's wire, Collins is going to accept the offer.

Coffey and Moran are believed to be two of the future opponents of Fulton, should the agreement be signed.

Captains Ohio State Quint.

Columbus, Ohio, March 29.—Fred W. Norton of Lakeside, Ohio, last night was elected captain of the 1916-17 Ohio State university basket ball team. Norton was a member of the football team last season, and has played forward on the varsity five for two seasons. He is a junior in the agricultural college.

Levinsky Beats Dillon.

New York, March 29.—Battling Levinsky of New York outpointed Jack Dillon of Indianapolis in a ten-round bout in Brooklyn yesterday. Levinsky weighed 177½ pounds and Dillon 169½.

HIGH SCORES MARK PLAY

Major League Bowlers Turn in High Counts; Season Nearly at End.

Some very creditable scores were made last evening in the Major Bowling league weekly games. Wade turned in a score of 649, Newmann hit the wood for a count of 657 and Weston counted 618. On top of this tall individual shooting, the members of the Big Duluth team hung up a score of 2,920, the best three-game team score of the season.

The Oak Halls, league leaders, dropped two out of three games to the Empress team, while the Big Duluths won two out of three games from the Elcoras. With the season drawing to a close, it appears that the pennant lies between th Oak Halls and Elcoras, with the Sharkcraft team in third place. The scores in detail:

PROMISING PLAYERS ON WHITE SOX CLUB ROSTER

Infield Candidates Look Awfully Good to Manager O'Brien—Webb and Faull Are Highly Touted—Bunny Schreiber May Play Outfield—Pensfold and Lane Expected to Shine on Mound.

If Darby O'Brien gets Bunny Schreiber, he believes his team will be amply fortified in both the infield and outfield. Schreiber can play any infield position and can, in addition, be sent to the outfield.

It will be recalled that the former Duluth shortstop went to the St. Paul team of the American association and made a wonderful record in the outfield. From St. Paul, Bunny went to the Chicago White Sox, and later to the Lincoln club of the Western league, playing with that club last season.

Schreiber played 141 games last year and hit the horschide to the tune of .266. O'Brien figures that Schreiber will larrup the spheroid well over the .300 mark in this league and will prove an invaluable man. Darby also believes that Schreiber will make another journey to the big leagues. He is but a kid in years and Darby believes that another year in the minors is just what he needs.

Altman, of course, is an outfielder d worth. Last year Jerry hit for .314. Young Mickey McGraw is also an outfield candidate. The youngster bears all the earmarks of a real ball player. In twenty games last year the kid clubbed the pill for a mark of .333, standing fourth in the league.

Strong Infield Promised.

Webb, the player who was signed last year by Jack Hendricks of the Indianapolis team of the American association, will be tried at shortstop or second base. This kid is said to be exceptionally fast and a great ground coverer. Hendricks would have given the youngster a tryout this year, had it not been for the fact that Federal league material filled up the places.

Darby believes he is extremely fortunate in securing Webb. The Dook declares the kid is a hard and timely hitter, in addition to his sterling qualities as a fielder.

Ogrin, who was with Augusta in the South Atlantic league last year, banged the ball at a .250 gait down there and is considered a great infielder. If Webb goes to short or third base, it is very likely that Ogrin will be placed on second. Harry Wolfe will be back, and it is most likely that he will be found at his old position of shortstop.

In addition to Webb, Ogrin and Wolfe, there is Lausche, the crack amateur player of Cleveland. This lad is considered one of the greatest infielders ever turned out in the Forest City, a place justly famous for the star amateurs it has developed.

Lausche delivered two hard and timely hits in the game that won the world's amateur championship last fall. He has been sought by several minor league club owners, but Darby, through the assistance of his friends, landed the youngster. If Lausche comes up to expectations, he is quite sure to find a place on the infield.

Faull Highly Touted.

Jack Faull of Hurley, Wis., is highly touted as a first baseman. This kid stung the spheroid at a .428 clip up in the brush and his fielding was said to be remarkable. Sometimes these highly touted brush birds explode when they get in professional company. If Faull proves as good as his admirers claim for him, he is going to cinch the job of first basing.

Schroeder will be back, it is believed, and a lad named Smith is another candidate for the first base job.

Penfold, Posten, Nartoff, Smith, Culver, Morse, Lane, Watkins and Callon are mound candidates.

Penfold is the chap who has pitched sensational baseball for the Fort William team. O'Brien declares that this boy is one of the stars of the league. Posten played here last year. Bartof was with Grand Forks and looks like a real slab actor. Culver was with St. Boniface and Duluth last year. Lane is a South Dakota mound product and has been sought by Ned Egan, Doyle, Fred Curtis and other managers. Darby believes he has a real find in Lausche.

by expects great doings of this youngster. Smith is a big fellow with a fast ball and plenty of action. Watkins is the Carlton boy who made so impressive a record with the Sox at the tail end of last season. As in the case of Lane, the Dook believes he has acquired a comer in Watkins.

Practice will not begin before the middle of next month. That will give the Dook over two weeks' work with his men before the bell rings in the Northern league. In the meantime both Darby and Owner Blume will be on the lookout for a trade or a deal that may land them another crack player. With Ryan, Hoffmeister and Walgermott behind the bat, O'Brien feels fairly well fortified, but if he can effect a trade in which Baker may figure, another catcher may be added to the White Sox string.

SPORT NEWS IN TABLOID FORM

College, Amateur and Professional Performances and Prospects Are Reviewed.

Minneapolis—Richard Lewis, captain of the University of Minnesota basket ball team, broke the conference record for the second time for free throws made this year, according to announcement by the athletic director of the university. Lewis set a new record of 58 free throws last year out of a possible 94. This year he made 61 shots out of 85 chances, his score being more than 10 points higher than that of any other player in the conference.

Besides winning the honor of scoring the most points for any team during the season, Levis of the University of Wisconsin won second place in making free throws.

South Bend, Ind.—More than 200 schools will be entered in the annual track and field meet of the Northern Indiana association, which will be held at Notre Dame on May 20. Eleven schools will enter teams. South Bend, Mishawake, Michigan City, Elkhart, Goshen, Crown Point, Hammond, East Chicago, Gary, Laporte and Valparaiso are members of the association.

Crawfordsville, Ind.—Eddie Summers, former member of the Detroit American league team, has been selected to coach the Wabash college baseball team, according to announcement made by Graduate Manager Diddel. More than thirty men are trying out for the team, and Summers says he is well pleased with the prospects.

Greencastle, Ind.—The new Bowman memorial gymnasium, which was dedicated here recently, has caused a boom in all branches of athletics at the De Pauw university. There has been scarcely an hour during the day since the new structure was opened when there were not a number of students going through some form of exercise or engaging in some branch of sport in the building. The track squad has fourteen veterans, and expects to finish high in the I. C. A. L. meet.

Thirty-eight candidates have reported for the baseball squad, and the men are taken outdoors every time the weather permits.

Lafayette, Ind.—Purdue's track men are taking a short vacation following their strenuous indoor season, before beginning the outdoor work. The outdoor track season opens with the Drake relay meet at Des Moines, Iowa. The Purdue runners won the two-mile relay last year, and hope to repeat. The remainder of the track schedule follows: May 6, Wisconsin, at Madison; May 13, Northwestern, at Lafayette; May 20, Chicago, at Chicago; May 27, Indiana state meet, at Lafayette; June 2 and 3, conference meet at Chicago or Evanston.

Toledo, Ohio—When the American association opens on April 18 with Milwaukee here, Roger Bresnahan, former manager of the Chicago Nationals, will have one of the most formidable arrays of baseball players in the circuit. Bresnahan sends word from the training camp at Dawson Springs, Ky., that his men are rapidly rounding into shape and will be in condition within a very few days.

His roster at present stands as follows:

George Stovall, first base.
Earl Gardner, second base.
J. W. Rawlings, shortstop.
William Hoffman, third base.
Hugh Bedient, Ralph Comstock, George Kaiserling, Abe Bowman and Miles Main, pitchers, and Rex, Devogt and Bresnahan, catchers.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Local and outside followers of the boxing game are looking forward with great interest to the contest on April 7 between Lightweight Champion Freddie Welsh of England and Ritchie Mitchell, Milwaukee. Welsh will come in at catch weights, which means that he will have several points the advantage over Mitchell, who will weigh about 133 pounds. Mitchell will have a host of followers at the ringside.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Of the twenty-seven men in the wrestling tournament of the University of Michigan, two Greeks and a Japanese are regarded as possible winners. Moisides, a Greek giant, is expected to star in the heavyweight division. Kiyohara, a welterweight, is the Japanese contestant.

St. Louis, Mo.—Thomas G. Watts, Jr., who promoted the big Missouri Athletic association indoor track carnival, has decided he intends to resign as chairman of the association as soon as the financial details of the meet are settled.

"Long-distance whangling was too much for me," Watts said. "I lost ten pounds, resigned from business, lost half of my friends, made hundreds of enemies and worried myself sick. Hereafter in any athletic meet I shall be a private citizen. No more promoting. I'm going back into the harness business for a vacation."

Minneapolis, Minn.—The trans-Mississippi golf tournament will be held at the Interlachen club here during the week beginning July 24. Local representatives notified officials of the association that the weather at that period is best suited for the big meet, and the recommendation met with approval.

The trans-Mississippi tournament will come a month later than the national open tournament, which will be held at the Minikahda club here June 27 to 30.

The golfing season will be opened here April 1, if weather conditions permit.

Minneapolis, Minn.—In an effort to put a stop to the practice of prize fighters entering Minnesota rings over weight, M. L. Molan, Minneapolis representative on the Minnesota state boxing commission, will present to the commission at its next meeting a proposal to incorporate a rule providing for the deduction of 10 per cent of a fighter's purse for failure to make the required weight.

"We have authority to make rules, and we could do nothing that would help the game more than a rule of this character," said Mr. Molan. "Many fighters would deliberately forfeit a small sum posted on making weight in order to enter the ring with an advantage in pounds, which, of course, is unfair to the opposing fighter. But a rule deducting 10 per cent of the purse would undoubtedly solve the question.

Tepeka, Kan.—Frank Zehrung, president of the Western league, announced when he was here on his first trip around the circuit that he was looking for "God-fearing umpires." Zehrung was a theatrical manager before his election to the presidency of the league, and he said:

"One thing my outfit of regulators is going to do is a plan that I found to be excellent in fourteen years as managers of stock companies. That is, to hurry the entertainment along and let the crowd go home. There will be no loafing while my umpires are on the job."

Muskogee, Okla.—There is one municipality in Oklahoma that believes in helping baseball along. Muskogee is the place. Just recently the city council voted to let the Muskogee baseball management use part of one of the public streets for an extension of the baseball park. With this addition to its park, the Muskogee Western association team will have one of the largest parks in the league, it was pointed out.

Chicago—Officers at the Great Lakes Naval Training school have ordered their golf course there lengthened to 3,000, and plan to carry out a regular schedule of tournaments the coming season. The turf is said to be in good condition, but the green requires some improvement. Hazzards include roads, trees, terraces, etc., and the course is considered difficult enough to be interesting. The nine holes are each named after a college or university and marked by its colors, the titles being: Annapolis, West Point, Yale, Harvard, Illinois, Michigan, Culver, Wisconsin and Vassar. Bogey for the course is 42.

CITY DEPARTMENT HEADS WILL CONFER

City department heads will hold their first weekly conference in the council chambers tomorrow afternoon. City Clerk Borgen, who recently suggested these conferences, yesterday afternoon sent out a call for the meetings at 3 o'clock tomorrow. All the department heads and city officers have been invited to attend the conference.

NEW YORKER IN BOW STREET COURT

French Government Demands Extradition of J. W. DeKay for Fraud.

London, March 29.—John Wesley De Kay of New York was arraigned in the Bow Street police court yesterday on the French government's demand for his extradition on a charge of fraud against the Belgian government.

The prosecutor, speaking on behalf of the Belgian government, said the defendant had participated with a Frenchman named E. S. Cartier in obtaining 315,000 francs by false pretenses from Belgium. He charges that De Kay was formerly the agent in Europe of Victoriano Huerta, president of Mexico, for the purpose of purchasing artillery and ammunition for the Mexican government. He purchased

JOHN WESLEY DE KAY.

17,000 rifles and 1,000,000 rounds of ammunition in Spain and paid for them, but, the prosecutor added, when the European war broke out, the whole shipment was still in Spain.

De Kay then saw a chance, the prosecutor continued, to make a fine profit by selling the arms and ammunition, but Spain was unwilling to let the arms go to European belligerents. Nevertheless De Kay, according to the prosecutor, entered into negotiations with the Belgian government, which urgently desired the arms for the Congo. The Belgian government agreed to purchase the consignment, agreeing to pay 10 per cent down and the remainder on delivery. It was provided that in the event that delivery did not take place, Belgium was to get back her deposit, less the expenses incurred by De Kay and his associates in endeavoring to get the arms out of Spain.

The prosecutor said the arms had never been delivered and that no part of the 315,000 francs deposited had been refunded.

On the other hand, De Kay's attorneys maintained that the transaction was entirely legitimate. De Kay, they said, had made every possible effort to deliver the goods and De Kay would have been glad to refund the unexpected balance, but his money was tied up in Mexican certificates, for which there was no present market. The hearing was adjourned.

The case against De Kay dates back to last November, when De Kay was arrested in London. At that time he declared there was no foundation for the charge, as there was nothing wrong in the transaction.

ACCIDENT DUE TO OWN CARELESSNESS

Joseph Catena has no one but himself to blame for personal injuries which he received on Nov. 26 last when a motor truck of the Rust-Parker company ran him down at Lake avenue and Superior street, according to a jury which reported to Judge Cant yesterday afternoon. Catena sued for $5,000, but the verdict was for the defendant company and its sureties. Andrew Nelson represented Catena, and I. K. Lewis appeared as attorney for the defendants.

MONSTER PARADE PLANNED BY WOMEN

Will Be Feature of Prohibition Convention at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Club women, suffragists and members of national organizations opposed to the manufacture and sale of liquor are completing preliminary arrangements for the part they will play in the national prohibition convention to be held in this city, July 18 to 21.

A feature of the campaign by the women will be a monster parade, plans for which have been made by the general parade committee.

Headquarters for the women will be established at the Young Women's Christian association building during the convention and delegates will be present from all states in the union, representing the National Suffrage association, the Congressional union, W. C. T. U., General Federation of Clubs and other national women's organizations.

Mrs. Frances E. Beauchamp, state president of the W. C. T. U. in Kenand secretary of the executive committee of the Prohibition party, has been active in the work being carried on by the women in preparation for the convention, as has also Mrs. Florence Slown Hyde, Chicago, executive secretary of the Women's National Prohibition federation. Mrs. Hyde recently came here for a conference with Twin City club women.

GIRL CONFESSES TO SETTING FIRE

Cleveland Waitress Feared She Would Be Forced Into White Slavery.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 29.—As a result of the confession of Bessie Reimers, 19, waitress, that driven by fear she would be forced into white slavery, she set fire to the Foster apartments yesterday morning, causing the death of two persons and injury to eighteen, the girl was arrested on the charge of manslaughter and arson.

George Hanson, waiter, 25, and George Bauman, 26, also were arrested on the charge of being suspicious persons, pending further investigation by the police.

In her signed confession to Chief of Detectives Rabshaw, the girl said she was driven to desperation by Hanson and his associates. As a result of a police raid on the Foster apartments last week, in which she was innocently involved, she lost her position, and in her confession declared she sought death as a means of evading Hanson and his companions.

The girl admitted that Monday morning she set fire to her bed in an effort to commit suicide, but was rescued by firemen. Yesterday morning she turned on two gas jets without lighting them, bound her ankles and gagged herself so she could not make an alarm, and then waited for death. A small stove which was lighted, ignited the gas and started the fatal fire, she said.

WISCONSIN GUARD IN FINE CONDITION

Largely Result of Recent Orders By Gen. Orlando Holway.

Madison, Wis., March 29.—The Wisconsin National Guard is in a far better condition to take the field than ever in the past, largely as a result of recent orders by Gen. Orlando Holway, by which he increased the strength of the guard, equipped it with machine guns and mounted orderlies for scouting purposes, trained it in work that would be necessary in the field and made an effort to have the people at large see that they owed a part by giving their support.

It was at a meeting of the officers of the guard at Milwaukee on Nov. 3, 1915, that Gen. Holway announced that the strength of companies would be increased from three officers and sixty-five enlisted men to three officers and eighty-nine men and the equipment for that number would be issued as fast as the companies recruited. That was to be an increase of three squads. However, a subsequent investigation showed that congress had failed to make provisions to carry that cut, Wisconsin's appropriation being only sufficient to enable the companies being increased to eighty-one men. On Nov. 24, 1915, orders to increase to eighty-one were issued.

The order provided for the armed peace strength of a regiment of fifty-one officers and 1,110 enlisted men in addition to four surgeons and twenty-four men in the sanitary detachment assigned to each regiment, the enlisted strength being: Twelve companies, 972; machine gun company, fifty; supply company, thirty-three; headquarters company, band section, twenty-nine; mounted orderly section, twenty; non-commissioned staff section, six. If recruited to war strength the enlisted men will number 1,836. The last inspection report showed the regiments numbered nearly 1,000 men each while the previous report showed: First infantry, 905; second, 929; third, 900 in addition to the officers.

It was to get the desired war strength that Gen. Holway issued his letter of March 23 directing company commanders to recruit to 150 even if the additional equipment could not be obtained.

April 23, 1915, Gen. Holway issued an order authorizing the organization of machine gun and supply companies and mounted orderly sections for each regiment.

Under orders issued Nov. 11, 1911, Camp Douglas is designed as the mobilization point. In case of a call to active duty all the troops will assemble there at once, weather permitting, while every first lieutenant, who is at all times equipped with the necessary blanks, will remain at home to recruit. As soon as he has taken on enough men to bring his company to 150 he will join his command, the recruits being sent on as fast as enlisted. The regiments being fully organized will proceed to a Federal concentration camp.

ROBLIN AND THREE OTHERS INDICTED

Charged With Conspiracy to Defraud in Building Erection.

Winnipeg, Man., March 29.—True bills were returned by the grand jury in assizes court late yesterday against Sir Rodmond Roblin, former premier of this province; George R. Coldwell and James H. Howden, who were members of the Roblin cabinet, and Thomas Kelly, contractor, now being held in Chicago, charging conspiracy to defraud in connection with the erection of the Manitoba parliament buildings.

The grand jury recommended that the trials be held in June, and a date will be set for argument since it is the expressed desire of the defense that the hearings be held immediately.

True bills are found against Sir Rodmond and Messrs. Coldwell and Howden, two of his former cabinet ministers, on charges of conspiracy to defraud, of the corruption of witnesses and of attempting to corrupt witnesses. A true bill is also found against Sir Rodmond on a charge of the destruction of public documents and on another count of the attempted destruction of public documents. A true bill is found against Thomas Kelly, contractor for the buildings, who is charged with theft, receiving and obtaining money under false pretenses, and perjury. Kelly is at present in Chicago fighting extradition to Canada.

BADGER GIRLS WILL URGE ENLISTMENTS

Monroe, Wis., March 29.—Twenty young women here have formed a society for the promotion of enlistments in the National Guard, they announced, and have declared their readiness to help Capt. A. E. Mitchell recruit his company to full war strength.

The girls say that they refuse to welcome any callers at their homes who are not members of the local militia company, saying they are fitted to judge whether non-members of the National Guard have a reasonable excuse for failing to enlist, or are "slackers."

What the salesmanager said to the salesman

"Now, on your trip to New York, I want you to buy your ticket from Chicago to New York over the Baltimore & Ohio.

"Stop off at Pittsburgh and make your calls there. Then go on to Washington. Stop off there—the morning will do for that. Then run up to Baltimore and put in the afternoon and evening. Then go to Philadelphia and handle things there.

"When you have finished in Philadelphia, go right on in to New York. You'll do all this traveling on the same ticket. Be sure to deposit it at the station where you stop off.

"You ought to be bright and fresh and full of 'pep' all the trip, for you'll travel as we like our men to do—on the very best trains that are run anywhere, over the finest track and roadbed, and in the very latest models of Pullman sleepers. Incidentally, you'll save the house some money by using this stop-over through ticket.

"Telephone the Baltimore & Ohio ticket office and they will fix you up properly. They have four all-steel through trains out of Chicago every day. The "Interstate Special" and "Chicago Limited" are observation trains and carry compartment sleepers as well."

All trains leave Grand Central Station, Chicago, and leave 63rd Street Station 25 minutes later.

Instant Relief from Pain, Sourness, Gases, Acidity, Heartburn and Dyspepsia---No Waiting!

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in a few moments you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, and most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Try it!—Advertisement.

Drive Catarrh Away By Purifying Your Blood

During winter, nature changes the blood of man and we, because of our habits, unconsciously do those things which are against nature. Then far down amid the vital organs creep weaknesses, that our blood is not vigorous enough to fight off.

Here is where Catarrh enters and quickly makes a conquest. We feel the effects of a cold in nose or throat and sometimes in lungs and stomach. The most common symptoms of the presence of Catarrh is an inflamed and tender condition of the breathing passages and the blocking of throat and nostrils with mucous.

If the blood was pure and vigorous Catarrh would not get a foothold. But having gotten a foothold in our system, the only possible way to cure the disease is to remove the impurities from the blood and at the same time tone up the blood so it will become vigorous and health again.

The use of washes, sprays, salves, have only a temporary local effect; they do not reach the disease. S. S. S. has proved for half a century to be the most powerful antidote to poison in the blood. Its action is to strengthen the blood corpuscles so they fight off disease. If you suffer from Catarrh in any of its forms, don't be misled into treating the symptoms but take S. S. S and remove the cause.

CLUB SEEKS ROAD WORK

Hibbing Commercial Club Committee Reports on What Is Needed.

Good Roads Committee Starts Campaign for Better Stuntz Highway.

Hibbing, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The good roads committee of the Commercial club this morning submitted its report on the condition of several roads leading into Hibbing and recommended that the Commercial club use all the influence possible with the town board of the town of Stuntz and County Commissioner O'Neill of this district to bring about improvements to the several roads leading to and from Hibbing.

The good roads committee consists of A. P. Silliman, T. C. Sullivan, A. E. Dyer and P. J. Ryan.

What Is Wanted.

The first part of the report deals with the description and condition of roads. The existing conditions as found on the South Lavell-Nevalainen road, the Iron Junction, Hughes town line road, the Kitzville Grace Hayes road and the Sturgeon Lake road are described. The committee recommends the following improvements: The widening of the Sturgeon Lake road; that the northeast corner of section 4, 57-20 east one and one-half miles to north quarter corner of section 2, 57-20 in the Kitzville Grace road be constructed by the town of Stuntz as early as possible and that the Iron Junction road be put in a passable condition.

MORE CHISHOLM JOBS ARE FILLED

President Webber Declares All Employes Must Be Citizens.

Chisholm, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village has dropped its suit against Frank H. Harris, former local publisher, to recover for alleged overcharges in printing bills, the council Monday evening coming to the conclusion the trial of the case would cost more than would be realized if it were won.

The following appointments were made: Patrolmen, Nell Beaton, Bert Forder, Morris Simonson, Oscar Carlson, Eligo Corradi, Ed Cloutier, John Scherninge, Frank Grams, Ed Dumont, Louis Flemming, Anton Pierce, David Niemi, Joe Ule; captain fire department, Larry Grant; village engineer, George Anderson; matron of the poor, Mrs. Mark Harris; assistant street foremen, Filp Harrington, Mike Talus, Peter Clochetto.

President Webber suggested that all appointed to village offices were presumed to be citizens and that it should be made obligatory on the part of the appointees to prove their citizenship. As it was decided that such action was customary, no action by the council was considered necessary.

Purchasing—Maturi, Mahne and Webber.

Streets and sewers—Munro, Graham and Mahne.

Cemetery—Munro, Maturi and Graham.

Auditing — Graham, Webber and Mahne.

Park—Munro, Mahne and Webber.

The meeting adjourned until Monday night at 8 o'clock.

OPERETTA AT AURORA.

School Pupils Will Present "Sylvia" on Friday Evening.

Aurora, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Sylvia," a pastoral operatta in two acts, will be given at the Hearding auditorium Friday night by Aurora pupils.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Then give fruit laxative for stomach, liver, bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has the grip or sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

WIFE DISAPPEARS, SO DOES MAN AND COIN.

Hibbing, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sent to Duluth to deposit several hundred dollars in a bank, the wife of a former Pine street saloon keeper is said to have failed to return and account for the money and a man formerly employed as bartender in the one-time saloon is also reported missing.

The Duluth police have been asked to find the couple.

AWARDS CONTRACT FOR INCINERATOR

Hibbing Council Accepts Bid of International Falls Concern.

Hibbing, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. E. Overson of International Falls was awarded a contract by the village council last night to build a two-unit incinerator for $7,450 on the site of the old Winston Deer camps, on the road to Brooklyn.

His bid was the lowest. The bids ranged from $7,450 to $28,450.

Work started this morning and it will be completed in ninety days.

The budget submitted by the park board of $28,500 was accepted and the village recorder was instructed to request the members of the board to ask for an appropriation of $5,000 to be used in maintaining the band, this summer.

A petition signed by 1,000 prominent citizens asking that the park board grant the request of the council was also submitted.

The report of the clerk of the municipal court showed a balance of $10.50. J. F. Lindberg and Nides Bros. asked for permission to improve their buildings inside the fire limit; referred to the fire committee.

Applications for many positions were placed on file. Another bid for a fire engine from the White Fire Engine company was turned over to the village attorney with instructions that he find out if any other bids for fire engines could be accepted at this time.

MESABA RANGE MAY HAVE GAME PRESERVE

Proposed to Include Powder Company's 2,000 Acres at Wilpin.

Hibbing, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—A game refuge comprising 5,000 acres including the present site of the Dupont Powder company's plant at Wilpin and the surrounding territory, will become a fact if present plans backed by the Hibbing Gun club and the state forestry department carry.

The Dupont company owns 2,000 acres on which no trespassing is allowed. Three thousand other acres of land which borders it will be combined with the powder company's lands and on it will be a game refuge for birds and deer. From time to time this territory will be added to.

HEAVY SNOWFALL TO PREVENT FOREST FIRES

Virginia, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Danger of forest fires in the north woods is remote for months to come, according to Forest Ranger Beatty, who was here from Orr yesterday, because of the heavy snowfall. He says lakes in the north country are unsafe for travel, but there is still a good deal of snow on the ground and settlers and others traveling through the woods find such travel impossible without the use of snowshoes.

FEE OWNERS LOOK OVER CHISHOLM MINE

Chisholm, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—George Baumgartner and Henry W. Lamberton of Winona, Albert Barge of Chicago and Walter F. Larabee of Chippewa Falls, representing fee interests of the Chisholm mine, inspected the mine on Tuesday.

BAND GATHERING DURING FAIR

Hibbing, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a meeting of the directors and officers of the St. Louis County Agricultural society and the Saturday club yesterday afternoon plans were discussed for arranging the premiums at the fair this fall as applied to the women's work.

A band convention will be held here during the last three days of the fair. Twenty or more bands will be in attendance.

BUSINESS REPORTED GOOD IN HIBBING

Hibbing, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing is enjoying one of the busiest seasons in years if the demand for vacant stores is a criterion. Twelve places formerly occupied by saloons are used by other lines of trade or will be in a few weeks.

Grand Rapids Tots Play.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Presbyterian ladies will be sponsors for a home talent play in which sixty little ones will take part on Friday evening at the high school auditorium. The play will be the "Tom Thumb Wedding," and it will be put on by Miss Rose Phillips of Kansas City. The tots taking part are being trained by the Presbyterian ladies while the principals are being coached by Miss Phillips.

VIRGINIA BOYS DRUNK ON STREET

City Council Names Committee to Learn Where Drink Came From.

Virginia, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Aldermen Murray, Harvey and McGhee and Mayor Michael Boylan were appointed a special committee at last night's meeting of the city council to investigate charges that five minors were found upon the streets of the city last Saturday evening intoxicated. Alderman Heritage in calling the attention of the council to the incident declared it was so flagrant that it warranted immediate investigation. Aldermen Murray and Harvey backed up the Heritage statement with personal reports that they had witnessed similar incidents. Alderman McGhee declared a full investigation and drastic action to bring the liquor dealers guilty of selling to minors was imperative.

Alderman Heritage said he had been criticised for remarks he had made at a meeting of the city council two weeks ago reflecting on the police department. He said he stood on the same ground as he did at that time. "Where are the police and what is the matter?" asked Heritage, "when incidents of this sort occur."

Mayor's Hands Tied.

Chevalier Tritchler suggested the matter was one for the personal attention of the mayor. The mayor declared his hands were tied as the police force was under the direction of the police and fire commission and all the members of the present board were appointees of his predecessor.

The incident which caused the outburst of indignation at last night's council meeting is said to have occurred late last Saturday evening, when some boys were seen staggering up Chestnut street in an advanced stage of intoxication. Hundreds of pedestrians encountered them and there was a general complaint. Where the boys secured their liquor is not known. The special council committee will make a full investigation.

City Attorney Montague submitted an opinion that the appointment of a secretary to the council committees was legal and in a second opinion reviewed at length a controversy between the city and the Lawrence-McCann comapny upon which the final estimate for the construction of the six-foot sewer is held up. The matter will be taken up by the council as a committee of the whole at a special meeting.

WANTS CENSUS OF ELY TAKEN

Commercial Club Also Proposes Park System Be Developed.

Ely, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club in session at the opera house last night decided that a census should be taken in justice to all as it is believed the city has grown considerably since the Federal census was taken. It was also decided that a system of parks should be developed and that the land near the Iron Range depot should be beautified. As the members of the old charter commission have resigned President Brozich appointed the following on a committee to submit thirty names to the judges of the district court for appointment: Dr. George T. Ayres, Mike Murphy, James Moonan, Mark Zoretic and John Palmgard. The club devoted considerable time to the matter of recommendations to the game and fish committee to the matter of commercial fishing in international waters.

To Protect Game and Fish.

There is a desire upon the part of the club to protect game and fish and at the same time accommodate commercial fishermen. The game and fish committee was instructed to go to Winton and confer with the fishermen at that point.

The secretary was ordered to write the school board urging the erection of a grandstand on the athletic field.

Public welfare and public entertainment committees were added to the list already announced.

GOES TO NEW YORK.

Doctor Connected With Alger-Smith Camps Takes Gotham Assignment.

Knife River, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. T. E. Makedon for the last year in charge of the medical service at camps operated by Alger-Smith & Co., left last evening for New York city to join Sloan hospital staff, he to take charge of an important department in that institution. Miss Jessica Van Norman will succeed him for the present. The doctor made many friends during his connection with the company.

HIBBING WATER AND LIGHT BOARD MEETS

Hibbing, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—L. Blake appeared before the water and light commission last night and asked that all heating apparatus be placed on a 4-cent rate. The board decided to take up the proposition.

Supt. Rowan of the power plant requested that manufacturers use a single-phaze motor instead of a three-phaze one, as he was of the belief that it would be cheaper to the board in the end.

The recorder was instructed to get estimates on lead pipe, pig lead, wire and other electrical supplies, and to order it months in advance so the village would get in on the lower prices.

Alkali in Soap Bad For the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonsful will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

This was the warmest morning of the year, the temperature at 7 o'clock being 41 deg. above zero, but by 10 o'clock it had slipped down to 38 deg. Chilly weather for later on is promised. The sky is partly cloudy, but not enough to interfere much with the sun, and the day, taken all in all, is beautiful.

A year ago today was sunny and cold. The sun rose at 5:51 this morning and this evening will set at 6:34, giving twelve hours and forty-three minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Barometric depressions centered off the Middle Atlantic coast and over Kansas caused light rain over Michigan, the Upper Ohio valley and Middle Atlantic states and light rain or snow from Colorado and Utah northward to Alberta during the last twenty-four hours. The temperature has risen over the Central Valley states and has fallen somewhat throughout the Rocky Mountain region. Light to heavy frosts last night in Washington and Oregon and light frost at Montgomery, Ala., and Memphis, Tenn."

General Forecasts.

LOCAL FORECAST

Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Partly cloudy and colder tonight and Thursday. Lowest temperature tonight 20 deg. to about 25 deg. at and near Duluth-Superior and 15 to 20 deg. on the iron ranges. Moderate to fresh northeast to north winds.

The board also instructed the recorder to order 150 insulators.

The wages of the men working at the pumps at the new wells was fixed at $3.25 a day. They will work twelve hours, in two shifts.

BLOUGH HEADS CLUB.

Is Elected President of Chisholm Commercial Organization.

Chisholm, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club has just held its first meeting since last June and chosen the following officers:

President, Clyde Blough; first vice president, A. E. Howe; second vice president, D. J. Harrington; treasurer, Maitland Tripp; secretary, A. H. Kleffman.

A. R. Syme urged that the club incorporate and the president was directed to name a committee to investigate and report. A get-together banquet is proposed and the president has authority to make the next meeting a social affair if he thinks it advisable.

J. H. McNiven suggested that the council be requested to in some way lend financial assistance which would permit renumerating the secretary for his services. The suggestion met with favor and the president was directed to appoint a committee to lay the matter before the council.

BLIND-PIG LIQUOR WOODSMAN'S UNDOING

Chisholm, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—After working last winter in the logging camps, Erick Maki, aged 30, came here Monday night and tried to quench his thirst with bootleg whisky at a blind-pig near the bridge. Maki succeeded in getting himself so drunk that he craved a fight. Flourishing a .32-caliber automatic revolver, he cleared the place and then started out to clear the street.

As Maki emerged from the saloon he encountered Officer Forder, and he was overhauled.

When arraigned before Judge William A. Masters in municipal court Tuesday, Maki pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly and carrying concealed weapons. One hundred dollars and costs, or ninety days in the county jail ,was the sentence, and Maki could not pay the fine. He was taken to Duluth Tuesday afternoon.

DRY TERRITORY IS MADE MORE PARCHED

Virginia, Minn., March 29.—Although there are no saloons in Cook, Gheen, Angora, Cusson and Orr territory north of here, all having been closed either by the voters or the roadhouse law, Indian Agent C. H. Benson holds that that territory is in the Indian dry treaty territory and must be kept free from liquor. He has accordingly directed railroads and other carriers not to transport liquor into that section.

Two Harbors Paving.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 29.—The city council last night fixed April 17 as the date for hearing of property owners on the question of grading Second avenue between Hazel and Willow streets which will cost about $188 per lot or $6,700. The street will be paved in concrete twenty-four feet wide.

TO HONOR CHAMPS.

Virginia Will Pay Tribute to Winning Quint.

Virginia, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—Next Saturday evening the Tech high school will be the scene of a manifestation of popular approval of the high quint winning the state basketball championship when proper honors will be conferred upon the champions. The following members of the winning five are proposed for the all-state high five: Center, William Rooney; guard, Howard Spain, and forward, Harold Cusson. Guard Paper of St. Paul and Forward Wingert of Austin are given the other two positions.

TOWN OF STUNTZ WILL FILL JOBS

Hibbing, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the town of Stuntz meeting, April 5, the appointments will be made, including road commissioners and other heads of departments. Hundreds of applications are in the hands of Clerk Benoe.

The board will also elect a chairman and organize committees.

Clerk Benoe is silent as to the steps to be taken to have a recount of the votes of the recent election, when he was defeated by fifteen votes.

He has already retained the services of two Virginia lawyers, but he refuses to talk on the proposition.

His successor, John Eastman, also is silent. He has already qualified.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

CALUMET RIOT CASE SUBMITTED TO JURY

Trial of Second Case Growing Out of Killing Is Now On.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first case involving principals in the Calumet murder of Thanksgiving day when Pete Nenoff, a Bulgarian, was murdered in a small international war, the case of the state of Minnesota vs. Nick Yellichich, on a charge of riot, was completed yesterday afternoon and went to the jury just before 6 o'clock. The jury deliberated all night.

Quite a number of witnesses were heard all tending to show that Yellichich was one of the principals in the fight which resulted in the death of Nenoff. Yellichich was shown to have been in the Matkovich saloon where the brawl occurred at the time of the fight, and that he had a knife in his hands. No one seemed to have seen him, as the witnesses stated that after seeing him with the knife, they ducked behind the bar and other convenient hiding place.

Charles Scrutchins, the Bemidji colored lawyer, who defended Yellichich, rested the defense's case at 5 o'clock. County Attorney Ralph A. Stone took but ten minutes to sum up the case to the jury, as did Mr. Scrutchins. The court required only twenty minutes to charge the jury. This morning the trial of the state of Minnesota vs. Steve Kecich, another of the men implicated in the Calumet murder, commenced.

Nett Lake Reserve Road.

Virginia, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Federal government soon will begin the construction of a new highway from the station of Orr to the Nett Lake Indian reservation. The road will pass around the shores of Upper Pelican lake and will provide a good wagon highway to the reservation. Indians on the reservation will have the work of its construction in charge.

Look Over Road.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 29.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Commissioner Passard, State Engineer Lidberg and Lloyd W. Johnson looked over the route of two miles of state road No. 1, being the first two miles southeast of the McKinley schoolhouse. It is planned to straighten out the road and to grade and gravel it according to the specifications of the state highway commission.

Offers Services to N. M. D. A.; Is Guarantee of Good Faith.

Samuel G. Iverson, former state auditor, has come out as a vigorous advocate for Amendment No. 1, which provides for the appropriation of $250,000 by the legislature as a revolving fund for the improvement of state lands. Recently, in St. Paul, Mr. Iverson, who, by the way, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, said:

"If that amendment should be adopted and the legislature should take steps at once to proceed with the improvement of the lands, it would improve Minnesota's standing with the people at Washington by convincing them that the state intended to comply with its part of the contract under which these swamp lands were to be ceded by the Federal government. The contract is that the state should undertake the drainage and improvement of the lands, to make them available for agriculture. If we show that we intend to comply with our part of the contract in good faith, it is fair to assume that the transfer of lands to the state by the Federal government will be resumed."

Mr. Iverson has supplemented his statement in a letter received this morning by George D. McCarthy, secretary of the Northern Minnesota Development association, in which Mr. Iverson offered his services in having Amendment No. 1 passed.

SOAP COMPANY ADDED TO DULUTH'S INDUSTRIES

The Duluth Soap company is another new industry to begin operations in Duluth. The company has just been incorporated with a capitalization of $50,000. Its directors are W. P. Lardner, J. H. Davis and W. N. Hart. Mr. Davis is acting manager.

Offices have been established at 1537 West Michigan street, where the company is engaged in manufacturing and shipping to various parts of the country its products, known as the Klenzit soap. It is a patented product which is claimed to have unusual merit.

PREVENT RELAPSES OF GRIP

This is the time of year when those who have had the form of influenza known as "the grip" are suffering from the condition in which the disease invariably leaves its victims.

Grip leaves the blood thin and this anemia which follows grip is a very stubborn one in resisting treatment. It must be corrected however before any cure can be considered permanent. As long as the blood remains thin there will continue the relapses with which most sufferers from grip are familiar. Warmth and quiet alone give comfort and these not for long at a time. Sleep is restless and does not refresh the nerves which are always at high tension.

The best way to correct this after-effect of the grip is to build up the blood and there is no better blood builder than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

As soon as the revitalized blood courses through the system you are aware of its soothing influence. Gradually the color returns to the pale cheeks, appetite and digestion improve and you are on the road to health.

Your druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."

JACK MILES "SUSPECTED"

Former Duluthian Taken for Pro-German in Powder Factory.

Brought Here By Officers to Explain Match Head in Pocket.

To work in a powder factory during stirring times, an employe should carry testimonials in his pocket attesting to his character and his sympathies regarding the European war. So says Jack Robert Rankin Miles, former Duluthian, but now a powder maker for the Du Pont factory at Barkesdale.

Yesterday Mr. Miles came to Duluth—or rather was brought to Duluth—escorted by two deputy sheriffs from Bayfield, Wis., who were bent on determining if Mr. Miles was pro-German and if he had laid plans to blow up the Du Pont plant where he was working.

The inspectors at the plant, who look over the employes every day before they enter the plant, discovered the head of a match in the lining of Mr. Miles' waistcoat, and this caused an awful how d'y' do at the plant.

Mr. Miles argued his case vallantly but to no avail.

"The idea," he said, "of my being classed as pro-German. My father was born in Ireland, my mother in Wales, and I was born in Wales. Here I am working under a man named Schultz, and the superintendent's name is Kiser, and yet I, who should be above suspicion, am dragged up here by two deputy sheriffs to prove I'm not pro-German."

It didn't take Mr Miles long to prove his case when he got to Duluth because his nationality and sympathies in regard to the war are well known here. He went back to the Du Pont factory and will continue making powder.

Thrown Out of Court.

Dickinson, N. D., March 29.—Judge Crawford of the district court yesterday held that he had no jurisdiction in the case against E. H. McHugh of Mandan, who is charged with embezzling bank funds, and threw the case out of court. It was held that the action had not been properly certified by Morton county officials at the time of a change of venue to Stark county.

WHEAT WEAK AT THE CLOSE

Early Advances in Flaxseed Lost in Heavy Offerings at Close.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 29.—The market was weak at the close on liberal profit-taking sales after the three days' bulge.

May wheat closed ¾c off and July ⅝c off.

May durum closed ½c up and July ½c up.

Oats closed ¼c up at 40⅛@41c for on the track; rye, 3c up at 91c, and barley unchanged to 1c up at from 61@69c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed unchanged to ⅛c up at 41⅜@41½c bid.

At Kansas City, May wheat closed at $1.04¾, and July at $1.03¼ bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.12⅝, and calls at $1.16⅛.

Wheat prices covered a wide range in today's market. At the start under the spur of active buying inspired by more damage reports from over the winter wheat territory and predictions of a greatly reduced acreage in spring wheat this season, quotations were advanced 1¾c. Considerable realizing then appeared on the bulge and the market receded to slightly below yesterday's closing basis.

Liverpool cables came lower and there were predictions of a better movement from Argentina. Declines in ocean freight rates from that country and Australia were also advised. While export inquiry at the seaboard was reported, no business was worked insofar as Duluth operators could ascertain. Some attention was paid to a report that 1,000 cars of Canadian wheat en route to Duluth for storage was being sold by exporters at the seaboard. Local grain men considered that story insofar as the amount of Canadian grain now on the way to this point, as greatly exaggerated. It was pointed out that there is not a present sufficient space in the elevators at the Head of the Lakes to admit of that quantity of bonded grain being taken in here. In view of that condition the movement this way has been checked up, and no great additional volume is now expected. As ice breakers have been engaged, during the last few days in breaking up the ice in the harbors at the Canadian Head of the Lakes, it is thought that relief will be afforded soon in the congestion up there through some steamers being taken under the elevators for loads. Today 88 cars of Canadian wheat were on the tracks here, and the all-rail Eastern movement of it was in fair volume with additional cars being supplied at the elevators.

May wheat opened ¼c off at $1.14⅜, advanced to $1.15⅞ and declined to $1.14⅝ at the noon hour. July opened ¼c off at $1.15, weakened ⅛c more, advanced to $1.16½, and then broke 1¼c.

The market movement in durnm was also as broadly extended. May durum opened ½c off at $1.08½, sold up 1½c, and then eased off to $1.09½. July opened ¼c off at $1.09½, bulged 1½c and later weakened ¾c.

Flaxseed Turns Active.

Flaxseed turned strong at the start with steady bidding crushers bidding and offerings. The market was advanced 2½c and then it receded moderately. The foreign markets were reported better with a good demand for oil noted at London. The advances were lost on a selling movement around the close.

May flax opened unchanged at $2.17½, and closed unchanged at $2.17½ bid. July opened unchanged at $2.17, and closed unchanged at $2.17 bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed ½c off at $1.95.

Demand for wheat showed improvement on the Duluth market today. Millers were in the market freely for good milling wheat, but the off-grades were still slow of sale. The cash basis was unchanged. No. 1 northern sold at ½c under to 2c over May, and No. 1 durum at ½c under May.

C. E. Lewis wired from Minneapolis: "Looks very much as though wheat was going to have a further advance. Northwest stocks won't raise within 100,000,000 bu as much as last year, and Canada will have 100,000,000 bu less, the way it looks now."

At Minneapolis there was very good demand for cash wheat. Lower grades were up 1@2c. Top grades were ½c to 1c stronger. Blue stem No. 1 northern sold at 1c to 4½c over May, and velvet chaff at ½c to 1½c over. Flour market was still quiet.

* * *

The linseed market in London was firm with dearer Indian and Plate offers. Crushers are buying with oil advancing, according to Broomhall.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "At immediate opening the market was steady affected by the strong, American cable, but it later eased with free arrivals. Manitobas were 10½c and winters, 6c dearer, but later the entire advance was lost on free selling. Corn was steady but dull, Plate ½d higher. Spot was unchanged with cargoes 3d to 6d.

* * *

Foreign crop summary:

United Kingdom—Weather continues unfavorable for seeding.

France weather is favorable, and prospects for winter crops good.

Germany weather and crop advices are generally favorable. Favorable even where snow is lacking. Broomhall's agents do not confirm this.

Italy weather is favorable and crops are making good progress.

Argentina—Weather is favorable. Offerings are fair.

Price Current says: "With the damage to winter wheat by lost acreage there seems to be a general lower condition of the plant than for some years at this season, and the crop prospects continue to depreciate. It is too early yet to anticipate the acreage of spring wheat."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, March 29.—Wheat made a fresh advance today, owing to reports of heavy damage to the winter crop and because of unfavorable weather in the spring crop belt. At first, however, the market underwent a temporary setback as a result of lower quotations from Liverpool, where supplies were said to be increasing despite Germany's submarine campaign. According to a well-known authority, the general condition of the domestic winter crop is lower than at any corresponding time in several years. Opening prices, which ranged from ¼@⅜c down, with May at $1.12½@1.12¾ and July at $1.09½@1.09¾, were followed by a rise to more than 1c above yesterday's finish.

Wheat—No. 2 red and No. 3 red, nominal; No. 2 hard, $1.14½; No. 3 hard, $1.03@1.12. Corn—No. 2 yellow, nominal; No. 4 yellow, 69¼@71c; No. 4 white, 69@69½c. Oats—No. 3 white, 42@43c; standard, 44c. Rye, No. 2 nominal; No. 3, 93c; barley, 60@74c; timothy, $4.50@8.00; clover, $10@18.50. Pork, $21.50@22.75; lard, $11.12; ribs, $11.50@11.95.

Liberal receipts and the prospect of a further increase of visible supply total had a depressing influence on corn. Rallies in sympathy with wheat were not maintained. After opening ⅛@⅜c lower, the market scored slight gains, but then relapsed.

Later transactions gave evidence of a pronounced lack of support. The close was nervous at ⅜@½c to ½c net decline.

Oats swayed with corn. Changes, though, were narrow.

Lower prices on hogs carried down provisions. Not much power to recover was shown.

Subsequently predictions of 100,000,000 bushels yield in Kansas had a bearish effect and so, too, did word that 1,000 cars of Canadian wheat were headed to Duluth for storage. Export business displayed little or no improvement. The close was unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to ⅜@½c lower, with May at $1.12¾ and July at $1.10¾.

WESTERN UNION HAS PROSPEROUS YEAR

Operating Revenues Show Increase of Nearly Five Millions.

Remarkable activity in general business over the country is reflected in the annual report of the Western Union Telegraph company for the year ended Dec. 31 last, just issued.

The gross operating revenue of the company for the twelve months aggregated $51,171,795,47. This was an increase of $4,907,019 over the preceding year. Operating expenses, including repairs, reserved for depreciation, rentals for leases of plants, taxes, etc., came to $40,972,541.42. Adding income of $1,303,925.77 from loans and investments held by the company, and deducting $1,333,588.19 for interest paid on bonds of the Western Union Telegraph company, a balance of $10,167,591.63 was left. That brought the company's surplus account up to $23,869,332.78, from which dividends of $4,986,364.25 were paid, leaving a balance of $18,882,968.53. The total book value of property held by the company was $144,889,324.

At the close of the year, the company had 209,854 miles of pole lines, 933,603 miles of iron wire, 649,990 miles of copper wire, and 2,965 miles of land line cables. There were 25,142 offices under operation.

The treasurer's balances increased $1,916,538 during the year. They aggregated $12,324,412.66, and included cash at banks at New York and in other depositories and in transit $4,707,873.36, and bills and accounts receivable, including managers and superintendents' balances, $7,616,439.30.

The company has an employes' pension and benefit system in force, towards which a special reserve of $1,000,000 has been set apart. The total expenditures in the year for benefits to employes were $560,148. There were 505 pensioners on the roll at the end of the year.

At the close of the fiscal year the Western Union had 18,616 stockholders, an increase over the previous year of 3,087.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Pressure Upon Investment Issues Due to Foreign Liquidation.

Specialties Lose Their Early Advances and Closing Is Heavy.

New York, March 29.—Coppers, motors and some of the war issues were the features of today's early trading at gains ranging from fractions to a point. Initial dealings in Kennecott, Shattuck-Arizona, Reading and Erie comprised individual lots of 1,000 to 1,500 shares, the rails showing slight recessions. Federal Smelting preferred lost a point and Mercantile Marine preferred denoted further heaviness. United States Steel was unchanged at the outset but subsequently made slight headway, while Crucible Steel forfeited all of its rise. Specialties, with few exceptions made further improvement later.

Activity increased in the first hour of the stock market today, but trading was restricted to Marine preferred. Crucible, American Locomotive, Anaconda and Goodrich, while United States Steel and other seasoned shares fell into comparative obscurity. Steel was strong, however, rising ⅝ to 85⅛ before the partial reversal of the second hour. Strength of coppers was accounted for by reports that the French government had placed a large order for the metal in this market. Reading was the only rail to manifest more than usual activity, but was under pressure, as were Union Pacific and Erie. Anglo-French 5s were active and strong. Other bonds steady.

Reactionary tendencies became more marked in the early afternoon, specialties losing much or all their early gains, while rails were distinctly heavy on rumors connected with impending labor troubles.

Pressure upon investment issues, originating in part from further foreign liquidation, caused numerous material losses in today's dull market.

Rails and United States Steel fell to lowest prices in the final hour with recessions in most other quarters. The closing was heavy.

BERGLAND TOWNSHIP BOARD,
John B. Haskins, Clerk.

OPENING OF CEDED CHIPPEWA LANDS.—Department of the Interior, General Land Office, Washington, D. C., Feb. 19, 1916.—Notice is hereby given, That 56,176.62 acres of ceded Chippewa lands in the former Red Lake, White Earth, Leech Lake, Chippewa of the Mississippi, Winnebigoshish, Deer Creek, Bois Fort and Pigeon River Indian Reservations, in the State of Minnesota, will be opened to homestead entry at the district land offices at Cass Lake, Crookston and Duluth, Minnesota, on April 26, 1916, on and after 9 o'clock a. m., under Section 6 of the act of January 14, 1889 (25 Stat., 642), and under the laws applicable to townsites. A portion of these lands were opened to settlement on January 11, 1915, and September 27, 1915, and the remainder will be subject to settlement at 9 o'clock a. m., on April 12, 1916. No rights can be acquired by settling on the lands prior to the time they are subject to settlement. A portion of the lands, 3,815.36 acres, are classified as pine lands, and applicants for these lands will be required to pay an appraised price for the timber thereon at the time of making entry, as provided in Section 27, act of June 25, 1910 (36 Stat., 862). Printed lists of the lands to be opened and copies of the instructions governing the disposal of said lands, may be obtained, as soon as they can be printed for distribution, upon application to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, Washington, D. C., or the Registers and Receivers of the United States land offices, at Cass Lake, Crookston and Duluth, Minnesota. Clay Tallman, Commissioner. Approved Feb. 19, 1916. Andrieus A. Jones, First Assistant Secretary.

D. H., March 29, April 5 and 12, 1916.

Notice is hereby given, That at a meeting of the stockholders of the Kinney Steamship Company, a corporation created and organized under the laws of the State of West Virginia, held at Cleveland, Ohio, on the 11th day of March, 1916, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That this company, being a corporation created and organized under the laws of the State of West Virginia, shall and does hereby discontinue business as a corporation and surrender to said State its charter and corporate franchises; and that the President of this corporation cause notice of the adoption of this resolution to be published in some newspaper of general circulation, published near the principal office or place of business of this corporation, once a week for four successive weeks; and that he certify this resolution to the Secretary of State of the State of West Virginia, and deliver to him a certificate showing the publication of said notice, as required by law.

Given under my hand, this 11th day of March, 1916.

A. T. KINNEY,
President of said corporation.

ORDER FOR HEARING—
State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis —ss.

In Probate Court.
In the Matter of the Estate of Cuthbert J. Petre, Deceased.

A certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of Cuthbert J. Petre, dated October 28th, 1914, having been presented to this Court, and the petition of Emma Petre having been duly filed herein on February 3rd, 1916, representing, among other things, that said decedent, then being a resident of the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, died testate in said County on the 29th day of January, 1916, and that said Emma Petre is the widow of said deceased and is the sole devisee and legatee under said will and the person appointed executrix thereby, and praying that said instrument be allowed and admitted to probate as the last will and testament of said decedent, and that letters executory be issued to her thereon;

And the Court having duly made its order whereby it was ordered that said petition be heard before this Court at the Probate Court Rooms at Duluth, in said County, on Monday, the 28th day of February, 1916, at ten o'clock A. M., and due notice of the said hearing having been given as required by law; and the same having been continued from time to time to March 27th, 1916, at ten o'clock A. M.;

And a certain instrument dated October 23rd, 1909, purporting to be the last will and testament of Cuthbert J. Petre, deceased, having been presented to this Court, and the petition of Gwenith Jean Rogers Cunningham having been duly filed herein on March 13th, 1916, representing, among other things, that said deceased died testate and resident as aforesaid on January 29th, 1916, and that said petitioner is the sole beneficiary under said will, and that the claim of said Emma Petre that she is the widow of said deceased is not true, and praying that said instrument dated October 23rd, 1909, be allowed and admitted to probate as the last will and testament of said deceased, and that letters executory issue to said petitioner thereon;

And Reginald Petre, Hubert Petre, Agnes Petre and Gertrude Petre, named in said petition lastly above described as all of the heirs of said deceased, having duly appeared herein by Fryberger, Fulton & Spear, their attorneys, and filed objections to the allowance of the will of October 28th, 1914, above referred to; and said Gwenith Jean Rogers Cunningham having appeared herein by Baldwin, Baldwin & Holmes, her attorneys, and having on March 16th, 1916, filed objections to the allowance of said will of October 28th, 1914, and having duly moved the Court for leave to file the same;

And this matter having duly come on to be heard pursuant to the order above referred to, and to adjournment thereof, at the regular term of this Court on Monday, the 27th day of March, 1916, at ten o'clock A. M., said Emma Petre appearing by John H. Norton, her attorney, said heirs appearing by Fryberger, Fulton & Spear, their attorneys, and said Gwenith Jean Rogers Cunningham appearing by Baldwin, Baldwin & Holmes, her attorneys;

And it appearing desirable that all of the matters herein involved be heard and determined at one time, now, therefore, on motion of all of said parties, it is ordered;

1. That the hearing on the petition of Emma Petre for the admission to probate of said will of October 28th, 1914, be and it hereby is adjourned to, and set for, the 24th day of April, 1916, at two o'clock P. M., at the Probate Court Rooms in the County Court House in the City of Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota, and all persons interested in said hearing and in said matter are hereby cited and required, at said time and place, to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted.

2. That the objections of Gwenith Jean Rogers Cunningham to the allowance of said will of October 28th, 1914, be and they hereby are allowed to be filed, and that said objections, together with the objections of said heirs heretofore filed herein be heard at the time and place aforesaid.

3. That the said petition of Gwenith Jean Rogers Cunningham for the allowance of said will of October 23rd, 1909, be heard before this Court at the time and place aforesaid, and all persons interested in said matter and in said hearing are hereby cited and required then and there to show cause, if any there be, why said petition should not be granted.

Ordered further, That this order be served by publication in The Duluth Herald, according to law, and that a copy of this order be served on the County Treasurer of St. Louis County, and upon the above named attorneys for said Emma Petre, for said heirs, and for said Gwenith Jean Rogers Cunningham, not less than fourteen days prior to said day of hearing.

Dated at Duluth, Minnesota, March 27th, 1916.

By the Court,
S. W. GILPIN, Judge of Probate.
Attest: A. R. MORTON,
Clerk of Probate.

ABSENT-MINDED ABNER—Pipe the Way He Kept His Word!

By Walt McDougall

AW, LET ME TAKE HIM FOR AWHILE, PLEASE!
FATHER, I CAN NO LONGER TRUST YOU AFTER YESTERDAY
I'M MERELY ASKING YOU WHAT COULD HAPPEN TO HIM?
I AM AFRAID TO LEAVE BABE WITH YOU!
LISTEN! WHEN DID I EVER FAIL YOU WHEN I HAD MADE YOU A PROMISE? EH?
FATHER!
SUFFERING SMOKE! YOU CAN'T BLAME ME FOR THAT!
WHAT DID I SAY!

TOWERMAN DECLARES FAILURE OF SIGNAL TO WORK CAUSED WRECK

Says He Set It Properly When Train Was Approaching.

Several Investigations as to Cause of Collisions Are Under Way.

Question as to Whether "Death Coach" Was Iron or Wood Arises.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 30.—With twenty-seven bodies recovered from yesterday's wreck of the three New York Central trains at Amherst, Ohio, attention today was focused upon the several investigations that were put under way by Federal, state and railroad authorities to determine responsibility for the wreck. Representatives of the interstate commerce commission, the utilities commission of Ohio, and various department heads of the New York Central were conducting investigations in Cleveland and at other points in the vicinity of the wreck.

Coroner Charles Garver of Lorain county planned to begin an inquest at Elyria into the death of the wreck victims and the causes leading thereto.

The question of whether the so-called "death coach" on train No. 86 was of modern steel construction as claimed by New York Central officials or was mai of wood construction promised to b an important feature of the investigation.

Railroad officials today were still divided in opinion as to whether the blame should be placed upon the towerman who, it is alleged by some officials, was asleep, and failed to give the proper signal, or upon the engineer, who they say it may be shown either failed to see the signal or exceeded his orders.

Several in Precarious Condition.

Of the more than forty persons injured in the wreck several were said to be in a precarious condition early today and more fatalities were feared.

DUTCH STEAMSHIP SUNK BY MISTAKE

Believed Submarine Intended Torpedo for British Destroyer Alongside.

Copenhagen, March 30, via London.—The Rotterdam correspondent of the Politiken says that according to evidence gathered by the Dutch ministry of marine, the Dutch steamship Palembang was torpedoed while she was lying alongside a British destroyer which was engaged in picking up mines. The inference is drawn, the correspondent says, that the Palembang was sunk by a submarine which intended to destroy the British warship and not the Dutch merchantman.

AUSTRIANS DROP BOMBS ON VENICE

Six Persons Slightly Hurt in Province; Saloniki Again Attacked.

Rome, March 30, via Paris—It is announced that six persons were slightly wounded by bombs thrown from Austrian aeroplanes during a raid in the province of Venice last Monday.

Another Raid on Saloniki.

Paris, March 30.—A Havas dispatch from Saloniki says that another aerial raid on that city was attempted yesterday by German aeroplanes. French airmen engaged them and compelled them to turn about without accomplishing their object. Several bombs were dropped on Orfani but did no damage.

DANIELS ON NAVY NEEDS

Talks to House Committee About Personnel of Department.

Gives His Views as to the Proper Enlisted Strength.

Washington, March 30.—Secretary Daniels began his statement to the senate naval committee today with a discussion of personnel. The annual loss from terminating enlistments was 12,875 men, he said, and wastage from other causes was 8,250. To add a single man to the full quota, he added, meant that the 8,250 must be first restored by new enlistments. Requirements are so rigid that only one in six applicants is accepted.

Conflicting views as to the proper enlisted strength, he said, were based on different ideas as to how many ships should be kept in reserve and how many men should constitute reserve crews. His own recommendations, based on the experience of the department and advice of many offi-

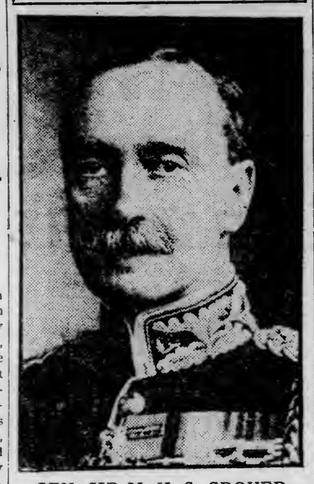
PROMINENT COMMANDER AT BRITISH WAR FRONT



GEN. SIR M. H. S. GROVER.

Gen. Sir M. H. S. Grover, one of the British commanders, was secretary of the army department in India before the war. He is a graduate of Sandhurst and entered the army in 1876. He has seen much service in India and Egypt and has been decorated several times.

AWAIT RETURN OF EMBALMER

Detectives Watch House of Kane Wanted in Waite Case.

Police Send Out Photographs and Description of Embalmer.

New York, March 30.—Circulars bearing a photograph and description of Eugene O. Kane, whom Dr. Arthur W. Waite charged accepted $9,000 and the promise of $16,000 for swearing he used arsenic in embalming the body of Waite's father-in-law, John Peck of Grand Rapids, Mich., were scattered broadcast today at the order of the district attorney. While Waite was held at Bellevue hospital in connection with Peck's death, a detective waited all night at Kane's home, but the embalmer did not appear. Mrs. Kane said she expected her husband would come home today.

John S. Potter, the undertaker who had charge of Peck's funeral, and who employed Kane as embalmer, was examined last night at the district attorney's office. Potter reiterated denial that he had any part in the alleged negotiations between Kane and Waite, except to send Kane to the dentist's

MANY CANDIDATES FOR ALTERNATES

Delegates Are Having Lively Time Listening to Applications.

St. Paul, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Delegates to the several party conventions nominated at the late presidential primaries are having a lively time listening to the applications of persons who want to serve as their alternates. In a number of instances some of the leading delegates have a score or more of applications for the honor.

Appointments of alternates as fast as they are made are being filed by the delegates with the secretary of state, and in the case of the Republican delegation a majority of the selections of alternates have been made. I. A. Caswell, who managed the Cummins campaign and who will be a candidate for Republican national committeeman, is understood to have captured a majority of the alternates. The latter, under the new primary law, will have a vote in the selection of the committeeman.

J. F. Jacobson of Madison has selected Former Lieutenant Governor S. Y. Gordon of Browns Valley as his alternate. In St. Paul, Charles Moos and James Arneson, both Caswell followers, have been named as alternates.

It was stated today that Former Governor Eberhart would not be a candidate for chairman of the Republican delegation. His senatorial backers, it is said, have discouraged the idea. Mille Bunnell of Duluth is a candidate for the chairmanship and is being backed by State Auditor Preus. A conference bearing on Mr. Bunnell's candidacy was held in Mr. Preus' office yesterday.

OVER 20,000 DIED ON MARCH TO SALONIKI

Berne, via Paris, March 30.—Of 30,000 Serbian refugees who, following the invasion of their country by the Teutonic allies, headed southward, only 8,000 succeeded in reaching Saloniki, all the others having perished of cold and hunger on the way, according to a report just received from Mlle. Comte of Geneva, representative at Saloniki of the Swiss Red Cross.

INFANTRY ATTACKS BY GERMANS ON AVOCOURT FAILURE, SAYS PARIS

Teuton Forces Attempt to Retake Positions Lost There.

Heavy Artillery Fighting Reported East of the Meuse.

Berlin Says Repeated Attacks By French Repulsed.

Paris, March 30.—Several German infantry attacks upon Avocourt Wood, in an endeavor to retake lost positions were made last night. The war office report of this afternoon says these assaults failed. No further advances against Malancourt were attempted by the Germans. East of the Meuse there was heavy artillery fighting.

German Statement.

Berlin March 30, via London, 3:45 p. m.—Repulse of repeated attacks by the French in efforts to recapture positions they had lost in the wood northwest of Avocourt is announced today by the German army headquarters staff.

WEATHER DOES NOT AFFECT ZEPPELINS

Big Airships Are Virtually Independent of All Conditions.

London, March 30.—Figures prepared by the British meteorological office show that Zeppelins are to all intents and purposes independent of weather conditions.

Generally, the assumption has been that Zeppelins are fair-weather craft, and dare venture forth only in light airs and on dark nights, that even moderate winds were dangerous to them, and that snow would be fatal, but every one of these theories is disproved by the official figures for the twenty-one occasions on which they have visited England. The Zeppelins have come in virtually every phase of the moon, from new to full. They have had the wind from every quarter of the compass, and with wind that has ranged from "light airs" to "strong breezes." The thermometer has ranged from freezing to sweltering summer heat. There have been skies of every variety; there has been mist on several occasions; rain still more often. During the raid of March 5 there was winter weather of considerable severity, with heavy snowfall in progress and squalls of wind. Bombs were dropped upon one town during a snow squall so bitter that the local papers spoke of it as a "blizzard." The official wind figures show that two raids took place in a wind of twenty-five to thirty-one miles an hour.

SUBMARINE BASE IS DISCOVERED AT CORFU

Paris, March 30.—Discovery in the Greek island of Corfu of an elaborate organization for providing information and supplies for submarines is reported in a Rome dispatch to the Journal. About forty persons, including the keeper of one of the principal hotels, have been arrested and will be removed to France.

MENTIONED AS SUCCESSOR TO VON BETHMANN-HOLLWEG

PRINCE VON BUELOW.

It is reported that Prince von Buelow will be called to take the place of von Bethmann-Hollweg as chancellor of the German empire. He was in the diplomatic service when the war began. He is one of the most experienced of German statesmen.

ROADS SUBMIT PROPOSITIONS

Railroads Reply to Demands of Men By Counter-Proposals.

Submitted for Consideration in Negotiations to Follow.

New York, March 30.—Eastern railroad managers replied today to the demands of their employes for an eight-hour day and higher rates for overtime work by submitting propositions of their own for discussion. The demands of the employes are not refused, neither is a demand made by the railroad managers for the acceptance of their own proposals. These are submitted for consideration in the negotiations expected to follow.

"What the railroads ask for is an open door," the reply states.

The reply was sent today to the officials of the four brotherhoods immediately after receipts of the employes' demands.

Demands Presented.

New York, March 30.—The demands of nearly 400,000 locomotive engineers,

GEN. PERSHING BEGINS A LONG AND RELENTLESS CAMPAIGN AGAINST VILLA AND BANDITS

RESCUE SHIP FIRED UPON

Submarine Attacks Boat Attempting to Save Sussex's Passengers.

Intimated German Submersibiles Acting Under Secret Instructions.

Washington, March 30.—For the information of the state department, American Ambassador Page at London today forwarded a report that the British destroyer which aided in rescuing survivors of the Sussex had been fired upon twice by a submarine. Ambassador Page said that his information was not official but appeared to be authentic and sent the report for what it was worth to the department.

State department officials consider that Ambassador Page's information tended to substantiate press reports of the alleged attack upon the destroyer.

Some officials credit the suggestion that German submarine commander are acting under secret instructions, such as were advocated by Admiral von Tirpitz, to torpedo every vessel approaching the British isles. Although official confirmation is lacking, some officials believe that the German commanders have orders other than those of which this country is advised.

GERMANY WOULD COERCE GREECE

Bombardment of Saloniki Believed to Be for That Purpose.

Athens, Greece, March 30, via Paris.—A high court official declared to the Associated Press that in his opinion the only conceivable explanation of the aerial raid on Saloniki is that Germany is attempting to drive Greece to assist in the expulsion of the French and British forces from Saloniki. He said, however, that such a thing was out of the question, as Greece had reason daily to realize she was at the mercy of the Entente powers.

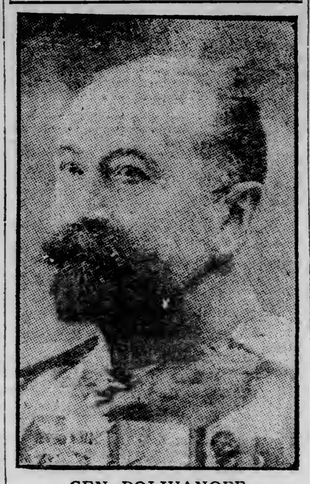
The labor unions at Saloniki have telegraphed to King Constantine a protest against the bombardment of the city. The funerals of the raid victims yesterday were marked by popular demonstrations.

Gen. Sarrail, the French commander-in-chief, left Saloniki today for the front. Lieut.-Gen. Mabon, the British commander, called on Gen. Sarrail before his departure. The British commander then left for Athens, accompanied by several other British officers, and will be received tomorrow by King Constantine.

Flood Conditions Improve.

Detroit, Mich., March 30.—Flood conditions throughout Southern Michigan were much improved today. The Saginaw river was higher than yesterday at Bay City, but no serious damage was reported. The Michigan Central railway managed to get trains out from Bay City and to Detroit.

RUSSIAN MINISTER OF WAR RETIRES AT OWN REQUEST



GEN. POLIVANOFF.

London, March 30.—The Russian war minister, Gen. Alexi Polivanoff, has resigned, according to a Reuter dispatch from Petrograd. Gen. Chouvaieff has been appointed to succeed him. Gen. Polivanoff was relieved from office at his own request.

AWAIT WORD FROM HUGHES

Charges of Favoritism Causing Political Agitation in Canada.

Great Profits on War Contracts Threaten Political Crisis.

Ottawa, March 30.—The government was waiting today to hear from Gen. Sir Sam Hughes, minister of militia, now in England, regarding charges of favoritism recently made in parliament in connection with the awarding of munitions contracts. A message advising him of the charges has been sent Gen. Hughes, it was declared today.

Members of parliament stated today that as an outcome of the allegations an insurgent element has been created in the ranks of the Conservatives, the government party, and something resembling a political crisis has arisen.

Borden Cancels Engagement.

Premier Sir Robert Laird Borden has canceled engagements to speak in New York on April 1, saying that contingencies had arisen which would prevent him from leaving Canada at this time.

Middlemen's profits, aggregating more than $1,500,000 are alleged to have been obtained through the awarding of contracts by the Canadian shell committee, G. W. Kyte, member of Richmond county, Nova Scotia, declared in a speech in parliament. He said that the profits were divided between Col. J. Wesley Allison, who was connected with the militia department, B. F. Yoakum, former American railway magnate, and Eugene Lignanti, formerly leader of a hotel orchestra in Montreal.

SEPARATE TRIALS FOR ALLEGED CONSPIRATORS

New York, March 30.—A motion was granted today by Judge Mayer in the Federal district court for separate trials in the case of Max Breitung, Dr. Herbert Kienzle and Engelbert Bronkhorst, who were indicted last November with Robert Fay, Walter Scholz and Paul Daeche on the charge of conspiring to blow up munition ships. Justice Mayer ruled that Daeche be tried separately from Fay and Scholz, the alleged leaders in the conspiracy.

RATES OF LUMBER ORDERED REDUCED

Washington, March 30. — Carload rates on lumber from Bonners Ferry, Idaho, to points in Montana, North Dakota and Minnesota on the Great Northern railway today were found unreasonable by the interstate commerce commission and ordered reduced.

MAY BE WEEKS BEFORE HE IS RUN TO DEATH

No Secret Among Military Men That He Has Escaped.

Mexican Officials Have No News as to His Whereabouts.

Moving Through Santa Maria Valley at Last Information.

El Paso, Tex., March 30.—Brig.-Gen. Pershing has projected a long and relentless campaign in the hunt for Francisco Villa—a chase that may last for many weeks before the fleeing bandit is run to death. This information was gleaned here today from military men who made no secret of their belief that Villa had slipped through the cordon of Carranza forces and American troops.

Mexican officials said today they had no news as to Villa's whereabouts, but that the troops of the de facto government were aiding the American soldiers in trying to round up the brigand. The last information was that Villa was moving through the Santa Maria valley. Once among his peon friends, who would give the American troops misleading information regarding his whereabouts, Villa might escape detection for a long time.

Ranchers from the region west of Chihuahua City said that when it became known that there was a price upon Villa's head, dead or alive, the bandit would be in constant danger of betrayal. Whether the American troops

HOLLAND-ENGLAND CABLE NOT WORKING

Interruption Said to Be Due to Prevailing Heavy Storms.

London, March 30.—Complete suspension of telegraphic communication between Holland and England is reported by the Rotterdam correspondent of the Copenhagen Politiken, whose dispatch is forwarded from Copenhagen by the Exchange Telegraph company. It is rumored the cable has been cut by Germans, the correspondent says. No press dispatches have been received here from Holland since Tuesday.

It was stated authoritatively here today that the interruption of telegraphic communication with Holland was due to the storm, and that resumption of the service shortly was expected.

ASHLANDER WILL GET $1,000 FOR EYE LOSS

City Will Have to Pay That Amount to Fred Johnson.

Madison, Wis., March 30.—Fred Johnson of Ashland will receive an award in excess of $1,000 for the loss of an eye, while in the employ of the city of Ashland. The industrial commission, after conducting two hearings and gathering other evidence, made this ruling today. Johnson's eye was injured on Aug. 17, 1914, and it became so painful that it was necessary to remove it on May 23, 1915. At the time of the accident Johnson was employed by the city at an average daily wage of $2. He was engaged in mixing gravel, which was being heated over a fire for use in street paving.

HELLSTROM OUT FOR U. S. SENATE

Bismarck, N. D., March 30.—F. O. Hellstrom, former warden of the state penitentiary, announces himself as a candidate for United States senator, asking the Democratic nomination.

POLITICAL NATURE FAKING.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

After having pushed back the French lines along the Western bend of the salient in the Malancourt region, northwest of Verdun, the Germans have desisted for the present from further efforts to advance there, but the crown prince's infantry again made efforts to retake, in the Avocourt wood, positions recently lost. Paris declares that the attempts were fruitless.

German aeroplanes have attempted another raid on Saloniki, according to a Paris dispatch, but French airmen repelled them.

Strikers in the munitions shops in the Clyde district have been called upon by their trade organization to return to work, their strike being declared unconstitutional and in contravention of the munitions act.

The British coalition government has won another victory in a bye-election, its candidate for parliament in the Hyde district winning by a majority of 874.

The recent war council of the Entente powers was characterized by complete unity of purpose and all the conferees, without exception, were satisfied with the decisions reached, says Premier Salandra of Italy in an interview.

Destruction of merchantmen by German submarines in the new under-sea campaign is continuing. Today the sinking of the British steamer Diadem is reported.

DULUTH MAY HAVE OPTION ELECTION IN NEAR FUTURE

Duluth Temperance Advocates Would Influence Superior Campaign.

No Decision Is Yet Reached But Plan Is Seriously Considered.

Duluth may fall into line with Superior and have a local option election.

Those interested in the matter declare that they have reached no decision yet, but admit that they must do so very suddenly if the motive for even the consideration of the question at this time is to be respected. That reason is to help the "drys" of Superior.

Incidentally, besides helping their Superior brethren, the advocates of aridity hope to put Duluth on the "dry" map as well. They feel confident that if a county option election were held, St. Louis county would appear on the maps as one of the little red or black patches showing where the liquor traffic had been given a setback; but, in view of the very great deal of labor necessary in getting petitions for a county option campaign, the excessive number of elections this year and the need of haste in this matter, the local option idea is being more favorably considered.

They also feel, it is declared, that Duluth is about ripe for such a campaign and that the chances for success are very favorable.

Superior Election Tuesday.

The Superior election will be held next Tuesday, so there is no chance of Duluth's election, should one be decided upon, being coincident with that across the bay, but the way it is expected a local option campaign here could help the "dry" workers in Superior would be in this respect, according to one of the "dry" advocates in Duluth:

"Every argument against no license has been met by the 'drys' over there, except that Duluth will be 'wet' and business will come here instead of going to Superior. Should Duluth 'drys' start a campaign for local option, that excuse would become a poor one in Superior, for we believe that we could cary the day here."

That is the basic reason for considering a local option campaign here.

B. Wheeler, one of the "dry" leaders of Duluth, refused to discuss the matter this morning, but Watson S. Moore, another of the chief advocates of a liquidless location, was not so reticent. Mr. Wheeler would say only:

"I have nothing to say for publication."

He refused to discuss the reported plan in any way.

Discuss Advisability.

Mr. Moore confessed that the matter was a subject of general and careful discussion among those who would like to see the city "dry," just now.

"No decision has been reached," said Mr. Moore, "and there is no telling just what will be done for the time. We have talked the matter over carefully and are still considering it. Some of us have been sounding others to determine whether or not it is considered advisable or the time opportune. Some of us believe that conditions are good for such a campaign, while others are in doubt. That is the exact situation just at present.

"We would like to help the Superior workers if anything could be accomplished. Over there every argument put up by the 'wets' has been answered and the only remaining doubt with many voters is the advisability of putting Superior dry with Duluth wet."

Twenty Per Cent Petition.

A petition containing the names of 20 per cent of the voters at the last city election would be required to demand an election. Should such a petition be obtained, the city commissioners would have no option in the matter and would be compelled to call an election at the earliest possible time, outside of that required to issue notices, print ballots, etc.

The matter of holding a county option election this year was taken up quite actively last fall, before it was recalled that there will be a multiplicity of elections held this year; and in view of that fact the county option feature was dropped for the time, or put over a year. It is frankly announced by the "drys" and admitted by the "wets" that a county option election cannot be avoided early in 1917; but the local option feature comes up as an unlooked for surprise.

Red Cross Worker Suspected as Spy

PRINCESS ALICE OF BOURBON.

Princess Alice of Bourbon, one-time wife of the prince of Schoenberg-Waldenburg, is charged in Italy with trying to get secrets out of wounded soldiers while doing Red Cross work. It is suspected that she wanted these secrets for the Austrians as her sister is an Austrian archduchess. The princess is a daughter of the late Don Carlos, pretender to the Spanish throne. Her marriage to the prince was not a success and after divorcing him, she married a captain in the Italian army named Del Prete.

ONE MORE STEP FOR PREPAREDNESS

Naval Training Trip for Civilians Is Latest Feature on Program.

Further advancement in Uncle Sam's preparedness plans is shown by a new venture of the navy department in authorizing a naval training cruise for civilians. This will be available from Aug. 15, next, until Sept. 12. The course of training is to be given on board reserve battleships. Civilians will be recruited by naval districts and the ships will be allotted according to the number of recruits accepted in each district.

According to information just received by E. A. Nippa, naval recruiting officer in the Federal building, recruits must be between the ages of 19 and 45, in good standing, and must be able to pass a prescribed physical examination. Unless applicants are 21 years old, they must obtain the consent of parents or guardian. The applicant must demonstrate that he possesses some nautical knowledge or has had some technical training that would fit him for service in the navy.

Six months' experience or equivalent in any of the following trades would be considered a qualification for enrollment: Machinist, boiler maker, plumber, shipfitter, coppersmith, carpenter, electrician, engineer, fireman, telegrapher and radio operator.

Application blanks for enrollment may be obtained at the recruiting office at the Federal building and these must be in not later than June 1.

CAPTAIN TRIED TO AVOID TORPEDO

Saw Wake of Missile and Turned Sussex to the Right.

Paris, March 30.—In the official report of the captain of the cross-channel steamship Sussex on the circumstances under which she was damaged by an explosion in crossing the channel last Friday with the loss of about fifty lives, the following passage occurs:

"I perceived, about 2:50 o'clock the wake of a torpedo 150 yards to port. I immediately ordered the ship 30 degrees to the right and in order to accelerate the maneuver ordered the stoppage of the starboard engine, which was immediately done. All my efforts, notwithstanding, I could not avoid the projectile which hit the bow of the Sussex on a line with the foremast and produced a formidable explosion, carrying away all of the front of the vessel up to the first airtight bulkhead."

NEW HIGH RECORD IN NEW YORK EXPORTS

New York, March 30.—Exports of domestic merchandise valued at $220,246,021 shipped through the port of New York during February established a new record in exports for a single month from any American port, according to figures made public here today by customs officials.

The next highest month, as shown by the records of the New York customs authorities was November, 1915, when merchandise to the value of $188,036,458 was shipped abroad, the increase in favor of February this year being $32,209,536. February, 1915, showed reports valued at $109,493,487.

Imports during February this year were valued at $103,084,535 against $71,015,866 for February, 1915, an increase of $32,067,669.

COST OF FEEDING ARMY INCREASES

Washington, March 30.—Rapid advances in the cost of living are being felt in the army, the house military affairs committee was told today by Brig.-Gen. Sharpe, acting quartermaster general. A few months ago an estimate of 27 cents a ration was obtained by the quartermaster's department and today the cost would be 30.

The general denied emphatically a charge recently made in the senate that the United States army was poorly provisioned. "It is the best fed army in the world," said he.

WILL DISTRIBUTE ESTATE.

Parents of Accident Victim Receive $1,400 Less Expenses.

John Anderson, administrator of the estate of William Anderson, also known as William Nygard, who was accidentally killed at the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway ore docks on July 14, 1915, today made application to the district court for an order distributing $1,400 which he collected from the employers on a claim for wrongful death.

The heirs entitled to the money, after the payment of necessary expenses and the cost of litigation incidental to collecting the claim, are a father and mother, both of whom reside in Finland.

Anderson was engaged in trapping a car on the docks, when a wrench in the hands of a fellow-workman was suddenly jerked out of the latter's hands by the weight of the ore, and struck Anderson on the head. The blow was fatal, Anderson dying within a few hours.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

Berger to Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 30.—E. C. Berger, catcher on last year's Winnipeg baseball team in the Northern league, was today signed by the Milwaukee American association club. He will go to the training camp at Pine Bluff, Ark., at once.

HOFFMEISTER WILL CATCH FOR DULUTH

Thief River Falls, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Hank" W. Hoffmeister received word this week from Darby O'Brien, manager of the Northern league baseball team of Duluth to report there by April 17 to start the training season.

Hoffmeister has done a great deal of creditable work with local baseball teams, and has made a very good impression on the Duluth manager.

To Speak on "Easter."

In view of the coming Easter season, Pastor Stemple White will speak Sunday evening at the Seventh Day Adventist church, corner of Tenth avenue east and Sixth street, on the subject: "The Resurrection—Not the Day." Pastor White promises to read from the Bible the answers to the questions:

"Is there any divine command or example for attempting to celebrate the yearly resurrection day weekly?" and, "What is the divine memorial of the resurrection?" and "How only can it be celebrated, (not yearly nor weekly but) daily?"

Last Rites for Houck.

Tiffin, Ohio, March 30.—Last rites were said here today over the body of the late Rt. Rev. Mgr. G. F. Houck, former chancellor of the Cleveland diocese, who died Sunday in Lakewood, Ohio. Rt. Rev. Joseph Koudelka, bishop of Superior, Wis., as celebrant, preached the German sermon. Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrembe of Toledo, delivered the eulogy in English.

LIGHTS AND SHADOWS OF POLICE COURT

TOUCHED OFF HIS BEARD.

"Curly Wolf" Is Suddenly Tamed When Flames Consume Whiskers.

A "boss bully," fresh from a north shore lumber camp, ambled out of a West Michigan street saloon last night, determined to "paint the town."

"'I'm a big gray wolf, with big white fangs,

"'And this is my night to how-l-l," quoth the lumberjack, and he started down the street, looking for trouble.

"I've got a sure test for wolves," said Hans Magnuston, the first pedestrian the "wolf" encountered. He lit a match and held it so close that the flame just touched the beard of the poetically inclined lumberjack.

For a second the bully stood still, until the flame touched something closer to home than his beard. Then he ran down the street as if pursued by a thousand devils.

"Nope," said the tester, "that ain't no wolf. When he started running, I knew he was just an ordinary jack rabbit."

"DIDN'T FEEL GOOD."

Woodsman, With Bullet in Abdomen, Walked for Two Hours.

After walking around for two hours with a bullet from an automatic revolver in his abdomen, John Huaga, 38, a Finnish laborer, stumbled into police headquarters this noon and said he "didn't feel good."

Police Surgeon Harry Klein began an investigation, found the bullet hole in Huaga's clothes, and ended by rushing him to St. Luke's hospital in the police emergency, where he will operate in an attempt to find the bullet. Huaga is seriously, but not fatally, wounded.

He told detectives that he was looking at a gun which belonged to a friend of his, Jack Kytomaa. Kytomaa was holding the gun, which is a Colt .25 caliber automatic, when it was discharged accidentally, cutting through Kytomaa's fingers and lodging in Huaga's stomach.

Police went to 338 Lake avenue south, the address Huaga gave them, and found Kytomaa. He substantiated the wounded man's story. Both men are woodsmen, and had been drinking.

FINDS WATCH; LOSES OWNER.

Detective Recovers Timepiece Stolen Ten Years Ago.

A watch stolen from John Ehiler ten years ago was recovered yesterday by Lieut. N. U. G. Terry, pawnshop inspector.

At the time he reported his loss Ehiler gave his address as in care of the Bell restaurant on Superior street between Fifth and Sixth avenues west. He said the timepiece, which was a cheap one, was stolen from him in the Welcome saloon, 513 West Michigan street.

The Bell restaurant no longer exists, and the Welcome saloon also has passed out of business life. So Lieut. Terry is looking for the owner of the watch, with little prospect of finding him very soon.

POLICE SEEK "JESS" WILLARD.

Not the Prize Fighter, But Slim, Studious Runaway Boy.

A very bashful, studious boy answering to the name of "Jess" Willard, is being sought by St. Paul police, and today officers of the Duluth force joined in the search.

Willard, whose real first name is James, ran away from his home in St. Paul last Saturday, and authorities there believe that he went either to Duluth or to Brainerd, Minn.

"He is very bashful, and slightly stoop shouldered. He is a great boy to read, and you might find him at a public library, or at a movie," said the letter which Chief R. D. McKercher received.

James is 17 years old. He is studying to become an electrician. He is five feet six inches tall, and weighs 125 pounds. He wore a brown mackinaw and a black and white cap.

With the Willard boy was Harmie Muck, also of St. Paul, who is anything but bashful, according to police. Muck is said to be short and heavily built, and "tough" by inclination.

THE GIRL WHO APOLOGIZES FOR HER PARENTS' BLUNDERS

Irish World: Kate is fully alive to the fact that her father and mother are old-fashioned people, whose early advantages were limited. "Papa and mamma have some queer ideas," she is fond of saying to the guests at her home. "It's the way they were brought up, I suppose." A slip of grammar on her father's part will make her jump as if she had stepped on a tack, and she is as ready to apologize for these blunders as for the views she denominates old-fashioned. "Papa had not many chances for schooling when he was a boy!" Kate will explain with a look of angelic patience. "Of course, it's terribly mortifying to me to have him make such mistakes, but I realize it isn't his fault."

Poor little, silly Kate, apologizing when she should be proud, excusing when she should be splendidly loyal. If she knew how her listeners laughed in their sleeves, the springs of her fluency would suddenly become dry. For, compared with the parents, whose shortcomings she realizes too keenly, Kate cuts rather a pitiable figure. Her mother is a splendidly competent woman, who could earn her own living as a laundress, a nurse or a cook any day that it became necessary for her to support herself, and who looks after her big home, and manages her many servants with economy and efficiency. If Kate were ever called on to earn her living, she would be as helpless as one dropped overboard from an ocean liner, without knowing how to swim. Her mother can do any number of things excellently. Kate talks French very badly and plays the piano poorly and possesses a few other half-baked accomplishments. But her best friend could not mention anything that she does really well.

And now for the father for whom Kate apologizes so often. He is a self-made man, and every line of his face shows strength of will and a fine brain. He has fought his way up to prominence against great odds. His heart is as big as his brain. He has made a fortune without sacrificing any of his kindliness and generosity. He sometimes says "ain't" and "hadn't ought," but his words are listened to with respect by men of affairs.

Perhaps it is not often that a girl apologizes for her parents with so little excuse to liberty. But it frequently happens that apologies are not merely uncalled for, but are an affront to good sense and good taste, judged from any standpoint. You girls may know a few things of which your parents are ignorant, but the chances are that they know a thousand things which you will only learn by patiently doing the duties God gives you through long and difficult years. The girl who apologizes for her parents would be in better business if she apologized for her own lack of appreciation.

Cherry is the wood most used as a backing for the metal plates from which illustrations are printed in magazines and periodicals. It is chosen above all others because it holds its shape, does not warp or twist, works smoothly and does not split.

PREPARING TO SHOW STYLES

Merchants Making Stores Ready for Fashion Week Display.

Some Unique and Beautiful Exhibits Will Be Shown.

As the time gets nearer for the opening of spring style week, which is Monday next, the window dressers, and department heads in the various stores which will have to do with the decoration of the human form, are getting busier and busier.

The interiors of the stores are being arranged attractively and the windows are being decorated. Of course the chief part of window trimming will not be done until the last moment for the reason that each store wishes its windows to be the last word and also to be sprung on the public with the official opening time. But each day sees a further advance in the matter of interior decorations of stores.

Style week will officially open on Monday evening, but that night there will be no purchasing done. The various stores will be open and goods and gowns will be on display so that the prospective purchaser will have ample opportunity to look the fashions and fabrics over before deciding on what is wanted for the spring and summer. The following day and for the rest of the week ample opportunity will be afforded the buyers for getting their wardrobes replenished for the ensuing seasons.

Should the fine brand of weather that has been prevailing all of this week, favor next week also, it is considered that the shoppers will have ideal conditions in which to attend to this important duty.

Regarding the styles, one of the best authorities in the country says:

New Silk Suits.

"Quite the smartest things in the Easter parade will be the new silk suits; the fabrics used in them are remarkably beautiful in design and texture. They are lustrous failles and heavy grosgrain taffetas, printed, embroidered and brocaded; in fact in all the new silks there is a tendency to revert to old-time designs. The most striking, however, of these interesting fabrics are the Japanese embroidered silks, done in color on plain dark blue or black backgrounds. On many of the silks the embroidery is done in a deep border that, in designing the suit, is used at the bottom of the skirt while the upper part is of plain silk. A bit of this oriental fabric is frequently introduced into the pointed bodice, or perhaps a suit of plain faille or taffeta will have a flaring collar of the embroidered silk. In line, the new suits show both dignity and simplicity, the latter being that perfection of simplicity so difficult to attain.

"The problem of where to place the elusive waistline appears to be successfully settled for the time being at least, and in coats as well as in gowns there is a decided and normal waistline. Jackets are short, many of them with nipped in waists pointed in front and peplums flaring about the hips. Skirts are full about the hips, some of them drawn in slightly at the bottom in barrel effect."

WEST END

ETUDE SOCIETY TO GIVE PROGRAM

One of Series at Trinity English Lutheran Church.

The Etude Musical Society of the West end will entertain this evening with a musical program at Trinity English Lutheran church, Twenty-seventh avenue west and Third street. The program is one of a series that is given at regular meetings by the society.

During the business session of the society, plans for a public concert, to be given this spring, will be made. The meeting is open to all interested in musical affairs.

ENTERTAINED BY SUPERIOR CAR MEN

Duluth Employes of Street Railway Company Guests Across Bay.

More than 200 employes of the Duluth Street railway and their wives were entertained by the employes' association of the company on the Superior division at Tower hall in Superior last night. Two special cars with all available space taken conveyed the greater part of the visitors across the bay and brought them back in the early hours of this morning.

Dancing, cards, vocal numbers and readings, followed by luncheon, made up the program. The entire upper floor of the hall had been leased for the night and from the time the crowd arrived from Duluth until they left at about 1 o'clock, the committee kept the guests well occupied.

Alfred Williams, general superintendent of the Superior division, was master of ceremonies. In an introductory talk, he thanked the committee in charge for its work, the Duluth contingent for its ready response in coming over, and, on behalf of all of the employes, thanked Herbert Warren, vice president and general manager of the company, for the recent raise in the wages of the men.

Mr. Warren was one of the guests at the party and enjoyed the dancing. The Duluth visitors were headed by H. H. Brown, superintendent of the Duluth division, who was accompanied by Mrs. Brown.

The musical part of the program included soprano solos by Mrs. Signe Wolde McKenzie, readings by Miss Grace Richardson and baritone solos by Magnus Peterson. An orchestra of five pieces furnished the music.

The success of the affair last night likely will result in a return party to be given by the Duluth employes some time this spring. A play is now being arranged which it was proposed to put on for the employes and their families at the clubrooms of the carhouse. This play is a burlesque on street car operation and is to be given early in April. The Superior employes will be invited to attend.

WEAKNESS OF HOME.

Dr. Brewer Says Too Many Women Leave Religion to Pastors.

Rev. George Brewer, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, spoke of the responsibility of the mother in the home, in an address yesterday afternoon before the Mothers' club of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, on "Home Making and Home Breaking." Dr. Brewer said that too many mothers expect the pastor of their church to win their husbands and sons to Christ.

The program also included a reading by Miss Betty Kyle, a vocal solo by Miss Merl Churchill, a piano solo by Miss Elsie Mathews and a reading by Miss Dora Mitchell.

Dr. Ingham Will Lecture.

"The Man Next Door" will be the subject of a lecture to be given this evening by Rev. Hardy A. Ingham, pastor of Endion Methodist church, at the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street. Dr. Ingham recently conducted a series of union revival meetings in this end of the city and attracted large audiences. His lecture tonight is expected to draw many.

Funeral of Mrs. Plummer.

The funeral service for Mrs. Margaret Plummer, aged 39, who died Sunday at St. Luke's hospital, was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the West End undertaking rooms. Interment was in Forest Hill cemetery.

West [illegible] Briefs.

The congregation of the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, will hold its annual meeting in the church parlors this evening. Election of officers and reports of various societies will feature the meeting.

Diamond lodge, No. 1257, Mystic Workers, entertained last evening at a basket social held at the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue and First street.

Mrs. Walter A. Milberg of Washburn, Wis., is a guest at the home of Mrs. J. A. McLish, 1823 Piedmont avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Nelson of Ashland, Wis., who have been guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Deline, 104 North Twenty-eighth avenue west, have returned home.

The Mothers' club of Bryant school will hold a business meeting at the school Tuesday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Ekblad, 2301 West Third street, are spending a few days visiting relatives at Clebourne, Kan.

BIG PROFITS BY DUTCH COMPANIES

Are Due to Shortage in the World's Mercantile Fleet.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

The Hague, March 12.—The latest dividend declarations by Dutch shipping companies afford striking testimony to the enormous profits which these concerns are making as a result of the naval war and the resultant shortage in the world's mercantile fleet. Solleveld van der Meer and Th. van Hattum's Steamship company, for instance, are distributing 100 per cent out of a total gross profit of $1,000,000, which compares with only 10 per cent for the previous year. The Hilligersberg company, on the other hand, is paying an even higher percentage, viz., 140, as against 7 per cent. The net profits of this company amounted to 240 per cent of the capital. The Zeevaart company has just declared a dividend of 50 per cent, as compared with 10 a year ago; the Triton company 40, as against 15, and the Netherlands Lloyd 25, as compared with 9 per cent. Freight rates from the Netherlands East Indies are to be again raised, thus becoming about three times the amount in vogue before the war.

GEN. PETAIN IS VERY MODEST MAN

Defender of Verdun Is Typical of Modern French Soldier.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Paris, March 15.—Gen. Henri Petain, the defender of Verdun, is typical of the modern French soldier. He is just 60. He received his commission as second lieutenant in 1878 and became a captain in 1890 and a colonel in 1900. He was a colonel when the war began and was going to retire.

Gen. Petain first distinguished himself during the retreat from Charlerol in the early days of the war. He became brigadier-general and general of division and rose rapidly to his present position.

He is a curiously modest man and hates being photographed. He is immensely popular with his men, whom he treats as though they were his own children. Gen. Petain is very methodical and weighs his food every day, saying that it is as necessary for officers to be in perfect condition as for race horses. Keeping in condition is his pet mania. He was turned out of a flat which he occupied once because he insisted on taking half an hour's exercise with a skipping rope after his bath every morning.

The result is that Gen. Petain at 60 is as active as the youngest lieutenant in the French army. Quite recently, in Champagne, he covered four miles at the double at the head of a company and he prides himself on the ease with which he undergoes the same hardships and the same hard work as any man with him.

The general does not believe much in red tape, always wanting to get the most work done in the quickest way. To an officer who asked him to give him a post on the staff, Gen. Petain said, laughing: "I don't need staff officers. The men I want are fellows who can win three-mile races afoot and ride motorcycles over rough ground." There is a legend in the Verdun army that Gen. Petain lived and slept on the carriage of a machine gun during the first ten days of the German offensive late last February.

IRISH FLAX SHOWS REMARKABLE RISE

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Dublin, March 12.—Irish flax shows a remarkable rise in price. The minimum is now £200 per ton as against £80 per ton before the war. There has been some extension of flax-growing under the advice of the agricultural department. Ireland has provided in the past only a comparatively small part of the flax used in the linen industries of Belfast. The flax used has been largely imported from Belgium and Russia.

Government Printing.

Washington, March 31.—Paper used by the government printing office last year cost $1,238,759 and salaries and wages at the printing office amounted to $3,365,680.

The traffic over the four East river bridges in New York approximates 721,000 tons every day.

WHAT DULUTH IS READING

Spring Brings Revival of Interest in Books on Travel; "High Thinking and Low Living" During Lent; Annual Report Issued.

March is the red letter month of the year at the Duluth public library. It is a time for physical fasting and mental feasting. During the whole of this month the reading rooms have been crowded, and the circulating department has been busy.

Books of Travel Being Read.

Spring has swung the tide of reading into a new channel. It is about this time of year that the wanderlust seizes many and the spring fever puts the germ of restlessness into the most unromantic and steady-going persons. Books of travel are often used as an antidote for spring fever. A whole shelf of books on travel has been placed in the rotunda of the library and these books are available as reference reading. The "keynote" of the shelf of books seems to be "See America first." In all there are about twenty of these books on travel and a majority of them describe places of interest for travelers in America.

There has been a lot more reading at the main library, branches and stations during the last year than there was during the preceding year. The total circulation of books for the year ending Dec. 31 and including the December of the foregoing year was 269,429 books. This is an increase of 47,778 books for the period. December of the year 1913 was included in the report so that the year might be closed at the end of December each year.

Circulation Increases.

At the main library the circulation for adults was 121,974 with an increase for the period of 20,354, and for juveniles, 46,707 and a gain of 5,324, making a total gain of 25,678.

At the branches the circulation for adults was 36,498, making a gain of 8,888, and for juveniles, 48,826, making a gain of 8,093, with a total gain of 16,981.

At the stations there was a circulation of 15,424, making a gain of 5,119.

Average Circulation.

The average daily circulation was 747 books and the average weekly circulation was 5,181 books. This average is for the days that the library was open.

The per cent of fiction read during the year was 67.3 and non-fiction, 32.7.

At the first of this year there were 22,062 registration cards out. Of this number there were 6,936 juvenile and 15,128 adult. There were 7,343 new cards issued during the year, 2,935 of which were juvenile and 4,408 were adult.

There was a total of 3,917 books added to the library during the year. This number includes 3,609 purchased, 196 volumes received as gifts and 212 bound periodicals. There were also 181 government documents received.

The total number of volumes in the library at the first of the year was 67,823.

Fewer Books Now.

There were 4,303 volumes withdrawn during the year, which exceeds the number of new books taken in.

The number of catalog cards made and filed was 2,974.

The sum of $971.55 was collected in fines, and 5,223 notices were sent to delinquent readers.

White Way for Washburn.

Washburn, Wis., March 30.—The action to be taken by the two telephone companies doing business here to remove their poles from the main street and place them in the alleys now practically assures the White Way for the city. The Home Phone company will commence changing the location of their poles shortly, according to an announcement made by the heads of the company. The Wisconsin Telephone company will follow suit later.

MORE MEN THAN WOMEN HAVE APPENDICITIS

Surgeons state men are slightly more subject to appendicitis than women. Duluth people should know that a few doses of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, often relieve or prevent appendicitis. This mixture removes such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-i-ka is surprising. W. A. Abbett, druggist.

A SPRING TONIC

Old Reliable Hood's Sarsaparilla Is Pleasant and Effective.

In the spring your blood is impure and weak, eruptions appear on your face and body, you lack vitality, strength and animation, your appetite is poor and you feel all tired out.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla from any druggist. It combines just the roots, barks, herbs and other substances that you need.

It purifies and strengthens the blood—makes the rich red blood that you must have to feel well, look well, eat and sleep well. This is confirmed by thousands of letters from people in all parts of the country.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best spring medicine, but is not simply a spring medicine—it is an all-the-year-round blood purifier and tonic. Remember it has stood the test of forty years. Be sure to get Hood's and get it today.

THIS KIDNEY MEDICINE MAKES FRIENDS EVERYWHERE

About four years ago I had a severe attack of Kidney trouble and Gravel of the Bladder. I was afflicted this way for one year and had severe pains in my back and shooting pains in my bladder; I got so bad that I was not able to work for about two months; I could not rest at night; I would have to get up several times during the night to urinate, and at these times it caused me great pain. I read so much and heard so much of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, I decided to try Swamp-Root; after taking several bottles I was restored to good health and I have not been troubled with my kidneys and bladder since. I cheerfully recommend Swamp-Root to others with kidney and bladder troubles.

Yours respectfully,
F. H. FLEMING,
802 E. 14th St., Pittsburg, Kansas.

Personally appeared before me this 5th day of May, 1915, F. H. Fleming, who subscribed to the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

JOSEPH KEYS, Justice of the Peace.
In and for the County of Crawford and State of Kansas.

About nine years ago the doctor had given me up, saying I had kidney trouble, enlargement of the liver and stomach trouble; that there was no medicine for me that he knew of that would help me, and hearing of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root I bought one-fifty-cent bottle which did me so much good I bought six one-dollar bottles. After taking this amount of Swamp-Root I was completely cured and have not consulted a physician since and am doing my own work every day. When I feel any of the old symptoms coming on I go back to my old friend Swamp-Root, which immediately gives me relief.

Very truly yours,
MRS. J. J. WEIDENTHALER,
Grand Island, Nebr.

Personally appeared before me this 8th day of October, 1915, Mrs. J. J. Weidenthaler, who subscribed to the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

THEO. P. BOEHM,
Notary Public.

Prove What Swamp Root Will Do For You

Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Duluth Herald. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

JUDGE BOOTH HAS BUSY DAY HERE

Thirteen Made Citizens—Petitioners in Bankruptcy Discharged.

Federal Judge Booth passed the forenoon in Duluth today, and in the absence of Judge Page Morris, naturalized thirteen applicants for citizenship and discharged twelve petitioners in bankruptcy.

Judge Morris left some time ago to pass a few weeks on the west coast, not having had any vacation last year because of the rush of work. Judge Booth had a busy forenoon, and left the city at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Judge Morris is expected to be back in Duluth soon, although the exact date is not yet known here. There will be no term of court here until next July.

The number of bankruptcy petitions was unusually large today, as they have been allowed to accumulate until a judge could come to Duluth and give a hearing to the petitioners. Those discharged follow: Joseph Boznu, Louis B. Hagen, Johnson Bros., Charles Finnich, Charles C. Bueler, Royal C. Bartlett, Tony Necollett, John Newberg, George Robinson, Charles Foster, Edward Steurland and Charles Pentilla.

apartment when Waite desired to know the formula of the embalming fluid used on Peck's body. He did admit, however, that he received a letter from Waite asking him and Kane not to telephone him, as Waite believed his telephone wire had been tapped, and also telling him he need not worry about his check.

Embalmed Body of Kate Adams.

Kane embalmed the body of Mrs. Kate J. Adams in the famous Molineux case and Potter was the undertaker who attended to the body of William M. Rice, for whose death Albert T. Patrick was tried.

Ineffectual efforts were made by Mrs. Margaret Weaver Horton, Waite's friend who has been closely questioned by the district attorney, to obtain permission to visit Waite at Bellevue hospital. Her attorney, Harold Spiegelberg, intimated that if neither he nor Mrs. Horton is allowed to see Waite, he will take some action. Mrs. Horton in a letter to Waite, explained her sympathy and confidence in his innocence.

"Stringing" Attorney.

Walter R. Deull, attorney for Waite, in explaining his client's story of a double personality, told to the district attorney and his assistants, said that Waite was "stringing" the prosecuting attorney.

Emphatic denial of reports that financial or other assistance has been or will be given by them to Dr. Waite, was contained in a statement issued by the members of the Peck family after a conference here.

The assertion is made that Mrs. Peck assisted in financing the investigation by private detectives which preceded that of the district attorney's office.

"The attitude of the Peck family is and has been that full justice should be done," the statement says.

Railroad officials say that only twenty-seven bodies have been recovered and that they regard it as impossible that more bodies are in the ruins. Unofficial, but what was regarded as reliable reports, placed the number of dead at thirty.

The two men at whom most of the questions were to be directed at today's investigation were Engineer Herman Hesse of the second section of train 86, and Towerman A. R. Ernst of Amherst.

Engineer D. W. Leonard of the first section of train 86, which pulled the "death car," asserts he stopped his train on a signal originating in Ernst's tower.

Engineer Hesse declares he saw no signal when he brought his section booming along at a 50-mile-an-hour speed about three minutes later.

Ernst asserts he set no stop signal, declaring the line was open for Engineer Leonard to go ahead.

If Ernst is held culpable in the investigation the blame will trace back to a baby's tiny crib in the Ernst home at Elyria.

The baby was born Sunday night. Since that time Ernst has had little sleep, railroad officials say.

Signal Failed to Work.

Ernst, the towerman, today stoutly denied that he was asleep or that he was incapacitated by loss of sleep. He asserted that he set the signal properly, but that it failed to work and that the accident was caused thereby.

"While my wife was ill," said Ernst, "I got my regular sleep and went about my duties as usual. The signal simply failed to work. That is all.

"If the signals had been working properly the block signal light two miles away would have flashed a caution and the block a mile away would have signaled Hess to come to a dead stop. Hess was too good an engineer to run past two signals set against him.

"I was on the lookout for 86. When it was two miles away I threw the signal lever into the clear, giving 86 a clear path. I realized there had been a signal failure when the train stopped. When the train had stopped I again jammed the signal lever into the clear, and this time it might have worked, for the train started ahead. Then the crash came. I didn't have time to stop the Twentieth Century before it, too, crashed into the wreck."

More Dead Identified.

Additional identifications of dead today were:

HARRY WHITE, porter, Chicago.
J. C. BOYLE, Hillsville, Pa.
DR. J. M. GRAU, Jerry City, Ohio.
FRED WEAN, address unknown.

There remained today six bodies of men and four of women awaiting identification.

The name of John Hearn, Gallipolis, Ohio, was stricken from the list of dead, Hearn's father telegraphing that his son was not on any of the wrecked trains, but is in Mount Clemens, Mich.

Diabetes

Notwithstanding the advance of medical science during the past century, Diabetes still continues to baffle the most learned medical men. Thus far no one has been able to discover a definite cure for this dreaded disease and its ravages. However, much progress has been made in relieving the suffering of the afflicted.

Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy

has been used for 40 years with successful results in the relief of Diabetes as the following testimonial goes to show:

"I had Diabetes and was given up by all doctors of my town. I took Warner's Safe Diabetes Remedy and am now perfectly well." —Rev. Alvin H. Morton, Cashmere, Wash. R. F. D. 2.

firemen and trainmen were presented to the general managers of all railroad companies involved at their headquarters in different parts of the country today. The employes, who belong to the so-called Big Four unions, ask for an eight-hour day without reduction in pay and time and a half for overtime. The railroads have until April 29 to prepare their reply.

It is understood that the railroads already have made ready a tentative answer which amounts to a conditional refusal that leaves the way open for further negotiations. Demands of the men went to the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad yesterday and the eight-hour day proposal was refused.

Embraces Wide Territory.

Chicago, March 30.—The demands presented today by representatives of the so-called Big Four trainmen's unions involve 180 railway systems with 248,000 miles of right-of-way exclusive of terminals and yards. In the western territory there are 100 railroads with 138,000 mileage. In the eastern territory sixty railroads with 63,000 mileage and in the southeastern territory 20 railroads with 47,000 mileage.

To Make Counter-Demands.

Cleveland, Ohio., March 30.—Counter-demands are to be made by the railroads to employes. This action on the part of railroads was forecast yesterday when W. H. McMasters, general manager of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, refused the eight-hour day to the men and gave them thirty days' notice that the road would terminate the present agreement whereby roadmen and yardmen are classed separately for compensation and given double pay for the same time or service.

The meeting between officials of the road and committees of the employes was held last night and the demands of the men were presented a day in advance of the general movement.

May Not Make Uniform Reply.

Chicago, March 30.—Possibility that the railroads will not make a uniform reply to demands of the four employes' unions was hinted today as the men throughout the country submitted their requests. In this regard a statement issued by J. W. Higgins, executive secretary of the Association of Western Railways contains the sentence: "As to whether the railroads will accede to the proposal (of the men) that a joint committee be appointed to negotiate for all the roads, I am not in a position to say."

It was noted that the present demand known as the eight-hour day request was the first concerted action of the four brotherhoods on all the railroads of the country. Employes' committees are expected to visit the general managers of every road before night.

cers, looked to a total enlisted strength of 67,852 men.

"In time of peace," he said, "I do not believe we can add 20,000 men to the navy in one year as has been suggested. We now have difficulty in keeping the present quota full because of high wages ashore."

Need Men of Right Type.

The problem, Secretary Daniels said, was to enlist men of the right type.

"The navy today," he said, "is a great machine shop. I believe the day will come when we will not accept any man who has not had some experience as a chauffeur, or machinist, or in other vocational callings."

The secretary defended the educational features developed during his administration which he contended were bringing in men of the highest type.

"You can never have an efficient navy," he said, "if you build a bulkhead so high that young men who enter at the bottom cannot rise to the top. I burned a bushel of recruiting literature showing men going to the tropics and associating with half dressed women. It was indecent. All our literature now shows that men who enlist will get education and vocational training. The educational work in the fleet does not interfere with target practice or maneuvers. The captains may suspend it as they deem best."

GEN. PERSHING BEGINS LONG AND RELENTLESS CAMPAIGN AGAINST VILLA AND BANDITS

have made it known that there is a reward for Villa has not been learned here but it is assumed that the word has been spread about among the peon population as the American soldiers move from place to place.

Roving bands of Villa men are reported everywhere in the region of Santa Maria valley but apparently the American flying columns have not come in contact with them.

The report that Villa on Tuesday had raided Santa Tomas, south of Namiquipa is not confirmed. Neither Gen. Gavira, commander of the Juarez garrison, nor Mexican Consul Garcia had received any advices from Mexico and officers of the Mexican Northwestern railroad said they had no information regarding the reported raid which was not credited.

Diaz Active Again.

Washington, March 30.—Advices on the nature and extent of the revolutionary movement said to be led by Felix Diaz in Southern Mexico continue to conflict as to facts. Diplomatic dispatches today from European legations in the Mexican capital said the movement, led by Diaz himself, was assuming formidable proportions and was distinctly anti-American. On the other hand government investigators have reported they had good reason to believe Felix Diaz is not in Mexico at all, but hiding in the United States, probably in New Orleans.

Department of justice agents, following a trail, which is said to lead to American sources of supply for Villa, have uncovered evidence in New York and other cities which they believe when fully developed will justify the charge.

The allegation often made that Villa has received aid from German sources also is being investigated.

HOW I DARKENED MY GRAY HAIR

Lady Gives Simple Home Recipe That She Used to Darken Her Gray Hair.

For years I tried to restore my gray hair to its natural color with the prepared dyes and stains, but none of them gave satisfaction and they were all expensive. I finally ran onto a simple recipe which I mixed at home that gives wonderful results. I gave the recipe, which is as follows, to a number of my friends, and they are all delighted with it. To 7 ozs. of water add a small box of Barbo Compound, 1 oz of bay rum and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Use every other day until the hair becomes the required shade, then every two weeks. It will not only darken the gray hair, but removes dandruff and scalp humors, and acts as a tonic to the hair. It is not sticky or greasy, does not rub off and does not color the scalp.—Advertisement.

CHANCE TO SEE DULUTH'S SOLDIERS

Battalion Drill at Armory Will Be Open to Public.

Duluth's military force will be on parade at the new National Guard armory tonight when Col. F. E. Resche, commanding Third regiment, M. N. G., and Lieut.-Col. H. V. Eva will review three militia companies, the hospital corps and the regiment band.

It will be the first battalion drill in several weeks and the first one in several months which has been attended by three companies of men, as the recently organized A company has been mustered in since the last battalion maneuvers.

Company A, Company C and Company E, under Captains E. W. McDevitt, George W. Stiles and W. O. Flodin, will be reviewed by the commanding officers and will participate in dress parade by Lieut.-Col. Eva. Col. Resche will be in command during the battalion drill, which will follow the review and parade.

The galleries will be open to spectators.

JURIES CONSIDERING TWO DAMAGE CLAIMS

Personal Injury Suits Against Traction Company and City.

In Judge Ensign's division of the district court this afternoon, a jury is considering the merits of a claim which L. Q. Marchand is pressing against the Duluth Street Railway company. The plaintiff asks for $500 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained to his leg when he attempted to board a street car at Grand avenue and Fifty-seventh avenue west several weeks ago. Mr. Marchand claims that the car suddenly started and that his leg was cut and bruised, which incapacitated him for about a month. M. E. Louisell is attorney for Marchand and Thomas S. Wood is defending for the street railway. The case was given to the jury about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

A jury in Judge Cant's division is considering the joint claims of Henry and Sadie Richards against the city of Duluth. Damages aggregating $2,283 are sought by the plaintiffs for injuries which they sustained when their automobile tipped over at Thirteenth avenue east and First street on the Chester creek bridge. An obstruction in the street is charged by the plaintiffs and the city is accused of negligence.

IRON IS GREATEST OF ALL STRENGTH BUILDERS, SAYS DOCTOR

A SECRET OF THE GREAT ENDURANCE AND POWER OF ATHLETES

Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Delicate, Nervous, Rundown People 200 Per Cent Stronger in Two Weeks' Time in Many Cases.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Most people foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret nostrum or narcotic drug, said Dr. Sauer, a specialist of this city, when, as a matter of fact, real and true strength can only come from the food you eat. But people often fail to get the strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living matter. From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong, but they can't tell what, so they generally commence doctoring for stomach, liver or kidney trouble or symptoms of some other ailment caused by the lack of iron in the blood. This thing may go on for years, while the patient suffers untold agony. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while, double their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prize-fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the affray, while many another has gone down to inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

NOTE—Nuxated Iron recommended above by Dr. Sauer is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents is widely prescribed by eminent physicians everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy, in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The Manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent or over in four weeks' time provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Boyer Drug store and all other druggists.

BLOOMING MILL REPAIRS FINISHED

Rolling of Steel Billets Will Be Resumed Saturday.

Repairs to the powerful blooming mill engine at the Duluth steel plant, which was wrecked in an accident four weeks ago, have been nearly completed and it is expected that it will be ready to resume operation tomorrow or Saturday. The repairs have been made under the direction of experts from the Allis-Chalmers company of Milwaukee.

The blooming mill of the steel plant has been shut down since the accident. Billets and slab steel will again be rolled, according to the expectation of officials, on Saturday.

Although the mill has been closed down the men have been employed on construction work at the plant. In the blooming mill about 100 skilled mechanics have been employed.

The manufacture of steel ingots has continuate unabated. Large quantities of these ingots are now stored and ready for the pit furnaces for the soaking process. These furnaces will be charged this evening in order to prepare the metal for the blooming mill.

ALUMNI ORGANIZE.

All Graduates of Denfeld and Industrial Schools Eligible.

The West Duluth High School Alumni association was formally organized last evening at a meeting of graduates of the Duluth industrial high school and Robert E. Denfeld high school, held at the Denfeld school. All graduates of these two schools will be eligible to membership.

Page Cashin was elected president. The other officers are: Miss Marie Haney, vice president; Miss Edith Works, secretary, and Miss Lillian Flaherty, treasurer. A meeting of the organization will be held next Tuesday evening at which a constitution and by-laws will be drafted.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR PROCTOR ROAD

County Commissioner W. Swanstrom Plans Much Work at Heights.

Improvements entailing an expenditure of approximately $5,900 will be made within the next few months on the Proctor road from Bayview Heights to Proctor, according to announcement made by Walter Swanstrom, county commissioner from the Third district, who will have supervision of the work. The highway is to be improved with crushed rock macadam and will be put in first class shape. As soon as the weather permits, a crew of men will be put to work. The Proctor road extends into the Fifth district, and $1,900 has been appropriated from the funds of this district to defray the cost of the contemplated improvement. The work, however, will be done under the supervision of Commissioner Swanstrom.

Mr. Swanstrom also states that the Getchell road will soon be improved. This road was established several years ago, but the county board has never been in a position to spend any substantial sum of money for improvements until the city completed the Highland street extension. The Highland street extension was built last year and it is the present intention of Commissioner Swanstrom to improve that portion of the Getchell road which begins where the Highland street improvement leaves off and runs to the boulevard. This will be ditched and turnpiked before being covered with crushed rock macadam. About $3,000 will be spent on this improvement.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

EIGHT AEROPLANES FOR GEN. PERSHING

War Department Authorizes Purchase of That Number for Mexico.

Washington, March 30.—Immediate purchase of eight aeroplanes to be sent at once to Brig.-Gen. Pershing was authorized today by the war department.

A special board of signal corps officers has been ordered here to inspect and test the machines. The board will be composed of Capt. Virginius C. Clark, head of the department of motors of the aviation school at San Diego, Cal.; Lieut. Thomas De W. Milling, head instructor at the San Diego school, who are now en route here from the Pacific coast, and Lieut. B. Q. Jones of the signal corps.

Reports from Maj.-Gen. Funston lay stress upon the need for more fliers with the advance columns in Mexico. Of the eight machines which accompanied the expedition, two have been destroyed and four others have been temporarily disabled, leaving only two in service.

A portable machine shop to repair damaged aeroplanes on the field has been sent into Mexico.

More horses are also to be sent Gen. Pershing. Several hundred are being bought in California and an estimate for 2,000 more has been sent to congress. Every cavalry horse in the cavalry remount stations has been sent to the border.

WISCONSIN NORMALS MAY LOSE THEIR MONEY

Madison, Wis., March 30.—The normal schools at Oshkosh and Platteville each may lose an appropriation of $100,000 made by the 1913 legislature for building purposes and which may have been inadvertently repealed by the legislature. The board of normal regents and other state officials have proceeded on the theory that these amounts were now available, only to find that a law enacted by the last legislature may have robbed both schools of the amount. It is also said that some of the appropriations of the charitable and penal institutions have been similarly affected.

CONFERENCE POSTPONED.

Referendum in Armory Case Will Be Considered Soon.

The conference on the armory referendum case scheduled for this morning has been postponed indefinitely, as City Attorney Samuelson and Frank Crassweller, special counsel for the city, are both busy in the district court.

No date has been set for the conference, Mayor Prince said this morning, but the meeting will be held as soon as the attorneys are able to attend.

Final disposition of the armory question will be made by the commissioners at this conference, it was announced yesterday.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR ROCHESTER ASYLUM

St. Paul, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Improvements representing an expenditure of nearly $150,000 will be recommended to the next legislature by the state board of control for the state asylum for insane at Rochester. The improvements contemplated were agreed to yesterday after a visit made to the institution by Chairman Swendsen and Ralph W. Wheelock of the board.

The proposed improvements consist of the fireproofing of the west wing at a cost of $60,000; a new cottage to cost $65,000; a cottage for the engineer costing $3,500 and minor improvements calling for an expenditure of about $10,000. The board will also recommend the purchase of 160 acres of additional land for farm purposes.

BAD EGGS CAUSE LOSS OF MILLION YEARLY

J. J. Farrell, state dairy and food commissioner, in a bulletin just issued by his department, states that a total of $1,000,000 is lost annually in the egg business in Minnesota.

He submits the following suggestions to farmers, producers and dealers, to cut this loss down at least 90 per cent:

"Have plenty of clean nests.

"Gather the eggs two or three times daily.

"Keep eggs in a cool, dry room or cellar, that is free from mold or odors.

"Kill or confine all male birds as soon as the hatching season is over.

"The rooster makes the eggs fertile; a fertile egg makes a blood ring.

"Infertile eggs will not become blood rings.

"Don't sell eggs that have been in an incubator.

"Don't sell eggs that were found in a stolen nest.

"Don't wash eggs; use the dirty and small eggs at home.

"Don't keep eggs near kerosene oil, onions, etc.; they absorb odors.

"Protect eggs from the sun on the way to market.

"Market your eggs two or three times a week.

"The laws of Minnesota prohibit the sale of decomposed and unwholesome food products, and impose a fine of not less than $50 or imprisonment for not less than sixty days for violation thereof.

"The sale of black rots, blood rings, putrid, rotten or otherwise decomposed eggs is a violation of law. Egg producers and dealers are urged to candle all eggs and avoid the expense of shipping those which must ultimately be discarded as unfit for food.

"The dairy and food department is charged with the enforcement of this law and all citizens are requested to report promptly the sale of eggs that are unfit for food. Retain the eggs complained of as evidence of the facts. The dairy and food department will do the rest."

ELECTION JUDGES LOOKING FOR PAY

St. Paul, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Between 8,000 and 10,000 election judges and clerks, who participated in the recent presidential primaries are much interested in a question as to their reimbursement, the solution of which has been put up to Attorney General Smith. If Mr. Smith holds in their favor each will be entitled to draw $2 for his day's work.

When the law providing for the presidential primaries was drafted and passed it was the idea of those interested that all cost to the state would be eliminated by combining the primaries with the town meetings. However, such was not made clear in the law as passed and the clerks and judges who officiated have been clamoring for extra money since the election was held.

SEEKS ANDERSON'S POSITION IN FIRST

St. Paul, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Congressman Anderson of the First district will not be permitted to seek his present position without a contest. Today Ola M. Levang of Lanesboro filed for the Republican nomination against Mr. Anderson and announced that he intended to make his fight to the finish.

Society • Women's Clubs • Music • Drama

THESE days of short skirts, impressionistic footwear and vast stretches of unexplored mud, bring woman to the parting of the ways. Shall she risk the new $8 or $10 pink or blue kids amid the accumulated and waterlogged debris of a Duluth winter, or shall she go sanely shod and feeling bedraggled?

That is the question.

New Method of Admission To Women's Colleges

At the chapel exercises on Tuesday, March 21, President Burton of Smith college, made an announcement of importance to the college, as well as to the prospective college student. Mount Holyoke, Smith, Vassar and Wellesley colleges have adopted a new method of admission. It involves no change in the content of the entrance requirements. It does not do away with the method of admission to college by examination in all subjects. It does mean the discontinuance of the certificate system. The new method will go into operation for all four colleges in September, 1919.

The new method is based upon three requirements:—first, a school report covering the entire record of subjects and grades for four years; second, a certificate of character from the school principal; and third, four comprehensive examinations which will be offered by the college entrance examination board. One examination will be in English or history, another in a foreign language, a third in mathematics, chemistry or physics. All three of these examinations will be selected by the applicant. The fourth examination will be designated by the applicant from the subjects required for entrance. This fourth choice will be subject to the approval of the committees on admission of the respective colleges which may, at their discretion, substitute another subject. The four examinations must be taken at one time. At least two of them must cover not less than three admission units each.

The student, if admitted to college, will be admitted free from all conditions. Failure to satisfy part of the requirements will not necessarily involve rejection of the applicant. The committee may take into account excellence in one part of the requirement as offsetting unsatisfactory work elsewhere. If a student fails of admission, she will not be considered for admission again under this plan until after an interval of one academic year.

"Taking the Office Home at Night"

San Antonio Light:

When men are asked what traits they admire in a wife they may differ in naming some qualifications, but there is one which every man will say he requires. It is that a wife should not take her kitchen into the parlor.

Nor should she, but, by the same token, a man should not take his office into his home.

Women know so well how men dislike to be met with complaints regarding the domestic machinery when they come home at night that few of them discuss household cares before the husband. And this is as it should be, for men have cares enough in the business world without being burdened with the cares of the domestic end of life. And it is equally true that the majority of home-makers have enough to worry them without being burdened with every phase of the husband's business life. The kindest of husbands, men who would really not hurt their wives for the world, unconsciously or thoughtlessly inflict added burdens on them by taking their office home with them.

"I can tell the moment my husband enters the door whether things have gone right at the office that day," said a woman who has long since learned that it does not conduce to domestic happiness to take her kitchen into the dining room, to say nothing of the parlor.

Wife Earns Rest.

That man ought to be ashamed of himself. His wife has many cares. She runs the house with the assistance of one medium priced girl and there are three young children. They all live comfortably, but it takes good management, for the income is not large. Now, don't you think that one has just as much right to enjoy an evening free from office cares as the man has to be free from kitchen cares? She seldom has such an evening, for she is more than often obliged to hear all the trials that have beset her husband during the day. This means that her already tired brain and body receive an unjust burden.

When a man meets a serious business difficulty the majority of wives rise magnificently to the occasion and help bear the burden bravely, but they should not be annoyed with the from day to day troubles, for they have enough of their own.

There was a man who recently told his wife a detailed account of a difficulty he was in at the office and added, "If things don't change so, I don't know what I'll do," and kept on this rate until he got her all worried. All day long she felt depressed. The children were cross and she had to give much strength to them, meantime carrying the added burden of her husband's business. When he came home at night and she saw his radiant face, she gasped: "Oh, Will, is it all right?"

"What do you mean?" he asked blankly; then, remembering, added laughingly, "Oh, yes; that turned out all right. I found the letter waiting for me when I got down town this morning." And he will never know that just such instances as that are eating away th eroom from her love for him. She is one of those women who, when one of the children is sick, will send him off to business with a smile and a kiss and tell him it's less serious than she really fears it to be, for she does not want him to carry an added worry during the business hours. She does not compel him to take the family and his house to his office.

Beef Loaf With Asparagus

IT IS asparagus time now, and if you have ever cut the wild variety along the edges of a salt marsh or inlet you will not be surprised to learn the plant belongs to the lily family. The cultivated plant, given plenty of water and fertilized with salt, grows anywhere and its plumy foliage is admired after it is grown too rank and strong for the table.

Good cooks tie asparagus in bunches and put it in enough water to reach just below the tips. Then, when the stalks are tender the delicate tops will be steamed just enough. Hard boiling breaks and spoils the tender tips, which are the much prized "best part."

Asparagus on toast is doubtless the most popular way of serving this vegetable, for nicely made, well-buttered toast enhances its delicate flavor. Bread that is a day or two old may be stamped in circles before toasting and after it is nicely browned and buttered have the asparagus drawn through the rings. Asparagus dressed with white sauce is a newer way to serve it. The sauce is made just thick enough to adhere to the stalks, which are piled upon one another on a hot plate or used as a garnish.

A dainty luncheon dish is made with a veal or any meat loaf placed in the center of a handsome platter and decorated with well cooked, tender asparagus stalks dipped in the hot cream sauce, slightly drained and laid across it. Parsley or cress may also be used to trim the platter.

To a quart of cold flaked fish or beef or veal for loaf, add yolks of two eggs, three tablespoons of milk or cream, one tablespoon of melted butter, salt, pepper and lemon juice to suit taste. Stir together well and bake in a mold twenty minutes. If you prefer meat loaf cold, dip the cold asparagus into chilled French dressing and use points of lemon in the garnish.

The Naughty Little Breeze Turns Good

A BIT of Spanish moss hung down from a great branch of a live oak tree and swayed gracefully to and fro. "How happy I am," said the moss to herself. "I can live all my life in this beautiful tree; I can feel the warm sunshine, but the kind tree protects me from the heat; I can enjoy the fresh breezes but the firm limbs of the tree save me from storm. Indeed I am happy.

"Now that's a stupid way to talk," said a naughty breeze who was passing just then. "Think how much of the world you miss."

"So-o," cried the moss wonderingly, "surely not! This tree is a beautiful place to live and I am most happy!"

"That's because you know no better," scoffed the breeze spitefully. "If you could travel all over the country as I do, you would feel sorry that you are only a bit of moss clinging to a tree—nothing about that to make you happy! I feel sorry for you!" And with that rude remark, the naughty little breeze blew away.

"There!" he said to himself crossly. "I guess I've made that little bit of moss unhappy and I feel better!"

So, feeling better for letting out his temper, the little breeze blew down toward the ocean.

But, dear me! The feeling better didn't last—not a minute!

The bubbles of foam welcomed the little breeze (they didn't of course guess how naughty he had been!) and begged him to blow them up the beach. But the little breeze someway just could not blow. He kept thinking and thinking and thinking of that poor little bit of moss that he had made so unhappy.

"I really needn't have been so mean," he finally admitted to himself. "That moss was happy enough; I should have left it alone. I think I'll go and take back what I said. Then the moss can be happy again."

And immediately he felt better.

He blew as fast as ever he could straight back to where the little bit of moss grew.

"Please, Little-bit-o'-moss," he cried as soon as he was within hearing distance, "forgive me for what I said to you. I'm not sorry for you at all. I think you have a nice place to live and won't you please forgive me for being so unkind and making you miserable?"

"Of course I have a nice place to live," replied the bit of moss with a little squirm of pleasure, "but there is nothing for me to forgive. You didn't make me miserable. I'm happy all the day!"

And, do you know, that answer made the little breeze feel ashamed of his ill temper. And as soon as he was ashamed, all his naughtiness vanished away and he was good ever after.

President of Associations for Deaf Will Wed Former Secretary

JAY COOKE HOWARD.

MISS PETRA FANDREM.

Invitations have been sent out to the marriage of Miss Petra Fandrem, head of the division for the deaf in the state bureau of labor and industries, to Jay Cooke Howard, a Duluth real estate dealer and president of the Minnesota and National associations for the deaf. The ceremony will take place at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday, April 12, at the Elks' club in Minneapolis.

Following her graduation from Gallaudet college in 1912, Miss Fandrem was secretary to Mr. Howard. She became connected with the state bureau last August.

Mr. Howard is a graduate of Gallaudet college and the state school for the deaf at Faribault. He first met Miss Fandrem when he visited his alma mater in Washington.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Fitting Milady's Shoes

I have learned something that is a revelation to me. My discovery amounts to this. Those who fit us to shoes nowadays no longer take our word for the size of the shoes we wear. Instead they mentally estimate the size of the shoe that will fit the foot. They are skilled and seldom make a mistake.

They will politely ask you what size you wear. If you say 4 B, and they have made up their minds that a whole size larger is yours there is no contradiction. The shoes are forthcoming and fitted. The clerk has no scruples about telling you that they are 3's when they are 4's and sometimes 5's.

The makers of shoes have come to the rescue of the shopkeepers in that they no longer stamp the size of the shoe on the sole of the boot. The most you will find is a series of numbers that run in this way, 153, 0, 73915. Make that read size 4½ if you can. Yet that is what it means to the clerk fitting the shoes. This new way of marking shoes leaves you absolutely in the dark in regard to the matter.

Those who sell shoes for a living were obliged to resort to some sort of profection. Women are particularly sensitive about the size of their feet and a 3 is a favorite with most of them. Though 5 is their real size if by a deal of pinching they can squeeze their feet into a 2 or a 3½ they will do so, buy the shoes and in a day or two come around and say that "they hurt." They will innocently ask why it is that the shoes you sell run so much shorter in the various sizes than the makes carried by other dealers in town.

It is said that men never bother themselves about the size of their shoes. They have their feet measured, try on a pair that should fit them and if they do not pinch and look well and the price is right, that ends the transaction. The sexes are vastly different in this respect. Since the women have returned to the high heels, paper soles and narrow toes there has been a return to the squeezing process.

Women may think that their feet look well cramped into shoes that are too small, and that the fact is not noticeable. It is, though, and the effect upon your feet, while it may be slow, is sure, and then again how uncomfortable tight shoes are.

Candy or Pennies

MY SMALL nephew cannot understand why the man at the drug store is willing to give him candy for pennies.

"I should think," he confided to me the other day, "that he'd rather keep the candy. I don't see what he wants those dirty old pennies for. I'd much rather have the candy."

My small nephew is a philosopher. At the age of 5½ he has discovered a secret which some people ten times his age have not found out.

"It isn't the money I care about. It's what you can buy with it," has long been listed among the bromidioms, and yet every once in a while I meet a person who announces that self-evident fact with the air of having made a great philosophical discovery.

He Hasn't Learned the Possibilities of Money.

To return to my small nephew, he really doesn't deserve the credit I give him, for while he has discovered the futility of money per se, it is only because he hasn't yet learned its value in the world of men, not because he has learned to discount that value.

Which brings me to the point I started to discuss, namely, the surprisingly vague ideas of money and values held by the average child in the middle-class family.

At 5½ one does not expect much, but it was a boy of 9 in my neighbor's family who, on being told that his father could not give him something because he did not have the money, answered, "Well, why doesn't he go into some bank and get some?"

A $500 Necklace for 35 Cents.

As I look back upon my own childhood I am conscious of a chaos of vague ideas on the subject of money and values from which one incident stands out clearly. I was trailing behind my mother through the shops when it happened, so I presume I must have been beyond the lead-by-the-hand stage, perhaps 8 or 9. I saw several strings of yellow beads, in front of which hung a placard stating that the price was 35 cents. I was greatly excited. To me a string of beads was a necklace, and a necklace was something that cost hundreds of dollars, and here they were to be had for 35 cents. I can remember my excitement even yet. Now, I was in most things a child of average intelligence; how had I ever reached that age with such a vague idea of values?

Children Should Have Allowances for Clothes and Incidentals.

Children should have allowances for spending money, no matter how small; they should know something about the family income and what their education and their indulgences cost their parents. As soon as feasible, a definite clothes allowance should be made them and they should be allowed to help spend it.

And yet, as I write these conclusions I am assailed with doubts and questionings. From a common-sense standpoint I am right, but there is such a thing as having too much common sense and having it at the wrong time. Most of us have to think of money and values all the rest of our lives. The world of getting and spending is indeed too much with us. Perhaps we do as well after all to let the child remain as long as he can in his happier world.

With My Letter Friends.

I am very much interested in your article in today's paper (in regard to the woman who leads men on to take liberties with her and then blames them), and would like to say that I think it must be a wonderful thing to be a man and to be able to lay the blame for everything we do on someone else. What a heavy load we women have to carry—our own faults and those of the men with whom we associate! How many leads we get from men that we have to ignore or resent! Then, why is it necessary to accept the invitation if a woman leads? The woman is blamed in either case, whether she leads or whether she accepts the invitation.

Adam blamed Eve, but as I understand the Bible, God punished them both. I believe He requires just as much of men today as He did then.

Fashion Origins.

Springfield Republican: Fashions can often be traced to the influence of passing events. Tit-Bits suggests that the short, full skirts now in vogue originated with the Russian ballet, which has been so popular of late. Dress experts keep changing the fashions, as it were, in self-defense. At one time elaborately worked and hand-embroidered blouses were the vogue. Then machines were so perfected that machine embroidered blouses rivaled the hand work, and fashion experts retaliated by designing blouses as plain as possible. The fashion for uncurled feathers were on every hat, when, at some fashionable function, the rain descended in torrents and every feather was soon absolutely straight. Milliners, always alert for an idea, were struck with the appearance of these feathers and uncurled ostrich plumes became the demand. The fashion for wearing ribbons intermingled with curls piled on the top of the head originated in the reign of Louis XIV of France. A certain Mlle. Fontage was out hunting with the king and court when a branch of a tree caught her hair and pulled it down. With quick resourcefulness she leaned down, pulled off her ribbon garter and twisted up her hair with it. The king, noticing the pretty effect, complimented her on her charming coiffure and from that moment the "fontage," as it was termed, became the rage.

A WARRIOR'S FINERY.

Picture Progress: George has become much interested in playing soldier. At first he was content to march around merely with a stick for a gun; then, at his request, his mother made him a paper hat, to which later he added a plume picked up in the chicken yard. Then he must have a belt, and this naturally led him to ask his father to whittle him a sword. But one day he came from the pictures with another detail.

"Mother," he asked, "got any old brushes I can have?"

"What for?"

"I've been looking at a picture of Napoleon—and he has scrubbing brushes on his shoulders."

AL WILSON AT THE LYCEUM

Al H. Wilson, the singing dialect comedian, is appearing this season in a new play entitled "As Years Roll On," under the management of Sidney R. Ellis. Arrangements have been completed whereby Mr. Wilson and company will present his new offering at the Lyceum tonight, tomorrow and Saturday.

In the construction of the piece the authors have provided a character for Mr. Wilson in which that comedian is said to display remarkable histrionic ability. The unfolding of the story, which is supposed to cover a period of twenty years, relates to the many obstacles met with as the years roll on by a young immigrant struggling to establish himself as a prosperous merchant. To understand the plot of the play it will not be necessary to tax the imagination, for it deals with the present and the different characters introduced can be duplicated among the people of today. The comedy is equalized, and, perhaps, made more enjoyable by the fine lines of love and sentiment which the authors have woven into the story. An added feature to the performance that will prove worth while will be the new songs rendered by Mr. Wilson, the most noted of which are "Mother Mine," "As Years Roll On," "Yesterday" and "She's Left Me for a Teddy Bear."

Sure Way To Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Advertisement.

THREE PROGRAMS EACH WEEK AT THE REX.

Some patrons of the Rex have not become fully familiar with the change of programs. There are three changes each week now instead of two, coming on Sunday, Tuesday and Friday, with new pictures on each of these days. Bessie Barriscale, she whose clever work has lifted her to a high pinnacle in the esteem of many Duluth motion picture patrons, will appear for the last time tonight in the present engagement in "Bullets and Brown Eyes." It has been pronounced a most satisfying picture.

Fannie Ward is the new attraction for tomorrow and Saturday, coming in the play, "For the Defense," a vehicle well worth the best efforts of Miss Ward. Fidele Roget, a little French novice, is sent by the sisters to a convent in Montreal. Arriving in New York, she is pursued by a "cadet," who takes her to a house of bad repute.

On Fridays and Saturdays hereafter, the Pictographs, formerly seen at the Lyric, will go to the Rex. The Keystone comedy seen with the Barriscale play is pronounced full of fun and thrills.

MARIE DORO WELL CAST IN LYRIC FILM.

"Diplomacy," the Famous Players' picture to be at the Lyric today and tonight, is not only a good play within itself, but an especially good one for Marie Doro, who is the leading woman. It is the first picture the star has appeared in since her marriage, and as if to show the world that having a husband does not hinder her art, especially since the husband (Elliott Dexter) is playing in the piece with her, Miss Doro has done some of her best work in this film. It is an adaptation from the Sardou drama.

Tomorrow and Saturday, a return engagement of Pauline Frederick in "Bella Donna," is booked for the Lyric. The story is taken from the great novel of Robert Hichens, which was not only a "best seller" but which created no end of a stir when it appeared. An English adventuress has set the tongues of London wagging. Struck by her marvelous beauty, an Englishman of note marries the woman and takes her to Egypt. One thrilling adventure after another follows this.

Lyric patrons will also see something new and to their liking tomorrow when the Silhouette pictures—black and white—are put on for the first time in Duluth. They are to be run on each Friday and Saturday hereafter—the work of Bray and other noted artists.

GREAT FIRE SCENE IN ZELDA FILM.

"The Writing on the Wall" with Virginia Pearson and Joseph Kilgour in the title parts, is the attraction offered at the Zelda today and tomorrow. This five-part sermon-drama play is presented by the Big Four company.

The story is taken from an incident that happened in New York city, and shows tragic results that come to a financier, whose disregard for the safety of his tenants, causes him to neglect ordinary precaution.

Joseph Kilgour portrays a difficult role, bringing into play his knowledge of dramatic and emotional technic. It is one of the strongest roles in which he has been seen since he deserted the stage for the silent drama.

Miss Pearson in the role of his wife is exceptionally good, and she has an excellent opportunity to show her emotional ability.

"PEG O' MY HEART."

Popular Comedy Drama Will Open Week's Engagement Sunday.

Oliver Morosco's delightful production of "Peg o' My Heart" will return to the Lyceum theater next Sunday afternoon for a week's engagement with the usual matinee performances on Wednesday and Saturday. Florence Martin will be seen in the title role. She was selected by Mr. Morosco, who considers her the premier of all his "Pegs." What makes it all the more pleasing is the fact that the producer has supplied a company which is his personal selection, as he announces this as the farewell tour of "Peg" under his management.

"Peg o' My Heart" is a story of a young Irish-American girl who is sent to wealthy relatives in England to be educated and polished. She has inherited part of the wealth of her uncle, and despite the fact that her mother was frowned upon by her family for marrying a happy-go-lucky Irishman, whom she loved, "Peg" is taken into the stiff English household, principally because her being there means money to her relatives. She has little to amuse or comfort her, but finally finds a solution of her problem for loneliness. It is the sweet, clean and wholesomeness touch of pathos and humor which make it the most attractive stage story theater-goers have been offered in many years. There isn't another play like it in the world. The cast includes Madeline L'Estrange, York Erskine, Edmund Dalby, John Pearson and Lillian Kemble Cooper.

MARINE

LATE OPENING IS EXPECTED

Navigation Not Looked for Much Before May 1.

Average Date April 20—Ice Conditions Unchanged and Hampering.

With the very slight changes in ice conditions during the past week, either here or at other important points along the Great Lakes, the question of how much delay there will be in the opening of navigation, is arising. Last year the first boat left on April 17, and the first boat to arrive got in on April 20.

Nobody expects so early an opening this year. April 20 is about the average, but guesses are being made for all the way from April 25 to May 1 and even May 5 this year. The latest date of the opening since 1900 was May 12, 1904, which was the year of the shipmasters' strike; and the earliest in that time was April 6, 1902. The opening in 1910 was on April 9. But as a general thing, around April 20 is the average time.

Conditions Worse Than in 1912.

Ice conditions this year are even worse than those of the spring of 1912, when the opening of navigation was delayed until April 28, and a large fleet of boats was hung up around Whitefish point for many days, waiting to get through.

This year, according to reports, the ice is heavy at all points instead of being more than usually so at any one point. This end of the lake has a world of it, and it is declared that similar conditions exist all along the north and south shores, and all of the harbors are choked.

In the ice report, issued yesterday by the government weather bureau, it is announced that the ice in Duluth harbor is 34 inches thick, that the lake ice averages 20 inches thick and extends out about fifteen miles; and beyond that there is closely packed broken ice, which extends beyond vision. This shows that the condition since the report of a week ago has not changed, with the exception that the packed and broken ice has been added. The ice here is 11 inches thicker than the ten-year average, is 7 inches thicker at the Sault, 6 inches thicker at the Straits of Mackinaw and 2 inches thicker at Escanaba.

The ice at the Sault is 26 inches thick, and at Port Arthur is 12 to 22 inches thick and solid.

In Lake St. Clair and Detroit river, it is reported that in the former the ice extends beyond vision, but the Detroit river is open to Lake Erie.

Summary of Conditions.

"The reports from the regular and display stations of the weather bureau and the meteorological service of Canada indicate that the ice conditions over Western Superior have not changed materially during the past week. The fields over the central portion near Keweenaw point have moved beyond vision, and have begun to move over the eastern portion; the ice in Whitefish bay continues solid. The ice over St. Mary's river continues the same. Over Green Bay the ice has not changed except over the extreme southern portion where water is reported on the ice. In Michigan there is some slush ice reported at some of the harbors as far south as Chicago; on the east shore the fields do not appear until north of Frankfort, from there to the Straits, where the ice is 18 inches in thickness, the fields are heavy and extensive with some open water appearing south of South Manitou island. In Northern Huron the fields are not as extensive as reported last week with no marked changes over the central and southern portions. The Detroit river is open to Lake Erie. No change in Lake St. Clair. In Erie there is apparently less ice over the extreme west portion and along the north shore, while from Sandusky east to Buffalo the fields continue practically beyond vision, although more movement than last week. In Ontario there are extensive fields from Sodus point east to the St. Lawrence river. The warm weather of the last two days of the week and the rain of Saturday and Sunday has decreased the snow covering on the ice in all lakes."

ICE BREAKERS WORK AT CANADA LAKES HEAD

Fort William, Ont., March 30.—Everything possible is being done to hasten an early opening of navigation here. The two powerful breakers, St. Ignace and Whalen, today are working in the ice fields of Thunder bay and have cut a channel out past Welcome islands, a distance of nine miles. Open water probably will be reached in a few days.

Local marine men predict that navigation will open at least as early as it did last year.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK FOR LAKES GOOD

Marquette Ore Dock Superintendent Finds Prospects Excellent.

Marquette, Mich., March 30.—That the outlook for the ore and steel industry on the Great Lakes for the coming summer is exceptionally bright is claimed by John S. Harland, superintendent of shipping operations for the D., S. S. & A. railway, who has returned from a trip to Cleveland, Cincinnati, Detroit and Milwaukee in the interests of the shipping department of the South Shore. Mr. Harland attended the United States Steel corporation convention while in Cleveland.

"The iron and steel industries look for a decidedly active year," Mr. Harland said, "and the movement of the product will depend entirely upon the capacity of the lake steamers. All present indications point to a rush with the opening of navigation. Business in general throughout the country seems to be exceptionally thriving and every one with whom I talked or heard give their opinions on industrial conditions seems very optimistic."

Many Boat Changes.

"As far as the vessels are concerned," Mr. Harland stated, "a great many of them have changed hands since the close of navigation last November, and many privately owned boats have been absorbed by the Steel corporation, the Interlake Steamship company and the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company. Every effort is being made by vessel owners to have their boats equipped and ready by the opening of navigation, so that they can start shipping without the slightest delay.

"The outlook, however, for the opening of navigation on the Great Lakes is not very promising, especially as regards Lake Superior. An average of seven inches more of ice covers the lake at the present time than was the case last year at this time, and it is apparently not melting to any great extent.

"The heavy covering of snow on the surface of the ice acts as an insulator and prevents the melting and breaking of the ice sheet. It is not likely that the boats will be safe in starting out before April 20."

TWO LAKE STEAMERS SOLD TO B. & C. LINE

Green Bay, Wis., March 30.—The steamers America and Brazil have been sold by the North American Steamship company, in which the Reiss Coal company of Green Bay is interested, to Boland & Cornelius of Buffalo.

The purchase price was $250,000. Both boats were built in 1890 and have been used in coal and ore traffic on the Great Lakes.

DRIVING TRACHOMA OUT OF THE KENTUCKY MOUNTAINS

Government Fighting to Save Eyesight From the Scourge of the Family Towel.

By DOROTHY H. STILES.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

Trachoma is the menace of the mountains, a blighting curse of the hills. But it is slowly retreating before the surgeon's knife and sanitary education.

The Hindman settlement school, on the banks of Troublesome creek, which until two years ago was the only school of the sort within fifty miles, found in its yearly clinics that trachoma was a growing menace in that vicinity. The sufferers called everything of the sort by the indiscriminate title of "sore-eyes" or "cattracks." With a primitive sort of fatalism, they were resigned to seeing friends or family become stricken and blind.

Burden for the State.

From the school, a realization of the seriousness of the disease was communicated to the local health authorities and eventually to the state officials. Though ostensibly a burden for the state to shoulder, it had assumed such proportions that the state authorities decided that only Federal facilities could deal with it effectively.

To this end, Past Assistant Surgeon McMullen of the United States public health service made a pilgrimage to six of the counties in Eastern Kentucky, which resulted in the opening of the government hospital at Hindman.

Perched on a bank, a little above the main road, the hospital is a one-floor dwelling built like the majority of mountain homes, with rooms on either side of the "dog-trot," or hall, in the middle. It differs from the average mountain home in one great respect—it is spotlessly clean.

But within those four walls, the venture met with such instantaneous success that Dr. McMullen took immediate steps to have like hospitals organized in other mountain districts, one in Hyden, Leslie county, and another in Jackson of "Bloody Breathitt."

The aim of the government workers is of course twofold: cure and prevention. Dealing with actual cases, not too far advanced in the disease, is a comparatively easy matter. In earlier stages, the inside of the eyelid through constant inflammation, is covered with granulations, which in time irritate the cornea to such an extent that scars are formed there, leading to eventual blindness. The treatment requires the operating room; and although the majority of those afflicted come willingly enough, others need a special invitation.

County Sheriff on Call.

Two or three days a week the doctors ride out on their searching visits, combing the length and breadth of Knott county for suspects. Behind them is the moral backing of law and the very actual presence of the county sheriff, who is as quick to answer a call as he is on the trigger. Few willfully resist under these circumstances when actually caught, but it often happens that the suspect is "not at home," when the physicians arrive.

There is one telephone line in Hindman now, which stretches for a few miles through the valley, and which has caused the doctors a good deal of annoyance. For a while advance information seemed to travel faster than usual, but the wire was not suspected until Dr. Duke caught a mountaineer in the act. He did not hear the doctor come in as he was passing the word on a Paul Revere route of warning:

"You all better watch out. The doctors is almin' to ride up Lef' Hand Fork."

It is only fair to the great majority of mountaineers to assert strongly that such cases are few in number. As a community, the inhabitants are deeply grately for the medical aid, which they often regard as nothing short of a miracle. Those who shrink from it do so in their superstitious ignorance, born of century-long isolation within mountain barriers.

Ride along any trail in this region and you may see on all sides visible signs of the scourge. You will see men in the prime of life with hats pulled over hideously tortured eyes; old people shuffling along with the uncertain steps of blindness; a mother, her eyes blood-shot and running, bending over the baby at her breast; and little children hiding beneath the furniture in squalid huts, afraid to bear the pain of being in the sun.

Saturday Morning Pilgrimage.

On Saturday mornings, the forerunners of the pilgrimage begin to arrive at the hospital as early as 6 or 7. Whole families come in jolt wagons, the women in calico and homespun and the huge black silk sun-bonnets without which no mountain woman is well dressed. Sometimes one of these sun-bonneted figures appears on horse or muleback, perched on a meal sack behind her lord and master. It is no uncommon sight to see a man and two children on a mule, the little girl always seated decorously behind. Whatever comes they take with the spartan-like courage that distinguishes the mountaineer.

The strongest ally of trachoma in the mountains is the family towel. One flaps in the doorway of every mountain cabin, and when a child with score eyes and three with sound eyes have been using it indiscriminately for three weeks or more, the result is not hard to foretell. By the well there is usually a hollowed-out stone basin filled with stagnant, unchanged water, where the family, sick and well, perform their ablutions.

On the beds, built for three or four, are dirty blankets on which sore eyes are wiped. Let a patient, cured on the operating table at the hospital, go back to such surroundings, and it will not be long before he is again riding up to the clinic.

It is a hopeful sign to see the standard of living in town houses near the school and hospital, in comparison with those of the outlying districts. The force of example and the campaign of sanitary education, are every day widening the circle. The insistence of the "furriners" on separate towels, is not regarded as so mysteriously "fotchedon" as it was in the early days. There was a time when an old woman, visiting the "settlement" for the first time, made as her only comment:

"Gee-oh! You-'uns must hev a moughty big old towel for all them children!"

Such is a part of that great movement for conservation in our country.

WHO WOULDN'T GROW.

Chicago News: The keeper was feeding the pythons. Several live rabbits were tossed into the cage, and were immediately and greedily seized by the reptiles. The struggling rabbits, although seemingly almost as large as the snakes, were swallowed whole one after another. The ghastly sight prompted the scholarly looking man to exclaim:

"Gruesome, eh, keeper?"

The keeper turned a glance of scorn upon the professor.

"Yes, and you'd 'a' grew some, too, if you'd et all that livestock, I guess."

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Fifteenth amendment ratified, 1870.

This amendment, an outgrowth of the Civil war, provides that "the right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude." It was a part of the generally unfortunate Reconstruction policy of the victorious Union. An attempt to force the South to admit the negro to the ballot, it was a compound of theoretical justice and political expediency, and has generally failed of its purpose; though as the negro has advanced the ballot box has been more and more open to him.

THE MAN WHO CHANGED HIS MIND.

The Warren Register protests that The Herald ought not to criticize Roosevelt for changing his mind about Belgium, because President Wilson has also changed his mind. We can't quite see the force of the logic.

In September, 1914, when the invasion of Belgium was fresh in sight and mind, Col. Roosevelt said:

> We have not the slightest responsibility for what had befallen her. * * * Sympathy is compatible with full acknowledgement of the unwisdom of our uttering a single word of protest unless we are prepared to make that protest effective; and only the clearest and most urgent national duty would ever justify us in deviating from our rule of neutrality and non-interference.

In this spring of 1916, when Col. Roosevelt seeks a third term as president of the United States, he is saying this:

> When Germany broke her promises we broke our promise by failing at once to call her to account. The treaty (Hague conventions) was a joint and several guaranty, and it was the duty of every signer to take action when it was violated; above all it was the duty of the most powerful neutral, the United States.

In September of 1914 Col. Roosevelt said:

> I think, at any rate I hope, I have rendered it plain that I am not now criticizing, that I am not now passing judgment one way or another upon Germany's action (in Belgium). * * * It has been announced that no action can be taken that will interfere with our entire neutrality. It is certainly eminently desirable that we should REMAIN ENTIRELY NEUTRAL, and nothing but urgent need would warrant breaking our neutrality and taking sides one way or the other.

In this spring of 1916, when Col. Roosevelt is an avid seeker for the presidency, he is saying this:

> We have also refused to say one word against international wrong-doing of the most dreadful character. * * * Our plain duty was to stand against wrong, to help in stamping out the wrong, to help in protecting the innocent who had been wronged. This duty we have ignobly shirked.

Shirked, if we shirked, with the full approval of the man who now calls it shirking—the man who is charging that The Hague conventions bound us to interfere in behalf of Belgium when he must know that our signers to those conventions distinctly added a proviso that nothing contained in them should be construed to require us to abandon our settled policy of non-interference in European affairs.

Changed his mind? Was there ever such a change?

Yes; there has been such a change.

Col. Roosevelt once said, with all the emphasis and vehemence and positiveness he is capable of—and that is a good deal—that "under no circumstances" would he be a candidate for a third term as president. That statement he repeated later with greater emphasis.

Yet in 1912, turning against the man he had made president, he became a candidate for the Republican nomination. Failing to grasp that prize, he bolted and ran for president at the head of a party of his own. Failing again, he is now again grasping at the presidency.

Yes, President Wilson has changed his mind. One of his great assets is that he has a mind that can change when new knowledge makes change merely growth. But he has not made, and is not capable of making, such changes as Roosevelt has made in HIS mind—always self-seeking changes, and not always honest changes.

But there is ground for fear that Villa won't feel at home among those extinct volcanoes.

IF WE HAD SOLD NO MUNITIONS.

Had not the hundred million inhabitants of the United States occupied themselves with such feverish ardor in dispatching masses of death-dealing wares to Liverpool and Havre, the stock of war munitions would have been exhausted by now and peace would have been possible.—Rheinisch-Westphalische Zeitung.

That is, the "stock of war munitions" of the allies would have been exhausted, and war would have been ended with Germany, Austria and Turkey victors, and France, Belgium, Britain, Italy and Russia prostrate under the conqueror's heel.

That isn't so, necessarily. The supplies America has sold—though most of the hundred millions, far from showing "feverish ardor," have not been concerned at all in it—helped, no doubt, though none reached Europe till long after Germans were complaining that American bullets were killing their soldiers. But the Allies have factories, too, and they have been keeping them busy and ever busier. It is not at all to be taken for granted that the war would have ended before this if it had not been for American munitions.

But suppose the Rheinische-Westphalische Zeitung is right. What then?

If this German critic can hold us responsible for Germany's failure to win, by our refusal to sell munitions to the Allies THEY could have and would have held us responsible for their defeat.

Indeed, to have refused to sell munitions to whoever could buy, notwithstanding the fact that Germany could not buy—and didn't need to—would have been deliberately to decide for Germany and against the Allies. And this country has struggled, against heavy odds of sympathy and racial kinship, not to decide—officially—for or against either side.

International law and custom sanction the sale of munitions by neutrals to belligerents. All the nations engaged, including Germany, have done it. Official Germany makes no complaint of our sale of munitions, knowing the law and the custom. Our refusal to follow this custom could only have been dictated, under the circumstances, by a desire to help Germany win. That desire the country did not feel, and had no right to feel. Our business was to keep out, and we have kept out—thanks to the president and to the good sense of the American people.

Moreover, if we had established a precedent in international law by refusing to sell munitions to needy buyers, inevitably, if we ever went to war, that precedent would return to our hurt. We would have put a premium on the diversion of national energies to war-making, and we would have made it impossible for us hereafter to buy munitions abroad in neutral markets, no matter how great our need.

Doubtless Germans feel it keenly that our munitions should have prolonged the war by helping her enemies. That is natural; but we can only be sorry that it is so. It could not have been helped honestly, without an unconscionable and unwarranted taking of sides—a taking of sides, to be frank about it, that would have been contrary to the sympathies of a majority of the people.

Seems like rubbing it in when the penalty for slipping is not only a bump, but also a soaking.

BEWARE THE FAKE SOLICITOR.

Reports continually and frequently come that people get "stung" by fake solicitors in this town. They subscribe for magazines, books or pictures, pay something down, wait for the goods—and then find that they must take it out in waiting. The goods never come.

Commissioner Silberstein, to whom as head of the department of public safety these complaints come, points out that there is a city ordinance requiring solicitors to take out licenses. People should remember that.

The best plan is to buy only from recognized local dealers at all times. That plan is guaranteed to protect everybody against such swindling as fake solicitors perpetrate.

The next best plan, if you must buy of solicitors, is to make it a rule to require every solicitor to show his license from the city, and to buy of none who cannot show such a license.

That tinge of green in the grassy places only makes the remaining snow seem more in the way than ever.

TRADE MENACE AFTER THE WAR.

Chairman Gary of the United States Steel corporation again warns the country against the competition that American industries will have to meet after the war, and bids it prepare.

He means, by preparing, more protective tariff, of course—more taxing of all to support some.

But, even granting that the disabilities Europe will be under after the war will not be a greater handicap to European competition than any tariff of ours could become, that isn't the right remedy.

Europe is going to owe us so much that we can't shut out its trade. We have no way of collecting what will be due us except in goods imported. We can't even sell unless we buy, because international trade is exchange of goods for goods, not of goods for cash.

Moreover, if there is danger that desperate nations will "dump" their products on this market, then anti-dumping laws—laws forbidding the sale of goods here at lower than the home market prices—can easily be made to meet the situation.

It is sad to think that even the opening of the baseball season will not bring the warring nations to their senses.

NONE OF MEXICO, EVEN AS A GIFT.

There is talk—mostly foolish and footless—about buying or stealing a good deal of Mexico and adding it to the United States.

William J. Calhoun, former United States ambassador to China, gives the right answer to that:

"I would not take the country as a gift," says he. "We have all the territory we want, and all the mixture of races we want."

Answer enough, this. Moreover, as a solution of the "border problem" this fantastic scheme of getting part of Mexico is comedy, since its whole effect would be to push the border further south into a still hotter atmosphere.

The Folly of Hasty Armament

Moorfield Storey in the April Yale Review.

If we do not become involved in this war, we shall have ample time to prepare. No European power will have men, money, or fight enough left when this war ends to seek another. It is practically impossible that another great war will occur for a generation; and when it comes, Europe will be divided as now, and some nations will oppose any one which grapples with us, or will seek to profit by her entanglement, so that a European nation will hesitate to become involved so far from home and expose herself there to hostile attack, or to put the ocean between an army and its base.

After the war is over, we shall have time to discover what preparation is needed, what explosives will be required, what sort of aircraft, what submarines, what mines, what munitions. Is it wise to build dreadnaughts at twenty millions apiece, only to find that they are antiquated long before they are done and powerless to resist a very cheap mine or "Taube"? What speed must we have, what weight of metal must we provide? There is no hurry. It is a case of "more haste worse speed."

But what is last and of most importance is that to prepare for war is a step in the wrong direction. When this European contest ends, it must end in disarmament. Impoverished as they will be, the nations cannot bear the burden of great armaments, nor when the excitement is over will the people consent to hold their lives and their property at the mercy of a military government which may plunge them at any moment into a useless and wicked war. The men who have fallen will leave behind them widows and children who will testify against the system which has caused such widespread desolation. It has been abundantly proved that great armaments do not insure peace but provoke war; and when the people have time to cool they will recognize these truths, and will know that either disarmament must come, or civilization must go. How important it is for us, the great peaceful nation, at such a time to present an example for their enlightenment, a model for them to imitate! How wicked and foolish for us, when they are disarming, to take up the burden which they are laying down!

No reasonable man objects to an increase of the standing army, or to reasonable training of young men in the use of arms, or to such a navy as has hitherto met our needs, improved as to speed and power so as to meet modern requirements; but when it is suggested that we should have "incomparably the greatest navy in the world," one may be pardoned for thinking that the suggestion was not made seriously, and was repented as soon as made. No, peace is not assured by guns and fleets or any preparation for war, but by disarmament, agreements among nations, and preparation for peace. We can safely wait and see what happens when this war ends before we saddle ourselves and our children with the burdens which are entailed by armaments on a great scale. The excitement of the moment will pass, and when it is over we shall laugh at our folly, or regret it bitterly if we find ourselves staggering under unnecessary burdens.

The Reign of Law

By "The Innocent Bystander."

I—The Youth of Nations.

We think the United States is the youngster in the family of nations.

Wrong again. Ours is almost the oldest government going. It is anyhow the oldest modern government.

When the United States set up in business there was no France, no Germany, no Italy, no British empire.

It was such a lawless world as we cannot imagine.

In England there had been breaking of heads 100 years to see who was boss and knocking off crowns another 100 years to see who must obey.

In France, King Louis was the law—"the state, that's me." Which might be disputed any minute by Normandy or Burgundy or Provence or Navarre.

In Germany, Bavaria fought with Saxony perhaps, Prussia was in conflict with Hanover or Hesse. While each German principality had its rule, there was no law for Germany.

In Italy, Sardinia went to war with Venice, Sicily fought Naples. Each Italian province had some sort of law, but there was no law of Italy.

There was no Russia then, only a colony of criminals at Botany Bay. No Africa, only the Barbary pirates, the ghost of Egypt, and the rest blank space. There was no South America, only wide possessions of Spain and Portugal.

Hardly a government in the world exists today as it was when the United States was born; not one of the great powers as we see it today was then existent.

Within national boundaries, except small areas, there was no law—only violence restraining violence. Between nations law was an unimagined thing.

During our time we have seen the reign of law, displacing the rule of violence, extend over states and nations and groups of states and nations.

The strongest impulse in the world today is to extend still further the reign of law.

Tomorrow—"From Chaos to France."

A Real Eulogy.

Chicago Herald: James J. Hill has been a large and familiar figure in American business life and there have been printed plenty of eulogies of his great constructive genius. But no more genuine eulogy has ever been pronounced than was contained in a little dispatch from St. Paul.

It was a simple incident—one of the sort that generally and naturally passes unrecorded. Mr. Hill was coming out of an office building with another railroad official when he noticed a horse standing shivering and unblanketed near by. Whereupon he walked over and arranged the blanket and then resumed his conversation.

It is a very good thing to be a great railroad builder and a financial figure whose word carries weight not only all over the country but throughout the world. But it is better to be able to retain in the midst of such important occupations the human kindness which makes a whole world kin.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Red Paint.

Red paint is pretty as pickled beets; of rich red paint let the poets sing! Red paint is good for the rustic seats, and excellent for the garden swing. We put red paint on the barn and fence, and know full well it will hold them down; red paint is good—but there is no sense in using it on the sleeping town. Red paint is wholesome and safe and sane, I sing its worth on the stage and stump; it's a splendid thing for the weathervane, and fine as silk for the cistern pump. It can be used when you'd decorate the stable roof or the kitchen floor; oh, put three coats on the wicket gate, and spread it thick on the henhouse door. It's earned the praises of tongue and pen, it is far better than green or brown; it is a boon to the sons of men—but it's no good for the sleeping town.

Teddy or Bust

By Savoyard.

Washington, March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—From an authoritative source comes this as the ultimatum the Progressives have delivered to the Standpat Bourbon Republicans:

"They can nominate a man who will be acceptable to Roosevelt and who will adopt the principles of the Progressive party;

"Or they will be forced to accept Roosevelt as nominee;

"Or they can nominate one of their own kind and have a Progressive in the field against them headed by Roosevelt."

In other words, the regular Republicans are commanded to expunge themselves from the political slate altogether and leave it to the Colonel to deal with the situation. There is but one man "acceptable" to Roosevelt and that is Roosevelt himself. There is no evidence, except vague hearsay, that he has approved even Justice Hughes, and it would be strange, indeed, if he should indorse a platform and a ticket made by the bosses, such as Barnes, Penrose and Crane.

There is just one thing in common between Roosevelt and the Republican bosses, and that is opposition to Wilson; but it is pretty clear that, as in 1912, the bosses prefer Wilson to the Colonel, and that Roosevelt prefers Wilson to the bosses. You can't reconcile the split of four years ago unless one side or the other surrenders. There is no middle ground on which can be gathered in homogenous and harmonious conclave the men who voted for Roosevelt in 1912 and the men who voted for Taft. It, very likely, would turn out a miserable failure even if Hughes were nominated and he should accept.

But suppose Hughes should be nominated, and he accept and is elected. Suppose further that the victory is so complete that the coalition would have a majority in both branches of congress. What would follow when they came to legislate? Would the views of La Follette or Penrose be incorporated in a tariff bill? In the debate of the Payne tariff Cummins was as bitterly hostile to Aldrichism as his colleague, Dolliver, and how are you gooing to fuse the Iowa idea and the Pennsylvania idea in regard to the tariff?

The country is now very prosperous. Business is booming in every quarter of the Union. Dividends were never so remunerative and wages never so high. True, there is poverty, but we would have poverty if the big road was lined with golden ducats. There would be want if "the streets be paved with mutton pie," and dissatisfaction would assert itself if "potatoes taste like pie." But on the whole our 100,000,000 people are most prosperous and the most fortunate in the world. Every line of legitimate business is doing remarkably well and capital and labor are at a better understanding than ever before.

What would result from a sweeping Republican victory in November? The first thing would be a new tariff. That there is no doubt of. Business and the tariff are closely associated, necessarily so. What would business do? Banks would draw in their loans. Manufacturers would shut down until they saw what effect the new tariff would have on their enterprises. Labor would be thrown out of employment and forced to live on its savings. The railroads would fill their barns with empty cars, curtail expenses and lessen dividends. It takes pretty nearly a year to make a new tariff and the country would find it mighty expensive to supply New England and Pennsylvania with the luxury of another robber tariff.

Well, this is a free country, and if the people wish to go on a spree like that nothing can hinder them.

But you will hear precious little about the tariff during the campaign. Whether the opposition candidate be Standpatter or Bull Mooser, or whether they be Standpatter and Bull Mooser, as in 1912, the burden of the cry will be that Wilson is a failure, a coward, a mollycoddle, and a schoolmaster. It will be charged that the national honor has been smirched and the national flag disgraced under his administration. They will howl about Mexico and declare for war against Germany.

That is all Elihu Root's "keynote" speech means, and he speaks for the Standpatters. That is all Roosevelt's utterances, spoken and written, mean, and he represents the Bull Moosers. But there is the intensest sort of struggle going on between the Standpatters and the Bull Moosers. The latter say to the former that they will practice the trick of 1912 over again if they are not allowed to write the platform and name the ticket the Standpat convention is to be delivered of. The contest for delegates is already fierce and is going to grow fiercer day by day. The bosses are depending on the "two-spot" candidates—Weeks, Knox, Burton, Fairbanks, Sherman, Cummins, Borah, La Follette and others, to muster squads of delegates that Roosevelt can't steal, and it is a very pretty situation as it stands.

But Roosevelt is a hand-and-a-half at the game, and it will be in the nature of the miraculous if he does not turn up master of the situation in this Standpat convention before the game is played to a finish. Except Hughes, whom have they got to beat him? They don't want Hughes, and Hughes knows they would "croak" his administration ere it were a year old if he should be elected president.

Then, if Hughes will not have it, how are they going to find a man to beat Teddy? They may be able to bring the Cummins-Borah-La Follette element to McCall, and should they do so that would settle it. And that is not all. They would have a splendid man at the head of the ticket, one who would make a great president if elected.

Would Teddy stand for it? He'd stand on his head first.

Any Gentleman

The Emporia Secret.

Emporia Gazette: There is only one way to minimize the work of the knocker, and that is to snub him. Knockers, like all men of misery, love company, and the most lonesome thing on earth is a knocker with no one to knock to. A knocker is harmless in himself, but he is a breeder of more knockers. Snub him to death; cut him cold, and he will cease to knock, from sheer lonesomeness. A knocker must tell his troubles, or there is no fun in knocking.

The reason Emporia as a town prospers, and is the best town of 10,000 people in the world, is that the knocker has to weep on his own bosom. When a man has to sob into his own ear, he quits sobbing. That is the Emporia secret.

Amendment No. 1

How a Most Vital Proposal is Being Brought to the Front.

Criticisms Answered.

Only one criticism has been made against proposed Amendment No. 1 to the state Constitution, that is of serious enough character to warrant attention; and that is that the work proposed would "cost too much." This is answered fully and completely by the Littlefork Times, as follows:

"The adoption of Amendment No. 1 will permit the state to hasten the sale of its school and swamp lands by making improvements that will make the land more attractive to settlers. The cost of such improvements will be added to the original cost of the land, and will be returned to the revolving fund as the lands are paid for. When the need for the revolving fund no longer exists, the money will be turned into the permanent school fund. It Will Not Cost the State One Cent."

Get Busy, Everybody!

Some reasons for actively boosting Amendment No. 1 are given emphatically by the Wheaton Footprints, which Southern Minnesota newspaper is showing the right spirit by this expression: "If previous experience is any prophecy of what to expect, not many (of the proposed amendments to the state Constitution) will pass. In 1914 one out of eleven passed, and that by a very small margin, and only after months of persistent agitation. Amendments No. 1 and No. 3 should pass this year. * * *

"The passing of Amendment No. 1 will benefit not only the northern part of the state, where the lands are situated, but the whole state, for any movement which will bring large numbers of new settlers into the state, and open up hitherto unproductive territory, is a benefit to the state. It will tend toward a decrease in taxes, as it involves no new appropriation, only a shifting from one fund to another till the project gets started, when it will take care of itself; and the taxable property in the state will be constantly increased by the sale of the lands."

It Takes a Lot of Publicity.

The Milaca Times is dead right in its final statement here: "A committee of Northern Minnesota business men is arranging to boost Amendment No. 1, which provides a revolving fund to be used in improving lands in that part of the state. It takes a lot of publicity work to pass an amendment to the Minnesota Constitution."

Now Is the Time.

Occasionally you strike some good advice like this from the Bemidji Sentinel: "Men who ought to know predict an era of unparalleled prosperity for Northern Minnesota. Now is the time to buy that farm, and get it to working."

Are You Doing Your Share?

This publicity business is something everybody can take part in. The Aurora News shows up the present opportunity in these words: "Between now and the fall election Northern Minnesota will be advertised in a way never before undertaken, and there is every indication that the results will be highly beneficial to the state as a whole. Heretofore we have been advertised by our mines and by our large school buildings, and through the emphasis of other things that served only to create envy in the hearts of the people of the southern part of the state. In the campaign for the passage of the revolving fund amendment, the vast agricultural resources of the northern section will be emphasized; the large acreage of state land which would be placed on the state tax rolls through development will be shown; the immense values of produce that would be added to the state's annual production will be told in a convincing manner; in fact, it will be shown conclusively to Southern Minnesota that Northern Minnesota is one vast, undeveloped asset which, with a small amount of encouragement, can be developed to the great benefit of the entire state.

"This is the sort of advertising that is needed for Northern Minnesota and has been needed for years. And every person living in Northern Minnesota should be a booster at all times in order to give the movement now on foot all the strength possible."

A Newspaper and History.

To anybody who never has taken the trouble to connect the daily newspaper with the making of history, a brand new field for thought is opened by John P. Young's book, "Journalism in California," just issued by the San Francisco Chronicle. It is a compilation in book form of some of the historical matter contained in the recent jubilee edition of the Chronicle, and constitutes one of the most readable of records of the growth of a state. The author has not confined his attention to the Chronicle, though that publication naturally gets the lion's share of attention. The men who have helped to make up its staff at one time or another, including Mark Twain and Bret Harte, are given credit for their work, and some interesting anecdotes of some of them are recounted. But the impressive thing about the book is the undeniable example its story presents of the relation of the live newspaper to current events, not only as a recorder of them, but as an aid in the development of public opinion and encourager of public action. The value of the book is added to by a section devoted to biographies of prominent people.

Watch Yourself Go By.

Just stand aside and watch yourself go by,
Think of yourself as "he" instead of "I,"
Note closely as in other men you note
The bagkneed trousers and the seedy coat.
Pick flaws, find faults; forget the man is you,
And strive to make your estimate ring true.
Confront yourself and look you in the eye—
Just stand aside and watch yourself go by.

Interpret all your motives just as though
You looked at one whose aims you did not know.
Let undisguised contempt surge through you when
You see you shirk, O commonest of men!
Despise your cowardice; condemn whate'er
You note of falseness in you anywhere.
Defend not one defect that shames the eye—
Just stand aside and watch yourself go by.

And then with eyes unveiled to what you loathe—
To sins that with sweet charity you'd clothe—
Back to your self walled tenement you'll go
With tolerance for all who dwell below.
The faults of others then will dwarf and shrink,
Love's chain grow stronger by one mighty link—
When you with "he" as substitute for "I"
Have stood aside and watched yourself go by.

Hint to Short Story Writers.

Jack Lait in the American Magazine: You can find a story in a street car conductor, or a toothpick sharpener, or a waitress with one eye, or a loan shark with his eye on one thing, or a tinsmith or a rich man's only and owing son. He, or she, or any of them, is mixed up in one of the seven original plots. He has to be. There are only seven. He can't get out of one—except to stumble into another.

Teddy Sober and Teddy What?

Editorial in the Louisville Courier-Journal.

What will Terrible Teddy do to the editor of The Duluth Herald, who has gone back to the files of the Outlook and from the issue for Sept. 23, 1914, resurrected these remarks by Teddy himself?

> A delegation of Belgians has arrived to invoke our assistance. What action our government can or will take I know not.
> It has been assumed that no action can be taken that will interfere with our neutrality. It is certainly eminently desirable that we should remain entirely neutral, and nothing but urgent need would warrant breaking our neutrality and taking sides one way or the other.
> Of course, it would be folly to jump into the gulf ourselves to no good purpose, and very probably nothing we could have done would have helped Belgium. We have not the smallest responsibility for what has befallen her, and I am sure that the sympathy of this country for the suffering of the men, women and children of Belgium is very real.
> Nevertheless, this sympathy is compatible with full acknowledgment of the unwisdom of uttering a single word of official protest unless we are prepared to make that protest effective; and only the clearest and most urgent national duty would ever justify us in deviating from our rule of neutrality and noninterference.

And what does the Teddy of today have to say of the Teddy of Sept, 23, 1914? The Teddy of today cannot find too much to say about our failure to smash neutrality and wade into the war because of Germany's treatment of Belgium in the summer of 1914. He cannot be too fierce in his denunciation of Woodrow Wilson because he did not plunge into war for Belgium alongside of Great Britain. And at the time when he wrote his Outlook contribution, in September, 1914, the outrage on Belgium was considerably fresher in the public mind—if not in the Roosevelt mind—than it is today, nearly two years later. Why does the colonel now so furiously arraign the president for following the very policy which the colonel himself in 1914 proclaimed as the proper policy?

Can it be because the colonel is nearly two years closer to the campaign which he longs to see place in the White House one whose initials are T. R., and like the rest of the longers for that successorship he can find no munitions for his fight except blind abuse of the man he would succeed?

Sacred Joy.

O tell me whence that joy doth spring,
Whose diet is divine and fair,
Which wears heaven like a bridal ring,
And tramples on doubts and despair?

Sure holiness the magnet is,
And love the lure that woos thee down;
Which makes the high transcendent bliss
Of knowing thee, so rarely known!

The Day and the Deed.

(John ix, 14.)—It was the Sabbath. On seven distinct occasions the Lord rode roughshod over their restrictions about the Sabbath. They knew they faced a crisis. Either this man is from God and our rules are a lot of rubbish, or He is a revolutionary rebel and ought to be killed. Jesus was really not violating the day. He was showing them how soulless was a system which kept the Sabbath by law and not by heart. I think after the miracle the Sabbath was a blessed anniversary to that man. It ran through all his life like a sweet refrain. It was the Sabbath when the heavens opened to him and the church bells in his heart called him to worship. The Sabbath can never be regulated by men who have to consult the calendar rather than their consciences. Leave it to men who have received their sight and they will show us how to make it a holy day. Remember today: "Wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day and hallowed it."—G. W. Bull.

About Time.

Life: Prof. Richard Garner is going back to the French Congo to extend his acquaintances with gorillas and their language, and consult with them as to the prospects of the world.

At present rate of world progress we should not lose any time in secreting the experience of persons who already live in trees.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1896.

The United States supreme court today handed down a decision in the case of Thomas Pearson vs. The Great Northern Railway Company, holding that the Great Northern could not, under its charter and in opposition to the laws of Minnesota, be consolidated with the Northern Pacific railroad.

A number of owners of property near Woodland have formed a pool to prospect for iron in that vicinity. Explorations had been in progress up to a short time and now that an agreement has been reached will be resumed. Among those who are in the pool are D. M. Hildreth of New York, G. A. Leland, D. A. Petre, R. M. Hunter and others.

Guy and James Pake of West Duluth, who have been East during the winter, have returned home. Guy has spent the school year at Bellevue hospital and college, where he is studying medicine, while James has been visiting relatives in Ohio and Indiana.

C. J. Birch, Sr., who has been in Montana for some time, is in the city again with his family.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 32; maximum yesterday, 40; minimum yesterday, 32.

Charles McKay, an old and well known resident of Duluth, died yesterday in his room at 118 West Superior street. He was 63 years of age, and recently had acted as collector for F. H. Sigrist & Co. His father was a wealthy merchant of Glasgow, Scotland, and at his death Mr. McKay inherited a fortune. He lost this in speculation. A few years later a brother bequeathed him a large sum, but this was lost, and he died poor.

At a special meeting of the board of education, Principal Lohr of the high school and Misses Hollister, Campbell and Martha D. Taylor and E. L. Norton of the faculty were dropped from the list of teachers for the coming year. John Loman, who has been one of the teachers, was promoted to be principal. A deputation consisting of Judge S. F. White, Dr. Bowman, H. S. Mahon, Marion Douglas and H. V. Holmes, who had been appointed at a citizens' meeting held in the afternoon, attended the session of the board and presented objections to the changes proposed in the high school staff. They asked for the reasons which prompted the dismissal of teachers of long service and who seemed capable. W. G. Crosby, chairman of the committee on teachers, said it was considered impolitic to discuss the considerations that led to the action of the committee. He said these considerations were made up of details, petty in themselves, but which together formed a formidable array. The board voted unanimously to approve the action of the committee.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences is barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's perusal must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, if their return is desired. Otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

NAMES MUST BE GIVEN.

This department of The Herald is in receipt of several letters, bearing on current topics, which are not accompanied by the names of the writers. Letters of this kind WILL NOT EVEN BE CONSIDERED for publication. If the writer wishes his name withheld in case the letter is published, that will be done; but the identity of the writer MUST be known to The Herald. Otherwise the letter will be discarded without consideration. Letters whose writers sign them for publication are, of course, more effective than others.—The Editor

FOR DOUBLE-PLATOON SYSTEM FOR FIREMEN

To the Editor of The Herald:

Referring to the question of a double-platoon system for city firemen, I think this is a mighty fine idea. At present they are the same as jail birds, because they are confined so much to one place. They should be granted the same time off that the policemen get. That would enable them to be with their families more, and fulfill the duties of a true husband, father and son.

The statement of Commissioner Voss that this would necessitate an increase in the tax rate makes me laugh. Whenever the commissioners do not want to do a thing, they are the dummest lot of men you ever saw; witness the present old armory building sale. Whenever they are pressed enough politically, I notice they always find the money somewhere. When the railroads were forced to grant increases to their employes and accept decreases in their rates, they more than made up the difference by stopping leaks.

If the commissioners would do away with the employment of their high-priced relatives and friends, and devote as much time to economy as they do to advertising themselves and building up political machines, they could stop more leaks than the extra cost of the double-platoon system would amount to.

THANKS THE COUNTY FOR BELATED CHECK

To the Editor of The Herald:

I received a little check the second day of this month for which I feel that I owe someone thanks. But I do not know to whom I am indebted for this surprise (for I had almost forgotten that I had this royal sum coming) and as I believe that almost every man in the county reads The Herald, the best way to reach my friend, I think, is to thank him through your popular newspaper.

I am a homesteader on the much-discussed highway called the Miller Trunk road, and like other men out this way I have worked on the county road occasionally when there was a chance. Last year there was not much doing on the roads—on account of the European war, I guess; but there were a couple of bridges that got so bad they had to be repaired, and our county commissioner, Mr. Kauppi, ordered his foreman of this neighborhood to get planks and recover two bridges.

Well, I got the job to help the foreman do the work. It took us two days, for which I was to receive $2.25 per day. So I earned $4.50. That was the middle of September, 1915, and on March 2, 1916, I received my pay.

St. Louis county certainly has a dandy system when it comes to paying county road labor. Railroad companies and other concerns have to pay their men every two weeks.

If you omit to pay your taxes on the date, then it is 10 per cent penalty to pay. I did not receive any interest for waiting almost six months for the royal sum of $4.50 earned in the sweat of my brow.

There is another thought that has come to my mind lately, and that is that nobody has remembered with all the raise in wages the laborer that works on the county roads in the sun's heat, with mosquitos, sandflies and all other insects bothering him. It surely doesn't have to be brought before the state legislature to get him a raise of say 25c per day. The high cost of living has reached the poor road worker as well as it did those that received the higher increase in salary.

With thanks to the system and also to you, Mr. Editor, for the valuable space I am taking in your paper, I am, yours very respectfully,

AN OLD SETTLER OF THE FIFTH COMMISSION DISTRICT.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION IS WARMLY DEFENDED

To the Editor of The Herald:

I did not read George W. Cooley's statement in The Herald concerning the highway commission which stirred your Bruno correspondent, C. A. Swanson, with the "various emotions" that he so copiously poured into the "Open Court" column of a recent edition of your paper. Apparently Mr. Swanson is amusing himself blowing bubbles from a "Home Rule League" pipe. Such emotional contributions may interest some readers as literary productions, but to those who understand anything of the real merits of the controversy they should seem ridiculous.

This "Home Rule League" is an organization of township officials now waging an aggressive campaign for the abolishment of the state highway commission; and as the reasons (?) for its activity are pretty fully stated by Mr. Swanson, let us see whether or not they are, as I have suggested, simply blowing bubbles.

I live in a county in which there is not a mile of railway, and one whose prosperity, therefore, more than any other county in the state, depends on good roads. I am most emphatically for good roads. I am for the system of road building that promises the maximum of service for the minimum of cost; and I am convinced that to abolish the highway commission and hand its powers over to the several town boards of the state would be a long step backward and little short of a crime.

What do these "Home Rulers" want, anyway? Town boards still have entire supervision over the building and maintenance of all town roads, and with this authority neither the highway commission nor the county boards can interfere.

The state highway commission is given supervision (in co-operation with the county board) only over those state roads for which state aid is given. All other state roads and all county roads are constructed by the county; all state roads being maintained by the county and all county roads being maintained by the towns through which they pass. The commission has nothing to do with the designation of state roads, that being a power vested solely in the county boards, and the prime purpose of making a county road a state road is to secure state aid.

Towns are permitted a maximum tax levy of 21 mills for road purposes; the maximum for counties being 3 mills, and the maximum for the state only 1 mill. Is it an infringement on the right of home rule for the state, through its highway commission, to supervise the expenditure of this comparatively small state allotment for road purposes? If so, then the same objection lies against the powers of the county boards in the matter, and the controversy virtually resolves itself into a proposition to turn over absolutely and entirely the work of road-building to the town boards.

Towns are relieved of the duty of maintenance and up-keep of county roads as soon as the same are designated as state roads. This duty, as stated above, then devolves on the county, the expense of which maintenance is shared by the state.

The highway commission has no strings on the towns, but towns may command the services of the commission. Under the law it is the duty of state engineers, upon the request of a town board, "to advise and consult with such boards in the construction or improvement of town roads; to make plans and specifications when so required; to exercise supervision over such construction or improvement, and lend every possible assistance to the local road authorities in bettering the public highways."

If we don't appreciate the state highway commission it is because we do not avail ourselves of the help offered the local authorities by our present splendid system of road-building. Let us be fair. With the towns of the state handling at least fifteen times as much road money as that alloted to the commission, isn't it the extreme of unfairness to blame the commission for our own blunders—blunders which the present system is intended to prevent?

This talk about favoring automobile associations is silly. Of course, every good road is an "automobile road"; but is there any sanity in standing in the way of the good roads movement because blarping critics see no public good in a road made fit for automobile traffic? Is the farmer and settler to deny himself the blessings of good roads because automobiles may travel over them?

If the highway commission is to be made an issue in the legislative campaign, as Mr. S. suggests, let the issue be based upon reason and not upon rant. I am not ready to believe that the average legislative candidate is of a caliber likely to be affected by the "home rule" vaporings with which we are being surfeited of late.

As a commissioner of this county I have had several years experience in an important road-building enterprise here, in which work the highway commission has co-operated. I know what road-building was under the old system. I know that there is not to be found in this county a fair-minded man who will not concede to the commission due credit for the high plane of efficiency to which road-making (in this county, at least) has been brought. And, profiting by the example, local township authorities generally abandon the old methods for the new and are not at all averse to accepting such assistance as the state, through its highway commission, offers them.

I consider this a matter of the most vital importance to the frontier counties of the state, whose interests, I believe, were especially considered when the present road law was enacted. For this reason (and not courting notoriety) I presume upon your generosity, Mr. Editor, in asking space for this rather lengthy letter. Yours for the public good. H. O. ENGELSEM.

IS GETTING READY FOR "THE MAN WITH THE PLAN"

To the Editor of The Herald:

Your correspondent who signs himself "The Guilty Onlooker" asks for a method to bring about the world order—and answers his own question.

If I were adopting a method, it would be exactly what he describes. It is the way of all history—to create a common agency for carrying out a common purpose. That is the way the clan came to be, the tribe, the nation, the group of nations—and that is the way the world state will come to be which shall end the rule of violence by establishing the reign of law.

Which of the thirty movements now afoot will come out on top I don't know; and which of the thirty movements one should start with I don't much care. For the result will be the product of them all, just as the American Constitution was the product of all sorts of proposals. I for one am ready to follow your correspondent or any other man who will take the lead on the road.

More specifically, the United States should make up its mind how far it wishes to go toward establishing the world state; how much it wishes to concede to the common concern. The United States should, as soon as possible, join with as many other peoples as are ready and willing to sit together, in a conference to discover how far any of them are willing to go, and how many are willing to go that far. It is a cumbersome job at best. The United States should make up its mind to go as far and pay as much as any other people toward setting up the order of the world in place of violence.

What the United States makes up its mind to do will be the result of a lot of yammering by just plain, common chumps like me—and it will take plenty of yammering before a whole lot of us are ready to do anything or believe it is any use trying to do anything. I'm sorry to make the Guilty Onlooker tired, but I have to keep on crying in the wilderness whether it makes any sense to him or not.

There is another method—if you wish to talk about methods—that would have been better. The United States could have disarmed all its enemies without waiting for the agreement or consent of any other nation. We would have done it if we had a mind to. If we had given ourselves to the service of the nations, we would have been as safe in the wicked world as Livingstone was in Darkest Africa. But we were not prepared to do that.

The line of least resistance is to look for the establishment of the world state. The march of events is toward federation of nations. The method is to talk and talk and talk about the possibility and the feasibility of overcoming war, of superseding violence by order, no matter how weary it makes the Guilty Onlooker, so that when the man with the plan arrives we shall be ready to fall in line.

LAUDS ATTACKS UPON THE BURLESQUE SHOWS

To the Editor of The Herald:

I wish to express my appreciation of the efforts of the public spirited men and women who are taking before the authorities the matter of indecent burlesque.

I am a woman who stays at home from all these places, as is recommended by a "Burlesque Patron," and as probably would be thought proper by most such patrons, (I do not think shows are bad unless they are bad shows; I simply do not care for them.) I equally disapprove of indecency in Lyceum, movie or Little theater; all need censoring.

The trouble is, that while I am effectively shielded from this kind of contamination by staying at home, my family does not also "stay at home" to be "watched."

My son went to that Lyceum burlesque. Afterward I heard that it was a vile thing, and asked him what sort of a show it was. "Tough," he said.

"The kind you would take a lady to?" "Oh, no."

I hear that the building was full, mostly of young men and boys.

Even though "only those who wanted to see a burlesque," attended, is there no such thing as influence upon character, especially of the young?

There certainly is a stain left in the mind by seeing and enjoying vulgarity; if the "Burlesque Patron's" son or daughter wanted to go with him to such a place, would he take them?

In behalf of many mothers who are staying at home, I thank the committee who are enduring to be called "notority loving" in trying to shield our sons and daughters from evil.

Respectfully,
A STAY AT HOME MOTHER OF BOYS.

WOULD LIKE BURLESQUE MINUS "ROUGH STUFF"

To the Editor of The Herald:

Most of us get so much grief in connection with the struggle for our daily bread that we do not care to go to a problem play, but patronize musical comedies and burlesque. We want amusement, but not emotion. Clean burlesque caters to this want.

If Manager Morrissey of the Lyceum theater will compel burlesque companies to omit the rough stuff, he will please a large following who like comedy without its obscenity. There is a field here for the right kind of burlesque.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretened to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

J. Peterson, West Duluth: Has a man got to have his wife and children in this country to get second papers?
Ans: No.

Ans.: (1) Seventeen years. (2) The patent office statement makes no provision for renewals.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

Requests have been received for the following:
"Dan McGinty," (published about thirty years ago) from Waino W. Brander of Duluth.
"My Scotch Blue Bell" (as sung by Harry Lauder) and "Sleep, Baby, Sleep," from "A Reader," Duluth.
"A Wreath of Deep-wood Violets" and "If We Knew," from "A Reader," Duluth.

MILWAUKEE WILL NOT BUILD LINE

Superintendent Denies Report Regarding Duluth-South Dakota Road.

No branch of the Milwaukee road will be built from Aberdeen or Huron, S. D., to Duluth, according to official denial just made by Supt. J. H. Foster of the Milwaukee at Minneapolis.

Percy Rockefeller, son of William Rockefeller, was in Minneapolis with several officials of the road, and Mr. Foster was asked if a conference was not being held to consider extensions, made necessary by the war munitions business. He replied as follows:

"Except that the vice president of the road in Chicago has authorized me to deny that there is any truth whatever in a report that the Milwaukee road has a plan to build from Huron or Aberdeen, S. D., to Duluth, there is no statement that I could make that could have any possible bearing on the matter."

WASHBURN OPENS PAVING TENDERS

Several Bids Received, Contract to Be Awarded Later.

Washburn, Wis., March 30.—The board of public works has received paving bids, but the contract will not be awarded for probably two weeks, as W. S. Reichardt, the engineer, will tabulate the figures, and at a meeting of property owners along the street they will be presented to them for consideration before any action is taken. Mr. Reichardt will arrive Friday from Watertown. The following offered bids:

Magnus Peterson, Superior; Russell Construction company, Superior; Chris Johnson, Oshkosh; T. P. Coughlin company, Chicago; General Contracting company, Minneapolis; Thomas E. Wooley, La Crosse; Frank Johnson, Washburn. The last mentioned bid on the curbs and sidewalks.

It is contemplated to pave seven blocks of Main street, from the Omaha depot to Bayfield street, up Bayfield street for six blocks.

KINDERGARTEN IN BEMIDJI SCHOOLS

Bemidji, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—On April 10 a kindergarten will be opened in the local schools to continue for three months, which will mean that it will be operated during the entire month of June. Supt. W. P. Dyer was instructed to secure the services of an instructor to take care of the kindergarten until its term closes in June. Next year the board of education will endeavor to economize in school salaries by employing an instructor that can teach both music and drawing in the Bemidji schools. A report made to the board at its meeting Tuesday evening by Bueford M. Gile showed that $38.03 has been cleared by chicken raising at the school farm during the past year.

OWLS WOULD PAY BENEFIT.

Duluth Lodge Would Favor Members Called to War.

Duluth Owls who may be called to serve in Mexico or in any war will have their fees paid by their lodge and will be entitled to full death benefits during the complete time of their absence. This was decided last night at a meeting of Duluth nest No. 1200, at Owls' hall. Fifteen members of this nest belong to the National Guard and naval militia.

A minstrel show will be given by black-face artists at the meeting next Wednesday night. The minstrel men have been rehearsing for a long time, and are expected to present a good entertainment. John Murphy has been directing the rehearsals.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

Written for The Herald By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: APRIL 2.

Acts ix, 1-31. Conversion of Saul.

CONNECTION.

We have come to one of the greatest events of all history, the conversion of the greatest religious teacher and leader we have ever had, if we judge him by his character, his achievements during his lifetime and his influence on all the subsequent ages. Of course we except Christ from all such comparison as being entirely incomparable. In connection with this account by Luke, derived from conversations with Paul, read the reports of speeches by Paul in which he repeats the story with varying accent, in chapter 22 and 26 of the Acts. It came soon after the death of Stephen and in the midst of the persecution that was started by that martyrdom.

THE LESSON.

I.

His Striking Conviction. 1-7.

"But Saul, yet breathing threatening and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, and asked of him letters to Damascus unto the synagogues, that if he found any that were of the Way, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem. And as he journeyed, it came to pass that he drew nigh unto Damascus, and suddenly there shone round about him a light out of heaven; and he fell upon the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecute thou Me? And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest; but rise and enter into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do. And the men that journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing the voice, but beholding no man."

1. MADDENED.—He had reached a condition of madness, due to his intense devotion to God's law. He thought he saw God's law defied by these Christians and he felt called on, as a young rabbi and possibly a member of the council, or governing body, called by its Greek name Sanhedrin, to enforce that outraged law. His rage was excited by the stoning of Stephen and that, to him, was the proper way to treat heretics, the legal way according to the law of Moses. He became very active right there in Jerusalem, making men and women blaspheme and putting them in prison. The more he persecuted them the madder he got and the more unhappy. He must have felt that his unhappiness was due to his slack manner of enforcing the law, which led him to still greater savagery, till it became a pursuit of happiness, through enforcing God's law against heretics and blasphemers. A bloody business.

2. MISSIONARY.—He determined to follow up those Christians who had been driven out by persecution with the double purpose of making away with them and protecting his own countrymen from them. He says he pursued them to "strange cities" and Damascus was one of them, where there were many thousands of Jews and a great many proselytes from the Gentiles. They needed protection from the increasing number of Christians gathering there in the oldest city on earth and one of the most beautiful. Mad as he was, his great intellect and his unmatched organizing powers were at work, as he secured credentials from the head of the Jewish governing body that was working with Rome and a permit to bring every Christian Jew "bound to Jerusalem." His work was legal. And he had proper attendants and helpers. All Orientals spoke and still speak of a belief or a method of life as a Way, just as our Christian Indians say "the Jesus road."

3. HALTED.—It was done by Jesus Himself, who returned to the earth in His glorified body so that Saul could afterwards say he had seen the Lord Jesus and was as genuine an apostle as any of them; the actual Christ actually appeared to him. He was halted by Jesus with the light of His glory that caused him to fall to the ground, and by the question, "Why persecutest thou Me?" Four great convictions seized Saul—that he had met the Christ whom he had been hearing of; that He was the real Messiah; that He was so connected with the Christians as to suffer with them, and that Saul himself was a helpless sinner. This conviction showed itself in a complete surrender to Christ—"What wilt Thou have me to do?" This conviction was strictly individual. Those who were with him heard nothing but inarticulate sound, and saw nothing but a radiance. When that great man consents to be humbly led, it means something. He waits for light till it comes.

II.

His Prayerful Meditation. 8-9.

"And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened he saw nothing; and they led him by the hand and brought him into Damascus. And he was three days without sight, and did neither eat nor drink."

1. SUBDUED.—It lasted three days. It was made complete through his blindness. Obedient, trustful, patient, he waited.

2. EXPECTANT.—God had given him that hope, through the words of Jesus, "it shall be told thee," and through an inner vision of the man who was to come to his aid.

III.

His Relief and Obedience.

"Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias; and the Lord said to him in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord. And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go to the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one named Saul, a man of Tarsus: for behold, he prayeth. And Ananias departed, and entered into the house; and laying his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, who appeared unto thee in the way which thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mayest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Spirit. And straightway there fell from his eyes as it were scales, and he received his sight; and he arose and was baptized; and he took food and was strengthened. And he was certain days with the disciples that were at Damascus."

1. ARRANGEMENT.—God was managing it—leading him to stop at a given place, preparing him for the visit from a good Christian man, and commanding that man to go to Saul with his words of help. God is still carrying out such plans for the salvation of chosen men and women. We are not surprised at the reluctance of Ananias to visit Saul, whom he had heard of as a savage persecutor, and we admire his response to the call of duty. Just how God's Spirit spoke to him we may not know, but we need not be troubled, for God, who made the ear and the soul, knows how to address them both.

2. LIGHT.—The opportunities of blindness had been fulfilled and Saul is ready for vision. The earth must have looked different to him, as it does to newly converted people, but especially as Saul regained physical sight also, and saw the great beauties of Damascus and found himself surrounded by loving Christians. The revolution in his life was marvelous. His obedience in baptism was prompt, loving and enlightening.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

In winning Saul of Tarsus the gospel made a threefold gain. It gained a great thinker who could organize the truths of the gospel. It gained a great teacher of the Gentiles and it won an opportunity to show that it could master the greatest souls of men.—Samuels.

"Indifference and neglect" are as fatal to the church as "threatening and slaughter." A writer in a recent periodical says that, up to a certain age, the mother is the boy's best teacher; but at the time when he begins to notice that his father doesn't read the Bible, or pray, or go to church to worship, he begins to plan to be the kind of a man that his father is, and the natural religious impulses of youth are soon stifled and killed by the indifference and neglect of the man in whose footsteps he is trying to walk.—Cowan.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. In what respects is Saul's conversion unusual?
2. What is the one respect in which it is like all conversions?
3. Has Jesus ever suffered with you?
4. Is a praying man always to be trusted?
5. Do God's arrangements for us extend to minute details?

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. Prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Sickly" writes: "What may I use to relieve a chronic cough and a bad cold?"

Answer: I always prescribe for coughs and colds a very effective cough syrup which you may easily prepare with 2½ oz. concentrated essence mentho-laxene and one pint of simple sugar syrup. This, taken regularly, should overcome very severe coughs and colds. It is laxative in its action, and cleanses the system by driving out the cold inflammation.

"Busy" writes—"I have had a very bad case of kidney trouble for four months. I feel so bad I can hardly work."

Answer—You did not state your symptoms, but if they are headache, chills and fever, sallow complexion, puffs under the eyes, scant, bad smelling urine, then I suggest that you start at once using balmwort tablets. They are harmless and seldom fail to relieve kidney trouble. They come in sealed tubes with directions.

"John" writes—"I have had bad colds. Now I am over the colds, but my system seems run down. I get tired after the least exertion and I'm losing weight rapidly. I have to take laxatives regularly but was never before bothered with constipation. What will I do?"

Answer—Get a tube of three grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur), and take regularly. Your blood is in bad condition and much of the cold inflammation remains in your system. These tablets should relieve constipation, clean your blood and build up your health.

"Actress" writes—"I have a very bad case of dandruff and itching scalp. I cannot use liquid tonics containing alcohol, as they dry my hair."

Answer—Tonics for the hair containing alcohol are not good for the scalp. Use plain yellow minyol. This is a kind of pomade which cleans and invigorates the scalp and promotes growth of the hair.

"Tired" writes—"I'm a very nervous person, tired and worn out before my time. My sleep and food do not nourish my system as they should, and I am weak, tottery, fearful and unable to do my work. I am restless and much dissatisfied all the time."

Answer—Get a tube of three grain cadomene tablets and take regularly according to directions. They cause proper assimilation of the food you eat, and act on the blood and nerves in a stimulating and healthful manner. Try to cultivate regular habits, avoid excesses, and you should soon be restored to complete health and vitality.

"C. W. R." writes—"Outside of being very muscular, I noticed I am accumulating a lot of excess fat. What will reduce me safely?"

Answer—Use five-grain arbolone tablets. They are a "tried and satisfied" flesh reducer. Many persons use them regularly to keep down weight; both men and women.

"Fred" asks—"How may I increase my weight, and improve my color? I am anaemic, weak and tired all the time."

Answer—Begin at once taking three grain hypo-nuclane tablets. Continued use of these tablets, taken with your meals should increase your weight, overcome anaemic condition and improve your general health and color.

"Patron" writes: "Please tell me what to do for rheumatism. The mentholaxene syrup you prescribed for cold and cough did me a world of good and relieved a cough I had two years."

Answer: I am glad you found so much relief in the mentho-laxene. You should obtain just as good results in the following prescription for rheumatism: 2 drams of iodide of potassium, 4 drams sodium salicylate, ½ oz. wine of colchicum, 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort and 5 ozs. syrup sarsaparilla comp. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal times and again before going to bed.

BIG GAIN IN REALTY VALUE

Increases for the Last Two Years Estimated at $5,000,000.

Assessor Invites Property Owners to Check His Figures.

Duluth's real estate and building values, now being compiled for the biennial statement, will show an increase of approximately $2,000,000 over 1914, according to J. A. Scott city assessor. This increase applies to the assessed valuation. The actual values will show an increase of nearly $5,000,000, it is expected.

This announcement was made today by City Assessor Scott in conjunction with a statement that figures are now being prepared for presentation to the county auditor, and that property owners are urged to call in his office for the purpose of making corrections in the estimates prepared by the assessor or his deputies.

"After our books are completed," said City Assessor Scott, "owners objecting to the assessed valuations on their holdings will be compelled to make their protests either to the city tax board or the county and state boards.

"By calling at this time, we will gladly go over the figures and make whatever corrections are deemed advisable, without the necessary red tape required if the protests are filed after July 10. It will save considerable trouble and time and aid us materially in preparing our books. We are ready now for the public and owners are welcome at any time, especially during the month of April, as entries are started in our tax books about May 1."

Work on obtaining the assessed valuation of the city's real estate and buildings was begun last fall by Mr. Scott and Deputy Assessor Fowler, both of whom made personal inspections of nearly every parcel of property in the city. These statements are prepared every two years, the last official report having been made in 1914, showing a valuation of $40,644,405.

On May 1 Deputy Fowler will begin making the personal property assessments with the aid of twenty assistants, who will start on that date to make a city-wide canvass. They will work about a month, after which the figures will be compiled and the combined statements on real estate and personal property will be submitted to the county auditor.

CLOQUET LANDMARKS ARE BEING RAZED

Cloquet, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Spring is bringing considerable activity in the building line. People are beginning to make their annual repairs, old buildings are being torn down and new ones are going up. The old city hall, an old landmark built in 1891, is being razed and the ground will be made into a lawn surrounding the new city hall. This marks the removal of one of the first of Cloquet's older buildings to make room for modern and up-to-date buildings. A few years ago the city built a new city hall, and last fall completed a very commodious fire hall and moved the equipment into it, and with this last removal the old building which was used jointly as a city hall and a fire hall was of no more use and is now being removed.

Another old landmark to be vacated in the near future will be the old Presbyterian church located on the corner of Avenue F and Fourth street. This will also be razed and a new $16,000 brick structure put in its place. Sketches are now being made by an architect in Minneapolis of the ground, and plans will be submitted in the near future for this building and work will commence as early as possible.

ITALIANS HONOR NEW YORKER FOR WRITING BOOK ON ITALIAN PEOPLE

WILLIAM J. GUARD.

William J. Guard, who is the polylingual aid of General Director Gatti-Casazza of the Metropolitan opera house, has written a book on Italy called "The Heart of Italy," which has just come from the press. Mr. Guard spent a summer in Italy last year looking after operatic matters and devoted much of his time to the study of the Italian people. As he speaks Italian fluently he was able to meet some of the most interesting of the leading men of that country—that is not the political leaders but the leaders of thought—and his impressions of their fatherland made such a favorable impression on the Italian residents of New York that they gave him a banquet and presented to him a loving cup. A year before, Mr. Guard was in Paris and wrote a book about Paris in war time. Writing is Mr. Guard's recreation. His normal occupation is persuading prima donnas of extreme artistic temperament that they have received far better press notices than their rivals in the field of song. Mr. Guard qualifies high as linguist, writer and diplomat.

WILL OPEN PAVING BIDS ON TUESDAY

Contractors Will Submit Proposals on Asphalt for Superior Street.

Bids on paving Superior street, from Sixteenth to Twenty-third avenue east, will be opened next Tuesday morning by Commissioner Farrell, head of the works division.

Contractors have been instructed to submit proposals on asphalt pavements only, as the property owners along the thoroughfare have declared themselves in favor of a Trinidad lake asphalt.

Bids on paving East Superior street were opened some time ago, but owing to a controversy between the contractors, the proposals were rejected by the commissioners two weeks ago and Commissioner Farrell instructed to advertise for new bids altogether.

CLOQUET NOTES.

Cloquet, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Mathew Coad returned from St. Mary's hospital, Duluth, yesterday, where she has been a patient. Miss Nellie Coad, her daughter, a trained nurse, is attending her.

Father Simeon, priest in charge of the Fond du Lac mission at the Indian village, went to Sawyer yesterday to conduct the funeral of an Indian child, who died there Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Aino Hikkla left yesterday morning for Battle Lake, where Mrs. Hikkla will enter a sanatorium.

Patrolman John Dorsey returned last night from Duluth, where he has been a patient in St. Mary's hospital.

The Zealeathia Club of the First M. E. church met at the home of Mrs. George Ackerman last night.

Jake Wesala left yesterday for Fairbanks to take charge of a store.

In the boys' department at the "Y" the Blues won Monday's basket ball game from the Reds, 8 to 0, in the Junior league, and Tuesday the Rovers won over the Emeralds in a close game in the Senior league. The senior Bible class members held their regular monthly supper in their clubrooms Tuesday and tomorrow night the Junior Gopher club members will hold their regular monthly meeting, after which a program will be rendered.

One of the fastest games of the season in the Business Men's league was pulled off Tuesday between the Wolves and Bears, in which five double plays were made and was a 3-to-1 score up until the last inning, when things let loose and the Bears won out by a 10-to-6 score.

CLOQUET PREPARES FOR PRODUCTION

Much Interest Shown in Plans for Giving "Alice in Wonderland."

Cloquet, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—A committee consisting of Mrs. Z. Hoyt, Mrs. John Bessig, Mrs. Andrew Norman and Mrs. Andrew Coathup is making great preparations for the forthcoming production of "Alice in Wonderland," to be given by local talent under the auspices of the Ladies of the Modern Maccabees. Five hundred costumes, elaborate properties, scenery and light effects will be used in the production at the Grand theater April 13 and 14. The pleasing story will be told in song; all of the fancies will be given, the fairies, sailor boys, Japanese dolls, the dragoon and all the animals associated with the story.

Requires Large Cast.

The putting on of this extravaganza will require the service of between 150 and 200 people of all ages, from the small school child to grownups.

Miss Georgia, the instructor, will arrive from New York next Sunday to start drilling at once and cast the parts.

All the girls in the grades who have consented to give Alice a start will meet Miss Georgia in Elm's hall Monday after school and the boys on Tuesday after school, and the adults will meet on Monday evening to commence their rehearsals.

THE "SINN FEIN"

The Name Means "We Ourselves" and Symbolizes Ireland's Desire for Home Rule.

Kansas City Star: Hugh Law, Irish member of parliament, may have been gifted with prophecy when, in 1907, he wrote in a London newspaper:

"We see that the logical consequence of the Sinn Fein policy, if passive resistance fails, is active rebellion."

At any rate, Mr. Law's words are interesting in view of the news cabled from London the other day that Sinn Fein rioters at Tullamore, Kings county, Ireland, fired on the police and wounded a sergeant and two inspectors.

The Sinn Fein movement, organized at the beginning of the present century, as the logical successor of the Young Ireland party of sixty years before, was on a high plane. That it undoubtedly played some part in winning for Ireland home rule, land reforms and other changes which were promised the Emerald Isle when the European war broke out, is apparent.

War Halted Reforms.

But with the war, Ireland and its needs were forgotten, and it may be that the ambitious middle class from which the Sinn Fein is recruited has chafed under the delay to the point of irritation. That would explain the riots which London grudgingly admits to be in progress, and which may be more extensive than riots.

William E. Curtis, then a widely known newspaper correspondent, wrote of the Sinn Fein in 1908:

"The Sinn Fein (pronounced shin fane, and meaning literally "we ourselves") movement is the most singular of all the many strange agitations in Irish history, and a most compact and effective expression of all the motives that have been engaged in the regeneration of Ireland. Its purpose is moral and economic as well as political. It has undertaken an attempt to secure self-government for Ireland by demonstrating that the people deserve it, and that they are competent to administer their own affairs. Its leaders have attempted the prodigious task of rescuing Irish politics from mobs and demagogues and fanatical agitators, and placing it in the hands of practical, honest, able and patriotic men. Sinn Fein combines politics with morals, and is endeavoring to promote temperance, sobriety, commerce, education, literature, industry and economy.

A Gaelic Renaissance.

"It seeks to develop the native instincts and genius of the people and to stimulate their patriotism by reviving the Gaelic language, arts and sports, and intensify in that manner the self-respect and the ambition and patriotism of the race.

"At the same time it is organizing movements for promoting Irish industries, for teaching agriculture and encouraging trades, in order to increase the prosperity of the people and make them more independent.

"The 'Sinn Fein' is described by a recent writer as 'a movement broader, grander and more revolutionary than any Ireland has ever known; a movement of national resurrection, national self-realization and national self-dependence.'

"The new party is promoting the Celtic renaissance with great energy, encouraging the use of the old Irish language, in conversation and in the schools, the revival of the old Irish dances, songs and sports; encouraging the poets and other writers to give expression to the native patriotism, passions and emotions in prose and verse 'n the language of their ancestors. It has revived the national drama.

Proposed a Boycott.

"It is proclaiming the patriotic duty of buying only Irish goods and Irish products and boycotting imported merchandise.

"It has a department of agriculture which, for the first time in history, is furnishing assistance and advice to the peasant farmers in the cultivation of their land, in the improvement of their crops and in securing better implements, so that their labor will accomplish more. It has established a chain of co-operative creameries; it is importing the best breeds of poultry, swine, sheep and cattle; it is establishing village savings banks and pawnshops where the poor can borrow money at reasonable rates of interest; it is assisting to open stores for the sale of Irish goods, starting commission houses for the handling of the agricultural products, and doing many other things for the improvement of the farmers, mechanics, tradesmen and other classes of people."

SNOW IS FALLING IN NORTH DAKOTA

Red River Rising at Moorhead, People Having to Move.

Fargo, N. D., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first spring rain here turned to snow this afternoon and a heavy fall is being recorded, though a greater portion is melting as it falls. The rain put an end to most of the snow on the ground and rivers and creeks are very high. The Red river is now fourteen feet above normal level and out of its banks in many places.

In Moorhead several families were compelled to move out on account of rising water. The stream is rapidly rising today, compelling the removing of the foot bridge at Island Park, where the ice is gorging above the dam.

MEN'S LEAGUE HAS ANNUAL DINNER

Entertains Women and Hears Address By Hamline Professor.

The Men's League of the First Methodist church gave its annual "ladies' night" at the church parlors last evening and scored one of the most successful meetings in its history. About 270 people, men and women, sat at the tables and a supper of more than ordinary excellence was served.

The speakers of the evening were Prof. W. H. Wood of Hamline university and H. C. Fulton of Duluth. The latter spoke on "Geniuses of Methodism" and dealt with the subject in humorous and serious vein. Prof. Wood spoke on "The Twentieth Century Knight."

Ideals that men have come to in every-day life formed the main topic of the latter's discussion. He spoke of the business type of modern times and of the efficiency which has come to be a watchword of the age. Efficiency, he declared, has absorbed the whole of business life and has been crowding out of the schools the cultural subjects which have done so much for idealism, so much so, in fact, said Prof. Wood, that nothing is wanted in the schools but the things that will be actually used in the practical life of today. He spoke also of the chivalry and impracticability of the middle of the nineteenth century and declared that neither the intense practicalism of the present age nor the ultra-chivalry of the nineteenth century is absolutely correct, but that a combination of the two would be more ideal.

Prof. Wood praised the present tendency of men to regard self as a part of community life and to offer self for general service.

Item Welcomed By Many Men

This will prove a welcome bit of information for all those who are overworked, gloomy, despondent, nervous and have trembling limbs, heart palpitation, dizziness, cold extremities, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act naturally and rationally as others do, because the treatment consisting of grain tablets can be obtained and taken without the knowledge of any one. If the reader has any of the symptoms, and decides to try it just go to any large, well stocked drug store and ask for three-grain Cadomene Tablets, and then take according to the directions which accompany each sealed tube. The tonic-invigorating power is soon felt and the joy of a healthy body experienced. These tablets, originally dispensed by prominent physicians and pharmacists, now are packed with full directions for self-administration, so that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them.

Produces Play on Society Blackmail

PRINCESS TROUBETSKOY.

Princess Troubetskoy, formerly Mrs. Chanler and better known as Amelie Rives, has just had a play, "The Fear Market," produced in New York. Its plot had to do with blackmail by society papers. The play was amateurish in construction, and it did not prove a success. This portrait of the princess was painted by her husband who is an artist of some fame.

CLAPP MAY BE SPEAKER

Opposition to Senator as Memorial Day Orator Has Arisen.

Adjutant Says He Has Been Officially Invited Despite Denial.

Notwithstanding the claims of Charles E. Holt, Civil war veteran, to the contrary, United States Senator Moses E. Clapp has been officially invited by the comrades of J. B. Culver post to deliver the Memorial day address in Duluth on May 30, according to Adjt. John H. La Vaque.

"Senator Clapp's invitation was official," said Mr. La Vaque today after he had been shown a letter written to The Herald from Mr. Holt, in which it was asserted that the invitation had not been authorized.

"I am sure that the comrades of Culver post do not wish to be dragged into any controversy," said the adjutant, "but the fact is that at a meeting of Culver post at Memorial hall on March 11, the only name proposed for the Memorial day speaker was that of Senator Clapp. Comrade Charles M. Wilson, chairman of the committee for Memorial day, at that time authorized Dr. J. D. Budd, a personal friend of the senator, to write him and invite him to deliver the Memorial day address. No other names were mentioned.

Wants Time to Consider.

"Dr. Budd has received a letter from Senator Clapp in which he has signified his willingness to accept what he terms an honor, but he requests the committee to keep the engagement open for him for a short while, until he is able to determine whether or not the press of legislation at Washington will permit him to get away at that time. I know nothing about any other speaker having been invited. I am sure, however, that the comrades of Culver post do not wish to be dragged into any political controversy. We try to keep above mixups on politics and religion."

Mr. Holt's letter to The Herald is as follows:

"To the Editor of The Herald:

"The News Tribune this morning says that Senator Clapp has been invited to speak here on Memorial day. Senator Clapp has not been invited by authority. His name was mentioned by a comrade who was asked to write him to see if he could come if invited. But vigorous opposition has arisen to his coming, and it is hardly likely that the G. A. R. will stultify itself by honoring a senator who in a time of crisis refused to stand by the president of the United States.

"Senator Knute Nelson has been written to in the same way to learn if he could speak here on that day, and his reply is expected soon. He is a man whom all men would be delighted to honor, and who would honor us by his coming.

"CHARLES EVANS HOLT."

SENATOR CAMPBELL HERE.

Minneapolis Friend of Northeastern Minnesota in Duluth for Day.

State Senator William A. Campbell of Minneapolis is in the city today on a business trip. Senator Campbell, who sells stoves for a living, lectures to Odd Fellows for pleasure, and is in politics because he has made so good that his constituents won't let him out.

How Thin People Can Put On Flesh

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food doesn't work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are probably sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating and eat with every one of those a single Sargol tablet. In two weeks note the difference. Let the scales be the judge. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy, "stay-there" fat may be the net result. Sargol aims to charge weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh, new red blood corpuscles—to give the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food, to prepare it for the blood in an easily assimilated form. Thin people tell how they have gained all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol and say that the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a careful combination of six of the best assimilative elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive and Boyce Drug store and all other good druggists in this vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in every large package.

Senator Campbell is a believer in a reduction of the legislature of the state to a single body, and the abolition of the senate to bring that plan about. The idea of a single body for legislative purposes has many friends in the state, and the senator believes that one of these days it will be brought about.

The general feeling for a less unwieldy form of legislative branch of the state is growing, and it is expected that the next session will see an attempt to at least cut down the representation, under the present form.

MAY BE THE BODY OF JEAN CRONES

Man Found Hanging at Milford Resembles Much-Wanted Poisoner.

Milford, Conn., March 30.—Detectives are on the way to Milford from Chicago, it was learned today, to investigate a report that the body of a suicide found hanging in some woods here a week ago is that of Jean Crones, a chef wanted in Chicago on a charge of poisoning soup served at a banquet there at which Bishop Mundelein of the Roman Catholic church was a guest.

The local authorities have been asked to hold the body pending the arrival of the officers. The description is said to tally with that of Crones, except that the eyes of the dead man appear to have been blue, while those of Crones were brown. The undertaker who has charge of the body says there is a possibility of the eyes changing color from strangulation, as in such cases a bluish film covers the eyeball.

BILL TO IMPROVE SUPERIOR BAY

Maj. Peek Makes Report Favoring Expenditure of $34,000.

According to a dispatch from Washington, D. C., a report, recommending the appropriation of $34,000 for increasing the turning area of Superior bay, Duluth and Superior harbor, has been submitted to congress by the war department. The report on the bill was prepared by Maj. E. D. Peek and approved by the chief of engineers.

BOYS SENTENCED FOR MURDERING HERMIT

Chicago, March 30.—Two 16-year-old boys were sentenced to fourteen years' imprisonment today, when Charles M. Witham and Joseph F. Marek were convicted of murdering Joseph Osborne, a hermit, in a hut here last October.

The boys went to the hut for the purpose of robbery. When Osborne refused to disclose the hiding place of his money they tortured him and stabbed him to death.

Osborne's right ear was first cut off by a pair of scissors, but still he refused to tell where his money was. The left ear was cut off next and then the youths stabbed him and fractured his skull with a heavy frying pan.

The boys accepted their fate without sound of emotion. Witham, who has been pronounced a moron by psychologists, smiled and poked Marek in the ribs.

SUPERIOR

BIG PARADE WILL FEATURE CAMPAIGN

Local Option Fight in Superior Stirs Up Entire City.

A big parade through the streets of Superior, which will take place Saturday evening beginning at 7 o'clock, will be one of the closing features of the "wet" and "dry" campaign for the election to be held next Tuesday. Both sides are predicting victory.

The campaign has aroused much interest. The meetings, advertised with special speakers, have attracted big crowds during the last week. Last evening Rev. Fr. J. M. Cleary of Minneapolis spoke in favor of no license before a crowd that packed the Maryland hall to its capacity, and Dan Richter spoke before 300 workingmen at the Woodman hall of Allouez.

Speakers are being brought here from many different points to speak both for and against license. The fight is especially interesting owing to the fact that a year ago the fight was won by the "wets" by a margin of but fifteen votes, after the result had been announced in favor of the "drys". For a while, following election day, it was doubtful whether Superior was "wet" or "dry".

SAYS LA FOLLETTE SPOKE FALSEHOOD

Governor Philipp Denies Collusion With Insurance Companies.

Governor Emanuel L. Philipp of Wisconsin at a mass meeting held last night at the Broadway theater, charged Senator Robert M. La Follette with spreading falsehoods concerning him. The governor explained some of the present methods of state insurance. He said that the burning of the Oshkosh normal school was going to create a deficiency of $86,000 in the state insurance fund.

"If I were in Madison tonight attending to the states' business, studying improvements that can be made in state government and Senator La Follette were in Washington, studying the great questions that confront the American people at this time and taking part in the deliberations of the United States senate, we would both be serving the people of the state who elected us," he said. "I would be glad to do my part as the people intended I should. Senator 'Bob' La Follette and his organization are so industrious in spreading falsehoods concerning myself and my administration that I feel it my duty to advise the people of the state concerning their state government, lest they lose faith in it."

The governor said that he had been opposed in every undertaking by the La Follette organization, which in many cases was able to control the legislature. He touched on the criticism of Senator La Follette's regarding insurance matters in which the senator had charged him with siding with the insurance companies, and explained that the bill proposed by the legislature which was designed to regulate them, had never reached the governor. This bill, said Governor Philipp, would have resulted in a large expense to the state. The governor called attention to the fact that the capitol building, which is constructed of stone, concrete and steel and is absolutely fireproof, was insured for $4,500,000. He said that the state should carry fire insurance on buildings that were destructable, in reliable fire insurance companies, but only a limited amount on buildings that were absolutely fireproof. The governor said that in many ways the insurance companies were probably getting more money than they should.

"I grant that the people have been over-charged," he said. Mr. La Follette and Mr. Owen both state that it amounts to many millions. They are both authorities on large sums of money and I will accept their figures. I will dismiss the subject with a statement that I regret exceedingly that the public did not receive better protection during the many years that these gentlemen had undisputed control over the legislative and executive branches of our state government."

TO ADDRESS CLUB BY LONG DISTANCE

Governor Johnson of California and Others Will Feature Program.

Governor Hiram Johnson of California, speaking from San Francisco, and President Mitchell of the Los Angeles board of trade, speaking from Los Angeles, will be among the speakers at the annual banquet of the Superior Commercial club this evening. Telephonic arrangements have been made over the trans-continental lines of the Bell Telephone company and each guest at the banquet will be in possession of a receiver and be able to hear what the distant speakers have to say.

J. T. Murphy of Superior, chairman of the Wisconsin Panama Pacific commission, who is now in Los Angeles, will preside by long distance telephone over the banquet. Other speakers by long distance will be R. L. Donnelly, president of the Wisconsin club of California, President Leiter of the Los Angeles Rotary club, Edward Rainey, secretary to Mayor Rolfe of San Francisco, and Clarence Smith, Frank Cornish and A. C. Baumgartner, San Francisco civic organization officers.

The banquet will be one of the most elaborate ever held by the club. Among the speakers will be G. A. Tomlinson and Herbert Warren, vice president and general manager of the Duluth Street Railway company.

FUND TO PRESERVE GAME

Governor Philipp Approves Plan for Use of License Money.

Before leaving Superior today after three addresses delivered in this city, Governor E. L. Phillipp agreed with members of the Douglas County Fish and Game league that money derived from hunting licenses should be set aside for the preservation of game in Wisconsin. Governor Philipp also said that he believed the time had come when it was necessary to establish game preserves in order to preserve wild life in the state. He declared that the new conservation commission would be an important factor in protecting game.

CONDITIONS GOOD FOR SHEEP-RAISING

Efforts Made to Develop Industry in Duluth Territory.

As a result of agitation begun by the Eastern Textile association to foster the raising of sheep in various parts of the country, an effort is being made to develop the business in this part of the country. Considerable literature along that line has been received of late by H. V. Eva, secretary of the Duluth Commercial club, and the efforts of A. B. Hostetter, district agricultural superintendent, have been enlisted.

Mr. Hostetter is very much in favor of the development of sheep raising in this part of the country, for, he says, there is plenty of land splendidly adapted for such a purpose, the climate is right and conditions in general are ideal, said he:

"Past failures have been due to neither lack of capital, proper pasture and climatic conditions, nor any of these things, but to lack of proper experience upon the part of the men who went into the ventures.

"I am inclined to think that we can do something for the wool manufacturers by and by, if we can get hold of some experienced sheep men and interest them in sheep-raising in this county. Good sheep men can make big money in this region."

BANK CLEARINGS SHOW AN INCREASE

A large volume of business is being passed through the Duluth banks, as shown in the weekly record of clearings.

Clearings for the week ended today showed an increase of $607,128.30 over the same period last year, the figures being reported at $3,751,983.73, as compared with $3,154,855.43.

AMERICANS HAVE BEEN USING MEXICAN R. R.

Columbus, N. M., March 30.—American troops have been using the Mexico Northwestern railway for a distance of about 140 miles between Casas Grandes and Madera, daily for about ten days, to transport troops and supplies, according to Walter Warren, a negro trooper in Troop A, Tenth cavalry, who reported here today.

TEXAS & PACIFIC TRAIN IS ROBBED OF MAIL

Shreveport, La., March 30.—Robbers boarded Texas & Pacific Mail Train No. 23 at the station here early this morning as the train was pulling out. They entered the mail car, bound and gagged two mail clerks, and took from the car two pouches of registered mail. They left the train at Shreveport Junction, about two miles from the station.

A hurried official notification of the robbery was made by an official of the road to the police, who immediately dispatched a squad of officers in high powered automobiles after the robbers. It was said there were two of them.

The value of the contents of the mail pouches is not known and no information regarding them can be gained from the local postoffice.

No. 23 is the fast mail train running between New Orleans and Fort Worth and left Shreveport at 11:55 p. m. last night.

ACTIVE TRADING IN COPPER STOCKS

Fair trading developed in mining stocks at Boston today and apart from moderate recessions in the zinc issues, quotations were well maintained.

American Zinc eased off slightly to $87.87 and Butte & Superior declined $1 to $89.75.

Bingham Mines was active on the Boston curb list. The stock sold at $12.87 and it is tipped for much higher prices.

A New York wire to Paine, Webber & Co. said: "It can be officially stated that there was sold yesterday for both foreign and domestic account more than 100,000,000 pounds of copper, deliveries to be made between July and the end of the year. It can be stated further that there were in this market this morning inquiries for more than 100,000,000 pounds additional of the red metal. The demand is the greatest in the history of the copper industry of the United States."

Directors of Miami Copper will meet Monday, April 3, and the belief is growing that the stock will be placed on a $6 annual basis by an increase in the quarterly dividend disbursement of $1.25 to $1.50 a share.

Verde Extension produced more than 2,500,000 pounds of refined copper this month. April promises 3,500,000 pounds at a production cost under 6 cents a pound.

The annual report of the Superior Copper company shows a mining profit of $245,017 or $2.45 a share from 1915 operations compared with $23,395 in previous year. Production was 3,866,484 pounds refined copper compared with 3,217,635 pounds in the previous year.

Butte & Superior has purchased three new mining claims lying north of Butte New York mines, namely Narragansett, Rising Sun and Mastodon. The consideration was not stated.

The output of twenty of the largest copper mining companies in the United States will aggregate 1,792,000,000 pounds of copper in 1916, according to the New York American, being an increase of 468,000,000 pounds over 1915. At 25 cents a pound, this production would have a value of $448,000,000, compared with $238,284,000 for last year's production based on price of 18 cents a pound, an increase of $209,716,000. Exports of copper in the current year are estimated at 664,000,000 pounds, against 540,000,000 in 1915. On the basis of present dividend rates, shareholders of the twenty companies will receive $88,266,000 in 1916, or almost $41,000,000 more than last year, when $47,335,000 was disbursed in dividends.

Noted Actress Unable to Resist Lure of Footlights

MARY MANNERING (WADSWORTH).

The lure of the footlights has been too much for Mary Mannering, and she is to leave the beautiful home of her husband near Detroit and move to New York. She was seen last in "The Garden of Allah" at the Century theater in New York some years ago, but at that time she maintained her home at Grosse Pointe farm and returned to it when she had completed her engagement. Now F. E. Wadsworth, her wealthy husband, says he will sell his home and move to New York so that his wife may appear once more on the stage. She is trying to find a play in which she can appear in New York only for she is determined not to go on the road. Mr. Wadsworth will retain his interest in Detroit industrial establishments.

Noted Grand Opera Soprano Will Wed Baritone After War

EMMY DESTINN AND DINH GILLY.

Emmy Destinn, the noted soprano, is quoted in dispatches from Portland as saying she is to be married to Dinh Gilly, a baritone of the Metropolitan Opera company, as soon as the war is over. Gilly was visiting the soprano at her home in Prague when the war broke out and was promptly interned by the Austrians. He has been unable to secure his release. Meantime Mme. Destinn has returned to this country to sing in opera and concert. Gilly is half Arab and was born in Algeria. He had a French wife at one time. No one in this country knew that they had been divorced.

WASHOUT ON THE SOO ROAD AT DOWNING, WIS.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., March 30.—A washout of Soo line tracks for several hundred feet at Downing is reported today. The Soo rushed thirty cars of coal from here and dumped it on the roadbed as ballast this being the only material available.

An ice gorge on the Black river near Withee threatens to carry out the Soo railroad bridge.

The Chippewa river is rising rapidly here and threatens Paint creek dam now undergoing construction.

All streams in Northern Wisconsin are approaching the flood stage and much damage is expected.

MAYOR OF OJINAGA ASSASSIN'S VICTIM

El Paso, Tex., March 30.—Alberto Rodriguez, the Carranza mayor of Ojinaga, across the river from Presidio, was assassinated last night, according to a message received in Juarez today by Gen. Gaviria, Carranza commander. No details were given out other than that the assassins had escaped.

Road to Reorganize.

Madison, March 30.—The railroad commission today authorized the reorganization of the Southern Wisconsin Railway company operating in the City of Madison. It wil be known as the Madison Railways company and will be permitted to issue $1,500,000 bonds and to increase its capital stock from $100,000 to $600,000. Extensive improvements are planned.

To Investigate Gasoline.

Washington, March 30.—Agitation over the soaring prices of gasoline came up in the senate today and ended in the adoption of a resolution by Senator Martine directing the attorney general to investigate whether rising prices are the result of an unlawful conspiracy.

A WOOD FIRE FANCY.

Don Marquis in the Outlook: One night I saw a battle between a firefly and a fairy. I think he was an Irish fairy, for he grinned as he fought, and I know he was red-haired. The wicked monster, beast and bug at once, charged the fairy again and again, rushed and flew at him, fuming, pulsating luminously with throbs of rage, as if a wringed bull of Nineveh were in the ring with a toreador—a winged bull that had swallowed a kitchen range, which glowed through its iron ribs, and, like a matador, the red-haired fairy dodged and sidestepped the furious rushes, and finally ripped up the beetle and laid it, extinguished and gray, among the other ashes at the feet of a little brown and gold lady (Queen Mab herself, perhaps) who had been watching the struggle from a hickory limb and nervously swallowing sparks from time to time to keep her courage warm.

For all this took place in a bed of coals, in a valley beneath a half-burned log, in an open fireplace. It was a scene that came out of the wood. It was a thing, for all I know, that had actually happened some night forty years ago, when that wood was green and growing and sucking in through leaf and root all the secret, deep, essential life of the abounding forest. The logs drink up the spirit of the midwoods, the sense of it, the moods and humors of it—April riots, scamperings of squirrels, June dusks, quick glintings of bright eyes, stir of wings—and when the bark chars and the sap sings, it all comes out of the logs again in flame and song and dream and drama. Poke the fire and pick your forest—you may have the heart of any woods you will, from Arcadia to Arden.

I never had much luck with a coal fire. Locked within a lump of coal there should be stranger figures and fancies yet. When that coal was being formed, perhaps the pterodactyl and the dinosaur were hunting cave men through the bogs for breakfast; but I have strained my eyes in vain trying to see one of our remote ancestors squatting in a tree and throwing cocoanuts at a foe, while the winds of fear made gray his long bronze beard. And you are fortunate if you get even heat out of a steam radiator.

Princess Exchanged for English Officer

PRINCESS SALM-SALM.

One of the few exchanges made during the war was that of the Princess Salm-Salm of the Austrian royal family, interned in England, for Col. Gordon, who was made prisoner near the beginning of the war.

SPRING STORE NEWS

IS INTERESTING TO ALL THE HERALD READERS

This is the time when live advertisers branch out—when they take advantage of one of the principal selling seasons of the year. Every day between this and Easter is an important one for those who deal in dry goods, ready-to-wear apparel for women, millinery, men's clothing and all the accessories that go with it—shoes, gloves and kindred lines of merchandise.

Duluth Herald readers have their minds centered upon Spring.

In matters of style the foremost fashion creators of the world have established the modes we are to follow.

And the most acceptable of all that is revealed will continue through the Summer.

Nowadays there is scarcely a man or woman who reads The Herald who is not moved to join the big style parade.

And the alert advertiser will dress most of them—some modestly and some expensively—but all are possible patrons.

Not a bad idea to appeal to them, is it? It's paying others to do so, every week in the year.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

RED RIVER IS RISING

Flood Conditions Along That Stream Have Dangerous Proportions.

Grand Forks Concerns Along River Bank Preparing for Worst.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 30.—Flood conditions along the Red river have been made worse by a recent fall of four inches of snow and it is feared the floods of the spring of 1904 may be rivaled.

Tuesday night's snowfall amounted to about half an inch of water and the general thaw that followed had a noticeable effect upon the river.

A number of Grand Forks business houses and residence owners who have property located on the lower ground are already removing articles of value from basements in anticipation of what seems likely to occur.

The backing of water up sewers is feared more than anything else.

Actual flood danger depends on how the snow goes out, according to Prof. Howard E. Simpson of the weather bureau, Prof. E. P. Chandler of the university and Sandy Slattery, in charge of the government river gauge.

Heavy Rain Feared.

Heavy rains would undoubtedly cause an overflow of the banks of the river, they agree. The government has never taken any precautions in the matter of flood warnings for the Red River of the North owing to the fact life would not be endangered by the overflowing of that stream because of the nature of the river basin. The water rises so slowly that ample time is given to prepare for any danger.

It is expected that if the snow melts slowly no serious trouble will be experienced and hope is reflected in the weather forecast of much colder weather tonight and tomorrow, which change in temperature would check the present rapid thaw.

Flooding Lowlands.

Mandan, N. D., March 30.—The Heart river and Sweet Briar creek which are flooding the lowlands and causing serious washouts to the Northern Pacific main line, rose several more feet yesterday. Seven inches of extremely heavy wet snow fell from 8 o'clock Tuesday night to 10 o'clock yesterday morning and will mean an enormous volume of water when a warm wave comes.

Stock on the ranges was generally driven to cover after Friday's terrific snow storm and little loss is expected. All streams are still very high and people living in the lowlands and the lower part of this city are moving from their homes.

TAX COMMISSION'S POWERS CURTAILED

North Dakota Supreme Court Rules Against Law's Constitutionality.

Bismarck, N. D., March 30.—The supreme court yesterday handed down an opinion in the case of the state ex rel Andrew Miller vs. Addison Leach, auditor of Cass county, wherein Subdivision 14, Section 2088 of the 1913 session laws, providing for the assessment of heat, light and power companies by the tax commission is held to be unconstitutional. In 1914 Leach refused to place upon the rolls the assessment of heat, light and power companies by the tax commission. Mandamus proceedings were brought against him and were defeated in district court. On appeal the supreme court declared this provision unconstitutional for want of due process of law.

Hearing Date Not Fixed.

The tax commission law provides for the assessment of this class of property by the commission but does not provide a time of hearing. The court held that failure to provide a time of hearing was in contravention of the constitional provisions providing for due process. The court did not pass upon any other constitutional questions raised.

The tax commission still retains general supervisory powers over revenue and taxation laws, but the local assessors will now assess all heat, light and power companies. Chairman Packard says the tax commission is pleased to be relieved of the assessment of the companies, as the expenses of such assessment by the commission were out of all proportion to the importance of the property involved.

GIVEN NINETY DAYS FOR KICKING MOTHER

Minneapolis, Minn., March 30.—Theodore Larson, who kicked his 56-year-old mother, Mrs. Charlotte Larson, into insensibility last week because she refused to give him money to buy liquor, was sentenced to ninety days in the Minneapolis workhouse yesterday on a vagrancy charge.

ILLEGAL TRAPPING PROVES EXPENSIVE

Negaunee, Mich., March 30.—Christ Rye of Ishpeming paid fines amounting to $50 here in Judge Argall's court for violations of the game laws. He was arrested Monday evening at his camp at the Spile dam on Boyce creek twenty miles north of Ishpeming by Deputy Game Wardens John Rough and John Mohr. Rye paid one fine which with the costs amounted to $30 for having beaver in his possession without a license, and also a fine of $20 for trapping small fur-bearing animals, such as mink and muskrats, without a license.

SEEK SUCCESSOR TO WISCONSIN OFFICIAL

Madison, Wis., March 30.—Although the executive office claims there is no information to give out over the contemplated resignation of Chairman Halford Erickson of the railroad commission, it is known that the governor's agents are interviewing prominent people as to who might be the best person to succeed Mr. Erickson.

Pressure has been laid on the chairman to remain with the commission to dispose of several of the important cases pending.

CRIPPLE WINS DAMAGES.

Awarded $1,800 Against Proprietors of Former Kelliher Saloon.

Red Lake Falls, Minn., March 30.—George Norberg, inmate of the Beltrami county poor farm at Bemidji, who sued Oscar Thyren and Ole Pearson, former Kelliher saloon keepers, for $10,000 for being ejected while drunk from their place at Kelliher into the cold, badly freezing both arms so that amputation was necessary, was given judgment for $1,800 by a jury in district court here, the case having been transferred here from Bemidji on a change of venue.

Norberg testified that when the liquor was sold to him last December, Kelliher was "dry" under the terms of the Indian treaty of 1855. He alleged the saloon was being operated without a license and that the liquor was sold after 11 o'clock.

SAYS HE WRONGED HER.

Woman, Who Killed St. Paul Priest, Reiterates Former Charge.

St. Paul, Minn., March 30.—Mrs. Aniela Dudek, charged with slaying Rev. Henry Jajeski, a Catholic priest, here March 4, was examined for her sanity yesterday afternoon before Judge Razille of the probate court.

Mrs. Dudek retold her story of being wronged by the priest, which was the same as told in her confession to the police following her arrest. The examination was continued until Friday, when additional alienists will examine the woman.

STOLEN BILLS FOUND IN WAITRESS' "RAT"

Fargo, N. D., March 30.—Miss Marion Courtz, former waitress at the Kindred hotel in Valley City, arrested here as she stepped from the Northern Pacific train, on a charge of having stolen $80, denied her guilt at the police station. When searched by Mrs. Sydness, assistant in the Associated Charities, $73 was found tightly rolled and carefully embedded in one of the "rats" in her hair.

She collapsed when confronted with the money and admitted taking it. She was taken back to Valley City by Sheriff Kelley.

IS JAILED BECAUSE HE WORE UNIFORM

Houghton, Mich., March 30.—William Cox has been lodged in the county jail for thirty days. That was the sentence meted out to him by Justice of the Peace Charles R. Little. Cox was charged by Capt. T. S. Smith of the Houghton Light Infantry with illegally wearing a regulation khaki uniform belonging to the government.

ADMITS ROBBING MILL CITY BANK

Minneapolis, Minn., March 30.—Joseph Poyman brought the Camden Park State bank robbery trial to an unexpected end yesterday when he suddenly withdrew his plea of not guilty and admitted the charge of holding up the bank here in broad daylight Feb. 22. He had been identified by G. B. Sigurdson, cashier, as the highwayman who locked Sigurdson and a carpenter in the vault and carried away $700. His attorney said an examination into the defendant's sanity would be asked.

Frazee Store Sold.

Frazee, Minn., March 30.—The department store owned by Frank Kiene has been sold. W. A. Hoffman will own the hardware department; N. Rosenbloom, who has been in business in another location, will take over the clothing department, and Mr. Kiene will continue the grocery and dry-goods end. The store has been divided by partitions to accommodate the different tenants.

IF BACK HURTS TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Says Backache Is Sure Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

Uric Acid in Meat Clogs Kidneys and Irritates the Bladder.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Advertisement.

GRAIN DEALER BURIED.

Rites Held at Minneapolis for Van Dusen-Harrington Official.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 30.—The funeral of Jewett S. Mathewson, vice president of the Van Dusen-Harrington company and for twenty-five years a grain man of Minneapolis, who died at his home, 3124 Portland avenue, Tuesday after a brief illness, was held this afternoon from his home here, interment being made in Lakewood.

Mr. Mathewson was born in New Berlin, N. Y., Feb. 27, 1847, and came to Minnesota in 1879, settling in Elgin. He later moved to Rochester and came to this city in 1891, associating himself with the Van Dusen-Harrington company.

Surviving him are his widow, who was Mary Winnifred Ross of New Berlin, N. Y., two sons, Clarence Mathewson and J. R. Mathewson, and one daughter, Mrs. C. A. Stedman, residents of Minneapolis.

STARTS FIRE WITH GASOLINE; WILL DIE

Mott, N. D., March 30.—Relays of teams were used to bring sixteen miles to Mott, Samuel Reasey, who was severely burned in a gasoline explosion, but despite the speed with which he was rushed to medical treatment, physicians say he will die. Reasey, who is 25 years old, mistook gasoline for kerosene while starting a fire. His home is in Lemmon.

BRANCH SEED GARDEN.

North Dakota Will Establish One at Thief River Falls.

Thief River Falls, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—S. F. Mercer of Larimore, N. D., has advised the Commercial club that he will plant at least forty varieties of plants this first year in his branch seed gardens that he will establish here. He intends to open his farm as soon as the snow goes off the ground and it is possible to plant. The Commercial club is now looking for a suitable location for the gardens, and would like to hear from owners of four to five-acre cleared tracts near the river on which it is possible to cultivate and irrigate.

LIKES THIEF RIVER CLUB.

Bemidji Commercial Club Official Impressed With Organization.

Thief River Falls, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. M. Sathre, recently elected president of the Bemidji Commercial club, spent several days here investigating local conditions and getting a line on the methods used by the local Commercial club with the idea of incorporating some of them in the nearby city.

He was particularly impressed with the possibilities of the Junior Commercial club and intends to have one formed in Bemidji as soon as possible. He asked that Secretary Lincoln send one of the members of the Boys' club back with him to assist in the work, and it is probable that one will be picked and asked to assist in the work.

Sathre went from here a great admirer of the local club, and stated that it could well be used as a model for similar organizations throughout the state. "The quarters are splendid," he said, "and the members enthusiastic and know what they are doing. The club is being intelligently directed and no effort is wasted. This is what we are all striving for, but here you have developed it to a greater extent than have most of the other clubs."

RAINY RIVER IS NOW CLEAR OF ICE

International Falls, Minn., March 30.—The ice has gone out of Rainy river below the mouth of the Little Fork, and the mail boat is making trips clear through to Loman. It is expected that the regular service on the part of the freight and pasenger boats that ply the river in season will be started by the end of the week.

FARGO WOMAN TAUGHT PERSHING

Fargo, N. D., March 30.—Mrs. A. C. True, 1007 Sixth street south, says that Gen. John J. Pershing, now in charge of the Mexican expedition, was a pupil in her school at Laclede, Mo., many years ago.

TAKES KINDERGARTEN JOB AT GRAND RAPIDS

St. Cloud, Minn., March 30.—Mrs. Hester Gilman-Cornell has accepted the offer of the superintendent of city schools of Grand Rapids, Minn., as directress of the kindergarten department. She left at once to assume her new duties.

Red River Synod Elects.

Clifford, N. D., March 30.—R. J. Wisnes of Hickson, N. D., was elected president and Rev. C. Naseth of Valley City, secretary of the Red River Valley conference of the Norwegian synod at the annual meeting here.

Crosby Teachers Hired.

Heinemann of St. Bonifacius, high school; Edna Holdorf of Bessemer, Mich., Wesley McQueen of St. Cloud, Daisy Wright of St. Cloud, and Esther Almquist and Ruth Young of Crosby. Miss Almquist is teacher this year at Little Falls and Miss Young at Aitkin.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette—Marquette has the highest delinquent taxes of any city or township in Marquette county, according to the report of collections from the 1915 tax levy, issued by the county treasurer's office. Of the $71,757.57 assessed to this city $3,841.39 remained unpaid when the city collections were turned over to the county treasurer.

Negaunee—Men are employed tearing down what remains of the Kuhlman building, which was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago.

Marquette—Since the first of the year there have been forty-seven deaths and fifty births here as compared with thirty deaths and eighty births for the same period last year.

Hancock—Arvid Hendrickson, aged 51 years, passed away at the county infirmary Monday. The funeral was held here Tuesday afternoon.

Houghton—Joseph Vaanan, an aged Finn, attempted to ski ride on Portage lake and landed in the water. Men shouted to him, instructing him to keep perfectly still and hang on to the ice and with the aid of a rope and a plank ladder he was finally taken from the water after he had been in about a half hour.

Calumet—Mrs. Edith Smith Davis, a noted temperance lecturer, will be in the Copper country from April 4 to 12, inclusive. Mrs. Davis will open her Copper country tour at the Germania hall in Hancock on April 4 with a mass meeting and her last appearance will be at the Calumet high school on April 12.

Hancock—Mrs. James Geary of Duluth, who has been visiting Mrs. Joseph Tourville of Ripley, left Monday for her home, accompanied by her son and by Miss Helen Carroll of Ripley.

Republic—The first Marquette county farmers' institute was tried here and was attended by 175 farmers, including the members of the recently organized Republic Farmers' club, formed by County Agent L. R. Walker. The speakers were L. R. Walker; C. V. Ballard, county farm agent from Dickinson county; Thomas Clenhall and J. W. Jasberg, general colonization agent for the D., S. S. & A. railroad. Mr. Jasberg's address was in the Finnish language, as many of the farmers who attended the meeting were Finns.

Marquette—The estimated total of Marquette expenditures, including all departments and the public schools, is $324,440. This is approximately $60,000 more than the figure for 1915, but it is accounted for by the appropriation asked by the department of light and power, which is greatly in excess of last year's figure, due to the improvements which will be made at the power plant this summer.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Madison—In an opinion to Oliver E. Remey, secretary of the agriculture commission, Attorney General Owen declares that the plan of a syndicate to erect additional buildings at the state fair grounds for the purpose of providing additional concession facilities cannot be backed by the state.

Eau Claire—The ice jam of four days' duration about a mile above Altoona broke at 2:50 Tuesday and caused no little excitement among the city officials here. It was expectantly watched for as the bridge at the old Northwestern dam and the Dewey Street are in no wise perfect condition.

Madison—C. P. Norgord, commissioner of agriculture, has left for a tour of the state fair grounds of Illinois, Iowa, and Minnesota. Mr. Norgord will investigate the fair buildings of these states with the purpose of applying their strong points to the new buildings proposed for the Wisconsin fair plant.

Wausau—E. G. Dunn of Mason City, Iowa, prominent in political circles, addressed an audience of 250 Knights of Columbus and their friends Monday evening. Mr. Dunn, who was introduced by Patrick T. Stone, emphasized the fact that the future of society depends almost entirely on the proper training given children.

Madison—As a part of his campaign for mayor, Robert N. Nelson, former district attorney, has announced that he will make a fight for lower gas and electric light rates. During the past five years electric light rates have been reduced three times.

La Crosse—The district Odd Fellows' convention held here elected F. J. Sheldon, Sparta, president; F. O. Drowatzky, Tomah, vice president; D. L. Lyons, Sparta, secretary; William Yeo, La Crosse, warden; H. C. Herman, La Crosse, treasurer.

Eau Claire—Work will begin next Monday on the building of the foundation for the new Gillette Safety Tire company factory east of the office of the Northwestern Lumber company. The building operations will be rushed with a view of beginning the manufacture of automobile tires at the earliest possible date.

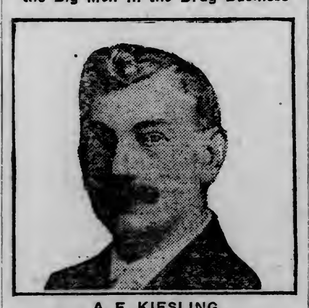
Oconto—Maj. Edward Scofield, former governor of Wisconsin, has just observed his 74th birthday anniversary. Maj. Scofield was born in Clearfield county, Pa., March 28, 1842. In 1861 he enlisted in Company K, Eleventh Pennsylvania reserves. He came to Wisconsin in 1868. In 1896 he was elected governor and re-elected two years later.

Marinette—The state convention of the Independent Order of Foresters will be held in Marinette June 6 and 7. About 100 delegates and visitors are expected.

Eau Claire—The Civic and Commerce association elected the following: President, R. L. Meader; vice president, J. J. Ott; treasurer, William E. Steinberg, the latter being re-elected. The matter of a choice of a secretary was left open until the meeting a week later, when it is more than probable R. F. Kaiser will be elected to succeed himself.

DRINK SIX GLASSES OF WATER DAILY

An Interesting Statement by One of the Big Men In the Drug Business



A. E. KIESLING

of Houston, Texas, says:

"If you have a muddy complexion and dull eyes, you are constipated. Six glasses of water daily and one or two Rexall Orderlies at night will correct this condition and make you 'fit as a fiddle.' Rexall Orderlies, in my opinion, are the best laxative to be had, and can be taken by men, women or children."

We have the exclusive selling rights for this great laxative.

East Grand Forks—The board of education has decided to discontinue the operation of the seventh and eighth grades of the Lincoln school, Minnesota Point. This action was taken in order to complete preparations for organizing the junior high school on a more systematic basis and in the future give the students of these classes the same privileges as those attending high school.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

25-Cent Bottle of "Danderine" Makes Hair Thick, Glossy and Wavy.

Removes All Dandruff, Stops Itching Scalp and Falling Hair.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and luster and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.—Advertisement.

BY BRUCE.

HERE are two articles we have obtained after great labor and some trouble. One is written by Jess Willard and the other is not. It is our purpose here to encourage the naturalistic school of expression and at the same time to show up those writers who allow their names to be used by others for slight pecuniary considerations.

Here are the two articles:

By Jess Willard.

I am immensely pleased as a result of my decisive victory. I only feel sorry for Mr. Moran. He is an impeccable gentleman and am hesitant in referring to him in any but the most kindly and considerate terms. Some superficial observers had led the great public to believe that I was not in the very best of condition. Such was not the case, as my great battle proved. My showing was so great as to cause all petty knocking to cease. I am not hailed as a true champion. I have never touched whisky in my life. Teach your boy to be truthful and always observe the lesson of self restraint. Oil is splendid for sore joints. I hope every true American will fight for his country should we have trouble with Mexico. War or no war, I will be with the circus for forty weeks.

Say, this Moran is a cheese and i won in a walk. i seen that he couldn't hit with his left so i worked over to the right and walloped that red head with my left and you seed what i did to that mut. i don't drink whiskey cause in most places they charge 15 cents a glass for it. just cause you are a champion a lot of people thinks you are a sucker. i am in the fightin business cause i was too big to be a cowboy and you cant make no real money splittin wood. tom would be sear if he knowd i was writin this, but he's down in tex rickards office countin the money. the worst thing about this fightin game is that the public gets soar if you dont fight. so long.

MINNESOTA HEAVYWEIGHT IS CONTENDER FOR TITLE

FRED FULTON.

Here is the first Minnesota heavyweight fighter in years that has attracted any serious pugilistic notice. At times this big fellow looks like a champion and at other times he appears more like a dub. But a kid in years, there is a chance that Fulton will develop into the most dangerous contender for the crown. Fulton can punch, there is no doubt about that, and a big man who can hit is always dangerous.

SUIT MENACES O.B. EXISTENCE

Baltimore Federal Action May Result in Government Investigation.

Immense Damages Asked Under Anti-Trust Laws By Plaintiffs.

Philadelphia, March 30.—Organized baseball is facing another attack against existence in a suit for $900,000 damages filed in the United States district court here yesterday under the national anti-trust law by the Federal Baseball club of Baltimore. The defendants, in the suit are the National and American leagues and the sixteen clubs making up their membership, the three members of the national baseball commission, and James A. Gilmore, Charles E. Weeghman and Harry Sinclair, formerly of the Federal league.

If the Federal league of Baltimore wins its suit, organized baseball will be in peril of attack by the national government, it is said. The difference between the suit filed yesterday and the one begun by the Federal league against organized baseball in Chicago in 1915, is that the present one is for damages only, while the first was for an injunction to restrain organized baseball from continuing certain acts alleged to be in violation of the Sherman law.

To win the present action the Baltimore club must show that organized baseball, as at present constituted, is in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, and the Clayton anti-trust act.

Government May Be Forced.

If it proves this and recovers damages, lawyers said last night, the government may have to take cognizance of the court's decree.

The Baltimore club alleges that it was not considered in the negotiations last winter which resulted in the so-called peace between organized baseball and the Federal league owners and that in consequence, it suffered a loss of $300,000 and asks for triple damages under the Federal anti-trust laws.

The bill of complaint gives a history of the present organization of the game and its operation, mentioning the agreement of the national commission, the Baseball Players' fraternity and the various leagues that enter into organized baseball.

The complaint recites the organization of the Federal league, charges that organized baseball entered into a conspiracy to wreck it and goes into details of the negotiations whereby the Federal league was eliminated from baseball competition.

The Baltimore club charges that the National and American leagues are operating in a combination or conspiracy to restrain trade and have conspired to monopolize or to attempt to monopolize a part of the commerce of the states in violation of the Federal anti-trust laws.

Bought Off Brooklyn.

The bill of complaint states that in the alleged conspiracy to wreck the Federal league organized baseball "gave or secured" to the Brooklyn Federal league club $400,000 to induce that club to cease competing with the defendants and that by cash contributions of not less than $50,000 and "flattery and persuasion" induced Charles Weeghman and his associates to desert the Federal league. The complaint also states:

"This plaintiff is informed and believes, he alleges, that all of the remaining constituent members of the Federal league, not including the plaintiff, authorized a committee consisting, according to the information of the plaintiff of the defendants, James A. Gilmore, Harry Sinclair and Charles Weeghman to settle their position and to protect their rights as best they might, induced there to the plaintiff's beliefs and charges on account of the realization of the hopelessness of repairing the damage already done to the Federal league as a whole by the defection from its ranks of most important members.

"And said committee has now signed a petition on behalf of all the dissenting members of the Federal league, agreeing to eliminate further connection with the defendants."

Tener Sees No Violation.

New York, March 30.—President Tener, president of the National league, when informed of the suit filed in Philadelphia by the Baltimore Federal league baseball club, said:

"Organized baseball conducted its negotiations looking to an adjustment of baseball conditions, not with the Baltimore club, any individual club or persons representing a single club or interest, but rather with the Federal league as an organization. It was our understanding that the Federal league was acting for all its component clubs and had proper authority so to act in everything that was done toward settlement of all conditions. In effecting an adjustment of baseball conditions we are satisfied we did nothing inconsistent with the Sherman anti-trust act or Clayton act. Therefore we fail to see where we are liable as set forth in the suit of the Baltimore Federal league club."

Hermann Expected It.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 30.—August Hermann, chairman of the national baseball commission, after being informed of the filing of the suit by the Baltimore Federal league club in Philadelphia yesterday, said:

"This suit has been expected for a long time. There is no use of going into the merits of the case now—they will come out when we file our answer in court. Personally I do not believe the Baltimore people have a leg to stand on in the courts."

FOOTBALL BIG PAYER IN HARVARD ATHLETICS

Cambridge, Mass., March 30.—A profit of $4,148 resulted from Harvard university's athletic activities during the fiscal year ending July 31, 1915, according to a report issued by F. W. Moore, graduate treasurer of athletics, last night. Football, with receipts of $120,499 and expenses of $35,668, as usual contributed largely to the support of all other teams except baseball, which showed a reduced profit of $3,468. The receipts from football jumped $25,000 as compared with the previous year, an increase accounted for largely by the opening of the Yale bowl.

The lack of a great indoor field, a swimming tank and a skating rink are handicaps in the winter months, according to the report. The treasurer suggested the idea of building a rink in Cambridge as being worthy of serious consideration.

VIRGINIA AFTER RED WING QUINT

Range Basket Ball Team May Play for State Title.

Manager Joseph Dillon of the Virginia city basket ball team is endeavoring to arrange a contest with the crack Red Wing quint for the championship of the state. C. I. Olson, manager of the Red Wing team, has thus far shown a disposition to make light of the claims of the northern state quint. Virginia has made one of the greatest records of any team in the entire country and is justly entitled to a meeting with the southern quint, according to the belief of a majority of the fans.

Dillon has offered to accept any fair and equitable terms. He would like to have one of the games played in Duluth. Olson has made a proposition to have the contests played in Northfield, Minn., where the state high school basket ball contests were recently decided.

Fans here are somewhat interested in the negotiations between the two teams. Virginia handily defeated the Duluth team upon two different occasions, and in both contests showed that its members knew the game in every detail.

CANADA TAKES BOWLING TITLE FOR INDIVIDUALS

Toledo, Ohio, March 30.—Canada won its first bowling title when it gathered the individual championship of the American bowling congress here last night through the prowess of Sam Schliman of Toronto. Schliman shot 564, sewing up the title in the last game with two strikes, and eight spares. Ben Huesman of Cincinnati ran second with 510 and Frank Shaw of Chicago, was third with 476.

The men rolled three games for the championship, which went to Schliman, the Canadian being low man in the first game. Scores were as follows:

Schliman, Toronto	167	202	196—564
Huesman, Cincinnati	171	185	154—510
Shaw, Chicago	168	170	138—476

Chicago made one of its greatest successes from a financial standpoint that it has ever made in a tournament, cleaning up over $7,300 out of a total of $33,000 offered the winners here. Columbus won $1,500 victory with only a small entry. Toledo got $2,000; Indianapolis, $1,200; Rochester with only three team entries showed $1,100; Milwaukee picked up $873 and Cincinnati landed $797.

Buffalo, Pittsburgh and St. Paul all ran over $500.

PENNSY WINS TITLE.

Takes Intercollegiate Basket Ball Championship in Post-Season Game.

Philadelphia, March 30.—The University of Pennsylvania won the intercollegiate basket ball championship here last night by defeating Princeton in the post-season game, 16 to 14. At the end of the first period the score was 9 to 7 in favor of Pennsylvania, Martin scoring three field goals, Williamson one and McNichols one foul goal for Pennsylvania.

For Princeton Haas and Feree each scored a field goal and Haas three foul goals.

In the final period Paulson, who substituted for Rahill at guard, scored one field goal and five foul goals for Princeton, while Martin made a field goal for Pennsylvania and McNichols five foul goals.

DULUTH PURSE FOR PACERS

Zenith City Men Hang Up Prize for State Fair Races.

St. Paul, Minn., March 30.—Five purses, aggregating $9,600, are provided for in the early closing events of the speed program to be given at the Minnesota state fair, Sept. 4 to 9, according to an announcement made by Secretary John C. Simpson today. State fair officials and local horsemen believe that racing of unusual merit will result from it this fall.

The three overshadowing events are the Minneapolis and St. Paul purses of $3,000 each and the $2,000 Duluth purse. The Minneapolis purse for $3,000, which was for 2:15 trotters last year, is for trotters eligible to the 2:12 class this year, assuring more speed in this classic event than has been seen at Hamlin for years. The St. Paul purse for $3,000, which was for 2:13 pacers a year ago, is for pacers eligible to the 2:12 class, one second having been clipped from the time to produce a faster field.

Duluth breaks into the speed program for the first time with an arrangement for a $2,000 purse for pacers eligible to the 2:05 class. The two additional purses are for $800 each, one being for trotters 3 years old and under and the other for pacers 3 years old and under. Entries in all early closing events must be in not later than Saturday, July 1. The Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth classes are to be raced on the "every heat a race" plan, except as to complete division of money. In the St. Paul and Minneapolis classes, $900 will be distributed among the winners of each heat, on the basis of 50, 25, 15 and 10 per cent. At the end of the race $300 will be divided according to the rank of horses under the old placing system. In the Duluth class the amount raced for each heat will be $600, the sum of $200 being divided at the end of the race. The two classes for $800 each will be raced under the point system and according to the rules of the American Trotting association.

The entry fee in all instances is 3 per cent of the purse, an additional 5 per cent being deducted from money winners. Payment of entry fees is due as follows: One per cent each on July 1, Aug. 1, and the day before the race. Twelve or more entries are required to fill and four to start, or the race may be declared off.

Announcement of the late closing events of the speed program will be made within a few weeks, as soon as the fair board has decided whether it will be advisable to hold auto races on one or two days.

SCHROEDER HAS SIGNED

Teuton Swatter Will Be Tried at First Base or in Outfield.

Big Dutch Schroeder, first baseman and outfielder, has sent in his signed contract and will be a White Star candidate this spring. The big Teuton may be tried out for the initial sack or the outfield. If Faull comes up to expectations on the first sack, the German may be shifted to the outfield. Schroeder's hitting should prove a valuable asset to the club.

Darby O'Brien stated yesterday that he is after another catcher. It is believed that Schreiber's contract will be received within the next few days. The signing of the former American association star will set O'Brien at rest. Schreiber will prove a very valuable man for the Sox and will give the Dook one of the best teams he has had in years, according to his belief.

"Schreiber can be used in the outfield or play any position in the infield," said O'Brien yesterday. "If Schreiber plays here I venture the prediction that he will return to the American association after the close of the Northern league season. Bunny has all the qualifications of a baseball player. He did not want to go up when he was drafted, preferring to remain in the minors for another year. Schreiber is only a kid in years and is going to make a great player. I would sure like to have him another year."

Fast Team Predicted.

Taking his team man for man, in every position, the Orator believes that the men who are to report on April 15 will make up one of the best teams that has represented Duluth in a number of seasons. Darby is counting on some of the young material he has secured. If the youngsters come up to expectations, the Duluth fans are going to witness some fast and snappy baseball.

President Harry Blume believes that his team is going to get off on the right foot and make a race of it from the start of the season.

There is a general belief that some very fast baseball will be played in the Northern league. Players are plentiful and indications point to a better season in every way than the 1915 race.

SHUBERT AFTER ERTLE.

Eastern Bantamweight Seeking Duluth Match With St. Paul Boxer.

Morris Abram of Duluth has received a letter from his brother Mark of Minneapolis, in which he states that efforts are on to match Al Shubert with Johnny Ertle, either in Minneapolis or Duluth.

According to Mark Abram, Shubert really defeated Ertle in the East. The Eastern bantam is said to be a curly bear and one of the toughest of all the little men.

"Even Mike McNulty, maanger of Ertle, admitted that Shubert had a draw with Ertle," writes Abram. "Minneapolis may make the boys an offer to meet there. I would also like to receive some offer from Duluth. I am one who believes that Shubert can decisively defeat Ertle. Shubert is one of the greatest little men in the ring."

NED TEN EYCK IN CHARGE OF BOAT CLUB OARSMEN

Famous Sculler Takes Place of Brother Jim—Plans for Coming Season Discussed at Meeting—Senior Four Men May Come Out—New Rowing Candidates Out for Crew.

It was announced during last night's meeting of Duluth Boat club oarsmen that Ned Ten Eyck would have complete charge of the coaching during the coming season. The announcement, coming from Jimmy Ten Eyck, was greeted with uproarious applause. It appeared that the regret in losing the services of Jimmy was somewhat softened by the fact that the club is going to have the services of a man of the recognized ability of Ned Ten Eyck.

Jimmy gave the boys a talk on the national regatta and the general prospects for the season. In winding up his remarks, Jimmy declared that, if the crew men got out and performed some real work, he had little doubt of their ability to win at least ten races.

Jim went over the plans for the addition to the club. He explained in detail just what would be done, telling the boys that when the additions were completed the Duluth Boat club would have by far the most complete and up-to-date rowing plant in the world.

"The new rowing quarters will make the old ones appear like a shack compared to a palace," he said. "The boat club is going to do everything for the comfort and convenience of the rowing men. When the visiting oarsmen get a look at the new quarters, they will be simply amazed. We are going to provide the finest rowing quarters in the world and we want to win the amateur rowing championship of the world in return. You can do it, if you just make up your mind to work hard."

Ned Is Welcomed.

Ned Ten Eyck was greeted with a salvo of hearty applause as he arose to address the meeting.

Ned told the men that one thing he would insist upon was observance of training rules and constant attendance.

"If there is a good and reasonable excuse for a man being absent from rowing practice, he will be excused," said Ned Ten Eyck; "but if a candidate for the crew does not intend to come out every evening, he might as well not make any effort to make the crew. Absence from practice is something I will not stand for."

Ten Eyck told the boys they had better start cutting down on the smokes and the other little luxuries that the average individual allows himself. Strict training will begin very soon, he warned the boys, and he suggested that it was best that they approach the rigid training season by gradual degrees.

The Senior Four.

"I have spoken with many great oarsmen, professionals who have rowed all over the world," said the speaker, "and they have informed me that there is a crew in Duluth that is without a question of a doubt the greatest amateur four that has ever appeared in the history of the rowing game. While these men would not admit that it was capable of defeating any professional four, I believe that right down in their hearts they are convinced that this crew is the greatest four that has ever sat in a boat.

"It would prove a great asset for Duluth if the members of this great crew should decide to row this year. If they do decide, however, that business or other interests will prevent their coming out, no one should censure them. These boys have done much for Duluth. This is the year we need them, and we all hope that it will be possible for the members of the senior four to be with us again."

It is believed that a definite decision will be made in the case of the senior four men some time today. It is generally believed that the boys will row.

A large squad of new men was re-

BEELL RIGHT FOR STECHER

Marshfield Boy Says He Is Ready for Nebraska Scissor Grinder.

"I'll be up there Monday. I'm ready for Stecher and am going to try my best to stop the Nebraska scissors grinder. I am right and will make a great try."

Promoter Frank La Joy got Freddy Beell over the long distance telephone yesterday afternoon and held about two dollars' worth of conversation with the little Marshfield Dutchman. La Joy asked Freddy to arrive here Monday and be on the ground in readiness for the big contest.

Beell informed the local impresario that he would be here and was ready to tear into the Dodge, Neb., firebrand.

Stecher will also probably arrive here next Monday. Joe will take a rest before his try. The Nebraska boy possibly realizes that he is on trial and that fans over the country are eagerly awaiting the outcome of his contest with Beell. Certainly Frank Gotch will have a large red car to the ground on the evening of Tuesday, April 4. What Stecher does to Beell, or what Beell does to Stecher, will interest the world's champion greatly.

Go After Stecher's Legs.

Some of the fans are speculating as to whether Beell will go after those long and powerful legs of Stecher's. In his first appearance here, the Nebraska youth walked from his corner in a nonchalant manner and seemed to stick his legs out in an inviting manner. Will he do that to Beell? If he does, the fans wonder whether little Freddy will give a lightning-like dive at the $100,000 legs of the freak.

What the fans here fervently hope for, though, is that Fred can clamp the headlock on Joe.

BENNY LEONARD TO MEET WELSH

Sensational New York Lightweight Faces a Great Opportunity.

Followers of boxing throughout the country are taking more than ordinary interest in tomorrow night's meeting between Freddy Welsh, lightweight champion of the world, and Benny Leonard, the young New York boy who has been coming to the front with rapid strides.

Leonard is the same lad who knocked Joe Mandot cold. In addition to numbering the Southern lightweight among his victims, Leonard has beaten some of the best boys in the lightweight division. If by any possible chance Leonard should win from Welsh by the knockout route, he would at once become a great popular idol.

More than anything else, a new lightweight is needed to stimulate new interest in the 133-35 pound class. Leonard has won a great following by his sensational work and has created interest in boxing. A decisive win over Welsh would provide boxing with a first class card.

During the last few months Leonard has met more than ten opponents and has defeated every one of them. In Welsh the little Jewish boy faces the greatest opponent of his career and also the greatest opportunity. A win on the part of Leonard would be hailed with delight, as Welsh, great as he is as a scientific boxer, comes far from being a popular champion.

TYPO TEAM ROLLS INTO FIRST PLACE

La Crosse, Wis., March 30.—The La Crosse Typographical team rolled into first place in the tournament of the Tri-State Bowling association here last night and several other changes occurred in the leaders in the big event—the five-man team contest. The first five in this list at the beginning of bowling today were:

Typos, La Crosse, 2,588; Knights of Columbus, La Crosse, 2,544; Postmen, La Crosse, 2,438; Kapital Kids, Madison, Wis., 2,430; Leicht Press, Winona, 2,428. There was no change in the leadership in the other events.

IS STYLED "DEADBEAT;" GETS 6 CENTS DAMAGES

Madison, Wis., March 30.—James Barnard, state capitol employe, will collect 6 cents compensatory damages from I. W. Cohen et al., in his suit for $10,000 for alleged defamation of character. Judge E. Ray Stevens, in judgment on a special verdict, held that under the Wisconsin law punitory damages may be assessed where the plaintiff is entitled to no more than nominal compensatory damages.

Barnard sued Cohen Bros., clothing merchants, for $10,000, alleging they caused his name to be printed in what is known as a "Dead Beat" book as one who did not pay his bills promptly.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Dangers of Calomel and Castor Oil

Our medical forefathers made quite as many mistakes as we make today. Two of their greatest mistakes were calomel and castor oil.

WILLIAM BRADY M.D.

Calomel, theoretically, did something to the liver. It was supposed that calomel increased the flow of bile, or facilitated the discharge of bile from the liver into the bowel, or something vaguely like that. Practically, there isn't any reason to think calomel increases the flow of bile or in any way affects the liver any more than other laxative drugs. Experimentally, calomel rather tends to diminish bile secretion. Furthermore, calomel very often nauseates, and occasionally, even in small one-tenth grain doses, salivates the victim.

Castor oil, the most repulsive of all domestic medicines, is an irritant to the intestine, although it is an oil. It binds the bowel, and is hence sometimes prescribed in cases of acute diarrhea or summer complaint. But this binding influence makes castor oil unsuitable for a laxative for frequent or regular use. Indeed, one of the commonest causes of constipation in children is a too ready resort to castor oil when a laxative is desired.

Both castor oil and calomel have been found to produce a marked appearance of red corpuscles in the stools—not visible blood, but red corpuscles, which can be seen only with the microscope. Now a cathartic which does that is objectionable for frequent use.

The calomel and castor oil habit is only a habit, even among doctors. We know, because we have found that neither remedy is ever necessary. There are invariably less injurious, and more agreeable substitutes to use. Of course, if a doctor still harbors the delusion that calomel does some vague thing to the liver, why, he'll go on prescribing it as a matter of choice. And if he assumes that castor oil is soothing because it is an oil, he will still inflict this Egyptian panacea upon his patrons.

Even nurses and doctors sometimes imagine milk, being a fluid, is easier to digest than, say, bread or meat. That this is not necessarily true has been proved over and over again, when hard, dense curds of milk were found to have caused perforation of a typhoid ulcer. That is one reason why scraped beef and other solid foods are often given in the course of typhoid fever.

Castor oil is an oil, and so is kerosene. But neither is quite as soothing as dead reckoning might lead one to believe.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Going Out After Infection.

A number of people say it is folly to go out too soon after the grip. We always send our children outdoors as much as possible when they have ordinary coryza or sore throat, and with good results. But we should appreciate your opinion about going out after the grip.

Answer—Get out in the atmosphere and regain your health; but grip or coryza, or whatever it may be, here's the one rule to follow: Be comfortable. It can never help you to suffer with chilliness or cold.

DULUTH'S SCHOOL SYSTEM

Being a Review of Some Facts About the Community's Most Important Business—No. 4—Hiring and Grading the Teacher.

The greatest problem in educational work, whether in a school, college or university, is to find the teachers.

Just as the real test of a manufacturing plant is its equipment, so the real test of an educational plant is its teaching staff.

In the Duluth schools there are 463 teachers this year. The grade school teachers number 309; there are 33 junior high instructors, 70 senior high school instructors, 28 principals and 23 specialists, in addition to Supt. R. E. Denfeld and Assistant Supt. W. H. Schilling.

Seventy-seven of the 463 leave the schools every year and are replaced by normal school or college graduates, or teachers from other cities who have qualified.

"The teaching corps in Duluth is equal to that in any city," says Supt. Denfeld, and Minnesota educators have agreed that Duluth schools rank high in that respect.

In choosing the new teacher to fill the gaps each year, the Duluth system is similar to that used throughout the United States. Written applications, on form sheets supplied by the board of education, are filed with Supt. Denfeld. Usually the candidate's photograph accompanies the application, and in most cases they are judged as an applicant for a position in any business house would be judged.

Ranking of Teaching.

Every year, in February or March, the school committee of the board of education makes an exhaustive study of the rankings of the teachers and decides upon the "payroll" for the school year, beginning the following September. No instructor or principal is engaged for more than one year at a time.

In order to grade the teacher upon his work for the year the school board, with Supt. Denfeld, has drafted a system which has been used for two or three years past. It is very similar to those used in most other cities of the country, although original in some respects.

Many criticisms of the grading system in vogue here have been made, but no satisfactory substitute has been found. Until recently, each principal filled out a blank sheet, giving yes and no answers to twenty-three questions about each teacher.

The only question of real value, the board decided, was the twenty-third, which read: "Do you want this teacher in your school next year?" Then, in many cases, the principals answered: "I don't know."

So much depends upon the principal, and upon the comparative degree of strictness or laxity with which they mark, that the board's committee takes a wide range in judging the "evidence" before them, in deciding whether or not an instructor should be given a raise in salary or recommended for dismissal.

Points in Grading.

The new chart is based upon 100 per cent, giving a possible 50 per cent for teaching ability, 25 per cent for personality and 25 per cent for scholarship.

Under "teaching ability" there are the following sub-divisions:

First—Experience, normal or college, and number of years in a school.

Second—Assignment and preparation of lessons.

Third—Presentation of the subject matter.

Fourth—Conduct of recitation.

Fifth—Questions, are they stimulating or unoriginal?

Sixth—Result.

Under the heading, "Personality," there are the following sub-divisions:

Manner, voice and control. For each of these a teacher may be given 8 1-3 per cent.

Under the third heading, "scholarship," the principal tells of the teacher's professional training, whether it is from a normal school or a college; and of her study. A teacher who studies throughout the year, or who does extra work in the summer vacation period, is given credit for it.

A fourth heading, to be used as a further guide, asks concerning the subjects in which the teacher is particularly strong or weak. The question of tact also is answered by yes or no.

This form, known as form 33, is presented to the committee on schools when filled in by the principal, and is used as a guide to the teacher's ability. Special reports usually are asked for and presented in cases of teachers who fall below grade under this system of marking.

Salaries Compare Well.

In the matter of teachers' salaries, Duluth compares favorably. Grade teachers now are receiving an average of $790 for ten months' work. That is $70 a year more than they received in 1912-1913.

Junior high school teachers average $830 for the ten months, and have been increased on an average of $20 in the last year. Senior high instructors average $1,150 for ten months. Principals are paid on an average of $1,300 a year, which is $100 more than they received in 1912-1913. Specialists are paid an average of $910 a year. This is $40, on an average, less than last year, but the number of specialists hs jumped from twelve to twenty-three in that time, so that the aggregate shows an increase of $10,000.

Detailed comparisons with salaries paid in other cities show that the grade teachers are not quite up to the average throughout the country, or at least in some of the larger cities. This also is true of principals. Junior high, senior high and specialty teachers are better paid, as a rule, however.

COMPANY C ENTERTAINS.

Many Interesting Stunts Feature Program at Armory.

Members of Company C, Third regiment, Minnesota National Guard, and their friends attended the smoker and program given last evening at the club rooms in the new armory. More than 100 were present and enjoyed the entertainment.

Boxing bouts were staged by Martin Bugie and A. E. Adams and Bugie and Ben Porter. Charles Helmer, band leader, played a cornet solo, F. Simpson entertained with charcoal drawings, Elmer Thorstad contributed a violin solo, Bowman and Moerke put on a comedy talking skit, and Bugie and Hargraves wrestled, the former winning in the first two falls. The program was followed by a lunch. The committee in charge of the arrangements consisted of Lieut. R. K. Carpenter, Sergeant A. W. Gasper, Corporal Carl Haglund and Corporal Martin Bugie.

PRISONERS KEPT BUSY.

Spring Brings Plenty of Work at Work Farm.

St. Louis county now has 164 men at work at the county work farm, according to Fred Ward, superintendent, who was a visitor in the city yesterday. Mr. Ward declared that with the coming of spring, there is plenty of work in sight for a busy season at the farm. In addition to the spring farming work, there are several ditch contracts being handled. Mr. Ward yesterday stated that there had been no sickness among the inmates and that conditions in general were very favorable.

DELEGATES FOR JEWISH CONGRESS

Dr. Gross and Charles D. Oreckovsky Named By Covenant Lodge.

Dr. Samuel Gross and Charles D. Oreckovsky were elected delegates from Covenant lodge, Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, to the Duluth committee of the American Jewish congress at the regular monthly meeting of the order held last evening in the Temple Emanuel vestry rooms.

The local committee of the Jewish congress will meet on April 23 for the purpose of organizing and electing representatives to the national gathering, which will be held some time this spring. The congress will have for its aim the preparation of a statement, setting forth the claims of the Jews in all the warring countries for religious and political liberties. These will be submitted to the representatives of these nations when the first peace conference is called at the termination of the present war.

Tentative plans were made last evening for the spring banquet and ceremonial to be held the latter part of April, when Benjamin J. Samuels and A. B. Seelenfreund, president and secretary, respectively of the district grand lodge, will be the honor guests of the local lodge. At that time a class of twenty-five candidates will be initiated into the order.

A. B. Kapplin, president of Covenant lodge, presided at the meeting.

BIG ATTENDANCE AT CONFERENCE

Choir of 125 Voices Features Closing Session at Swedish Church.

More than 700 people attended the closing session of the Swedish Lutheran conference last evening at the First Swedish Lutheran church. Rev. Erick Floren of Bovey and Rev. N. P. Sjogren, English field secretary of the Augustana synod, were speakers. Each delivered a sermon on home missions. One feature of the service was the music of the united choir of 125 voices.

At the conference, plans for broadening the field for home missions were discussed at some length. It was decided to enlarge the present scope so as to include some of the range towns and to place missionaries among the employes of mining and lumber camps.

The April conference will be held at the Elim church, West Duluth. It will be held during the last week in April.

DULUTH TO HAVE "LOWER HOUSE"

Co-operation of Different City Departments Aim of Officials.

Duluth will have a "junior commission" or a "lower house," just as you please.

This afternoon all the heads of city departments will meet in the council chambers for the purpose of organizing and arranging for a series of conferences. The call for the meeting has been sent out by City Clerk Borgen.

"This meeting has been called," states Clerk Borgen in his communication to the department heads, "for the purpose of getting together and of promoting a closer co-operation in the exchange of business between the different divisions."

SENTENCE STAYED.

Roosevelt's Secretary Given Thirty Days for Assaulting Man.

New York, March 30.—A stay of sentence was yesterday granted to John W. McGrath, secretary to Theodore Roosevelt, and lately acting secretary of the Progressive National committee, who was committed to the workhouse for thirty days on a charge of disorderly conduct and assault. The complainant was Charles Light of Brooklyn, who charged that McGrath and William Powers assaulted him in a restaurant in Brooklyn last June.

Col. Roosevelt has announced he will stand by his secretary. He issued a statement expressing indignation at the sentence and asserting that McGrath would continue to remain in his service.

The sentence was stayed by the court pending an examination of the testimony.

WISCONSIN GIRL ENDS HER LIFE IN CHICAGO

Chicago, March 30.—Miss Sadie Hannon, 35 years old, was found dead in her room here last night, with gas escaping from an open jet and heater.

According to the police, the woman had written to her parents in Kenosha, Wis., some time ago, telling them of deep despondency over a love affair, and threatening to take her life. A letter addressed to a man was found on a dresser in the room, but the police did not reveal the contents.

Are You Giving Your Best to Your Work?

Can you do your best if your mind is dulled by auto-intoxication?

Is it any wonder that you get "too tired to think" if all the while your blood is bathing every nerve, every brain cell, every muscle fibre with the fermented poisons and wastes of constipation?

The only way to keep your body rid of decaying waste matter permanently is by bringing about natural, regular action of the intestines.

Laxatives, purges, and cathartics bring temporary relief—but they bring also an inevitable reaction which leaves the machinery of evacuation weaker and more dependent upon the repetition of the stimulation.

Nujol, a tasteless, colorless and odorless mineral oil, is the natural treatment for constipation. It acts by lubricating, not irritating.

Physicians everywhere are discarding the use of violent purges in favor of the mineral oil treatment which has the endorsement of the highest medical authorities.

Write for booklet, "The Rational Treatment of Constipation." If your druggist doesn't keep Nujol, we will send a pint bottle prepaid to any point in the United States on receipt of 75c., money order or stamps.

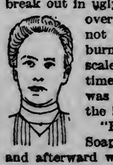
ECZEMA ON FACE FOR FIVE YEARS

In Ugly, Inflamed, Red Blotches. Could Not Rest with Itching and Burning. Completely

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My daughter was troubled for five years with eczema on her face. It would break out in ugly inflamed red blotches all over her face so badly she could not rest with the itching and burning. There were ugly scales left on her face all the time from scratching and she was worse in the daytime as the heat irritated it.



"Finally we tried Cuticura Soap and found it was good, and afterward we learned of the Cuticura Ointment. Before I used one box of Cuticura Ointment there was a decided change, and we used nearly three boxes of Ointment together with the Cuticura Soap and she was completely healed." (Signed) R. N. Makes Stubborn Coughs Vanish in a Hurry

Surprisingly Good Cough Syrup Easily and Cheaply Made at Home

If some one in your family has an obstinate cough or a bad throat or chest cold that has been hanging on and refuses to yield to treatment, get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex and make it into a pint of cough syrup, and watch that cough vanish.

Pour the 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. The total cost is about 54 cents, and gives you a full pint—a family supply—of a most effective remedy, at a saving of $2. A day's use will usually overcome a hard cough. Easily prepared in 5 minutes—full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and has a pleasant taste. Children like it.

It's really remarkable how promptly and easily it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals the inflamed membranes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough. A splendid remedy for bronchitis, winter coughs, bronchial asthma and whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, which is so healing to the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction goes with this preparation or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ON THE IRON RANGES

VIRGINIA CHARGES ARE HORNET'S NEST

Bitter Feeling Engendered By Allegations About Boys' Delinquency.

Virginia, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council's special committee to investigate charges of intoxication among minors will meet either tonight or tomorrow night to go over evidence in its hands concerning specific cases of minor delinquency.

The evidence so far assembled by the council is sensational in the extreme, but while it is clearly established that there have been numerous cases of intoxication among boys not 21 years of age it has not been developed where these youths got their liquor. So far not a single case has been found where they were served at a bar and in nearly all cases where the source of supply has been traced it has been found to have been taken outside of bar rooms for consumption. The council's decision to conduct an independent investigation of reported cases of juvenile delinquency has stirred up a veritable hornet's nest. It is construed as a slap at the police department and the police and fire commission and has aroused much feeling.

HIBBING MAN DIES IN DULUTH HOSPITAL

Hale H. Cobb, Old Resident of Range Village, Is Called.

Hibbing, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hale H. Cobb, 29 years old, a resident of Hibbing practically all his life, died last evening in St. Mary's hospital, Duluth, after an illness of a year. An operation performed in the Zenith city a short while ago furnished no relief.

Mr. Cobb is survived by a brother, Fred, who was with him when death came; his mother, Mrs. M. Reid and a younger brother living at Cotati, Cal. A brother, George, at Bishop, Cal., and relatives living in Hibbing.

Mrs. Joseph Maki Dies.

Mrs. Joseph Maki, aged 32, a resident of the Alice location, died yesterday at her home after an illness of very short duration. Arrangements for the funeral are being made.

WHISKY BOTTLES HANGING TO BOY

Is Arrested at Hibbing While Carrying Some Contraband.

Hibbing, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Indian Agents Benson and Ells yesterday afternoon arrested Andrew Mattson of Alice, a youth in appearance, as he got off a street car here when search revealed bottles of whisky stowed about his person.

Six quarts of liquor were found on Mattson. One quart bottle hanging from his suspenders, a second quart tied to a belt, one hidden and tied with a piece of string under an arm sleeve, one each in both outside pockets and one concealed in an inside pocket. The liquor was destroyed. Mattson was taken to Virginia today for a hearing.

Find Liquor Under Hay.

Indian Agents Benson and Ells last night found 115 gallons of whisky hidden in a vacant building on North street underneath hay and refuse and it took some time before the entire amount was found. The bottles and jugs were broken and the contents emptied into a sewer.

FORMER ISHPEMING WOMAN IS CALLED

Virginia, Minn., March 30.—Mrs. John Byrne, aged 65, who came here from Ishpeming, Mich., with her husband in 1892, being among the earliest residents, Mr. Byrne having signed the papers for the incorporation of Virginia as a village, died at her home last night and funeral arrangements are deferred pending advices from relatives living elsewhere.

Besides her husband Mrs. Byrne, who was a native of England, is survived by one son, Robert, living here; two brothers, Theodore Askew of Ishpeming and William Askew of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. John Dickinson and Miss Susan Askew, who made their home with her here.

ROBB'S RINK DOES BEST IN EVELETH

Eveleth, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The rink skipped by James A. Robb closed the curling season with the best percentage of victories out of games played. The Robb rink played nineteen games, more than any other rink, and ended the season with a percentage of 789.

The G. H. Murray rink, with Dr. F. T. Farley, R. S. Nelson and a substitute lead, won two trophies, mackinaws offered by the First National bank and $10 due bills offered by the Eveleth Steam laundry.

The Robb rink, with John Hellstrom, Rev. O. D. Cannon and Albert, went into several finals and won the last event, taking the electric heaters offered by the Home Electric & Heating company.

The Harry Lyons rink, with Earl Anderson, Theodore H. Peterson and Johnson, won the Miners' National bank event. The trophy was four black leather traveling bags.

The Smokery event was won by the Loye rink, with Howard McAdams, Sid Cicotte and Walter Zeidler. The trophy was a loving cup, which remains the property of the rink for a year, and four boxes of cigars.

SPECIAL ELECTION ON LESS SALOONS

Petitions Are Being Circulated in Virginia Asking for Referendum.

Virginia, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Virginia will have a referendum on the question of reducing the number of its licensed saloons from 48 to 25, as petitions asking the city council to call a special election on the matter are being prepared today. Alderman A. D. Heritage last night announced he would sponsor the movement.

Petitions Ready in Two Weeks.

It is expected the petitions will be ready to present to the council in two weeks, when the date of the special election will be fixed. Indications are the fight will be bitter and both sides are lining up for a battle royal following two months' agitation of the question, which culminated in the councils failing to indorse an ordinance having the same purpose.

VICTOR POWER BALKS AT BEING IN MOVIES.

Hibbing, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Victor Power, village president, declined two offers, it is said, to be the central figure in a movie film centered around the recent tax squabble. It is said the latest offer from a well-known film-producing firm was promptly spurned by the village head, the mayor stating he was not looking for that kind of notoriety.

ASSYRIANS ARE WAR SUFFERERS

Virginians Hear From Parents in Near East Who Are in Distress.

Virginia, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—S. N. and B. N. Jerreissati today received a letter from their parents in Assyria, the first word received in two years or before the outbreak of the world war. Their parents live in Mount Lebanon.

Fears had been entertained that they were victims of the massacres of Christians by Mohammedan troops. The letter reports the distress in the country is pronounced, thousands are starving, but that money sent to them through the Presbyterian board of Missions is safely received.

MRS. M'LAREN HAS QUIT HIBBING JOB

Former Duluth Woman Retires as Deputy Probation Officer.

Hibbing, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Edith L. McLaren, for the past six months deputy probation officer in the office of C. E. Everett, resigned this morning to take effect on April 1. Mrs. McLaren came here from Duluth. She intends to make her future residence in Minneapolis.

Miss Ella Eastwold was appointed today to fill the vacancy. Miss Eastwold was formerly employed by the Remington Lumber company.

KECICH'S TRIAL DRAGS.

Slow Progress Being Made Because of Need of Interpreters.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The case of the state vs. Steve Kecich, which started yesterday morning, is progressing slowly, partly because many of the witnesses cannot speak English and have to render their testimony through interpreters. Kecich is accused of riot in connection with the murder of Pete Nenoff at Calumet on Thanksgiving day. Substantially the same evidence is being produced as was given in the case tried Tuesday of the state vs. Pick Yelichich, who was found guilty on the same charge.

The sentence of Yelichich will probably not be imposed until after the criminal cases have been tried.

The Kecich case was on all day today and may go to the jury late this afternoon or this evening.

VIRGINIA SOCIETY IS TO AFFILIATE

Virginia, Minn., March 30.—The Societe de Roma of Virginia has decided to affiliate with the Italia Americana of the state of Minnesota, recently organized in Duluth. The next convention is to be held at Eveleth and all range cities will assist in the entertainment of the delegates.

The lodge will give especial attention to the matter of having the members of the society become naturalized American citizens and will assist them in preparing for the examinations. The members of the committee are: President, Eugenio Lauger; vice president, Massimo Lenci; Carlo Barinzelli, John Mikkella and Louis Jenia.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE WINS IN DEBATE

Eveleth, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—In a debate between the freshman and junior class of the high school Tuesday afternoon, the freshmen won. The question was "Resolved, That Women Should Be Granted the Right to Vote." The junior team composed of Arthur Lampi, Reid Rutty, and John Both upheld the negative and the freshman team the affirmative. The judges were Mr. Lewis, Mr. Eddy, and Miss Greaves. It is up to the freshmen to meet the senior team next. In the debate between these two teams the high school championship will be decided.

AURORA COUNCIL HAS ITS FIRST SESSION

Standing Committees Are Named and Various Positions Filled.

Aurora, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new village council met last night and organized for the year and made the village appointments.

The council committees are: Finance, A. M. Westerlund and Andrew Maki; street and alley, A. F. Tillmans and John Peryon; water and light, A. E. Hill, A. F. Tillmans and John Peryon; public buildings and real estate, Andrew Maki and John Peryon; police, A. F. Tillmans and A. E. Hill; license, A. M. Westerlund and A. E. Hill; purchasing, A. E. Hill and A. F. Tillmans; printing, A. E. Hill; cemetery, A. M. Westerlund, Andrew Maki and A. E. Hill.

Appointed to Positions.

The following were appointed to village positions: Charles H. Blanchette, chief of police; John Paavala and Julius Gullerikson, night police; Charles Juhlin, superintendent water and light department; John Kozal, Frank Dergantz and Charles Beleher, engineers at light and water plant; A. F. Rye, janitor at village hall; Charles T. Murphy, village attorney; Charles Yerlich, garbage collector.

The council adopted a budget of expenditures for the year which will be followed as nearly as possible. With this system it will be possible to maintain the village and retire nearly $20,000 of the indebtedness.

A board of health was appointed as follows: Dr. R. P. Pearsall, chairman; Charles Rothman and Frank Tillmans.

SAFETY FIRST PAYS.

Iron Range Road Benefits By Following That System.

Eveleth, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Safety first meetings conducted here by representatives of the Iron Range railroad proved entertaining and beneficial.

One of the representatives spoke on the "Safety Problems of the Railroads," and gave some interesting statistics in regard to them. He stated that in 1914 only seven persons were killed in accidents on the Iron Range railroad, and that as a result of the safety movement that has been pushed for the last year, only two were killed in 1915. Fifty-eight per cent of the total number of accidents during 1915 were due to derailments.

In order to create a greater degree of efficiency and less accidents, the work will be carried on in a systematic way. Five men will be chosen from each division of the railroad system, and they will take charge of all reports from the different employes and from the public in general, and all of them will hand in their reports every week. A letter box is installed in the depot, and the public is invited to send in all information that will better the condition of the railroads in this state.

PREPAREDNESS DEBATE.

Three High School Teams of Ranges to Indulge In Contests.

Mountain Iron, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Debating among range high schools will reach a climax tomorrow when teams representing Virginia, Gilbert and Mountain Iron meet. One debate will be held in each place. The subject for debate is, "Resolved, That the United States Should Materially Increase Its Military and Naval Armaments."

Each high school has two teams, one supporting the affirmative and the other the negative. The affirmative team of each school debates at home. The negative team of the Gilbert high school goes to Virginia; the negative team of Virginia goes to Mountain Iron, and the negative of Mountain Iron goes to Gilbert.

The Virginia team which meets Mountain Iron consists of Hazel Eaton, Olive McKenzie and Francis Marion.

The judges of the debate at Mountain Iron will be Miss A. Bess Clark, principal of the Chisholm high school; S. C. Scott of Hibbing, state representative; Prof. A. J. Altmeyer of the Chisholm high school.

DIES IN NEVADA.

William Sherman, Former Mesaba Range Engineer, Passes.

Virginia, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Virginia friends of William Sherman, a former well known Michigan and Mesaba range mining engineer, have just been advised of his death at Goldfield, Nev. Sherman was an uncle of Mrs. Frank Meehan of Virginia and was formerly employed on the Mesaba range. He was 56 years old and was born on the Isle of Man. His nearest relatives live in England.

ELY CHURCH HAS ANNUAL MEETING

Ely, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual meeting of the Presbyterian church was held last night in the church. There were about fifty people present. Reports were given by the officers of the various departments of the church.

Rev. Mr. Mapson, in his report as Sunday school superintendent, stated that the largest attendance was 120; smallest, 70; average, 90; 14 had perfect attendance for fifty-two Sundays. Superintendent of Cradle Roll Mrs. H. S. King reported 17 babies on roll a year ago; 9 graduated on Children's day at the age of 3 years and received their diplomas; 12 new names had been added to the list this year, making a total of 20 members at present. Mrs. A. B. Dakeers, superintendent of the home department, reported 8 members as belonging to that department.

Officers chosen were: President of Christian Endeavor, Miss Ella Carlson; secretary, Margaret Brown; treasurer, Mrs. P. Schaefer; president of ladies' aid society, Mrs. J. M. Brown; secretary, Mrs. Joseph Rothman; treasurer, Mrs. J. I. Laing; president of girls' guild, Irene Thomas; church treasurer, J. M. Brown.

Home Celebration of Wonder Interest

The arrival of a baby in the household completely changes the entire aspect of the future. But in the meantime, during the anxious period of expectancy, there is a splendid remedy known as "Mother's Friend" that does wonders. It is for external use, relieves the pains of muscle expansion, soothes and quiets the nerves, extends its influence to the internal organs and removes to a great extent the tendency to worry and apprehension. It is a natural treatment, safe for the mother, has no drug effect whatsoever and for this reason must exert a most beneficial influence upon those functions directly connected with motherhood. In a very interesting book the subject is freely discussed and a copy will be mailed free to all expectant mothers by Bradfield Regulator Co., 406 Lamar Bdg., Atlanta, Ga. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today of any druggist. Use as directed and you will then know why mothers for nearly half a century have used and recommended this splendid aid to motherhood. Their letters are messages of cheer, that breathe comfort in every word.

SAYS HUSBAND SPENT MONEY FOR LIQUOR

Virginia, Minn., March 30.—That her husband, John Heglund of Eveleth, used $1,300, the amount granted him seven years ago by the Oliver Iron Mining company when his son was killed in a mine accident, for liquor, is a claim made by Mrs. Mary Heglund, who has filed suit in district court for a divorce. She claims her husband has been addicted to the use of liquor for twenty-eight years and that he deserted her in 1912. She has four children, the custody of whom she asks. Her case will be heard at the April term of the district court here.

DULUTH PLAYER IS AFTER HIBBING PLACE

Hibbing, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chief Williams, one of the star performers on the Duluth Northern league nine last year, in a letter to Manager Thomas Brady and Capt. Jerry Edmonds of the Hibbing club, asks for a position here.

EVELETH WILL HEAR CHINESE MISSIONARY

Eveleth, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. F. H. Throop, formerly Miss Elsie McKenzie, a teacher in the public schools of this city, will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. L. Eddy, Sunday. She has recently returned with her husband, Rev. F. H. Throop, from China, where he went as a missionary.

Rev. Mr. Throop is to speak at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening. He has been in China six years, and is familiar with the economic, agricultural, political and educational conditions of China as well as with the religious life of its people.

VIRGINIA TRACK MEET NOW BEING PLANNED

Virginia, Minn., March 30.—At a meeting of physical directors of schools on the Mesaba and the Vermilion ranges to be held here Saturday, a range physical directors' association will be formed and plans discussed for holding a track meet here this spring. If the association is formed along the lines proposed it will have charge of the drawing of schedules for football, basket ball, baseball and other events and shall hold several meetings each year to plan the work and exchange ideas for the betterment of athletics in the graded and high schools.

The meeting will be attended by one physical director from each town, but others will be admitted to membership later and intercity events probably will be arranged for the girls next year.

CHAMPION QUINT GAMES IN HIBBING

Hibbing, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—To decide the local championship, games were arranged this morning between the high school basket ball team and the City team.

Three games will be played, the first contest to be staged at the armory, the second at the high school gymnasium and the deciding game to be a tossup.

Both teams will resume practice, and some of the most exciting contests of the basket ball season are expected.

Eveleth Fire Horse Sold.

Eveleth, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Barney, the veteran fire horse of the Eveleth department, that was injured almost a year ago in a runaway, has been sold to a farmer at Ash Lake on the Canadian Northern railway, north of Cook.

The horse had his right fore leg broken at the ankle when the team broke away from the driver while being exercised, and dashed down Jackson street, striking a hydrant at the corner of Adams avenue and were thrown. Sentiment saved the big gray from a bullet and his leg was healed.

Jesmore Razes Buildings.

Eveleth, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles Jesmore has sold the buildings on his lot next the Rex hotel to Rozansa Bros., who will demolish them and remove them from the lot. The buildings are those formerly used as a livery barn and undertaking establishment by Mr. Jesmore. They are old frame constructions and do not make a very pleasing appearance. Mr. Jesmore may decide to build on the lots but has made no plans as yet.

FEW MINERS ESCAPE

Shut off from fresh air and sunshine, sometimes working in dampness, and often inhaling dust, are the reasons why so few miners escape bronchitis, pneumonia, asthma, throat troubles, or even consumption.

The hard work and sudden changes from warm mines to icy winds will weaken the strongest constitution, and doctors are advising miners to take Scott's Emulsion after meals, because it is a powerful blood purifier, which creates body warmth, healthful flesh, and strengthens both throat and lungs.

If you work in the mines you need Scott's Emulsion to keep up your strength, and for colds, coughs or rheumatism it should never be neglected. Scott's is free from alcohol—insist on the genuine.

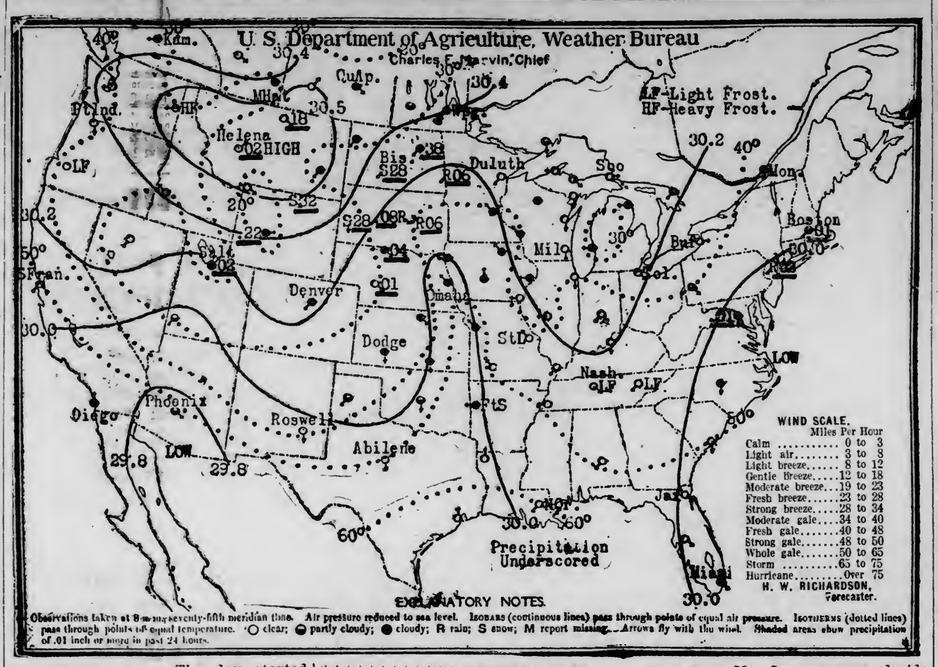
OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER



Observations taken at 8 o'clock seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. ISOBARS (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. ISOTHERMS (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature. O clear; ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Shaded areas show precipitation of .01 inch or more in past 24 hours.

CLOUDY

The day started out all right, with bright sunny sides, but early the clouds came, and Duluthians are holding themselves in readiness, for anything may develop out of present conditions. It's to be hoped that snow, at least, will be avoided. The day is a trifle raw, but rain may develop out of it which, while inconvenient, would be a good thing for the purpose of getting the city laundered.

A year ago today was cold. The sun rose this morning at 5:49 and will set this evening at 6:35, giving twelve hours and forty-seven minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Light rain or snow fell during Wednesday or last night over Western Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Nebraska and North Atlantic states. Somewhat warmer weather prevails over the lower Missouri valley, Wisconsin and Middle Atlantic states, while over the Rocky mountain region and the Southwest the temperature has fallen. Light to heavy frosts occurred again in Washington and Oregon."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, March 30.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Friday:

Minnesota—Unsettled weather tonight and Friday, probably rain in west and central portions tonight; cooler tonight in extreme west portion.

Wisconsin—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday; probably unsettled in west portion; no important change in temperature.

North Dakota—Unsettled weather tonight, probably rain or snow in east and south portions; Friday partly cloudy; warmer in west and north portions.

South Dakota—Rain or snow this afternoon and probably tonight; Friday partly cloudy in west, unsettled in east portion; cooler in east portion tonight; rising temperature in west portion Friday.

Montana—Fair tonight and Friday; warmer Friday and in west and central portions tonight.

Upper and Lower Michigan—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday.

LOCAL FORECAST

Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Partly cloudy to cloudy weather tonight and Friday. Lowest temperature tonight about 25 deg. at and near Duluth-Superior and along the north shore, and about 20 deg. on the iron ranges. Moderate to fresh northeast winds.

FORMER DULUTHIAN FEARS SON ENLISTED

Hibbing, Minn., March 30.—Fearful lest her son, "Billy" who is not of age, has caught the war fever and enlisted at the Duluth or some other recruiting station, Mrs. Kura Cameron, a former nurse and widow of a one-time Duluth policeman, who is now running a chicken farm near here, has asked the police here and in Duluth to try and locate her son who has been missing since last August. She says that a sister living at Cromwell, where Mrs. Cameron formerly lived, notified her the boy had gone to Duluth to enlist.

Hibbing Style Show.

Hibbing, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the features of dress-up week here will be the style show at the Power theater. It is planned to have the "The Littlest" girl which made such a hit here reproduced during the style show. Some of Hibbing's fairest young women will appear on the stage wearing the latest in gowns, cloaks and hats.

Chisholm Store Change.

Chisholm, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Steve Stonich, for many years partner in the grocery firm, Pasavento & Stonich, has purchased the hardware business conducted for seven years by Andrew Roine, taking possession Wednesday. Mr. Stonich is one of Chisholm's most progressive business men and has had previous experience in the hardware business.

Virginia Elks Initiate.

Virginia, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—Virginia Elks held one of the largest meetings of the year last evening, when a class of candidates was initiated. Elks from all sections of the range were present and the ceremony of the fixing of the antlers was put on in the amplified form. A service of refreshments followed the work of the evening.

Larger Winton Bank.

Winton, Minn., March 30.—The Winton State bank, of which Edward Hines of Chicago is present, and Thomas S. Whitten of this place, vice president, and W. A. Johnson, cashier, is increasing its capital stock to $25,000. The capital formerly was $10,000. The institution was organized in 1911.

Hibbing Gun Club Shoot.

Hibbing, Minn., March 30.—The Hibbing Gun club will hold its first shoot of the season at the fair grounds Sunday afternoon by officers of the organization today. Two teams will be chosen with John Adams and L. J. Micka as captains.

Will Return to Proctor.

Negaunee, Mich., March 30.—John Gaffney, who has been working at Elkhart, Ind., for the past few months, is here visiting his relatives. He will leave in a few days for Proctor, Minn., to resume his position as conductor for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad.

INSPECTORS WILL RECOUNT VOTES

Court Will Pass on All Disputed Ballots in Stuntz Election.

T. S. Silliman, Max Rogalsky and S. H. Forsberg, all of Hibbing, were this morning appointed by Judge Fesler as inspectors of ballots in the election contest proceedings which have been instituted in district court by Victor J. Benoe, defeated for re-election as clerk of the town of Stuntz at the township election of March 14 last. The contest is brought against John C. Eastman, who was declared elected by the town board of canvassers.

M. H. McMahon of Virginia, attorney for Mr. Benoe, and Abbott, McPherran, Lewis & Gilbert, counsel for Mr. Eastman, the victorious candidate, appeared before Judge Fesler this morning and submitted the names of the three inspectors which had been agreed upon. Each side picked one man and the two picked a third. Judge Fesler ratified the appointment and signed an order fixing the compensation at $5 a day.

At the recent township election, Mr. Eastman received 889 votes for the office of town clerk and Mr. Benoe secured 874. In his contest papers, Mr. Benoe alleges that there were inaccuracies in the count and declares that if a recount was made, it would show that he, and not Mr. Eastman, was elected.

The three inspectors will agree on a date for a recount of the votes. It is stipulated that all disputed ballots shall be brought into court for judicial determination.

PERJURY CHARGE NOT ESTABLISHED

Brainerd, Minn., March 30.—William Rardin, charged with perjury, had a hearing in municipal court yesterday before Judge Gustav Halvorson. The case revolved about a statement as to where Rardin was at the time the Arthur Bopel place was raided, in front of the bar or back of the bar. The state witnesses swore he was behind the bar. Rardin said he was in front of the bar. The court discharged the defendant for lack of evidence.

Bemidji Church Banquet.

Bemidji, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—More than seventy-five persons attended a banquet given in the basement of the Methodist church Tuesday evening by the members of the Epworth league of that church. Rev. D. B. Hanscom, pastor of the Methodist church was the toastmaster, and talks were given by many of the members of the society and by members of the Sunday school. The parlors of the church were decorated with crepe paper in white and red, the colors of the Epworth league, being the scheme. Vases of red and white carnations were used as table decorations.

TRAFFIC COPS NOT NEEDED YET

Only One Corner Will Be Covered Until May 1.

Traffic squad assignments for policemen will not be in order until the weather moderates, according to Capt. A. G. Fiskett at headquarters this morning.

Although a traffic man is kept at the Third avenue west and Superior street corner the year 'round, men are not placed at Lake avenue and Superior street, Fifth avenue west and Superior street and other busy downtown corners until it is necessary.

"Traffic is not heavy enough now to warrant placing men at those corners," said the captain, "and it is a real hardship on a patrolman to assign him to a windy corner when the thermometer is below freezing.

"Another reason is that when men are placed on traffic duty, it reduces the number available for work on beats in the business section."

Capt. Fiskett said that the extra men would probably be put on by May 1, if weather and traffic conditions called for it, but that they would be kept on their beats during April.

FREIGHT RATES TO PANAMA INCREASED

Panama, March 30.—Freight rates from the United States to Panama are increasing rapidly, according to merchants here. It is stated that the rate on cement has recently been increased from $1.20 per barrel to $1.55, which is more than the value of the cement at the factory. Cement is now selling here at $3.75 a barrel.

It is understood that the Panama Association of Commerce is investigating the rate situation in view of the many recent increases that have been made by the steamship companies.

Invention of Duluthian Attracts Attention of English Surgeons.

New Artificial Leg Can Be Worn Without Discomfort.

Echoes of the European war are being heard in Duluth in inquiries for artificial limbs, and the outlook now is that a manufacturer here will develop a substantial business in Europe as a result.

The reason for this foreign interest is that the product of a Duluth inventor has attracted the attention of surgeons in England and that they have been looking up the original source of its manufacture in the endeavor to supply the needs of patients who have met with dismemberment in the course of battles on French soil, or at other points where the tremendous conflict is being waged.

"We have letters from English doctors regarding our artificial limbs, and I am in hope of booking some business from over there," said William M. Kespohl, proprietor of the Zenith Artificial Limb company, today. An inquiry was also received recently from the head of the Canadian militia department, he averred. The communication intimated that the authorities at Ottawa might later enter into a contract for the supplying of limbs to crippled members of the Canadian contingents who are now beginning to return home from the front in numbers.

The secret of the Duluth man's success is to be found in the fact that he has been able to produce a limb that, it is claimed, can be worn without discomfort for the reason that the great drawback ordinarily met with, chafing of the stump, is entirely eliminated.

This result is attained through the use of a soft, spongy material composed of chloride of sulphur and some other compounds in the making of what is known as the Factis cushion socket. In practice this material has been found impervious to heat or cold and it absorbs perspiration readily. Ball-bearing knee joints, giving freedom of action, have been introduced and the use of cords at the knee or ankle eliminated. The outer material of the limb is made of Ingus willow wood, which it is necessary to bring here from Ohio. With the use of these special materials the Duluth manufacturer is enabled to produce a light artificial leg weighing from four and one-half to six and eight pounds, according to the occupation and weight of the wearer.

Mr. Kespohl obtained his patents in 1907 and he has since been able to establish a wide clientele, orders having been filled besides locally from Michigan, Wisconsin, various points in Minnesota and as far west as Montana. The first artificial leg made under his patent was sold to a man who walked five miles on the day it was fitted on. He later returned to Norway and when last heard from he was still wearing the leg. The most prolific causes of disablement in this district, as Mr. Kespohl's records show, are railroad, woods and mines accidents. Numbers of persons are also victims of frostbites each winter and tuberculosis in the joints has claimed others.

For the benefit of the uninitiated it may be mentioned that the cost of this latest model of wooden leg is $100, while an arm is catalogued at from $55 to $75, according to the amputation.

MORE SUGAR BEING USED

Per Capita Consumption Is Showing Steady and Rapid Increase.

Sugar prices are advancing all along the line and anxious consumers are wondering where the upturn is likely to end.

Jobbers' quotations in refined granulated sugars have been again advanced during the past week and they now stand at 6.90@7 cents a pound at New York, as compared with 5.50 cents a year ago. In explaining the situation in the sugar trade, dealers say that while the ravages of the war have made great changes in the industry, the advancing trend of the market is not entirely ascribable to that cause. It is considered that the market rests on a basis of an enormous consumptive demand which is increasing more rapidly than the supply.

According to statistics, the per capita consumptive demand for sugar in the United States in 1865 was 18.64 pounds per year. By 1880 that had increased to what then seemed the surprising average of 39.46 pounds. By 1890 each American consumer was eating 58.91 pounds of sugar. In 1900 that figure had been raised to an average of 79.00 pounds; and by 1914 the per capita consumption in the twelve months had reached 89.14 pounds. From a condiment, sugar has grown to be a staple food.

In 1915 this country produced 2,067,876,880 pounds of sugar and 37,000,000 gallons of molasses. In addition, outside countries, principally Cuba, were called on to supply 5,000,000,000 pounds.

Unexampled prosperity prevails in Cuba as a result of the record crop there last season, and the high prices being realized.

Estimating Sugar Production.

S. W. Marchment, president of the National Bank of Cuba, places the sugar production of the island for the season 1915-16 at 3,183,628 tons as compared with 2,592,667 tons in 1914. During the past year ten new sugar mills were built in Cuba, all of which will grind during the present season. Construction has also begun on four other mills. The recently organized Cane Sugar corporation, an American company with a capital of $50,000,000, has purchased the most important sugar mills on the island. Their product will be sold gradually, according to market requirements, and will not be forced for sale in order to meet urgent financial needs as in previous years.

MILLIONS IN ORE PROFITS

Owners of Great Northern Properties Look for Big Year.

Several Leases Closed—Stock Market Has Anticipated Rise.

Profits of the Great Northern Ore properties for the present year are expected to exceed $6,000,000, making it the most profitable season since the formation of the trusteeship.

It is known that, in addition to the tonnage the trustees will mine and sell, several big lease contracts have been closed. Included in these are valuable leases taken by Dean Bros. of Ohio and Butler Bros.

M. A. Hanna & Co. of Cleveland will be the selling agents and their large fleet of steamers will be engaged in hauling the millions of tons of ore that will be sent out from the Great Northern properties. In addition to what Hanna & Co. will carry, many buyers will haul ore in their own steamers.

The biggest year the Great Northern Ore properties ever had was in 1913 when it was under lease to the United States Steel corporation and 6,000,000 tons of ore was mined. This year between 5,000,000 and 8,000,000 tons will be taken out. On the leased properties not less than $1 a ton profit will be made.

That stock market speculators have long been anticipating the excellent conditions of Great Northern Ore has been evident by the rise in the stock, which is selling for $44 a certificate.

There are 1,500,000 Great Northern Ore certificates and the par value is what is paid for it. If the company makes a $6,000,000 profit this year, it will be only 10 per cent on a valuation of $40 a certificate. The profits have been anticipated in Wall Street.

The price of iron ore for the present season is on a more profitable basis, being $3.55 a ton as compared with $2.80 a year ago. Last year when the demand for ore was quiet and mining cheaper, the trustees pushed development work and between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 tons of underground ore is estimated to be available for shipment as soon as navigation opens.

TALKING OF DEATH, BRAINERD MAN DIES

Brainerd, Minn., March 30.—(Special to The Herald.)—While talking to a companion about the sudden death of a friend, James Maloney, single, aged 43, a machinist, toppled over dead, a victim of heart disease.

MAINE DEMOCRATS ELECT DELEGATES

Bangor, Me., March 29.—The administration of President Wilson, especially as it related to the methods of dealing with the situation in Mexico and in Europe was commended in the platform adopted by the Democrats of Maine at their state convention here yesterday.

Three delegates to the national convention at St. Louis were elected from each of the four congressional districts. The list included Senator Johnson, Governor Oakley C. Curtis and Representative Daniel J. McGillicuddy.

MEXICAN PEONS TEAR UP AMERICAN FLAGS

San Diego, Cal., March 30.—Mexican peons thronged the streets of Mazatlan, tore up American flags and threatened to do bodily harm to Americans there when they learned of the punitive expedition sent after Francisco Villa, according to Capt. Frank Paschall of the schooner Panama which arrived from the Sinaloa port yesterday.

Mexicans of the better class as well as officials of the port co-operated in stopping the riot, Capt. Paschall said. He said there was no apparent anti-American feeling among the more educated natives.

Earthquakes at Panama.

Panama, March 30.—Two earthquake shocks occurred yesterday, one at 5 o'clock this morning, and the other this afternoon. No damage resulted. The earlier shock was the most severe. It lasted 1 minute and 20 seconds and reached the third category of intensity in the seismograph wave motions. Most of the isthmian population was awakened by the disturbance.

Must Report Antitoxin Sales.

Madison, Wis., March 30.—An opinion of Attorney General Owen rendered to the state health officer, C. A. Harper, defines the statutes as clothing the state board of health with authority to promulgate a rule requiring all druggists or other distributors of diphtheria antitoxin to report all sales thereof to local health officers, giving the name of the purchaser and of the person on whom the serum is to be used.

Sharon, Wis., Man Killed.

Sharon, Wis., March 30.—F. J. Rich of Appleton, superintendent of the local gas and electric plant, was killed here Tuesday by an explosion of gas.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its sponge-like pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanliness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the damned-up body waste, bile and toxins. Most folks resort to violent calomel, which is a dangerous, salivating chemical which can only be used occasionally because it accumulates in the tissues, also attacks the bones.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the plosons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel, because it cannot salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.—Advertisement.

By Commissioner Farrell:

Whereas, a proper and sufficient petition has been presented to this council, petitioning for the improvement of Forty-fourth avenue east, from Superior street to McCulloch street, in the city of Duluth, St. Louis county, Minnesota, as provided by Section 62, Chapter 9 of the charter of the city of Duluth.

Resolved, That it is hereby ordered that Forty-fourth avenue east, in said city, from Superior street to McCulloch street, be graded; that the roadway be designed 24 feet wide and paved with Class "B" Macadam, Rocmac or concrete; that provision be made for the drainage of surface water; and that all work be done which is necessary or incident to said improvement, with concrete curb and 12-inch drain pipe.

That the estimated cost of said improvement, as previously estimated by the city engineer, under order of this council, is as follows:

$14,323.93 for concrete pavement;
$11,568.43 for class "B" macadam;
$12,559.53 for Rocmac.

Resolved further, That in pursuance of section 8 of ordinance 407 of the city of Duluth, the city engineer is hereby directed to make an estimate of the cost of the above mentioned improvement; and that the city assessor is hereby directed, after such estimate has been made, to proceed at once to assess 80 per cent of such portion of said estimated cost of said improvement as is assessable under and pursuant to the terms of said ordinance.

Commissioner Farrell moved the adoption of the resolution and it was declared adopted upon the following vote:

WHEAT BULGE ON CROP NEWS

Market Advances on Reports of Damage and Reduced Acreage.

Active Bidding By Crushers Bulls Flaxseed; Offerings Light.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 30.—The market was slightly easier at the close with some profit-taking in evidence.

May wheat closed 1¾c up and July 1¾c up.

May durum closed 1¾c up and July 1¾c up.

Oats closed ¾c up at 41¾@41¾c for on the track; rye unchanged at 91c and barley unchanged at from 61c to 69c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ¼@⅜c up at 42¾c.

At St. Louis May wheat closed at $1.10¾ and July at $1.08¾ bid.

At Kansas City, May wheat closed at $1.06⅞ and July at $1.03¾.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.14¼ and calls at $1.17¾.

Wheat quotations were advanced over 2c during the first three hours trading in today's market. Shorts rushed to cover on the appearance of reports estimating a serious falling off in condition of the plant over a wide area of the winter wheat territory. An expert placed the condition of wheat in Kansas as the lowest in a ten-year period. Liverpool also turned strong after showing weakness early in the day. Traders there were reported to be impressed by the crop news coming from this country and from the Canadian West. Argentine shipments this week showed a falling off of over 300,000 bu, being reported at 2,800,000 bu as against 3,184,000 bu last week, and 6,256,000 bu for the same period last year.

In view of the shortage of elevator capacity, the railroads have been cutting down grain routings to this point. Today only 22 cars of wheat were received here and inspections of coarse grain were also correspondingly light. No fresh routings have been made from the Canadian West to Duluth during the last few days, for fear of congestion arising. Available space in elevators at the Head of the Lakes is now placed at slightly over 1,000,000 bu, and grain men are simply playing for time. A gratifying feature is that more cars for shipment of grain East are now available. Today for example 103,000 bu of bonded wheat and oats was reported as having been loaded out. Bonded receipts for the day, however, came to 185,000 bu.

No demand from the East or for export was reported on this market. Foreigners are buying Manitobas almost exclusively at present in view of their quotations ranging at around 3@4c below the American markets. May wheat was quoted at Winnipeg today at $1.13, as compared with $1.16⅛ at Duluth.

May wheat opened unchanged at $1.11⅝, sold up to $1.16⅛ and stood at ⅛c under that basis at the noon-hour. July opened unchanged at $1.14⅞ and advanced 2c.

Durum was also active. The May future opened unchanged at $1.09¼, and gained 1⅜c. July opened unchanged at $1.10¼ and gained 1½c.

Upturn in Flaxseed.

Flaxseed was easily advanced today on active bidding by crushers, while offerings were light. Strong cables were a factor. The close was easy on realizing sales.

May flax opened ¼c up at $2.17¾, and closed 1c up at $2.18½. July opened unchanged at $2.17, and closed 1¼c up at $2.18¼ asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 1c up at $1.96 asked.

At Buenos Aires flax closed 2¼c up at $1.31½, and London 10¾c up at $2.48⅞.

MARKET GOSSIP.

The best grades of wheat were salable to good advantage on the Duluth market today, but the off grades were slow, with heavy discounts against them. Cash No. 1 northern sold at ½c under to 1c over the May price, and cash No. 1 durum at ½c under May.

B. A. Snow's report says: "The loss by winter killing in the soft wheat territory is coming to be generally recognized, but there seems to be a disposition to regard Kansas as in shape to make good for the losses elsewhere. The fact is that the crop promise in Kansas is not up to normal. Poor seed, a rough seed bed, small fall growth and a dry, windy spring in the western counties make the present Kansas outlook unsatisfactory as a whole. With even moderate experience with dry weather, damage can easily become a serious factor. Prospects in Kansas will be found below average at this date for the past ten years and at present offer no promise of offsetting the soft wheat losses."

At Minneapolis, choice cash wheat was in very good demand, with premiums firmer but unchanged. No. 1 hard sold at 5½@6c over May, and blue stem No. 1 northern at 1@1½c over. Velvet chaff was ½@1½c over. Flour sales were very light and shipping directions poor.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Market opened easy with pressure of Manitobas and winters and free arrivals. Spot market was irregular 1d higher to 3d lower. Later Manitobas eased to 1s lower. Corn was dull and neglected, with the weather mild and the spot demand quiet."

Vessels are not allowed to leave Australia unless licensed by government. It is believed this will increase the tonnage of grain. In France the crop is fair and weather good for growing."

B. W. Snow of Chicago has a personal letter from a grain man in Yorkton, Sask., he says: "It is almost the end of March and the ground is still covered with deep snow; spring will be late now under the best possible weather conditions. Labor also is very scarce in the Canadian West, and it looks to me as if our crop acreage might be reduced as much as 30 per cent."

Regarding linseed, Broomhall cabled: "London market opened firm with crushers absorbing and lighter Indian and Plate offers. Oil is in good demand. Buenos Aires closed firm with a better export demand. Argentine shipments this week are estimated at 115,000 bu."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, March 30.—Wheat took an upward swing today as a result of a renewal of damage reports from the domestic winter crop states and owing to unfavorable weather in the spring wheat belt. Lower prices at Liverpool, however, caused some weakness at the start and tended later to bring about a bearish reaction after buying had begun to lose force. Opening quotations, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to ⅝c lower, with May at $1.12⅛ to $1.12⅝ and July at $1.09⅞ to $1.10⅛, were followed by a sharp general advance and then a sag all around.

Subsequently, the market scored fresh gains influenced by a statement from a leading expert that the crop promise in Kansas was not up to the average of the last ten years and could not be relied upon to offset the losses in other states. The close was nervous, 1⅞@2c to 2⅛@2¼c net higher, with May at $1.14⅝@1.18⅜ and July at $1.12⅜@1.12½.

Corn paralleled wheat. Trade was almost entirely of a local character. After opening a shade to ⅛c lower the market rose to a moderate extent, but soon fell back.

Kansas City sales to the seaboard helped the market later to advance. The close was unsettled at a rise of ¼c to 1⅛c net.

Oats merely reflected the course of other grain. Price changes were small and business light.

Lower values in the hog market weakened provisions. Buyers were scarce.

STOCKS ARE DEPRESSED

Liquidation and Short Selling Are Effective in Lowering Prices.

Decline in Final Hour Owing to Rail Employes' Demands.

New York, March 30.—The usual array of advances and declines was presented at the opening of today's market, the whole making for extreme irregularity. War shares, notably Crucible Steel, American Locomotive and General Electric, were fractionally higher, but these were offset by corresponding recessions in motors, Goodrich, Continental Can, American Zinc and Industrial Alcohol. Mexican conditions were reflected in Mexican Petroleum, which recorded an initial loss of 1¼, all of which, and more, was soon recovered. Dealings were on a moderate scale, with a higher tendency for secondary quotations.

Selling of the same character as that which precipitated yesterday's late movement was observed in the stock market during the forenoon today, with increasing activity, however, on the part of the short interest, whose operations centered about the more vulnerable issues. United States Steel fell ¾ to 83½ and equal or greater heaviness was shown by standard rails, notably Reading, Union Pacific, St. Paul, New York Central and Norfolk & Western. Meanwhile such speculative stocks as the Mexican group, Crucible Steel, Anaconda and American Locomotive, manifested varying degrees of strength, without stimulating dealings elsewhere. Bonds were steady.

Such improvement as was shown during the mid-session resulted mainly from the strength of copper shares. These were higher in response to further reports of large domestic and foreign orders for the refined metal.

Liquidation and short selling were again effective in the impairment of prices today, coppers alone withstanding pressure.

Stocks fell away again in the final hour on publication of the reasons of the railway heads to the demands of their employes. The closing was heavy.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, March 30.—Liberal receipts and a heavy left-over supply with a lessening of demand from shippers turned the hog market today sharply down grade. Cattle offerings, too, were over-plentiful. There was no special call for sheep or lambs.

Hogs—Receipts, 30,000; dull, mostly 25c under yesterday's average. Bulk, $9.35@9.60; light, $9.10@9.60; mixed, $9.20@9.65; heavy, $9.10@9.60; rough, $9.10@9.20; pigs, $7.10@8.40.

Cattle—Receipts, 5,000; weak; native beef steers, $7.60@9.90; western steers, $7.60@8.60; stockers and feeders, $6.00@8.25; cows and heifers, $4.25@8.85; calves, $7.50@10.00.

Sheep—Receipts, 8,000; steady; wethers, $8.50@9.15; lambs, $9.75@11.70.

South St. Paul Livestock.

South St. Paul, Minn., March 30.—Hogs: Receipts, 4,650; 15c lower; range $9.10@9.35; bulk, $9.25@9.30.

Cattle—Receipts, 1,500; killers, 10 to 15c lower; steers, $4.50@9.00; cows and heifers, $5.00@7.75; calves, 50c lower, on lots on First street at Thirtieth avenue east as reported in The Herald last Saturday.

Lots on First street, also on Second street, between Twenty-eighth avenue and Congdon Park, sold only for residence sites. First stret paved last summer, probably best pavement in Duluth—sidewalks, water, sewer, gas, good view of the lake, yet protected from gales; adjoining Congdon Park. Taking into consideration price and location, the best purchase for a home site in Duluth. Can sell on monthly payments with 5% interest if desired.

OPENING OF CEDED CHIPPEWA LANDS.—Department of the Interior, General Land Office, Washington, D. C., Feb. 19, 1916.—Notice is hereby given, That 56,175.62 acres of ceded Chippewa lands in the former Red Lake, White Earth, Leech Lake and Chippewa of the Mississippi, Winnebigoshish, Deer Creek, Bois Fort and Pigeon River Indian Reservations, in the State of Minnesota, will be opened to homestead entry at the district land offices at Cass Lake, Crookston and Duluth, Minnesota, on April 26, 1916, on and after 9 o'clock a. m., under Section 6 of the act of January 14, 1889 (25 Stat., 642), and under the laws applicable to townsites. A portion of these lands were opened to settlement on January 11, 1915, and September 27, 1915, and the remainder will be subject to settlement at 9 o'clock a. m., on April 12, 1916. No rights can be acquired by settling on the lands prior to the time they are subject to settlement. A portion of the lands, 3,815.35 acres, are classified as pine lands, and applicants for these lands will be required to pay an appraised price for the timber thereon at the time of making entry, as provided in Section 27, act of June 25, 1910 (36 Stat., 862). Printed lists of the lands to be opened and copies of the instructions governing the disposal of said lands, may be obtained, as soon as they can be printed for distribution, upon application to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, Washington, D. C., or the Registers and Receivers of the United States land offices, at Cass Lake, Crookston and Duluth, Minnesota. Clay Tallman, Commissioner. Approved Feb. 19, 1916. Andrieus A. Jones, First Assistant Secretary.

FIRST BATTLE IS FOUGHT

GERMANS CAPTURE VILLAGE OF MALANCOURT AFTER DESPERATE NIGHT ATTACKS ON THREE SIDES

OUTSKIRTS STILL HELD BY FRENCH

Troops Forced to Withdraw After Fiercest Kind of Infantry Fighting.

Village Proper Mass of Ruins From Continuous Artillery Fire.

Assaults By Germans in Avocourt Woods Repulsed By French.

Berlin, March 31, via London, 3:30 p. m.—Capture of the village of Malancourt in the Verdun region west of the Meuse was announced by the war office today. The Germans took 328 prisoners.

Attack on Three Sides.

Paris, March 31.—The Germans delivered a fierce night attack on three sides of the village of Malancourt, says the French official statement issued this morning, and the French retired from the village proper, which was in ruins, but continue to hold its outskirts.

Fierce infantry fighting lasted for the entire night before the French withdrew from the untenable position in the village of Malancourt, the official statement adds.

The Germans again tried to carry by assault the position which the French had won back in the Avocourt wood, but they were repulsed. East of the Meuse the night was calm.

AHLE WOULD FACE AMERICAN COURT

New York, March 31.—Although there is an indictment against Charles H. Ahle here charging extortion, Ahle would rather return to New York and run his chances before an American court than stay in London under suspicion of being a German spy.

Much to the surprise of the police department, Ahle has written from London telling of his predicament and begging that the authorities here certify to Scotland Yard that he is an American citizen. Ahle's letter came to Detective Barney Flood, who says that six years ago he recognized the indicted man on the Strand in London. When the detective accosted him at the time, Ahle indignantly denied his identity. Now he writes to remind Flood of the meeting and seek his aid.

Ahle was indicted Oct. 13, 1905, and it is said, jumped his bail of $5,000. His alleged crime is not an extraditable offense. A deposition setting forth the facts about Ahle's career is now on its way to London.

PRACTICALLY EXONERATED

Towerman Tentatively Absolved From Blame of New York Central Wreck.

Question Now Whether Signals Failed or Engineer Erred.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 31.—With the main issue before them whether manfailure or machine-failure caused the wreck of three New York Central trains near Amherst, Ohio, early on Wednesday, Federal and state investigators planned today to go to the bottom in an inquiry that was expected to last throughout the day.

Previous to the convening this morning of the representatives of the Interstate commerce commission and the Ohio Utilities commission, it was understood that A. H. Ernst, the signal towerman, had been tentatively absolved from blame for the wreck, the death list from which stood this morning at twenty-eight.

With Ernst out of it as the cause of the wreck, the inquiry was expected to simmer down to these two questions:

Did Engineer Hermann Hess, Toledo, pilot of the second section of New York Central 86, run by two signals, one ordering him to proceed with "caution," and the other ordering him to stop his train?

Did Mechanism Fail?

Or did the elaborate, costly signal mechanism, designed to prevent such

NEW PICTURE OF DR. A. W. WAITE WHO IS CHARGED WITH MURDER

DR. A. W. WAITE.

DR. A. W. WAITE IS INDICTED

Grand Jury's Charge Is Murder in the First Degree.

Two Counts Accuse Him of Killing His Father-in-Law.

New York, March 31.—The grand jury today returned an indictment charging murder in the first degree against Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, accusing him of poisoning his father-in-law, John E. Peck, millionaire drug manufacturer of Grand Rapids.

The indictment contains two counts, one that Waite administered arsenic to his father-in-law on March 12, "intending wilfully to kill and murder" him; the second that on the same day he administered to Peck "a certain deadly poison to the said grand jury unknown."

Men from the district attorney's office were supposed to be digging for buried treasure today somewhere in the sands at the end of Long Island—the $9,000 in bills which Eugene Oliver Kane, the man who embalmed the body of John E. Peck, said last night he had received from Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, Peck's alleged poisoner.

The money was "forced" upon him, Kane said, as a bribe to induce him to swear that the embalming fluid contained arsenic.

Embalmer Tells Story.

Eugene Oliver Kane, who embalmed the body of John E. Peck, went to District Attorney Edward Swann's office here last night and denied he ever had any intention of testifying that the embalming fluid used on Peck's body

SAYS HE IS GERMAN SPY

Stowaway Who Captured British Steamer Makes Statement in Jail.

Declares He Was Ordered to Go Aboard Ship and Blow Her Up.

Lewes, Del., March 31.—The young German who captured the British steamer Matoppo and terrorized her crew of fifty-six men on Wednesday night shortly after the ship had sailed out of New York harbor for Vladivostok with railroad supplies for the Russian government; declared today that he was a spy for the German government. Ernst Schiller, the prisoner, weary from the excitement he had undergone in his efforts to escape from the steamer yesterday after he had held the crew in his power with pistols all of Wednesday night, threw himself upon a cot in the Lewes jail early today and sought sleep.

Told to Blow Up Ship.

"Yes, I am a spy for the German government," he said. "You can believe it or not—it makes no difference to me. I got my instructions from the German government to go aboard the ship and blow her up to prevent her

BIG STEAMER GOES AGROUND

Transpacific Liner Chiyo Maru Meets Mishap Near Hongkong.

Left San Francisco March 2 With Some Americans Aboard.

Shanghai, March 31.—The big transpacific passenger steamship Chiyo Maru grounded in a fog at 4:35 this morning on one of the Lema islands south of Hongkong. Nine tugboats and launches from a British torpedo boat destroyer have gone to her assistance and are taking off her 299 passengers from San Francisco and Manila.

The Chiyo Maru, owned by the Toyo Kisen Kabushik Kaisha of Yokohama, is a vessel of 13,431 tons gross, is 558 feet long, 61 feet beam and was constructed in 1908 at Nagasaki. She left San Francisco on March 2 for Yokohama, arrived at Manila on March 18 and left that port for Hongkong.

One of Biggest Ships.

San Francisco, Cal., March 31.—The Chiyo Maru is one of the largest vessels on the transpacific runs and is part of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha fleet.

Toyo Kisen Kaisha officials here had no information as to the accident. The Chiyo was commanded by Capt. Ernst Bent, who regularly takes her out, and carried her usual crew, L. E. Bemis, the company's agent, said:

The Chiyo already had touched at Honolulu, Yokohama and other Japanese ports and Manila, so that all passengers from continental United States except those bound for Hongkong had left the ship.

Among the Chiyo's passengers for Hongkong were Charles Wheeler, a Detroit publisher, and his wife, and D. G. Bellamore, an Eastern automobile man.

Earth Shocks Recorded.

Washington, March 31.—Pronounced earth shocks were recorded at Georgetown university this morning. They began at 6:24 a. m. continued until 7:20 o'clock and reached their greatest intensity at 6:35 o'clock. The disturbance is estimated to have been centered about 3,300 miles from Washington.

Fire Destroys Mail.

New York, March 31.—Fire which broke out in the mail room of the Holland-America line steamship Veendyke, while that ship was lying in the Downs on March 14, partially destroyed and damaged sixty-nine bags of parcel post destined for Canada and Japan, it was learned today. The ship arrived yesterday from Rotterdam.

CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE ON SUBMARINE ATTACKS AWAITED BY OFFICIALS

No Action Will Be Taken By U. S. Without Full Facts.

So Decided After Meeting of President With His Cabinet.

No Word Has Been Received From Gerard for Several Days.

Washington, March 31.—Following today's cabinet meeting officials said complete evidence had not been received in the cases of vessels carrying Americans attacked recently, that no action would be taken by the American government until such facts had been received and that no action leading to serious consequence would be taken at all unless conclusive evidence was established that an attack had been made by a German submarine contrary to international law.

No Word From Gerard.

Government officials admitted today that they are puzzled over Ambassador Gerard's failure to respond to instructions sent him four days ago to inquire of the German government whether any of its submarines attacked the steamer Sussex and several other merchant ships carrying American citizens.

Officials declared they were not worried because they had not heard from Ambassador Gerard, who was instructed to make inquiries of the German foreign office whether a submarine torpedoed the steamers Sussex and Englishman. They added they would not be surprised if they did not hear from the ambassador for another day or two.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, delayed presenting a communication to the state department for two days while the administration was engaged in a fight with congress over the armed ship question and it was suggested today that Mr. Gerard, confronted by a similar situation in the German reichstag over the submarine policy, may have taken a similar course.

Chairman Stone said that no complications in the situation inspired his call upon Secretary Lansing.

The fact that Chairman Flood of the house committee was also at the department was a mere coincidence, he said.

When the cabinet assembled all the secretaries except McAdoo, Lane and Daniels were present. None of these were inclined to view the situation as critical.

CHINESE TROOPS IN KWANG TUNG REVOLT

Shanghai, China, March 31.—The troops at Swatow and Chao-Chow Fu, in the province of Kwang Tung, declared their independence of the central government on March 29.

The United States gunboat Wilmington is at Swatow. The United States cruiser Brooklyn, with Admiral Albert M. Winterhalter on board, is due at Shanghai on April 3.

INDIANA MAN IS THE NEW U. S. AMBASSADOR TO CHILE

NO MORE SAND TO BE SOLD WITH POULTRY

New York, March 31.—An order forbidding the sale of live poultry with food in the crop at the time of sale will be put into effect Monday in New York city. The order was issued by John J. Dillon, state commissioner of foods and markets, who said that several million consumers suffer in health and purse from the widespread practice of stuffing the crops of birds to increase the weight.

Conditions investigated and described by the Federal department of agriculture two years ago still persist, Mr. Dillon declares. New Yorkers are paying $7,000,000 a year for a mixture of sand, gravel, meal paste and water, he said, and the chickens whose crops have been so stuffed become diseased as a result and will die in three or four days if not killed.

The commissioner said that where crops had been stuffed, according to a favorite process, the weight of the stuffing amounted to about 20 per cent of the weight of the bird. There are 7,000 carloads of live poultry shipped to New York from Western states annually with approximately 6,000 fowls to a car, totaling about 140,000,000 pounds of poultry. This poultry retails for approximattly 25 cents a pound, making the cost to the consumer $35,000,000.

"While we cannot directly reach the guilty shippers," added Mr. Dillon, "we can reach them through the dealers in New York city, for they will be forced to decline to purchase poultry which may be confiscated after it gets here."

AMERICAN FORCES DEFEAT VILLA MEN IN GUERRERO DISTRICT

First Blood Lost By United States Troops Has Been Spilled in Battle at San Geronimo.

Seventh Cavalry Meets Villa Force of 500 Bandits, Mexicans Losing 30 Men; Several Americans Wounded.

San Antonio, Tex., March 31.—Villa's force, estimated at 500, was severely defeated at Guerrero on March 29 by Col. Dodd, according to a report from Gen. Pershing to Gen. Funston, sent from San Geronimo ranch.

The Villa loss was placed at thirty killed and the Americans at four wounded. Among the Villa wounded was an officer named Lopez, who Gen. Pershing thought might be Pablo Lopez, who led the band that murdered seventeen Americans at Santa Ysabel, and who afterwards was erroneously reported killed in the fight at Columbus. Gen. Fernandez was among the Villa dead.

None of the Americans wounded was seriously injured.

Villa was not present at the fight, Gen. Pershing said that what was regarded as confirmation of the report that he was suffering from a broken leg had been received.

His exact whereabouts had not been learned.

Cavalry Makes Smashing Ride.

Col. Dodd led his Seventh and Tenth cavalry in a smashing ride from the north towards Guerrero when he learned of the presence there of the Villa forces, covering the fifty-five miles intervening in seventeen hours. Gen. Pershing said he arrived there at 6 o'clock, going into action immediately, but whether it was 6 o'clock in the morning or in the afternoon the report did not indicate.

It was a complete surprise to the Villa force, which had entered into a celebration of its victory over the garrison the day before.

Soon after the action began, the Mexicans were breaking for cover and beginning to disappear along the trails that lead to the mountains northeast of the railway. For ten miles, the running fight that began at Guerrero was continued and abandoned only when the division of the retreating force into numerous small bodies made pursuit impossible.

Capture Two Machine Guns.

Col. Dodd reported that he had captured two machine guns and a considerable number of saddles and rifles. The fleeing bandits left behind several Carranza soldiers who said they had been held by Villa for execution. They were released by the Americans.

Gen. Pershing said that it was not improbable that Villa would endeavor to reassemble his forces somewhere along the headwaters of the Santa Maria river.

He is moving his forces in such a manner as to prevent if possible new concentration or to re-engage any force that does make a stand.

He regarded as probable the elimination from active developments of Villa for some time on account of his injured leg.

Reported By Mexicans.

El Paso, Tex., March 31.—Mexican Consul Garcia announced today that he had been informed by Gen. Gavira, Carranza commander at Juarez, that the latter had received word that the American troops had been engaged in battle with Villa's forces.

According to Gen. Gavira's information, which was supplied in a telegram from Lieut.-Col. Refugio Davila at Casas Grandes, the fight took place on March 30 at San Geronimo, between the Seventh cavalry and 500 Villa forces, the latter losing their commander, Eladeo Fernandez, and thirty men, and the Americans suffering several wounded.

Col. Davila wired Gen. Gavira, according to Consul Garcia, that confirmation had been received that Villa had been wounded in the leg in the last fight with the Carranza forces and now is hiding to the north of Guerrero.

Col. Davila's telegram to Gen. Gavira said that he had received his information through the chief of staff of the American expeditionary force at Tres Alamo camp, under instructions from Gen. Pershing.

The announcement from Consul Garcia read:

"Lieut.-Col. Refugio Davila has wired from Casas Grandes to Gen. Gavira at Juarez as follows:

"'Chief of staff of American expedition at Tres Alamo camp, instructed by Gen. Pershing, has informed me that the Seventh cavalry on March 30 at San Geronimo fought a Villista column composed of 500 men under Eliseo Fernandez. Villistas lost Fernandez and 30 men. American forces had several wounded. Confirmation received that Villa was wounded at last fight with Constitutionalists and is hiding in neighborhood of Guerrero.'"

Gen. Funston, at San Antonio today, said he had information that Villa troops were reported to be on the San Geronimo ranch or the "Quema" ranch and that the American and Carranza troops were closing in on them. This evidently is the San Geronimo referred to in Col. DaVila's dispatches.

American reports received here this afternoon stated that Gen. Luis Herrera was advancing westward from Chihuahua with 100 soldiers to oppose the Villa forces.

Villa Crosses Divide.

El Paso, Tex., March 31.—Francisco Villa has crossed the great continental divide and is heading southeast to his old headquarters at San Andres, according to the most reliable information here today, coupled with the reports from Gen. Funston's headquarters at San Antonio.

Keen interest in the chase has been aroused once more on the border by the renewed possibility that the bandit may be trapped before he can win to the south of the pursuing squads. American troops sweeping down from the north on the eastern side of the

SHACKELTON SHIP IS DRIFTING TO ISLANDS

Wellington, N. Z., via London, March 31.—A wireless dispatch just received from the Aurora says:

"We are setting toward Snares islands under the influence of wind and sea. We are unable to maneuver the ship, owing to damage to the rudder."

The authorities are sending a tug to the assistance of the Aurora.

Snares islands lie in the South Pacific ocean, south of New Zealand, the easternmost being in latitude 48.3 south, longitude 166.30 east. A wireless dispatch from the Aurora, the auxiliary ship of the Shackelton Antarctic expedition dated March 30, reported the vessel 250 miles southwest of Port Chalmers, New Zealand.

BOMBS ARE DROPPED ON SWISS VILLAGE

Berne, Switzerland, March 31, via Paris.—Two aeroplanes of unknown nationality dropped five large bombs at dawn this morning on the small Swiss village of Porentruy, near the French frontier. Some damage to property was caused.

PRISONERS THREATEN TO LET BEARDS GROW

St. Louis, Mo., March 31.—Because Edward Ehrman, city jail barber, has left and his place has been taken by a negro, all the white prisoners announced today they will let their beards grow.

Every white man of the 130 prisoners took his place in Ehrman's chair yesterday and asked that his beard be cut as close as possible, each one saying it would be his last shave so long as the negro remains.

'LONG 'BOUT THIS TIME O' YEAR.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

German pressure on the Malancourt-Bethincourt salient, northwest of Verdun, has proved too much to the French on the westerly end of the position and they have been forced out of Malancourt village.

The German guns have been violently bombarding the village for many hours after the recent success of the crown prince's troops in reaching the outskirts. Last night the infantry was again brought into play and charging in masses simultaneously from three sides furiously engaged the French battalion holding the village.

After an all-night struggle the French evacuated the village, which had been laid in ruins by the bombardment and the storm of battle raging in its streets after the infantry entered it.

Gen. Petain's troops still hold the outskirts, the afternoon Paris bulletin asserts.

The charge at Malancourt was only one of three operations against Verdun stronghold which the Germans have put into motion within the space of a day. Northeast of the fortress they twice attacked at Douaumont, with liquid fire, but, according to the French war office, were both times beaten off.

Last night they developed renewed activity on the edge of the Woevre plain, beginning a drive against the French right flank and attempting to take the fortifications east of Haudomont, about nine miles southeast of Verdun.

Here too they were unsuccessful in their efforts to advance, Paris declares.

Berlin announces that in the capture of the village of Malancourt, which it declares was carried by storm, 328 prisoners were taken. Defensive positions on both sides of the village also fell into German hands.

Indications today are that the strike in munitions plants, on the Clyde, which has been holding up the supply of big guns for the army, is on the verge of collapse, according to a London dispatch.

ADAMS CLUB WILL BE REORGANIZED

Effort Made to Rejuvenate Old Promoter of Sports.

Plans for the reorganizing of the Adams Athletic association this spring are being made by some of the leaders of the "Triple A" in this end of the city. The association has been inactive for more than a year but this spring it is proposed to again take a leading part in athletic affairs of the city.

A meeting of former members of the organization will probably be held next week when the subject of reorganizing will be taken up. A canvass of the young men of this end of the city to join in the movement is being made.

The Adams Athletic association, for several years was one of the leading promoters of clean athletics in the city. Its baseball and football teams were developed to a high point of efficiency. Teams that will be leaders in these sports are again to be reorganized.

It is probable that the meeting will be held at the Sloan block where, for a considerable time the organization made its headquarters.

SEES IMPROVEMENT AMONG EMPLOYERS

Dr. Ingham Gives Address on "The Man Next Door."

Rev. Hardy A. Ingham, pastor of Endion Methodist church, gave an interesting lecture on "The Man Next Door" before a large audience at the First Norwegian-Danish Methodist church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street, last evening. The lecture laid stress on the spirit of righteousness which, the speaker said, prevailed in the economic and social conditions throughout the country with the greater number of employers.

As man to man, he said, the spirit of equality and justice is being spread throughout the country between employer and employe. He spoke of the method used by Henry Ford where the famous manufacturer elevated the workingmen to a higher plane and, through a system of watching, was able to keep in touch with his employes and in many ways become able to better their social conditions. Such efforts were being made, he said, by the greater number of employers of labor today.

FINAL DITCH COST HAS BEEN ESTIMATED

Proposed Roseau-Beltrami County Drain to Cost $218,664.

Warroad, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The auditors of Roseau and Beltrami counties have made the final figures on the cost of Judicial Ditch No. 62.

The total cost of the system will be $218,664.75. The excavation is to cost $154,580; the culverts, $7,131; bridges and leveling, $16,107; right-of-way, $1,700; additions and engineering and administration expenses, $30,000. The highest assessment on any forty is $127.50. This applies to a few of the wettest forties with ditches on both sides. Back from the ditch the assessment is about one-fourth less. Of the total cost Beltrami county pays $168,153 and Roseau county $50,511. The system is to be completed by the end of 1917.

LACK OF STEEL IS HAMPERING BUILDING

Ashland, Wis., March 31.—Supt. F. T. Beers of the Dupont Powder company's plant at Barksdale was here yesterday on his way back to Washburn from Chicago, where he attended to business matters for several days.

On being asked as to whether any new construction work for the coming summer or even this spring was contemplated by the company at Barksdale, he said that as far as he knew at the present time no new work would be done. He said the ten buildings comprising the new Triton plant now in the process of construction would be completed as quickly as possible. The demand for steel is so great that it almost is impossible to get it now. Everything is bought up and with the steel centers practically out of ore, the situation is acute. This condition will greatly handicap the work of construction at the plant, Mr. Beers declared.

Seven new cottages will be built at Washburn by the Dupont company this spring. Work on them is expected to commence about April 15, according to Mr. Beers.

LION OF MARCH FAILS TO LIVE UP TO REPUTATION

The lion of March has been rather a tame animal this year. The month came in neither like a lion nor a lamb, being about half way between, and is going out with many lamb-like qualities.

There have been a few storms during the month, but none of them have reached the much-advertised degree of rage attributed to the old-time and always dreaded mythical animal, which has been used as the symbol of the month for many years.

During the last few weeks, tameness has been enhanced by melting qualities, and at this time, there is little left of the three feet of snow with which the ground was covered when the month came in, inherited from January and February gales and snowstorms.

The promise for tonight and tomorrow is "fair weather" with no hint of a storm or any kind of wildness.

Concerning all of which Duluthians feel no resentment to the weather department.

ARE OPPOSED BY ORGANIZED LABOR

Systems of Vocational Training Do Not Meet Approval.

Chicago, March 31.—The second annual convention of the Vocational Education Association of the Middle West, which began a three days' session here late yesterday, is to consider especially means of obtaining employment for graduates of vocational courses. It was stated that organized labor has come out openly as opposed to the systems of vocational training, in vogue in Chicago and elsewhere, on the ground that such systems threaten to flood the labor market with semi-skilled artisans and so cut down wages. The backers of the convention have stated that, because of this attitude, graduates of vocational courses are in many cases unable to get employment. They cannot get union cards and are therefore ineligible for work in many communities.

This phase of the vocational problem will be touched on at the Saturday morning session of the convention.

CONFER FOR FIRST TIME

City Department Heads Will Co-operate More Closely.

Check Will Be Put on All Materials Purchased in Future.

For the first time in the history of Duluth, city department managers met yesterday afternoon, holding the first of a series of weekly conferences for the purpose of discussing municipal business and establishing a closer co-operation between the divisions.

City Clerk Borgen, who issued a call for the meeting, presided. It was decided to hold another session next Thursday afternoon, when an organization will be perfected. Sixteen department heads were present in addition to Mayor Prince and Commissioner Voss.

The handling of requisitions and the checking of purchases were discussed. It was decided that all heads should submit samples of supplies to the clerk, so that a better check can be made on the material received. Complaints have been made that the supplies often are not of the grade required by the bids.

The department heads present were: City Clerk Borgen, City Engineer Ayres, Secretary Culver of the works division, Building Inspector Kielley, Chief of Police McKercher, Auditor Campbell, Manager Reed of the water and light department, City Assessor Scott, City Treasurer McLean, Recreational Director Batchelor, Park Manager Cleveland, Secretary Trux, Clerk Thompson of the municipal court, Secretary Johnson of the police department, Chief Accountant Gross of the water and light department, and Electrical Inspector Schneider.

HONOR "BARD OF AVON."

Duluth Teachers Will Celebrate Tercentennial in May.

A tercentennial celebration in honor of William Shakespeare will be held in Duluth under the auspices of Duluth Central high school teachers during the latter part of May. The anniversay falls on April 23, but owing to other exercises intervening, the affair will not be held until the following month. Plans were made at a meeting of the high school teachers yesterday. The program, it is understood, will consist of scenes from a number of Shakespeare's plays, with students of the school participating.

STUDENTS ARRANGE SOCIAL PROGRAM

Class Parties Will Be Feature During Month of May.

Central high school students already are planning for the annual spring social program of dances and parties.

On Friday evening, May 5, the last interclass dance of the year will be held, arrangements for the affair being in the hands of the following committee: Seniors, Norman Tufty and Ila Whiteside; juniors, Galen Pearsons and Gladys Anderson; sophomores, Wallace Nott and Agnes Ewell; freshmen, Hickman Powell and Melba Bruen.

The junior class will stage its annual spring party on the following day, May 6. Monick Altman is in charge of the program, which will consist of twenty-five numbers, after which there will be dancing, music for which will be furnished by the Esther Gomberg orchestra.

On May 13, the sophomores will hold their class party with the following committees in charge: Music, Helen Bruen and Paul Winship; spread, Myrna Ebert and Charles Hathaway; toasts, Marguerite Craig and Harvey Owen, and decorations, Frances Sellwood and Alex Tresise.

The annual Junior-Senior ball will be held on June 16. All the parties will be staged at the high school.

LECTURES ON "GOETHE."

Rev. Gebauer Addresses Schillerbund at Central School.

Rev. George R. Gebauer, pastor of the First Unitarian church, gave a lecture last evening on "Goethe" before the members of the Schillerbund, a society composed of students engaged in the study of the German language at the Central high school. The meeting was held at the high school. Rev. Mr. Gebauer talked in German. The meeting was the first of a series which has been arranged by Miss Zeigler, head of the German department. Several prominent German-speaking Duluthians will deliver lectures before the society during the coming season.

DOZEN ARSENALS ARE MAINTAINED

Supplies for the Army Manufactured By War Department.

Washington, March 31.—A dozen arsenals are maintained by the United States for making supplies for the army. All the muskets, small-arm ammunition and personal and horse equipments required are manufactured by the war department, but of other classes of ammunition, small arms, small cannon and gun carriages a considerable proportion of the requirements is supplied by private establishments. The location of these arsenals and their functions are:

Watertown, Mass., manufacturing principally seacoast gun carriages; Springfield, Mass., small arms; Watervliet, N. Y., cannon, large and small; Frankfort (Philadelphia), Pa., ammunition for small arms and mobile artillery; Rock Island, Ill., personal and horse equipments, carriages for mobile artillery, and small arms; Governors Island, N. Y., storage, issue and purchase; Sandy Hook, N. J., proving ground; Picatinny, Dover, N. J., smokeless powder, and Augusta, Ga., San Antonio, Tex., Benicia, Cal., and Manila, Philippines, for storage and repair.

TO PROVIDE REST ROOM FOR FARMERS

Crookston Banker to Properly Equip Place for Visitors.

Crookston, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The problem of providing a free rest room for farmers, which has been considered for several years past, was solved today by Charles E. Kiewel, president of the Polk County State bank, when he announced that he would at once fit up the basement of the big new bank building as a farmers rest room, equip it with toilets, wash rooms, easy chairs and tables and provide a gas stove upon which farmers could heat their coffee for lunch if they chose, or warm the baby's bottle to keep the little tot quiet while mother was doing her spring shopping.

The Commercial club in wrestling with the problem was confronted with the prohibitive cost of leasing the commodious room necessary centrally located, equipping it properly, and bearing the cost of maintenance. Now the only cost to the Commercial club will be providing a lady attendant to look after children left in her charge and maintain order.

Mr. Kiewel, who but recently purchased the Polk County State bank with F. E. McGregor, until recently a deputy state bank examiner, and a few associates, will also open banks at Fisher, Gentilly and other points.

Great Future in Farming.

"The future of Crookston, like the future of every other city in the Red River valley, depends upon the progress of agricultural development, and to encourage this the closest relations must be maintained with the farmer," said Mr. Kiewel, "and the city must co-operate with the country in every possible way. The rest room is provided because it is needed by the farmers and their wives and children. I have been considering the project for some time and concluded to act at once."

Mr. Kiewel will spend about $1,000 in fitting Crookston's new farmers rest room up properly, including writing facilities, book and magazine racks.

Wedded at Aitkin.

Aitkin, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.) — Miss Ephie Thorne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thorne, and Norman Watts of Bain were married Saturday afternoon, March 25, at the home of Glen Sutton, Rev. C. C. Sutton reading the service in the presence of a few friends. The young people will make their home at Bain.

MARSHAL WESSELL TO ASSUME JOB APRIL 16

St. Paul, Minn., March 31.—Joseph A. Wessel of Crookston will become United States marshal April 16. The postponement was agreed on in order to tide over the April term of United States district court to be opened in Minneapolis Tuesday. Thirty alleged violators of the Indian liquor law now in custody at Duluth are to be removed to Minneapolis for trial early next week. Marshal William H. Grimshaw will remain until Mr. Wessel qualifies.

Farewell Aitkin Banquet.

Aitkin, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The members of the official board of the M. E. church, with their husbands and wives, gave a banquet Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. Carmichael as a farewell for Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonald. The dining room was effectively decorated in green and pink and there were thirty-four guests. Toasts were given by Rev. U. S. Villars, R. L. Mason and F. H. Osterhout to which the honor guests responded.

Reliable Laxative Relieved This Baby

Child Was Badly Constipated Until Mother Tried Simple Remedy.

WOODROW WILSON

In spite of every care and attention to diet, children are very apt to become constipated, a condition responsible for many ills in after life unless promptly relieved.

Mrs. C. W. Wilson of Shelbyville, Tenn., had trouble with her baby boy, Woodrow, until she heard of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. She writes, "I can safely say Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best remedy of its kind on earth. It acts so gently and yet so surely. Little Woodrow was very badly constipated and we could find nothing that gave relief until we tried your Syrup Pepsin, which gave immediate relief."

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of simple laxative herbs, free from opiates or narcotic drugs, mild in action, positive in effect and pleasant to the taste. It has been prescribed by Dr. Caldwell for more than a quarter of a century and can now be had for fifty cents a bottle in any well-stocked drug store. A trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained, free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

KNOW NOTHING ABOUT NEW RAILROAD STOCK

Madison, Wis., March 31.—A statement issued by the Wisconsin railroad commission today says that a rumor is current that a proposed railroad organization to be known as the Green Bay & Eastern Railroad company to build from Green Bay to Manitowoc is selling stock to individuals. Secretary H. L. Geisse said today that no authorization to issue and sell stock had been granted. He said that if such stocks are being sold the commission would take such steps as appear to be necessary to protect innocent purchasers from taking stock unlawfully issued.

AITKIN HOME IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Aitkin, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire of an unknown origin starting in a closet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sutton did considerable damage. Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Sutton, who were staying at the home of their son, lost nearly all their clothing, without insurance. The department was called out and extinguished the blaze. The damage to the house is covered by insurance.

WON BY THE RAILROADS

French Roads Responsible for Victories at Yser and Ypres.

They Have Accomplished Everything That Was Expected of Them.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Paris, March 15.—"The battles of the Yser and Ypres were, in the first instance, won by the French railroads, and though the German lines posssed certain initial advantages over them, they have held their own throughout the war," says an officer closely concerned in the mobilization, concentration and displacement of the French troops.

"The Germans have had the advantage of distance, since the line took the form of a triangle; inside that triangle their points of concentration are nearer to the Yser or any other part of the front than the allies' concentration points on the other side, where it is necessary to turn the angle instead of going across the inside of it."

It appears that Gen. Joffre foresaw the German flanking movement toward Calais during the last days of the battle of the Marne, and began sending troops to pary it as early as Sept. 8. Between that date and the beginning of October 800 trains carried seventeen army corps and three divisions of cavalry northwards.

Did All Expected.

A review of the military operations beginning with the mobilization shows that the railroads of France have accomplished everything that was expected of them, contrary to the experience of 1870.

The first consideration in developing the efficiency of the military railroad is the maximum number of trains that can be run one after another within a given time. Consequently all military trains are obliged to run at the same reduced speed, following each other at very close intervals under the block system; without risk of accident, the continuous movement accomplishes more than would be done by high speed, which would necessarily involve increased spaces between trains.

In preparation for this intense movement necessitated by the mobilization, the officers of the railway service of the French army met every year under the direction of the general staff to study the problems involved, each officer being placed on the spot where in time of war he would be called upon to exercise his functions. The last drill of this kind was in April, 1914, when the maneuvers undertaken supposed the grouping of two armies face to face. Orders for the operations had been established, taking into account the vicissitudes of battle and all the needs of the army, so far as possible bringing their men face to face with problems, incidents and accidents and consequent necessity for immediate decisions such as they would have to make in time of war. That was how the men charged with the transportation of troops prepared themselves for the mobilization and the intensive movement of military trains that has continued ever since.

Seventeenth Plan.

The plan under which the army was mobilized in 1914 was the seventeenth that had been elaborated since the war of 1870. From the annual census of the resources of the country in men, horses and material, the general staff had figured out the number of elementary units it could create and the theoretic organization that they might give them. Every corps charged with mobilization possessed its table giving details of all the elements that it was called upon to furnish, where to find its men, from where would come the horses and material necessary for the constitution of new units; every man had his mobilization sheet indicating the corps that he must join; the staff of that corps had his name and address on its rolls and expected him on the day that he arrived. Every mayor of every commune of France under this system knew exactly where to take the horses of his commune in order that they could be requisitioned. Every president of requisitioning commissions knew the horses that he must choose and the point to which he must take them. This plan not only involved the uniting of these elements and their proper distribution, but every horse and every man found what was necessary for him at the spot where he was to be taken. The troops of such a corps, with their horses and all accoutrements, once equipped and ready, found the train ready for them at the point of their destination, corresponding exactly in capacity to the number of men, horses, baggage wagons, artillery, ambulances, and so forth, of the corps to be transported secretly over France and disembarked at a point where other trains from other points were bringing other troops to form the division, the army corps, or an army itself.

The necessity of secrecy imposed as much care as the necessity of prompt concentration, a single accident being susceptible of creating confusion and disclosing the movements of the corps.

Quick Movement.

On July 31, 1914, all the active troops were in their garrisons with railroads carrying passengers and goods as usual. The order for the troops to set out was issued at 3:30 o'clock, and at 5 o'clock all the units assigned to the defense of the frontier were in their trains on the way to their positions of resistance. The transportation of all the covering troops was finished Aug. 3. The first day the Eastern railroad alone sent out 538 trains of soldiers, every one of which reached its destination on schedule time. The Eastern road sent out 546 trains only the second day, showing that its first effort lacked only eight trains of the maximum. After the mobilization 4,300 trains were employed in the concentration of the forces at points fixed and only twenty of them were behind the hour provided for in their schedule.

The railroads became a maneuvering instrument when the concentration period was finished and played a capital role in the battle of the Marne.

Even during the battle of Charleroi, the allies' left was reinforced by three divisions brought from the region of Nancy in 200 trains in three days' time.

The Battle Decided.

They had scarcely arrived when the retreat was ordered and the railroads were occupied in concentrating at the center and on the left the masses of troops that attacked the German right and decided the battle. Three army corps, five divisions of infantry, and three divisions of cavalry were brought by rail from Lorraine, part to the region of Chalons sur Marne and part to the region of Paris.

The battle of the Marne won, the railroads began pouring troops to the north in the race to the sea.

The relative calm along the front itself at certain periods being no rest to the railroads. From February to August, 1915, 3,430 troop trains were run while the average of supply trains was 131 a day; at the same time there were 222 ambulance trains in service.

Besides assuring the transportation of troops, the railroads have since the war added 200 miles of regular gauge and forty miles of narrow gauge track to their strategic lines and largely transformed 153 military stations.

Students to Vote By Mail.

Madison, Wis., March 31.—A number of University of Wisconsin students are taking advantage of the law permitting voting by mail. They have written to the clerks of their respective towns for ballots. It is understood that the controversy over the right of students to vote here is the cause of so many ballots being mailed.

Big Tent-Making Factory.

London, March 31.—What is said to be the largest tent-making factory in the world has been built "somewhere in England" since the outbreak of the war. It employs 10,000 people. Thousands of tents are turned out daily for use at the great concentration and training camps in England and also for the troops in the various theaters of war.

SITUATION AROUND VERDUN FORTS IS VIVIDLY DESCRIBED

Associated Press Correspondent Visits the Battle Front.

Artillery Engagements Most Terrific of the Entire War.

Headquarters of the army of the German crown prince before Verdun, March 27, via Berlin and London, March 31.—German artillery is playing heavily on the north front of Verdun. Vast clouds of smoke mark the site of the burning suburb behind Forts Belleville and Froideterre set afire by the bombardment of these two forts, which bar ingress to the city along the east bank of the Meuse.

Eight miles westward across the river a mass of smoke columns floating like a hazy forest of cypress above Bethincourt, Malancourt, and Hill No. 304, testifies to the hail of high calibered shells which is falling on this northwestern outpost of the French positions. Which of these two points will be the scene of the next phase of the German offensive is a question which doubtless is puzzling the minds of Gen. Joffre and Gen. Petain.

The Associated Press correspondent has made an inspection of the ground gained by the Germans on the Verdun front in the fortnight since the last previous visit of the correspondent. On the previous occasion the Germans had advanced their lines east of the river to the outer girdle of forts and had carried Douaumont and the adjoining redoubts. The French then retained the west bank of the river for a distance of three miles north of the line of Douaumont and were maintaining a harrassing artillery fire from the heights on this bank against the German flank and rear. It was necessary to clear the French from this region before the German attack against the fortress could proceed.

Hold Only Narrow Strip.

This has been accomplished. Of the old positions the French now hold only a narrow tongue of land between Dead Man's hill and Avocourt wood. This position is naturally strong with Hill No. 304 as the backbone and the two fortified villages of Malancourt and Bethincourt at the ends. But from the intense artillery fire falling upon it today from three sides, it appeared that the French retain it only by grace of the Germans and must abandon it whenever an earnest attack is delivered.

French guns are no less active than the German although their fire is more scattered. This is because the task of the French gunners is to search out German batteries hidden over the entire landscape and restrict their activity as much as possible. The French gunners seem to be performing their task well. They know the position of many batteries and shoot with uncomfortable accuracy as the correspondent experienced personally when a shell dropped squarely in the battery by which he was standing.

But Three Shells Wasted.

They wasted only three shells in obtaining the range. Two of these were slightly over but in the exact line. The third landed right among the guns, but the softened clay soil swallowed it and smothered its explosion, throwing masses of dirt on all sides, but not harming the gunners, who at the last moment had dived like rabbits into the shelters that had been dug out on the hillside. An officer from the headquarters of the crown prince explained to the correspondent the operations leading to the occupation of the region west of the river. The French positions here, from which the German operations on the east bank had been subjected to a flanking fire, were on Goose hill and in Cumieres wood with strongly fortified supporting points for infantry in the villages of Regnieville and Bethincourt. Every house had been converted into a miniature fortress by walling the cellars with masonry and cement and providing embrasures for machine guns and rifles. The position faced north and the flank was protected by the flooded river.

A frontal attack would have entailed heavy losses in charging up the steep slopes of the Goose ridge and Dead Man's hill, so the German leaders determined to attempt a flank attack. A surprise crossing was completely successful. Several columns were thrown across the river and Goose ridge was carried. Regnieville was surrounded and the French garrison surrendered several days later.

Resistance Broken.

The first heavy resistance was encountered in the ravine and in Cumiere woods. The resistance was finally broken and the defenders, whose escape was prevented by a curtain of fire of shrapnel behind the wood, were killed or captured almost to a man, fighting desperately to the last. The French counter-attack was delivered too hurriedly, only three battalions participating instead of a brigade as ordered by Gen. Petain.

The Germans then carried Dead Man's hill. The attack here then ceased and was transferred to Avocourt wood. This attack succeeded in the first rush. The French now hold only the sack like position two and a half miles wide and about the same depth, containing Hill No. 304. The contents of the sack are expected to pass into German possession when the period of artillery preparation has ended.

During the day the correspondent had an opportunity of interviewing a large number of French prisoners captured in Avocourt wood. They were surprised by the German tactics, which were based on artillery fire of such precision that the Germans were able to start their charge while the artillery was still playing on the French trenches, and to cover the greater part of the intervening ground before the guns shifted their range farther back from the commanding height near the bank of the Meuse.

Verdun Burns for Several Days.

The Associated Press representative was able today to survey the whole battle front north of Verdun. The background of the panorama was the burning city of Verdun with its squatty cathedral tower standing out amid the smoke. The barracks and other prominent buildings were easily discernible to the naked eye, as the distance was only ten miles. The city had been burning for several days and the fire apparently had almost burned itself out. Shells were dropping with ominous regularity in the vicinity of Fort Belleville on the extreme left of the picture.

Thence the view swept around, taking in the ridge crowned by Forts Marre and Bois Bourrus, which stood out plainly against the sky line, and the black masses of Bourrus forest, Goose ridge, Corbeaux wood, Dead Man's hill and the villages of Forges and Cumieres, to Forges wood and Montfaucon.

Bourrus forest, which probably contains many French artillery positions, was receiving considerable attention from the German heavy guns on that account. Pillars of black smoke spouted up continually like geysers from its depths as the Germans dropped shell after shell among the trees in their attempt to locate and silence the French cannon.

Fire More Intense.

The fire was still more intense in the region of Hill No. 304, half hidden behind Dead Man's hill, although even here it had not yet attained the scale of "drum fire" which is the usual preliminary to an assault.

The Frenchmen oddly enough are more impressed with the work of the German 15-centimeter guns, which pelt the trenches with a pitiless hail of shell, than with the effect of the big mortars whose missiles come at much greater intervals. Prisoners who had had a few days to recover from the demoralizing effect of the bombardment were in good spirits and professed the utmost confidence. They seemed to be devoted to their new commander, Gen. Petain and hold him in high regard. As is so frequently the case with prisoners, they declared the losses of their opponents were the heaviest, but the correspondent saw no evidence that the German casualties were excessive, although undoubtedly they now are heavier than during the earlier phases of the Verdun operations.

A feature of this visit to the front was the sight of "big Bertha" on the jealously guarded mortars on which the eyes of a neutral were permitted to rest for the first time. Every part of the gun was swathed and shrouded in tarpaulin, but its massive proportions betrayed plainly the manner of instrument hidden beneath.

This trip represented war correspondence de luxe, the party of correspondents traveling in a special sleeper to a point behind the fighting line, whence automobiles, piloted by one who is addressed as serene highness, conveyed the Associated Press correspondent to the advanced positions.

You Need Kryptok Glasses

Can you see distant objects clearly through your reading glasses? Or are you compelled to take them off every time you look at objects at a distance? Then you need Kryptok glasses.

Thousands of middle-aged men and women who need glasses for close work only are enduring the inconvenience of constantly removing and replacing their glasses and are straining their eyes when they look through their reading glasses at objects beyond three or four feet distance simply because they don't know about Kryptok Bifocals. Ask our Optometrist about these wonderful lenses.

There Are Many Uses For The Valuable Tonic-Stimulant Duffy's

COUGHS AND COLDS weaken the system and open the way for more serious ills if neglected. The prompt treatment of a cough or cold with Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as directed, usually brings relief and may often forestall grip and pneumonia.

BRAIN FAG is usually the results of overwork, causing mental and physical depression. The use of a mild tonic-stimulant such as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey stirs the vital organs to activity and helps the system to throw off the poisons accumulated in all parts of the body.

EMERGENCIES frequently arise (usually in the night when least expected) requiring immediate relief, and when a physician is not available. The use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in an emergency assures prompt relief as it is a stimulant made for medicinal use only. It is dependable—it is pure.

CONVALESCENCE or the period of recovery from illness is usually a trying experience. The system being in a run-down condition does not always respond with the desired effect. The use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as directed, assists in strengthening the system by its stimulating action and may be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

OLD AGE does not necessarily mean a state of feebleness. Nature's machine merely slows up in its work and the use of the mild tonic-stimulant Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, as directed, accelerates the vital functions to a healthy action, thereby assisting the stomach in its important duties.

TRAVELING is a pleasure to many, but the changes of climate, drinking water and food, sometimes affect the digestive organs and cause slight indispositions. Prompt relief is obtained by the mild stimulating action of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, if taken as directed. The traveler's bag should contain Duffy's.

"Get Duffy's and Keep Well"

Sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY. Beware of imitations.

NOTE Get Duffy's from your local druggist, grocer or dealer $1 per bottle. If he cannot supply you, write us. Send for useful household booklet free.

DELEGATES NAME THE ALTERNATES

Nearly All Republicans Have Filed; Bunnell Appoints Sievern Swanson.

St. Paul, Minn., March 31.—A majority of the twenty-four designations of alternates to be made by the Republican delegates have been filed with the secretary of state. Under the law, the four delegates-at-large and the twenty district delegates are required to appoint alternates, their names to be certified to the secretary of state and by him forwarded to the secretary of the Republican national committee. The procedure is, of course, the same relative to the twenty-four Democratic delegates.

L. A. Caswell, clerk of the state supreme court and manager of the Cummins campaign for delegates March 14, is out to be national committeeman again. Under the Minnesota statutes the alternates have a vote on committeeman. The rules recognize alternates only when acting for their principals because of the inability of the latter to act. Whether Caswell will have opposition remains to be seen.

Sam Y. Gordon, former lieutenant governor, has been appointed alternate by Jacob F. Jacobson. James S. Arneson and Charles Moos, lieutenants of Caswell, have also been appointed as alternates.

Milie Bunnell of Duluth has appointed Sievern Swanson of Moose Lake, Carlton county, as his alternate in the Eighth district. The other Eighth district delegate, Daniel M. Gunn of Grand Rapids, will appoint a Lake county Republican as his alternate. C. A. Albright of Brainerd, one of the Republican delegates in the Sixth, has named Farley A. Dare of Walker, Cass county, as his alternate.

Former Governor Eberhart, who polled the highest vote among the Republican candidates for delegate-at-large, will not be a candidate for chairman of the Minnesota delegation. Delegate Bunnell of Duluth, contrary to Twin City reports, is not a candidate for chairman. Those here qualified to speak for them stated that while neither was to be considered as a candidate, if the delegation should elect to voluntarily offer the honor to either, it would not, of course, be refused.

SILVER MEDAL GIVEN TO AMERICAN WOMAN

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Vienna, March 10.—Following numerous other honors and decorations conferred upon American women for their services in Austro-Hungary during the war, Emperor Francis Joseph has conferred the silver medal of the Red Cross on Mrs. Busser, wife of Ralph C. Busser, American consul at Trieste. The medal has been given for Mrs. Busser's valuable services in organizing a convalescent home near Littai, in Krain, in the South of Austria, the funds for which were contributed by another American woman, Countess Gasquet James of New York.

Ever since the outbreak of the war both Consul Busser and his wife have been unwearying in helping unfortunate victims of all nationalities, and especially the British residents of Trieste, who were interned by the Austrians, and their women and children who remained in the port.

Prosperity in Liverpool.

Liverpool, March 31.—As an evidence of the prosperity of Liverpool, it is announced that the free meals given to poor children in elementary schools now average less than 4,500 a week, as compared with 25,300 a year ago.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results. —Advertisement.

MOTORING WITH THE TOP DOWN.

PRODUCE IN ABUNDANCE

Shipments of Vegetables and Fruits Increasing; Prices Reasonable.

Louisiana Strawberries Are Feature—Cuban Grapefruit Expected Soon.

Virtually everything in the way of edibles is in abundance on the local produce market, and the general trend of prices is easier.

Shipments of fruits and vegetables from Pacific coast points are increasing and quotations are regarded as reasonable, averaging slightly lower than at this time last year. That is accounted for by good yields at all the producing points.

Louisiana strawberries are among the features on the market today, according to the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company, the Culbertson Bros. company and the Stacy-Merrill Fruit company. The first car of berries was received from there this week, and while their price is comparatively low for a starter, a reduction is predicted next week. Shipments will be heavier from now on. Orange prices are becoming firm as the California navel season nears its end. An advance is thought likely within the next few days. Dealers say that the sale of apples continues heavy, and supplies of some varieties are being cleaned up. In view of the cutting off of export trade, it is expected however that the movement will continue for nearly two months yet.

Cuban Grapefruit Coming.

The first car of Cuban grapefruit for the season is expected to arrive next week. As the quality of the fruit from that island is regarded as better than the Florida article, a good demand for it is expected.

Supplies of green vegetables are increasing and prices are materially lower than a year ago. Shipments are coming from Louisiana, Texas, Florida and California, and as the sources of supply draw nearer, quotations of everything in the vegetables list will work lower.

Potato prices are unchanged at 95 cents a bushel. Seed potatoes and onion sets are being offered by the trade for spring planting.

Eggs Drop Again.

With fresh eggs now selling at 21@23 cents a dozen, down 1 cent from last week, they are regarded as a cheap food product. Receipts are increasing with warmer weather, but no material change in quotations is thought likely in the near future.

Butter is quoted on the same basis as a week ago, according to the Bridgeman-Russell company. The best creamery product is selling at 36@38 cents a pound, with the next grade at 34 cents. It is interesting to note that butter is now 8 cents a pound higher than a year ago, and dealers do not look for any easing up in the market for some time yet. Though the make is increasing consumption has been so heavy that storage supplies in the East are becoming cleaned up. The New York butter market was up ½ cents yesterday, and taking conditions into consideration, predictions are being made in trade circles that the market will advance from its present level before any decline is recorded.

Declines in Meats.

Consequent upon the falling off in consumption during Lent, the market in fresh meats is easier all-round. Beef, veal and pork are off on an average 1 cent a pound today. Supplies of live stock are increasing at packing points and the outlet is comparatively limited.

GRAVES TO BE MARKED WITH WATTLE TREES

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Cairo, March 1.—When opportunity comes, the graves of the Australians buried in Gallipoli are to be marked with wattle trees brought from their native land. Meanwhile the American ambassador to Turkey has been asked to use his influence to see that the graves are not disturbed.

Before Gallipoli was evacuated, the planting of wattle trees around the burial mounds had already been decided on, and a quantity of young trees were sent from Australia for this purpose. The withdrawal of the British troops stopped the project.

The wattle trees are now being tended in Egypt, pending the time when they can be planted in their appointed place.

GREATEST PUBLISHER IN THE WORLD TODAY

Washington, March 31.—Congress is endeavoring to regulate the printing and distribution of the millions of documents turned out by the government each year so as to prevent their accumulation and storage here. During the last seven years 6,905,693 publications, estimated to have cost the government at least $8,500,000, were condemned as waste paper.

The government of the United States is today the greatest publisher in the world, no nation even approaching this country in the effort to enlighten its people by the printing of millions upon millions of public documents year after year.

PLOTTED TO BLOW CANAL

Husband of Johanna Gadski Under Arrest in New York.

Capt. Tauscher Charged With Conspiracy to Wreck Welland.

New York, March 31.—Capt. Hans Tauscher, said to be an officer in the Germany navy and reputed to be the head of the Tauscher Arms company of this city, as well as the American representative of the Krupp Gun works, was arrested here yesterday by Federal authorities on a warrant charging conspiracy. Capt. Tauscher is the husband of Johanna Gadski, the grand opera singer.

The warrant was sworn to by William M. Offley, a special agent of the department of justice. The complainant in the case also names Alfred A. Fritzen, who is not yet under arrest. It is charged that Tauscher and Fritzen, on Aug. 15, 1914, set on foot a military enterprise to be carried on from the United States against the Dominion of Canada, for the purpose of destroying or damaging the Welland canal. The defendants named are said to have paid four associates.

It also is alleged that the defendants obtained a large quantity of dynamite and other explosives and that on or about Sept. 14, 1914, all the defendants except Tauscher left New York carrying the dynamite in suitcases and proceeded by rail to Niagara Falls.

Sources of Information Secret.

Sources of information on which the complaint is based are kept secret for the stated reason that to disclose them would be contrary to public policy.

Tauscher was arrested at his office in this city and taken before United States Commissioner Haughton. He entered a plea of not guilty and was held under a bond of $25,000 for examination on April 15.

The arrest of Tauscher and the naming of Fritzen in the complaint are said to have been a direct result of the examination by Federal authorities here of Horst von Der Goltz.

The information furnished by von Der Goltz, it is said, completed a chain of evidence which Federal authorities have been welding against six men for a year and a half. Other arrests are expected soon.

From representatives of the department of justice here, it was learned that the plot in which Tauschler is alleged to have been implicated, was the first of several believed to have been originated in the United States and having as their purpose the destruction of the Welland canal.

In arraying the evidence against Tauscher, Federal agents said that soon after the war broke out, a party of six men purchased from an explosive company in this city a quantity of dynamite.

Dynamite From Ship.

The dynamite was taken at night in a trunk from a ship anchored near Gravesend bay. It is charged, the launch proceeding to a dock on the Hudson river in Harlem, where the dynamite was unloaded and taken in the cab to a boarding house in Manhattan.

There, it is asserted, the explosive was filled with fulminating caps and electrical devices for exploding them, after which it was packed in six suitcases, which the alleged conspirators took with them over the New York Central railroad to Buffalo and from there to Niagara Falls.

At this point the journey was interrupted for some reason which the Federal authorities decline to disclose at present and the party is said to have returned to this city with the dangerous baggage.

The plan to destroy the Welland canal, which resulted in the arrest and indictment of Paul Koenig, the officers said, had not direct connection with the case now under investigation. Information regarding Fritzen was withheld. It was said, however, that all six of the alleged conspirators are in the United States. The identity of the vessel from which the dynamite is said to have been taken was not disclosed, but it was declared she was not the German steamer Magdeburg, that for a long time after the war started was at anchor in Gravesend bay, with a cargo of dynamite.

Tauscher is understood to have asserted that he was not in the United States on the date the conspiracy is alleged to have been formed, and that he did not return until nine or ten days later.

SLATES MAY RETURN TO DULUTH SCHOOLS

SAYS CLERK OF BOARD

PAPER PRICES SOAR BECAUSE OF THE WAR

Slates may return to common use in Duluth schools, because paper prices are almost prohibitive.

Each year the board of education purchases about twenty tons of paper, used in tests, as stationery, and for a score of purposes, but directors are having a hard time in arranging for the 1916-1917 supply.

"The condition is critical," said C. A. Bronson, clerk of the board of education. "Prices are 20 per cent above what they were last year at this time, and there is a good prospect of further advances. Even at those quotations, it is practically impossible to be sure that any orders will be filled."

When Mr. Bronson asked local concerns to bid on the $3,000 or $4,000 paper contract, so that the committee on schools could make a recommendation to the general board of education, he was told that no one knew what the price would be, and that quotations could not be made.

One house said any contracts for delivery next year would be taken subject to whatever price prevailed when the order was filled. They could give no approximate date for delivery, they said.

"It is all blamed on the war," Mr. Bronson said. "Sulphites, used in bleaching and preparing paper, are brought to this country from Sweden, and the traffic in them has been hindered considerably by the trouble abroad."

There is enough paper on hand now to last the schools until next year, but the board of education is expected to take action at its meeting April 7, to guard against a shortage next September.

MOTHER! LOOK AT YOUR CHILD'S TONGUE

Give "California Syrup of Figs" If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Constipated---They love it

Watch Children Now! Guard Against Colds, Grippe, Sore Throat and Sickness by Keeping Liver and Bowels Free from Poisons

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has the grip or sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is ofttimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. See that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't merely ask for Syrup of Figs, but ask for "California Syrup of Figs." Remember, "California."—Advertisement.

RUSSIANS HELP IN RELIEF MEASURES

American Committee at Tiflis Reports Work Under Way.

New York, March 31.—Dr. James L. Barton, foreign secretary of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions and one of the chairmen of the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief, has just received a letter from George F. Gracey, an American board missionary, who was sent to Tiflis, Russia, to aid in distributing relief to the Armenian refugees in the Trans-Caucasus.

Mr. Gracey reached Tiflis, where Dr. F. W. Macallum, another of the board's representatives, had preceded him in mid-January. After a few days spent in arranging ways and means for distributing goods and planning for the shipment to them ofsupplies and further goods under contract, the two men, Messrs. Gracey and Macallum, went to Erivan, Etchmiadzin and the Nova-Bayazide region, which they were caring for when the letter was written.

Mr. Gracey says: "One is struck with the kindness and philanthropy of the Russian government. Here in all these regions are numerous refugees who have come from an enemy country, yet the government, day by day, allows a certain sum per head and contributes large amounts of money for the Armenian orphans. It has also, I understand, begun to reconstruct the towns which had been destroyed, but which the Russians now occupy. It is one of the bright things on this trip to see the high ideals that prompt the Russian government in the efforts to succor the needy and at the same time do what is just and right for its own people.

"The Armenians of this region, too, had responded nobly to the claims laid upon them by their suffering people. What they have accomplished is really remarkable and the large amount of money they have given has exceeded all expectations; while the business-like way in which they have distributed their funds is very commendable."

MUMMIFIED BODY OF YOUNG WOMAN FOUND

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

The Hague, March 12.—An interesting find has been made in Drente, the least populated province of the Netherlands, where the soil consists almost wholly of moor and fen land. The principal industry in those parts is peat cutting, and it was during this operation that workmen came across the mummified body of a young woman which by the peculiar chemical action of the soil had been well preserved, although it presented a shriveled and blackened leather-like appearance. From certain articles of apparel and ornaments found on the body, archaeological experts have pronounced it to be 1,700 years old. Round the throat was a kind of handkerchief, knotted in a way that suggested a violent death. Learned professors recall this passage from Tacitus where he describes the customs of the tribes that inhabited the low plains of Northern Europe in those remote times: Ignavos et imbelles et corpore infames coeno ac palude, injecta insuper crate, mergunt: (The cowardly, the unwarlike, and those dishonored in body they sunk in a morass and placed hurdles upon them.)

IS RICH IN RESOURCES

Real Central America Described By Agent of Commerce Department.

Prospects for American Capital and American Trade Discussed.

Washington, March 31. — Central America as it really is, as a thriving and progressive section of our hemisphere, rich beyond measure in resources that have only been scratched, is the subject of a new hand book issued today by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, of the department of commerce. Romantic soldiers of fortune and exciting revolutions have been entirely overlooked by the author, Garrard Harris, who, however, has furnished interesting reading in his stories of the agricultural, industrial, and commercial revolutions that have brought about so many important changes in Central America in recent years.

The author is concerned largely with the prospects for American trade and American capital in this promising region, which actually covers more square miles than the combined area of the whole of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland and Ohio. He finds that we already sell about 50 per cent of the goods imported, but is strongly of the opinion that a much bigger percentage of the business should be done by Americans as a result of present opportunities. To make the most of these opportunities, however, Mr. Harris declares it will be necessary to invest more capital in the republics, to extend more liberal credits, to improve banking facilities for export trade, and to make more direct and personal efforts in the markets.

Trade With Guatemala.

American trade with Guatemala is an example of what investments in a foreign country can do toward promoting trade with that country. American capital has been invested freely in the banana industry in Guatemala and practically all the supplies needed by the fruit companies and their employes have been imported from the United States. A very cordial feeling has been developed in Guatemala toward the United States. The desire for a closer social and commercial relationship between the two countries is evident. Many of the younger generation are being educated in the United States instead of in Europe, as formerly, and the number of young people who speak English and have acquired an understanding of the American point of view is steadily increasing. The value of trade as a means of bringing nations closer socially and politically is too seldom taken into consideration, in the opinion of Mr. Harris.

Among the many subjects discussed in connection with the methods to be employed in seeking Central America trade is that of language. Letters addressed to Central America dealers should be put into good Spanish by some person thoroughly educated in the language and familiar with the best forms of business correspondence. Technical terms and Americanisms should be avoided. The harm that some of our innocent Americanisms can do abroad is well illustrated by the fate of the brand of condensed milk which bore the notice "Made at our plant." To the English-speaking population of British Honduras this meant that the milk was artificial and made from a plant. They would have nothing to do with it. The label was changed and the brand is now popular. Such Americanisms are probably even more mystifying to the Spanish-speaking population.

Describes Each Country.

The report takes up each Central American country in turn and describes its physical features and climate, the character of the population, and the means of communication. It then takes up the agricultural, timber, and mining resources and the manufacturing industries, and follows this by a general description of the government, a sketch of the banking syytem, and a statistical study of the foreign trade. The section devoted to each country is closed by an outline of the future prospects of trade and business in that country, and a list of specific commercial openings. There are three appendices: The first, a description of a practical route through Central America for commercial travelers; the second, regulation affecting commercial travelers, and the third, a list of publications concerning Central America.

The exact title of the new hand book is "Central America as an Export Field," special agents' series No. 113. It contains 229 pages, including seven half-tone illustrations and one map, and is for sale at the nominal price of 30 cents, by the district offices of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce and by the superintendent of documents, government printing office, Washington.

$20 spring suits only $11.25 at the "3 Winners" removal sale.

NECESSITY FOR THRIFT IS URGED

Lenten Pastoral Letters of Irish Roman Catholic Bishops.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Dublin, March 15.—The Irish Roman Catholic bishops, in their Lenten pastoral letters, direct attention to the necessity for thrift and for raising as much foodstuffs as possible on the farms. There are frequent allusions to the war in the pastorals, the most emphatic exhortation to recruiting appearing in the letter of the bishop of Tuam, Dr. Healy, who hopes that while the people will till their fields they will also be ready to fight for them against all comers, especially against the Germans. "Irishmen are able to fight," he writes, "as they have well proved on every battlefront in Europe. They do not want their fertile acres seized by the foe. What is to save them but the strong arms and courageous hearts of the Irish people and their allies?" He hopes that they will rally to the flag, "not by compulsion or coercion, but from a sense of duty as becomes free men."

Cardinal Logue speaks of the war as "not only the greatest and most destructive war in history, but a war that seems to have stirred to their lowest depths the worst and most depraved of human passions. The distinction between soldier and civilian seems to be ignored. Even neutrals and their property are no longer immune from destruction. Peaceful citizens traveling by sea with their wives and children are sent to the bottom without warning. Men, old and young, helpless women and innocent children, often in their beds at night, are made victims of a sudden and terrible death."

The bishop of Limerick in his pastoral, predicts that the war will leave the world in a condition of direct poverty, and speaks of the storm which will break over European society when the war is over. "If anyone thinks," he says, "that the millions of working men trained to arms in Europe will settle down peaceably to starvation at the end of the war in order to help to reamass fortunes for their 'betters,' he may have a rude awakening."

TOURIST SEASON IN HAVANA HEAVY

Most Prosperous That the Cuban Capital Has Ever Seen.

Havana, March 21.—The tourist season now drawing to a close has been by far the most prosperous that Havana has ever seen, the number of visitors from the United States exceeding by thousands that of any previous year and taxing to their utmost capacity the steampship lines from New York, Key West and New Orleans. This has been due in part to the attractions of the fine racing track, inaugurated last year at Marianao under unfavorable weather conditions, but in the main to the closing of all the European resorts and the serious interference of traffic with the other West Indian islands due to the withdrawal of the German and British tourist steamers.

During the height of the rush southward all the hotels in Havana were so crowded that many visitors were compelled to find shelter for the night aboard the ships on which they arrived. This has given rise to a renewal of the long discussed project of the erection in Havana of at least one tourist hotel of magnificient proportions and of various other plans to increase the attractions of the city. Several excellent hotel sites are available, but it would hardly be possible to complete a building by the beginning of next year and fears are expressed that should the war come to a conclusion the rush of tourist traffic would instantly set Europeward and so continue for years to come.

AUSTRIAN OFFICER ARRESTED IN JAPAN

Traveling as Swiss Merchant and Refused to Explain Mission.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Yokohama, Japan, Feb. 10.—Capt. von Moraveck, an Austrian artillery officer, was arrested here as he was stepping from the Japanese steamer Tamba Maru, which had just arrived from Seattle. He was escorted to the naval station at Yokosuka for an inquiry by court-martial, and later sent to a detention camp.

According to the police, the Austrian was traveling under the name of Guegenin, describing himself as a Swiss merchant. Later he admitted his identity as an Austrian officer who was wounded at the front and taken prisoner by the Russians last April. Sent to Siberia, he succeeded in escaping from the concentration camp and making his way through Manchuria, he arrived at Tien-tsin where he is alleged to have obtained a passport from the acting Swiss consul at that place. He succeeded in returning to Austria, but departed from his country and proceeded to New York by way of Amsterdam. He refused to explain his mission to the Japanese authorities.

CITY OF METZ TO ADOPT DESERTED BABY BOY

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Metz, Germany, March 10.—A Metz company of reservists—most of them middle-aged and the heads of families—who recently found a 1½-year-old baby boy lying near their trench in the east, probably left by some mother driven from her home by the Russians in retreating, adopted the infant on sight. The reservists chose the kaiser's birthday as the opportune time to christen the lad, and bestowed on him the name of Wilhelm Metz. The city of Metz, it is understood, intends officially to adopt the child and provide for its education and rearing.

THE POPULATION OF IRELAND INCREASING

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Dublin, March 15.—The return just issued by the registrar general for Ireland shows that the population of Ireland increased last year by 9,452. This follows on an increase of 7,118 during the year 1914. There has been a decrease of births in proportion to population of 6 per cent, and an increase of 2 per cent in the deaths. The increase in the population is due entirely to the diminution in emigration. Emigration in 1914 was 34 per cent less than in 1913, and in 1915 there was a decrease of 50 per cent on the 1914 figures. The increase of population first noted in 1914 and now continued, is the record of increase since the days of the great famine of 1848.

REFUSE TO ANSWER HOLT

Culver Post Members Would Avoid Controversy Over Clapp Invitation.

Veteran Insists That Senator Has Not Been Officially Invited.

Whether United States Senator Moses E. Clapp has been "officially invited" to deliver the Memorial day address for the Grand Army veterans of Duluth on May 30 still seems to be an open question.

Charles Evans Holt, G. A. R. veteran who is strenuously opposing the invitation to Senator Clapp and who declares that the request which was sent to the senator by Dr. J. D. Budd was unauthorized, today stocked up with some fresh ammunition for his side of the battle.

But it takes two sides to make a fight and maybe there won't be any battle after all. Officers of J. B. Culver post were inclined to ignore the matter today and declined "to mix in any political controversy." They would not answer Mr. Holt in any way.

"Comrade Holt is entitled to his opinion, but I consider it beneath the dignity of the post to engage in any controversy with him," said one officer who would not permit his name to be used.

Mr. Holt's Letter.

Mr. Holt's letter to The Herald was as follows:

"To the Editor of The Herald

"As Adjt. La Vague has raised a question of understanding between himself and me, I would ask your space for a further brief statement of facts as to the 'official' invitation to Senator Clapp. The meeting of March 11 was informal. There were present five, possibly six, comrades. The question of a speaker came up after other business was concluded. Senator Clapp's name was mentioned. One of the comrades said that he was a personal friend of the senator's, and the chairman of the post committee said, 'Well, supposing you write him and see if he can come,' to which the comrade said that he would. It was also said at this meeting, 'Of course, we cannot give him an official invitation. The Citizens' staff does that, but then, they always invite whoever the comrades agree upon.'

"No objection being made at the time, it was taken as by common consent (of four comrades). What the comrade wrote to Senator Clapp, I do not know. Afterwards objection was made to Senator Clapp's coming and the same comrade whom the adjutant says authorized the comrade to officially invite Senator Clapp, authorized me to write to Senator Nelson and gave me a stamped envelope to put the letter in.

"There are two posts of the G. A. R. besides the Citizens staff concerned in the program for Memorial day. Is it likely under these circumstances that an official invitation could or would be given by any of our comrades two months before Memorial day, especially without consulting a greater number of comrades. (Signed)

"CHARLES EVANS HOLT."

Mr. Holt also secured the following letter from T. F. Upham, president of the Citizens' staff concerning the matter:

"Mr. Charles Evans Holt, Duluth, Minn.

"My dear Mr. Holt: I have your favor of even date in regard to Senator Clapp. I was surprised to see the announcement in the paper as Dr. Wilson had told me the exact situation as outlined in your letter. PAVEMENT WORK TO BEGIN MAY 1

Early Start Planned to Prevent Tie-up in the Fall.

Active work on the new pavements to be laid this year will begin about May 1, according to Commissioner Farrell.

Contractors, he said, are now waiting for favorable weather, and all work will commence at the earliest possible moment, so that there will be no tie-ups in the fall such as occurred last year. Street repairs and maintenance work will begin at the same time, Commissioner Farrell announced today.

Although the West First street contract is the only one awarded thus far, it is expected that the other awards will be made by the time the frost is out of the grounds and the weather is favorable for paving work.

Within the next two weeks bids will be advertised for on paving Fifth avenue west from Superior street to the courthouse; Nineteenth avenue east, from Fourth to Eighth street; Twentieth avenue east, from Fifth to Eighth street; Twenty-first avenue east, from Superior to Fourth street; Restormel street, from Grand to Michigan avenue, and Twenty-second avenue west, from Superior to Third street.

Next Tuesday bids will be opened on paving Superior street, from Sixteenth to Twenty-third avenue east.

STEENERSON EXPLAINS GASOLINE MEASURE

Washington, March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Congressman Steenerson of Minnesota, author of the bill giving the Federal trade commission authority to prescribe a maximum wholesale price for gasoline, today appeared before the committee on interstate and foreign commerce and made a short explanation of his measure, and was informed by the committee that the bill had been sent to the Federal trade commission and to the department of commerce for a report thereon, and that as soon as these reports are received the committee would be glad to hear him further. It is expected that this will be within a week or ten days.

HALF MILLION IN BUILDING

First Three Months of 1916 Show Big Increase.

Permit for Morgan Park School, Costing $116,000, Issued.

Buildings and construction work authorized for the first three months of this year passed the half million dollar mark, exceeding the first three months of 1915 by nearly $200,000, according to the March report which Building Inspector Kielley will submit tomorrow to Mayor Prince.

During March a total of 111 permits was issued for construction work estimated at $233,525, but $50,000 behind the total for January and February, while in March of last year there were 172 permits issued for work estimated at $159,125.

From Jan. 1 of this year until noon today, a total of 245 permits was issued for work costing $519,430, as compared with $338,927 within the same period a year ago, or a difference of $180,503.

This morning Inspector Kielley issued a permit for the construction of the Morgan Park school by the board of education at a cost of $116,000.

The estimated cost of improvements authorized during January and February, when 134 permits were issued, is $286,905, as compared to $233,525 for the month of March alone.

This indicates a record-breaking building year for Duluth, said Inspector Kielley in commenting on his report this morning.

NINE MORE WALKS TO BE AUTHORIZED

Additions Will Be Made to Regular Improvement Program.

Nine more plank and cement sidewalks will be authorized by the city commissioners at the council meeting next Monday.

Since the 119 cement and 53 plank walks were ordered three weeks ago, several petitions have been received by Commissioner Farrell from property owners in various parts of the city, requesting sidewalks not included in the general improvement program. After an investigation, the works head has decided to order those next Monday.

The nine additional sidewalks to be authorized by the council follow:

Cement.

On the north side of Halifax street, from Fortieth avenue west to a point 100 feet west.

On the east side of Fourteenth avenue east, from London road to South street.

On the east side of Thirtieth avenue east, from Greysolon road to Superior street.

On the west side of Twelfth avenue east from Fourth street to Fifth alley.

Plank.

On the north side of Seventh street, from Sixteenth avenue east to a point 150 feet east.

On the east side of Seventeenth avenue east, from Seventh street to Eighth alley.

On the west side of Seventieth avenue west, from Waseca street to a point 75 feet south.

On the south side of Cooke street, from Forty-first to Forty-second avenue east.

On the east side of Forty-second avenue east, from Gladstone to Cooke street.

DIES AT IRONWOOD.

Young Man Who Came There to Take Job, Pneumonia Victim.

Ironwood, Mich., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—William A. Murley died of pneumonia at the home of his brother, E. W. Murley. He was 20 years of age. He came here from Shullsburg, Wis., two weeks previous to his death to take a position with the Oliver Iron Mining company. He contracted a heavy cold before coming here which developed into pneumonia. He was the youngest son of Mrs. J. H. Murley, who came here to nurse him during his illness, also his sisters, Misses Eva and Florence Murley, and a brother, Hal Murley of Platteville, Wis. Another brother, John Murley, is in the U. S. navy. The remains were taken to Shullsburg, Wis., for interment.

Missionaries Warned.

Amoy, China, March 31.—Lester Maynard, United States consul at Amoy, has notified the Mennonite missionaries in this bailiwick, the southern portion of Fo-Kien province, to be ready to come to Amoy at a moment's notice.

GRIDIRON STAR WORKS FROM BOTTOM UP

Youngstown, Ohio, March 31.—Charles Barrett, star Cornell quarterback and the virtually unanimous choice of critics for the "all-American" football team, is working as a common laborer in the open hearth department of the Republic Iron & Steel company here.

It is Barrett's desire to learn the steel business from the ground up and he has taken his present job in order to familiarize himself with details of manufacture.

AUTO MAKERS TO PRODUCE GASOLINE

New York, March 31.—Manufacturers of automobiles connected with the National Automobile chamber of commerce announced today their decision to incorporate a company with an "ultimate capital of from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000" to produce gasoline and other products of petroleums with the purpose of "demonstrating that gasoline can be produced and sold at a profit at a price somewhat lower than now prevailing and within the means of all users of automobiles and motor boats."

GOOD POETRY NOT POPULAR.

Henry Seidel Canby in Harper's Magazine: The man in the trolley car, the woman in the rocking chair, the clerk, the doctor, the manufacturer, most lawyers and some ministers would, if their hearts were opened, give simply a categorical negative. They do not like poetry, or they think they do not like it; in either case with the same result.

The rhythm annoys them (little wonder, since they usually read it as prose), the rhyme seems needless, the inversions, the compressions perplex their minds to no valuable end. Speaking honestly, they do not like poetry. And if their reason is the old one,

"I do not like you, Doctor Fell;
The reason why I cannot tell."

it is none the less effective.

Here in America especially, when we like poetry, we like it none too good. The "old favorites" are almost all platitudinous in thought and monotonous in rhythm. We prefer sentiment and have a weakness for slush. Pathos seems to us better than tragedy, anecdote than wit. Longfellow was and is, except in metropolitan centers, our favorite "classical" poet.

The truth is that many of the intelligent in our population skip poetry in their reading just because it is poetry. They read no poetry, or they read bad poetry occasionally, or they read good poetry badly.

Raincoats only $5 at the "3 Winners" removal sale.

"IT'S A LONG WAY."

Kansas City Star: The little girl was a fourth grade pupil whose teacher asked the class what composed a river system. Emily answered:

"The main stem and all its Tipperaries!"

That's the purpose of this shop. For years you were compelled to pay higher prices for the very same garments which we now offer. You did it simply because the ground floor stores had to get $10.00 extra to pay for their big ground floor rents. They tacked on the $10.00 extra and you have always paid it. COMPLIMENTS JURY FOR FAITHFULNESS

Judge Cant Makes Unusual Comment on Work Done.

District court jurors serving at the March term were exceptionally complimented for their services by Judge Cant yesterday afternoon when he dismissed thirty of them from further service at this time.

"The service of the jurors at this term has been quite satisfactory," he said. "We do not always say this. We say it only when we mean it, and this is one of the occasions when it may be fairly so said.

"The jurors at this term of court have evidently tried in good faith to do the kind of service that we like to have them do—straightforward, honest work, using good sense and dispatching the business with reasonable promptness.

"I mention this so that you may know that we appreciate it. It is very important that this sort of work be done and we thank you for your service. It is co-operation in the right spirit that we want to accomplish in these cases, so that men who are unable to adjust their differences may appeal to the courts with confidence that their disputes will receive conscientious and careful attention."

Few jury cases remain for trial at the present term of court.

SMALL VERDICT AGAINST THE CITY

A verdict of $175 was returned against the city of Duluth in favor of Mrs. Sadie Richards by a jury in Judge Cant's division of the district court yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Richards and her husband, Harry Richards, jointly sued the city for damages aggregating $2,283 for personal injuries alleged to have been received in an automobile accident on the First street bridge over Chester creek. Richards and his wife were thrown out of their automobile when it struck an obstruction which had been left in the street.

The accident occurred on Nov. 15 last. The two cases were tried together, but the jury found a verdict against the city only in the case of Mrs. Richards.

Take to Pipe Smoking.

Vienna, March 31.—Owing to the shortage of cigarettes and cigars, the people of Vienna are taking to smoking pipes, which have never before attained any considerable popularity here. For some time past, it has been practically impossible to get cigarettes in Austria, although the supply for the army seems unlimited.

DULUTH BOY WINS ORATORICAL HONORS

Takes Second Place in Minnesota Intercollegiate Prohibition Contest.

Vincent Fitzgerald of Duluth, a junior in the University of Minnesota, won second place in the oratorical contest of the Minnesota Intercollegiate Prohibition association at the convention in Minneapolis Wednesday night. His oration was on "Prohibition and the Press."

Nine schools were represented in the oratorical contest in which Mr. Fitzgerald represented the University of Minnesota. The first place was won by Lester N. Neulen of St. Olaf college. Prizes of $50, $15 and $10 were given. Oscar Wehus of Augsburg seminary won third place.

CHEAPER TIRES FOR MESSENGER BOYS

Messenger boys will save between $50,000 and $75,000 annually through the Western Union Telegraph company, which has just closed a deal for the largest order of bicycle tires ever placed, to be sold to the messengers at cost.

About 5,000 of the 8,200 messenger boys employed by the company ride bicycles. They are able to earn from 50 cents to $1.50 more a week in commissions because of their vehicle, but war prices on rubber have increased their expenses so that all the profits have been wiped out.

The company solved the problem by the wholesale purchase of tires, which will enable the boys to buy them at a considerable saving. The step was taken when a company official who once was a messenger consulted a boy about the cost of his bicycle.

Duluth's allotment of supplies will be furnished to local boys as needed, according to Edward F. Kelley, local district manager.

LINDBERGH IS TO FILE FOR SENATE

Whether Clapp Will Seek Re-Election Not Definitely Known.

The Minneapolis Journal says that Congressman Charles A. Lindbergh will file for United States senator within the next few days. Positive information to this effect reached the Journal yesterday.

Whether Senator Moses E. Clapp is to file for re-election is not definitely known. It is believed that Mr. Lindbergh knows the senator's intentions. That strengthens the probability that Clapp is not to file, but friends of Clapp in the Twin Cities still believe he will be in the race.

Mr. Lindbergh has been sounding sentiment over the state for some time. The preliminary organization he had built up on which to run for governor will be made use of, and one of the first moves will be to extend it into the Twin Cities, where little has been done so far to place him before the voters.

The senatorial race promises to be spectacular. Frank B. Kellogg will return about April 1 from California, and his opening meeting will be at Rochester, his old home, in about a month. Plans are being made at Rochester to put on a big, old-fashioned rally on that occasion.

A. O. Eberhart has entered the race and at least three able campaigners will be in the field, any one of them given a chance for the prize.

There was a rumor that Justice Oscar Hallam of the supreme court also would be a candidate for senator, but he denied it yesterday, expressing the view that a man holding a political position should not be a candidate for a political office.

CHESTNUT BLIGHT NOW WIDESPREAD

Washington, March 31.—From obscure beginnings in Eastern New York about twelve years ago, the chestnut blight has swept into nineteen states, and now affects about all the northern half of American native chestnut stands, doing damage estimated at close upon $50,000,000. The Federal and state governments are endeavoring to check the disease.

DULUTH'S SCHOOL SYSTEM

Being a Review of Some Facts About the Community's Most Important Business—No. 5—First Six Years of Child's School Life.

In the first six years of a child's school life, he is supposed to be taught to think for himself, to reason things out, and to use his imagination.

Methods vary in different schools, and most schools are constantly making minor changes in their course of study, so as to fit in better with the needs of the children, and so as to make it more workable for the teacher.

Eastern schools and Eastern educators have different methods than their Western brothers, and the Western method is used here. The difference is not a marked one, but the Western is more direct, more practical, it is believed. The aim is to teach a child to be an independent thinker, to speak directly, and in a way that will be understood.

The three "R's" are made the basis of the early work, and of the three, reading is perhaps the most important. Under the junior high school system, which is used in Duluth schools, teachers believe that a child should be able to think for himself and that he is ready to branch out in new work, by the time he is 12 years old.

Six-year Unit.

That is why the first six years are made the first unit, for when the average child is ready to enter the seventh grade, he is 12 years of age. Beginning with the seventh grade, or the first year of the junior high school, every effort is made to bring out the individuality of the pupil. Elective courses are given, so that the pupil may express his preference, and take the work that is most interesting to him.

Each year an attempt is made to make the course of study more suitable to the needs of the students, more helpful and workable for the teachers. Supt. Denfeld decided upon a revision of the course of study at the beginning of the last school year.

In his own words: "We wished to make the course as comprehensive and as clear as possible, wishing at the same time to teach those things that were fundamental and give sufficient drill so that the work of one grade would be distinct and incidentally reviewed in the succeeding grade."

Committees were appointed and each grade was represented on each committee. The subject was studied comprehensively under three divisions: Aim, method and material. First, the teachers tried to learn what was actually being done in daily work, and then they tried to work out a simpler and more direct route to the same goal.

Reading, arithmetic and English were treated in this way, and language, grammar, history and geography are being taken up, or will be considered.

At the beginning of the last school year, the well-known Montessori system was tested in the Bryant school. Equipment, including the "house of childhood," was purchased, and the primary pupils were instructed in accordance with that system. Results were not satisfactory during the first year, at least, according to Supt. Denfeld's subsequent report.

Teachers now are centering their efforts upon an attempt to interest the boy in grammar as much as he is in his other studies. By a close study of sentence structure, they hope to develop a knowledge of grammar. So far they have found that they were able to cause quite a little rivalry and enthusiasm in analyzing sentences.

Text Book Teaching.

The text book does not always present the facts of grammar so that the child can make the application, and practical demonstration is necessary to make the picture clear.

The B first grade is the largest of any in the schools, and from then on each class becomes smaller, until the twelfth grade, or senior class in high school, numbers 239. These figures are taken from a census made in January.

The kindergarten had 824 pupils at that time. The B first had 1,526. A first grade classes included only 577 pupils, and the B second jumped to 1,112. In each year the B class is larger than the A class by from 30 to 200 per cent.—R. D. McC.

California Raisins.

Washington, March 31.—California now produces about three times as many raisins yearly as Spain, the home of the raisin industry. Growth of the American raisin industry has reduced raisin imports from 38,000,000 pounds in 1885 to less than 3,000,000 pounds last year when California produced 250,000,000 pounds.

DEGREES TO BE CONFERRED

Scottish Rite Announces Program for Annual Reunion.

Many New Members to Attend Meetings During Holy Week.

The annual reunion of members of the Scottish Rite, which always takes place during holy week, has already been planned by the officers of the various bodies of the order, and will begin on Monday, April 17, and end on the following Thursday evening with the Maundy Thursday banquet.

Many new members of the rite will witness the conferring of degrees during the four days of the reunion, for the winter class of 1916 has been receiving degrees ever since Jan. 20, when the first of the degrees of the Lodge of Perfection were conferred, and the work has been continued each Thursday night since. The thirtieth degree, conferred last night, closed the work to be done before the reunion.

The reunion will begin at 10:30 on the morning of April 17 with work by the Lodge of Perfection, and the end of the reunion will come with the banquet, which will close with the beautiful ceremony of extinguishing the lights. The candles will be relighted on Easter Sunday afternoon under direction of H. W. Cheadle, wise master of A. T. C. Pierson chapter, Knights Rose Croix, and the officers of the chapter.

Candidates are asked to be at the temple for the necessary preliminary work from 10:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. on Monday. From 2:30 to 5:30 p. m. there will be the work and communication for the fifth degree, presided over by C. A. Bronson.

At 8 p. m. the fourteenth degree will be conferred by officers of North Star Lodge of Perfection No. 6.

On Tuesday morning the fifteenth degree will be conferred, with Burr Porter presiding. Beginning at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, sixteenth and seventeenth degrees will be worked, in the evening the eighteenth degree will be conferred.

On Wednesday, Zenith council of Kadosh will hold communication at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. At 10 a'clock the twenty-first degree will be worked, which will be followed by communication at 11:30 a. m. Beginning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon the twenty-fifth degree will be conferred. The Two Harbors brethren will assist in this work. In the evening the thirtieth degree will be conferred.

On Maundy Thursday morning the thirty-first degree will be worked. In the afternoon, R. B. Knox presiding, the thirty-second degree will be conferred. Music will be provided by the Temple band, led by Charles Helmer, and the Scottish Rite quartet, under the direction of A. F. M. Custance, who has general supervision of the musical program.

The Feast Obligatory for Knights Rose Croix will begin at 6:30 p. m., and the mystic lights will be extinguished, not to be lighted until Easter Sunday at 3 p. m., in the auditorium of the Masonic temple.

Eleven members of the spring class of the Scottish Rite received the thirtieth degree at the Masonic temple last night. C. W. Stilson was the presiding officer and conferred the degrees.

PROSPERITY BANQUET HELD

Superior Commercial Club Is Host at Unique Celebration.

Telephone Conversations Carried on With Notables in San Francisco.

Superior, last evening, held its most enthusiastic gathering of the last ten years.

The occasion was the "prosperity banquet," staged by the Superior Commercial club, at the Superior hotel in celebration of the reopening of the shipyards and the operation of the Duluth steel plant and was attended by 425 representative business and professional men from both Duluth and Superior. The feature of the banquet was the transcontinental demonstration of the Bell telephone, which was used by the speakers in talking to prominent men at San Francisco, Los Angeles and Sacramento, Cal., including Governor Hiram Johnson of California.

Each guest at the banquet was furnished with a telephone receiver and the transcontinental conversations were heard distinctly, while the roar of the surf near the Cliff house in San Francisco was also audible to the diners. The last is arranged by means of a special device at the Cliff house and while the huge waves are heard beating against the rocks, motion pictures were thrown on a screen, showing the famous resort, the seals on the huge rocks near the Cliff house and scenes along the Presidio. The entire program was a most novel one and was enthusiastically received by the several hundred diners.

Duluthians Attend.

A large number of Duluthians attended the "prosperity banquet," in appreciation of the courtesy shown by the Superior club in celebrating the opening of the local steel plant. Among the principal speakers of the evening was G. A. Tomlinson of Duluth, president of the Tomlinson company and of the Superior Shipbuilding company.

The management of the Superior hotel was commended by the diners for the service given during the evening and at the close of the banquet an ovation was given John Magnuson, formerly of the Spalding hotel, and at present manager of the Superior hostelry.

The program began with an introductory talk by Judge Frank A. Ross, toastmaster, after which he introduced F. M. McInery of Milwaukee, commercial superintendent of the Wisconsin Telephone company, who spoke on the triumph of the transcontinental telephone, and gave views of the lines from New York to San Francisco. He then talked with the managers of the branch lines at Chicago, Omaha, Denver, Salt Lake City, Winnemucca and San Francisco.

Talk Across Continent.

After Mr. McInery had finished, the telephones again began to ring and the transcontinental conversations began. The first was between S. A. Buchanan, manager of the Superior Telegram, at the local end, who talked with J. T. Murphy, publisher of the newspaper, who is now at the Lankershim hotel in Los Angeles. Each phone talk lasted five minutes.

J. A. Murphy, prominent Superior attorney, was the next on the program, but owing to the fact that he was called to Chicago suddenly yesterday afternoon, his conversation with R. L. Donnelly of Los Angeles, president of the Wisconsin Society of California, was cancelled.

The remaining telephonic conversations follow:

H. E. Speakes, president of the Superior Commercial club, with President Mitchell of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Olaf Johnson, chief of the Superior fire department and a member of the Rotary club, with President Lleter of the Los Angeles Rotary club.

Judge F. A. Ross of Superior with Governor Hiram Johnson of California, at Sacramento, Cal.

H. W. Dietrich, Superior attorney, with Edward Rainey, secretary to Mayor Rolf of San Francisco.

J. W. McGivern, district manager of the Northwestern Life Insurance company in Superior, with Clarence Smith, secretary of the Commonwealth club, Northwestern Life Insurance company in San Francisco.

George B. Hudnall of Superior, with Frank Cornish, secretary of the Wisconsin society of San Francisco.

W. F. Hallitrisch, manager for the telephone company in Superior, with C. W. Burkett of San Francisco.

Tells of Industrial Growth.

G. A. Tomlinson of Duluth, gave the diners much cheer by his promises of renewed industry at the shipyards. He told them that at the present time 300 men are at work in the yards, constructing new ships, and that within a month, 500 more men will be put on. It was the first after dinner speech Mr. Tomlinson has given at the Head of the Lakes, and he surprised his friends who had not suspected his abilities along this line. H. W. Dietrich of Superior, who also spoke, urged the business men to organize industries and aid in the commercial and industrial growth of the city.

Following these talks the diners heard "On Wisconsin" played on a victrola in San Francisco and later the roar of the surf near the Cliff house. Motion pictures of scenes in San Francisco, followed by several comedy films, closed the entertainment.

SOPHIE IRENE LOEB.

State Senator George Thompson of New York, who is at the head of the legislative committee investigating transit and other public service in New York, has recommended to Governor Whitman that he appoint Sophie Irene Loeb, a member of the commission for the lower part of the state. Miss Loeb has been a writer on the subject of child welfare and other public questions for many years and has done much public work. Senator Thompson says she knows more about public service questions than any man he knows. There is one vacancy on the commission to be filled.

WEATHER WEAKENS ICE IN HARBOR

Stretch of Open Water Shows Near Duluth Entry.

The continued warm weather of the past week, has begun to rot the ice in the harbor, close to the entrance, but elsewhere it is solid enough. The warmth has merely aided the current which never ceases to flow at that point, with the result that there is now quite a stretch of open water just inside the entrance, and extending westward even with the Fifth avenue west dock. Until there is a break in the lake ice, and space is made outside, it is not expected that there will be much change inside the harbor, for the harbor ice has no place to drift to, and with a solid lock outside, there is a minimum of wave action.

Should the off-shore winds get in their work now, and break up the ice that lies just outside for a stretch of fifteen miles, the harbor ice would likely begin to break up and drift out; but the lake ice seems impervious to the warmth that is working on the inner field, and remains solid.

The inspection of steamers is going on in this harbor now, but there does not appear to be much haste, and the government inspectors are well up with the work of preparing as carried on by the employes of the various steamers. Should there come a break in the ice conditions, the work of preparing the vessels for the trade would speed up and the government inspectors would have much more to do.

Take This for Lagrippe Coughs.

The danger of la grippe lies in its tendency to develop pneumonia, and the March death record from pneumonia is appalling. Stop your cold before it reaches the danger point, and take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Mr. W. P. Bowen, Jimps, Ga., writes: "I had a terrible attack of la grippe, aches and pains all over my body, and a dry hacking la grippe cough. I began taking Foley's Honey and Tar, and when I had taken one bottle my cough was cured, my cold was well." Sold everywhere.

CARRIERS' TRAVELING COMMISSIONER HERE

R. A. Harrison of Cleveland, traveling commissioner of the Lake Carriers' association, was in the city yesterday on business with the office of the association here. He was guest all day of the local commissioner, Robert Macfarlane, and left last night for local lake ports. Mr. Harrison said that his trip had no particular significance, as he is visiting all points served by the Lake Carriers' in preparation for the opening of navigation.

"We are looking for an immensely busy year," said Mr. Harrison, "and are hoping for an early opening. But to judge from what I see here and what I hear about Lake Superior, we are not going to be able to begin business at a very early date. That is unfortunate, for there is an awful lot of stuff to move, and an early start would help matters greatly."

HOME DEMONSTRATION WORK AMONG WOMEN

Washington, March 31.—Home demonstration work among women in Southern states by the department of agriculture brought 22,613 girls into canning clubs, 9,854 into poultry clubs and 3,062 into bread clubs during 1915. More than 6,000,000 pounds of vegetables and fruits were canned. The average profit from each tenth of an acre that the canning club girls were required to cultivate was $24.91. A poultry club girl cleared $164.17 profit from thirty hens.

CROOKSTON AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL GRADUATES ITS LARGEST CLASS

Crookston, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The tenth annual commencement of the Northwest School of Agriculture closed yesterday afternoon in the Crookston armory, and was a most notable event in many ways.

The class of 1916 numbers forty-eigh' rom all courses, the largest in the nistory of the school.

The commencement activities were attended by hundreds of friends and relatives of the students.

The commencement began with the indoor field meet Saturday evening, participated in by both the boys and girls of the institution, and was a huge success.

The baccalaureate sermon was preached in the school auditorium Sunday afternoon by Rev. C. R. Oaten of the M. E. church, with splendid musical numbers.

Rural Credit Debate.

Monday evening, following a musical recital by students, the intersociety debate was held between the Lincoln and Pioneer Debating societies on, "Resolved, That a system of co-operative farm banks presents the best system remedy for the rural credit problem." The debate was won by the Pioneers, who had the negative side of the question.

Thursday evening at the armory the class play, "She Stoops to Conquer," was most creditably presented. The Aggie band and the high school orchestra provided music.

The senior class exercises were held Thursday morning in the auditorium, at which greetings were extended by Supt. Selvig, followed by an address, "Northwest Experiment Station," covering the work of the station to date, was given by C. R. Stow. "The Northwest School of Agriculture" was the subject of an address by William Espe, in which the history of the school was traced from its humble beginning to its present state of efficiency. After several demonstrations, the exercises were concluded with remarks by Prof. McCall, class counselor, and the class song.

The final exercises were held yesterday afternoon in the same place. Following music, a smut demonstration was given by Ole A. Flaaten, and a bread-making demonstration by Helen Sontag. The class oration, "Sincerity, Simplicity, Success," was delivered by James C. Kirkeby, president of the senior class.

Address to Graduates.

The address to the class was delivered by W. F. Webster of Minneapolis, who chose as his subject "Responsibility," and gave an impressive talk on the responsibility the graduate rested under to his alma mater, to the state, to his parents, his community and to himself.

Following vocal solos by Miss Grace Gunderson, and a mixed chorus, Supt. Selvig, after a few impressive remarks, presented the diplomas to the forty-three graduates, teachers' training diplomas to six others, and advanced class certificates to seven more.

Those who received diplomas were:

School of agriculture—William S. Ash, St. Vincent; Gertrude Elizabeth Bagaas, Stephen; David M. A. Berland, Fisher; Anna Jane Boisner, Humboldt; Wilfred Brunells, Crookston; Richard R. Camrud, Buxton, N. D.; Ross F. Corell, Big Falls; Paul Martin Engelstad, Thief River Falls; Ruth Engelbraksen, Drayton, N. D.; Selmer Erfjord, Buxton, N. D.; William Espe, Crookston; Ole A. Flaat, Fisher; Lester R. Garceau, Red Lake Falls; Murray Hales, Hallock; Edwin Hammer, Heiberg; Hannah O. Imsdahl, Oslo; James C. Kirkeby, Fox; Andrew Landby, Swift; Olive M. Larness, Park River, N. D.; Lorin James Laughlin, Ada; Clara Margreta Lindfors, Fosston; Hildur Josephine Lindfors, Fosston; Oscar Lund, Twin Valley; Ruby Ellen McDonald, Fisher; Blanche Lamonte Morrison, Northcote; Alma Josephine Nettum, Crookston; Carl E. Peterson, Grygla; Henry Rud, Viking; Wilhelm Rud, Viking; Julius Sather, Halstad; Randolph Claudinius Saugstad, Crookston; Helen A. Sontag, Borup; Herman F. Skyberg, Fisher; Chloe P. Starr, Naytahwaush; Claude B. Starr, Naytahwaush; Martinus Stenseth, Heiberg; Lloyd W. Stewart, Hallock; Ray Stow, Cumberland, Wis.; Thorval Tunheim, Newfolden; Victor O. Youngren, Northcote.

Teachers' training—Ellen J. Blomquist, Doritha Ferris, Amanda K. Hanson, Sophie Monson, Selma E. Nyquist, Almira Torgerson.

Advanced class certificates—Robert M. Billings, Conrad Clementson, Harold H. Grandy, J. Willard Johnston, Helga Krogseng, Ole Pederson, O. Chester Wilson.

Stock-judging has been a special feature of the husbandry work the past year, supervised by Prof. William Dietrich, head of the department. Following preliminary contests between teams representing the senior, junior and freshman classes early in February, a contest was held Monday afternoon, four types of beef and dairy cattle, horses, sheep and hogs being judged. The credits were 50 per cent for placing and 50 per cent for reasons, the final result showing the senior team won, junior team second and freshman third. The prize was a fine cup offered by Supt. Selvig. Splendid knowledge of stock-judging was demonstrated in the contest.

ALBERT AMES WILL RETURN TO MANAGE THE DULUTH BOAT CLUB

Albert Ames, a former member of the Ames-Barnes Grain company and secretary of the Duluth Boat club for a number of years, will return to Duluth April 15 and assume general charge of the boat club. The national regatta will be staged by the Duluth club during the present season, and Mr. Ames' duties will be to run the club end of the big meet. James E. Ten Eyck will be the promoter of the regatta, it has been announced.

Mr. Ames, when secretary of the club, was one of the hardest working officials the organization ever had. Not only this, but he was most cordially liked by every member of the club.

It was intimated today that the boat club membership campaign might be put on after the arrival of Mr. Ames. A large number of big doings are planned for the coming summer by the boat club officials.

ALBERT AMES.

road took over the old Duluth Short Line. Mr. Pearson was also chief engineer of the same road.

Mr. Pearson was an Eastern man who came West to tackle the railroad game. While in the employ of the Northern Pacific as chief engineer Pearson made a thorough examination of the wharf properties of other railroads in order that he might improve the dock properties of the Northern Pacific. While with the Northern Pacific Mr. Pearson held many positions and spent considerable time at the Head of the Lakes. From the Northern Pacific he went to the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and later the Missouri Pacific. From that road he entered the employ of the Texas Pacific.

NON-PARTISANS PICK CANDIDATES

North Dakota State League Indorses Some and Nominates Others.

Fargo, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Saturday afternoon the Non-Partisan league in convention here named the following state officers: For governor, Lynn J. Frazier, Hoople; lieutenant governor, Albert Stenmo, Merrifield; secretary of state, Thomas Hall, Bismarck; state auditor, Carl R. Kositzky, Bismarck; attorney general, William Langer, Mandan; state treasurer, P. M. Casey, Lisbon; superintendent of public instruction, N. C. MacDonald, Valley City; commissioner of insurance, S. A. Olness, Cheyenne; commissioner of agriculture, John A. Hagen, Deering; justices of the supreme court, Luther Birdzell, Grand Forks, J. E. Robinson, Fargo, and R. H. Grace, Mohall; railroad commissioners, Charles Bleick, Elgin; M. P. Johnson, Tolley, and Sam Ansdahl, Litchville.

These candidates indorsed by the Non-Partisan league will run on the Republican ticket with the exception of Casey. The supreme court justices and superintendent of public instruction will be chosen on a non-partisan ballot. There are 2,000 or more farmers in the city for the convention and enthusiasm is being shown in the meetings today.

New spring suits only $7.95 at the "3 Winners" removal sale.

POLICE WILL CHECK UP ON ACCIDENTS

Blank Cards Will Be Filled in for Report to Headquarters.

Printed forms to be used in case of accidents were distributed to patrolmen by Police Capt. A. G. Fiskett today.

Each man, as he reported at headquarters, was furnished with a number of cards with blank spaces for the names of witnesses, their addresses, telephone numbers, their version of the accident, etc.

With the cards was a sheet to be filled in by the policeman and to be turned over to the commanding officers.

"Careful use of these cards and slips will save considerable trouble," said Chief R. D. McKercher, "and we have instructed men to be very careful in getting a complete account of accidents whenever they are called in connection with one."

Particular attention is to be paid to accidents in which the city might become involved because of defects in sidewalks or streets.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little into your hand and rub well into the scalp with the finger tips. By morning most, if not all, of this awful scurf will have disappeared. Two or three applications will destroy every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair.—Advertisement.

BIG DAY FOR PRACTICAL JOKER SATURDAY

ALL FOOL'S DAY OBSERVED IN MANY LANDS

Watch your step tomorrow—all day.

Don't kick any innocent looking hats; don't eat any candy, and don't pick up any purses that you may see on the sidewalk.

It will be the first day of April—April Fools' day, or All Fools' day, whichever you want to call it.

If you are not careful, you will be made the butt of many a joke, for it is the day of all days for the practical joker, and every trickster will be watching for a chance to catch you.

This custom of playing little tricks on one's friends is of unknown origin. The Romans observed it, and the Hindus have observed it for centuries. Holland has a custom corresponding to the one followed in this country, while England, France and Germany all have "stunts" to perform on April 1.

In England you are an April fool if the joke is successful. In Scotland you are an April gowk. In France you are an April fish. Hindus call their observation the Hull festival; the ancient Romans called it the "feast of fools," or Saturnalia.

It was the Roman custom to send persons upon "bootless" errands, which was a mockery or burlesque of the occasion when Christ was sent from Annas to Caiphas and from Pilate to Herod.

Even today it is a favorite custom in England to send guileless persons on an errand for pigeon's milk, or to the library for a history of Adam's grandfather.

TAGGART WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE

Washington, March 31. — Thomas Taggart, recently appointed United States senator ad interim from Indiana to succeed the late Senator Shively, yesterday issued an announcement saying he would not be a candidate for the senatorial nomination to succeed himself.

Causes Surprise.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 31.—The announcement by United States Senator Thomas Taggart that he would not be a candidate in the coming election to succeed himself, created considerable surprise when received here. The refusal of Senator Taggart to seek the nomination probably will mean that there will be a number of candidates for the nomination which will be made by the Democratic state convention to be held here April 26 and 27.

MORE CONSPIRATORS ARE UNDER ARREST

Two Taken in New York and Third Is Under Surveillance.

Washington, March 31.—Department of justice officials announced today that two alleged conspirators with Capt. Hans Tauscher in the plot to blow up the Welland canal were under arrest in New York, that a third was under surveillance in New England and that they expected to arrest a fourth in a few days.

According to the story told department agents by Horst von Der Goltz, the alleged German spy brought to New York by Scotland Yard detectives last Tuesday, the plan to blow up the Welland canal was known to Capt. von Papen, the withdrawn German military attache, who furnished money for the work.

Declines to Confirm.

New York, March 31.—Supt. Offley of the local office of the department of justice, declined today to confirm the report from Washington that two additional arrests had been made in connection with the plot to blow up the Welland canal. It was learned that other alleged conspirators were under surveillance, but it was denied by Mr. Offley that any arrests had been made.

GOVERNMENT TUG FIRST BOAT TO MOVE

The government tug Gen. Clinton B. Sears, took its first spring move in the harbor this morning, not only to show that it had no cramps in its joints, but to get some coal. It went over to the Northwestern Coal company's bay-front dock and took on its first supply.

This is absolutely the first sign of spring on the dock front this year.

Tuberculosis Is Stubborn and often does not yield as patient and doctor think it should, even when the best of care is taken and every natural aid to relief made use of. All medical experts agree that rest, fresh air, pure food and hygienic living surroundings are essential. Yet, in many cases, these measures do not bring the desired results.

Under such circumstances we feel justified in suggesting a trial of Eckman's Alterative. It has given relief to many sufferers from tuberculosis, an doften has aided in a recovery.

One constituent is a lime salt, so combined with other helpful ingredients as to be easily assimilated by the average person; and, since it does not contain any narcotic, opiate or habit-forming drug, its use is not attended with danger. At your druggist's or direct.

Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia.

FULL POWER TO APPEAL

Council Turns Armory Referendum Case Over to Crassweller.

May Take Such Legal Steps as He Sees Fit.

Frank Crassweller was this morning given complete authority in appealing the armory referendum case to the supreme court.

The action was taken at a conference of the city commissioners, City Attorney Samuelson and Mr. Crassweller held in the reception room of Mayor Prince and Commissioner Silberstein.

After a discussion of two hours on the merits of the armory referendum case and the various points brought up by Mr. Crassweller in a communication to the council last Monday, the commissioners unanimously agreed shortly before noon to give Mr. Crassweller full power in handling the appeal. It was agreed that the city attorney should devote his time to a number of district court cases now pending and which will require all his time during the next six weeks.

Mr. Crassweller was hired as special counsel by the city two weeks ago at a salary of $250, a similar amount having been raised by local men opposed to the sale of the armory.

According to the decision reached this morning, Mr. Crassweller has the power to dismiss the present appeal, move the vacation of the judgment already entered, allow the withdrawal of the city's answer, serve a new answer altogether and file motion for another appeal, suggestions he made in his communication to the commissioners last Monday, in order to obtain a decision in the supreme court on the merits of the case. He claims it would be useless to take an appeal, as the records now stand and the commissioners agreed to give him power to take whatever proceedings he finds necessary.

Whether John Jenswold, attorney for the Aad Temple Building association, will agree to a stipulation vacating the judgment of the district court, is not known, although he is quoted as saying that he will oppose any such move. According to a statement he gave out last Tuesday, the case, as it now stands, gives every opportunity to get a ruling on the merits of the case.

Mr. Crassweller announced after the conference that he will take steps immediately and arrange for an early disposition of the case.

NEW VICE PRESIDENT OF NEW HAVEN KNOWN HERE

E. J. Pearson, well known in Duluth railway circles, has been appointed vice president of the New Haven road, according to advices that were received here today. Mr. Pearson was at one time general superintendent of the Northern Pacific, shortly after that road took over the old Duluth Short Line. Mr. Pearson was also chief engineer of the same road.

Mr. Pearson was an Eastern man who came West to tackle the railroad game. While in the employ of the Northern Pacific as chief engineer Pearson made a thorough examination of the wharf properties of other railroads in order that he might improve the dock properties of the Northern Pacific. While with the Northern Pacific Mr. Pearson held many positions and spent considerable time at the Head of the Lakes. From the Northern Pacific he went to the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, and later the Missouri Pacific. From that road he entered the employ of the Texas Pacific.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Treaty with Japan, 1854.

The Portuguese in the Sixteenth century introduced firearms and Christianity into Japan. The latter spread rapidly until it created an effort to wipe it out, which so far succeeded that Japan excluded all foreigners and kept its people within its boundaries until, through shipwrecks and the casting away of sailors, the Americans gained an opening through which Commodore Perry in 1854 succeeded in negotiating a treaty of friendship and commerce which was the means of awakening Japan from her slumber of barbarism. American educators organized the Japanese school system. Japan has expanded marvelously, and this country is now its chief customer.

READING (available in Duluth public library)—James Schouler, "History of the United States Under the Constitution," Vol. 5 (the best balanced and most serviceable large history dealing with the whole of the constitutional period); W. E. Griffis, "America In the East" (intelligent but not too accurate summary of what the United States has stood for in China, Japan and Hawaii).

PREPAREDNESS, MILITARISM AND PACIFISM.

There is so much blow and bluster and calling of names and decrying of motives in the discussion of "preparedness" that it is not at all surprising that there should be much confusion about it.

Like all blow and bluster and calling of names and decrying of motives, that about preparedness, whether it comes from "militarist" or "pacifist," gets us nowhere. It is all heat without light—throwing, rather than light, clouds of murky smoke that obscure the landscape and hide the truth.

Roosevelt and Bryan typify the extremes; and few, we believe, are with them. The vast majority stands somewhere between, somewhat distracted no doubt by the rhetorical clash, but tending pretty surely to crystallize around the upstanding figure of President Wilson.

Roosevelt demands mightiest navies, mightiest armies, belligerent activity in world affairs, compulsory universal military service, every man a soldier, a disciplined nation coming and going at the beck and call of men with swords and epaulets, drilling obediently and marching and countermarching under the war god.

But Roosevelt is a decade or a generation or centuries behind the times. The spirit that moves him is the spirit of the past, the spirit of Goths and Vandals and Huns. Whatever is modern in him is Prussian, and that is an atavism or a lingering survival which either the Allies during the war or sensible German people after the war will settle with.

On the other hand, Mr. Bryan demands no navies and no armies, but arbitration treaties, peace and good will and love and "do unto others." All mighty fine, but some days AHEAD of the times—though we are approaching it with what speed we cannot know, perhaps with much greater speed than we know. Europe will have had a lesson in war that will not profit the warmakers.

The country is talking about "preparedness." It is going to get it—at least as much as it needs, probably more than it needs. How easy it is to overdo, the process is showing. The house has passed a bill doing more than the president, with the evident approval of a great majority of the people, asked for at the beginning of the session. The senate is pretty sure to amend this bill or substitute its own, doing still more. And yet "compulsory universal service," "world's greatest navy," conscription in time of peace and swashbuckling militarism will be left far in the rear, whatever congress finally does, and the result will not be burdensome unless it is a mere opening wedge for grosser stages yet to follow.

With what congress is doing, or with a little less, in all probability the American people in the mass will be content. They will like to see some more war vessels, especially some more coast defense submarines; they will like to see a regular army fit, for instance, for such a job as Mexico is or might be; they will like to see the National Guard braced up and stiffened and made useful as a national reserve; they will like to see steps taken toward the most important thing of all—industrial preparedness, both for war and peace; they will like to see coast defenses made real and reassuring; they will like to see a real airship service in both army and navy. All these things, furnished in a moderate and sensible degree, they will like; and they will be satisfied with them.

In the presidential campaign to come, particularly if it is the misfortune of the Republican party to have Roosevelt for its leader, efforts will be made to show that this now-pending preparation is absurdly inadequate. Being a nation composed largely of beings of good horse sense, these efforts will fail, and those who seek to ride them into office will remain on the outside to despair of the future of the Republic.

Back home a week, and T. R.'s not in Mexico yet. Or is Mexico too far from Chicago and April too near June?

THE LITERACY TEST.

Congress is again busy with the literacy test for immigrants, which it passes frequently and which presidents usually veto.

The literacy test for immigrants, when the Dillingham bill for restricting immigration to a small percentage of the numbers from any country already here is passed over, is but indifferent statesmanship.

The literacy test for voters—requiring all voters to be able to read and write the English language—can anybody see any objection to that, or any reason why every state should not adopt it? Can anybody, indeed, in view of the important bearing of intelligence and acquaintance with American institutions upon the outcome of elections, fail to see many reasons why it should not be adopted generally?

"Water, water everywhere."

SENSIBLE LLOYD GEORGE.

David Lloyd George, the little Welch radical who was busy promoting social justice in Britain—while Roosevelt was just talking about it, and has now even ceased that—when the war broke out, has come out flatly against letting any stupid policy of hate affect England's trade provisions after the war. People, some of them eminent, had been talking about trade reprisals against Germany, which was silly and stupid and idiotic—a cutting off of England's nose to spite England's face. Lloyd George will have none of it.

The outbreak of war found Lloyd George acting on his profound conviction, which was rapidly being crystalized into action, that ill fares the land where privilege rots in luxury while the people deteriorate through want—where the classes prosper and the masses suffer.

Then he showed that a large proportion of the far-sighted statesmanship of Great Britain was lodged under the fedora hat he wears when show occasions do not make a silk hat compulsory.

Now, in the midst of war, he shows it again. He is the Wilson of Great Britain.

Just the same it is likely that the guacharo will be more generally known in this country as "the teddybird."

UNDERMINING THE PARCELS POST.

The parcels post, which the people got after fighting for it for a generation, is working so well that it has come to be taken for granted, like the postoffice itself. People forget that the interests which delayed the parcels post for a quarter of a century are still in existence, and that the congress which gave the parcels post can take it away—or curtail its usefulness.

The Madden amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill, now before the senate, limits the weight of parcels post packages and takes away from the postoffice department its power of administrating the system. It is under this broad power that the parcels post has been expanded from its tentative beginning to a scope of real usefulness as the department found expansion feasible and desirable; and that power should not be taken away.

Those who are interested in the parcels post—and that means everybody—should write to their senators and urge them to see that this raid on the parcels post system is defeated, and that whatever changes are made in the law are toward expansion, not curtailment.

Another thing with plenty of lee-way for sportive bettors is the question as to how many electoral votes La Follette will have.

FOR A GIFT TO CANADA.

J. W. Hamilton of St. Paul has a letter in the New York Times making the suggestion that as a testimonial to and a strengthening of the ties of friendship and kinship between Canada and the United States, this country present something substantial to the dominion to be used in the new capitol she is building.

"Canada," he says, "is now planning her new capitol building. What an opportunity is thus given for the English-speaking nations to show their regard by offering sufficient fine hardwoods to panel the senate hall and the house, or beautiful stained glass windows for these chambers! With the names of their donors, their coats of arms and date of the gifts, inlaid in different colored woods, or emblazoned on the stained glass, what a message of kindliness and good will would they always convey!"

A fine idea! All but the coats of arms. Most of us on this side have forgotten there were such things, even if far back in the family line lurks a remote fact on which we might, if we would, pin the practice of flaunting a coat of arms.

But a gift of stained glass windows or fine paneling for the statehouse of a cousin country, as a mark of friendship and esteem and a prayer that they may endure forever—that would indeed be a fine thing to do.

There is a noble monument now to the friendship and kinship of Canada and the United States. It is the four thousand miles of boundary along the St. Lawrence, along the Great Lakes, across the prairie and over the mountains, without a war ship, a gun, a fort or a soldier to show mutual suspicion. That today is the noblest monument in all the world, and the most glorious example to mankind. If that monument were supplemented by such a mark of enduring friendship as the St. Paul man proposes, it would be a pretty thing to do, and one that both nations could glory in forevermore.

Is Roosevelt Honest?

Editorial in the New Republic.

Biographers of Mr. Roosevelt will puzzle their heads about the month of October, 1914. Something happened to him in the short space of four or five weeks which had the effect of a religious conversion. He made an absolutely complete reversal of opinion on the question of America's duty to Belgium. It was not an ordinary case of a man's changing his mind, because it was accompanied by complete forgetfulness of his earlier views. Between the Outlook article of Sept. 23, 1914, and the publication of his book, "Fear God and Take Your Own Part," the conversion took place.

Thus in The Outlook he wrote:

We have not the smallest responsibility for what has befallen her (i. e., Belgium).

In "Fear God and Take Your Own Part" he writes:

When Germany thus broke her promises—we broke our promise by failing at once to call her to account.

In The Outlook:

• • • sympathy is compatible with full acknowledgement of the unwisdom of our uttering a single word of official protest unless we are prepared to make that protest effective; and only the clearest and most urgent national duty would ever justify us in deviating from our rule of neutrality and non-interference.

In "Fear God and Take Your Own Part":

The treaty (i. e., Hague conventions) was a joint and several guarantee, and it was the duty of every signer to take action when it was violated; above all it was the duty of the most powerful neutral, the United States.

In The Outlook:

I think, at any rate I hope, I have rendered it plain that I am not now criticising, that I am not passing judgment one way or the other upon Germany's action (in Belgium).

In "Fear God and Take Your Own Part":

We have also refused to say one word against international wrongdoing of the most dreadful character. • • • Our plain duty was to stand against wrong, to help in stamping out the wrong, to help in protecting the innocent who had been wronged. This duty we have ignobly shirked.

In The Outlook:

A deputation of Belgians has arrived in this country to invoke our assistance in the time of their dreadful need. What action our government can or will take I know not. It has been announced that no action can be taken which will interfere with our entire neutrality. It is certainly eminently desirable that we should remain entirely neutral, and nothing but urgent need would warrant breaking our neutrality and taking sides one way or the other.

The New Republic has supported Col. Roosevelt from the first in his insistence that America should have protested against the violation of Belgium. Until this Outlook article was called to our attention, we did not know of this violent and sudden reversal. So if at any time we have used the Belgian issue to point a moral against Mr. Wilson and for Mr. Roosevelt, we can only say now that we deeply regret the injustice. If this nation "ignobly shirked" its "duty" we are all guilty—Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Root, Mr. Wilson, and everyone else who at the time the invasion took place thought America's first duty was non-interference.

But what of the Belgian issue itself? In a Utopia we can imagine Col. Roosevelt issuing the following statement:

I was converted in the month of October, 1914. I was so dazzled by the new vision which came to me that I forgot all I had said and felt a few weeks before. I had the new convert's contempt for the unconverted, and I have been deeply unfair to Mr. Wilson. But I still feel that the United States owes a duty to Belgium, and I hereby pledge myself to advocate America's guarantee of integrity of Belgium after this war. We have all failed in the past; we can make certain now that we shall not in the future fail in the same way.

Is there enough candor and courage in American politics for such an utterance?

Only One Kind of Failure

Danville, Ill., Press: There is but one kind of failure—moral failure.

The achievement of success has no standard guage of measurement. What may be a simple calling may be crowned with success, although it may not be fraught with great remuneration.

If there were a set rule, by following which we might be sure to achieve our ambitions, there would be no such thing as failure.

But, as it is, everyone is required to be his own architect and he must devise means by which to accomplish his life work.

All that exists as common property are certain acknowledged principles of morality, industry and character-building, which successful architects of fate must use. It is difficult to understand the limitations of our fellow man. How often are we agreeably surprised by the success of one we considered dull and stupid!

The brilliant man in college, on the other hand, is not always the successful one afterwards.

A great many men on graduation from college and receiving their diplomas seem to be under the impression that the world owes them a living and expect to step immediately into comfortable berths.

The only real failure lies in failing to make the best of one's opportunities, whatever they may be.

Qualified.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

Superfluous Words.

Bill Jinks can't say, "It's a pleasant day," in just that many words; he has to talk clear round the clock, till he scares away the birds. He'll go 'way back to the almanac of the year when Adam died, to find a day that was bright and gay like the one that's about to slide. He'll talk nine hours to describe the showers that fell on the ninth of June, and to prove to you that all rains are due to the changes of the moon. He'll talk three weeks, till his jawbone creaks and his larynx slips a cog, to show that sleet will destroy the wheat, that snow is but frozen fog. Now, you and I, as we teeter by, can say, "It's a pleasant morn," and we will not stop to discuss the crop, the pumpkins and oats and corn. But old Bill Jinks, he is full of kinks, and he simply can't be brief, and his tongue must clack till the welkins crack, and he causes lots of grief. It grieves Bill Jinks that the whole world shrinks with pain from his dance and song; and he wonders why all the people shy, whenever he comes along.

Easy to Provide For Your Old Age

Issued by the American Bankers' Association.

This is not a get-rich-quick scheme. It is simply a plain statement of how any industrious young man who sets about it early enough can double his income by middle life simply through $5 weekly savings and wise investment of them from time to time.

Let us assume that you are in your 20s and that you are earning $20 a week, $1,040 a year.

In order to equal that income through 6 per cent investments you would need a capital of about $17,300.

Here is how you can do it before you have passed your prime:

Suppose you open a savings account in a bank which pays 4 per cent interest on savings, compounded semi-annually.

Save and deposit in the bank $5 every week.

Whenever your principal and interest equal or exceed $1,000 draw out that sum and invest it in a first mortgage paying 6 per cent a year payable semi-annually. Likewise deposit your mortgage interest in your savings account, continue to withdraw and invest whenever your savings account reaches the $1,000 mark.

In twenty-eight years your principal will amount to $17,799.22 and your income from this sum invested in gold 6 per cent mortgages will be upwards of $20 a week. This is how it figures out:

Five dollars a week deposited in a bank at 4 per cent per annum compounded semi-annually will amount to $1,123.89 in four years.

You take out $1,000 and invest it in a first mortgage at 6 per cent. Balance on savings account, $123.89.

In seven years the amount in the savings bank will be $1,154.89. Another $1,000 is taken out and invested, leaving $154.89 remaining.

At each period of nine and one-half years, eleven and one-half years, thirteen and one-half years, fifteen and one-half years, seventeen years, eighteen and one-half years, nineteen and one-half years, twenty-one years and each year until the twenty-eighth year $1,000 is invested. Seventeen thousand dollars will have been invested in mortgages and a balance of $779 will be remaining in the bank at the end of the twenty-eighth year.

This amount at 6 per cent interest yields $1,066.92 a year, or $20.51 a week.

The Saturday Evening Post a few years ago gave an interesting calculation that if a man whose income remains the same year after year will deposit one-third his income each month in a savings bank that pays 4 per cent he will be able to retire at the end of thirty-five years and thereafter he or his heirs will receive the full amount of his income.

If he will steadily deposit one-quarter of his income in the same way he will be able to retire on full pay at the end of forty-one years.

A fifth of his income saved and deposited in this way will enable him to stop work on full income at the end of forty-six years, while a deposit of one-tenth of his income will retire him at the end of the sixty years.

To be able to retire on half income as a result of this kind of steady saving is easier. This can be achieved in twenty-four years by the deposit of one-third of the wages in a savings bank each month; in twenty-eight years by the deposit of one-fourth of the wages; in thirty-two years by the deposit of one-fifth of the income and forty-five years by the steady saving of one-tenth of the wages.

The nation-wide campaign which the American Bankers' association is conducting encourages systematic saving and wise spending of money through and keeping of a budget of private expenses.

The Reign of Law

By "The Innocent Bystander."

II—From Chaos to France.

Perhaps the fairest notion of what Mexico is like today may be gained by reading any good account of the French revolution. Except that the Mexicans have not chopped off near as many heads. Conversely, to guess what France was like when the United States was formed, study Mexico.

For the people of France were dispossessed and their national government was bankrupt. France had emerged from utter anarchy only this far: That the people felt that France was France, not merely Burgundy, or Provence or Navarre fighting to hold more or less of France.

Public opinion there was none, only wild and fantastic notions or sodden stupidity. Peasants robbing henroosts at peril of their lives and philosophers dreaming dreams—that was France.

There was no law of France. A man of one province was outlander in another. There were decrees for each feudal domain, regulations for each city, but no law of France. Even such ordinances as ran through all France were not law as we know law. They were edicts imposed on the people, not the will of the people.

The French revolution swept away everything—and collapsed. Came Napoleon, his building and his failure. Came the restored empire, the restored republic, the commune, and at last the new France.

Since 1870 France has been the French people having their own way. That which was begun under Napoleon has been built into lasting structure of law. For the first time in the history of the French people, the reign of law in France is as wide as the nation, comprehends all the nation.

So within our own time has the reign of law been extended in France, displacing the rule of violence.

Tomorrow—"Germany's Recent Estate."

A Republican Partnership With Germany?

New York World: Richard Bartholdt, in a letter to Alphonse Koelble printed in the World yesterday, described James R. Mann, the Republican leader of the house, as one of the "good friends" of the German-American propaganda.

Mr. Mann proved himself a "good friend" yesterday, and so did 131 other Republican representatives.

Of the 160 members of the house who voted against the president on the first test vote, only 21 were Democrats, 132 were Republicans and 5 Progressives, with a Socialist and an Independent thrown in for good measure.

Many of these gentlemen professed to be actuated by motives that had no relation to the question at issue. They wished to protest against "gag" rules. They desired to amend the McLemore resolution. They were in favor of this or that or the other thing; but every one of them knew that he was voting against the president and for the kaiser, and that if the motion for the previous question was defeated the president was beaten.

In the illuminative pro-German political correspondence printed in the World yesterday there was an authoritative explanation of the "Wisconsin idea" for German control in the Republican national convention. One of the letters indicated that negotiations were already under way with the Republicans, and that the solid German-American vote had been offered as a bribe. Does this correspondence help explain the attitude of the house Republicans? Is the Republican party, which has had devious alliances in the last twenty years, preparing to go into partnership with Germany?

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Scattered Comments By and About Newspapers In the Gopher State.

Minnesota's the Best.

Taking things by-and-large, in season and out and all the year round, there's no state that has anything on Minnesota. The Mankato Review gives an instance: "When Minnesota had a little snow storm about the middle of last week the states of Indiana and Ohio were swept by a terrific blizzard, which caused the deaths of quite a number of people and terrible suffering to many others."

Think of the Crop!

There's nothing new in the theme, but its application is timely. So consider this appeal from the Montgomery Messenger: "The season for sowing is approaching. Let us all prepare to scatter seeds of kindness, sow abundantly that we may reap a harvest of true happiness, and have our garners overflowing with peace and good will, and we can heap our measures with malice toward none and charity for all."

And a Nation Is a Lot of Grown-Up Boys.

Next time you hear any of that foolishness about preparedness for preparedness' sake, remember this from the New Ulm Review: "Give a boy a rifle and he'll soon want cartridges and then something to shoot at, and the same thing applies to a large standing army."

The Mystery Is Solved!

Folks who have been wondering how the Minnesota congressmen were able to make themselves vote as they did on the McLemore resolution may find an explanation in this from the Red Wing Republican: "Three of Minnesota's representatives in congress were born in Goodhue county. They are A. J. Volstead of Granite Falls, C. B. Miller of Duluth and Sydney Anderson of Lanesboro. Which indicates that any one who wants to become a congressman will have the best chance if he sees to it that he is born in good old Goodhue."

"Names Is News."

Anyway this from the Carlton Vidette is better than filling space by saying "News are scarce this week": "Sleet Winter, son of Old Man Winter, arrived this morning and will doubtless stay with us until the arrival of Cousin Hot Sun. Both will not remain, as the latter is a native of China and scorns his relative of the Siberian plains."

Starting a Movement, Boys?

Evidently somebody's bent on starting something, for the Albert Lea Tribune says: "The Preston Times asks why it wouldn't be a good idea to elect a few statesmen to congress rather than politicians. That might give Minnesota a much better standing."

Rather Neatly Put.

Farley Dare, with all his facility for expression, never put anything more neatly than when he typewrote this for his Walker Pilot: "Possibly one reason why we don't give more flowers to the living is because we never think of the hothouse until somebody dies."

Wisconsin Clippings

Things the Badger State Editors Are Saying.

With the Mexican Muss as a Twin.

Bayfield Progress: Necessity has had increase of family. She used to be only the mother of invention; but now she's become also the parent of preparedness.

Something About the Tariff.

Ladysmith Journal: It is certainly amusing to hear standpatters denounce the Underwood tariff because it doesn't raise sufficient revenue. As a method of raising revenue a tariff on imports is the worst sort of abomination ever invented. Its burden rests chiefly on the man who isn't able to pay, not on the man of means. Nobody ever found a single good or fairly good excuse for it as a revenue producer. The only sane reason for a tariff is protection. As to how good that reason is we haven't very extended information and the average congressman is in the same fix. If we must discuss the tariff, let us stick to the one feature that is worth discussion.

Ashland Press: Twenty-five men blew into Barksdale the other day looking for work. Two of them only were engaged, as the dynamite plant has nearly a full crew. The other twenty-three then came to Ashland and within twenty-four hours all of them were at work. Speaks pretty well for the old town, now doesn't it?

Not Seriously, Anyway.

Iron River Pioneer: We pedestrians are not worrying about the threatened 40-cent gasoline.

That Bird.

Green Bay Press-Gazette: Col. Roosevelt is home from Trinidad, where he discovered a new and strange bird about the size of a barn owl, which lives in caves, has nocturnal habits and eats nuts. Piffle! We recognize it instantly; the bird is Col. Bryan's peace dove stung by a presidential bee.

The Old, Old Story Again.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: "Several of those killed were in wooden coaches. Passengers in steel cars escaped serious injury," says an eye witness' report of the terrible Lake Shore wreck this morning. It is the same story that has been told in less convincing form after many recent accidents. It would seem that steel cars, not only in the make up of limited trains but for the locals with shorter runs, should be made absolutely compulsory at the earliest possible date.

The Usual Basis.

Washington Star: "What are you going to say in your speech?" asked the interested friend.

"I'm going to tell them a few things I think they ought to know about the way to manage all these perplexing problems."

"And what are they?"

"Well, in the first place they ought to put more of the responsibility in the hands of myself and my friends. There are other important points, but I haven't thought 'em out yet."

The Menace of the High-Brow

Metcalf in Life.

Could it have been possible that Professor Brander Matthews had in mind the Drama League of America when he made his statement that the high-brows are as detrimental to the theater as the low-brows, including, doubtless, the t. b. m. Cloistered in the classic shades of Columbia, Professor Matthews is not in such intimate touch with the active affairs of the theater as he once was, but perhaps on that very account his vision is more clear. He could hardly have meant the Drama league alone, because he is one of the vice presidents of that organization, whose president is the mellifluously named Percival Chubb of St. Louis. There must have been other organizations in the professor's mind, notably, perhaps, those that can find nothing good in the American theater and devote their energies, influence and what money they can gather to import plays and actors from foreign lands.

The professor might perhaps have referred to the priggish and spinster-like standards imposed on the members of the Drama league by its curiously constituted judges of what is and what is not good in the contemporary drama. These judges recommend considerable piffle to their clients and often condemn or ignore what is virile or is of value to the theater in its function of mere amusement. At the same time the league is bringing some theatrical education to a public sadly lacking in any discernment regarding the stage. It is also fostering an interest in the theater among a class of persons who might, without its guidance, have come to think that the moving-picture play was the highest and only form of dramatic development in our time.

In an official announcement to the press the Drama league claims the sole credit for acquainting the American public with the fact that this year marks the three hundredth anniversary of the death of William Shakespeare. Bumptiousness of this sort may include the league in Professor Matthews' condemnation of the arrogance of high-browism, but, after all, it may be forgiven. The league is working energetically to promote recognition of the event, thereby stimulating interest in Shakespeare, his plays and incidentally in the whole institution of the theater. This is a creditable movement, even if in no other than an educational way.

If the high-brow influence could confine itself to constructive work of the kind the Drama league is doing in calling America's attention to Shakespeare, and would conquer the habit of sniffing at everything that is not pretentious, Professor Matthews' broad statement would fall flat. It is thoroughly justified, though, by the numerous theatrical authorities of the Bunthorne type we encounter in print and private life.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quinlan, the Sunshine Man.

"The land whereon thou liest, to thee will I give it."—Gen. xxviii, 13.

No promise is of private interpretation; it belongs not to one saint, but to all believers. If, my brother, thou canst in faith lie down upon a promise, and take thy rest therein, it is thine. Where Jacob "lighted," and tarried, and rested, there he took possession. Stretching his weary length upon the ground, with the stones of that place for his pillows, he little fancied that he was thus entering into ownership of the land; and yet so it was. He saw in his dream that wondrous ladder which for all true believers unites earth and heaven; and surely where the foot of the ladder stood he must have a right to the soil, for otherwise he could not reach the divine stairway. All the promises of God are Yea and Amen in Christ Jesus; and as He is ours, every promise is ours if we will but lie down upon it in restful faith.

Come, weary one, use thy Lord's words as thy pillows. Lie down in peace. Dream only of Him. Jesus is thy ladder of light. See the angels coming and going upon Him between thy soul and thy God; and be sure that the promise is thine own God-given portion, and that it will not be robbery for thee to take it to thyself, as spoken specially to thee.—C. H. Spurgeon.

The busy fingers fly, the eyes may see
Only the glancing needle which they hold,
But all my life is blossoming inwardly,
And every breath is like a litany;
While through each labor, like a thread of gold
Is woven the sweet consciousness of Thee.

Woman's Taste.

Florida Times-Union: We hear a lot about women's taste—yet look at what they marry.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1896.

•••Word has been received by J. R. Dunphy of the death of his brother, Richard Dunphy, as the result of injuries received in an accident on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway at South McAlester, Indian Territory. He was 27 years old, unmarried, and left Duluth last May.

•••Sam Loeb returned last evening from an extended trip throughout the Southwest. He met "Fin" Frisbee and Charley Abbott in Cripple Creek and they were the most prosperous looking people there.

•••The city council last night adopted a report of the committee on auditing and finance, recommending that the work on the water plant, now already in progress, be continued with all convenient speed and that the city comptroller prepare the water and light bonds in proper form so that they may be sold. The mayor sent a communication announcing the appointments of W. M. Abrahamson as fire commissioner, J. H. Robinson as building inspector and John Lundberg, Christopher Ottinger, Andrew Parson and John Grabowski as poundmasters.

•••Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 28; maximum yesterday, 54; minimum yesterday, 32.

•••Marriage licenses have been issued to John C. Bennett and Anna Schmederhas, and to Oscar D. Davis and Estella Brown of Moline, Ill.

•••Last week about five inches of snow fell along the north shore of Lake Superior, between Beaver bay and Grand Marais, and the accumulation on top of the old snow was too much for the dogs of the Indian mail carrier, John Beargrease, so he decided to take to his boat and left Beaver bay yesterday.

•••Miss Beatrice Yoden of Fenton, Mich., and Warren A. Everton of Grand Rapids, Minn., were married last evening at the First Methodist church parsonage by Rev. G. H. Humason.

•••Thomas E. McBride, who represents Arthur Hill & Co. of Buffalo as timber buyer, is in Duluth today.

•••The tug Record got out this morning and made her first trip of the season, breaking a path through the ice to West Superior, in order to make way for the Carrington, which goes on the Rice's and Connor's points ferry tomorrow.

•••E. Rutledge and William Irvine of Chippewa Falls, Wis., who are connected with the Weyerhaeuser interests, are in the city.

THE OPEN COURT

Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences is barred. Letters must not exceed 200 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.

The Herald does not publish original verse. Contributions of this nature that are submitted for the editor's perusal must be accompanied by a stamped and addressed envelope, if their return is desired. Otherwise no manuscript will be returned.

To "J. Doe."

A letter signed "J. Doe" is being held for the writer to send his name to The Herald for identification, not necessarily to be published.—The Editor.

MORE ON THE HOLMES' CASE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The discharge of Teacher Holmes from the teaching force of our public schools has raised a question that no one seems willing to answer. The public would like to know why this was done, what was the reason for this act. Was it merely a whim of some old fogy or fogies who have been feeding at the public crib so long that he or they may believe that the schools belong to them, and any one who may have a different opinion of things in general cannot work for the people of Duluth?

It would appear by the indorsements that Mr. Holmes has received from parents and students, that there may be a highhanded plot to oust all advanced thinking persons from the teaching force of the city. Are we to have the Scott Nearing episode staged in Duluth?

Is it not time that we called a halt upon the stunts pulled off by this man Denfeld? If there is nothing wrong, why does he not say so? If he can clear his skirts of blame, why does he not make a frank statement of the facts so that all may know what the trouble is about?

We in West Duluth are not forgetful of the attitude of Mr. Denfeld regarding the school at the Heights a year ago. There was nothing for the people who lived there to do but to obey the commands as given by him. His silence in the present matter is as galling as was his overbearingness in the other, and it seems that officials should remember that they are servants of the people, and not merely the drawers of salaries. P. G. PHILLIPS.

ANSWERS GUILTY ONLOOKER.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I propose to answer the "Guilty Onlooker."

He says man wants peace—all he needs is "Method." There are three Things in the world, three Units which have been called the "Trinity." I will speak of only two units: Namely, God and a Man. I do not use the word "things" in a profane way; I use it because I know of no other word in English that will express what I am trying to show.

Every man has a desire for good.

There are no evil intentions ever given to man or ever acquired by man. Cain killed Abel because he thought Abel was evil, and by slaying him he would destroy evil and all would be good that remained. Abel was good because he had his eyes on "God." Cain was good also, but he looked "back," as did Mrs. Lot.

A nation is not a unit. It is a collection of units.

My dear friend, you are carrying on a little war all your own against evil. When do you expect to be at peace? The same "method" applies.

When we solve the problem that confronted Cain it will be the end of evil—and a nation is ten times you and I. C. R. A.

Duluth, March 29.

P. S.—Please don't use big words. Words are only tools. You wouldn't use a crowbar to pick your teeth with, would you? "Do" is the most useful word in English. C. R. A.

SEEKS A MARKET.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Would it be asking too much of you to send me the address of two or three firms in Duluth that would handle old rubbers, rags, paper, lead, brass and copper? I would like to correspond with them in regard to prices. I take The Herald, but do not notice any ads in it for the above. Hoping to hear from you soon and favorably, I remain your servant, C. W. SARGENT.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

My Dad's Dinner Pail.

Preserve that old kettle so blackened and worn,
It belonged to my father before I was born.
It hung in a corner beyond, on a nail;
'Twas an emblem of labor—my dad's dinner pail.
Chorus.
It glistened like silver, so sparkling and bright;
I am fond of the title that held its wee pite.
In summer or winter, in rain, snow or hail,
I've carried that kettle—my dad's dinner pail

When the bell rang for meal time, my father came down
And ate with the workmen about on the ground.
He'd share with the gobor and say he'd go bail,
And ye'd ne'er reach the bottom of dad's dinner pail.

There's a place for the coffee and also the bread;
The corn beef and taters; and oft it was said:
"Go fill it with porter, with beer or with ale;"
And the drink would taste sweeter from dad's dinner pail.

When the weather was stormy my dad home would recline;
He'd joke with me mother; his kettle he'd shine.
His kettle, he'd shine, and me he would whale,
If I dare put my finger on dad's dinner pail.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Herald to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner, or that ask for advice on legal or medical questions.

To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the person sending it. This is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

"H. H.," Ely, Minn.: (1) What are lowest wages paid to men employed by the Ford Car company? (2) In sending an application to the same company, to whom should it be sent?

Ans.—(1) The Editor has no means of knowing. (2) General manager, Ford Auto company, Detroit, Mich.

Yrrow D. Luohsew, Embarrass, Minn.: What are proper pronunciations of some of the names of Mexican places and names of generals that are so often mentioned in your newspaper in connection with the Mexican trouble?

Ans.: See page 15 of The Herald of Thursday, March 30.

Mrs. A. B., Duluth: (1) Which is the richer man, J. D. Rockefeller, or that member of the Astor family who went to England and became an English peer? (2) Also, what is an approximate valuation of their individual fortunes?

Ans.—(1) Mr. Rockefeller, unquestionably. (2) Any figures on the amounts would have to be pure guesswork and therefore worthless.

W. F. Smith, Duluth: (1) What is the earliest date that Easter can come on? Can it come before March 23? (2) If in 1818 it came on March 22, what was the reason?

Ans.: (1) March 22. (2) Because the day of that year conformed to the following conditions, which always determine the date on which Easter falls: First, it must be celebrated on a Sunday; second, this Sunday must follow the fourteenth day of the paschal moon, or if the fourteenth day of the paschal moon falls on a Sunday, then Easter must be celebrated on the Sunday following; third, the paschal moon is that of which the fourteenth day falls on or next follows the day of the vernal equinox; fourth, the equinox is fixed invariably in the calendar on March 21. These conditions bring Easter this year on Sunday, April 23. In 1818 the fourteenth day of the paschal moon fell on Saturday, March 21, the day of the vernal equinox, so the next day was Easter.

"A School Ma'am Subscriber:" Would marriage bar a teacher who had qualified for membership in the Teachers' Retirement fund? Could she teach the required number of years (twenty) then marry at once and receive her pension? If she could not, I see no reason for joining the association, for we all hope to teach a school of one at some time in our life.

Ans.: The secretary of the retirement fund assures us that the constitution provides for payment of the benefits on retirement "for any reason whatever," if the time qualifications have been complied with.

"Y. M. B.," Duluth: Would you kindly publish in The Herald any information in regard to the "Nobel prizes" and their origin, and tell who have been the winners during the past two years?

Ans.: Alfred B. Nobel, Swedish scientist and the inventor of dynamite, died in 1896 and bequeathed his whole fortune of $9,000,000 to the founding of a fund the interest on which should be divided each year among those who had contributed most to "the good of humanity." This interest is divided into five equal shares, which go respectively to the discoverer or inventor who achieves the greatest gain in physics, the discoverer or inventor who achieves the greatest gain in chemistry, the maker of the most important discovery in medicine or physiology, the one who in literature has "provided the most excellent work of an idealistic tendency," and the person who "has worked most or best for the fraternization of nations and the abolition or reduction of standing armies, and the calling in and propagating of peace congresses." Awards are made by bodies of men selected by specified methods by Swedish scientific and governmental authorities. The prizes average $40,000 each. The awards in 1914 were: Chemistry, Theodore W. Richards of Harvard university; physics, Max von Labe of Frankfort-on-the-Main; literature, Rabindranath Tagore, a Hindu. No peace or medical prize was awarded that year. In 1915 they were divided thus: Physics, Thomas A. Edison and Nikola Tesla; literature, Romain Rolland of France. Hendrik Pontoppidan and Troels Lund of Denmark, and Verner von Heidenstein of Sweden; chemistry, Dr. Richard Willstaetter, University of Berlin.

The Empty Garden

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

OF course there are storks, but you never see them bring the babies, until you're just so old.

When folks had big chimneys on their houses, instead of patent flues, they built their nests in plain sight. Your grandmother could look right out of her window and watch them on the next roof, standing for hours with leg tucked under wing.

As for fairies, they were everywhere, until the Smart Alecks came along and drove them back into the woods and fields.

Some of 'em were tattletales and kept track of fibs and pantry raids and the number of times you said you washed your ears (and didn't). But there were nice ones, too, who listened outside the window to carry your prayers up to God.

And how about the pixies that nursed the baby roses through the night, and the very, very busy little elves with buckets of green and yellow and pink flower paint?—they gave the garden all its colors.

Gnomes lived in the grass, hiding among the stalks, listening and peeping for wrong words and acts, so as to tell what you did to the particular bird whose special business it was, to keep your mother posted.

You didn't say then, that there was no Santa Claus—you didn't dare; it would have been a whopper. Else how could Christmas wishes come true—just answer that. Did he ever bring anybody a gift, who denied his existence? You knew lots of boys and girls who wouldn't believe; and after that their mothers and fathers had to spend their own money to buy gifts. As if imitations were at all like the toys He made, or half as much fun!

Believing in storks and fairies and Santa Claus is a sort of training for believing in God—after a while you understand things without needing proof.

It's called Faith. Don't destroy it in a child.

Asphodel withers and dies where Doubt has sown her weeds.

What has Knowledge planted in your heart, where Faith once had a garden?

ELKS WILL TRAVEL IN SPECIAL TO DULUTH

St. Cloud, Minn., March 31.—St. Cloud will be well represented at the state meeting of Elks to be held in June at Duluth. A special train will carry the delegations from Willmar, Brainerd, Little Falls, Fergus Falls and St. Cloud. Committees have been appointed to make arrangements.

Anoka Nonagenarian Buried.

Anoka, Minn., March 31.—Dennis Dee, aged 91, who retained his faculties until the last, was buried from St. Stephen's church. He was born in Ireland, and came to Boston in 1835. He had lived forty-five years in Anoka county. Two daughters, Mrs. May Schupper of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Henry Verea of Anoka, survive him. The funeral of James McBride was held here this week. He was born in 1864 in Anoka county. He spent most of his adult years in Elk River. His wife and several children survive him.

Simple Goiter and Autointoxication

In the Revue Medicale de la Suisse Romande, March, 1915, Dr. F. Messerli reports some excellent results in the treatment of simple goiter by the daily administration, for a period of several weeks, of active intestinal antiseptics, such as thymol, salol, benzonaphthol. The salol was given in doses of fifteen grains, twice a day. It is best taken an hour or two after food, and must be discontinued if any signs of kidney irritation appear, such as dark colored urine, pain, or frequency. For salol is nothing but a combination of salicylic acid and carbolic acid, and carbolic acid is apt to irritate the kidneys.

WILLIAM BRADY M.D.

In every instance in which these remedies were given, there was a distinct improvement, a reduction of from one to two and one-half inches in the circumference of the neck, with but a single exception. Generally the enlarged thyroid completely disappeared.

From India Dr. MacCarrison reports experiments in which goiter was produced by the drinking of polluted water, and cleared up by the administration of intestinal antiseptics.

Ordinary laxatives have some reputation for curing goiter, probably by mechanically clearing away large masses of bacteri from the intestine. The greater part of the bulk of fecal matter in health consists of the dead bodies of bacteria.

It is possible that antiseptics directly influence the production of some specific goiter-producing agent in the bowel. Or they may simply diminish the putrefactive changes always occurring in the intestine of meat eaters, and so remove some of the functional burden from the thyroid gland, which is physiologically concerned in the destruction or burning up of ptomaines or injurious toxins from any source.

The goiter of young girls occurs, usually, at an age when autointoxication of intestinal origin is remarkably prevalent. Perhaps we may simplify the formula somewhat: Constipation, or intestinal stasis as the modern doctor calls it, begins to tell on the victim at about the age of puberty.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Awful Name, But Good Medicine.

I have heard of a medicine called hexamethylinentaetramine. For goodness sake, what is it for?

Answer—It isn't so bad as that. It is hexamethylenamine, and is official in the United States Pharmacopeia. It is given as a urinary antiseptic, and is also used to oppose infection in the gall-sac and gall-ducts, as well as in acute coryza or, as some "fellers" say, "cold in the head." Personally, we think it is a valuable remedy for chorea or St. Vitus' dance, which, of course, is also a germ disease.

Prevention of Pyorrhea.

A student in our school has the beginnings of pyorrhea. Can she do anything to help it, without incurring a dentistry bill?

Answer—Dentistry comes first, both in prevention and treatment of this very common and very damaging condition. But we recommend the habitual use of a tooth paste containing emetin or ipecac, or the toothbrush may be wet with a solution of the strength of one drop of fluid extract of ipecac in twenty drops of grain alcohol. It is well to massage this into the gums with the fingers.

Cocoa Too Stimulating for Children.

Please explain why you advise against cocoa for children under 12.

Answer—Because it contains theobromine, a stimulant identical in effect with caffeine of coffee.

MAYOR ASKED TO MEETING

Receives Invitation From Taft to Attend Peace Conference.

League Will Hold First Gathering at Washington Next May.

Former President William H. Taft has asked Mayor W. I. Prince, it was announced yesterday, to represent this city at the first annual national assemblage of the League to Enforce Peace to be held at Washington on Friday and Saturday, May 26 and 27. Mr. Taft is president of the league.

The League to Enforce Peace has a platform of four principals, the main feature of which is contained in the third, which provides that the joint armed forces of the great powers be used against any nation or nations who refuse to keep an agrement to try arbitration or conciliation before going to war. The other three proposals are for an international court, an international council of conciliation and a code of international law.

Asked to Name Delegates.

Mr. Taft's letter inviting the mayor to be present at the Washington conference also asks him to appoint delegates thereto, and points out that the Taft league is "no-stop-the-war movement, no anti-preparedness movement, no peace-at-any-price endeavor," but "an earnest effort by practical men to bring about, after the close of the European war, a co-operation among the nations which will tend to make peace more permanent and war less probable." Mr. Taft's letter is as follows:

"My Dear Sir: The first annual assemblage of the League to Enforce Peace will be held in the city of Washington on Friday and Saturday, May 26 and 27, with the purpose of devising and determining upon measures for giving effect to the proposals for a league of nations to enforce peace that were adopted at a conference held last June in Philadelphia. This is no stop-the-war movement, no anti-preparedness movement, no peace-at-any-price endeavor. It represents an earnest effort by practical men to bring about, after the close of the European war, a co-operation among the nations which will tend to make peace more permanent and war less probable.

"The governors of states, the mayors of cities and the more important business organizations of the nation are appointing delegates to this meeting.

"You are invited to be present and to appoint one or more commissioners to represent your city in the assemblage.

"The task of providing such sanctions for international law and treaties as can be obtained is the most important and urgent matter before the world and one for which America has peculiar responsibility. I earnestly hope that we may have your co-operation in it."

Mr. Taft has sent a similar invitation to Governor J. A. A. Burnquist, asking him to represent the state personally and to send delegates to the Washington conference.

Platform of League.

The formal platform of the Taft league as adopted in Independence hall last June, follows:

"We believe it to be desirable for the United States to join a league of nations binding the signatories to the following:

"First—All justiciable questions arising between the signatory powers, not settled by negotiation, shall, subject to the limitations of treaties, be submitted to a judicial tribunal for hearing and judgment, both upon the merits and upon any issue as to its jurisdiction of the question.

"Second—All other questions arising between the signatories and not settled by negotiation, shall be submitted to a council of conciliation for hearing, consideration and recommendation.

"Third—The signatory powers shall jointly use forthwith both their economic and military forces against any one of their number that goes to war or commits acts of hostility against another of the signatories before any question arising shall be submitted as provided in the foregoing.

"No provision is made for the enforcement of the decree, however. Under the plan nations may fight after arbitration if dissatisfied.

"Fourth—Conferences between the signatory powers shall be held from time to time to formulate and codify rules of international law which, unless some signatory shall signify its dissent within a stated period, shall thereafter govern in the decisions of the judicial tribunal mentioned in Article 1."

Several events of interest have been planned for Miss Margaret Barrows, whose marriage to Harmon F. Gilbert will take place April 12.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Percy Anneke entertained informally at dinner for Miss Barrows and Mr. Gilbert. Tomorrow night Miss Lydia Woodbridge will entertain at a dancing party at her home, 1735 Wallace avenue, in their honor.

Mrs. Percy Chinnick, 1809 Jefferson street, will give a luncheon for Miss Barrows Tuesday noon, and Wednesday afternoon Miss Carolyn Moore, Twenty-third avenue east, will entertain most informally at a kitchen shower for her.

EVENTS OF TONIGHT AND TOMORROW.

The Boys' club of Hunter's Park will give a minstrel show at 8 o'clock tonight at the Washburn school.

The Woodland Echo club will meet tonight at the residence of Miss Edna Magnusson, 2617 West Fifth street.

Miss Anna Anderson of 1219 East Fourth street will be the hostess tonight for the meeting of the Adelphion club, formerly the Linnaea branch.

The Saturday club will hold its annual meeting at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the library clubroom.

Committee Raised $60 For Surgical Dressings

At the residence of Mrs. Walter Turle yesterday afternoon, the Duluth branch of the Surgical Dressings committee of New York held a tea which resulted in more than $60 being realized for the purchase of materials to make more surgical dressings to be sent to the front.

The Duluth branch has already made and shipped to the hospitals at the front this winter, fifteen cases of surgical dressings containing 710 oakum absorbent pads, 7x11; 180 absorbent cotton pads, 6x8; 475 tampons, ninety-five flannel binders; fifty fracture pillows; ten T binders; 195 old linen wipes; 205 old linen compresses; 1,150 gauze compresses; seventy drains; 185 gauze packings; twelve towels; making a total of 3,938 articles.

Of added interest to the afternoon was an informal exhibition of some of Mrs. Turle's miniatures.

Assisting about the dining room were: Mrs. James D. Ireland, Mrs. E. P. Alexander, Mrs. James C. Hunter, Mrs. A H Viehle, Miss Amelia Andrews, Miss Margaret Hunter and Miss Amy Walker.

Mrs. A. R. Macfarlane and Mrs. Arthur King served at the tea table upon which tulips were most effectively used.

Surprise Party.

Miss Florence Benson of 518 Twenty-third avenue west was pleasantly surprised by her friends Tuesday evening, the occasion being her birthday. The following young people enjoyed a pleasant evening of music and games:

Mesdames—
C. Benson, E. Sostrom.
Misses—

Training Chicago Society Buds for Vaudeville

Donald MacDonald, who is well known to Duluthians through his successful vaudeville entertainments, "Tango Town" and "Up and Down Broadway," is now working on a show which the Junior Leaguers will present in Chicago the latter part of next month. The Chicago Herald, speaking of some of those who will take part, says:

"Miss Martha Clow was one of the first of the two-score young women who immediately caught the spirit and swing of the intricate steps yesterday at the afternoon rehearsal of the Junior Leaguers at the Blackstone, and, although spectators were barred, a few eager onlookers peeked over the edge of the balcony and watched Donald MacDonald direct the two lines of maidens as they swung back and forth to the strains of the latest popular airs, their hands on one another's shoulders. Miss Margaret Talbot, Miss Alice Cudahy, Miss Gladys High and Miss Martha Clow were among those at the rehearsal, and from the present outlook the performance at the Auditorium theater Tuesday evening, April 25, is to be both tuneful and spectacular."

Miss Stoughton Opens Studio.

Miss Nellie Stoughton, who is well known as a teacher of dancing, will hold classes, beginning tomorrow morning, on the fifth floor of the Temple building. The courses will include esthetic, interpretive and folk dancing and classes for children.

A Crisp, Delicious "Snack" for luncheon or after-the-theater, or any old time when the appetite craves "something different," is TRISCUIT, the Shredded Whole Wheat toast. Heat it in the oven to restore its crispness, then serve with butter, soft cheese or marmalades. As a toast for chafing dish cookery it is a rare delight. It is full of real nutriment.

Nearly 3,000 Heard Orchestra Concert

Expressions of pleasure and appreciation for the concert given by the New York Symphony orchestra Tuesday night are still heard, and while the financial accounts are not yet completed, it is assured that it was a success in this respect, too. The audience that attended has been estimated from the ticket sale at 2,800, for which the Matinee Musicale feels especially grateful.

Mr. Damrosch remarked to friends here that it was a delightful audience to play for, that the acoustic properties were surprisingly fine and that he was surprised and pleased at the class of music that had appealed to the audience here.

Sastowsky, the concertmeister, said, in his broken English, that he didn't know when he had heard the music "sound so pre-cty" and that the whole orchestra felt the ready response and pleasure of the audience.

The Marine band of Two Harbors, fifteen strong, attended in a body and have written expressing delight at hearing such a concert.

Efficient Housekeeping

Wasted Energy

AN observing man declares that the energy women waste in average homes would, if properly directed, be sufficient to house and clothe all the poor in this land as well as to harvest the crops. At first reading the statement seems far too sweeping to be true, but if we remember how great strides have been made with labor-saving machinery in the business world and then recall that housework in too many homes is done "in the same old way" grandma used to do it, it suddenly sounds true.

Housekeepers are the largest class of economically useful women and if their efforts could be systematized to get the greatest good from them there is no telling what the outcome might be.

Bread-mixers, washing machines, improved ranges, electrically-controlled churns, chopping machines, sewing machines and similar devices seem to strike some men as being too complicated for their women folks to use. So the bread is baked in the old back-breaking way. Floors are swept with brooms that wear out the carpets as well as their users. Wash day is as dreaded a time as can be imagined. If you will contrast household labor-saving devices with the billing machines, typewriters and filing systems business women use in their work, gentlemen, it will reassure you; your wife and daughter will be able to understand any helpful contraption you are willing to buy for them.

I stayed over night in the home of a family recently where the man of the house contended that "women should be companions, guides and inspirations to their families." "Their interests," he said, "should lie in better babies, better schools and improved civic affairs." It sounded fine, but the next morning I found his wife had to carry her water from an outdoor well half way down hill and across the lot. Even when she said she always carried two pails at once to balance her and that she liked the exercise, I still felt that there was wasted energy there that might be put to better advantage.

Sometimes it is the fault of the women in our land that home conditions are bad, but it seems to be up to the men to better them.

What's the Matter With Billy Robin?

ANYBODY would have thought that Billy Robin would have been perfectly happy to live forever in the charming bit of woods where he made his winter home. But anybody who really thought that, didn't know Billy.

Of course he liked the South—dear me, yes! And of course he had a beautiful time with his many friends—to be sure! But all that is not being happy. Indeed no!

Billy longed to be at work. He wanted to be up and doing; but he didn't know what he wanted to do. So he was restless and miserable.

"What's the matter with you these days, Billy?" asked the youngest South-breeze one fine late winter morning. "Your song sounds dismal."

"Nothing the matter, nothing the matter," replied Billy bravely. "Good cheer! Good cheer!"

The littlest South-breeze doubled up with laughter. "Now, look here, Billy, you can't fool me that way! Your song 'good cheer' sounds about as cheerful as a mournful owl at night. What has come over you? You have been so happy all the winter long. Don't you like this sunny woods? Aren't you happy with your friends? Has anybody been worrying you? What is the trouble?"

"Oh, dear, so many questions," sighed Billy. "I'm all right. Only—only—well, I'll tell you the truth—I don't know what is the matter with me."

"That's funny," said the youngest South-breeze in a puzzed voice. "Are you feeling ill? Has anyone been unkind to you? Do——"

"Please don't ask me any more questions," interrupted Billy. "I tell you there is nothing the matter. Good cheer! Good cheer!"

But for all Billy Robin's brave bluffing, the youngest South-breeze was not fooled one bit—not he! He looked at Billy thoughtfully and then he blew away to find his mother.

"Mother!" he called, when he had found her near a beautiful swamp, "do come and see what's the matter with Billy Robin! He doesn't sing nicely and he isn't happy."

The Littlest South-breeze Doubled up With Laughter.

"Matter with Billy Robin," exclaimed Mrs. South-breeze with concern. "Is he here yet?"

"Here yet?" asked the youngest South-breeze. "Why of course he's here! He lives right over there!" and he pointed to where Billy Robin sat on a tree.

"Lives there in winter," said Mrs. South-breeze. "Of course I know that. But it's time now that he moved north. No wonder he is miserable! I've forgotten to tell him that winter is just over!" And she hurried over to where Billy sat.

What she whispered to him, Billy never told; but the youngest South-breeze who was looking on, saw Billy sit up quickly, smile a broad grin and chirp, "I'll start tomorrow!" And then how he did sing!

Mrs. Wilson's Friend Will Wed President's Physician

Washington, March 31.—Dr. Cary T. Grayson, President Wilson's physician and naval aide, and Miss Alice Gertrude Gordon of this city, Mrs. Wilson's most intimate friend, will be married within the next two months. Announcement of the engagement was made yesterday by Mrs. Henry Wood Flournoy of New York, Miss Gordon's aunt. The wedding will take place either in New York or Washington, and may be solemnized in the White House. The president and Mrs. Wilson will attend.

Proper Etiquette for "Getting a Light"

Rules of etiquette govern the lighting of cigarettes, just as well as behavior at the table or at dances. It has been decreed that when a woman asks a man for a light from his cigarette, he must hold it in his fingers, not between his lips. To a man who was holding his "nail" in his mouth while his companion lit hers, a waiter in a New York hotel said: "Pardon, sir, but the proprietor asks that you hold your cigarette in your fingers. No offense, sir. It's the rule of the house."

It has been suggested that those who don't like the new order may use matches.

Writes Book Telling One-Hundred Ways of Not Being a Bore

Ada Lewis, who has one of the leading parts in "Very Good, Eddy," has written a book, "One Hundred Ways Not to Be a Bore." She says she wishes she had called her book "One Thousand Ways Not to Be a Bore," because every few minutes she thinks of a new variety of bore she has met. She says, too, that it's fifty-fifty between men and women when it comes to being bores. She makes two exceptions to the persons who bore her, old women and babies, because old women are gold mines of interest and babies are without self consciousness and egotism. She labels old men "ghastly bores."

Bores Classified.

Among the bores that have been classified by Miss Lewis are masculine and feminine "love" bores, who tell how devoted their true loves are to them; the paternal and maternal ones who tell of all the cute things Harold and Mildred say; the boarding-house bore who reads the newspaper aloud, tells his, or her, dreams at the breakfast table and discusses his, or her, last boarding place. Miss Lewis says a gossip is not a bore because scandal is always interesting, provided it is not of the hackneyed sort.

She tells the woman who would avoid being a bore not to substitute the anemic term "kiddie" for the study slang term "kid," or "hades" or a synonym of equal caloric power for "hell"; not to repeat what the shoe salesman said about her having such a high instep that she should have her shoes made to order; not to aspire to the impossible by trying to make a graceful exit at a tea but to "beat it and beat it quick," and not to cultivate the perpetual smile that may fit ill with the mood of the victim.

And here is where Miss Lewis scores a strong point by telling the married woman not to speak of her husband as Mr. Blank, unless addressing social inferiors; to her social equals and superiors he is John or Frank or "my husband." Of course, Miss Lewis will tell a man that his better half is Mary or Harriet or "my wife," except to so-called "inferiors." She says that a person who violates this rule is a boor as well as a bore.

This benefactor to the human race cautions men, who would not be bores, to refrain from attempting funny stories unless they excel in that drawing room accomplishment, not to call a grown woman "my dear child" and not to work the thermometer and barometer to death as topics of conversation.

Why Covering Is Necessary When Taking "Forty Winks"

Seattle Post-Intelligencer: Few persons seem to realize that it is an unwise thing to drop down for a map during the day time without using a covering of some sort for the body. The fact that one is fully or even partly dressed at the time seems to many persons sufficient grounds for disregarding the question of requiring any other covering while sleeping.

Now, facts, known about the body while it is sleeping indicate that it is nature's intention that the body should rest during sleep, and that that faithful, never-ceasing worker, the heart, should be relieved of its regular work temporarily.

As a matter of fact, while we sleep the normal heart makes ten strokes a minute less than it does when we are awake and our bodies are in an upright position.

The heart pumps with each stroke six ounces of blood, and, this being true, it lifts about 30,000 ounces less of blood during the night session than it would under normal conditions during the daytime, when a person is usually in an upright position.

These bodies of ours depend entirely upon the blood's circulation for warmth, and as the blood flows so much more slowly through the veins when one is lying down, it is easily seen that the body warmth lost in this reduced circulation needs to be supplied by extra coverings. So cover the children when they kick the covers off.

Some More or Less Valuable Information About the Retail Markets.

Tomatoes, two pounds for 25 cents.
New white turnips, 5 cents a bunch.
California asparagus, 10 cents a bunch.
Head lettuce, 7 cents a head.
Spinach, 50 cents a peck.
Pieplant, four pounds for 25 cents.
Garlic, 25 cents a pound.
Blue fish, 15 cents per pound.
Turkey, 34 cents a pound.
Oxtails, 10 cents each or three for 25 cents.

New white turnips to match the table cloth are appearing on the market, though they may be had in most any color to suit the fastidious hostess. Yellow turnips are being used a lot this year. Stripes are good, too, but they don't come in turnips.

Head lettuce, formerly 10 cents, is only 7 cents a head now, which puts you just 3 cents ahead—though understand the lettuce is that much a head—not you. Well, work it out for yourself.

Garlic makes a tasty little dish—very reasonable, too, at 25 cents a pound, and you'll find that a pound goes a long way. Some things go too far—but not garlic—you can't go too far with it.

Turkeys are here (not right here—but in town) at 34 cents a pound. A very reasonable meal could be gotten out of half a pound.

Oxtails—very cute and swishy—are on the market at 10 cents per swish. Personally they appeal more to the eye when they're on the ox. They probably appeal more to the ox that way, too.

Peggy Peabody's Observations

Don't Be a Nagger

Some women are born suspicious, some have suspicion thrust upon them and a very few sail serenely through life never doubting and never questioning and even refusing to see and believe what is apparent to everyone else. Thrice blessed are the last named in their faith and refusal to have their hearts poisoned where it is most concerned.

I know a girl about to be married and yet she is frightfully suspicious of her lover. She is unwarrantably so. I have never been in their company when the meeting was not painful and embarrassing to me. The man is a good-natured sort, ready and willing to make himself agreeable and concede much for the sake of peace and harmony.

The more agreeable he strives to be the more bound she seems to be just the opposite. There is nothing too trivial for her to take him to task about, nothing that escapes her upon which she can build an argument or show him up to be less a man. She suspects his every movement when he is away from her or at her side, with or without reason, I know not, but suspect him and nag him by her innuendoes and frank statements she does to the queen's taste.

I know a married woman who questions her husband upon the minutest details and if he shows any impatience at her attitude she has some sarcastic fling barbed with suspicion to give him in reply.

This nagging, this suspicion, and this disinclination to make the best of things is one of the surest killers of happiness. Why not wear a smiling face and exercise a honeyed tongue. A disposition and an intent to be pleasant and agreeable is a very difficult thing to withstand. If doubt has its clutch upon your heartstrings shake it off or free yourself from the cause of your suspicion. Do not become a sour-tongued, complaining woman, who looks upon all her husband's friends and upon all her husband says and does with evil-eyed suspicion. We all have our faults, some of them unknown to ourselves but quite apparent to others. We would not like to be constantly reminded of what these faults are and taunted about them by others. The nagger has caused untold unhappiness and distress.

SIDE TALKS

By RUTH CAMERON

Was It Fair?

What a complex world this is!

A friend of mine has lost her position as soloist in the church choir. The position meant a good deal to her. She has, to my knowledge, filled it creditably for several years, and she has depended upon it. The money which she earned at this work made it possible for her to live at home with her folks instead of going to the city to seek work.

Now she has lost this position, not because she failed in any of its obligations or because the congregation was dissatisfied, but because another woman offered to fill it without pay.

Her Motives Were Good, But——

Without doubt this woman's motives were good. She wanted to help the church. And equally without doubt she has done harm as well as good. She has deprived an honest worker of her work.

What are the ethics of this situation?

Was it fair for this woman to do this, or wasn't it?

Of course if this were an isolated case I should not waste space in writing about it, but it is not isolated, it is typical.

The woman who offers her services for nothing because she can afford to do it may not be so common, but the girl or woman who is willing to work for a wage below the living wage because she has some one who helps support her, and who uses her earnings only for luxuries, is a familiar figure.

At first one feels tempted to say, Out upon all such! They should stay at home and leave the positions to those who really need them.

Yet Shall We Deny the Right to Work to Her?

And yet—well, I'm thinking of a girl who doesn't need to work. She could stay at home and amuse herself in the social round of a small suburb. But "I hate it!" she says. "I'm bored and restless and miserable unless I'm working."

Have we a right to deny the great boon of work to her?

It's a difficult problem, isn't it?

It seems to me that any girl who works for a business concern should demand the money she is worth, and not just pin money to buy luxuries with. If she wants to give the excess to charity, so much the better.

And any girl who thinks of giving her services to a charity or philanthropy should first look about carefully to see whom such an act would affect.

What do my reader friends think about it?

With My Letter Friends.

Question—Should a girl that still loves a man who has become indifferent to her marry another party in order to avoid a lonely life?

Answer—Marriage without love is always dangerous, but then marriage with what commonly passes for love is also dangerous. To take your individual case: suppose the man you loved came back into your life and you were married to the other, what then? Does the man you think of marrying know that you don't love him? Don't think of marrying him without telling him the truth. That would be cheating. And is he congenial? I can't answer your question because I don't know your temperament. In marriage one trades one's freedom for companionship. I don't know which you prize the most. Again, there are many obligations in marriage which are difficult to fulfill without love. I don't know how much that would bother you. Think over all these questions I have asked, and then decide for yourself.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and luster and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

AL. WILSON RETURNS.

Singing Comedian Welcomed Back By His Old-Time Admirers.

Al H. Wilson is no stranger to the Duluth theater-going public. They have been acquainted and on good terms with one another for years. And as the seasons have come and gone, Mr. Wilson's friends and admirers have never tired of hearing the singing dialect comedian and his latest tunes.

So it was last evening at the Lyceum theater, where Mr. Wilson and his company played "As Years Roll On" before a small but very appreciative audience. Mr. Wilson was given an opportunity to sing several new songs and also sang some of his old time melodies. He seemed to be in as good form as ever and he delighted his audience last evening in his new role.

The play is a blending of sentiment and comedy with lines to suggest new love songs by Mr. Wilson. The titles of the some of the new ones are "Yesterday," "As Years Roll On," "Mother Mine" and "She Left Me for a Teddy Bear."

The story of the play is told in three acts, supposed to cover a period of thirty years, with the scenes laid in Holland and America. The episode of the first act takes place in a small village in Holland on "Conscription Day." The opening scene discloses the relatives of John Van Zam (played by Mr. Wilson) the village miller, in front of his home discussing the illegal enrollment of Van Zam into the army. Being refused time necessary to bid his aged mother farewell, Van Zam resists arrest and the curtain falls as he escapes from the soldiers.

The second act is twelve years later and the locality changed to America. Van Zam is seen as the trusted clerk in a small delicatessen store in New York city, happy in the prospect of soon embarking on a business career of his own—a happiness that is shared by his wife and young daughter. The death of Van Zam's wife in this act creates a void in his life that he endeavors to fill by supplying his daughter with an education and everything that her heart desires.

Twelve years elapse between the second and third acts. The scene discloses the interior of Van Zam's home in New York city. A successful and wealthy business man, long past middle age, he is seen with his daughter surrounded by relatives and friends. A happy denouement to the act is the betrothal of his daughter to the son of a life-long acquaintance.

One of the real funmakers of the evening was Hans J. Fischer, as Heinrich Geesang, the inventor. He drew more laughs than anyone. The play will show at the Lyceum today and Saturday with matinee.

COMEDY AT GRAND.

"Senator" Murphy Heads New Show for Week-End.

The large crowds that saw the new show at the Grand yesterday gave both vaudeville and pictures a hearty welcome, and the week-end promises to be popular at that playhouse. With gloomy weather prevailing, the clever comedy and lively music that featured the show, offered an appropriate antidote for the blues.

"Senator" Francis Murphy, a German comedian, appears in a rather unusual role—that of a stump speaker. But the "senator" apparently is at home in burlesqueing political discussions from the stump, and he was greeted with rounds of applause.

Haney and Lang, and a piano, offer a program of eccentric piano playing and dancing that is somewhat out of the ordinary. The young woman plays well and her partner is clever with his feet.

The Carroll-Pierlott company in a comedy sketch, "I Died," corral a lot of laughs by their clever nonsense.

Rose and Ellis make a specialty of barrel jumping. Some of their stunts appear extremely hazerdous.

"The Intruder," a two-reel subject and a sequel to "The Edge of Things," leads the photoplay attractions. Richard Travers, Marguerite Clayton and Ernest Maupin are featured in "Ophelia." The Selig-Tribune News shows many prominent current news events including some interesting views taken along the Mexican border.

WALTHAL IN ORPHEUM FILM.

Scores Success in "The Birth of a Man" Booked for Week-End.

Henry B. Walthal, who scored such a big success as the "Little Colonel" in "The Birth of a Nation," appeared at the Orpheum-Strand yesterday, beginning a four-day engagement, in "The Birth of a Man." Those who liked Walthal in the Griffith masterpicture, will undoubtedly like him in his photoplay now at the Orpheum-Strand.

The plot of the play is one that readily holds attention. It depicts the experiences of a young millionaire, whose god is money, and his awakening through adversity of the most strenuous nature. He is held up, knocked unconscious, and robbed of his clothes by tramps. He wanders in the hills for days. He finally reaches home where nobody recognizes him for his hair has turned gray because of his terrible experiences.

During the trying experiences through which he passes, he learns to view life from the standpoint of the "under dog." Finally his benefactor in adversity, driven desperate through failure to secure work to support his family, plans the robbery of the millionaire's house, and together they attempt to carry out the robbery. While his assistant is collecting the silver, the hero spends his time shaving and changing into his own clothes, so that by the time the police arrive and capture the burglar, the millionaire is able to convince his own servants of his identity. The story ends happily with the young man restored to his property and with a new and more humane outlook on life.

"PEG O' MY HEART" WILL RETURN TO DULUTH FOR WEEK'S ENGAGEMENT

Florence Martin As "Peg" WHITE STUDIO-PHOT

Oliver Morosco's production of J. Hartley Manners' charming comedy "Peg O My Heart," will return to the Lyceum theater next Sunday matinee for a week's stay, with usual matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. It is on its final vilst here under the Morosco management, with Florence Martin again announced in the title role.

This refreshing play with its Irish heroine, will recall to theatergoers the houses that were filled with laughter and tears on the play's previous engagements. "Peg" is a broth of a girl—a captivating, roguish little rascal, crude from the "Old Sod," which she rambled over in a cart, at whose tail her socialistic father orated for Ireland and liberty. These ramblings ceased one day and Peg suddenly found herself amid the aristocratic grandeur and artificiality of an English household where she is to be polished up and made into a lady. "Peg" has a troublesome time of it from the moment of her arrival at the Chichester home. Incidentally though, she keeps the daughter of the house from eloping with a married man, while she herself runs away with the heart of Jerry, who turns out to be a baronet. The supporting company personally selected by Manager Morosco, is said to be of unusual excellence, and consists of F. Bruce Tiden, Madeline L'Estrange, York Erskine, John Pearson, Edmund Dalby and Lillian Kemble Cooper.

Theater Gossip.

When Hector Turnbull, who wrote the play "For the Defense," dipped into a theme that runs through the story that has now been picturized for the Paramount people, it was a bold stroke. In selecting Fannie Ward for the play, which is here for today and tomorrow at the Rex, no mistake was made, and the story and work of the star make a picture that has been received with unstinted approval.

FANNIE WARD AT THE REX.

It is a story of an attempt to wrong a little French novice about to enter the sisterhood. The ruthless men who seek to imprison her in a disreputable house in New York find in the leading character a woman more than a match for their cunning. A crime is committed—murder—and while it looks dark for Fidele for a time, she turns the tables upon her designing enemies.

The closest observers of the motion drama will admit that seldom is a picture put on by any of the reliable producers that does not have a lesson and moral, however daring the play seems to be, throughout. "Bella Donna" is one such picture. It will be seen in a return engagement today and tomorrow at the Lyric.

SILHOUETTE FILMS APPEAR AT LYRIC.

Pauline Frederick, as the daring adventuress—the scheming, designing woman in the play—shows before the picture is concluded that evil sometimes has its own punishment. The picture is not a sermon, but it has a lesson, and the adventuress is turned out to face the desert and oblivion when she is found out.

Today and tomorrow the new silhouette pictures, created by Bray and famous artists like him, go on for the first time.

"The Writing on the Wall," the five-part photo drama which has made a good impression on those who have seen it, will close its engagement at the Zelda tonight. This play is a drama with a moral. The theme is said to have been taken from a true incident that happened in New York city and was written into a play, which was made famous by Olga Nethersole.

VIRGINIA PEARSON SCORES HIT AT ZELDA.

Virginia Pearson in the role of the wife, outdoes anything she has attempted before in pictures.

Joseph Kilgour, as usual, handles his part adequately.

Saturday the Zelda will present a Frank Daniels show, which will include a feature five-part comedy and a one-reel comedy with this comedian in the lead.

The feature picture will be "What Happened to Father," and is said to be one of the funniest plays ever produced by this company.

The usual Saturday matinee for women and children will be given.

Pittsburgh Widow Weds Millionaire's Son

MRS. GAIL BORDEN.

Gail Borden, the son of the famous milk man, has married Mrs. Margaret Coutant, widow of Charles A. Coutant of Pittsburgh and buyer for a Pittsburgh shop. Mrs. Borden was Miss Sawyer of Pittsburgh. She was employed by a Pittsburgh shop when Mr. Coutant went to be its manager. They were married but after fourteen months he died, leaving his property to a daughter by his first wife. Mrs. Coutant got only $5,000 through a will contest. She then returned to work as a fur buyer. Through Lewis Borden, partner in a New York fur house, she met Gail, his brother, and just before Christmas they were married in Chicago where they are now living.

NET PROCEEDS MORE THAN $5,000

Red Cross Bazar Committee Busy Closing Its Accounts.

President M. Binheim of the German-Austro-Hungarian Relief association and manager of the Red Cross fair and bazar which closed last Monday at the Duluth Auditorium, stated this morning that the net proceeds which would be turned over, half to the Red Cross and half to the war widows and orphans, would amount to a little more than $5,000.

A meeting of the finance committee was held at the office of the German Press Thursday afternoon. Different bills were approved and checks will go out during the day.

Mr. Binheim requests that all bills against the bazar committee be sent to the office of the relief association, 200 Exchange building, at once, as he is anxious to settle all the accounts and prepare the final reports for the general committee.

All committee members are more than pleased with the success of the affair, and are now already planning for some kind of a permanent relief association and for an annual bazar and fair. Mr. Binheim announces that the prizes have all been awarded. Blue tickets must be presented at the Exchange building in order to get the prizes.

TAFT WILL BE GUEST OF THOMAS WOOD

Former President Will Pass Two Days With Duluthian.

Thomas Wood of Duluth has received a letter from Former President Taft, in which the latter says he will pass Monday and Tuesday, April 24 and 25, with Mr. Wood. Mr. Taft had planned to be here Sunday as well, but a previous engagement has prevented the former president from attending church here on April 23, as he had planned.

Mr. Taft says in his letter that he is eagerly looking forward to visit here. The letter follows:

"My Dear Tom—Mr. Michler has shown me your letter of March 24. When I was in Wisconsin, I agreed to stay with "Dad" Burton, my classmate, at La Crosse, two days, Saturday and Sunday, April 22 and 23. A previous engagement therefore, prevents my acceptance of your kind invitation for Sunday, 23. I shall be with you, however, Monday and Tuesday, 24 and 25, if agreeable. Will leave Tuesday evening for Chicago and Cleveland. I am looking forward with much pleasure to my visit with you.

Sincerely,
"W. H. TAFT.

"Pennsy" Governor Marries His Ward

MRS. M. G. BRUMBAUGH.

Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh of Pennsylvania, who entered the governor's mansion a widower at 53 years of age, has just been married to his ward who is about twelve years his junior and who has been a member of his family for many years. The marriage was not announced in advance and only a few were present at the wedding.

CONTEMPT CHARGE AGAINST MARSHALL

Resolution to Be Offered in House Based on Letter.

Washington, March 31.—United States Attorney Marshall's recent letter to the subcommittee investigating Representative Buchanan's impeachment charges will be submitted to the house without recommendation and a resolution to find the attorney in contempt of the house will be offered.

The judiciary committee voted to adopt this course.

Chairman Webb said the member to offer the contempt resolution would be selected later.

The letter to which the committee takes exception was written by the United States attorney when a subcommittee was in New York taking testimony on the impeachment charges. It attacked the committee's method and in effect declared the committee's course was pursued because Mr. Marshall had had the temerity to indict a member of congress.

April Sunshine Brings Out Spring Styles Just As Surely As April Showers Bring Forth Spring Flowers---

You have probably been planning for your spring wearables—many have already bought—and this message is especially important to those who have yet to buy.

The New Suits—the New Coats—the New Gowns —the New Blouses—The New Skirts—Are Ready

They are ready at Gray's as never before, and we invite you to enjoy seeing them. Courteous salespeople are here to show them. You will not be asked to buy, but we do mightily hope you will try on some of the new styles.

You can't tell much about the new styles by seeing them on someone else—the true test is to try them on yourself to see what is and what is not becoming.

This is a season when more than ever before one should be particular in making their choice. There is such a variety of the new styles that you will find some one particular styles that seems to be designed precisely for you. Just let some of our good people show you various models so that you may see for yourself how very becoming the proper model is.

The Suits at $25 to $35 Deserve Special Mention

Those who fail to see them now will miss much. There are certain distinct advantages in buying now. Firstly, all materials are advancing. We must pay more and you must pay more for later purchases, and some of the best things will be unprocurable later. Moreover, those who buy now have the benefit of the extra early wear.

They have the enjoyment of wearing the new style when they are new—and there is a certain satisfaction in being a style leader rather than a style follower.

New Neck Frillings—in the Various Widths
The wanted frillings for neckwear are here now in net, chiffon and Georgette crepe in widths varrying from 1 to 5 inches at 25c to $2.50 the yard.

The Gowns at $25 to $35 Especially Attractive

Master designers have done their best. Skilled workers have needled the garments into a surprising perfection. The full flared skirts, the gracefully rounded bodice and the drawn-in waist make them as up to date as a fashion plate. Other silk gowns at $15.00 to $50.00.

Your Hat Is Ready at Gray's
We Would Like You to Try it on to See How You Like it Before We Send it Out Tomorrow

It will take very little of your time if you come tomorrow morning. Our milliners will know what you can wear most becomingly and will gladly show you various models so that you can see "the one hat" that suits you best of all.

It will be a hat your friends will admire—a hat that both you and we may be proud of.

It may be towering high. It may be close and snug fitting. It may be a slanting sailor—but whatever shape it may be—it will express your taste with charming becomingness.

Prices range $5.00 to $15.00 for smart early wear models. Those at $8.00 and $10.00 are particularly worthy of seeing.

Have a Silk Skirt Made to Your Measure!
The Making Will Cost You Only.. $2.50

We have received from our tailors a new model made up of the new striped taffetas. These you know at the present time are very much worn and very effective. They have a new look about them altogether very smart.

Choose from a variety of different styles of stripes or any of our plain silks and we will have the skirt made to your measure, guaranteeing satisfactory fit. The making will cost you only $2.50.

It requires 3¾ to 4 yards of 36-inch silk for a skirt. You can buy them at $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2.00 on up to $3.50 the yard. Leave your order tomorrow.

Charming New 65c Neckwear
Specially Priced at 50c Tomorrow

A whole table full of fresh new neckwear in wanted styles. Choose from collars, vestees, and collar and cuff sets — plain hemstitched or lace trimmed—in white and colors.

All 65c qualities, Saturday only 50c each.

Gleaming Silk Stockings
That Bespeak a Discriminating Taste.

In view of the extensive use of silk hose this season, we have exercised more than usual care in selecting kinds that are dressy yet immensely practical.

Kayser Pure Dye, Marvel Stripe Silk Hose—One of the best kinds we know of. Try a pair, black only, $2.00 per pair.

Kayser Pure Dye Silk Hose—Splendid values in black, white and colors, $1.00 per pair. Out sizes, $1.25 per pair.

Kayser Black Pure Dye Silk Hose, with button-hole tops, $1.50 the pair. Out sizes $1.75 the pair.

Other good makes in silk and fiber silk hose, 50c, 75c and $1.00 the pair.

Washable Kid Gloves Are Mighty Popular
And These Are the Proper Kinds!

Practical folks certainly have appreciated these Vallier French kid gloves that wash, judging from the past week's selling.

We have also added another lot of wash cape gloves for you who wish a trifle heavier weight.

Ready here tomorrow are Vallier French kid gloves in light shades, two clasps, $2.25 the pair.

Also Ireland washable cape gloves, 2 pearl clasps, embroidered backs. $2.25 the pair, Newport shade only.

Wash them just as easily as you'd wash your hands.

Dainty Wash Fabrics on the Bargain Square

Here are sheer tissues and attractive zephyrs that you will want for dainty summer dresses and for school wear.

Dozens of pretty patterns for grown-ups and ever so many bright plaids and fetching stripes for school girls.

FRECKLES

March Worst Month For This Trouble —How to Remove Easily.

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of othine, double strength, from your druggist and apply a little of it night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they may stay all Summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if othine fails.—Advertisement.

LITERACY TEST NOW IN SENATE

House Passes Immigration Bill With Provision By 308 to 87.

Has Been the Cause of Vetoes By Three Presidents.

Washington, March 31.—The fight against the house immigration bill prescribing a literacy test for the admission of aliens, was today transferred to the senate following its passage by the house by a vote of 308 to 87 yesterday.

The literacy test, about which the fight against the bill had centered, was sustained 284 to 107. This provision has been the cause of vetoes of similar immigration bills by Presidents Cleveland, Taft and Wilson. The house passed the bill over the Cleveland veto, but it failed in the senate. Motions to override the vetoes of President Taft and President Wilson were lost in the house by narrow margins. Representative Burnett, chairman of the immigration committee, predicted that there was sufficient strength to repass the bill in the event of another veto. The president has not indicated his purpose to the house leaders.

Party Lines Obliterated.

Both record votes—on the literacy test, and on the passage of the bill—were without regard to party lines. Majority Leader Kitchin voted for the literacy test and for the bill. Minority Leader Mann, voted against the literacy test and then for the bill.

During the debate the Humphrey reciprocal expulsion act adopted Tuesday, aimed at retaliation on British Columbia because of its exclusion of skilled and unskilled labor from this and other foreign countries, was modified upon discovery that it operated against immigration from Russia. It was changed so as to made it applicable only to a "contiguous" foreign country.

Representative Bennett of New York read to the house a telegram from Louis Marshall of New York, pointing out that the amendment as originally adopted would interfere with the right of asylum and saying:

Will Exclude Russian Jew.

"So far as the Russian Jew is concerned it will exclude him altogether, because Russia steadfastly has forbidden American Jews to enter her domain, even though they bear American passports."

Aslatic exclusion provisions specifically bar Hindus and add to the excluded classes "persons who cannot become eligible, under existing law, to become citizens of the United States by naturalization unless otherwise provided for" by existing or future treaties, conventions or agreements.

Pacific coast members were satisfied with this provision, which gives legislative recognition to the existing so-called "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan for the exclusion of Japanese laborers and the committee advised the house that there was nothing offensive in the language to the immigration bureau, the state department or to any government.

Other provisions of the bill extend and strengthen the laws regarding smuggling and harboring of inadmissible aliens, increase the penalties imposed on steamship companies for illegal acts in connection with immigrant traffic, requires such companies to repay passage expense to rejected aliens, doubles the head tax from $4 to $8 and imposes restrictions designed to prevent alien seamen who leave their ships from remaining in this country.

Throughout the house debate officials of the American Federation of Labor have been in the gallery and they checked off the votes of members during the roll call.

New spring suits only $7.95 at the "3 Winners" removal sale.

PRACTICALLY EXONERATED

disasters, fail in the final tests?

Ernst and Hess were to appear as principal witnesses at the examination today.

Ernst has flatly asserted he did not put up a signal to stop the first section of train 86, which was smashed by Hess' section.

He argues if the tower, "or home," signal, showed red, as everyone is agreed it did, the system was out of working order.

Engineer Hess has asserted the two signals he passed before crashing into the train ahead showed "clear."

After the crash when Hess went back to look, he says he found the signal showed red.

He gives it as his belief that the signal system was defective.

That both sections of Train No. 86 were late and were racing to make up lost time was testified to by F. E. Bausch, night dispatcher on duty when the wreck of the three New York Central trains occurred near Amherst early Wednesday, and an allegation that the block signal system was defective, testified to by Albert H. Ernst, signal towerman, were the principal features developed today at the first formal hearing by state and Federal authorities into the causes that led to the Amherst disaster.

cargo from reaching Russia. I could have blown her up, but the captain's plea for his wife and daughter was too much for me and I hadn't the heart to do it. I am ready to take the consequences, but I ask that they keep me ashore instead of sending me back to the ship for the captain to take me in charge."

Schiller had been told that as his daring exploit occurred outside the three-mile limit, he would in all likelihood be taken to British possessions in the West Indies for trial for piracy.

Despite his assertions that he had not concealed any bombs on the Matoppo and had made threats to blow up the ship merely to frighten the captain and crew into obeying his commands, a thorough search of the cargo of barbed wire and farm implements will be made before the vessel proceeds to Vladivostok.

The alleged pirate declares that his identity must reman a mystery. "I prefer to be known as Schiller," he said. He denied that he was actuated by patriotic motives, but said he was after the £2,000 which he believed was in the vessel's safe.

Federal authorities and representatives for Great Britain came here today to examine Schiller and decide what to do with him. If the United States finds it has no jurisdiction under international maritime law, he will be turned over to the representatives of Great Britain.

An examination into Schiller's mental condition will be made.

Lives Lost In Powder Factory.

London, March 31.—A Reuter dispatch filed at Oldenzaal, Holland, on Wednesday, says that many persons lost their lives in a fire in a powder factory at Troisdorf, near Cologne.

VILLA PREPARING TO FIGHT

divide should be today within striking distance of the San Geronimo ranch where the quarry was last known to be.

To Make Test of Railroads.

Washington, March 31.—Gen. Funston had instructions to make the first test today of Gen. Carranza's plan for the commercial use of the Mexican Northwestern railroad for shipping supplies to the American troops pursuing Villa. By tendering his first consignment to the railroad, Funston will begin the fair trial that is to be given the de facto government's concessions. In the meantime the United States will not press for an extension of the arrangement, although doubt regarding its adequacy is expressed in official quarters.

Field Bakery Established.

Field Headquarters American expeditionary forces, Colonia Dublan, Chihuahua, March 27.—(By motor truck to Columbus, N. M., March 27.)—Establishment of a field bakery on a Mexican plantation near headquarters has released half a dozen automobiles for other work which up to today have been distributing bread baked on the United States border among the columns of the expedition.

The new field kitchens, comprising two ovens, each nearly the size of a garage are capable of turning out 5,400 one-pound loaves of bread per day. A one-pound loaf of army bread is a day's rations for a soldier in the field.

Heavy Movement of Troops.

Federal Headquarters, American Expeditionary Force, Colonia Dublan, Chihuahua, Mex., March 28.—(By motor to Columbus, N. M., March 31.)—Troops, munitions and supplies intended for use either in a final quick dash for Villa or for a long chase are constantly moving out of the headquarters camp. When these movements are on foot all other military work gives way. The officers refuse to talk of the chances of overtaking Villa but the visible evidence is overwhelming that the expeditionary force is piling up somewhere south of this base a formidable machine for trapping him. Among the known elements of this movement is a body of picked men, equiped to travel with all necessary supplies for an indefinite length of time.

Skirmish With Villa.

San Antonio, March 31.—The Mexican consulate received a message today from Consul Garcia at El Paso saying that Gen. Gavira had received a telegram from Queretaro which said that Gen. Cavasos had engaged in a skirmish with Villa forces at Guerrero. Gavira, he said, had requested a more detailed report of the skirmish.

Garrison Revolted.

Washington, March 31.—The state department got an unofficial and unconfirmed report that the Villa fight at Guerrero in which the bandit chieftain is reported to have killed 172 men of a Carranza garrison, had to do with a revolt in the garrison in which some 300 men were involved. Some of them are reported to have joined Villa.

Gen. Scott, chief of staff, said official dispatches from Maj. Gen. Funston indicated supplies would begin to move into Mexico by railroad today or as soon as Gen. Gavira had received instructions from Carranza.

Villa Murders Three.

El Paso, March 31.—A man named Herman Blankenburg and two other foreigners were murdered yesterday at Minaca Chihuahua, by Francisco Villa and his followers, according to private but authentic sources here. Details of the killings are lacking.

Ready to Resist.

El Paso, Tex., March 31.—Francisco Villa has recruited his forces to formidable numbers in his flight before the pursuing columns of American cavalry, it is reported, and if cornered will be in a position to give stout resistance.

Villa, according to the information obtained by Mexican Consul Garcia, still occupied Guerrero today.

Information in the hands of Gen. Funston at San Antonio and made public last night was that Villa had killed everyone in the Guerrero garrison, numbering 172 men, and that the bandit was now near the headquarters of the Santa Maria river. Since passing southward of Namaquipa, having temporarily eluded his pursuers, Villa is reported to have adopted every means to strengthen his command, which earlier in his flight he had scattered in small bands because the American cavalry was hot on his trail.

Reports that Villa was headed eastward towards his old headquarters at San Andres were current today.

Relay of Aviators.

Field Headquarters, American Punitive Expedition, Colonia Dublan, Chihuahua, Mex., March 27.—By motor to Columbus, N. Mex., March 31.—A complete chain of aviation relays from the American border to the front where American columns are close on Villa's trail has been established. At present the machines perform messenger service, carry mails and occasionally a few emergency supplies.

All this preparation by the aero squadron is for more vital work which may call the men out to risk their lives at any time.

Line 300 Miles Long.

By aeroplane to Field Headquarters, Colonia Dublan, Chihuahua, Mex., March 29, and by aeroplane to Columbus, N. Mex., March 31.—The line of communications maintained by Sherman in his march to the sea has been exceeded already in the line stretched by the American troops southward into Mexico. This line today exceeded 300 miles in length. Sherman finally cut loose from his line, and that is precisely what Brig.-Gen. J. J. Pershing is prepared to do if necessary when the final dash after Villa is ready.

The line of this dash is uncertain but indications today point strongly to situations unexpected a week ago. American troops without a railroad have opened a line directly into Villa's noted hiding places, all in less than two weeks.

At the head of this line are columns guarding avenues which Villa might try to use for doubling his trail, while at the front is a body of men whose identity the censorship has hidden thus far, but whose exploits are daily filtering back along the long communication line, filling the troops pressing forward from the rear stations with anticipation and maintaining the most gallant of American traditions.

Villa Has Close Call.

Field Headquarters, American Expedition, Colonia Dublan, Chihuahua, Mex., March 26, motor truck to Columbus, March 31.—It has been learned here that Francisco Villa nearly lost his life a few days ago on the Corralitos ranch, a short distance from this place, where he tortured and put to death five Mexicans. One of his victims leaped upon him and was strangling him when the Villista officers beat him senseless with the butts of their guns.

Mucio Polanco was the name of the Mexican who almost succeeded in ending Villa's career.

The murder of five members of the Polanco family was said to have been intended as a warning to other Mexicans against having dealings with Americans.

When Villa, retreating from Columbus, arrived at Corralitos ranch he had a list of all the Polancos, six men, the mother and two daughters. He seized the men and hunted for the daughters, but the young women had been hidden so well that he never found them.

To five of the men, Gregorio and his two sons, and Mucio and his one son, Villa said:

"I am going to kill you because you are too Americanized. You are Gringolovers."

But instead of killing them outright, Villa had them partly stripped and then beaten with the flats of heavy swords. Mucio Polanio broke away from his captors and got one hand on Villa's throat before he was beaten off.

Ropes Around Necks.

Next Villa ordered the five stood up beneath an archway, when he told them he would hang them. Ropes were placed about their necks and they were jerked into the air, but were not permitted to die. Just when loss of consciousness approached, they would be lowered with demands that they reveal the hiding places of the horses said to be hidden about the ranch. There were no horses so far as investigation had disclosed. The prisoners also were offered their lives if they would tell where money was hidden, or point out valuable documents. Finally Villa ordered the five men taken into the garden, where each one was shot five times. To the residents of the ranch, all Mexicans, Villa said:

"You may bury them or not, as you please."

They were all buried in one grave after Villa left.

Before going, Villa led one male member of the family, Gregorio, Jr., aged 21, whose life had been spared, back to the young man's mother, and to her he said:

"I am going to leave you this one son to support you. You ought to thank me for leaving him."

Next the bandit imprisoned each of the workmen on the ranch, placing them in separate rooms. When he had them all locked up and all terrorized, he went to each one in turn, warning him in these words:

"I am coming back, but if I don't return, some one else will come in my place. Whoever comes will kill anyone here whom he finds working for Americans."

DR. A. W. WAITE IS INDICTED

contained arsenic, as Waite is said by Mr. Swann to have alleged.

Kane admitted, however, it was said, that he had received $9,000 in cash and a check for $9,400 from Waite, which the young dentist has said was to be in exchange for swearing that there was arsenic in the embalming fluid, and placing the poison in the sample to be delivered to Mr. Swann. According to the embalmer's story, the money virtually was forced upon him. Kane was accompanied by his counsel, and although an order for his arrest had been issued, he was allowed to remain at liberty in the custody of his attorneys.

Meets Waite.

Kane said he was sent to Waite by John S. Potter, the undertaker who had charge of Peck's funeral, and who told him Waite wanted to ask him about the embalming fluid. At Waite's solicitation, he met the dentist in a garage, where he said Waite asked him if he could put arsenic in a sample of embalming fluid for the district attorney. Kane replied it could be done, but that it was against the law. Waite then offered him a check for $9,400, which he said he did not want, but he did not return it. Waite, he said, promised to make him "comfortable for life."

Less than two hours later he met Waite in a cigar store by appointment, although he said he did not know why Waite wanted to see him. They both went into a telephone booth, and Waite placed a large roll of bills, which Waite told Mr. Swann contained $9,000, into Kane's hands, saying: "Now, for God's sake, get that stuff in the sample and get it down to the district attorney's office."

Kane told Mr. Swann he kept the money.

"I was too scared to know where I was," he said.

Hid Money.

Then he went home without counting the money, which was in bills of large denomination, and hid it in his bureau.

"I was so nervous I shook like a leaf," he told the district attorney.

The presence of the money in the house made him so restless, he said, that he took it to Long Island Thursday and hid it there. A man from the district attorney's office will go with him tomorrow to the place where the money is hidden. Kane had not spent any of it, he said.

Undertaker Potter was taken to Mr. Swann's office while Kane was being examined and again was questioned.

It is expected an indictment will be returned against Waite tomorrow by the grand jury, which has had the case under consideration.

Mrs. Margaret Horton, the singer, who was a close friend of Waite, did not see the young dentist at Bellevue hospital yesterday. Although the district attorney was willing to give his permission, Waite's counsel asked her to postpone her visit.

MINERS' RHEUMATISM

is caused by impoverished blood and is aggravated by working in dampness and from lack of fresh air. It will not correct itself until the blood is purified, and the greatest physicians prescribe Scott's Emulsion, because its medicinal nourishment quickly improves the quality of the blood to relieve the painful muscles and stiffened joints, while its wonderful oil-food strengthens the organs to expel the very acids which cause the trouble.

Scott's Emulsion is exactly what miners need to create rich, red, active blood, strengthen the throat and fortify the lungs against colds, pneumonia, bronchitis and consumption.

Scott's is always free from alcohol or drugs—but be careful to avoid substitutes.

KEOICH ACQUITTED OF RIOT ACCUSATION

Jury Frees Man Alleged to Have Been in Calumet Affray.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The trial of Steve Kecich, which lasted all Wednesday and yesterday, resulted in the acquittal of Kecich. The man was one of those alleged to have been implicated in the affray of last Thanksgiving day at Calumet, in which Pete Nenoff was murdered, and he was being tried on an indictment charging riot.

The case went to the jury about 5 p. m. Thursday, and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty after only a short deliberation.

The case of the State vs. Joseph Coppoletti of Bovey is being tried today. Colloletti is charged with receiving stolen property, some brass, which had been stolen from locomotives of the Oliver Iron Mining company at Coleraine and Bovey. Two other indictments were returned against him by the grand jury, one for carrying dangerous weapons and one for grand larceny in the second degree. He was also indicted some years ago on a charge of receiving stolen property, but was never brought to trial.

NIGHT SCHOOL AT CLOQUET POPULAR

Those Who Benefited By Idea Make Gifts to Instructors.

Cloquet, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Last night was the last session of the Cloquet night school, and was attended by an enthusiastic crowd of students, many of whom expressed their desire to attend next year if the school is continued. The students were apparently well pleased with the service that was given them and so expressed themselves by presenting each instructor with a present at the close of the session.

The school was opened with Supt. Peter Olesen in charge assisted by Mrs. Olesen, Clara McKenzie, Alma Lindroth, May Haskell, Tella Johnson, Christene Johnson and Clara Plantz. It was originally planned to run the school with three instructors, but the first night's attendance broke all expectations when 120 were enrolled, and there was at once necessary steps taken to procure more teachers. This number steadily increased until the high mark of 179 was reached in January, but this number decreased somewhat after that on account of the starting up of some of the sawmills and the students were kept away from school on account of their work.

The course included the study of civics, English, United States history in story form and the industries of the country. Much interest was centered on the study of civics, which knowledge is necessary for the student to become familiar with in order to become United States citizens.

The Scandinavian and Finnish nationalities were the predominating classes, with the Polish, Greek, Italian and French in evidence.

IS YOUR HEALTH WORTH $5.00?

Woman Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Lima, Ohio.—"I was all broken down in health from a displacement. One of my lady friends came to see me and she advised me to commence taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I began taking your remedies and took $5.00 worth and in two months was a well woman after three doctors said I never would stand up straight again. I was a midwife for seven years and I recommended the Vegetable Compound to every woman to take before birth and afterwards, and they all got along so nicely that it surely is a godsend to suffering women. If women wish to write to me I will be delighted to answer them."—Mrs. JENNIE MOYER, 342 E. North St., Lima, Ohio.

Women who suffer from displacements, weakness, irregularities, nervousness, backache or bearing-down pains, need the tonic-strengthening properties of the roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice, write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

SEEDING TO BE DELAYED

Late Snows and Much Moisture Generally Halt Farmers' Work.

Red River Valley Section Has Received Very Thorough Soaking.

Crookston, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The heaviest snowfalls of the year took place on Wednesday and Thursday. Wednesday's snow disappeared as fast as it fell and ditches are full of water. Thursday's snowfall continued far into the night, but is melting rapidly. In rural sections the ground is still covered by earlier snows, and should the weather turn warm and the snow melt in a couple of days, there will be a tremendous amount of water.

Seeding operations will be at least a week later than usual, even with most favorable weather hereafter. Ice in the river is still solid, with no indications of a breakup.

Streets outside the paving are like hog wallows. Country roads are impassable for wheeled vehicles, as snow is banked two feet deep, and a load cannot be pulled through the streets on sleighs, thus all hauling is stopped for the present.

PEING CONSIDERED.

No Conclusions as to Indian Treaty Affecting Upper Peninsula.

Hancock, Mich., March 31.—Some time ago the question of counties going dry under the Indian treaty provisions was generally discussed throughout the Upper Peninsula towns. Congressman W. Frank James took the matter up with Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs at Washington, who informed him that the matter was under consideration. Recently Congressman James asked the commissioner for further information and the answer received is as follows:

"I have your letter of March 21 wherein you refer to the fact that the liquor licenses in your district are made to run from May 1 to May 1 and that those engaged in that business are desirous of knowing whether they should apply for new licenses.

"The matter of Upper Michigan going dry under the treaty provisions is still under consideration and I regret that I can give you no definite information at this time."

PINE COUNTY RESERVE FOR GAME PROPOSED

Hinckley, Minn., March 31.—It is reported that petitions are being circulated to create a big game preserve in Pine county, comprising nearly 200 square miles, approximately 120,000 acres.

It will be located between the St. Croix river and Kettle river, which will form its eastern, western and southern boundaries. The gateway to this immense game preserve will be Hinckley, at the cross roads of the railways, and three miles from Kettle river.

The deer are rapidly disappearing and by having a closed period, they will have an opportunity to increase. This district is getting quite well settled, but this game preserve idea seems to meet with the approval of the settlers.

The land along these streams is wooded, hilly and it is supposed will afford considerable browsing for deer, as well as protection during the winter.

It is said that later on, if the plan proves a success, elk will also be brought to the preserve by the state.

LUMBERJACK BIRD IS NOT EXTINCT

One of Species Found on Farm Near Turtle River.

Bemidji, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—A lumberjack bird, thought by ornithologists to be extinct in this vicinity, has been found near Turtle River on the farm of A. C. Hannah. This strange bird, which lives near the lumber camps and which is so tame that it will come from its forest home when called by the name "lumberjack," leaves the woods as soon as the logging camps disappear.

The bird is also known as the moose bird, and its chief characteristic is its absolute lack of fear of human beings. When its name is called it will fly to a person, and if food is offered it will often perch on the hand or shoulder.

Very Fond of Fish.

This week the Hannah children, in an effort to give one of these birds a good big meal, caught a small lard pailful of minnows, giving the bird one minnow at a time. The bird took each minnow and flew to its nest in the woods, returning in a few minutes for another. This performance was repeated until the bird has removed the entire pail of minnows. The bird is zealously protected by all men in the camps, and should a man deliberately kill one he would find himself in serious trouble.

NOTED SPEAKERS AT STATE MEETING

North Dakota Sunday School Gathering at Devils Lake in June.

Devils Lake, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thirteen noted speakers, some of national repute, have been secured for the state Sunday school convention to be held here June 13, 14 and 15, according to Walter A. Snow, secretary of the state organization.

A conference will be held June 12, preliminary to the opening of the convention, on the subject of "Social Hygiene." June 13 is parade day, June 14 is county day and June 15 is Bible study day.

The leading convention speaker will be John L. Alexander of Chicago, the "teen age" superintendent of the international association. Mr. Alexander featured the 1912 and 1914 conventions in North Dakota.

The Other Speakers.

Others speakers are: E. W. Thornton of Cincinnati, religious educational expert; Rev. James O. Buswell of Minneapolis, Bible expert; Leonard D. Heaton of Winnipeg, musical director; Prof. T. W. Shannon of Delaware, Ohio, purity conference speaker; Harry W. Jones of Minneapolis, Sunday school architectural expert, who will speak on "Housing a Sunday School;" Dr. Rudolph Acher of Valley City, N. D., child psychology expert; Walter Clark of New York, field secretary of the American Hygiene association; Rev. Virgil C. Finnell of Endres, Neb., Sunday school expert of the church of the Brethren; Rev. S. H. Kirkbridge, D. D., of Chicago, secretary of the American Bible society; C. E. Cavett of Lisbon, N. D., teacher of the Mary Grover Bible class with a membership of 120; Wilbur F. Crafts, D. D., of Washington, secretary of the international reform bureau; Mrs. G. L. Henstead of Jamestown, N. D., a mothers' class specialist.

Crosby Man in Auto Wreck.

Crosby, Minn., March 31.—A. P. Honey of this place was riding in the auto with the president of the Simmons Bros. company of Chicago a few days ago when the machine was struck by a street car at Evanston and the Simmons president killed. Mr. Honey was sent to the hospital but will be out tomorrow according to word received by his wife here.

SECOND CATHOLIC CHURCH CONSIDERED

Devils Lake, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The possibility of a second Catholic church being organized in Devils Lake is said in church circles to be considered likely. The matter has been taken up with Bishop O'Reilly of Fargo and it is expected some definite announcement will be forthcoming shortly. In the event the move materializes the Russian-Germans of the congregation will likely take over the old church property on Second street.

NORTH DAKOTA IS FIGHTING GOPHERS

Devils Lake, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the rate which counties in the northern part of the state are spending money for gopher poison, ordering it in $1,500 and $2,000 lots, it is estimated that North Dakota will this year spend close to $75,000 for poison to exterminate the pest. The counties purchase the poison through the agricultural college and distribute it to the farmers at cost.

FISH HATCHERY AT CONDO GETS BUSY

Condo, N. D., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The return of Capt. R. W. Main, state fish commissioner, from a winter spent in the South, was the signal for activity at the North Dakota fish hatchery here, where the first shipment of fish eggs was received this week. One hundred thousand rainbow trout will be nursed until they are able to enjoy the freedom of Fish lake. An active season is planned at the hatchery.

DULUTHIAN'S MOTHER CALLED IN FARGO, N. D.

Fargo, N. D., March 31.—Mrs. Kate Stenberg, aged 83 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. J. Thorpe, here Wednesday.

Mrs. Steberg was one of the pioneer residents of the state, having some to North Dakota in 1884. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. C. J. Thorpe of Fargo and Mrs. E. Thorpe, and a son, Carl Stenberg of Duluth.

PINE COUNTY GRAND JURY IS SUMMONED

Pine City, Minn., March 31.—The following have been summoned in Pine county on the grand jury to meet here April 11 in connection with district court: Elmer Carrier, Chengwatana; J. P. Anderson, Royalton; Charles Lindstrom, Rock Creek; Eddie Kocher, Kerrick; August Ausmus, Pokegama; Henry Vanderduin, Hinckley; Ludwig Klein, Kerrick; Edwin Johnson, Kerrick; A. E. Laage, Partridge; O. D. Dahl, Rock Creek; M. M. Barnes, Sturgeon Lake; August Carlson, Kerrick; William Le May, Nickerson; S. C. Johnson, Kerrick; C. J. Pearson, Sandstone; August Johnson, Royalton; M. J. Halla, Birch Creek; G. P. Nortin, Royalton; W. M. Ames, Bruno; Joe Hackert, Hinckley; James Aubrecht, Pokegama; Charles Edstrom, Sandstone; W. H. Cutler, Chengwatana.

NEGAUNEE FIRE OF SUSPICIOUS NATURE

Negaunee, Mich., March 31.—The dwelling in the Pioneer location owned by Oliver Johnson and occupied by John Carcoe and family that was burned to the foundation last Wednesday is believed to have been set on fire, according to Fire Chief Julius Johnson who is investigating the case as he says he finds many circumstances of a suspicious nature.

Mrs. Varcoe, who was thought at first to have been a victim of the fire with her children, when found stated that she had been living with relatives at Ishpeming for the past month and that there had not been a fire in the stoves of her Negaunee home during the time she had been away.

Chief Johnson believes he has a clew as to the guilty parties, "The Varcoe home was broken into some time before 10 o'clock Wednesday morning," said Chief Johnson. "Mrs. Varcoe told me and other members of the department this morning after we had located her and the children at Ishpeming, that she went to her home Tuesday morning and found that the place had been entered during her absence. That was the first time she has been there for a month and said she was positive that the place had been entered but nothing of value had been taken."

There had been no oil in the house since Mrs. Varcoe left it and it is not probable that the fire was caused by anything from the inside.

MANY APPLICATIONS FOR CITIZENSHIP PAPERS

Houghton, Mich., March 31.—Naturalization Examiner Henry Block of St. Paul arrived here to make preliminary preparations for the naturalization day of the Houghton county circuit court for the April term which commences next Monday morning. Mr. Block announces that there are sixty-six applicants for citizenship papers, who are eligible to be heard at the session.

MILWAUKEE ROAD MAY BUILD LINE

Republic, Mich., March 31.—The Milwaukee road has engineers operating in the Fence river district, near Republic, and it is said the company will build a logging road for the purpose of opening up a large tract of timber land owned by Ohio and Chicago capitalists. The proposed branch will be about eighteen miles long. If the road is built the owners of the tract expect to erect a large sawmill and other factories at some point on the Milwaukee road between Witch lake and Republic.

BOTH CROSBY BOND ISSUES ARE CARRIED

Crosby, Minn., March 31.—The special election held yesterday to vote on issuing $29,000 bonds to care for outstanding village orders and $8,000 bonds for the proposed naval militia armory resulted favorably for both propositions, the former carrying 197 to 90 and the latter, 205 to 32. The total vote of 237 cast was almost double the usual village vote. As the state will give $15,000 towards the proposed naval militia armory the work on the building is expected to start soon.

MOOSE LAKE BONDS TAKEN BY STATE

Moose Lake, Minn., March 31.—The state board of investment took $7,000 of Moose Lake bonds which were voted some time ago and the proceeds are being used to clear up outstanding village orders. The village saves 2 per cent a year interest by selling the bonds which run for twenty years.

BENNETT AT ASHLAND.

Customs Collector Visits Points on Chequamegon Bay.

Ashland, Wis., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Harris Bennett, collector of customs of the Duluth-Superior district, paid an official visit to the Chequamegon bay cities Tuesday and Wednesday. Three years ago the Lake Superior region of Wisconsin, comprising the ports of Superior, Ashland, Washburn and Bayfield was placed in the newly formed district of Duluth and Superior, which is one of the largest and most important of the forty-nine customs districts of the United States. It covers portions of three states, including Isle Royale in Michigan, all of Wisconsin north of 46 deg., and all of Minnesota north of that line, excepting Kittson county.

MINNESOTAN SHOT DOWN IN MONTANA

East Scobey, Mont., March 31.—W. F. Chaplin, who came to Sheridan county last fall from Austin, Minn., was shot through the heart here Tuesday night while talking to two friends on the street. He was dead when picked up. Ed Norris, who is said to be a gambler, was arrested soon after the shooting. He had had trouble with Chaplin two months ago. Bob Moore was arrested later. The coroner's jury has made no finding.

COUDERAY, WIS., LIKES BEING DRY VILLAGE

Couderay, Wis., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The principal issue at the election Tuesday will be the saloon question in both Birchwood and Radisson. This town went dry last year and after nine months has many more votes in favor of the dry cause, as conditions morally, economically and financially are greatly improved. Local merchants report sales increased one-third compared with the same months during the "wet" town, the marshal's services are dispensed with, and there has not been a call from transients for meals and lodgings during the last five months. Requests for food were regular things during the "wet" time, as the town seemed to be infested with transients while the saloons were here.

NEW IRONTON COMPANY HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

Ironton, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—A corporation with a capital of $50,000 has been formed here to buy and sell real estate. It expects to start in business April 10. The incorporators and officers are: President and treasurer, J. E. Mattson; vice president, Fredreque Mattson; secretary, L. H. Mattson. The company has rented the office on Ironton avenue owned by G. P. Ellingson.

PUT STOMACH IN FINE CONDITION

Says Indigestion Results From an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jads Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.—Advertisement.

RED BLOTCHES DISFIGURED HEAD

Of Little Girl. Itched and Burned. Caused Scales to Form and Hair to Fall Out. Entirely

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My little girl's trouble began with red blotches on her head and matter came out of these blotches which looked like perspiration. They itched and burned and when she scratched them they would bleed and it caused scales to form. They made her very cranky and at night she would keep me awake. The breaking out caused her hair to fall out and her head was disfigured.

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and then bought more. In less than three weeks her head was entirely healed." (Signed) Mrs. C. M. McCraney, 535 Fairview Ave., St. Paul, Minn., July 13, 1915.

MILLION STOMACH SUFFERERS EAT BIG MEALS NOW

No Fear of Indigestion, Gas, Sourness, Heartburn or Acidity.

"Pape's Diapepsin" Is the Quickest, Surest Stomach Regulator Known.

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapepsin and realize not only immediate but lasting relief.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and eat a few of these candy-like tablets just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, no fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, no nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin promptly regulates out-of-order stomachs, because it neutralizes the acids in the stomach and digests your food just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly overcome any case of dyspepsia, indigestion or any other stomach disorder.—Advertisement.

ON THE IRON RANGES

CITY ATTORNEYSHIP SOUGHT BY SEVERAL

No Dearth of Candidates for That Virginia Position.

Virginia, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—A lively campaign is on for the various appointive officers to be filled by the council at its regular meeting next Tuesday night when Alderman Olson will displace Alderman Heritage, the only change in the personnel of the present council effected by the election.

City Attorney Montague, who has held the place for the past two years is a candidate to succeed himself and is opposed by George F. Shea, S. S. Dahl, D. D. Morgan and Luke F. Burns.

City Clerk Alebrt E. Bickford will in all probability not be opposed for reappointment. Bickford has held his present position for ten years.

So far no opposition has been developed to City Engineer Johnson, but there are persistent rumors he will be opposed.

Street Commissioner Christopherson, Poundmaster King and Meat Inspector Fred Engel will all have opposition. Joseph Kindred, who was a candidate for the office of special municipal judge at the last city election is a candidate for poundmaster.

Appointments By Mayor.

Mayor Boylan is expected to announce his appointments to the police and fire commission and the library board next week. J. E. Hansen, the retiring member of the police and fire commission is not a candidate for reappointment. Friends of Alderman Heritage, who retires from the council next week are urging his appointment to the police and fire commission. The present appointment is the first Mayor Boylan has had an opportunity to make on the police and fire board.

A prospective candidate for the place on the library board to be filled is Lafayette Bliss, former superintendent of the city schools, and pressure is being brought to bear on Mayor Boylan to appoint Bliss. Mayor Boylan is non-committal regarding these two appointments.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE WILL PROBE CHARGES

Allegation Boys Get Liquor in Virginia to Be Looked Into.

Virginia, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.) — Aldermen Harvey, McGhee and Harvey, special committee of the city council at a meeting at the city hall this evening, which will in all probability be executive, will go over a mass of evidence that has been collected indicating promiscuous liquor distribution among minors. What the action of the council committee will be can not be forecasted, but it will have before it a good deal of evidence of a highly sensational nature, which in the grand aggregate indicates that there has been considerable intemperance among boys in the city and that youths from other towns and Duluth seem to have had little trouble in securing intoxicants here. The special committee will report to the council at its next regular meeting Tuesday of next week. While the committee has had no difficulty in finding numerous cases of intoxicants among minors, many of which were open and flagrant it has not been able to find where the minors secured the liquor.

PREPAREDNESS DEBATES

Subject to Be Discussed By Range High School Teams.

Virginia, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Preparedness" will be debated tonight by teams representing the Gilbert, Mountain Iron and Virginia high schools. Each school has two teams and each school will debate both the negative and affirmative of the question. The affirmative teams will debate at home while the negatives will debate away from home. Virginia's negative team is at Mountain Iron and Mountain Iron's negative team is at Gilbert. The judges of the debate in Virginia this evening will be R. W. Hitchcock, editor of the Hibbing Tribune; L. A. Rossman of the Grand Rapids Herald-Review, and Judge Freeman of Chisholm.

BETTER PHONE RATES.

Mountain Iron Commercial Club Names Committee to Secure Them.

Mountain Iron, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the last meeting of the Commercial committee consisting of G. A. Aptili, J. F. Muench and J. S. Henderson was appointed to take up the matter of securing better rates and service on the telephone lines. Another committee consisting of D. A. Mitchell, G. M. Cannon and E. P. Ellertson was named as a standing committee to keep after the matter of mail transportation on the street car line.

Vernon Keech, master mechanic for Hanna company at the local mines, will soon move to Duluth, where he has accepted a position with the company in the engineering department at the head offices. Frank Canute, at present in charge of the drying plant at the Brunt mine, will succeed Mr. Keech.

At the annual meeting in the Presbyterian church, held Tuesday evening, reports were made by various officials of the church and Sunday school. E. P. Ellertson was re-elected as trustee for a term of three years; Dr. Parsons resigned as trustee, and V. I. Frazer was elected to fill out his term of two years. G. M. Cannon is the third trustee and his term will expire in one year. Dr. Parsons was re-elected superintendent of the Sunday school.

SHIPPING DATE IS NOT SETTLED

Mesaba Operators Waiting on Conditions at Duluth Docks.

Virginia, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—No definite instructions have been received on the iron range regarding the opening of the ore shipping season. Some operators are holding themselves in readiness to start the movement April 10. It is generally expected the opening of the shipping season will be between that date and April 15. Stories prevail on the range that ice-breakers will start breaking a channel from Duluth next week if favorable winds do not disintegrate the ice fields before then.

GAME LAW SCHOOL AT RANIER, MINN.

Carlos Avery Calls Gathering of Wardens and Sportmen.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 31.—Jesse Harry, local game warden will attend an unusual convention, and one of importance, at Ranier April 20. The meeting is called by Carlos Avery, state game and fish commissioner, and is to be one of instruction in matters pertaining to game law enforcement in Minnesota. All interested sportsmen, trappers, hunters and fishermen are invited to attend, and game wardens of the range and Northern Minnesota will be in attendance. Proprietors of the fisheries on the lakes in the international boundary district will also be asked to be present. A banquet will be served and the law explained. Mr. Avery will suggest that the fishermen work in co-operation with the wardens and that all study and understand the law, so that violations will be less frequent. Fishermen in all parts of Northern Minnesota as well as those engaged in trapping and shooting furbearing animals are expected to attend.

MUST RAISE $3,000 FOR VIRGINIA CLUB

Unless Forthcoming, Range City Will Be Out of Game.

Virginia, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Unless a special committee of the Virginia Commercial club can sell $3,000 worth of tickets before April 15 Virgina will not have league baseball this season.

The owners of the club issued this ultimatum yesterday. The officers of the club today began a vigorous canvass of the city and are confident the desired guarantee will be obtained.

TWO DALE UNO MINERS KILLED

Caught By Cave-in, Bodies Recovered After Much Digging.

Hibbing, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Tony Rosidich, aged 31, and Stin Sertich, aged 30, miners employed at the North Uno mine, were killed in a cave-in yesterday afternoon, and after six hours of search the bodies were recovered.

The two men were caught without warning, nearby miners stated, and they were covered with tons of earth.

The relief crew worked for hours uncovering the dirt which covered the bodies and were successful late in the evening.

Both men are married and live at the Harold location. Their remains were brought to a local undertaker.

The accident happened while the miners were working in the drift in Contract No. 9, close to the surface. The frost had gotten into the ground and the warm weather of the last few days had loosened it so that when the men started operations the cave-in followed.

TWO UNDERTAKERS IN AUTO COLLISION

Virginia, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. A. Graham and H. S. Gillespie, undertakers, each entertaining a party of friends in an automobile drive last night, staged a collision on Virginia avenue. Gillespie's car was badly wrecked. None of the occupants of either car was injured. The collision was due to the confusion of the drivers.

BAUDETTE MILL TO COMMENCE SAWING

Baudette, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Engler Lumber company has everything in readiness to commence their season's work as soon as the ice goes out of the river. An unusually large amount of timber was cut this winter and with the abundance of snow and rain will have no trouble with the drives. Both a day and night shift will work during the summer which insures good times for this locality.

ELY MAN FIGURES IN CHISHOLM DEAL

Chisholm, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gust Peterson of this village and his brother, Chas. Peterson of Ely, are negotiating with the heirs of the estate of Peter Johnson for the entire hardware business now conducted under the name of Johnson Bros.

Gust Peterson has for seven years conducted a successful business here.

GRAND RAPIDS MAN BACK FROM MEXICO

Senator Gunn Says Greasers Have No Respect for American Flag.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 31.—"Mexicans have absolutely no respect for Americans or the flag of the United States," said Senator D. M. Gunn on his return this week from Bisbee, Ariz., where he passed three days during the last fortnight as the guest of John C. Greenway, general manager of the Calumet & Arizona Copper company, and formerly in charge of operations of the Oliver Iron Mining company in the Cuyuna range district.

While at Bisbee Mr. Gunn made several trips across the Mexican border where he inspected the country a year ago used as battle fields for the warring forces of Mexico.

Approve of Villa's Capture.

"Americans along the border heartily approve of the determined effort to capture Villa," says the Grand Rapids man, "and while they do not favor taking Mexico they believe that the United States should control the situation and that the Mexican government should be supervised by this country.

According to Mr. Gunn, the whole territory along the border is in a state of horror because of the atrocities committed by Villa and his bandits. He says that Villa reached Columbus on the night of the massacre without as much as meeting a single sentinel, and that he was able to take 98 of the 200 cavalry horses there.

HIBBING PITCHER IN WESTERN LEAGUE

Hibbing, Minn. March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cy Reiger, Hibbing's most consistent winning pitcher last year, left yesterday for St. Joseph, Mo., in the Western league, where he will perform under the wing of Danny Sullivan, former Northern league pilot.

MORE SETTLERS REACH BAUDETTE

Baudette, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—S. Fassett of Bankton was in town Tuesday on his way to Milwaukee, where he will buy twenty-six head of stock. Mr. and Mrs. Clark of Gilby, N. D., arrived this week with their effects which includes cattle. Mr. Lattimore of Goodridge shipped a car of effects to his claim near Carp. C. H. McMelland and his brother from Lohrville, Iowa, moved here this week. D. E. French, Mrs. S. Moseley, Albert Swenson, S. Kvelprud made application for homesteads before W. F. Steffes, United States land commissioner this week. On account of the mild weather the merchants are doing an unusual business as many are putting in their summer supplies.

Consider Graveling Road.

Baudette, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The board of trade and people from neighboring towns met at the Board of Trade rooms on Thursday evening to devise some means whereby the Elwell state highway, No. 32, may be graveled. This road was extensively used the past season and since its completion farmers have been able to market their produce. Heretofore they have been obliged to take it by the river roads.

PLEADS FOR FRIEND WHO WOUNDED HIM

Hibbing Man Secures Release of Friend Who Shot Him.

Hibbing, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—After being at the point of death, the victim of a bullet from a gun carried by Joe Mungo, Joseph Aello, now sufficiently recovered to be around again, forgot his hatred and enmity yesterday in Judge Thomas Brady's court and asked the judge to dismiss the charge against his assailant.

The request was granted. Judge Brady placed Mungo on probation and ordered him to report to him at certain periods.

The shooting occurred some few months ago. Both men were the best of friends, but an overindulgence of liquor brought about a quarrel and a shooting scrap.

The guntoter made his escape, and with the aid of friends, it is supposed that he was hidden away from the police. When he appeared again in Hibbing he was promptly placed under arrest.

HIBBING-VIRGINIA GAMES ARRANGED

Hibbing, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Manager Thomas Brady of the baseball nine has completed arrangements for the opening series of games with the Virginia Northern league team.

The first games will be played in Virginia and the balance of the series here.

Sunday, April 23, will be the opening date. Hibbing will play at Virginia. On Saturday, April 29, Hibbing will play Virginia at Virginia.

The opening game will be played here against Virginia on Friday, April 28. On Sunday, April 30, Hibbing will meet Virginia for the last game of the series at Hibbing.

FALLING PLASTER INJURES WOMAN

Hibbing, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. T. R. Webster suffered injury to her right eye and a lacerated face, when plaster in a bedroom she was sleeping in gave way, caused presumably by a blast in the Sellers pit nearby.

A picture which was hanging on a wall right near the sleeping woman fell with the plaster.

The Sellers pit is the scene of much activity this year, and the blasts are more frequent than they have been in many years.

Plan Co-operative Store.

Chisholm, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—To capitalize their business at $100,000 and to sell merchandise on a co-operative basis is said to be the plan of S. Sapero & Sons of this village, who are having articles of incorporation prepared.

TWO HARBORS TO IMPROVE STREETS

Considerable Work Planned for Coming Summer.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Considerable street work is planned by the city council for the coming supper.

City Engineer Leland Clapper has prepared plans and specifications for the grading of Second avenue east, between Willow and Hazel streets. Petitions were submitted to the council by property owners asking that this work be done at once. According to the plans the avenue will be graded and provided with a twenty-four-foot concrete roadway with concrete curbs. It is estimated by the city engineer that the total cost per lot will be $190. This includes concrete sidewalks as well as the grading.

Work Badly Needed.

This section of the city has been in very bad shape for a number of years, although it is one of the main avenues, and leads directly to the city park. It is also urged that a roadway be graded between Second and Third avenues, and, although not definitely decided, probably this will be done either on the west or east side of the park.

The city clerk has been instructed to advertise for bids for the improvement of Second avenue for April 17.

CHISHOLM POLICE GUIDED BY RULES

Chief Leighty Has Prepared Eight Rules to Govern Force.

Chisholm, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local police are now working under the following code of rules prepared by Chief Leighty and posted at headquarters:

1. Police officers are instructed to be courteous and attentive to the interests of all persons. Particular attention must be given in small and trifling things.

2. Help women and children in crossing the streets and regulate the traffic for the safety of pedestrians.

3. Take careful note of the conditions of streets and alleys and report obstructions and insanitary conditions to the proper authorities if it be beyond the power of the officer himself to remedy the trouble.

4. To stay out of saloons at all times (unless summoned to quell a disturbance) whether on or off duty. A violation of this rule will be punished as follows: First offense, ten days' layoff without pay; second offense, discharge from the force.

5. Make immediate response to all calls, no matter how trifling or small in importance such calls may seem.

6. Pay strict attention to patroling beats, and officers must refrain from visiting with each other while on duty.

7. Call headquarters immediately when anything unusual takes place. It is the duty of the police force to note all unusual occurences.

8. Officers will work eight-hour shifts and it will be demanded that the eight hours be worked in strict adherance to duty.

MUCH CORDWOOD AT KNIFE RIVER

Over 14,000 Cords Waiting Boats to Go Down Lake.

Knife River, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fourteen thousand seven hundred and sixty-three cords of Curry & Whyte's pulpwood are stored in the yards here awaiting the opening of navigation.

This wood will go to the Hammermill Paper company, Erie, Pa.

S. Brock, who had charge of the company's interests, left today but will return when shipping begins. Albert Alseth had charge of the storing of the wood. The pulpwood industry furnishes several men with employment.

TWO HARBORS BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT

Two Harbors, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Marine band, the oldest musical organization in the city, will give a concert on Tuesday evening, April 18, in the Star theater. The members have been making excellent progress under the leadership of Carl J. Bredeson, and are prepared to give a fine program including selections fom several well known operas. One number will be a patrol march, "The Passing Band." Another will be a cornet duet with band accompaniment, called "The Swiss Boy."

OLD IRON RANGE EMPLOYE MARRIES

Two Harbors, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gust Risberg was married recently to Hanna Sunders, formerly of Island Lake, Minn., by Rev. Axel Strom, pastor of the Swedish Methodist church, at his home on Third avenue, the ceremony being witnessed by a few close friends and relatives. The groom has been a resident of Two Harbors for the last thirty years and at one time was a member of the city council. He is one of the oldest employes of the Iron Range railroad and is foreman of the coal docks. The bride has made her home in this city for a number of years.

ELY NORMAL CLASS VISIT RURAL SCHOOLS

Ely, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some of the students of the normal department of the high school are spending two weeks in the rural schools for practice work. Lillian Kero and Ennie Hario are at the schools at Embarrass; Irene Homer at a school twelve miles from Biwabik; Elma Pekkla, seven miles from Aurora, and Signa Macki at Peyla.

The Phoenix Literary society of the high school held a meeting in the assembly room this afternoon. The program was in the form of a Shakespearean tercentenary celebration.

HIBBING PAIR FIGHT ON PORCH OF STORE

Hibbing, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Verbal exchanges which finally culminated in a free-for-all fight on a rear porch in back of the Messner Brothers store this morning attracted 200 people and led to the arrest of William Close on the charge of assault and battery on a warrant sworn out by John and Jacob Messner.

CHURCH BANQUET.

Four Hundred Members of Virginia Church Attend Affair.

Virginia, Minn., March 31.—The annual election of officers of the Cleveland Avenue Presbyterian church was held in Moose hall last night followed by a banquet that was attended by at least 400 members of the congregation.

Alexander Reid was re-elected a member of the board of trustees for five years. The hold-over members of the board are: A. M. Osborne, E. G. Johnson, R. C. Pickering and C. T. Ecklund.

Rev. Dr. Glade, fore eighteen months pastor of the church, presided at the meeting while Ralph C. Pickering was toastmaster at the banquet and several well known members spoke. Reports indicate the church has grown materially under Dr. Glade's pastorate. He has been voted an assistant who will be selected next month.

DISCUSS FARMING TOPICS AT CHISHOLM

Chisholm, Minn., March 31.—(Special The Herald)—A two days' agriculture short course for farmers and agriculture students from the local schools was opened under the direction of H. G. Larson, county agricultural agent, at the library yesterday afternoon. Eighth grade and high school students of the agriculture classes attended the afternoon session.

In the evening a large gathering of farmers and night school classes organized by I. C. Rutledge, instructor of agriculture in the local schools, listened to addresses by A. B. Hostetter, district supervisor; H. G. Larson, county agent; M. J. Thompson, supervisor, Northeast Experiment farm, and Otto Stangel, agriculture instructor of the Virginia school district. Following were the topics of the various addresses: "Care of Milk and Cream to Make a Dairy Profitable," "Improving and Feeding of Dairy Cows," "Standardizing Potatoes and Preventing Their Disease."

The course was continued today with two classes, one in the morning and one in the afternoon.

ASSAULT CASE GOES BEFORE GRAND JURY

Virginia, Minn., March 31.—When the grand jury is charged in district court here next Tuesday and placed at work by Judge Hughes the most important of the several cases to be laid before the inquisitors is that of Peter Paun who is alleged to have cut Nick Spehar here, Dec. 26, last, during a christening at George Spolar's home on the North side, then fled to near Chicago where he was recently arrested. He is accused of first degree assault.

Mike Maturo will be charged with forgery in the second degree. He is alleged to have raised a pay check received from Butler Brothers at Buhl from $5.65 to $65.65 and to have tried to pass the check at Buhl.

"John Doe" is charged with grand larceny in the second degree. He is alleged to have stolen $60 from William Hukkela at the Svea hotel in Virginia Feb. 23, 1916, while Hukkela was asleep.

"John Doe" is charged with stealing a side of beef from William Orr in Buyck township. Another "John Doe" is alleged to have stolen $722 from the home of Batiste Brida, 113 Grant avenue, Eveleth, March 13.

The cases of the state against Walter Dacy and Charles Campbell, and the state against Warner Carlson, true bills hving been returned by the grand jury at Hibbing last term, will be tried here.

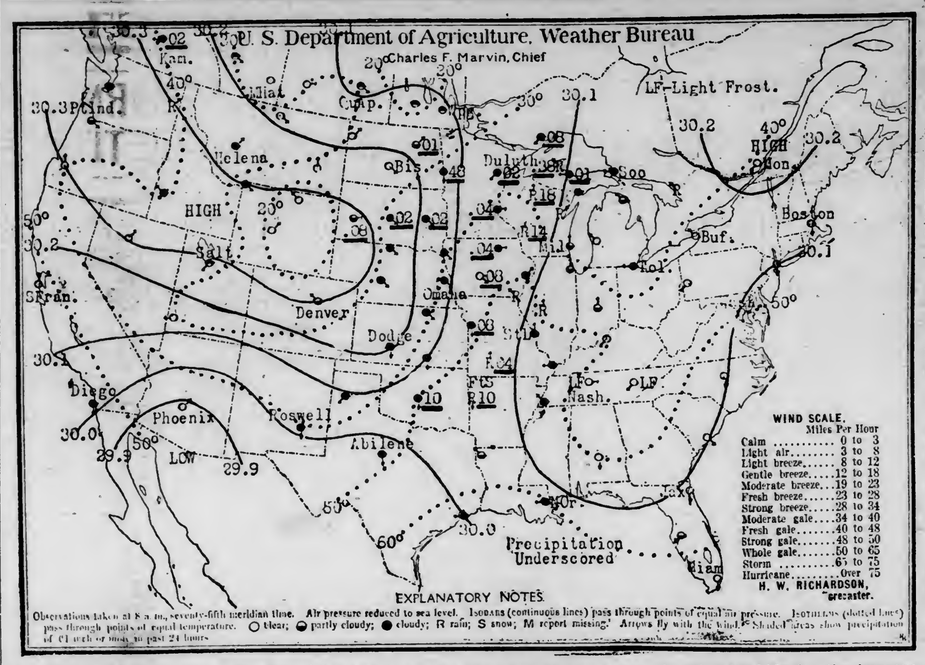
Takes Over Chisholm Store.

Chisholm, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. L. Galloway, for many years manager of the Galloway Dry Goods company of Hibbing, is invoicing stock preparatory to taking over the entire mercantile business owned by Sartori Bros. here. Mr. Galloway will reside permanently in Chisholm.

Duluthian to Preach.

Chisholm, Minn., March 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. Hardy Ingham, D. D., of Duluth, will preach at the Sunday evening services at the M. E. church, and following the services will hold the second quarterly conference.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER



Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. ISOBARS (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. ISOTHERMS (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature. ○ clear; ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Shaded areas show precipitation of .01 inch or more in past 24 hours.

FAIR

Rain fell at intervals all night, and while it was not heavy, every little bit helped on the wasting away of the ice. Now if a good, heavy rain would come, the streets would get a washing which they badly need. The temperature has been moderate and not very disagreeable considering the cloudy conditions.

A year ago today was cloudy. The sun rose this morning at 5:47 and will set this evening at 6:37, giving twelve hours and fifty minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The temperature changes have generally been unimportant during the last twenty-four hours, the principal exception being a rather decided rise over the Middle Mississippi valley, Western Montana, Idaho and Nevada. Light frosts occurred over Tennessee. Light rain or snow fell during Thursday or last night over Upper Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Eastern Kansas, Eastern Washington and British Columbia."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, March 31.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday:

Minnesota—Generally fair tonight and Saturday with moderate temperature.

Wisconsin—Unsettled tonight; cooler in southwest portion; Saturday partly cloudy.

If Too Fat Get More Fresh Air

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT. TAKE OIL OF KOREIN.

Lack of fresh air, it is said, weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs is hindered thereby. The heart action becomes weak, work is an effort and the beauty of the figure is destroyed.

Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off a serious case of obesity may result.

When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat.

Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply, and get from Boyce Drug store, 331 West Superior St., or any druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Weigh yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion, and even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.—Advertisement.

PALE WIVES AND MOTHERS

Many women who had a good color in their girlhood grow pale and colorless when they become wives and mothers.

When the fading color in cheeks and lips is accompanied by a loss of brightness in the eyes and an increasing heaviness in the step, the cause is to be sought in the state of the blood.

A hundred causes may contribute to the condition of thin blood that is known as anemia. Overwork, lack of out-door exercise, insufficient rest and sleep, improper diet, these are a few of them. The important thing is to restore the blood to normal, to build it up so that the color will return to cheeks and lips, the brightness to the eyes and lightness to the step.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the great blood builder and invigorator. They begin at once to increase the red corpuscles in the blood and the new blood carries strength and health to every part of the body. Appetite increases, digestion becomes more perfect, energy and ambition return.

A pamphlet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. if you mention this paper. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes, $2.50.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

BURMEISTER LOOKS FOR GREAT BASEBALL YEAR

Northern League Executive Believes Improved Business Conditions and Revival of Interest in National Game Will Materially Benefit His Circuit—Willie Ritchie May Box Mike O'Dowd—Honors for Kenneth Harris.

BY BRUCE.

SPEAKING of Northern league baseball and the season of 1916, it might be well to announce that John Burmeister, the august head of the league, believes that the approaching season will be one of the most successful, from both the playing and financial standpoints, in the history of the circuit. Mr. Burmeister bases his optimism on a husky return of interest to the game, improved business conditions, and a better feeling in Canada.

Last season the Feds, stringent business conditions in both the United States and Canada, and a lack of interest upon the part of the public, arose with thorned heads and smote the dear old game. The Northern league executive believes that with the Federal curse out of the way and a healthy revival of prosperity, there will be an increased attendance upon the part of the fans.

When the Federal league officials capitulated to the onslaught of the supreme indifference of the American baseball public, a thorn was surely removed from the quivering side of the great national pastime. Naturally the major leagues will be the first to benefit from the Feds' removal, but baseball men figure that interest in baseball is universal rather than sectional, and that with a healthy normal condition restored every league and every locality in the country will come in for a decided benefit.

Winnipeg, for the past number of years, has been the wheel horse of the Northern league. It is the largest city and is, moreover, under normal conditions, one of the greatest minor league towns on the continent. Last year was a decidedly bad year for the Winnipeg club owners. It requires no perspicuity or any vast amount of deep reasoning to ascertain the cause. War, with its hellish alarms, its anguishes, its pangs of heart and mind, drove all thought of sport from the mind of the average baseball fan. While it is true that war still continues, it is reasoned that the first terrible shock has been alleviated somewhat and that there will be a return to sport as a natural reaction.

Conditions in Duluth.

LAST season the Duluth team got away to a bad start and remained in a decidedly bad way throughout the baseball year. Presupposing, for the sake of argument right at this time, that the White Sox will present a strong front at the getaway and will remain well up in the race during the season, conditions should be materially improved here during the coming season.

Northern league magnates found that efforts to provide cheaper baseball did not meet with the approval of the fans. This year the salary limit has been increased and efforts have been made upon the collective part of the club owners to get the best material possible. The disbanding of the Federal league, it is believed, will enable the Northern league to secure faster players than has been the case during the past two years.

Darby O'Brien professes to be well satisfied with his material. Naturally he is judging from paper standards. Until he has had his men under field observance for several weeks, the genial orator will be quite unable to point an index finger at the men he can count upon. But, allowing for a reasonable percentage of pay dirt, the Dook feels quite certain that he has the nucleus of a rattling good ball club.

If some of the youngsters the Dook is counting on come through and deliver, Darby prophesies his club will be bothering the leaders from the go-off.

Ritchie and Mike O'Dowd.

MATT CAINE, the genial matchmaker of the Capitol City Athletic club, writes this column anent the negotiations to sign Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion of the world, but now a full fledged welterweight contender, for a ten-round contest with Mike O'Dowd, the fighting St. Paul Harp.

If Matthew does succeed in getting the names of the two men to a contract, the fans of St. Paul will witness a real fight. Ritchie is one of the ring's most pernicious holdup men when it comes to demanding a guarantee, but it can always be said of him that he is a fighter, a real one—one who is always trying. As O'Dowd is a simon pure fighter, by both instinct and cultivation, a meeting between the two should provide an evening chucked to the very brim with animated action.

Honors for "Bunk" Harris.

KENNETH M. HARRIS, known to a multitude of loving friends as "Bunk," has achieved the rare honor of being placed on the Eastern Intercollegiate basket ball team. Harris played guard on the Syracuse quint during the present season, playing against Yale, Princeton, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania and other Eastern colleges.

Young Harris played a remarkable game, according to advices from Syracuse. When one comes to think of the Duluth boys who have made startlingly good in Syracuse athletics, in every branch of sport, one speculates on the opinion they must hold of Duluth health, down-east way.

"Bunk" Harris, Mat Brown, Rodney Dunn, Joe Du Moe, Art Osman, Walter Glass, Frank Williams, Charley Whiteside and others of the Duluth boys have made great names in Syracuse. When the Eastern college became affiliated in an athletic way with Duluth, it sure made a decidedly beneficial move.

R. S. PATRICK WILL RETURN TO GOLF COMPETITION

R. S. PATRICK.

It has been announced that R. S. Patrick, state golf champion in 1914, will actively return to the game during the coming season. As the national open golf championship will be played in Minneapolis this year, it is very likely that the crack Duluth player will be entered in that event, as well as the Trans-Mississippi, which is to be played in Minneapolis. The state tournament will be played in St. Paul. This promises to be the greatest year in the history of Northwestern golf.

DULUTH BOY IS HONORED

"Bunk" Harris Is Placed on All-Eastern Basket Ball Team.

Zenith City Lad's Work Was a Decided Feature of Syracuse Team.

ALL-STAR BASKET BALL TEAM.

Rafter, Syracuse	Forward
Oliphant, Army	Forward
West, Colgate	Center
Hale, Rochester	Guard
Harris, Syracuse	Guard

Kenneth M. Harris of Duluth has been chosen a member of the Eastern intercollegiate basket ball team. The sensational playing of the Duluth boy during the latter part of the season won him the place. During the early part of the season eye trouble kept young Harris out of several games. Then he started and his playing was a revelation, according to the stories that have come from Syracuse.

In speaking of the sterling playing of "Bunk" Harris, E. A. Dollard, an Eastern authority on the game, said:

"He is a finished basket ball player, never makes a false move and is the best 'money-shot' that I have seen in many a day. By 'money-shot' I mean one who scores a basket just when it is most needed. He plays very close to his opponent, so close that only two baskets were scored off him in seven games. He handles the ball in a very clever manner and is always outguessing his opponent."

Playing against Yale, Princeton, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania and other Eastern college teams, he scored 26 points for his team in the big contests. Had the Duluth youngster been in the game a greater length of time, it is certain that his point scoring would have been considerably higher. As it was, Harris stood fifth among the Syracuse squad in point scoring, and all of the regulars participated in more games than the Duluth kid.

Leaned Game in Duluth.

"Bunk" played on the crack Duluth Central basket ball team for several seasons. He was a teammate of Art Osman and "Scotty" Brown, other Duluth boys who have made a name for themselves in Syracuse athletics. Harris was one of the best players ever turned out there, as was his brother, "Morey," before him.

Here is what the Syracuse Daily Orange says of the work of Harris during the season that but recently came to a close:

"Kenneth M. ('Bunk') Harris has been Capt. Crisp's running mate at guard during the past season. During the first few games he was unable to play because of an injury to his eyes which necessitated his absence from college for several weeks last fall. His work was somewhat handicapped at first on this account, but toward the end of the season he was one of the strongest men on the team. Harris has a remarkably clever way of breaking up passwork, especially when the opposing forwards try to evade him and run under the basket to receive a long pass. He is one of the most graceful men in handling the ball ever seen on the gymnasium court.

"Great credit is due Harris for the recent Orange victories over Dartmouth, Pennsylvania and Princeton. During all of these games his strong defensive tactics prevented the fast hostile forwards from scoring many baskets. He is also a crack shot from the floor and frequently tallied on long shots whenever he saw a chance to steal beyond midcourt into hostile territory. His total for the year was 26 points.

"'Bunk' played for several years with the Duluth high school five, where he was a teammate of 'Art' Osman, stroke of the Orange varsity eight. Last year he was captain of the freshman team."

SPORTSMEN TO GATHER HERE

Annual Meeting of Protective League Will Be Held in August.

Dates decided upon for the annual convention of the Minnesota Game Protective league, at the meeting of the Duluth branch of the league, held last evening in the assembly room of the Commercial club, are Aug. 9, 10 and 11.

Sportsmen from all over the state will attend the meeting. The gathering is for the purpose of giving impetus and larger volume to the work of the league. New ideas are expected to be worked out and the excellent work of the league during the past improved upon.

James A. Lawrie, secretary of the Duluth branch of the league, was appointed chairman of a committee to arrange for a sportsmen's showing during the convention. It is expected that this exhibition will be one of the most interesting and novel ever gotten up.

High School Branch.

S. B. Carey of the Central high school was authorized to organize Duluth Branch League No. 2 at the Central high school. Much interest has been exhibited by the boys at the big school in the work of the league.

A resolution, recommended by the Audubon society favoring bird refuges in the cemeteries, was unanimously adopted by the Duluth league.

Another recommendation passed by the Duluth branch was that favoring the establishing of a game refuge in Lake county. The section favored is that bounded by the Alger-Smith and Duluth & Iron Range railroads, comprising about thirty square miles.

A meeting of the local branch will be held April 13, when a banquet will be served.

Ehler's Resignation Accepted.

Madison, Wis., March 31.—President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin, last night accepted the resignation of George W. Ehler, athletic director, in a letter to Mr. Ehler. Ehler handed in his resignation to take effect at the end of the coming summer session.

GOLFERS ARE IMPATIENT

Link Enthusiasts Eagerly Awaiting the Vanishing of Snow.

Northland Country club golfers are right now getting their hands in through the medium of indoor golf. It is feared that it will require some little time for the kindly ministrations of Old Sol to remove all the snow from the club links. Last year the enthusiasts were out very early. Unless some unusually tropical weather makes its appearance, the eagerness of the thirty-third degree golfers will have to be restrained for a while.

The coming season, it is believed, will prove a great one in Northwestern golf. The very fact that the National Open, the Trans-Mississippi and the State Golf tournaments are to be held in Minneapolis should create a vast amount of enthusiasm in the sport.

There are a number of young players coming out here during the coming season, it is announced. It is stated that young Richard Cullum is to be groomed during the coming season for a great try in the state tournament. R. S. Patrick will be back in the game again, it has been announced. When "Pat" is at the top of his game, he is one of the distinctly great players of the Northwest. Elmer Whyte is also expected to be a factor if his game continues to show the improvement it did last season.

It is generally believed that the Northland club will enjoy the greatest season in the club's history. The game has steadily been growing more popular. Young players have been coming up, and it is believed that some youngsters of real ability will be discovered during the coming season.

WELSH AND BENNY LEONARD CLASH

Lightweight Champ Meets Tough Boy in New York Ring.

New York, March 31.—Freddy Welsh, lightweight champion, will defend his title against Benny Leonard tonight in a ten-round no-decision bout at Madison Square garden. It will be the second time within six days that a world's boxing championship has been at stake here.

Judging from the skill and relative size of the two men, boxing experts expect a stiff contest. Leonard, a boy of 18, has mastered a style of boxing almost as fast and clever as that of the champion. In addition he has of late developed considerable power as a hard hitter.

STECHER IN GREAT FORM

Nebraska Farmer Beats Roller; Will Headlock Stop Joe?

BY BRUCE.

Joe Stecher is setting the stage for the Duluth contest with Freddy Beell. In Kansas City the night before last he took two straight falls from Dr. Benjamin F. Roller. When the Nebraska firebrand steams into Duluth he will have the scalp of every great wrestler in the United States—save two—tied to his belt. The scalps of the two men the Nebraska headhunter has not as yet secured, belong to Frank A. Gotch and Fred Bismarck Beell.

For five years Freddy Beell hunted the trail in quest of a contest with Dr. Roller. Every time Doc Roller uttered a bombastic utterance concerning his great wrestling ability, little Beell would rage.

The last time Beell was in Duluth he spoke his mind freely—very freely for the quiet little Dutchman.

"Tell Roller there is a little farmer down in Wisconsin who will wrestle him winner take all, for a side bet, or for nothing at all," were the precise words used by Beell. Now Stecher, the scissors grinder, the greatest wrestling sensation of two decades, has come along and robbed little Beell of the pleasure of giving Roller the beating Fred has laid awake o' nights and thought out.

Beell is a mild little fellow until aroused. Once they start the little Dutch farmer, he's a bad Indian. Roller is a man cordialy disliked by Beell. Fred has often stated he would wrestle the medical man for nothing. Beell just wanted to get Roller on the mat. Now Stecher, matched with Beell, comes along and beats the man Beell yearned to meet.

Jack the Giant Killer.

Who is there to stop Stecher? Once more the call has been sent down to Marshfield, Wis.; once more the little round-faced farmer, he of the great shoulders and short and muscle-bulging arms, has taken up the arduous task of training. It's Beell, the giant killer, versus young Joe Stecher, a mere kid, yet an athlete who has been setting the athletic world afire by his startling achievements.

Should Beell clamp the headlock on Joe, what would happen to that skinny neck owned by Stecher? When Bob Fitzsimmons and Peter Maher met across the Mexican line from Langtry, Tex., it was a case of which first got in a deadly punch. Both of those boys carried poison in their punches. With Beell and the great Joe Stecher, it is the case of the headlock and the leg scissors. Can Beell, the old master, headlock Nebraska Joe? And, again, can the "boy in the overalls" scissors stocky and hugely strong little Beell down the path to wrestling oblivion?

That's a question that is exciting interest from sport fans within an excited radius of 500 miles from Duluth. It's a question that only the meeting between the two men can decide.

KID BILLINGS WINS FROM MIKE PAULSON

According to information supplied by Steamboat Bill Scott, Kid Billings of Superior last evening defeated Mike Paulson of Minneapolis in Austin, Minn. The contest was a ten-round affair, and Steamboat declared today that Billings won in every round.

BIG CROWD AT MILITIA REVIEW

Three Companies, Hospital Corps and Band Put Through Paces.

Three militia companies, the hospital corps, and the Third Regiment band, marched in review before Col. F. E. Resche, Lieut.-Col. H. V. Eva, and other battalion and regimental officers at the new National Guard armory, Thirteenth avenue east and London road, last night.

More than 500 spectators watched the soldiers as they were put through their paces by the various captains, under command of Col. Resche. About 250 men were on the floor in uniform, fully equipped, including the band of twenty-eight pieces.

It was the first battalion drill for several weeks and the first one since the new A company was mustered in. More Duluth men, enrolled in the infantry, were under arms than for some time.

Participating in the drill and parade were A company under Capt. E. W. McDevitt; C company under Capt. W. O. Flodin, and E company under Capt. George W. Stiles. The band was in command of Maj. Charles Helmer.

Beating the Game

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

SHE didn't stand a show—the cards were stacked against her at birth. She entered life by a crooked path. Her mother was a receiver of stolen goods. Their home was a thieves' meeting place. She played on the sidewalks of an unspeakable street. When she was old enough, they sent her out as a shoplifter and in time she married a cracksman.

Nobody ever more strongly vindicated the theory that criminals are born, not made.

But you folks who are cock-sure that it's so, may prepare for a jolt on the solar-plexus of that particular conviction.

Sophie Lyons beat the game. She bucked the odds and won—triumphed over environment, ancestry and rearing—turned the past into a door mat, wiped the mud off her feet and took the clean, straight road. Her talents, legitimately directed, made her a rich woman. Remarried, she established herself in business and accumulated a fortune. Now she is building a wonderful home for wayward girls.

What's that—unfair to dig into her record at this late day? Why, bless you, she's been telling all about it herself. Sophie Lyons isn't ashamed to acknowledge what she was—she's far too proud of what she is. A wrong start doesn't count when you finish right.

BULLET WOUND PROVES FATAL

Workman Who "Didn't Feel Well" Dies of His Wounds.

Companion Consents to "Put Rag Around" Shattered Finger.

John Huhtala, 35, the lumberjack who walked the streets for two hours yesterday after being accidentally wounded in the abdomen by a revolver bullet, died at St. Luke's hospital this noon.

"I don't feel well," Huhtala told police yesterday noon, after he had walked around for fully two hours with the bullet in his body. He was taken to headquarters as a drunk, but jailers called Police Surgeon Harry Klein.

Dr. Klein saw the bullet hole in the man's clothes, made a hurried examination, and rushed him to St. Luke's hospital, where a surgeon probed for the bullet. Huhtala did not seem to realize until a short time before death that he was seriously hurt, and was inclined to treat the affair lightly.

Jacob Kytomaki, 338 Lake avenue south, the man who was with Huhtala at the time of the accident, also took it as a joke. Kytomaki and Huhtala were examining a .25 caliber Colt automatic revolver owned by the former when the gun was discharged accidentally, they claimed.

The bullet went through the forefinger on Kytomaki's left hand and lodged in Huhtala's stomach. Neither man made a move to get any assistance, and treated their wounds, as scratches which would "heal up if you let 'em alone."

As soon as Huhtala was taken to the hospital police began looking for Kytomaki, but their search was unsuccessful until this morning, when he came to headquarters with a friend. His finger, with a shattered bone and a hole in it, was not even bandaged. It was swollen to twice its natural size, and Kytomaki agreed that he had better "put a rag around it."

Kytomaki will be held until the shooting has been thoroughly investigated, but it is not believed that a murder or manslaughter charge will be lodged against him, as all spectators agreed that it was accidental.

Huhtala was known among the Finnish people in the colony on lower Lake avenue, and went by the name of "Harmanjussi."

RECOVERS $325 FOR LOSS OF HOUSE

A verdict of $325 was returned by a district court jury this morning in favor of Daniel E. Hall and against the Duluth & Northeastern Minnesota Railway company and the Curry & White company. The case was one in which Hall, a squatter at an abandoned lumber camp on Greenwood lake, sued to recover $775.50 damages for the loss by fire of his home and household effects. It was charged that the lumber company had left a large quantity of slashings in the woods and the railway company was accused of dumping burning waste along its right-of-way in this vicinity. During April, last year, the timber in the vicinty caught fire and spread to his property, destroying his residence.

Theatrical Magnate's Daughter Takes Up Skating as New Fad

—Copyright by Bain News Service.

ALICE BRADY.

When Alice Brady is not paying fabulous prices for imported gowns and millinery in the Fifth avenue shops, she spends her time falling over precipices and into icy rivers. Alice has gone into the "movies." Her last appearance on the dramatic stage was with a Gilbert & Sullivan opera company. Alice has a rich father, W. A. Brady, the theatrical manager, and she does not have to work for her gowns and hats. But being an energetic young person, she prefers work to idleness. This winter she has gone in for skating, the prevailing fad in New York.

WILL OFFER COMPROMISE

Commissioners Not Inclined to Grant All of Firemen's Demands.

Several compromises will be offered Duluth firemen when they meet with the city commissioners this afternoon.

The firemen of the city have petitioned for a double platoon system, which will cost $30,500 the first year, and it was generally admitted at the city hall this morning that compromises will be proposed by the commissioners when the conference with a committee of firemen is held at 3 o'clock. A resolution inviting the firemen to meet with the council was adopted by the commissioners last Monday.

Just what nature these compromises are, members of the commission refused to say this morning, although it was admitted that the sole object of these is to make some satisfactory arrangement, without necessitating an expense of $30,000 during the next year.

If the firemen insist on the double platoon in its entirely, it is not known what the commissioners will do.

No official action will be taken at the conference today, as the firemen will take the proposals under consideration, so that all the members of the department will have an opportunity to understand them before an answer is given to the commissioners.

Street Railway Wins.
A verdict for the Duluth Street Railway company was returned by a jury in Judge Ensign's division of the district court yesterday afternoon when it disposed of the claim of F. Q. Marchand for $500 damages for an injury alleged to have been sustained to his right leg several months ago while boarding a car at Fifty-seventh avenue west and Grand avenue. M. E. Louisell appeared as attorney for the plaintiff and Thomas S. Wood represented the street railway company.

Will Make New Citizens.
Thirty-four applications for citizenship papers will be made in district court this evening at the monthly naturalization hearing. The hearing was postponed last month owing to the national presidential primary election. The law provides that the examinations for final papers cannot be held within thirty days previous to a national election.

Jury Turns Down Claim.
Albert Glasser, who sued Leonard McNamara and Charles Hoar for $5,000 damages on behalf of his 8-year-old daughter, Eva Glasser, who was struck by the defendant's automobile while crossing the street on March 14, 1915, has failed to recover at the hands of a district court jury. A verdict for the defendants was returned by a jury which reported to District Judge Martin Hughes yesterday afternoon.

Temple Services.
Dr. Maurice Lefkovits of Temple Emanuel, Seventh avenue east and Second street, will preach at the regular weekly services this evening on "Preparedness for a War," the second of a series of sermons on "Preparedness." Services will begin at 8 o'clock and are open to the public.

"Live Wire" Causes Fire.
Short-circuiting electrical wires caused $50 damage at the home of George Lugska, 23 North Sixty-second avenue west, shortly after noon today. The fire started on the second floor of the frame dwelling, but was soon under control. Loss was confined to the building.

Curlers Will Meet.
A meeting of a number of the prominent curlers of the Duluth Curling club will be held this evening in the Commercial club rooms. Plans will be made for next year and a new classification of the different year curlers will be acted upon. Several important matters, it is said, will be taken up. It is planned to make next year the greatest curling season in the history of the club, the meeting called for this evening being along that line.

SUPERIOR TWO MEN HELD FOR ROBBERY

Two young men, giving their names as Paul Levans and Adolph Menceel, were arrested this morning after an all-night chase through woods and brush by Sergeant Miller and Detective Meads of the Superior police department on a charge of highway robbery. The men are said to have held up and robbed A. Segel near the town of South Range at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Segel claims to have been robbed of about $3 or $4 in change.

The two men who are now being held at the central police station correspond to descriptions of the men who participated in recent holdups and robberies in the city, according to the police. Proprietors of the different stores that were entered will be asked to identify them.

After the holdup yesterday afternoon the police immediately got on the trail of the suspects. This was followed for several miles. It was not until late this forenoon that the officers caught up with the men and placed them under arrest.

TWO DULUTHIANS DIRECTORS OF NEW TRANSIT COMPANY

Great Lakes Company Holds Its First Meeting in New York.

Tomlinson and Barnes on Board—Policy of New Company.

The Great Lakes Transit company, which will replace the several package freight lines which have been taking care of merchandise business on the Great Lakes for years, has just been incorporated under the laws of New York state, and the first meeting of the stockholders was held this morning in New York city.

Duluth is well represented, there being two men from this port on the board of directors, besides several others who are stockholders in the company. The Duluth men elected to the board of directors this morning are Julius H. Barnes and G. A. Tomlinson, both prominently connected with shipping and mercantile interests in general.

The Great Lakes Transit company, which has been organized with $20,000,000 capital, William J. Conners of Buffalo being at the head of the movement, has taken formal possession of thirty-three vessels, which formerly belonged to the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Erie, Rutland & Vermont and other companies, which were divorced from railroad ownership through action of the interstate commerce commission, which acted under the Panama canal act, providing the competing rail-and-water line could no longer have corporate connection.

It is understood that the vessels were purchased for $5,650,000 and that the company has been financed as follows: Preferred stock, $2,750,000 of 7 per cent stock; $10,000,000 common stock, and bonds drawing 5 per cent to the extent of $3,390,000.

Policy of Company.

President J. C. Evans, Vice President M. M. Marcus, Chairman W. J. Conners, Finigan of Rochester and Julius H. Barnes constitute the executive committee. The thirty-three steamers have a cargo capacity of 150,000 tons, including three passenger steamers. The policy will be to serve every port and every community, but will not serve any gateway at a sacrifice in lake revenue if another gateway at better lake earnings can serve the community as well. All inroads on lake revenues, such as free storage and absorbed switching, will be removed whenever possible and the needs and requests of all communities served will be carefully and fairly considered. Plans contemplate express service from the East via lakes. The line starts in strong shape with the purpose of developing rail and also canal business when the canal becomes available. Directors are the five on the executive committee plus G. A. Tomlinson of Duluth, W. A. Prime of New York, Tracy Rogers of New York, and T. A. Goodyear of Buffalo.

The New Officers.

The president, James Carey Evans, has been vice president and general manager of the Anchor line and comes of a family long identified with marine interests of the Great Lakes. His great-grandfather, William Evans, who came to Buffalo in 1832, built the Evans ship canal. His grandfather, who also was James Carey Evans, was a partner in probably the first firm that did a forwarding and commission business on the Evans canal, and later turned his attention to lake navigation.

Marvin M. Marcus, vice president in charge of finance, has been engaged in banking in Buffalo more than twenty years. He is known as an expert in finance, and is one of the best known men in this part of the country among financiers. He has financed some big enterprises and has been eminently successful. Mr. Marcus is a brother of Supreme Court Justice Marcus. He is known to be a man of excellent judgment on monetary matters, and his advice is frequently sought by other financiers and business men in various lines.

WILL LAUNCH MOVEMENT

"Wet" and "Dry" Election for Duluth Now Seems Certain.

Committee Appointed to Take Charge of the Campaign.

As forecasted in The Herald of last evening, a "dry" campaign for Duluth is about to be launched—that is, if those who are back of the movement really mean it. The election may be held in conjunction with the primary on June 19.

It will be, in part, in the nature of a support of the Superior campaign, with the hope, on the side, of carrying Duluth.

A steering committee of leading Duluthians has been appointed to take charge of the campaign, this committee consisting of the following:

W. C. Mitchell, president of the board of trade.

William Towner, secretary of the Bricklayers' union.

Watson S. Moore, president of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A.

Richard Jones, state senator.

George W. Martin, lumber dealer.

There are some who doubt that those who propose such a campaign at this time hope to win the fight in Duluth, but those who are in the movement declared that they mean to go through with it, and that the campaign in Superior has been merely an incentive to take action now and not wait for another year for a county option movement.

It has been announced in Superior that every argument against the dry idea has been answered save that Duluth is wet and will be so after Superior goes dry—if it should; and that business will therefore gravitate to the wet town to the detriment of the dry one. It was admitted yesterday that to obviate that assertion was the chief end of the drys on this side of the bay.

To start a wet and dry campaign here, 20 per cent of the number of voters who participated in the last general municipal election, must sign the initiative petition. The last general municipal election took place on April 6, 1915, at which time some of the present city commissioners were elected. At that election 13,328 votes were cast, and 20 per cent of that number amounts to 2,666 votes, which is the number of legalized voters that the dry advocates must enlist on their petition to have the required election called.

ROBBED OF HIS REASON

Brooding Over Loss of Both Feet Unbalances Mind of Woodsman.

Frank Korasec, Helpless and Demented Cripple, Sent to Asylum.

Thirteen months ago Frank Korasec, 30, woodsman, whistled a tune at his work and was happy and carefree.

When they brought Korasec into the probate court today from the poor farm, he was hopelessly deformed and was a raving maniac.

Time had transformed a healthy, robust woodsman into a helpless and lifelong cripple. Both of his feet were gone and constant brooding over his misfortune had robbed him of his reason.

Just a year ago, Korasec was lost in a storm near Aurora and nearly perished before they found him. He was rushed to a hospital where it was discovered that both of his feet had been frozen and that amputation was necessary.

The front portion of each foot was taken off, leaving only a stump. Korasec found that he was unable to walk and he began to brood over his trouble. Then they took him to the county poor farm over the hill where he was kept as a county charge.

Recently he has shown signs of violent insanity and it was necessary to tie his hands together to keep him from inflicting bodily injury on some person. This morning an examination was conducted at the courthouse and Judge Gilpin committed the unfortunate to Fergus Falls.

Korasec talks constantly and incoherently. He speaks only in the Croatian language and evades all questions put to him by interpreters who speak his native tongue. He continually begs that no further harm come to him.

The only worldly possession which he has except his clothes is a prayer book which he carries in his pocket. On the fly leaf of the book is pasted a paper which would indicate that Korasec had been a soldier in the Austrian army before coming to the United States. Little if anything is known of the man's history except that he was employed in a lumber camp prior to his misfortune.

Korasec will be taken to Fergus Falls today.

TO PROMOTE "PREPAREDNESS."

Duluth Board of Trade Asked to Send Delegates to Chicago.

The Duluth board of trade has received an invitation to appoint three delegates to attend a convention of the Navy league, called to promote the "preparedness" campaign, to be held at the New Willard hotel, Chicago, on April 10 to 13. The invitation will be laid before the board of directors for decision.

"Personally I am not in favor of our board accepting this invitation, as I consider that the subject is outside its province. I think our military and naval officials should be competent to sit in judgment upon the needs of the country on the question of military preparedness," said W. C. Mitchell, president of the board of trade, today.

Chicago, March 31.—Miss Mabel Sturtevant was found not guilty today of using the mails with intent to defraud by a jury in the Federal court. The jury was out but a short time.

AN "8-CYLINDER" CHURCH.

Los Angeles Institution Combines Many Activities.

New York Independent: "The world wants an electric-lighted, self-starting, eight-cylinder church," says the pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church South, of Los Angeles, and in the erection of the Trinity auditorium—a $1,000,000 institution—the requirements for a "1915 model" religious plant seem to have been adequately answered.

The completion of the nine-story church building, with social rooms, motion pictures, hotel for men, roof garden, cafeteria, barber shop, smoking room, nursery, hospital and bowling alley, marks the largest enterprise in church building for the Pacific coast, where many churches are breaking away from conventional ecclesiastical architecture and, housed in "white temples" and the like, are showing that adaptability on which the coast prides itself.

326 Hotel Rooms.

Activities of the church and Sunday school are confined to the first three floors and roof. There are 326 hotel rooms on the remaining floors and offices and clubrooms of various religious and secular organizations.

In the hotel, all are outside rooms and many have sleeping porches and shower baths. On the roof there is ample room for tennis and basket ball courts and an auditorium to seat 500. The roof garden is also used for entertainment features of the church activity. Typical of these was the three-day boys' carnival of fun held during dedication week.

Movies a Feature.

The auditorium, seating 2,300 people, is fully equipped with stage, orchestra pit, the usual stage curtains, drops and footlights. In addition to the main auditorium are four others seating from three to five hundred persons. These rooms are being used for Sunday school classes, recitals, club meetings and social events.

Motion pictures begin the regular Sunday school service and are also used through the week when feature photoplays are presented to the public at regular motion picture show rates. The annual income from the auditorium alone is expected to be $15,000, while the hotel is expected to yield $75,000 annually, the cafeteria $10,000 and the club rooms and store rooms $10,000.

Officials From Kansas City.

The Trinity people have organized a new institution in their new building—the Junior church. They have brought two people from Kansas City to take charge of the work among the boys and girls from 6 to 16 years of age. In addition to the regular church services in the main auditorium, there will be a service of the Junior church every Sunday morning from 11 to 12.

In discussing the new field of activity for the church, the pastor has this to say:

"Many churches need to wake up and step out of their shroud. A shroud is a very prim, conventional thing, but it is a poor fighting garb. The church needs to be belted and buckled for war, for in these complex days of strange forces we are facing a new moral Armageddon. Trinity auditorium will stand for reverence of the past, but it will also seek to keep in touch with present tendencies and have a share in all movements for community uplift.

Labor For General Uplift.

"Most churches deal with the soul's salvation to the exclusion of the mind and body. The church has been getting a few people, the club a few, the lodge and other organizations a few. We have combined the advantages of all of these in one comprehensive institution. There is just enough difference between Trinity and other churches to make it interesting to many who have lost interest in religious work in general.

"Trinity Auditorium will not work along the ordinary circumscribed lines of a denominational church, but will labor for the general uplift of the community, and consequently will attract the attention of all people who are interested in the moral and intellectual improvement of the city."

A GENTLEMAN'S REBUKE.

Kansas City Star: Josephus Daniels was discussing a courteous retort.

"A learned scientist was attending a dinner, and as cigars were being indulged in one of the guests began to deride philosophy. He went on rudely to express the opinion that philosopher was but another way of spelling fool.

"'What is your opinion, professor,' he asked smilingly. 'Is there much distance between them?'

"The professor keenly surveyed his boorish vis-a-vis for a moment, then with a polite bow responded:

"'Sometimes only the width of a table.'"

AFTER DIVINE AID.

Kansas City Star: Naomi, who was in the fifth grade at school, had just finished saying her prayers—the usual "Now I lay me down." But her mother was surprised greatly when she added, "And please, God, make New York the capital of Boston!"

"Why, Naomi! Why did you ask that?"

"Well, you see, mother, I answered a geography question that way today."

DOWNEY'S DELIGHT

NOTE: Downey's Delight Oleomargarine has a guaranteed butter taste and flavor. It makes tarts, pastry of all kinds and fries meats and potatoes better than butter. Its flavor on hot biscuits is better than the average creamery butter on cold bread. It is one step nearer cheaper living. In addition, it carries with it the United profit-sharing coupon.

Teacher knows that. She also knows about Cream of Barley.

She knows that every morning she faces two kinds of children. One kind thinks only of how soon they will have something to eat again. They are restless and don't learn much.

She knows that the children of the other kind have good, sustaining Cream of Barley breakfasts in their "tummies." They think only of their work and learn a great deal.

Teacher also knows all about the wonderful food value of barley—that it is the most digestible and sustaining food known.

With all the resources of chemical, biological and research laboratories to guard their tests of

SAWTAY

100% Pure Butter-of-Nuts

For Baking, Shortening, Frying & Candy-Making

—tests to determine its absolute purity, efficiency, digestibility and food value—the Three Wise Men have this to say of SAWTAY:

Prof. Louis B. Allyn, Chemist
Dept. of Public Health, Westfield, Mass.

We find no indication of any adulteration of any nature and believe Sawtay to be a product of merit. Sawtay gives a good account of itself. The analysis shows no artificial vegetable colors, no crude fibre, no preservatives, no adulteration, and the quality is excellent.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, M. D. Director
Good Housekeeping Bureau of Foods, Sanitation and Health.

The product Sawtay has been analyzed and tested by the Bureau, Washington, D. C., with the result that it has been given the Star Rating. We believe that this information will be of interest and very practical service.

Alfred W. McCann, Pure Food Expert, N. Y. Globe

I have completed an inspection of your plant where Sawtay is manufactured. I went through the process from top to toe. . . . The uses to which Sawtay can be legitimately put are so numerous and their significance so profound that I cannot over-estimate the virtues of your product. It is really a wonderful food-stuff. . . . I congratulate you on having so much that is good, wholesome and interesting in your possession and I am sure you will safeguard its virtues with jealousy and honor.

NO CUT IN COAL PRICES

April 1 Will Not Bring Usual Reduction This Year.

On the Contrary Soft Coal Will Be More Expensive.

Although the much-feared strike in the hard coal fields has been averted, the customary decline in prices on April 1 may not be expected tomorrow. In ordinary years, April 1 has seen a drop in price of 50 cents a ton, with a gradual rise of 10 cents a ton per month from then on until Sept. 1. In fact, there will be a change in sizes which will affect the price of hard coal.

In soft coal, there will be decided change as to price, and the change will be upward. In soft coal the difference in wholesale prices between the schedule issued this week and that issued on Feb. 7 is shown in the following lists:

Youghiogheny—	Latest.	Feb. 7.
Screened lump	$3.65	$3.40
Screened nut or stove	3.65	3.40
Dock run	3.35	3.10

Pea	5.55

CHIYO'S PASSENGERS SENT TO HONGKONG

San Francisco, Cal., March 31.—Officials of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha Steamship company received a cablegram from Hongkong stating that all of the Chiyo's passengers would be brought into Hongkong today. It was indicated that all had been taken off.

The scene of the accident is twenty-nine miles from Hongkong.

GIVING AMATEURS A CHANCE.

Boston Transcript: Philadelphia is a theatrical laboratory this winter. It is conducting a very important section of that experiment in local theater building which is going on all over the country. In certain ways, Philadelphia's part of the work is more important than the rest; for while Boston, Chicago, Indianapolis, Duluth, Madison, Milwaukee, the Twin Cities and even New York have felt the need of working out some other means of theatrical amusement besides the long run and touring system of Broadway, Philadelphia is not only experimenting with a locally organized theater, it is comparing different methods. For three years or more it has tried the professional "repertory" company at its Little theater under various—all too various—directors. Now the handsome playhouse has been given over to ambitious amateurs who call themselves the Philadelphia Stage society, and who have twice demonstrated their quality in the last month. Soon Philadelphia may judge the relative results of its theatrical experiments.

VOTERS TURN DOWN BOARD

Proctor Establishes Independent School District to Oust Old Directors.

Fight Began Over Failure to Re-Engage School Superintendent.

Citizens of Proctor last evening voted to change the school system of Proctor from a common to an independent school district, which amounts virtually to a recall of the present school board. The election was the result of a division of the citizens because of the failure of the school board to re-engage R. L. Kitch as superintendent of schools.

The change of the district was effected by a majority of nine votes. A total of 477 votes was cast, of which 243 favored the change and 234 were opposed. The election was held at the West Side school and a steady stream of voters passed into the building between 7:20 and 8:20 p. m., the hour decided on for the election.

At a recent meeting of the school board the members refused to re-engage its superintendent of schools. Feeling ran high and shortly afterwards a petition was circulated requesting a change in the system. The new school board will have a membership of six instead of three.

Another Election Soon.

An election of a board under the new system will take place during the first part of next month. The state law requires that an election for school directors shall take place within twenty days from the decision to change from one system to another and that the voters must be given ten days notice of such election.

At the election, Le Grand Pace, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., presided. He was assisted by Mrs. John Connors and Harry Barncard, the latter a member of the school board. The tellers were Miss Elizabeth Remfrey, Mrs. Stephen Raetz, Fred C. Mitchell and W. E. Clark.

The members of the present school board are William McMurtrie, J. H. Code and Mr. Barncard.

THIEVES RANSACK CURLING CLUB

Many Valuable Articles Are Stolen; Boys Are Suspected.

Some time between Tuesday and yesterday afternoon the clubrooms of the Western Curling club were broken into, the lockers rifled and property valued at probably $100, which included several prizes, skates and mackinaws, were stolen. The police have been asked to investigate, and clews to the thieves are already in the possession of the police.

Some boys, who have repeatedly broken into the rooms of the club during the last winter, are under suspicion, and a full investigation of their whereabouts during the last three or four evenings will be made.

It is thought by officers of the club that the place was broken into on Tuesday evening. Locks were smashed in the attempt to break into the lockers for valuables. From some lockers skates, valued as high as $8 a pair, were taken. One young woman reported that her skates and those of her sister, valued at $15, had been stolen.

The officers of the club will prosecute the culprits if caught. Small thefts, which have annoyed the members, have been tolerated in the past.

BLOOMING MILL ENGINE REPAIRED

Steel Billets Will Be Made Again at Steel Plant Saturday.

The blooming mill engine at the Duluth steel plant will resume operations tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock. This hour has been set for the resumption of steel rolling, and unless something serious occurs before that time, steel billets will again be made tomorrow.

This evening it is planned to charge the pit furnaces with ingots. The soaking process, which the steel undergoes in these furnaces, makes it ready for the blooming mill.

Final details in the repairs of the monster blooming mill engine will be completed this evening, after being out of commission about four weeks. This engine, which is one of the most powerful in the steel industry, is rated at 12,000-horse power, but under pressure can develop 20,000-horse power. The mogul is of the Allis-Chalmers, reversible blooming mill engine type.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR DELEGATES PLANNED

Women of Westminster Church Arrange for Presbytery Meeting.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Fifty-eighth avenue west and Ramsey street, is making arrangements for the entertainment of delegates to the Duluth presbytery, which will meet at the local church on April 11 and 12. A committee consisting of the newly elected officers and other members is in charge of the affair.

The new officers elected at the annual meeting held Wednesday afternoon are: Mrs. Janet Ritchie, re-elected president; Mrs. William Hankins, first vice president; Mrs. A. G. Macaulay, second vice president, and Mrs. Samuel Clark, secretary.

The meeting of the Duluth presbytery will be opened on Tuesday evening, April 11, at 7:30 o'clock by a sermon by Rev. A. H. Mutchler, moderator. The business meeting will be held the following day. A feature of the services will be musical numbers by the presbytery quartet, composed of Rev. Elmer Test of Mispah, first tenor; Rev. John Clark of Pine City, second tenor; Rev. W. L. Staub of the local church, first basso, and Rev. J. F. Barrackman of Duluth, second basso.

It is expected that about forty pastors and one representative from each of the congregations will be present. A total of about seventy-five delegates will be in attendance.

BOYS READY TO GIVE MINSTREL SHOW AT DENFELD SCHOOL

LEO DEUTSCH.

FRANK MARTIN.

The Boys' Club of the Robert E. Denfeld high school will present this evening its annual minstrel show in the auditorium of the school. The advance sale of tickets indicates a crowd that will tax the capacity of the hall.

The principal parts will be taken by Leo Deutsch, Rollin Clark, Frank Martin and Stanley Lamb, who will be end men, and Norman D. McLeod, who will be interlocutor. During the first part of the program short vaudeville sketches will feature the entertainment. There will be a sketch, "An Extra Guest," by Stanley Lamb and Laurence Duby; a specialty by Dwight Hiestand; selections by the Denfeld orchestra, and a violin solo by Gustave Jackson.

The second part will be featured by choruses, solos, duets and quartets. Among the songs will be: "Sweetest Girl on Monterey," Clarence Jacobson; "Landing of the Mandy Lee," Reginald La Faivre; "Norway," Leonard Hedman; "Reuben Rastus," Walter Yeager; "Shine," Laurence Duby; "Old Bill Bailey," Stanley Lamb; "America, I Love You," John Batchelor; "Harmony Band," Walmer Fosberg; "Wedding in the Sunshine," Romeo Deutsch; "Malinda's Wedding Day," Leo Deutsch; "Don't Bite the Hand That Feeds You," Frank Martin; "Back Home in Tennessee," Rollin Clark.

URGE EXTENSION TO NEW DULUTH

Many Suburban Residents Are Expected to Attend Club Meeting.

Ways and means of inducing the Duluth Street Railway company to build an extension of its car line to New Duluth this year will be discussed this evening at the meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club. A large number of residents of New Duluth are expected to be present.

The company will begin the extension to Morgan Park about the middle of next month. The rails have been laid to Eighty-first avenue west. Poles for the wires have been put up to Ninety-third and Zimmerly avenues and steel poles are now ready to be put up for the remainder of the distance into the steel plant suburb.

This new line, officers of the company believe, will be ready for operation about June. The new distributing station for its power, located just east of the Smithville subway, has been completed and machinery for the place is rapidly being installed.

The New Duluth Commercial club members hope to be able to show officials of the company that there is sufficient business in New Duluth to warrant the extension of this branch. This branch, claim members of the club, will pass the Universal Portland Cement company's plant, where now nearly 300 men are employed, a large part of whom reside in West Duluth.

FATHERS WILL BE GUESTS OF MOTHERS

Fathers will be the guests of the Mothers' Club of the Longfellow school at a banquet to be held this evening in the school building. The supper will be served at 7:30 o'clock. About 100 guests are expected.

Committees from the club working with the teachers have arranged the supper. Girls of the sixth and seventh grades will assist in the evening. The musical part of the program has been arranged under the direction of the Matinee Musicale.

Dies at Sanatorium.

Miss Esther Dahl, aged 22, daughter of Alex Dahl of Sturgeon Lake, Minn., died yesterday at the Nopeming sanatorium, following an illness of three and a half years of tuberculosis. The body was taken to Filiatrault's undertaking rooms, where funeral arrangements will probably be made this afternoon. It is probable that the body will be taken to Sturgeon Lake for burial. The young woman leaves a sister, Miss Lillie Dahl, living in this city.

Death Ends Long Illness.

Mrs. Marietta Erickson, aged 29, wife of Victor Erickson of Virginia, Minn., died last evening at 8 o'clock at the Nopeming sanatorium following an illness of two years of tuberculosis. Mrs. Erickson had been at the institution for the last month. She leaves besides her husband four children.

The body will be taken this evening over the Canadian Northern railroad to Virginia, where the funeral will be held.

"Leap Year" Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott J. Aman, 634 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, entertained last evening at a "leap year" shower in honor of Miss Georgina Ross, daughter of Mrs. B. J. Ross, 624 North Fifty-sixth avenue west, and her fiance, Norman Gibson, whose wedding will take place on April 12. A feature of the affair was that the women brought the male guests to the party.

The rooms were decorated with red hearts. Games featured the entertainment. As a climax a sailboat was brought in bearing the presents. The guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Swanstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Skomars, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. F. Boerner, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Macaulay, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Kreidler, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swanstrom, Mrs. B. J. Ross, Misses Mabel Wallace, Hulda Hanson, Jacobson, Agnes Winness, Clara Winness, Sibil Johnson, Katherine Jensen, Victoria Perrin, Bertha Coburn, Nellie Lowe, Ella Christiansen, Katherine Keyes, Etta Bjold, Ursula Briggs, Leona Briggs, Dollie Landin, and Messrs. Forest Kent, Charles Bolt, Goodwin Olson, Chris Rasmussen, Frank H. Wade, R. Hill, Earl Brooks, Horace Ross, William Johnson, H. Sandstrom, Harry Lund, Ray Batley, Harry Collins, Wilbur Potter and Joseph Aman.

Temperance Their Theme.

"How to Make Duluth Dry" will be the subject of discussion at the meeting of the West Duluth Women's Christian Temperance union to be held next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alfred Jaques, 209 East Third street. Mrs. W. H. Keeler will be leader. The hostess will be assisted by Mrs. R. West and Mrs. F. E. Hanson.

Would Administer Estate.

Edward Mayhew, 5800 Raleigh street, yesterday afternoon petitioned the probate court to grant letters of administration to his sister, Mrs. Mabel Mayhew, on the estate of their mother, Mrs. Adeline Mayhew, who died on March 24 last, leaving $1,550. Three children are the only heirs.

West Duluth Briefs.

Andrew and Kirby Myrick of Saskatoon, Can., have left for their home after spending the winter with their grandmother, Mrs. E. J. Melhorn, 507 South Seventieth avenue west.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Elim Swedish Lutheran church entertained at a social last evening in the church parlors.

The building committee of the Btehel Swedish Lutheran church will meet this evening at the office of J. A. Forsman, 5407 Ramsey street. Plans for a church building will be discussed.

A basket social will feature an entertainment this evening given by the Fremad lodge No. 52, I. O. G. T., at the Odd Fellows hall, 602 North Central avenue.

WHY MEN ARE BALD.

In the American Magazine Dr. Arthur R. Reynolds, former health commissioner of Chicago, gives the following reason for baldness:

"The hats that men wear are the cause of their baldness above the hat line. Women also wear hats, but their hats are fastened to their hair and do not grip the head as men's hats do. All other causes of baldness such as infections, seborrhea, etc., affect both sexes alike and are, in fact, more difficult to treat locally in women than in men because of their long hair.

"How does the hat affect the growth of hair in man? By compressing the arteries, the veins, the lymphatics, and to some extent the nerves that supply and nourish the hair. It is not because the hat is hard or soft or that it keeps the head too hot. It is because the hat band compresses the vessels and starves the roots of the hair. Caps may do the same thing, but caps as a rule do not grip the head so tightly as hats do.

"Baldness usually begins at the summit of the crown toward the back part at the distant and weaker part of the vessels furnishing the circulation. In such cases the pressure has been on the vessels on the side of the head. Some times the baldness begins above the forehead and is the high forehead type of baldness. In these cases the pressure has been upon the vessels of the forehead. Some times the head is bald low down in the back where the pressure has been upon the vessels in this region. When the head is completely bald on top the pressure has been on the entire vascular supply of the scalp."

WHEAT TAKES WEAKER TURN

Market Declines on Selling at Close After Showing Advances.

Flaxseed Trading Narrow and in Small Lots; Crushers Support.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 31.—The market was weak at the close on the appearance of fresh selling.

May wheat closed ½c off and July ⅝c off.

May durum closed ⅜c off and July ¼c off.

Oats closed ⅜c off at 41@41½c for on the track; rye unchanged at 91c and barley 1@2c up at from 63c to 70c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅛@¼c off at 42½@42⅝c.

At St. Louis, May wheat closed at $1.01¼ and July at $1.08½.

At Kansas City, May wheat closed at $1.05¾ and July at $1.05⅞.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.13¼ and calls at $1.17.

After some hesitation at the start the wheat market turned strong today, and advances extending to around ¾c above yesterday's closing level were recorded. Later a reaction occurred and but a fraction of the bulge was retained up till the end of the first three hours' trading.

The early weakness was attributable to lower cables and the absorption of selling orders in hand at the opening. Later bullish reports of condition came from over the winter wheat territory, it being estimated that taking the country as a whole, the condition was not better than 79 per cent. To help along the upturn there came advices from the seaboard of the working of 1,600,000 bu of wheat for export, and at the same time there was said to be a good foreign demand for flour. Announcement that the New York Central railroad had raised its embargo against shipments of grain to the seaboard was another strengthening factor.

The bullish enthusiasm was later dissipated in a measure through a rumor emanating from London that the British government had entered into large contracts with Russia for grain to be shipped from Odessa during June and July. The inference was that the Turks would be forced to their knees by that time. The market thereupon receded from its high levels.

While the elevators now hold 26,240,000 bu of all grains and are becoming plugged up, the increase in stocks during the first five days of this week was moderate, amounting to 595,000 bu all told. That was due to light domestic receipts and better all-rail shipments of Canadian bonded wheat and oats to the seaboard. Cars are being provided more liberally.

May wheat opened ¼c off at $1.15⅞, weakened ½c more, advanced to $1.16¾, and eased off ½c at the noon hour. July opened ⅛c up at $1.16½, eased off ¼c more, gained 1¼c, and then eased to $1.16⅞.

The movement in durum was about as broad as in the spring wheat. May durum opened unchanged at $1.11, broke 1c, jumped 1⅝c, and then weakened ⅝c. July opened unchanged at $1.11⅞, broke ⅞c, moved up 1⅜c, and then weakened ⅞c.

Flaxseed Quiet.

Flaxseed again showed firmness in consequence of fair inquiry from crushers, while offerings were light. The market movement was narrow and trading came in small lots.

Cables were off, Buenos Aires closing 1c down at $1.30¼ and London 1⅝c off at $2.37½.

May flax opened unchanged at $2.18½ and closed unchanged at $2.18½ asked. July opened unchanged at $2.18¼ and closed unchanged at $2.18¼ nominal.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed unchanged at $1.96.

MARKET GOSSIP.

T. W. Lewis wired from Minto, N. D.: "Not as much snow as I expected to find around Minot. They had a few inches of new snow last night. Up to that time the bulk of the old snow had gone. Not over 40 per cent of the fall plowing was completed. There is lots of water everywhere and the extremely wet condition of fields makes any general farm work impossible inside of two or three weeks."

Weather forecast: Illinois, Missouri—Rain tonight, Saturday partly cloudy. Wisconsin—Unsettled tonight, cooler; Saturday partly cloudy.

Dakotas, Nebraska and Minnesota—Generally fair tonight and Saturday, moderate temperatures.

Iowa and Kansas—Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday, cooler.

Modern Miller says: "Rains in Southwest and Middle West are showing up the weakness of the winter wheat strand. Poor seed and soil conditions last fall invited winter kill. There is no possibility of duplicating the crop of the past two years and considering acreage, a three-quarters crop is a fair forecast on early conditions. Kansas and Nebraska have good average prospects. In Oklahoma crop is spotted a few sections reporting a vigorous stand. Soft wheat states confirm heavy winter wheat damage."

* * *

Foreign crop summary: Argentine weather is fine with the interior movement fair. Holders are firm. Corn movement of old crop is small owing to light holdings and favorable returns from the new crop. Oats are in good demand. It is known that grain can be arranged for elsewhere and the preference is given to important commodities.

Australia: It is generally admitted that the outlook for winter crops is very unfavorable.

India—Wheather is favorable and crop is proving satisfactory.

Regarding linseed, Broomhall cabled: "Argentine shipments were 870,000 bu including 813,000 bu to America. Stocks are 3,150,000 bu. Weather is fine.

At London linseed opened easier, but oil continued very strong."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Wheat market was steadier at the immediate opening, affected by American cables, but it later eased slightly, with trading dull. Spot was dull, unchanged to 2d lower. Cargo market was steadier. Manitobas held 6d and winters 1½d higher. Argentine shipments were lighter than expected and mostly to the Continent, but the demand is slow in all positions."

George A. Robson was on the board of trade today after a month's vacation spent at Palm Beach and Miami, Fla., and in Washington. He received the warm congratulations of members of the board upon his fortunate escape from any ill effects through his immersion in the fish pond of a Chicago hotel. Mr. Robson averred that the Florida winter resorts had more visitors this season than in years. That was regarded as largely due to the wave of prosperity that has gone over the whole country, leading business men to the belief that they could well afford to take some recreation.

Charles E. Lewis & Co., had the following closing letter from Chicago: "A very nervous and unsettled market, advancing on crop damage reports and declines on more favorable political news from abroad in the way of Turkey contemplating peace with the allies and the subsequent opening of the Dardanelles. Later that was not confirmed. Modern Millers was bullish. Later there were sales reported of wheat for export in the last two days. There is one thing certain about soil condition, there is an abundance of subsoil moisture. The market gave some signs today that the crop scare may be subsiding temporarily."

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 31.—Wheat fractionally lower. After opening under yesterday's close, the market strengthened on higher Liverpool quotations, but later lost its gain on reports of more favorable weather conditions.

Corn was strong, but oats were weak. Wheat receipts, 316 cars; holiday a year ago.

Wheat — May opened $1.15¼ to $1.15½; high, $1.16⅞; low, $1.15⅛; closed, $1.15⅝ @ ½ to ⅝.

July opened $1.15¼ to $1.15½; high, $1.17; low, $1.15½; closed, $1.15¾.

Cash: No. 1 hard, $1.20⅜; No. 1 northern, $1.15⅞@1.18⅞; to arrive, $1.15⅞@1.18⅜; No. 2 northern, $1.12⅜@1.15⅞; No. 3 wheat, $1.07⅜@1.12⅞; No. 3 yellow corn, 74@75c; No. 3 white oats, 41½@42c. Flax, $2.18½@2.22.

Flour—Unchanged; shipments, 78,438 bbls. Barley, 63@70c; rye, 89@90½c; bran, $18.25@19.00.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, March 31.—Improved crop reports from Illinois points tended to turn the wheat market downward today after an early advance. The initial strength was due to higher quotations from Liverpool and to reports of delay to shipments from Argentina and Australia. This influence appeared to be more or less offset, however, by announcement of the tightening of the blockade in the war zone. Opening prices, which ranged from a shade off to ⅞@1c advance, with May at $1.14⅝ to $1.15⅝, were followed by slight further gains and then a setback all around to well below yesterday's finish.

In later trading rallies took place largely as a result of seaboard sales of 1,000,000 bushels or more for export, but the effect failed to last. There was considerable selling because of German success at Verdun and owing to notice of an embargo by the Grand Trunk on grain shipments east. The close was weak, ¼@¾c net lower, with May at $1.13⅞@1.14, and July at $1.12@1.12⅛.

Corn swayed with wheat. Buying was only of a scattered character. After opening unchanged to ¼c higher, and scoring a little additional advance the market underwent a moderate general sag.

Subsequently the market hardened in consequence of gossip of export sales and the lightness of receipts. Prices closed steady at a shade to ⅛@¼c net advance.

Oats lacked any aggressive support. What demand there was came chiefly from floor traders.

Weakness in the hog market had a depressing effect on provisions. Selling, though, was not of an urgent sort.

ADVANCE IN SPECIALTIES

Attain Best Prices in Final Hour Under Crucible's Lead.

Rails, Especially New York Central and New Haven, Decline.

New York, March 31.—Underlying firmness was shown by the market in today's early dealings, but trading was light and narrow. Most of the war industrials and equipments were higher by fractions to a point, with a gain of 5 for Bethlehem Steel at 460. Mexican Petroleum also rose spiritedly with further activity in the metal issues. Denver & Rio Grande preferred was the only railroad stock to record more than a nominal change, rising 1¼ points. United States Steel scored a substantial early rise, part of which it soon yielded. Sugar shares were higher by 3 to 5 points.

Trading became listless with the progress of today's session in the stock market, the first hour's turnover barely totaling 100,000 shares, with greater apathy thereafter. Some of the better known rails were quoted only occasionally and others not at all. Bethlehem Steel promptly forfeited its initial rise, but sugars continued to advance, South Porto Rico gaining 10½ to the new record of 205. Jewell Tea also scored a new maximum on its advance of 2¼ to 83½.

Bonds were steady with considerable activity in Canadian and Anglo-French 5s, a large block of the latter changing hands at 95½.

Kennecott Copper became feverishly active at midday, numerous lots of 1,000 to 3,000 shares being absorbed at 57½ to 58½ on rumors favorable to that property. Other coppers responded sympathetically, but rails, especially New York Central and New Haven, were heavy.

Specialties were unaffected by the decline in rails, attaining best prices in the final hour under lead of Crucible. The closing was irregular.
